Huray = (spiritually) bloomed. Sook-hee = dry up; die. 4.

MEANING: (Nature blooms in the season of spring), but it is the spring season all the time for the human mind, which blooms (feels hugely blissful) when it always recites Waheguru's Naam. 1. Get rid of your egoistic thinking and kill it by pondering on Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad), and acquire the best virtue (no haumein), oh, the ignorant man. Pause. When one performs noble deeds and recites Waheguru's Naam with full dedication, he feels as if a tree has grown in his mind which has the branches of the omnipresence of Waheguru (he feels Him everywhere), flowers of high morality, bears the fruit of Divine Knowledge (realization of Waheguru), and have leaves which provide dense shade (protection from all evil thoughts), and he becomes completely ego-free. 2.

Such a devotee sees Waheguru in nature (with his eyes), listens to the Divine Bani (Guru's Shabad) with his ears, and recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue. He acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam and focuses his mind on the Naam. 3.

If one performs such noble deeds, he can see for himself that the great spring season is always with him. The mind of such a devotee, who stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, never dies spiritually, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice life. 4.

MEANING: It is always the spiritually-uplifting spring time for those who, imbued in Your love, recite Your Naam zestfully, oh Waheguru. I do not know anybody else on whose feet I should drop at (show reverence), and worship him (You are the only one), oh, my Lord. 1. I call (consider) myself a slave of Your devotees, and there is no other means (than serving Waheguru's devotees) by which one can realize Waheguru, which is the soul (basis of life) of the world. Pause. You have a single identity, but appear in many forms. (People worship their idol-deities, and offer incense, etc., to express their reverence) But nobody knows Your limits, and how can they do so, because there are countless forms in which You appear? (And how can they confine You in an idol? So, which form of Yours I should worship and offer incense to, oh Lord? I can only serve Your devotees to worship You, oh my Royal Waheguru. 2. (According to Hindu holy books), The maximum period for any of the three major gods (Shiva, Vishnu, and Brahma) to run the universe is twenty years each, and their combined period to rule is sixty years, which is called Sumbut. But it is You who rule the universe all the time, and all the places are holy because of You, and it is Your Naam which is eternal, oh Lord. Your transcendence is beyond our thinking, and nobody can ever know it. We can only recite Your Naam without knowing Your limits. 3.

What can the poor Nanak say about You? Everybody sings only Your praise. I am a sacrifice for all those who recite Your countless names, and I put my head on their feet (show reverence for them), oh Lord. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Chaunka = outdoor kitchen. Kunchun = gold. Kooaar = vessels. Roopa = silver. Kaaraan = (boundary) lines. Bisthaar = expanse. Ooduk = water. Kuruntay Kee Aag(i) = fire prepared in situ by digging a hole in a special kind of wood, inserting a stick in the hole, and by creating friction by rotating the stick fast until fire is built. It is considered very holy, and is used in religious functions by the Hindus. Groorra = cooked soft rice. Gaad(i) = by mixing. Laykhaiy Paayay = given credit. Jaam(i) Na = until. MEANING: People believe that they can please Waheguru by performing rituals to maintain outward purity (cleanliness). They may prepare an outdoor kitchen of gold, use vessels of gold, draw the boundary lines with silver, cook their food with the holy water of Ganga and with the holy fire built in a special way, may have much more expanse like this, and eat the so-believed pure food of cooked rice mixed with milk, they are not given any credit by Waheguru unless their mind is imbued with His Naam, oh my mind. 1 & Pause.

One may have all eighteen written Puranas with him, may recite all the four Vedas from memory, take dips at holy places on special occasions, may give donations to people of different castes as dictated by their faith, and observe all the religious rituals (they get no spiritual credit for any of such efforts). 2. One may be a qazi, a moolah, or a sheikh; or may be a yogi, a jungum, or may wear saffron clothes; or be a family man who performs all the religious rituals, (no body gets any credit for any of their ritualistic practices), and all are tied up and taken away (to Waheguru's Court) unless they make connection with Him. 3. Everybody has the nature of deeds he has to perform, which are prewritten in their fate, and the final decision about their future is made by Waheguru based on their present deeds; yet the foolish man takes credit for his own deeds. Only His praise is recognized by Waheguru, with which His treasures are always full, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Saacha Paayay = make connection with Waheguru. 4. Untar(u) = inside; mind. Maiyla = filthy; impure. Disuntar Loyay = foreign lands in the world. Bhuvjul = the sea of Maya (the source of rebirths). Tootus(i) = are broken. Bundh = bond. 5.

MEANING: What kind of union with God do those people think they achieve who take off all their clothes, and spend their whole life without clothes, or wear permanently tangled hair (never clean their hair)? Their minds are not clean enough to attain a high spiritual state, so they wander through many life forms again and again. 1. Remember only Waheguru (recite His Naam), whereby you will find salvation in a moment, oh my foolish mind. Pause. The yogis blow their bugles (to deliver their message), and the Pundits study the Puranas, and explain their religious books – the Simritis and the Shastras – to the masses. They have deceitful looks and perform deceitful deeds. Waheguru is not even close to such people. 2. An individual may try to exercise control over his senses and may worship his deity in some special way, but if he has greed in his mind and thinks of immoral activities, how can he realize Waheguru? 3. What can a man, who is created by Waheguru and whose life is run by Him, do against the Will of the Creator? One’s misgivings are cleared only when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him, and he connects with Him when he recognizes His Will. 4.

A man whose mind is filthy cannot connect with Waheguru even if he roams around at the holy places. But all his worldly bonds, which cause his rebirths, get broken when Waheguru puts him in the company of the holy saints, oh Nanak. 5.4.

You are limitless, beautiful (kind), unfathomable, and You never change with changing conditions, oh my dear Lord. Your praise can be sung only in the shelter of the Guru. Pause. One cannot enjoy Your company (make a connection with You) without the Guru, and one's body and mind are filthy without Him. Such filth cannot be removed without Your Naam, and Your praise can be sung only with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 2. You connect the devotee whom You wish to protect (from the attacks of Maya) with the Guru who looks after the devotee. The Guru dispels the poison of selfishness, ego, and the worldly attractions of the devotee, and all his troubles are eradicated with the kindness of the Royal Waheguru. 3. Such a devotee acquires superior most wisdom (thinking) and noble virtues, like those of Waheguru, in his body and mind, and the diamond-like Waheguru appears in his mind with Guru's Advice. He renounces his love for Maya and makes Waheguru the focus of his mind. I am also a slave of Waheguru and the Guru, and pray to Waheguru to connect me with the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Sunt = the source of peace (Waheguru). Dhundh(u) = Maya-related tasks. Royay = suffers. Nirmul = pure. Mul(u) = filth. Khoyay = lose; get rid of. 3. Maariyo = kills (desires). Kur(i) Sunjog(u) = connecting with. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Raavay = recites Naam. Joag(u) = union. Roag(u) = disease; discomfort. Hur(i) Vur = Waheguru Husband. Sehj = high spiritual state.

MEANING: The mind-captivating Waheguru is incomprehensible and cannot be comprehended. So, tell me how we can connect with Him, oh my friends. Listen with affection (respectfully, with full faith), oh my friends: Waheguru resides with that friend (human being) who searches her mind for Waheguru with the Advice of the Guru, serves the Lord like a wife when she gets connected with Him, and enjoys union with Him. The Guru shows that Waheguru is present in you. 1 & Pause.

The followers of their mind are unfortunate and know nothing about the secrets of Waheguru, that He is dear to everybody and is enjoyed in every heart. The Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in the mind of the devotee for him to recite, whereby his mind becomes stable (quits wandering) in the Guru's shelter, and he realizes that the light-like Waheguru is with him. 2. One does not develop love for Waheguru's worship without the Guru, and he cannot enjoy Waheguru's company. Without the Guru, the blind (ignorant) man suffers in the Maya-related tasks. But one's mind is purified in the shelter of the Guru when he gets rid of his filth with the Guru's Shabad. 3. Shelter of the Guru (His Advice) enables the devotee to kill all his worldly desires, and he recites Waheguru's Naam day and night to achieve union with Him. All the sufferings of the devotee get eradicated in the company of the Guru-Saint, and he achieves union with Waheguru-Husband in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Koodrut(i) = nature. Saaj(i) = by creating. Nibayrray = decides. Raaj(u) = His Huqam. Raaj(i) = by reigning. Ootum = supreme. Rusaayin = source of all tastes (enjoyments). Aath(i) = wealth. 1. Mut Bisrus = lest you forget. Uprumpur(u) = who needs no external help; omnipotent. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Atool(u) = which cannot be weighed. Toal(i) = in measurement. Pause. Toar = Yours. Tuj(i) = abandon. Mayr Toar = discrimination. Nur = man. Ninduk = vilifier. Mun Kutthoar = stone-hearted. Bhaayi = liked. Choar Choar = big thief. 2. Tootha = pleased to be kind. Bhagat(i) Bhaaou = love for worship. Mehl Tthaaoun = Residence. Purhur(i) = getting rid of. Jaag(u) = be enlightened. Soohaavi = comforting. Kerm(i) = with benevolence. Bhaag(u) = a part; fortune. 3. Daat(i) = gift. Puraaput(i) = are rewarded. Virlay = rare; a few. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru creates nature, and through His reign over the universe, He Himself makes final decisions regarding the deeds of humans according to His Huqam. With the supreme Advice of the Guru, a devotee acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all enjoyments, and finds Him present in and around him. 1.

