Not even a small amount of one's wealth, his youthfulness, and the enjoyments of wealth accompany him all the way (after his death). Captivated by the illusions of Maya, the foolish man gets engrossed in worldly attractions and does not realize that all such enjoyments by which he is intoxicated are like the ever-changing shadow of a tree. 1.

Captivated by the intoxication of Maya, I have fallen into the deep pit of my ego, worldly attachments, lust and rage. I pray to Waheguru that He come to my support, and pull His slave, Nanak, from this pit by holding my hand. 2.5.7.

None of his sons, his wealth, and the sensual pleasures that he had enjoyed accompany him when he is on the way to the Angel of death. The man should recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise, which is the real treasure, and ferries him across the deep sea of Maya (salvages him). 1.

All one's troubles go away when he takes shelter of the all-capable, indescribable, and incomprehensible Waheguru. I long for the dust of the feet of Waheguru's devotees (opportunity to serve them), but only those get this opportunity who have it prewritten on their forehead by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.6.8.

MEANING: My love for my Waheguru has become so powerful (intense) that I do not forget Him even for a short moment, and all my desires to enjoy sensual pleasures have been burned down (eradicated). Pause. Just like the rainbird, which cannot live without the first drop of rain, and like the fish, which cannot live without water, it has become my requirement that I cannot live without singing Waheguru's praise. 1.

Like the musk deer, which is captivated by a special kind of music, even though it is pierced with sharp arrows of the hunter, I am captivated by the lotus-like Feet of Waheguru (His Naam), which is the source of all enjoyments, and I always remember Him, oh Nanak. 2.1.9.

Sunsaar Saagur = the world sea; worldly attractions. Dhoar = to the end; shore. Bohith = ship. Moar = me. Gerbh Koont = womb. Dhaariyo = supported; protected. Bikhaiy Bun = the world of sensual enjoyments. Shukut = powerful. Nihor = nihaar = see; look for. 2.

MEANING: I pray to my Dear (Waheguru), who dwells (hidden) in the cave of my heart, that He demolish the wall of my illusions, and pull me toward Him by holding my hand. Pause. Too many people are falling in the sea of Maya (worldly attractions), but Waheguru's Feet are (His Naam is) the ship to ferry them across. I pray to Him that He kindly puts me in the company of the holy saints where I may recite His Naam, and board the ship to be ferried across. 1. There is no one else present in the world-forest of sensual attractions (where one can be easily lost) than the Waheguru, who protects the fetus in the mother's MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, and sing praise of Waheguru's amazing qualities, which destroy all one's sins. Oh, my friends. Pause.

Realize the fact that death always looms over your head, and you will leave all your wealth behind. Also, recognize that worldly attachments and all one's wishes, which result in bad endings, are short-lived for sure. 1. Focus your mind on the eternal, timeless Waheguru. MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the basis of one's life. No agonizing trouble is caused when one deals in the Naam (recites it) in the company of the holy saints. Pause.

Waheguru, Himself, extends His hand to protect His devotees, and no immoral thoughts arise in their minds. But only those individuals remember Waheguru who have it prewritten in their fate, and no fire of worldly desires burns (agonizes) them. 1.

Waheguru's Feet are (His Naam is) the supreme Amrit, and are the source of all comforts, joys, and bliss. I have come to Waheguru's shelter as His slave, and wish for the dust of the feet of His saints (an opportunity to serve them), oh Nanak. 2.4.12.

Buhou Perkaari = in many different ways. Ker Joar(i) = with folded hands. Kuntth(i) Proat = stitched to the throat (tongue); recite all the time. 2.

MEANING: The ears, which do not listen to Waheguru's Naam (with love), are condemnable. What kind of life do they have who forget Waheguru, which is like (the basis of) their own life? Pause. They may enjoy many delicious foods and drinks, but they get the same credit in Waheguru's Court as a donkey hauling heavy loads gets from his master (none). Like an ox, which is used to power heavy machinery (and performs hard labour without much reward), the money-lovers work hard all twenty-four hours to earn it, but without much overall (blissful) gain. 1. Ignoring Waheguru, those who are attached to Maya have to cry (suffer) in many different ways. With folded hands, I beg Waheguru for His Naam, which I want to recite all the time, oh Nanak. 2.5.13.

