Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i)

NOTE: The Brahmans in India created a system of superstitions about the auspiciousness and inauspiciousness of certain days to force people to make rich donations. The first day of every month of the Indian calendar (called Sangraand) was also one of them. Guru Nanak Sahib preached strongly against such superstitions to educate people, and wrote this beautiful and highly enlightening set of verses to tell them that every day, and every moment that one spends in singing praise of the Almighty, Waheguru, is auspicious, and the day or the moment when one forgets Waheguru is inauspicious. This issue was so important that the Fifth Guru, Guru Arjun Dev Ji also wrote a similar composition later in Raag Majh, to emphasize the hollowness of such misgivings. The beauty of each month that Guru Sahib has described in this composition infuses love for Waheguru in the minds of the people. Enjoy this beautiful holy composition.

(ਅੰਗ 1107)॥ ਤੂ ਸੁਣਿ ਕਿਰਤ ਕਰੰਮਾ ਪੁਰਬਿ ਕਮਾਇਆ॥ ਸਿਰਿ ਸਿਰਿ ਸੁਖ ਸਹੰਮਾ ਦੇਹਿ ਸੁ ਤੂ ਭਲਾ॥ ਹਰਿ ਰਚਨਾ ਤੇਰੀ ਕਿਆ ਗਤਿ ਮੇਰੀ ਹਰਿ ਬਿਨੁ ਘੜੀ ਨ ਜੀਵਾ॥ ਪ੍ਰਿਅ ਬਾਝੁ ਦੁਹੇਲੀ ਕੋਇ ਨ ਬੇਲੀ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤੁ ਪੀਵਾ॥ ਰਚਨਾ ਰਾਚਿ ਰਹੇ ਨਿਰੰਕਾਰੀ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਮਨਿ ਕਰਮ ਸੁਕਰਮਾ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਪੰਥੁ ਨਿਹਾਲੇ ਸਾ ਧਨ ਤੂ ਸੁਣਿ ਆਤਮ ਰਾਮਾ॥ 1॥

(PAGE 1107): Tu soon(i) kirt kerma, poorub(i) kmaaya. Sir(i), sir(i), sookh sehuma, dayh(i) su Tu, bhulaa. Hur(i) ruchna Tayri, kiyya gut(i) mayri, Hur(i) bin ghurri na jeevaan. Priyay Baajh(u) doohayli, koyay na bayli, Gurmukh(i) Amrit(u) peevaan. Ruchna raach(i) ruhaay Nirunkaari, Prubh mun(i) kerm sookerma. Nanak, punth(u) nihaalay sa dhun, Tu soon(i) Aatum Rama. 1.

Word Meaning: Kirt Kerma = (consequences of) the deeds done. Poorub(i) Kmaaya = done in previous live. Sir(i) Sir(i) = respectively. Sehuma = worries. Bhulaa = good. Ruchna = (attractions of) Your creations. Gut(i) = (pitiable) situation. Priayay = Dear (Waheguru). Doohaaayli = miserable. Bayli = friend. Raach(i) = engrossed. Nirunkaari = of Waheguru. Sookerma = the supreme act. Punth(u) = path. Sa dhun = that woman (devotee). Aatum Rama = Oh, Lord. 1.

MEANING: Everybody reaps the rewards of his previous deeds – some live in comfort, while others live in worries. I accept Your Will as being good for me, oh Waheguru. I am engrossed in the attractions of Your creation, so what will my spiritual situation be like!! I do not want to live without You, even for a single moment. I have no friend, and feel miserable without my Dear (Waheguru). But I can drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in Guru's shelter. Everybody is engrossed in the creation of Waheguru, but keeping Him in mind is the supreme deed of all. Such a devotee begs for His sight and watches the path leading to the union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Baabeeha priyo boalay, kokil baaniya. Sa dhun subh(i) rus choalaiy, unk(i) smaaniya. Hur(i) unk(i) smaani, ja Prubh bhaani, sa sohaagun(i) naaray. Nuv ghur thaap(i), Mehl, Ghur(u) Oochou, nij ghur(i) vaas(u) Mooraaray. Subh Tayri, Tu mayra Preetum(u), nis(i), baasur rung(i) raavaiy. Nanak, priyo, priyo chuvvaiy baabeeha, kokil Shabad(i) soohaavaiy. 2.

Word Meaning: Baabiha = Chaatrik = the rain-bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Priyo = the call of the baabiha. Kokil = a songbird with a sweet voice; cuckoo. Baaniya = sweet voice. Choalaiy = enjoys. Unk(i) Smaaniya = becomes part of; merges into. Bhaani = liked by. Sohaagun(i) = married to (Waheguru); loved by. Him. Nuv Ghur = (the human body) with nine doors. Thaap(i) = by fixing (bringing under control). Ghur(u) Oochou = high residence; high in transcendence. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Mooraray = (of) Waheguru. Nis(i) = night. Baasur = day. Rung(i) Raavaiy = recites with love. 2.

MEANING: Listening to the love-filled calls of the rain-bird, and the sweet songs of the songbird, the devotee, who is prompted to sing Waheguru's praise with affection, merges into Him, and enjoys all the sweet tastes of life. But only that devotee merges into Waheguru whom He likes, and she is loved by Waheguru. Waheguru's Residence is very high (transcendental), and is not accessible; only that devotee attains that height of transcendence to dwell in Waheguru who controls all nine of her body doors (sensual pleasures), and attains the noble qualities of Waheguru. She knows that Waheguru belongs to His whole creation, but she loves Him as if He belongs only to her, and remembers Him lovingly day and night. The love-filled call of the rainbird and the sweet songs of the songbird prompt the devotee to sing the Lord's praise, oh Nanak. 2.

Na koyee mayra, huoun kis(u) kayra, Hur(i) bin(u) rehn(u) na jaayay. Oat guhhi, Hur(i) Churn nivaasay, bhuyyay puvittar sreera. Nanak, Drisht(i) deerugh sookh(u) paavaiy Gur Shabadi mun(u) dheera. 3.

Word Meaning: Rus-Bhinnay = soaked in sweetness. Ruvut Ruvunnaiy = sing praise of the praise-worthy (Waheguru). Kayra = of. Oat Guhhi = took shelter. Drisht(i) = with kind sight. Deerugh = long; great. Dheera = peaceful. 3.

MEANING: Listen to my prayer that I should not forget You even for a single moment, and should recite Your Naam by my body (tongue) and my mind, oh, my sweetness-soaked Waheguru. How can I forget You, even for a short moment, when I survive only by singing Your praise, and am always a sacrifice for You? Nobody is mine, and I belong to nobody forever. I cannot survive without Waheguru. I took His shelter, and embedded His Feet (His Naam) in my heart because of which my body (and mind) have been purified. I enjoy long (eternal) comfort with Waheguru's kind sight on me, and have achieved peace of mind (does not wander any more) with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 3.

Bersaiy Amrit dhaar, boond soohaavni. Saajun milay sehj(i) soobhaayay, Hur(i) siyoun preet(i) bunee. Hur(i) mundar(i) aavaiy, ja Prubh bhaavaiy, dhun oobhi Goon saari. chhaayay, bers(u) soobhaayay, mun(i), tun(i) praym sookhaavaiy. Nanak, versaiy Amrit Bani, kur(i) kirpa ghur(i) aavaiy. 4.