Recite Waheguru's Naam so that you do not forget Him, oh my mind. The omnipotent, inaccessible, and incomprehensible Waheguru, whose virtues cannot be measured, connects his devotees with the Guru who enables them to acquire enough virtues to buy Waheguru's Naam (to enshrine in their heart). One must remember that the requirement of virtues to buy Waheguru's Naam has a minimum value (enlightenment of heart), which is never lowered. Pause. Guru's Sikhs (Waheguru's devotees) worship Waheguru's Feet (recite His Naam) with Guru's Shabad. They rid themselves of their discriminatory nature (bias) toward people and attain salvation. The vilifiers have greedy minds and are stone-hearted (have no compassion for others). They do not like serving the Guru and are the biggest thieves. 2.

The overpleased Guru bestows love for Waheguru's worship on the devotees because of which one reaches Waheguru's Residence (attains union with Him). By overcoming the vilification of others, they stay awake with Waheguru's worship. With Waheguru's benevolence, they find His worship to be very comforting (blissful), which becomes a part of their fortune (character). 3.

The Guru gives the eternal gift of His Shabad as the foundation for union with Waheguru to His Sikhs, who are very dear to Him. The overjoyed Guru gives them the reward of Waheguru's Naam; however, only a few receive this special gift, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Hussaiy = make fun of. Pause. Gult(u) = absorbed; engrossed. Ruvut = recite (Naam). 2. Moogudh = unwise. Shernaagut = in shelter. 3. Nihful = fruitless; worthless. Kaama = tasks. 4.

MEANING: A devotee serves the Lord only if He likes him. Such a devotee kills his worldly desires while living in the family, and salvages the whole clan (his associates). 1. Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in my heart, and I will not quit worshipping Him even if people make fun of me. (Worshipping Waheguru was ridiculed at the time of Guru Sahiban). Pause. Just like people stay absorbed in their attachment to Maya, Waheguru's devotees keep reciting His Naam with dedication. 2. I am foolish and unwise; please be compassionate to me so that I may stay in Your shelter, oh Waheguru. 3.
The worldly tasks are spiritually worthless, but some rare individual acquires Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam with the benevolence of the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 4.8.

Prunvut(i) Nanak(u) daasun(i) daasa, duyya kurhou Duyyala. 4.1.9.

Word Meaning: Saalgram = an idol of Vishnu. Bip = (oh), Brahman. Sookirt = noble deeds. Toolsi Maala = garland of basil flowers (leaves). Bayrra = boat. Duyyaala = kind Waheguru. 1. Kulraan = land covered with saltpetre which is infertile. Sinchou = irrigate. Junum Guvaavhou = waste life. Kaach dhehg(i) Divaal = collapsing wall of mud. Guch(u) = plaster. Pause. Ker = hands. Hurihut = an open (artesian) well from which water is drawn by a moving cyclical chain (called maahl) of small containers (tinds). purovhou = string the tinds. Bheetur = in. Jovhou = connect; apply. Kiyaaray = field (of mind). Amrit = water of Waheguru's Naam. Tuou = only then. Maali = gardener (Waheguru). 2. Kaam(u) = lust. Busoalay = hoeing tools. Goad-hou = dig up (to weed out the evil). Dherti = land (mind). Kirt = the result of the deeds done. 3. Bugulay = heron (hypocrite). Phoon(i) = again. Hunsula = swan (holy saint). Prunvut(i) = prays. 4.

MEANING: You worship the idol of Vishnu, and offer him a garland of basil leaves, oh Brahman. (But all such efforts are spiritually worthless, and are not the way to please Waheguru). If you wish to swim across the world-sea (find salvation), you need to perform noble deeds which will serve as the basil leaves to offer, and worship Waheguru by reciting His Naam; these two acts on your part will act as the boat to ferry you across the world-sea with His benevolence. 1. Your efforts are useless like irrigating a barren field covered with saltpetre (to raise a crop), or like repairing a crumbling mud wall with plaster; why do you perform such worthless deeds? Pause.
A farmer irrigates his field with water drawn from a well, which is powered by oxen, and from which the water is drawn by a cyclical chain of tinds (vessels), called maahl, strung on a circular frame. Like the farmer, you irrigate the field of your heart with the water of Waheguru's Naam by performing noble deeds with your hands, which will act as the maahl, to draw the Naam-Water, and focus your mind on the Naam; only then will you belong to Waheguru, oh Brahman. 2. Use your lust and your rage as the hoeing tools (channelize your energy from evil thinking to noble thoughts) and dig up the land of your heart to weed out the evil qualities. The more you weed out the evil, the more blissful you will feel. The result of your noble deeds cannot be erased by anyone. 3.
With Waheguru's benevolence, even a heron (hypocrite) can transform into a swan (holy saint). I, Nanak(u), am a slave of Your slaves (devotees), and beg for Your benevolence (so that I may recite Your Naam), oh Waheguru. 4.1.9.

Word Meaning: Sahour-rreen = the home of the husband (Waheguru). Vuth(u) = thing; the invaluable Naam. Saanjhi = common to all. Payvkurraiy = the home of parents (this world). Vukhay = separate; personal (of the individual). Koochuji = unrefined; unskilled. Doash = blame. Jaana Naahi = do not know. 1. Aapay = by Himself (God). Bherm Bhoolaani = misguided by misgivings. Akkhur Likhay = the prewritten order (fate). Gaavan = sing; perform deeds. Bani = noble advice (Guru's Shabad). Pause. Kuddh Kuseeda = adorn (garnish) with noble qualities. Pehreh(i) = wear. Choli = clothes (body coverings). Jaanhou = recognize. Ghur Rakheh(i) = protects mind. Chaakheh(i) = look for. Kunt = husband;

Waheguru. 2. Beena = wise; enlightened. Dooayay = two. Akkhur = mantra to follow in life – Waheguru and Maya. Naavaan = boats – Waheguru's Naam, and attractions of Maya. Prunvut(i) = humbly suggests. Lunghaayay = ferries across. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the common requirement for all to be approved by Him in the next world. This invaluable thing (the Naam) is everyone's personal choice in this world, whether to recite it or not. I am unskilled (ignorant) and do not know how to take good care of this invaluable thing (keep in mind at all times). But I cannot blame anyone for my negligence. 1.

I am misled by the results of my own deeds in previous lives, which have created misgivings in my mind. I still continue to perform the kind of deeds which are prewritten in my fate, and do not try to listen to any other noble advice (of the Guru). Pause.

I am advised that only that human bride is recognized (given spiritual credit) by Waheguru, which adorns (garnishes) her mind with noble qualities, and covers her body (protects from the attacks of Maya) with love and faith for Waheguru. The bride, who protects her mind from the evil attacks of Maya and does not think of (causing) any harm to others, is dear to the Waheguru-Husband. 2.

If you are an enlightened pundit, then you know that there are two mantras (paths) in the world to follow in life – Waheguru, and Maya – and two boats – Waheguru's Naam, and attractions of Maya. Nanak humbly suggests that only one boat – Waheguru's Naam – ferries one across the world sea if he gets absorbed in it (Waheguru's Naam). 3.2.10.

Word Meaning: Baaluk(u) = child; inexperienced. Nugri = town, human body. Kaachi = weak to resist temptations. Dooshtaan = evil; the five demons. Dooyay Maayee = two mothers – Guru's Advice, and personal thinking (attraction for Maya). Dooyay Baapa = two fathers – Waheguru and one's own mind. Purrhieh(i) = are told. 1. Mutee = advice. Kin Bidh(i) = by what means. Paavoun = realize. Praan-Putee = the Lord of life (Waheguru). Pause. Bheetur(i) = inside. Bunassput(i) = vegetation. Mauli = blooms; grows (is contained). Saagur = sea (of Maya). Pundaiy = in the bundle (of body). Chund(u) = moon; coolness (of Waheguru's Naam). Sooruj(u) = the sun; fire of desires. Ghur = heart. 2. Ruvunta = remembers. Ikk Maayee = one mother (attraction for Maya). Bhog(u) Kuray = eat away; kill. Ta Kay = of such people. Lukhun = qualities. Khima = forgiveness. Sungreh(i) = accumulate; acquire. Tinha Hee Sayti = the senses. Na Khaaya Maanay = never admit that they have enjoyed delicious foods (are always hungry). Vaasa = to live (deal) with. Khin(u) = in a moment. Tola = a large measure of gold; strong. Maasa = a smaller unit of gold; weak. 4.

MEANING: We are told that the man has two mothers – Guru's Advice, and personal thinking (attractions of Maya) – and two fathers to guide – Waheguru, and one's own mind – in the spiritual world. The human body is weak and unable to resist any temptation, and its rajah (mind) is inexperienced (easily swayed) and in love with the five demons. What are your thoughts on this, oh pundit? 1.

People consider you their swami (spiritual leader); so advise them on how to realize Waheguru, the true Lord of our lives (which you do not), oh pundit. Pause.

Just like the whole vegetation which has fire encased in it, the fire of worldly desires thrives in the human body as if the whole sea of desires is contained in the bundle of the human body. One does not realize that both coolness (of Waheguru's Naam) and the fire of worldly desires are present in the human body. 2.

That devotee is considered to be remembering Waheguru, who consumes (destroys) one of the two mothers – attractions of Maya. Such a devotee is known to have the quality of accumulating (acquiring) forgiveness. 3.