Doakh = blames of immoral acts. Kuli = Kulyug (the world). Pause. Eet, Oot = here and there (in this world and the next). Hulee = weakening of the mind. Anik = countless. Serbut = everywhere. MEANING: I follow the advice of the holy saints with full reverence, and sing praise of the immortal Waheguru for His virtues, as a result of which no immoral thinking affects you. Pause. All one's objectives are achieved successfully with Guru's Shabad, and he suffers no weakness of mind in this world or the next. He realizes that it is only Waheguru that appears in many different forms, and the fire of sensual desires does not burn him. 1.

Word Meaning: Roochaiy = interest; longing. Koat(i) = the fort-like (body). Shaant(i) = calmness; peace. Julut Chhaati = the burning of chest (heart) due to the fire of desires. Boojhaiy = is put out. Pause. Praani = man. Putit = immoral. Oodhray = are salvaged. Moochaiy = very many. Rayn(u) = dust (of the feet). Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Soochaiy = purity. 1. MEANING: I have a longing for Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of immense peace and blissfulness in the body, and which puts out the fire of worldly desires, which causes burning of the heart. Pause.

Countless immoral are salvaged when they follow the path of life as advised by the Guru, oh man. Putting the dust of the feet of the Guru on the forehead (obeying His Advice) purifies one's mind as if he had taken dips in countless holy places. 1.

Word Meaning: Poor Ruhhiyo = is present. Serbuter Maiy = everywhere. Bidhaata = carver of our fates; the Creator. Maarug(u) Prubh Ka = path leading to union with God. Jaata = recognized; make connection with. Nihaaliya = is seen. Til(u) = (small in size like) a sesame seed. Bhunnaiy = holdback any credit. Ghaaliya = hard labour. Sehj Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Maata = intoxicated. 1.

Baydhiya = pierced; affected deeply. Aan Kut = where else? Meen(u) = fish. Bichhoha = separation. Suhhaiy = tolerate; endure. Suhhiyaiy = endure. Chhatrik = the bird that is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Piyaasiya = thirsty for. Bihaavaiy = is spent. Chukvee = the ruddy duck. Pergaasiya = brighten. Tikaahi = stay; rest. 2.

MEANING: Come and visit me (appear in my heart), oh my Dear (Waheguru). Pause.

The Creator Waheguru is present everywhere. Waheguru Himself has carved the path for the devotees to get connected with Him, and that is to sing His praise in the shelter of the Guru, and when one sees Him in every heart. Whosoever comes to His shelter (surrenders to Him completely) enjoys all comforts. Waheguru does not hold back any credit – not even the size of a sesame seed - for the hard work of the devotee to connect with Him. Imbued in the great sweetness of the Naam of Waheguru, which is the treasure of all noble qualities, such a devotee sings His praise in a natural way (without any special effort) all the time. The Perfect Waheguru is omnipresent and is the Creator of the universe; I am His slave and have sought His shelter, oh Nanak. 1.