Word Meaning: Bersaiy = rains. Dhaar = stream. Boond = drops. Soohaavni = pleasing; comforting. Sehj(i) = in peaceful state. Soobhaayay = with love. Mundar(i) = house; heart. Oobhi = standing; zestfully. Goon Saari = remembers Virtues. Ruvaiy = enjoys. Kunt(i) = by the husband (Waheguru). Oonuv(i) = very low. Ghun(u) = clouds. Chhaayay = overcast. Sookhaavaiy = provides comfort (bliss). 4.

MEANING: Waheguru-Friend appears in the heart of the devotee who recites His Naam with deep love and dedication, and the drops of the Naam-Amrit begin to rain as a small stream in his tenth door (mind). Waheguru appears in a devotee's heart only if He likes her when she sings His praise zestfully. All fortunate devotees enjoy union with Waheguru in their heart (mind), but I am an unfortunate, and do not know why He has abandoned (forgotten) me. Like a cloud, which comes close to the earth to cause rain, Waheguru causes rain of His Amrit-Naam in a devotee's heart affectionately when He becomes benevolent to her, and takes dwelling in her heart; the devotee feels blissfulness in her body and mind because of Waheguru's love for her, oh Nanak. 4.

Chayt, basunt bhulaa, bhuvur soohaavrray.

(PAGE 1108): Bun phoolay munjh baar(i), mein Pir(u) ghur(i) baahourraiy. Pir(u) ghur(i) aavaiy, dhun kiyoun sookh paavaiy, bireh(i) birodh tun(u) chheejaiy. Kokil umb(i) soohaavi boalaiy, kiyoun dookh(u) unk(i) suheejaiy. Bhuvur bhuvunta phooli daali, kiyoun jeevaan mur(u) maayay. Nanak Chayt(i) sehj(i) sookh(u) paavaiy, jo Hur(i), Vur ghur(i) dhun paayay. 5.

Word Meaning: Chayt = the first month (mid March – mid April). Busunt = spring season. Bhulaa = pleasant. Bhuvur = bumblebees. Soohaavrray = look beautiful. Bun = forests. Phoolay = bloom. Munjh = in. Baar(i) = wilderness; jungle. Baahourray = come; meet again. Bireh(i) = due to separation. Birodh(i) = opposition (attacks) by sensual pleasures. Chheejaiy = weakens; suffers. Unk(i) = in heart. Suheejaiy = endure. Bhuvunta = hovers over. Daali = flowers and new leaves. Mur(u) = death; dead towards worldly attractions. 5.

MEANING: The month of Chayt is very pleasant because it is springtime, and the whole vegetation blooms in the forest. The bumblebees flying around look very attractive. To see such beauty of nature, my mind yearns to see its Creator, and I wish that He would visit me in my heart. How can a man enjoy the comfort of Waheguru's presence in his heart when his sensual pleasures are his enemies, which oppose the visit of Waheguru in his heart? Such a devotee suffers a weakening of his bodily and mental strength due to his separation from Waheguru. Like a bumblebee, which, attracted to the fresh flowers, hovers around them, enjoys their sap, and leaves, I am also attracted to the worldly pleasures. How can I kill my mind from being attracted to worldly attractions so as to enjoy a high spiritual life, oh my mother? (Answer): The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam with love and dedication in the month of Chayt, and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in her heart, enjoys blissfulness in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 5.

Vaisaakh(u) bhulaa, shaakhaan vays kuray. Dhun daykhay Hur(i) Dooaar(i), aavhou duyya kuray. Ghur(i) aaou Piyaray, dootur taaray, Toodh bin(u) uddh(u) na molo. Keemut(i) kaun(u) kuray Toodh(u) bhaavaan, daykh(i) dikhaavaiy Dholo. Door(i) na jaana, untar(i) maana, Hur(i) ka Mehl(u) puchhaana. Nanak Vaisaakheen Prubh bhaavaiy, soort(i), Shabad(i) mun(u) maana. 6.

Word Meaning: Vaisaakh = the second month of Indian Calendar (Mid April – mid May). Shaakhaan = vegetation. Vays Kuray = wear different looks. Hur(i) Dooaar(i) = Waheguru's Door. Dootur = the world sea, which is very difficult to swim across. Uddh(u) = half a cowrie shell. Dholo = Dear (Waheguru). Soort(i) = focus of mind. 6.

MEANING: The month of Vaisakh(u) is also very pleasant as the vegetation wears many different attractive colours. But, despite the charming beauty of nature, a devotee does not find peace of mind when she is disconnected from Waheguru, and prays at His Door asking Him to visit her heart as she is not worth even half a cowrie-shell without Him; and it is only He who can ferry her across the difficult-to-swim world-sea. Who will be able to tell my worth (I will become invaluable) if the Guru, who is connected with You all the time, can show me Your sight, and You come to like me?

Then, I will believe that You reside in my heart, and are not away from me, and will know the place where You live (everywhere), oh Waheguru. In the pleasant month of Vaisakh, Waheguru likes the devotee who focuses her mind on Him with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak.6.

Maah(u) Jaytth(u) bhulaa, Preetum(u) kiyoun bisraiy. Thul taapeh(i) sur bhaar, sadhun binou kuraiy. Dhun binou kuraydi, Goon saarayndi, Goon saareen Prubh bhaavaan. Saachaiy Mehl(i) ruhhaiy Baiyraagi, aavun dayh(i) ta aavaan. Nimaani, nitaani, Hur(i) bin(u) kiyoun paavaiy sookh(u(Mehleen. Nanak Jaytth(i) jaanaiy Tis(u) jaiysi, kerm(i) milaiy Goon gehli. 7.

Word Meaning: Maah(u) = month. Jaytth(u) = the third month. Bhulaa = pleasant. Taapeh(i) = heats up. Sur = like. Bhaar = kiln; furnace. Sadhun = the woman (devotee). Goon = Waheguru's virtues. Saarayndi = remember; sing praise. Baiyraagi = detached from the world (Waheguru). Nimaani = without any pride; humble. Nitaani = powerless. Goon Gehli = having acquired the noble qualities. 7.

MEANING: Even the hot month of Jaytth(u) – the third month – in which the earth becomes hot like a furnace, becomes pleasant to the devotee who does not forget Waheguru. Remembering Waheguru's noble qualities, the devotee prays to Waheguru that He likes her when she sings His praise. She knows that Waheguru, which is fully detached from worldly affairs, resides in the Palace where only high morality, purity, and justice prevail; and unless she has those qualities, Waheguru will not let her in. But she cannot enjoy any comfort even in luxurious mansions without Waheguru, and without whom she feels to have no self-pride, and no energy. Only a devotee, who has noble qualities like Waheguru, is recognized in His Court, and it is with His benevolence that she can be connected with Him if she has acquired the noble qualities, oh Nanak. 7.