But, the human mind lives with (has friendship with) the five demons (senses) which do not listen to what the mind says, and never get satisfied with worldly enjoyments (are always hungry). That's why the mind has quick swings (of strength and weakness) in its ability to fight against its desires, humbly submits Nanak(u). 4.3.11.

Drirraayay = reiterates. Undin(u) = everyday; always. 1. Mut Bhooleh(i) = lest you forget (make sure you do not forget). Chayt(i) = remember. Hurie = God. Mookt = emancipation. Traiy Loyeen = in the universe. Pause. Bhaagaan = fortune. Sat Sung(u) = the company of the holy saints. 2. Goopt(u) = hidden. Vaykhay = watches. Pergut(u) = appears. Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter. Rung(i) Bheenay = imbued in love. Munaa = in mind. 3. Tukhut(i) = in Waheguru's Court. Vudiyaayi = honour. Perdhaan Keeyay = are exalted.

Paarus(u) = the elixir-stone; the Guru. Bhayt = in the company of. Bhuyyay = become (like the Guru). Say = those. Sung(i) = companions. Theeyay = become. 4.

MEANING: The Guru is the true source of Waheguru's Naam-wealth, and is also the source of all comforts. He connects us with Waheguru, so that all our appetite for worldly affairs fades away. He sings Waheguru's praise all the time, and reiterates His worship in our minds with His benevolence. 1. Remember Waheguru at all times so that you do not forget Him, oh my mind. No one attains emancipation in the whole universe without the Guru, and one acquires Waheguru's Naam from the Guru. Pause.

Also, one cannot connect with the Guru without Waheguru's prior grace, and one cannot worship Waheguru without good fortune. Similarly, one cannot come to the gathering of the holy saints without good fortune, and one acquires Waheguru's Naam only with His benevolence. 2. Waheguru is present, hidden in every heart which He has created, and watches its functioning; He appears in the heart of a devotee with the benevolence of the Guru or some holy saint. The minds of those who recite Waheguru's Naam are imbued with His love, and acquire the ambrosial water of Waheguru's Naam in their mind. 3.

Those who are honoured in Waheguru's Court are exalted (to deliver Waheguru's Message along with the Guru) because by meeting with the Guru (acting on His advice), they become like Him in His shelter, oh Nanak. 4.4.12.

Bikhiya kee baashna muneh(i) kuray. Apna bhaana Aap(i) kuray. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Maaha Rooti = the great season (to worship Waheguru) . Basant(u) = spring. Jit(u) = because of which. Huriya = full of life (thriving). Kirm Junt = a worm being. Aad(i) = beginning. Unt(u) = end. 1. Perm Sookh = supreme bliss. Aatumdev = oh Waheguru. Pause. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Jeevut Muraiy = kills his worldly desires while living in the family. Undin(u) = everyday; all the time. Oochraiy = recite. Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. Dootur(u) = very difficult to swim across. 2. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Birkh = tree. Bhaavaiy = likes. 3. Bikhiya = poisonous sensual pleasures. Baashna = fragrance; attraction. Muneh Kuray = prevents. Bhaana = Will. 4.

MEANING: No matter what the season is, it is always the spiritually happy season of spring (for the mind to bloom) for the man who recites Waheguru's Naam, which gives spiritual life to everybody. Nobody has ever found the end of Waheguru's limits; so, who am I, who is only a worm-being (insignificant), to say anything about Him? 1.

However, whosoever serves You acquires supreme bliss, oh, Lord Waheguru. Pause. The individual, whom You are kind to, serves You, and with the benevolence of the Guru, kills his worldly desires while still living in the family. He recites Your Naam all the time, and that is how he swims across the world-sea, which is otherwise impossible to swim through. 2.
The world is like a tree which bears both the fruits – attractions of Maya, and Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam - which are both created by Waheguru. The Creator does everything Himself, and makes others do whatever He likes, and feeds the type of fruit of His choice to individuals (whether to feed the poisonous Maya or Naam-Amrit). 3.
Waheguru gives His Naam-Amrit only to those whom He likes and prevents them from indulging in sensual pleasures. He implements His own Will, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Jun Nanak, oor(i) Hur(i) Amrit dhaaray. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Raatay = imbued. Saach(i) = in Waheguru (His Naam). Nihaala = blissful. Deen-Duyyala = kind to the weak. Jiyoun Bhaavaiy = As He likes. Soyay = the same (God). 1. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Pause. Lobhi = greedy. Loobhaana = is captivated; engrossed. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. Buhour(i) = then; again. Raangay = dyed; imbued. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Vudbhaagay = highly fortunate. 2. Paun = air. Dayh Sureera = body. Kutthin = tough; severe. Peera = pain; suffering. Daaroo = medication. Roag(u) = ailment. 3. Chaar Nudiyaan = four streams: aggression, worldly attractions, greed, and rage. Ugni = fire; harmful. Trishna = appetite for worldly attractions. Julut = burning; suffering. Ahunkaara = ego; conceit. Oor(i) = in the heart. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Dhaaray = acquire. 4.

MEANING: Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are always blissful. I have no other shelter than Him, and pray to Him, who is always kind to the humble, to be kind to me too, so that I may always be happy in whatever situation He keeps me in. 1.
I love Waheguru, and cannot live without having His holy sight. I pray to the Guru to connect me with Waheguru so that I may remain in a high spiritual state. Pause.
The human mind is greedy and becomes engrossed in the attractions of Maya, then repents and forgets Waheguru. But those who are fortunate get their minds dyed in the service of the Guru (serve Him with dedication), and are given Waheguru's Naam by Him, and are connected with Him (God). 2.

The human body, which is composed of air, water, etc., is severely affected by the serious disease of haumein. The medication for this disease, which destroys it, is Waheguru's Naam, which one acquires when he sings His praise in the shelter of the Guru. 3.
There is a fire of four streams (sources) – aggression, love for worldly attractions, greed, and rage - in human nature that causes him suffering. The man burns in the fire of human desires and of his ego. Those who are fortunate are protected by the Guru with whose benevolence they enshrine Waheguru's Amrit-Naam in their heart, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Loag(u) = subject, belongs to; devotee. Soag(u) = grief; suffering. Mooyay = (spiritually) dead. Bhee = again; repeatedly. 1. Jeevay = lives; alive (spiritually). Smaahleh(i) = remember; worship. Pause. Disuntar Bhuvaiy = roams in foreign lands. Dhoor(i) = dust; earn disgrace. Leeyay Laayay = prompts to worship. Til(u) Na = not even the size of a sesame seed. Tumaayay = greed. 2. Chookaiy = ends. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Hujoor(i) = close by. Bhurpoor(i) = fully present. 3. Jea Junt = all living beings. Pritpal = raising and nourishing. Putt = dignity. Siyoun = with. Ghur = (the final) home (union with God). Vudayayi = respect. Paayay = earns. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru becomes the guard of the individual who serves Him (obeys His Will). With Waheguru's Naam, he attains the high spiritual state and never suffers from any grief. The followers of their mind (worshippers of Maya) do not have Waheguru in their mind, and die spiritual death. They die, and take births repeatedly, and yet die a spiritual death. 1.
Those who have Waheguru in their mind are spiritually alive; they keep Him in mind all the time (recite His Naam) and stay absorbed in His Naam. Pause.
Those who do not serve Waheguru (do not recite His Naam) are far away from Him. They roam around in foreign lands and earn disgrace. Waheguru Himself prompts His devotees to worship Him. They are always blissful and have absolutely no greed. 2.
With Waheguru's benevolence, their ego is eradicated, and they earn respect in His Court. With Guru's Shabad, they always feel Waheguru close to them and see Him fully present everywhere. 3. With Guru's benevolence, they constantly and firmly remember Waheguru and firmly believe that He looks after every living being and raises and nourishes them. They reach their real home (attain union with God) with dignity, and earn respect with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Untar(i) = in (from the heart); true. Aour = other. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Loakeen = people. Meino = to me. 1. Mauliya = blooms. Basant = the spring season. Pause. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Daasut Bhaayay = with the spirit of a slave (devotee). Tuou = only then. Jugjeevun(u) = Waheguru. Vussaiy Aayay = comes to reside. 2. Hujoor(i) = near by. Koyee = some rare. Bhayo = secret. Aatumdayo = God. 3. Chit(u) = mind. Huriya = comes alive. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = in a natural way. Liv Laayay = mind focussed on Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: True worship of Waheguru happens only from the heart (mind). Such a devotee sees Waheguru only, and none other. The people who worship Maya (are attached to it) suffer badly. My Satguru has shown me the "One" (Waheguru). 1.

When my Waheguru blooms in some devotee's mind, the latter always feels blissful. His mind blooms when he sings Waheguru's praise. Pause.

One fosters love for the eternal Waheguru when he ponders on the Guru's Shabad in His shelter. When one gets rid of his selfishness and ego (with Guru's Shabad), and serves Waheguru with the spirit of a devotee, Waheguru, which is the soul of the whole world, comes to reside in (appears) in his mind. 2.

When one worships Waheguru with the spirit of a true devotee, he feels Waheguru around him and realizes that He is uniformly present everywhere. However, some rare person realizes this secret that it is Waheguru who does everything. 3.