The devotee, whose mind has been pierced with Waheguru's love, does not go anywhere else (seeks no other shelter). Like the fish, which cannot survive when separated from water, and like the rainbird, which longs for the first drop of rain to quench his thirst, and like the ruddy duck, which waits through the whole night waiting for the sun to brighten the sky, only when she can unite with her separated companion, the devotee of Waheguru cannot survive without Him, and cannot endure the suffering of separation from Him. The devotee's mind is always focused on Waheguru's sight, and sings His praise all the time; that day is lucky for him on which he gets to see Waheguru. How can a devotee's soul find peace without seeing Waheguru? I pray to Waheguru to show me His sight, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saas = breaths. Dayhouri = body. Kut = where? Ders(u) = (Waheguru's) Sight. Bihoona = without. Ticknen = enjoy peace of mind. Nerk(u) = hell. Sehna = endure. Baydhiya = pierced; stitched. Rusik = loving. Baiyraagi = suffering in separation. Liv Laagi = deep connection. Kut-hoon Na = nowhere. Nikhaydhiya = discarded. Unk(i) = in the heart. Maavaiy = contain. 3. Khojut = searching. Krunadhaaray = becomes merciful. Neech(u) = lowly; ignoble. Doakh = faults; demerits. Beechaaray = considers. Saaray = looks after; grants. Bird(u) = innate virtue. Bukhaaniya = is said to be. Bhagat(i) vuchhul = lover of His worship. Unchulo Guhhiyo = Held His robe; sought shelter. Poor Smaaniya = present uniformly. Sookh-Saagro = sea of comforts (Waheguru). Sehj Soobhaaya = in natural way. Haaro = lost; destroyed. Ker(u) Geh(i) = holding by the hand. Leenay = adopted; embraced. Oor(i) Haaro = necklace (rosary) in the heart. 4.

MEANING: Like a body without breath (life) gets no respect anywhere; a saint without Waheguru's sight (disconnected from Him) also feels spiritually dead, and finds no mental peace even for a short moment. His mind is pierced with Waheguru's Naam, and he feels as if he is suffering in hell without His Naam. Suffering and tortured in the separation of Waheguru, His loving devotees feel discarded (dejected) and do not seek anybody else's shelter. For them, no comfort in the world can match the blissfulness that they feel when they get connected with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and cannot contain their joy. I pray to Waheguru that He becomes kind to me so that my mind stays focused on His Feet (Naam), oh Nanak. 3. Searching hard in my own heart, I realized that Waheguru, the Lord of mercy, had become very kind to me. I had no good qualities in me, was ignoble, and had no spiritual support, but the kind Waheguru did not consider any of my shortcomings. As He is said to have the innate virtue of purifying even the immoral, He totally disregarded my demerits and granted me (endowed me with) all the comforts. Hearing that He loves His worship, I sought the shelter of Waheguru, which is uniformly present in everybody. I realized Waheguru, which is the sea (source) of all comforts, without any special effort, whereby all the suffering of rebirths was completely destroyed for me. When His Naam becomes the rosary in the heart of a devotee (he recites His Naam with a fully focused mind), Waheguru embraces him as His own, by holding his hand, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Kaam(u), kroadh(u), lobh(u), moh(u), biburjit, Hur(i) Pud(u) cheenhay soyee. 1. Ruhaou. Ruj goon, tum goon, sut goon kuhhiyaiy, eh Tayri subh Maya. Chauthaiy pud kuou jo nur cheenhaiy, tinh hee perm pud(u) paaya. 2. Teeruth, bert, naym, sooch(i) sunjum, sudaa ruhhaiy nihkaama. Trishna ur(u) Maya, bherm(u) chooka, chitvut Aatum Rama. 3. Jih mundar(i) deepuk(u) pergaasiya, undhkaar teh naasa. Nirbhuou, poor(i) ruhhay, bherm(u) bhaaga, keh(i) Kabir jun daasa. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Oostut(i) = (undeserving) praise. Ninda = (unfair) vilification. Biburjit = forbidden; by giving up. Tujhou = give up. Maan(u) = pride; ego. Abhimaana = conceit. Kunchun = gold. Moorut(i) = image; alike. 1. Jun(u) = devotee. Koyee = rare. Pud = level. Cheenay = recognize; attains. Soyee = the same; that. Pause. Ruj, Tum, and Sut Goon = the three effects of Maya (see the INTRODUCTION). Chautha Pud = the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya. It is this state in which one unites with God. Perm Pud = the highest spiritual level (union with Waheguru). 2. Bert = commitments like fasting. Naym = principle. Sooch(i) = physical purity. Sunjum = control on senses. Nihkaama = without any wish or desire. Bherm(u) = illusion. Chooka = ends. Chitvut = thinking about. Aatum Rama = Waheguru. 3. Mundar(i) = temple; human body (heart). Pergaasiya = lighted up. Undhkaar = darkness. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who stays away from showering others with undeserving praise, and from unwarranted vilification of others, which are both forbidden in spirituality, and also gives up his ego, and conceit, and treats iron and gold the same, is an image of Waheguru (like Him). 1. There are hardly any or only two such devotees (among millions) of Waheguru who control their lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, and attain the spiritual state where they can become like Waheguru. Pause.