Aasaarr(u) bhulaa, sooruj(i) guggun(i) tupaiy. Dherti dookh suhhaiy, sokhaiy ugun(i) bhukhaiy. Ugun(i) rus(u) sokhaiy, muriyaiy dhokhaiy, bhee so kirt na haaray. Ruth(u) phiraiy, chhaaya dhun taakaiy, teed(u) luvvaiy munjh baaray. Uvgun bandh(i) chullie dookh(u) aagaiy, sookh(u) tis(u), Saach(u) smaalay. Nanak, Jis nu eh(u) mun(u) deeya, mern(u), jeevun(u) Prubh naalay. 8.

Word Meaning: Aasaarr(u) = Haarr(u) = the fourth month. Guggu(i) = in the sky. Dookh Suhhaiy = suffers in heat. Sokahiy = absorbs. Bhukhaiy = heats up. Rus(u) = moisture. Dhokhaiy = smoulders slowly. Kirt = duty. Ruth(u) Phiray = the sun goes higher in the sky (according to the Puranas, the sun rides a chariot which is pulled by a lame god – Arun). Chhaaya = shade; protection. Teed(u) = crickets. Luvvaiy = make sounds. Baaray = in the jungle. Bundh(i) = package (accumulation) of ignoble qualities. Smaalay = keeps in mind. Mern(u) Jeevun = death and life. 8.

MEANING: In the month of Aasaarr(u), the sun heats up in the sky as a result of which the earth suffers badly as it absorbs the heat of the sun. The sun's intense heat slowly absorbs moisture from the earth, which smoulders. Even though the earth suffers, it still performs its duty (as our mother) and protects us by providing the shade of trees and the cold water of rivers. When the sun goes higher in the sky, the crickets make sounds in the forest to get relief from the heat, and the humans seek shade, but the devotees seek Waheguru's shelter to protect them from the heat (fire) of worldly desires. Those who keep Waheguru in mind feel blissful even in such a hot month, but trouble lies ahead for those who accumulate ignoble qualities. Those who have surrendered their minds to Waheguru feel spiritual death when they are disconnected from Him, and thrive spiritually when they are connected with Him, oh Nanak. 8.

Saavun(i) sers munaa, ghun verseh(i) root(i) aayay. Mein mun(i), tun(i) Shuhou bhaavaiy, Pir perdays(u) sidhaayay. Pir(u) ghur(i) nuhhi aayaiy, muriyaiy haavaiy, daamun(i) chumuk(i) duraayay. Sayj ikayli, khuree doohayli, mern(u) bhuyya, dookh(u) maayay. Hur(i) bin(u) neend bhookh kuhou kaiysi, kaapurr(u) tun(i) na sookhaavay. Nanak, sa sohaagun(i) kuntee, Pir kaiy unk(i) smaavay. 9.

Word Meaning: Saavun(i) = in the fifth month. Sers = bloom; feel blissful. Ghun = clouds. Verseh(i) = rain. Root(i) = season. Perdays(i) = foreign land (where one has no access to). Sidhaayay = is gone. Haavaiy = in sobs. Daamun(i) = lightning. Khuree = very much. Doohayli = miserable. Kuntee = having a husband. Unk(i) = lap. 9.

MEANING: After the very hot summer months of Jaytth(u) and Aasaarr(u), the rainy season sets in the month of Saavun, and every living being feels joyful. However, the devotee who loves Waheguru by body and by mind does not feel blissful even in the beautiful month of Saavun when He is away from the devotee (she is not connected with Him). Like a married woman whose husband is away, she does not enjoy the rainy season in his absence and sobs in misery; even beautiful lightning scares her. The devotee feels sad when the bed of her heart is empty. She feels miserable without Waheguru, and suffers as if she were dead, and shares her feelings of low spirit with her mother. She has sleepless nights and does not feel hungry. Even the rich clothes offer her no comfort. But lucky is the devotee, who is loved by her Waheguru-Husband, and who rests comfortably in His Lap (has His Naam enshrined in her heart), oh Nanak. 9.

Bhaadoun bherm(i) bhoollie, bhur(i) jobun(i) puchhutaani. Jul, thul, neer(i) bhuray, bers rootay rung(u) maani. Bersaiy, nis(i) kaali, kiyoun sookh(u) baali, daadur moar luvuntay. Priyo, priyo chuvaiy bubeeha bolaiy, bhooyungum phireh(i) dusuntay. Muchhur dung, saayir bhur soobhur, bin(u) Hur(i) kiyoun sookh(u) paayiyaiy. Nanak pooch(i) chuloun Gur apunay, jeh Prubh, teh hee jaayiyaiy. 10.

Word Meaning: Bhaadoun = the sixth month. Bhur(i) Jobun(i) = in the prime of youth. Neer(i) = with water. Rung(u) Maani = enjoys luxuries. Bersaiy = rains. Nis(i) = night. Baali = young woman (devotee). Daadur = frogs. Luvuntay = make sounds. Priyo = dear. Chuvvaiy = chants. Bubeeha = Chatrik; the rainbird. Bhooyungum = snakes. Dusuntay = stinging. Muchhur = mosquitoes. Saayir = water bodies. Soobhur = full to the brim. 10.

MEANING: In the prime of her youth, the woman (human) is misled by the illusions of Maya in the attractive month of Bhaadoun, when she enjoys the beauties of life in the rainy season, when the lakes and the fields are full of water; but she has to repent for the enjoyment of her sensual pleasures. On the other hand, the devotee of Waheguru does not feel comfort even in the lovely rainy season when it rains, and when the frogs and the peacocks make sounds, and the night is dark. When she hears the rainbird chanting “priyo (dear), priyo”, and hears the sound of waves on the surface of the water of the lakes, which are full to the brim, she misses Waheguru, and feels the pain of separation from Him as if the snakes are biting, and the mosquitoes are stinging her. In other words, even though the environment is very colourful, the devotees do not enjoy it without Waheguru. I will ask my Satguru for advice and to follow the path that leads to union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 10.

Assun(i) aaou Pira, sadhun jhoor(i) mooyee. Ta miliyaiy, Prubh maylay, doojay bhaayay khooyee. Jhootth(i) vigooti, ta Pir mooti, kookeh kaahis phoolay.

(PAGE 1109): Aagaiy ghaam, pichhaiy root(i) jaada, daykh(i) chulut mun doalaiy. Dehdis(i) shaakh bhuree huriyaavul, sehj(i) pukkaiy so meettha. Nanak Assoon(i) milhou Piyaray, Satgur bhuyyay buseettha. 11.

Word Meaning: Assoon(i) = in the seventh month. Piraa = oh, Dear. Jhoor(i) = in repentance. Mooyee = (almost) dead; very weak. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Khooyee = misled. Vigooti = suffer humiliation. Mooti = robbed of (Waheguru’s) love; rejected. Kookeh Kaahis =(turning of hair into grey colour like) long grass which grows on river banks and turns white. Aagaiy = before. Ghaam = hot season. Pichhaiy = is left (to come). Root(i) Jaada = the cold season. Chulut = amazing (changes in nature). Dolaiy = weakens. Dehdis(i) = in all ten directions. Shaakh = vegetation. Bhuree Huriyaavul = full of greenery. Sehj(i) = slowly. Pukkaiy = ripens Buseettha = mediator. 11.