It is Satguru, who infuses love for Waheguru in devotees' minds, and connects them with Him. The mind of such a devotee stays focused on Waheguru, and his mind blooms (he attains a high spiritual state) without any special effort, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Bhagat(i)-Vuchhul(u) = lover of His worship (Waheguru). Sehj Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Tud Hee = only then. 1. Soheh(i) = look dignified; are honoured. Dooaar(i) = at the door. Hayt(i) = in love for. Pause. Nirmul(u) = pure; pious. Khoyay = get rid of. Shaant(i) = peaceful. 2. Saach(i) Ruttay = imbued in Waheguru's love. Ruv(i) = by reciting. Sooka = dry; spiritually dead. Trishan Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Vaaro Vaar = repeatedly. 3. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. Bhaanaiy = in His Will. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love in high spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee gets rid of his selfishness and ego by worshipping Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, he attains the high spiritual state with Guru's grace, and the lover of His worship, Waheguru, comes to reside in his heart (His Naam is enshrined in his heart). This is the only way a devotee acquires everlasting union with Waheguru. 1.

With true love and reverence for the Guru, Waheguru's devotees are always honoured in His Court. Pause. Waheguru's devotee gets rid of his haumein with Guru's Shabad, and his mind is purified by Waheguru's worship. Waheguru Himself resides in his mind, and he remains absorbed in a high spiritual state, always feeling blissful and peaceful. 2.

It is the happy spring season all the time for the devotees who are imbued with Waheguru's love. By singing Waheguru's praise, their body and mind bloom all the time. The world is spiritually dead without Waheguru's Naam, and the people repeatedly burn (suffer) in the fire of worldly desires. 3. God does only those things that He likes; the devotees, who accept His Will, enjoy comforts. They serve Waheguru (recite His Naam and accept His Will) in a high spiritual state and have His Naam enshrined in their minds, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Maya Moh(u) = love for Maya. Huriya = spiritually alive (thriving). Bhaayay = love for. Sufliyo = fruit-bearing. Birkh = tree. Saachi Bani = Waheguru's Naam (praise). 1. Sach = Waheguru (His Naam). Pause. Hujoor(i) = near by. Chhaanv Ghunee = dense shade. Phooli Bunraayay = blooming of vegetation. Bigsaiy = feels blissful. 2. Keertun(u) = sing Waheguru's praise. Jootth(i) Bhuraant(i) = the impurity of restlessness. Perpunch = the expanse of the universe. Vismaad(u) = mesmerized. Persad(u) = donation. 3. Rus = tastes. Bhog = enjoys. Hoag = happens. Tumaayay = greed; desire for. 4.

MEANING: The mind and body of the devotees who burn (get rid of) their love for Maya with the Guru's Shabad bloom all the time with their love for Satguru. With their love for the eternal Bani (Guru's Shabad) and Waheguru's Naam, they feel as if their mind is like a tree which has borne fruit at Waheguru's Door (has been rewarded by Waheguru). 1.

With love for Satguru, their mind-tree blooms without any special effort, and bears the fruit of Waheguru's Naam (the Naam is enshrined in their heart). Pause.

Waheguru is close to some while far away from others, but with Guru's Shabad, a devotee always sees Him around him. His mind feels blissful in a natural way in the shelter of the Guru, and he feels as if his mind has bloomed like the vegetation (tree) which provides dense shade (protection from the demons). 2. Satguru rids him of the impurity of his restless mind (which becomes pure and peaceful), and He sings Waheguru's praise day and night. He feels mesmerized by Waheguru's wondrous expanse of the world. He receives the donation (gift) of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 3.

(Being present in all living beings), Waheguru enjoys all the tastes of life, but only what He likes happens. The Great Provider (Waheguru) has no greed (desire for worldly attractions) – not even the size of a sesame seed – and can be realized by acting on the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.6.

With Guru's grace, I find Waheguru's Naam to be very sweet. So, why do you waste your precious human life in enmity and in worthless discussions (you too should take Guru's shelter), oh my friends? 2. With Guru's grace, I have gotten rid of my ego and acquired Waheguru's Naam with love for Him and in a high spiritual state. 3.

Acting on Guru's Shabad is the supreme and highly transcendent deed. I recite eternal Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.1.13.

When one recognizes that it is the Lord, Waheguru, who speaks and sees in everyone, he never speaks in ego, oh Nanak(u). 4.2.14.

Word Meaning: Joog = yugas; eons. Bhaytaiy = on meeting with. Mut(i) = noble thinking. Boodh(i) = understanding. 1. Loyay = in the world. Fuleh(i) Phooliyeh(i) = flourish and thrive. Sookh(u) = comforts; blissfulness. 2. Oordhaaiy = enshrine in heart. Huriya Hoyay = comes alive. Birkh = tree. Soyay = that man. 4.

MEANING: When one gets connected with Satguru, he acquires noble thinking and the wisdom to realize that all eons (their effects, if any) have been created by You, oh Waheguru.

1. Waheguru, Himself, connects His devotees with Him when a devotee stays absorbed in His Naam with Guru's Shabad. Pause.

The mind of the devotee who is connected with Satguru blooms as if it were the spring season for him, no matter where in the world he is. Such devotees flourish spiritually with Waheguru's Naam and experience bliss. 2. It is always the spring season for the devotees who ponder on Guru's Shabad, and they embed Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. 3.

When one acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart, it is the spring season for him, and his body and mind bloom spiritually. His body feels like a tree which bears the fruit of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.3.15.

Eh(u) mun(u)) chhoota, Gur leeya chhudaayay. Nanak, Maya moh Shabad(i) julaayay. 4.4.16.

Word Meaning: Soyay = news; positive effect. Doojaiy = (love for the) other (Maya). Doyay = discrimination. Pause. Dhundahiy Baandha = engrossed in the Maya-related tasks. Kerm Kmaayay = performs deeds. Moottha = deceived by. Bil-laayay = cries and wails. 2. Chhootaiy = frees from the bonds of Maya. Jumkaal = Angel of death. Phaytaiy = fall prey to. 3. Attached to Maya, the human mind (body) performs only the deeds which are rooted in Maya, and, deceived by it, it always cries and wails. 2.

The human mind attains emancipation from the bonds of Maya when it connects with the Satguru and never falls prey to the Angel of Death (because it merges with Waheguru). 3. One burns (gets rid of) his attachment for Maya with Guru's Shabad, and is emancipated with Guru's grace, oh Nanak. 4.4.16.

When such a devotee sings Satguru's Bani (His Shabad) to the people, their minds also bloom with their love for Satguru. 2. However, the man cannot do anything on his own, and his tree-like mind bears flowers and the fruit of noble qualities only when Waheguru (makes him recite His Naam). They connect with Satguru when they become attached to the origin of the world, God. 3. Waheguru is the spring season, while the whole world is His garden. But one attains emancipation by worshipping Waheguru only if one has great fortune, oh Nanak. 4.5.17.

Waheguru alone is present everywhere; one can connect with Him with Guru's Shabad, oh my mother. Pause. The same Waheguru is present (hidden) in every heart, but appears in the heart only when one gets connected with the Guru. 2.

One and only Waheguru is fully present everywhere, but the greedy and the Maya-worshipper individual thinks Him to be far away. 3. Waheguru alone operates in the whole world, and only that happens that what the "One" Waheguru does, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Always remember Waheguru, and sing his praise in the shelter of the Guru by getting rid of your laziness and your (mental) discomforts to realize Him. Pause.

Due to their ego, the followers of their mind die spiritual death again, and again; and killed eventually by the Angel of death, they go to (are taken to) His court. 2.

(On the other hand), The Sikhs of the Guru keep their minds focused on Waheguru's Naam, thereby ending their suffering from rebirths and deaths. 3.

Madho = Maya's Husband (Waheguru). Sadhu Jun = Guru. Daykhut = on seeing. Ders(u) = sight. Puvittar = holy. Perm Pud = the supreme spiritual state. Pause.
Choar = robbers (demons). Laagay = commit theft. Nugreeya = body-city. Hiriya = steal. Khoj = footprints (until recently, specialists used to follow the thieves' footprints to catch them). Saabut Raas(i) = full wealth. Oobriya = salvaged; saved. 2.

MEANING: The human heart is a small room in the fort-like body in which the jewels (noble qualities) of Waheguru's Naam are present, hidden. A devotee, who is fortunate to get connected with Satguru, searches for such jewels as a result of which his soul merges into the Supreme Soul. 1.
Kindly connect me with the Guru whose sight (acting on whose Advice) all the sins run away, and the devotee attains the supreme spiritual state, oh Waheguru. Pause.
The five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and one's ego) jointly attack the human body and rob the man of his wealth of Waheguru's Naam. When a devotee follows them with the Guru's Advice, they can be arrested (brought under control), and his spiritual wealth is fully saved. 2. Some people exhaust themselves trying to please Waheguru with the hypocritical show of their religiosity, and by observing many rituals, but always have Maya on their mind. But when one connects with Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru, the darkness of his ignorance is dispelled. 3.
However, one cannot connect with Satguru through one's own efforts; one can connect only through the benevolence of Waheguru, the Lord of the world, when he begins to sing His praise in his heart all the time; then he acquires peace of mind, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

MEANING: You are the Great, inaccessible Supreme Being, and we are Your insignificant, worm-like beings, oh, the Lord of the world, Waheguru. Be kind to me, and connect me with Satguru for whose holy Feet (Shabad) I have a great yearning, oh benevolent to the poor, Waheguru. 1.