Waheguru's Maya is said to have three effects – Rujo, Tumo, and Suto. The devotee, who attains a spiritual level above these three effects, attains the supreme state in which he can unite with God. 2. The devotees of Waheguru stay unaffected by worldly desires and do not need any prevalent rituals. like undertaking any pilgrimage, making spiritually worthless commitments, following unnecessary principles, maintaining ritualistic purity, or making ineffective efforts to control the senses. All their illusions about Maya and their worldly desires go away when they keep Waheguru in mind. 3.

Waheguru's slave, Kabir, asserts that like darkness is dispelled in the house in which lamps are lighted, all misgivings disappear from the heart, which is enlightened by the fearless Waheguru. 4.1.

Kin hee bunjiya kaansi, taamba, kin hee laung, soopaari. Sunt-houn bunjiya Naam(u) Gobind ka, aiysi khayp humaari. 1. Hur(i) kay Naam kay biyapaari. Heera haath(i) churrhiya, chhoot(i) guyyi sunsaari. 1. Ruhaou. Saachay laayay, tuou Sach laagay, Sachay kay biyopaari. Saachi bust(u) kay bhaar chulaayay, puhounchay jaayay Bhundaari. 2. Aapeh(i) ruttan, javaahur maanik, Aapaiy haiy, pasaari. Aapaiy dehdis Aap chulaavaiy, nihchul haiy biyapaari. 3. Mun(u) kur(i) baiyl(u), soort(i) kur(i) paiynda, Giyan goan(i) bhur(i) daari. Keht Kabir, soonhou ray sunt-hou, nib-hee khayp humaari. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Bunjiya = deals in; trades. Kaasi = bronze. Taamba = copper. Laung = cloves. Soopaari = areca nut (used in betel leaf wraps). Khayp = merchandise. 1. Biyapaari = businessmen; traders. Heera = diamond (Waheguru). Haath(i) Churrhiya = acquired.

Sunsaari = worldly bonds. Pause. Tuou = only then. Saachi Bust = the eternal merchandize (Waheguru's Naam). Bhaar Chulaayay = hauled the loads. Bhundaari = owner of the warehouse (Waheguru). 2. Ruttan, Javaahur, Maanik = jewels and pearls. Pasaari = store owner. Dehdis = in every direction. Nihchul = immortal. 3. Baiyl(u) = ox (in those days, oxen were used as the beasts of burden). Soort(i) = focussed mind. Paiynda = journey. Goan(i) = load. Bhur(i) Daari = has filled. Nib-hee = reached its destination. 4.

MEANING: Some people deal in bronze or copper, while others deal in cloves and areca nuts (which are used in betel leaf wraps); but the holy saints deal only in Waheguru's Naam; such is their valuable merchandise. 1.

I am a trader in Waheguru's Naam and have acquired the diamond-like Waheguru's Naam, whereby all my worldly bonds have been severed. Pause.

The dealers in Waheguru's Naam get into this business when Waheguru prompts them to do so. They load the merchandise of Waheguru Naam, which arrives at the warehouse (treasure) of Waheguru (and is approved). 2.

Waheguru Himself is the merchandise of the jewel-like and pearl-like Naam, and Himself is the owner of this treasure. He sends His devotees who become eternal like Him, in every direction, to sell this merchandise (spread His Naam). I have also made up my mind to carry the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam, and have loaded it with the Divine knowledge. 3.