MEANING: With the arrival of the month of Assun(i), the hot season is over, and it is the beginning of the cool fall season. Most of the seasonal crops turn pale and are almost ready to harvest. The tall grass by the banks of the rivers wears a white look. The devotees, who are getting old, look at the changing nature of the new season from their own angle and feel that, like the tall grass, their hair is also turning grey, and like the seasonal crops, they are nearing the ripe age. Like the hot season, their bodily strength is also over, and the winter of life has arrived for them. They feel disheartened with their weakened body. They also repent that they did not serve Waheguru, and are running out of time to worship Him, so they pray to Waheguru to appear in their heart. But when they see that the trees, and some perennial crops are still green, they pick up courage, and believe that as per the saying that the fruit which takes longer to ripe is sweet (or patience is virtue), I will be patient, and pray to Waheguru to put me in the shelter of the Guru which, as the mediator, will connect me with Him, oh Nanak. 11.

Word Meaning: Kutik(i) = (in the) eighth month. Kirt(u) = result of the deeds previously done. Deepuk = lamp. (The Hindu women perform a ritual in this month of lighting up some earthen lamps, placing them on big leaves, and floating them on water with the belief that it keeps the evils away). Sehj(i) = in the peaceful state of mind. Tutt(i) = (connection with) Waheguru. Rus = the bliss of union with Waheguru. Omaahaiy = in zest. Sersi = enjoys bliss. Uvgun = vices. Na Seejhaiy = unsuccessful. Mersi = kills her desires. Nij Ghur(i) = with stable mind. Ujoun = still. Tinaarri = Yours (Waheguru's). Aasa = longing. Kupt = Dur = door. Khut(u) Maasa = six months.
MEANING: Based on the results of his previous deeds, one performs the kind of deeds for which he is predestined by Waheguru. (Placing them on big leaves, the Hindu women float lighted earthen lamps in flowing waters as a ritual, but it is of no spiritual significance.) But the devotees, who make a connection with Waheguru, light up the lamp of the Divine Knowledge in their peaceful mind (above the effects of Maya). The blissfulness of the union with Waheguru in the mind of the zestful devotee serves as the oil in the lamp. Because of her ignoble qualities, the spiritually dead woman does not succeed (to achieve union with Waheguru) in this life, but the devotee, who acquires noble qualities, symbolically dies to worldly desires (kills them). Those whom Waheguru gives His Naam and His worship, stay in their own mind (their mind does not rush for worldly attractions), and always long for Waheguru's sight. They pray to Him that He appear in their minds soon and open the strongly resistant door of their minds (to see Him with the eyes of their minds), as they already feel that even a small moment feels like a period of six months in His separation, oh, Nanak. 12.

MEANING: The month of Mughur is pleasant for those who acquire the noble qualities of Waheguru in their mind. The devotee, who acquires the noble qualities, sings praise of Waheguru's noble qualities, and is liked by the eternal Waheguru. She knows that only the wise and the know-all Waheguru is immortal, while the rest of the world is mortal. With the Will of Waheguru, the devotee acquires Divine Knowledge, the ability to keep the mind focused, and the noble qualities in her mind. All her troubles disappear when she listens to Waheguru's Naam, lyrics, music, and poems in His praise. The devotee, who offers her worship-filled heart to Waheguru, is liked by Him, oh Nanak. 13.

Word Meaning: Pokh(i) = in the tenth month. Tookhaar(u) = frost. Trin(u) = vegetation. Rus(u) = sap; moisture. Soakhaiy = (coldness) absorbs. Mookhay = in the mouth; on the tongue. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Jugjeevun(u) = the soul of the world (God). Rung(u) Maani = enjoy His love. Unduj --- Ootbhooj = the living beings from all the four sources of production. Ghut(i) = in heart. Jot(i) = God's Soul. Duyya Put(i) = the lord of compassion. Daatay = Provider. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mut(i) = wisdom. Rus(i) = while enjoying. Rusiya = the one who enjoys; devotee. Sunayhou = love. 14.

MEANING: It is very cold in the month of Pokh(u) when it frosts, and the cold air soaks away the sap, and the moisture from the forests and the vegetation, (and the people have a very tough time coping with such cold weather). But Waheguru's devotees remember Him by their mind, body, and their tongue, and pray to Him to appear in their heart; and enjoy the joy of union with Him when they feel His presence in their body and their mind with Guru's Shabad. They realize that Waheguru's Light (soul) is present in all the living beings of all the four sources of reproduction. They pray to the compassionate and provider Lord to show His holy sight to the devotees and grant them the wisdom to attain a high spiritual state. The loving devotee enjoys reciting Waheguru's Naam with love and devotion, oh Nanak. 14.

Word Meaning: Maagh(i) = (in the) eleventh month. Pooneet = purity. Teeruth = holy place. (Hindus consider it a holy act to take dips at holy places on the first day of this month). Untar(i) = inside. Goon Geh(i) = acquiring noble qualities. Unk(i) = in heart. Soon(i) = listening to. Bunkay = handsome. Sur(i) = in (holy) pools. Gung = the River Ganga. Bayni = Tribayni = the three Rivers – Ganga, Yamuna, and Sarasvati. Sungum = the merging. Saat Smoond = the seven seas of the world. Poonn = noble deeds. Jaata = recognized. Muhaa Rus(u) = the great bliss. Utth-Sutth(i) = 68 holy places. 15.

MEANING: (The Hindus believe the first day of Maagh to be holy, and consider it to be a deed of great spiritual worth to take dips at holy places to purify their mind); but the whole month of Maagh becomes holy for the devotees who recognize (make connection with) Waheguru in their mind, which itself becomes a holy place. When a devotee acquires noble qualities of Waheguru in his/her heart, the Waheguru-Friend comes to reside in their heart in their peaceful mind. By listening to the virtues of the handsome and the dear Lord, the devotee acquires those virtues in her heart, and prays before Him that with His blessings, her heart could become the real holy place with His presence in there, where not only the three Rivers – Ganga, Yamuna, and Sarasvati – merge into one another, but also all the seven sees of the world will seem to be present (or the five senses, the mind and the wisdom in the body become pure and a holy place) and she could take a dip in her own heart rather than going to any supposedly holy place. For the devotee, who recognizes (makes connection with) Waheguru, which is the same in each eon, all the noble deeds, donations to Brahmans, and the ritualistic worship, are subsumed in His worship (the devotees do not need them). The whole month becomes a great bliss for the devotees, who recite Waheguru's Naam, which is like taking dips at all the 68 holy places, oh Nanak. 15.

Word Meaning: Phulgoon(i) = (in the) twelfth month. Rehsi = blooming of heart. Soobhaaya = with noble intentions. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Guvaaya = gotten rid of. Ghur(i) = in heart. Aaou = come. Vays = religious show offs. Mehleen = in His Palace. Luhaan = acquire. Haar Door = garland of flowers and pearls, etc. Paat Putumbur = silk clothes. Lorri = liked. Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). 16.