Connect me with the gathering of the holy saints with Your benevolence, oh Waheguru Ji. I am loaded with countless sins of many lives. Kindly cleanse my mind by putting me in the company of holy saints with Your kindness, oh Waheguru. Pause.

High, or low-caste, whosoever recites His Naam, Waheguru, fulfils all his wishes. They are highly fortunate, great, and perfect devotees who enshrine Waheguru in their hearts. 3.

I am a low-caste (low in qualities) and extremely heavy like a rock with the burden of sins, but I pray to Waheguru that He becomes kind to me, and connects me with Him. With the great favour of Waheguru, I got connected with Satguru, who purified the immoral me, oh Nanak. 4.2.4.

My body and my mind have been pierced with the love for Your Naam, oh my dear Waheguru. It was my great fortune to connect with Satguru, with whose grace I found my Waheguru successfully in my body-city. Pause.

Like the extreme love of the lotus flower for water, without which it dries up, my every breath has been pierced with the love for Waheguru, (and I cannot live without Him). 2.

With the Advice of the Guru, I recited the Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and my Guru showed Him right before my eyes. Nirbaan Pud = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.

MEANING: My mind does not stay in itself even for a short while; it rushes in different directions, and keeps wandering again and again. But, when my Guru placed the ankus of His Shabad on my head, it acted as the perfect medicine, and my mind came under such control that it has taken permanent residence in its own home (has quit wandering). 1.
Kindly put me in the company of the holy saints where Your Naam is recited, and where one's suffering of haumein is eradicated, and he enjoys the bliss of the high spiritual state by meditating on Your Naam, oh Waheguru. Pause.
The human mind is loaded with the jewels, the rubies, and the pearls of Waheguru's noble qualities, but it keeps wandering as a result of which the man cannot acquire them. But like an oadha, a specialist, who can detect underground water for drilling a well, one can acquire Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the (Oadha) Guru. 2.
The life of a man who does not come to the shelter of such a great Guru is contemptible. One is given the precious human life as a reward for the noble deeds he performed in his previous lives, but he wastes it away for a worthless cowrie shell (the attractions of Maya). 3.
Please, be kind, and connect me with the Guru, oh Waheguru. One sings Waheguru's praise in Guru's shelter and achieves the highest spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.4.6.

He does not recite Waheguru's Naam even for a short moment, as a result of which, he is grabbed by the hair by the Angel of death 1.

Kindly eradicate my suffering due to the poison of my haumein and my worldly attachments, oh my dear Waheguru. Put me in the company of the holy saints, which is very dear to You, and the Guru, where I may enjoy the sweetness of Your Naam, oh Waheguru. Pause.

MEANING: With His established laws, Waheguru becomes kind to His devotees and blesses them. 1. The Perfect Guru does everything with perfection and gives Waheguru's Naam in His devotees' minds. Pause.

He did not consider my deeds or my morality, and pulled me out of the world-sea (which is the cause of rebirths) by holding me by the arm. 2. When an individual comes to the shelter of the Guru, Waheguru purifies his mind by washing away its filth. 3. Waheguru is omnipotent, does everything Himself, and salvages His devotees with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.4.17.

Word Meaning: Phool = flowers. Phoolay = bloomed. Uhun(g) = ego. Tiyaag(i) = by giving up. Churn Paagay = dropped on the feet of the Guru (take His shelter). Subhaagay = fortunate. Chayt(i) = remember; recite Naam. Pause. Sughun = with (dense) shade. Baas = fragrant. Koolay = tender; newly bloomed. Sook(i) Kutthoolay = hard on drying. Perphoolta = thriving. 1. Kuloo = Kulyug. Goon Kuhhay = sing virtues (praise). 2.

MEANING: If you get rid of your ego in the shelter of the Guru (by surrendering to Him), you will feel as if flowers have bloomed in your heart and everywhere else (the whole environment will look attractive to you), and you will be fortunate to connect with Waheguru. So, remember Waheguru, oh my mind. Pause. In the season of spring, the trees bloom, become soft, have dense shade, and give off fragrance, but some of them still stay dry and hard. (Similarly, only that mind blooms in the spring season which recites Waheguru's Naam). 1. It is the period of Kulyug (and even the Hindu religious books say that it is the time to recite Naam), so implant only Waheguru's Naam in your mind; it is not the season to plant something else (use some other means to unite with Waheguru). Do not be misled by your misgivings. It is the season (yuga) to implant Waheguru's Naam only, oh my friend. However, only that individual gets connected with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, who has this union prewritten on his forehead (in his fate). I recite Waheguru's virtues (sing His praise), oh Nanak. 2.18.

MEANING: Cast the die of your thoughts in such a way that you recite Waheguru's Naam day and night in the shelter of the Guru so that you do not have to suffer at the time of your death, oh my brothers. Pause. Get together in the shelter of the Guru, and have your doubts cleared with patience, faith in the Guru, and full focus on His Shabad. That way, you will become a partner in Waheguru's Naam (you will acquire the Naam). 1.

Set up the game of dice of your life with noble deeds and faith in Waheguru as its basis, and make high morality its pawns. Conquer the evil forces of lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, and you will be playing the game which is dear to Waheguru. 2.

Wash your mind with the immortalizing water of Waheguru's Naam when you wake up, and worship Waheguru when you go to sleep. My Satguru ferries you through the tough waters of the sea of Maya, in which Maya attracts you with its clever tricks, and you will reach your final destination (Waheguru's Palace) with the comfort of a peaceful mind. 3.

(However, we are pawns in the hands of Waheguru) because it is He who plays the whole game of our life, and watches it. He is the creator of this creation (universe). The devotee, who plays the game of life according to the Will of Waheguru (understands that it is Waheguru who does everything on his behalf), reaches his final destination by winning the game of life, oh Nanak. 4. 1.19.

You are the greatest source of everything, and the greatest provider, and there is none else. You are omnipotent, but I do not know how to worship You, oh Waheguru. 3.

This world is a wealth (possession) of dreams, so what makes your head swell? Why do you cling to something which will not accompany you after death? 1.
It is the same Waheguru which is fully present in everybody, so rising above the petty things, quit praising others who do not deserve and criticizing others maliciously, and enshrine Waheguru's praise in your heart, oh Nanak. 2.1.

All my doubts of many lives have been cleared ever since I enshrined Waheguru's jewel-like Naam in my heart. All the fire of my desires has been put out, and I have been absorbed in the comfort of Waheguru's Naam. 2.

MEANING: When the body dies, the soul has to deal with the Angel of justice; so why have you forgotten Waheguru's Naam (which can save you), oh man? Pause.
This world is like a mountain of smoke (short-lived), so what is your logic to believe that it is everlasting, oh man? 1. You must understand that nothing – not even your money, wife, other belongings, or your house - will accompany you after your death. 2.

MEANING: Engrossed in the short-lived greed (benefits), why have you forgotten Waheguru, oh man? No damage has still been done if you come to your senses even now (and recite His Naam). Pause.
Think of this world as a dream, and believe it can vanish instantly. 1.
Recite the Naam of Waheguru day and night, which always resides in you, oh my friend. Sing praise of the Waheguru, which supports you at the end, oh Nanak. 3.5.

Word Meaning: Jug(u) = the world. Kuyyooaa = (like) the crow. Bisaar = forget. Giraiy = drops on. Bheet(i) = bait; food. Munooaa = mind. Doalaiy = wavers. Aneet(i) = bad quality; deceit. Jhootth = false; short lived. 1. Bikh(u) = poisonous. Bujjur Bhaar(u) = a heavy load. Chaar(u) = beautiful; noble. Pause. Baaloo = sand. Ghoomun Ghayr(i) = in whirl pool (eddy). Berkhus(i) = during rain. Baani = construct; is formed. Boodbooda = bubble. Hayr(i) = watch. Maatur = very small. Boond = drop (fertilized egg). Tay = from. Chuk(u) = potter's wheel. Phayr = spin. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light (Soul). Chayr(i) = disciple; devotee. 2. Oopaayay = created. Sirimoar = supreme. Pug = feet. Toar = Yours. Rutto = imbued. Chaahoun = like; wish for. Maayay = oh, mother. 4.

MEANING: The man, who does not have Waheguru's Naam at heart, and forgets Him, is greedy like the crow which flies down to the bait even if it is all filth. With deceit in his thoughts, his mind wavers constantly. But the false (short-lived) attachment to the world eventually comes to an end. 1. He carries a heavy load of sins because of his lust and rage. How can he acquire noble qualities without Waheguru's Naam? Pause.

Human life is as uncertain (perishable) as a house of sand in a whirlpool, or as a bubble which is formed during a rainfall. Like a potter who makes a pot from mud by spinning it on his wheel, Waheguru created the huge universe from His minuscule size. So, become a devotee of Waheguru whose Light is present in everybody, oh man. 2.

Having created the whole world, Waheguru has made the Guru the supreme of all. I worship Waheguru by dropping at the Feet of the Guru (taking His shelter). Imbued in Your love, I look forward to (having union with) You, oh Waheguru. Those who stay away from Your Naam are your thieves (use everything provided by You without being thankful). 3.

They acquire the poison of sensual enjoyments in the treasure of their mind, and lose respect in Your Court, whereas those who are imbued in Your love earn respect in Your Court. They believe that whatever happens in their life, happens with Waheguru's Will. By living in the fear of (full faith in) Waheguru, they become fearless in the world, oh my mother. 4.