My fully focused mind covers the journey to Waheguru's door. I am glad to share this with the holy saints that my merchandise of Waheguru's Naam has reached safely at its Destination, oh Kabir. 4.2.

NOTE: In those days, oxen were used as beasts of burden by the traders to carry their merchandise.

Peevhou sunt sudaa mut(i) doorlubh, sehjay piyaas boojhaayee. 1. Ruhaou. Bhaiy bich(i) bhaaou, bhaayay koyee boojheh(i), Hur(i) rus(u) paavaiy bhaayi. Jaytay, ghut Amrit(u), subh hee meh(i), bhaavaiy tiseh peeyaai. 2. Nugri aikaiy, nuoun durvaajay, dhaavut(u) berj(i) ruhaayee. Tirkooti chhootaiy, dusvaan dur(u) khoohlaiy, ta mun kheeva bhaayi. 3. Abhaiy pud poor(i) taap teh naasay, keh(i) Kabir beechaari. Oobut chuluntay, eh(u) mud(u) paaya, jaiysay khoand khoomaari. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ree Kulvaar(i) = oh, server of liquor. Guvaar(i) = uncivilized. Moodh Mut(i) = (oh, my) foolish thinking. Oolto = reverse. Puvun(u) = wind-like fickle mind. Phiraavoun = turning around. Mutvaar = intoxicated. Mayr = the mythical tallest montain; my brain (the tenth door). Sur = like. Bhaatthi = kiln. Amrit Dhaar = stream of Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam. Chuvaavoun = dropping. 1. Dohaayee = pray loudly and repeatedly. Doorlubh = rarely available. Sehjay = with ease. Pause. Bhaiy Bich(i) = in fear of God. Bhaaou = love. Bhaayay = intent. Boojheh(i) = understands. Jaytay = all those. Ghut = hearts. Bhaavaiy = likes. 2. Nugri = town (of body). Durvaajay = openings. Dhaavut = rushing. Berj(i) = preventing from; controlling. Tirkooti = the effect of the three effects of Maya. Chhootaiy = overcome; get rid of. Kheeva = intoxicated. 3. Abhaiy Pud = spiritual level above all fears; the fourth state. Poor(i) = to achieve. Taap = all suffering. Teh = in that state. Oobut = the difficult ascent (of a mountain). Chuluntay = walking on. Mud = intoxicant. Khoand = wine. Khoomaari = feeling high. 4.

MEANING: You are serving (feeding) me the intoxicating liquor of the attractions of Maya, but you may not be aware that I have turned around the direction of my wind-like, fickle mind from its attraction for Maya towards Waheguru's Naam, oh my unrefined, and foolish wisdom (thinking). The tenth door in my brain (the home to Divine Knowledge) has now become like a kiln where the fire of all my worldly desires is being put out by a steady and thin stream of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. 1. Pray for the benevolence of Waheguru to grant the Amrit of His Naam for you to drink so that you may acquire the rare wisdom by which you may quench your thirst for worldly attractions with ease, oh my mind. Pause.

A rare person realizes that if he lives in the fear of God, love and reverence for Waheguru are automatically generated in his mind, and he enjoys the sweetness of His Naam. Every heart has the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in it, but only that individual can drink it (have Waheguru appear in his heart) whom He likes. 2. The human body has nine doors (openings) that rush to enjoy themselves. The devotee, who controls all these with Waheguru's Naam, attains the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, has his tenth door (door of awareness) opened, and feels intoxicated all the time. 3.

Kabir shares his thought that, with His Naam in mind, Waheguru's devotees attain a spiritual state in which they feel no worldly fear and have their suffering eradicated. But it is not easy to achieve this spiritual state; it is like travelling on a very tough uphill journey. But once there, one feels the intoxication of permanent wine (everlasting bliss). 4.3.