MEANING: The devotee, who loves Waheguru with noble intentions, enjoys bliss. It becomes a blissful day and night for the devotee who kills her selfishness and ego (haumein). With Waheguru's blessing, she gets rid of (overcomes) her worldly attachments, and Waheguru appears in her heart with His benevolence. An individual who adorns herself with many religious symbols without real love for Him gets no room in Waheguru's Palace. But the devotee who is liked by Waheguru feels as if she has been adorned with a necklace of pearls, a garland of flowers, and with silk clothes. Her Guru connects her with Waheguru-Husband in her own heart, oh Nanak. 16.

Word Meaning: Bay-Dus = two and ten = 12. Maah = months. Rootie = seasons. Thitee = phases of the moon. Vaar = days of the week. Bhulay = good; pleasant. Ghurri, Moorut, Pul = small time periods. Saachay = (become) eternal. Kaaruj = tasks. Saaray = completed successfully. Bidh(i) = means. Sheegaari = adorned. Rung(u) Maanay = enjoy the love of union. Sayj = the bed (of heart). Soohaavi = comforting. Bhaago = good fortune. Ehi = day. Nis(i) = night. Raavaiy = enjoys (union). Vur(u) = Husband. Thir(u) = permanent. Soohaago = married life. 17.

MEANING: For the devotee, who is connected with Waheguru in her peaceful state of mind, all the twelve months, all seasons, all phases of the moon, all days of the week, and all the short periods of time, become eternally very pleasant. Waheguru knows all the ways to connect a devotee with Him, and the tasks of the devotee get completed successfully. Waheguru, who adorns His devotee, loves her, and she enjoys the love of her union with Him. With her good fortune and with the grace of the Guru, the heart-bed of the devotee becomes very comforting for her when Waheguru enjoys her union. Waheguru enjoys her union (stays connected with her) day and night, and she acquires the eternal Husband, oh Nanak. 17.1.

Nanak, moorukh(u) kubhoun na chaytaiy, kiyya soojhaiy raiyn(i) undhayriya. 1. ----------

Word Meaning: Pehr = one quarter of day or night. Pehlaiy Pehraiy = the first quarter of life. Sloanurriyay = having beautiful eyes (which enjoy beauty). Raiyn(i) = night (human life). Undhiyaari = dark; of ignorance. Vukkhur(u) = merchandise (of noble qualities). Mooyiyay = oh, the mortal. Vaari = turn (to die). Jugaavaiy = awaken; to alert. Sooti = asleep; unaware. Rus Choosay = soaks his strength (steals his breaths). Put(i) = dignity. Choar(u) = thief (the five demons). Moosay = rob. Kubhoun Na = never. Chaytaiy = remembers. Soojhaiy = think of. 1.

MEANING: In the first quarter of life, the man is spiritually in the dark (is ignorant), and he enjoys every beautiful and attractive thing in life, and does not realize that he needs to protect his noble qualities as he is mortal, and one day his turn will also come to leave the world. Who can awaken such a person who is totally unaware of reality, and the Angel of Death is robbing him of his breath? The five demons are robbing the unaware youth of his noble qualities in the darkness of his ignorance, and he does not realize what the future of his spiritual state will be. I ask my foolish mind to listen to me that the inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru is the guard of the noble qualities, and it should seek His shelter, but the foolish never keeps Him in mind. But what can he think of when he is in complete darkness, oh Nanak? 1.

Word Meaning: Bhuyya = happens; arrives. Achayti = unaware. Khayti = crop (of noble qualities). Hayti = because of love. Mug(i) = (on the) path. Ruv(i) = the sun (Divine Knowledge). Sus(i) = the moon (coolness; peacefulness). Deepuk = lamps. 2.

MEANING: It is already the second quarter of your life, wake up from your deep sleep (of ignorance) now, and protect the crop of your noble qualities, which is being consumed by your vices, oh, the unaware mortal man. Protect the crop of your noble qualities with love for the Guru (by reciting His Shabad), as no thief can rob you when you are awake (alert about the attacks). (With Guru's Shabad), You will not follow the path leading to spiritual death, and you will not be afraid of the Angel's door, and you will not suffer in any way. Divine Knowledge and peacefulness are the two lamps (to enlighten the mind) available in the Guru's shelter, and one's body and mind get purified when one recites His Shabads by the tongue. However, the foolish man still does not keep Waheguru in mind; how can he enjoy comfort when he loves Maya, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Neend = sleep (intoxication of worldly attractions). Soot = sons. Daara = wife. Suntaapi = suffering. Choag = bait. Choogaiy = picks; is attracted. Nit = everyday; always. Phaasaiy = is caught in the net (of spiritual death). Graasaiy = grabs. Tribidh(i) = in the attachment of the three effects of Maya. Loaka = oh folks. 3.
MEANING: In the third quarter of life, the man feels intoxicated by the attractions of the world, including wealth, his sons, and his wife. His love for his family and wealth is the bait Maya uses to entrap him, and the ignorant man takes the bait, gets trapped, and suffers. The individual, who recites Waheguru's Naam, enjoys blissfulness, and with the Advice of the Guru, the spiritual death does not consume (frighten) him. But without Waheguru's Naam, death and the birth-death cycle do not leave him alone, and the man suffers deeply, oh Nanak. Love for Maya overpowers the man in the third quarter of his life, oh folks. 3.

Word Meaning: Daut(u) Bihaagaiy = brightness of the sun (grey hair; old age). Ghur(u) = home; merchandise (of noble qualities). Soohayliya = comforting. Bayliya = friend. Ker = hands. Kump = shake. Churn = feet. Bhusm Say = like ash (dry). 4.
MEANING: In the fourth quarter of life, grey hair, like the brightness of the sun, changes the outlook of the man. Those who were awake (alert against the attacks of Maya) protect the wealth of noble qualities in them. They stay alert by their attachment with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and their life is spent in blissfulness. Those who follow the Guru's Advice in life do not take rebirths, and Waheguru becomes their friend (supporter). In old age, a man's hands, feet, and body begin to shake, his vision blurs, and his skin becomes dry as ash. Without enshrining Waheguru's Naam, the man suffers badly, no matter what the eon is, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Khooli Guntth(i) = the body-package of life opens (time of death). Rus Kus = all tastes of life. Tthaakay = stopped. Bundh(i) = tied up. Pukki Khayti = ripe crop (ready to harvest). Looniyaiy = is cut. Ghurri Chusa = every single moment. Laykha Leejaiy = account is demanded. Suhou = endure. Jeeay = oh, soul (man). Soor(i) Nur = gods-like good people. Kaarun Keeya = made arrangements.
MEANING: When the body package becomes loose as prewritten, Waheguru's call comes for the individual to leave the world. All tastes of life are restrained for him, and tied up; he is taken away with the Will of God, where he cannot be seen or heard. Like the crops which are harvested when they ripen, everybody is taken away by Waheguru when their turn comes. Waheguru demands the account of all the deeds the man had performed every moment, and the soul has to endure the good or the bad results. With the arrangements already made, Waheguru connects the good people with Him through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 5.2.

Gur Shabad(i) dikhaaliya, Sach(u) smaaliya, ehinis(i) daykh(i) beechaariya. Dhaavut, punch ruhhay ghur(u) jaaniya, kaam(u) krodh(u) bikh(u) maariya. Untar Jot(i) bhuyyi Gur Sakhi, cheenay Ram kerma.