Word Meaning: Kaamun(i) = woman (humans). Chaahaiy = wishes. Bhoag(u) = enjoyments. Paan = wrap of betel leaves. Rus = sweetness. Roag = disease; suffering. Kheelaiy = show great enjoyment. Bigsaiy = feel very happy. Tayto = the same; as much. Soag = grief; suffering. Keenus(i) Hoag = will happen (Will of God). 5. Perrus(i) = wears. Adhik = much. Sheengaar(u) = adornments. Maati = (body) of earth. Phooli = swells with pride. Bikaar(u) = sensual pleasures. Aasa Munsa = hopes and wishes. Baandho Baar(u) = shuts the door (to the high spiritual state). Soona = empty. Ghur Baar(u) = heart and mind. 6. Gaachhou = go away. Pootri = oh, my daughter. Raaj Koaar(i) = pure; unblemished (soul). Bhunou = recite. Doat(u) = adornment. Priyo = Dear (God). Adhaar(i) = support; basis. Tiyaas = thirst (of desires). Nivaar(i) = get rid of; kill. 7. Mohun(i) = the mind captivating (Waheguru). Puchhaana = recognize; make a connection. Toh(i) = You. Tthaandhay = standing; waiting. Suntokhay = contented. 8.

MEANING: The man wants to enjoy the beauties (luxuries) of life, but all such enjoyments like chewing betel-leaf wraps (a sign of luxury), wearing flowers (their fragrances), and other sweet enjoyments are sensual pleasures, and cause suffering in life. The more the man feels happy about such enjoyments (the more he enjoys them), the more he suffers. But those who take Waheguru's shelter believe that only that which Waheguru does will happen. 5. When a man wears rich clothes and other adornments, he swells in false pride, but his adornments lead to immoral sensual enjoyments. His hopes and wishes shut the door to his high spirituality. Without Waheguru's Naam, his heart and mind remain empty (of spirituality). 6. So, go and recite Waheguru's Naam and adorn yourself with noble qualities, oh my soul as long as you are still free from any immorality. Believing Waheguru to be the basis of your life, serve Him with deep love, and kill the poison of sensual desires with the Guru's Shabad. 7. Waheguru has captivated my mind, and I wish to connect with Him through Guru's Shabad. Waiting at Waheguru's Door (with full focus of mind), I beg Him to grant me His Naam, which is the source of all contentment, oh Nanak. 8.1.,

Word Meaning: Bhoolou = misled. Bhermus(i) = wanders. Aavay Jaayay = fluctuates (between high and low states). Ut(i) = extremely. Loobudh = greedy. Loobhaanou = trapped in Maya. Bikhum = difficult. Usthir = stable; peaceful. Aik Bhaayay = in love of God. Koondliya = hook. Kuntth = neck; mouth. 1. Sumjhus(i) = realizes. Sehj Bhaayay = with love and in blissful state of mind. Pause. Bhuvur Taar = like a bumblebee. Bill = senses. Birthay Bikaar = (spiritually) useless sensual pleasures. Maiygul = elephant. Phaasus(i) = gets trapped. Kaamhaar = because of his lust. Kurr(i) Bundhun Naandhiyo = is tied up with force. Sees Maar = is hit on the head. 2.
Mooghdau = foolish. Daadur(u) = frog (which does not value the lotus flower near him). Bhagat-Heen = devoid of God's worship. Bhrushut = polluted; disapproved. Sraapi = cursed. Been(u) = without. Jaat Paati = caste and clan. Naam Leen = remember name. Sukhaayi = friends. 3. Chullaiy Na Jaayi = so that it does not wander. Tthaak Raakh(u) = control it. Put(i) = dignity. Saakh(u) = trust. Soorta = listener (to the problems); looks after. Dhur(u) = earth. Dhaarun = support. 4.

MEANING: The greedy mind is so trapped in the attractions of Maya that it keeps fluctuating between high and low spirits, and is so badly misled that it is very difficult for it to get out of this trap. Like the fish, which gets hooked due to its greed for the bait, it (the mind) writhes (wavers) and does not seem to find peace in the love of Waheguru. 1.
The misled mind realizes the importance of Waheguru's Naam when it ponders on the Guru's Shabad with love for Waheguru in the peaceful state of mind. Pause.
The misled mind wanders like a bumblebee because human senses wish to enjoy many, many sensual pleasures, and the man suffers the consequences like the elephant, which gets trapped under force because of his lust, and suffers (as it has to work very hard), and has to endure the pain of the ankus on his head. 2.
Without Waheguru's worship, the human mind is like a frog (which lives in the filthy mud) and loves to enjoy the filthy (immoral) sensual pleasures; and without Waheguru's Naam, the immoral is cursed (disgraced) in Waheguru's Court. Without the noble qualities, he is like a man without any caste or clan – not even in the name - and suffering becomes his close friend. 3. Control your mind so that it does not wander (to pursue evil acts); because without getting imbued in Waheguru's love, the man earns no dignity and no trust. Waheguru listens to the problems of His living beings and protects them. He supports the earth (its living beings) and knows its problems. 4.

Word Meaning: Birtha = mental situation. Uvgun = ignoble qualities. Kmaayay = work towards; acquire. 5. Ootum = superior. Nirmul = pure. Mookt(u) = emancipated. Bubdh(i) = trap. Vukhaanaiy = recite. Aour = other. 6. Bhaanaiy = Will. Vertaiy = operate; lead life. Rujaayay = Will. Aabhooll(u) = infallible. Agaah(i) = deep. Motou = great. Maah(i) = (reside) in. Maaniya = convinced. 4.

MEANING: When Waheguru, Himself, misleads people (to forget His Naam), who can we complain to? (Pray for me to Waheguru) to connect me with the Guru, so that I may get rid of my ignoble qualities, and work to acquire noble qualities, oh my mother. The devotee, who is imbued with the Guru's Shabad, stays absorbed in the high spiritual state. 5.

One's thinking becomes superior (noble), and his mind is purified when he washes away the filth of his selfishness and haumein by getting connected with Satguru. Such a devotee always recites only Waheguru's Naam and nobody else's, and he is always emancipated as no worldly attraction can bond (trap) him anymore. 6.

Waheguru is present in everybody, but the man has no control even on his mind, which wanders with Waheguru's Will. It is Waheguru's Huqam that operates everywhere, and nothing can be done against His Will. All the comforts and suffering happen in one's life by Waheguru's Huqam, and he gets absorbed in Him with His Huqam. 7.

Waheguru is infallible and makes no mistake – never. When Waheguru makes a devotee listen to the Guru's Shabad, his thinking becomes very deep (he becomes very wise and patient). The Great Waheguru resides in Guru's Shabad (which can be realized through that). When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise (with Guru's Shabad), his mind is convinced (gets fully absorbed in Waheguru with full dedication), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Piyaas = thirst; yearning. Nur = man. Aikut(u) Raachaiy = get attached to the "One" (God). Purhur(i)) = brushing aside; getting rid of. Doyay = (any) other (Maya). Door(i) Derd = the suffering goes away. Muth = by churning (analyzing deeply). Amrit(u) = Waheguru's sweet Naam. Boojhaiy = understands the reality. 1. Kayti = countless people. Bil-laayay = wail; implore; supplicate. Virla Ko = some rare. Cheenus(i) = recognize. Pause. Bayd = the Vedas. Vukhaan(i) = explain. Ikk(u) Kuhhiyaiy = recite the Naam of the "One". Bayunt = limitless. Jug(u) Keeya = created the world. Baajh(u) Kulaa = without any power (support). Dhuriyaa = placed in positions. 2. Dhoon(i) = zeal; fervour. Bani = Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise. Biraalum = which requires no support (fully detached) Akuth = indescribable. Kuhaani = tale of virtues. Neeshaan(u) = identification. Jaan(u) = who understands (wise). 3. Dherm(u) = principles. Drirraiy = reiterates. Soyee = that. Unhud(i) = eternal Waheguru. Raata = imbued. Alukh Apaar = incomprehensible and endless.4.

MEANING: The devotee, who has a yearning for the sight of Waheguru, gets attached only to Him (His Naam), and forgets any other power (Maya). By pondering over Guru's Shabad again and again in His shelter, he understands the worth of Waheguru's Naam and enjoys the sweetness of His Naam whereby all his sufferings go away. 1.

Countless people supplicate to have Waheguru's sight, but some rare devotees recognize Him with Guru's Shabad and get absorbed in Him. Pause.

Even the Vedas say that only the Naam of the "One" (God) should be recited, which is limitless, and no one can find His limits. He is the only creator who has created the universe and placed the earth and the sky in their places without any visible support. 2.

The devotee realizes that focusing the mind on the Guru's Shabad with fervour is the only way to acquire Divine Knowledge (to connect with Waheguru). Waheguru is fully detached from the world and indescribable. A wise devotee realizes in the shelter of the Perfect Guru that His Shabad (praise of Waheguru) is the only identification of a devotee to get connected with Waheguru. 3.