Bulooaa kay ghurooaa meh(i) bustay, phoolvut dayh uyaanay. Kuhhou Kabir, jih Ram na chaytiyo, booday buhout siyaanay. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Trishna = appetite for (fire of) worldly desires. Leenay = overpowered by. Gut(i) = worth. Aikaiy = of the "One" (Waheguru). Phooti Aankhaiyn = blinded (blurred) vision. Soojhaiy = think of. Bood(i) Mooyay = died of drowning. 1. Kut = what for? Chulut Taydhay = on the wrong path; walk with swagger. Ust(i) = bones. Churm = skin. Bishta = feces. Moonday = loaded. Doorgundh = foul smell of immoral thinking. Baydhay = smeared with. Pause. Bherm(u) Bhoolay = lost in illusions. Kaal(u) = death. Dooray = far away. Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Ruhhaiy = is retained; dies. Austha Pooray = when the life is over. 2. Aapna Keeya = one's own efforts. Bukhaani = utter. 3.

Bulooaa = of sand. Ghurooaa = house. Phoolvut = swelling in ego. Uyaanay = oh, ignorant. Chaytiyo = remembered. Siyaanay = wise. 4.

MEANING: Overpowered by lust, rage, and worldly desires, the man does not realize the worth of Waheguru (His Naam). With blurred (mental) vision, he cannot think straight (about reality), and gets drowned in the sea of Maya (which has no liquid water). 1.

Why does he walk with conceit when he is made of bones and skin, and is loaded with the foul-smelling feces? Pause.

What illusions mislead him that he does not recite Waheguru's Naam? He does not realize that death is not far away from him (can happen any time). He makes countless efforts to protect his body (looks after it well), but it collapses when his life-span is over. 2.

What can the man do when he is helpless before Waheguru? His efforts are not always successful. However, when Waheguru likes, He connects the man with the Guru, and he begins to recite His Naam. 3. The man is foolish to swell in ego (when he lives in a body which is like a house of sand, which can collapse any time). I have seen many "wise" men who drowned (in the world-sea) because they did not remember Waheguru, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Kunik, kaamini, muhhaa soondari, paykh(i), paykh(i) sach(u) maan(i). 1. Ruhaou. Laaluch, jhootth, bikaar, muhha mud, eh bidh(i) audh bihaan(i). Keh(i) Kabir, unt kee bayr, aayay laago kaal(u) nidaan(u). 2.5.

Word Meaning: Taydhi Paag = a turban tied with its front pointing sideways (a sign of conceit). Tadhay Chullay = walk with a swagger. Bhaaou Bhugut(i) = worship with love. Deevaan = court (to exercise power over others). 1. Abhimaan(i) = in conceit. Kunik = gold; wealth. Kamini = wife. Pause. Bikaar = sensual pleasures. Mud = intoxication. Bidh(i) = way. Audh Bihaan(i) = spend life. Nidaan(i) = for sure. 2.

MEANING: The conceited man wears his turban pointing sideways, and walks with a swagger, and chews on a wrap of betel leaves (another sign of showing off). He has nothing to do with the worship of Waheguru with love and shows off his authority over others. 1.

He forgets Waheguru in his swelled ego. He believes that his wealth and his beautiful wife will live with him forever. Pause.

Highly intoxicated with his wealth and the beauty of his wife, his whole life is spent in greed, lies, and in the enjoyment of sensual pleasures. (But none of these things accompanies him) when the death comes, which has to come one day for sure, oh Kabir. 2.5.

buhour(i) nadaykhaiy aayay. Keht(u) Kabir(u). Ram keen a simerhou, junum(u) akaaruth jaayay. 2.6.

Word Meaning: Chaar(i) Din = four days (a short period of time). Naubut(i) = drum. Itnuk(u) = so much. Khutiya = earned; accumulated. Gutthiya = made packages. Mutiya = dirt; buried under ground. 1. Dayhri = door-sill. Mihri = wife. Dooaaraiy = main gate. Maayay = mother. Merhut = cremation ground. Lug(i) = up to. Kootumb = family members. Huns(u) = soul. Vaiy = those; that. Bit = wealth. Pur Paatun = town; city. Buhour(i) = again. Akaaruth = uselessly. 2.