Word Meaning: Taara Lumma = a star with long tail; a comet. (Halley's Comet which is visible from the earth every 75-76 years, was visible in 1534 at the time of Guru Nanak Sahib who left the mortal world in 1539. Next predicted visit = July 28, 2061). Sayvuk = devotee. Poor Kerma = great luck. Sach(u) Smaaliya = remembered Waheguru. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Dhaavut = rushing (to seek pleasure). Punch = the five (senses). Ruhhay Ghur(u) = stay peaceful. Bikh(u) = poison. Sakhi = with the Teaching of. Cheenay = watches. Ram Kerma = Waheguru's performances (amazing feats). Puteenay = are convinced. 1.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib compared Waheguru to Halley's Comet, which, like the Comet (which stays hidden for long periods of time), stays hidden in people's minds.

MEANING: When the people saw the wondrous spectacle of Halley's Comet in the sky in 1534, Satguru (Nanak Sahib) aroused their curiosity to "see" the creator of the Comet (Waheguru) in their mind. He "showed" Waheguru (which, like the Comet, stays hidden in the human body) to some lucky people with His Shabad. Such devotees, whom Satguru shows Waheguru in their heart, ponder upon His Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) day and night to enshrine Him in their heart forever. All five of their senses quit wandering in search of pleasures, and stay under their control. The devotee also kills his lust and rage, which are poisonous for his spirituality, with the Naam. With Guru's Advice, Waheguru's Light enlightens his mind, and he watches His amazing feats. To see Halley's Comet as a wondrous spectacle of Waheguru, the devotees are convinced of Waheguru's presence, and get rid of their haumein, oh Nanak. 1.

Saach(u) Naam(u) Amrit Gur(i) deeya, Hur(i) Churnee liv laagay. Perguti Jot(i), jot(i) meh(i) jaata, munmukh(i) bherm(i) bhoolaani. Nanak, bhor(u) bhuyya, mun(u) maaniya, jaagut raiyn(i) vihaani. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Chooki = ended. Abhimaani = conceit. Bhor(u) = light; enlightenment. Smaani = mind stays absorbed. Bhaani = is liked by. Saabut(u) = complete (without any loss in noble qualities). Liv = focus of mind. Jaata = recognize (Waheguru). Bherm Bhoolaani = misled in illusions. Vihaani = spends. 2.

MEANING: The devotees of the Guru stay alert against the attacks of Maya, and they get rid of their ego. They feel enlightened day and night and remain absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. They like to be absorbed in the Naam with Guru's Shabad, and preserve the wealth of their noble qualities by staying alert against the attacks of Maya. With the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru granted to them by the Guru, their mind stays focused on Waheguru's Feet (Naam). They see Waheguru's Light everywhere and see Him in everybody, while the Maya-worshippers are misled by the illusions of Maya. With His Light appearing in their mind, the devotees are convinced about His presence in their heart (start loving Him), and their life is spent in alertness, oh Nanak. 2.

Nanak, uvgun, gooneh smaanaiy, aiysi Gurmut(i) paayi. 3.

Word Meaning: Aougoon = ignoble qualities. Veesriya = forgotten. Goonie = noble qualities. Ruv Ruhhiya = is present. Beeya = other. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Thaapiya = created. Kern Kaarun = the root (creator) of the whole universe (Waheguru). Sumruth = omnipotent. Apaara = with no ends. Tribidh(i) = the three effects of Maya. Mayt(i) = by eradicating. Aiysi = such. 3.
MEANING: With Waheguru's Naam in their mind, the devotees' ignoble qualities are forgotten (kicked out) and are replaced by the noble qualities. They see only Waheguru to be present everywhere, and none else, and their mind is satisfied in itself (no worldly desire is left in their mind). With Guru's Advice, they make a connection with Waheguru, which has created (and continues to support) the water, the land, the whole universe, and every heart (of living beings of all kinds). By killing all the attractions of the three qualities of Maya, such devotees become absorbed in Waheguru, the origin (creator) of the universe, who is omnipotent and limitless. They acquire such wisdom from the Guru with which all their ignoble qualities get absorbed (eaten up) by noble qualities, oh Nanak. 3.

Payiurraiy ghur(i) Shabad(i) puteeni, Sahour-rraiy Pir bhaani. Nanak, Satgur(i) mayl(i) milaayi, chooki kaan(i) loakaani. 4.3.
Word Meaning: Aavun Jaan = birth and death. Ruhhay = ended. Chooka = removed. Bhola = misgivings. Saacha = pure; free from vices. Chola = body. Pergut(u) Hoyee = became famous. Soag = sadness. Suntaapaiy = sufferings. Puchhaata Aapaiy = recognized self. Payiurraiy Ghur(i) = in parents' home (this world). Puteeni = convinced. Sahour-rraiy = in in-laws house (next world). Pir = husband (Waheguru). Bhaani = liked. Kaan(i) = subservience. Loakaani = of people. 4.
MEANING: All the misgivings of such devotees are dispelled, and their birth-death cycle is terminated. They kill their haumein, connect with Waheguru, and their body and mind become perfectly pure. With Guru's grace, the haumein of the devotee is destroyed, she becomes famous in the world, and all her griefs and sufferings come to an end. She recognizes herself (that she is a part of Waheguru), and her soul merges into Waheguru's Soul. She is convinced and pleased with Guru's Shabad in this world, and is liked by Waheguru in the next world.

Satguru connects her with Waheguru, and she no longer has to be subservient to anybody in the world, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Bholaavrraiy = in misconceptions. Puchhotaani = repents. Pir(i) = (Waheguru) Husband. Sootti = asleep (unaware). Saar = worth. Mootti = defrauded. Vidhun = miserable. Raatay = night; span of life. Vigooti = suffer humiliation. Taatay = jealousy. Huns(u) = soul. Foormaaya = by God's orders. Vihooni = empty; without. 1.

MEANING: The young woman (human soul) is misled by her misbeliefs and repents later. She does not realize the worth of Waheguru (His Naam), and the unaware woman is forgotten by her Waheguru-Husband. Because of forgetting Waheguru, the woman, robbed of her noble qualities, is ignored by Him as well, and she spends the night of her life in misery. She suffers humiliation because of her lust, rage, conceit, haumein, and jealousy. When the soul leaves her body, which is made of dust (earth) as per the Will of God, it becomes a part of dust again. Without Waheguru's eternal Naam, the young devotee is misled in her misconceptions and repents, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Naah = oh, Lord. Nij = own. Rool(i) = disgraced. Bhusmaiy Dhayri = pile of dirt. Chaahaiy = likes. Keejaiy = do. Rusn Rus(i) = best of all sweet tastes. Rusna = tongue. Vin(u) = without. Sung(i) = in company. Saathi = companion. Ghunayri = countless. Laaha Laiy = acquiring benefit. Ghur(i) = God's Court. 2.