Some rare devotee, who reiterates Waheguru in his mind (brings full faith in Him) with Guru's Advice, realizes that reciting His Naam is the best divinity (principle) in life, and it is the "One" Waheguru which reigns (operates in) the universe in all eons. Imbued in the love of the immortal Waheguru, a devotee, who, with the Advice of the Guru, focuses his mind on His Naam with full dedication, acquires the incomprehensible and the endless Waheguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Tukhut = thrown; Huqam. Serbeen Thaayeen = everywhere. Vapervaah(u) = worry-free (Waheguru). Keeya = whatever He does (His Will) Tirbhuvun = universe. Saar(u) = supreme. Ekunkaar(u) = one and inly 5. Moorut(i) = persona; entity. Naaoun = Huqam; existence. Nibrraiy = final decision. Niyaaoun = justice. Kerni = deeds. Put(i) = dignity. Pervaan = approved. 6. Ders(u) = sight. 8.

MEANING: Such a devotee also recognizes that there is only one Sovereign (Supreme Being) in the universe, and only one Huqam (set of laws). The one and only, Waheguru, which is inaccessible and incomprehensible, is worry-free, is present everywhere, and His Will is supreme in the universe. 5. Waheguru is a single entity (has no assistants or incarnations), has eternal existence, and whose decision is final and just. A man finds approval for his noble deeds and earns respect in Waheguru's court. 6.

Only one kind of worship (that of Waheguru) with love and dedication is approved by Him; any other type of worship without love for Waheguru is disapproved, and such a worshipper keeps taking births and dying. A devotee, who, with Guru's advice, realizes that he is only a visitor in this world, and is imbued with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, is approved in Waheguru's Court. 7. I see Waheguru everywhere, and remember Him (recite His Naam) in the blissful state of mind, and do not like any other power than Him. I have destroyed my selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and my Satguru has shown me the sight of the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Chunchul Cheet(u) = capricious mind. Paara = other end of the world-sea; union with Waheguru. Aavut Jaat = birth and death. Na Baara = no time. Ghuno = immense. Kartara = oh, Waheguru. Saara = looking after. 1. Ootum = superior; noble. Heena = lacking; less. Puteena = likes; is pleased. Pause. Aoukhudh = medication; treatment. Thaaki = exhausted trying. Chhokaiy = end. Ghunayray = immense. Tthaakur = Lord. 2. Baadhou Dheera = pick up courage; have peace. Uvgun = bad qualities. Dhoondhut = Khojut = searching. Beera = oh brother. 3. Daaroo = medication. Tivaiy = like that. Ruhaaoun = lead life. Keh = whom. Nirmaayil(u) = holy. 4.

MEANING: The man with a capricious mind cannot swim across the world-sea to the other end (to merge into Waheguru), and it does not take any time for him to take rebirths and to die. The repeated deaths (and births) are a source of immense suffering, oh Waheguru. Nobody, without the Dear (Waheguru), looks after you, oh my friends. 1.

Everybody is noble, so who should I call (label) lacking qualities? But my mind has been fully pleased with Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

I have been exhausted trying many different treatments (ways) to have my sufferings eradicated, but how can I get rid of them without taking the shelter of my Guru (it is only in the Guru's shelter that your suffering can end). The man enjoys comforts or suffers by the Will of my Lord, and there is immense suffering without worshipping Waheguru. 2.

How can I have peace of mind when I know that the suffering of rebirths is immense? Only the Guru, who knows the cause of this suffering, can eradicate mine. My mind and body are full of ignoble qualities, but while searching for Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, He connected me to Waheguru, oh my brother. 3.

I can see that the whole world is suffering from rebirths (caused by its enjoyment of sensual pleasures and ignoring Waheguru), so where can I go to get rid of my suffering? Guru's Shabad, Your Naam, is the medicine for this suffering, and I am happy in whatever situation You keep me in, oh Waheguru. (To get rid of this suffering), One needs to recite the Naam of the Pure Waheguru, which purifies the mind. 4.

Word Meaning: Ghur Meh(i) = in the heart. Ghur(u) = Waheguru's dwelling. Gur = great. Mehli = the owner of the palace. Mehl(i) = in Waheguru's Palace. Cheeta = mind. Ateeta = detached from the world. 5. Herkh = happiness. Soag = grief. Tay = from. Niraasa = detached; indifferent. Nivaasa = dwelling. Aap(u) Puchhaan(i) = self analysis. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Jaapaiy = recites Waheguru's Naam = Ruvvaiy. Hit Cheeta = with love in mind. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru's holy saints keep their minds under control and stay detached from worldly attractions. They show Waheguru's dwelling in the heart (mind) of other devotees, when the Lord of the great Palace, Waheguru, calls them in (connects them with Him). 5.

Tasting the immortalizing Naam of Waheguru, they stay absorbed in Him, and stay indifferent to happy or sad situations. Analyzing the self (that they are part of Waheguru and what their qualities are) keeps their minds focused on Waheguru. With Guru's Advice, they win the game of life, and all their sufferings run away. 6.
Implanted in my mind by the Guru, I drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam; have killed my worldly desires, and am living my life in a high spiritual state. If the Guru is pleased with a devotee, He protects him by embracing him as His own; and the devotee who surrenders himself to Waheguru gets absorbed in Him. 7.
The individual, who enjoys the luxuries of life, suffers from (many physical and mental diseases); but the devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, sees Him in every heart. With Guru's Shabad, such a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam with deep love for Him, and stays detached from (indifferent to) comforts and discomforts, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Ikk Tookiya = a Shabad with a single sentence in each verse. Mut = lest; watch out. Bhusm = ash. Undhulay = oh, blind of wisdom. Gerb(i) = conceit. Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. Yoag(u) = union with Waheguru. 1. Moorray = oh, fool.
Bisaariyo = forgotten. Aavaiy Kaam(u) = serves you. Pause. Saaringpaan(i) = Waheguru. 2. Maal Derb(u) = wealth. Chulti Baar = at the time of leaving the world (death) . 4. Punch Maar(i) = by killing (controlling) the five demons. Chit Rukhou Thaayayn = keep the mind in control. Joogut = means; technique. Paayayn = foundation. Paiykhurr(u) = restraining chains. Mookt(i) = free from; emancipated. 6. Vus(i) = in the control of. Choat Khaah(i) = receive punishment. 7. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Joag(u) = union. 8. Jeeou = life. Pind(u) = body. Chayteh(i) = remember. Murrheen Musaaneen = cremation grounds; graveyards. 9.

Bhulee = superior. Baan(i) = Waheguru's praise. Soojaakhay = (spiritual) eyes (vision). Puchhaan = recognize. 10.

NOTE: Devotees of some sects (like the yogis) cover their bodies with ash to look unattractive to women (but their minds may still be full of lust), while others stay completely naked. Some live in cremation grounds or in graveyards with the belief that they will achieve union with God. Guru Sahib has addressed such misguided people in this holy Shabad.

MEANING: Do not be misled and feel conceited about covering your body with ash, oh fool. Also, staying naked is not the way to achieve union with Waheguru. 1.

Why have you forgotten Waheguru's Naam, which serves (helps) you at the time of your death, oh fool? Pause.

If you ponder on Guru's Shabad with His advice, you will see Waheguru everywhere. 2.

What can I say about Waheguru when I am a non-entity (and know nothing about Him)? His Naam is the caste and the clan for a devotee (a devotee earns much more respect than any high caste or clan). 3.

Why do you feel conceited about your wealth and your property when nothing accompanies you at the time of your death, oh man? 4.

The foundation of union with Waheguru is to control your senses and focus your mind only on Waheguru, oh my friend. 5.

Your selfishness and ego are the chains on your mind that restrain you from reciting Waheguru's Naam. You can get freedom from these chains and become emancipated by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh fool. 6.

Watch out that you do not become a prisoner of the Angel of death by forgetting Waheguru; otherwise, you will suffer punishment after your death. 7.

The devotee, who ponders on Guru's Shabad, gets rid of his selfishness and his ego, and achieves union with Waheguru, by reciting His Naam. 8.

You do not remember Waheguru, who has given you life and the body. Residing in cremation grounds, or in graveyards, does not lead to union with Waheguru, oh fool. 9.

If you sing Waheguru's praise, you will acquire the spiritual vision that will enable you to recognize Him (He will appear in your mind), oh Nanak. 10.5.

Guru's advice. Bherm = illusions; misconceptions. Pause. Bhaayee = like. Pushoo Bhuyyay = have become like animals. Abhimaan = ego. 2. Lukh Chauraaseeh = 8.4 million. Junt = living beings. Bhaanaiy = with the Will. Sirj(i) = create. Smaayay = get absorbed; are destroyed. 3. Suglee = the whole world. Bhoolaiy = misled. Achaar(u) = high living. Kartar(u) = the Creator (God). 4. Baymoohtaaj = having no superior; sovereign. Apaara = endless. Sach(i) = with His Naam. Puteejaiy = is pleased. Kernaiyhaara. 7. Tikaavaiy = enables stabilization of the mind. 8.

MEANING: Evil thinking and indecisiveness (choosing between Waheguru and Maya) are the deeds (possessions) of a spiritually blind man. The follower of his mind (Maya-worshipper) wanders misled in the darkness of ignorance. 1.

The spiritually blind man follows his blind (unenlightened) thinking. One's misgivings do not go away without acting on the Guru's advice. Pause.

The blind of wisdom follow their mind, and do not like the Guru's advice. They are like animals and suffer in their conceit. 2. There are 8.4 million types of living beings which are created and destroyed by my Lord, Waheguru, with His Will. 3.

The whole world is misled by their misgivings, and has no high living without the Guru's Shabad. Only that individual understands the true living who is enlightened by the Guru, by God. 4. Waheguru likes His devotees (who obey His Will), and He forgives all their sins (if any), and they owe nothing to the Angel of justice. 5.