MEANING: A man may have been very rich with so much wealth that he might have built enough bundles to bury them underground, but he beats the drum of his rule only for a short period of time until his death, and cannot take anything at all with him. Pause.

Sitting on the door-sill, his wife will cry, and his crying mother will accompany his dead body to the main gate (that is only as far as the women could go with the dead in those days). The male members of his family, and the rest of the people, will accompany him to the cremation ground, but the soul has to go alone after that (that is as far as the relatives can go with him, or help him). 1.

He will not come back even to see his sons, his wealth, or his town. Why do people waste away their precious human life, and not worship the Lord, oh Kabir? 2.6.

Khut(u) kerm kool sunjoogut(u) haiy, Hur(i) Bhugut(i) hirdaiy naah(i). Churnaarbind na Kutha bhaavaiy, soopuch tool(i) smaan(i). 1. Ray chit, chayt(i), chayt achayt. Kaahay na Balmeekeh(i) daykh. Kis(u) Jaat(i) tay kih pud amariyo, Ram bhugut bisaykh. 1. Ruhaou. Sooaan shutur(u), ajaat subh tay, Krishan laavaiy hayt(u). Loag(u) bupura kiyya suraahaiy, teen(i) loak pervaysh. 2. Ajamul, Pigula, Loobhut(u), Koonchur, guyyay Hur(i) kaiy paas. Aiysay doormut(i) nistureh, tu kiyoun na tureh(i) Ravidaas. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Khut(u) Kerm = the six rituals which a Brahman performs. Kool = clan. Sunjoogut (u) = including. Churnaarbind = lotus-like feet (of Waheguru). Kutha = stories of praise; discussions of His virtues Soopuch = who eats dog meat. Tool(i) = Smaan(i) = equal to; like. 1. Achayt = unaware. Chit = mind. Chayt(i) = remember. Balmeek = a vey low caste and untouchable person, who would eat dog meat; but later turned a devotee of Waheguru, and wrote the Ramayana. Pudeh(i) = spiritual level. Amariyo =reached; attained. Bisaykh = specialty; greatness. Pause. Sooaan Shutur(u) = enemy of dogs. Ajaat = of very low caste. Subh Tay = of all. Krishan = Waheguru. Hayt(u) = love. Bupura = poor; ignorant. Suraahaiy = sing praise. Teen Loak = the whole universe. Pervaysh = entered; reached. 2. Ajamul = the Brahman, who is considered a huge sinner because he married a prostitute. Pigula = a prostitute who fell in love with a handsome man, but the latter never showed. She became so disappointed, that she began to worship God, and was salvaged. Loobhut(u) = the hunter, who shot Krishan Ji in the foot with an arrow. Koonchur = the elephant who was trapped by an octopus and pulled down into the deep water when the former went to drink water at the pool of god Varun. When the elephant was about to drown, he prayed to Waheguru and was saved and salvaged. Doormut(i) = evil. Nistureh = salvaged. 3.

MEANING: A Brahman may be of very high clan, and may perform his six required deeds along with some other rituals everyday, but he is like the low-caste ignoble man who eats dog meat if he does not have love-filled worship of Waheguru at his heart, and if he does not like to listen to the virtues of Waheguru, or sing His praise. 1.

Why do you not look at the life of the sage, Balmeek, and remember Waheguru in mind (recite His Naam), like him, oh, my unaware mind? It is the greatness of Waheguru's worship that the low-caste and the ignoble Baalmeek attained the highest spiritual level. Pause.

He was the low-caste, and more ignoble than everybody else, who was an enemy of the dogs (killed them and ate their meat), but who developed deep love for Waheguru (and attained the high spiritual state). The ignorant people cannot appreciate his transcendence enough, but his fame spread throughout the universe. 2.

Even the evil people and living beings, such as Ajamal, Pingala, the Hunter (who killed Krishna), and the Elephant, all reached Waheguru through His worship. If such people with evil deeds were salvaged, why cannot you be salvaged with Waheguru's worship, oh Ravidass? 3.1.