MEANING: The misled and the repentant soul prays to Waheguru to listen to her request that nobody pays any attention to her without Him, which is eternal in His Palace; but without Him, she will be disgraced, and will become a pile of dirt. She is worried about her fate, and wants to know what she can say or do about that (her fate) (and to connect with Him). (She gets the response through some devotee) That Waheguru's immortalizing Naam is the sweetest thing to enjoy by the tongue with Guru's Shabad. Countless people take birth and die without Waheguru's Naam, and there is no friend or companion to help them. Waheguru's Naam is eternal, so the man should earn spiritual benefit (wealth) by reciting it before going to Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saajun = Dear Friend (Waheguru). Days(i) = in the country (heart). Vidaysiurray = in foreign land; far away. Sanayhrray = messages. Saar(i) Smaalay = remembers continually. Moondh = young (immature) woman. Naiyn Bhurayndi = with teary eyes. Maarug(u) = Punth(u) = path. Vikkhrra = difficult. Paaray = on the other end. Vichhonni = separated. Amrit-Birkh = tree-like immortalizing Naam. Muhhaa Rus = with Amrit-like taste. Fuliya = laden with fruit. Chaakhiya = tasted. 3.

MEANING: Believing that the dear Waheguru resides at some distant place rather than in her own heart, the repentant young woman sends Him sorrowful messages. With teary eyes, she remembers Waheguru for His virtuous qualities, and wonders how she could meet (connect) with her dear Waheguru. She does not know how to follow a very difficult path to reach Him on the other end of her journey. (She is told by some noble person) that Waheguru can be reached with Guru's Shabad when she offers her body and mind (selfishness and ego) in His service. (Guru's Shabad or Waheguru's Naam) is such a tree which is laden with the great and the sweet-tasting Amrit-fruit of which the taste can be enjoyed only on meeting with dear God. 3.

Word Meaning: Boolaayirriyay = called in. Bilm = delay. Ruttrriyay = imbued (in love). Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Roas(u) = resent. Gerb(u) Nivaar(i) = by eradicating ego. Smaani = is absorbed (connected). Naachi = danced. Ghooghut(u) = veil. Mutkee = the vessel of public taunts. Toarr(i) = by breaking. Niraari = detached; emancipated. Aap(u) = self. Tutt(u) = the root of the universe (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: The devotee, who is called in by Waheguru in His Palace, should not delay to go in. Imbued in Waheguru's love day and night, the devotee gets connected with Waheguru in a high spiritual state. She does not complain about her long separation, and gets absorbed in Him by killing her conceit. Imbued with the love of Waheguru, once connected, she remains connected to Him, while the Maya-worshipper continues to take births and die. As the saying goes, when a woman dances in public, she does not need to wear a veil (she feels no shame), disregards taunts from the people, worships Waheguru, and becomes detached from worldly affairs. She analyzes herself (that she is a part of Waheguru) and ponders on Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Purakh(u) Bidhaata = the carver of our fates. Bunvaari = a name for Waheguru. Sach(u) = Naam. Deen Duyaala = merciful to the humble. Prunvut(i) = prays. 1.

MEANING: I am Your slave, oh my dear and colourful (performer of amazing feats) Waheguru. The Guru has shown me the incomprehensible Waheguru, so I do not need to look for any other deity. When the Guru became kind to me, He showed me Waheguru with His Will, and Waheguru, which is the soul of the world, is the Provider and the carver of our fates. Connected to Him in my high spiritual state, I was shown Waheguru. I beg for Your Naam, oh the merciful to the humble, Waheguru. It is only with Your kind sight that we can swim across the world-sea. Uprumpur = the endless God. Thaap(i) = creates. Oothaapay = destroys. Heera = diamond; pure soul. Heeraiy = the diamond Waheguru. Baydhiya = pierced. Haar(i) Purovaiy = strings (the beads of noble qualities) to make necklace. 2.

MEANING: The extremely dear and omnipresent Waheguru is supporting the whole universe. It is through Guru's Shabad that one comes to realize that the Great Waheguru is present everywhere. Nobody can find the limits of the Great Waheguru, who is supporting the whole universe. He has created the living beings of many different colours and of many kinds, and His largess keeps growing all the time. The limitless Waheguru creates and destroys the world, and only that which He likes happens. When a devotee strings the necklace of his mind with the beads of noble qualities (acquires noble qualities), his mind is pierced with the diamond-like pure Waheguru, and becomes pure like Him. 2.

MEANING: The identification sign of Waheguru's Naam appears on the forehead of the devotee when he acquires noble qualities and merges into Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities, and whereby his birth-death cycle is terminated. The purified devotee recognizes the eternal Waheguru, and, imbued in His love, he merges into Him and feels blissful. He does not see anyone higher than Waheguru, and being like Waheguru, he merges into Him. The mind-captivating Waheguru has also captivated my mind, and my worldly bonds have been broken, so I am now fully detached from the world. MEANING: Guru's shelter (and the gathering of Guru's Sikhs) is eternal, and one can find the eternal Residence of Waheguru in Guru's shelter. But the follower of his own mind does not make any effort to acquire Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) from the Guru. The devotee, who receives (acquires) the Naam of the immortal and the eternal Waheguru who never takes any living form from the Guru, and recites it, attains union with Waheguru, which is one's eternal residence, and which has been there ever since. Nobody writes the account of the daily deeds of the devotee whose heart is enlightened by Waheguru. The devotee, who becomes like Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, gets imbued in His love, and swims across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Bundhun(i) baandhiya, inn bidh(i) chhootaiy, Gurmukh(i) sayvaiy Nurhuray. 1. --------

Word Meaning: Sumujh(u) = realize. Achahyt = unaware. Iyaaniya = ignorant. Saad Loobhaanay = attractive tastes (enjoyments). Kirt Kmaanay = according to deeds done previously. Mayla = union. Dootur(u) = difficult to swim (the world-sea). Doohayla = troublesome. Saanjh = evening. Perbhaata = morning. Roodha = bonded to. Baandhiya = trapped. Bidh(i) = means. Nurhuray = Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: Understand the objective of your life, give up your ignoble habits, and get absorbed in (acquire) the noble qualities of Waheguru, oh my unaware and ignorant mind. Based on the nature of your previous deeds, you are attracted to many enjoyments of life, but once disconnected from Waheguru, you cannot connect with Him again (with ignoble qualities). How can one swim across the tough-to-swim sea of Maya without Waheguru's Naam? Disconnected with Waheguru, and engrossed in Maya, the fear of death always worries the individual as he follows the path leading to the Angel of death – the path which is highly frightening. Bonded to the attractions of the world from the morning to the evening, the money-lover never finds time to get imbued in the love of Waheguru; so, what means does he have to find emancipation? The only way to break the worldly bonds is to serve Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru (His Shabad). 1.

Word Meaning: Chhoad(i) = quit. Aal Junjaala = worldly bonds. Purakh(u) = Waheguru. Niraala = unique; detached. Ekunkar(u) = the Supreme Being. Oopaaya = created. Khayl(u) Jugut(i) = the drama of the world. Achaar(i) = ritualistic. Veechaari = thinker; knowledgeable. Sunjum = control over senses. Sukha Saiyn = friend and close relative.2.

MEANING: Break all your worldly bonds, and serve Waheguru, which is fully detached from the attractions of Maya, oh my mind. Remember (recite the Naam of) the eternal Supreme Being, which has created the whole world. The Guru reveals Waheguru, who has created the drama of the world by combining air, water, and fire (energy). All rituals, pondering on religious books, control of senses, recitation of any mantras, and enduring of hardships are subsumed in Waheguru's Naam (one does not need any of those), oh my mind. So, recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is your friend, your close relative, and is extremely dear to all, oh my mind. 2.

Giyan Unjun(u) = the kohl of Divine Knowledge. Saarhay = wears. Traiy Loak = the whole universe. Chaanun(u) = enlightenment. Punch Doot = the five demons. Sunghaaray = destroyed. Kaat(i) = cut; kill. Nirbhuou = fearless. Kaaruj = task. Saarhay = completed successfully. Roop = beauty. Rung(u) = enjoyments. 3.

MEANING: Sing praise of the virtues of Waheguru, and attain the high spiritual state whereby you will become peaceful (will quit wavering), and will never get any spiritual punishment, oh, my mind, Guru's Shabad is the lamp that enlightens the whole universe, and by which one is able to control all his five demons. By putting the kohl of Divine knowledge by Guru's Shabad in mind, one sings Waheguru's praise while enjoying it (with love), and his whole body is filled with its sweetness. When one connects with the Guru, all his fears are eradicated; he becomes fearless and swims across the world-sea; thus, all his tasks (objectives) are completed successfully. With Waheguru's grace, one develops love for Him which is the source of all beauty, and enjoyments. 3.

Word Meaning: Ta = if. Chhootsi = will be emancipated. Ja = when. Bherm = illusions. Chookaayaysi = get rid of. Dhun(u) = wealth. Sunch(i) = accumulate. Vukkhur(u) = merchandize; wealth. Bhaaou = love. Purhur(i) = getting rid of. Mehl Ghur(u) = Palace (of Waheguru). Jaanhay = recognize; make connection. Put(i) = respect. Sidhaaveh(i) = goes; reaches. Ruso = sweetness. 4.

MEANING: You were born with no worldly attachments, but now you are strongly bonded to them; so, what level of spirituality will you leave the world with, oh my mind? You will be emancipated only if you get rid of your illusions. Deal in the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam, and accumulate this wealth, and recognize Him (make a connection with Him with love and with Guru's Shabad. Guru's Shabad is mind-purifying; so, purify your mind by removing the filth of sensual pleasures with Guru's Shabad, and reach the Residence of Waheguru. One earns respect with Waheguru's Naam and is allowed to enter Waheguru's Residence when he drinks the sweet Amrit of His Naam. But only a few highly fortunate devotees recite Waheguru's Naam while enjoying its sweetness with Guru's Shabad. 4.

Word Meaning: Paurriyaan = steps. Bayrri = boat. Paar(i) = the other end. Umbrraiy = reach. Soort(i) = focus of mind. Lunghaavay = ferries across. Kureh(i) Ruliyaa = enjoys blissfulness. Puchhotaavay = repent. Sungut(i) = in the company of (holy saints). Puyyumpaiy = requests. Sumjhaavou = convince. 5.

MEANING: One cannot climb to reach the top of a mansion without stairs, and cannot cross a river to the far end without a boat. Similarly, one cannot reach the dear friend and the limitless Waheguru, which is on the other side of the sea of Maya. Guru's Shabad is the boat which can ferry one across the sea of Maya; so, one must focus one's mind on the Shabad. He can enjoy bliss in the company (shelter) of the Guru, and will not have to repent for his bad deeds. Pray to the great Provider and the kind Waheguru in the holy gathering to beg for the donation of His Naam. I, Nanak, submit humbly to my dear fellows, who listen to my request and enlighten your minds with Guru's Shabad. 5.6.

MEANING: There is so much love for the dear Waheguru in my mind that I cannot survive (spiritually) without Him. His Sight is like Amrit for the eyes and the soul, but how can I have His Sight? How can I survive spiritually and drink Amrit of His Sight? I cannot live without Him. My mind calls the Dear day and night, and my thirst to see Him does not go away. Please be kind to me (and show Your Sight); I am always a sacrifice for You. I am a sacrifice for Satguru, with whose Shabad I got connected with my dear Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: When I see my dear Waheguru (in my mind), I sing His virtues with great enjoyment. When I recite His Naam, my heart begins to bloom. I do not feel satisfaction (peace of mind) without seeing Him; reciting His Naam with the Guru's Shabad salvages one. Satguru's Shabad becomes the adornment for (the mind of) the devotee who recites Waheguru Naam. As a beggar, I ask for the gift of Waheguru Sight (connection with Him) from the benevolent Satguru. Satguru makes me recite Waheguru's Naam all the time; I am a sacrifice for my Satguru. 2.

I pray to the Guru to grant me His Shabad, which I may recite with deep affection, and find emancipation. I am foolish and unwise, and did not realize the worth of Waheguru, but You know the worth of (are one with) the Great and the inaccessible Waheguru, oh Guru Ji. You are kind, and You connect people like me who have no noble quality, and no pride, with You, oh Waheguru. Because of our sins, we have lived countless lives, but have come to Your shelter now. Giraas(i) = bite. Adrisht(u) = invisible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Pukrriya = held; acquired. Sees(u) = head. Unk(i) = in heart. 4.

MEANING: The Guru is like the elixir stone (with all the noble qualities) while we are like iron (with no noble quality); the Guru purifies our mind and makes us pure like gold when we take His shelter. When the Guru connects the soul of a devotee with the Supreme Soul, his (devotee's) fortlike body becomes very attractive (pure). The human body-fort becomes attractive when it is captivated by Waheguru, so why should we forget Him even for the time during which we breathe, and chew a bite. I am a sacrifice for my Guru, with whose Shabad, I acquired Waheguru in my mind. I will offer my head to Satguru if He likes (permits). NOTE: This holy Shabad is of great historical significance as Guru Ram Dass Ji describes the only long journey that Guru Amar Dass Ji (the Third Master) undertook to enlighten the people. Guru Ram Dass Ji (then Bhai Jettha Ji) had accompanied Guru Amar Dass Ji in this historic journey. Like Guru Nanak Sahib, Guru Amar Dass ji first visited Kulkhayt (Kurukshetra), an important holy place for Hindus. Hundreds of thousands of people had gathered there on the occasion of some holy day. Next, Gur Sahib crossed the River Yamuna and then the River Ganga to reach Hardwar, another Hindu holy place on the east bank of the Ganga. There is a Gurdwara in Hardwar commemorating the visit of Guru Sahib. Guru Sahib stayed there for a few weeks and enlightened the residents there.

My mind is also imbued with the love of my Waheguru, and I feel as blissful as the fish in water. Nobody can tell the worth of Waheguru as He is transcendent beyond limit. Listen to the prayer of this humble slave of Yours, and show me Your holy sight. I, Nanak, am all sacrifice for You, and am suffering in Your separation, oh Waheguru. 1.

My body, my mind, and all the noble qualities are given by You, and I can cut my body into small pieces to have Your holy sight. My Satguru covered all my weaknesses (immoral secrets which I had committed). Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts for our body and soul, is immortal, invisible, omnipresent, and the carver of our fates, is also the protector of our immoral secrets.