All the misgivings of the devotees who like only Waheguru are cleared by Him, and He connects them with Him. 6. Waheguru is perfectly sovereign, limitless, and endless. He is the creator, and is pleased with His Naam. 7.

In that sense, Waheguru Himself is the bumblebee, the flowers, and the vines. He Himself is the holy gathering, and Himself calls such an assembly. 1. The human-bumblebee, which enjoys such fragrance (realizes the presence of Waheguru in every living being), finds that the whole vegetation is green, and the flowers are blooming everywhere (he feels happy everywhere). Pause.
He realizes that Waheguru, Himself, is Maya (Laxmi) and that He, Himself, is her husband. (Laxmi was retrieved from the ocean as one of the 14 jewels, and Vishnu Ji married her). By creating the world with His Huqam, Waheguru is enjoying it now. 2.

Word Meaning: Nuou = the 9 (regions of the earth). Sut = the 7 (continents). Chaudaah = the 14 (layers of the sky – a Muslim belief). Teen(i) = the 3 (effects of Maya). Chaar(i) = the 4 (sources of reproduction). Mehlut(i) = a place to stay. Buhaali = put in place. Deevay = lamps (the Vedas). Chuhoun Huth(u) = in the hands of the 4 (eons). Aika, Aikee Vaari = one at a time respectively. 1. Mehrvaan = kind. Mudhusoodun = the destroyer of the demon, Madhu (Waheguru). Madho = the husband of Maya (Waheguru). Shakut(i) = power; capability. Pause. Lushkur = army of livingbeings. Paavuk = fire (Light). Dherm(u) = the Angel of justice. Sikdaari = leadership. Dayg = cauldron (of food). Ikk Vayra = only once. Bhaag(u) = fate. Bhundaar = common kitchen (food cooked for the devotees or visitors). 2. Na Saboor(u) = discontented. Naarud(u) = mind. Khooaari = discomfiture; humiliation. Lub = gluttony. Undhayra Bundikhaana = a dark prison. Aougun = ignoble qualities. Loohaari = shackles. 3. Poonji = wealth (of bad deeds). Moodgur = mallet. Koatvaari = delivers justice (a magistrate was also called koatvaar in the Mughal Raj). Bhaavayn = whether. Jaiysi Nudr(i) = as You wish. 4. -------

MEANING: You are compassionate, the destroyer of the demons, the Husband of Maya, and such is Your power (that You can create, destroy, or change things in no time), oh, Waheguru. You have created the earth with nine regions and with seven continents, and the fourteen-layered universe. You have also created Maya with the three effects and the four sources of reproduction, and have put everything in its place, oh Waheguru. With the wisdom granted by You, the four Vedas, which are like the lamps of knowledge, were also created (written), and were introduced - one at a time - in the four eons. 1. Every heart, which is like Your army, has Your Light in it, and the Angel of justice keeps record of the deeds of the individuals, and delivers his justice. The earth is the source of food for all the living beings, and every living being gets its share of the food as per its prewritten fate. 2.
The discontented mind of the individuals asks for more and more, as a result of which the individual suffers discomfiture. His gluttony serves as the dark prison for the individual, while his ignoble qualities serve as shackles on his feet (so he cannot escape from such an unfavourable situation). 3.
The wealth of his ignoble deeds punishes him like a mallet (heavy blow), while his sins, which are closely watched, become the cause of his punishment. One becomes good or bad depending upon the kind of sight you cast on him, oh Lord. 4.

Teeruth, Simrit(i), poonn, daan, kichh(u) laaha milaiy dihaarri. Nanak, Naam(u) milaiy vudiyaayi, mayka ghurri smaahli. 8.1.8.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) Purakh = the Supreme Being. Sheikhaan = Muslims. Dayvul = temples. Kur(u) = tax. Keerut(i) = praise; norm. Chaali = started. 5. Kooja = a teapot like container to store water. Baang = the loud call to tell the Muslims that it is time for nivaaj (prayer). Nivaal = the Muslim prayer. Moosulla = a rug on which the Muslims sit to offer prayer. Neel Roop = blue outfits. Bunvaari = Waheguru. Meeyaan = a word to show respect; father. 6. Meer = king. Muhiput(i) = the Lord of the earth. Koodrut(i) = power. Chaaray Koont = all the four diractions; the whole world. Slaam(u) = bow to. Sift = praise. 7. Teeruth = pilgrimage. Simrit(i) = recitation (reading) of the holy Hindu Books. Poonn Daan = donations. Laaha = spiritual benefit. Dihaarri = very low wages (of little benefit). Mayka Ghurree = even if for a short time. 8.

MEANING: With Your Will (situations in the world keep changing), and now it is the time for the Muslims to rule the country, and things have changed greatly. The gods worshipped during Hindu rule, and the temples are now taxed, which has become the norm in the country. 5. Now, kooja, baang, Muslim prayer, and blue outfits have become the dominant culture of the Country. Not only that, even the language of Your people has changed, and now they are using Muslim words like “Meeyaan” in their everyday usage, oh Waheguru. 6. (But all this is happening with Your Will) As You are the King, and the Lord of the earth, so what power do we have (not to accept Your Will)? The whole world has to bow to Your (Will) and has to sing Your praise. 7. But, at the same time, there should be no complaining about taxing the temples because pilgrimage to holy places, reading of the Hindu holy books, and customary donations do not earn any degree of spirituality. One earns respect only with Waheguru’s Naam, even if one recites it for a short time, oh Nanak. 8.1.8.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Baaluk = child; mind. Vussiya = dwells. Khin(u) = Pul(u) = a moment. Thir = stable. Anik Oopaayay = countless ways. Jutun = efforts. Baarum Baar = continuously. Bhermaayee = wanders. 1. Ikutt(u) Ghur(i) = at Waheguru’s Feet (Naam). Aan(u) = bring. Poora = Perfect; Omnipresent. Bhuj(u) = recite. Neeshaan(u)

= identification. Pause. Mirtuk(u) = dead. Murrah = pile of dust. Ooduk = water. Chooaaya = fed dropwise. Huriya Hoa = came to life. Rusiya = full of sap (healthy). 2. Nirkhut, Nirkhut = slowly and carefully. Khojiya = searched for. Chult(u) = amazing feat. Saakut = followers of their mind. 3. Deena Deen = poorest among the poor. Bidar = a devotee of Krishna, and the prime minister of Dhritrashtra, the king of Delhi, (Mahabharat), but who was considered of low caste because he was the son of a maid. Sudaama = a poor Brahman, but a childhood classmate and friend of Krishna (Ji). Bhaavni Dhaar = with affection and respect. Aagaiy = prior to. Daalud(u) Bhunj = ending his poverty. Smaaya = got absorbed; (won) his heart. 4.

MEANING: The child-like mind which resides in the city-like human body never stabilizes for even a short moment. The man may exhaust himself trying countless ways and efforts to control it, the mind does not come under his control, and keeps wandering continuously. 1.

I pray to my Waheguru that He causes my child-like mind to stabilize only on His Naam. I am advised that one needs to recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru, which is the letter of identification to unite with the Perfect Waheguru. Pause.

The human body in the world which does not have Waheguru's Naam embedded in it is spiritually dead and is like a pile of dirt. But, when the Guru feeds Waheguru's Naam-water to a devotee, he comes back to (spiritual) life, and flourishes to be (spiritually) very healthy .2.

When I slowly but carefully searched my body, I found an amazing feat shown by the Guru: the followers of their mind die (get tired of unsuccessfully) searching for Waheguru outside (in the forests), but I found Him in my own heart. 3.

I am very poor in good qualities, but Waheguru became very kind to me, and appeared in my heart like Krishan Ji visited Bidar, or like Krishan Ji eradicated all the poverty of his childhood friend, Sudama (and won his heart) when the latter visited Krishan Ji with love and respect, and before he went back to his house. 4.

Nanak, Gurmukh(i) sehj(i) milaayay, jiyoun jul(u) juleh(i) smaavaiy. 8.1.9.

Word Meaning: Paiyj = dignity. Vudayri = higher. Rukhaayi = saves. Bukheeli = vilification. Rutti Til(u) = a minuscule amount. Ghutaayi = is lessened. 5. Oostut(i) = praise. Dehdis(i) = in all the ten directions. Sobha = fame. Ninduk(u) = vilifiers. Khuv(i) = to bear; tolerate. Ghur(i) = heart. Looki = flame. 6. Jun = devotee; holy saint. Pergaasa = lighten up. Daasun Daasa = slave of slaves (devotees). 7. Jul(i) = water; ocean (the basis of all life). Uprumpur = who does not need any external help; omnipotent. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Smaavaiy = gets fully absorbed. 8.

MEANING: The respect for a devotee because of Waheguru's Naam in his heart is very high (deep) among the masses, which the Lord Himself generates in their minds for the devotee, and which does not lessen even by a very small amount despite all the efforts by the Maya-worshippers to vilify him. 5. Waheguru's Naam is the basis of the praise of His devotees, which spreads in all directions. The Maya-worshipper cannot tolerate that, but they only burn their own hearts (suffer in jealousy) without causing any harm to the devotees. 6. A devotee earns praise when he meets with a holy saint and is enlightened by the noble qualities of the saint. The individuals who serve Waheguru's devotees like a slave of His devotees are very dear to Him. 7.

The omnipotent and creator Waheguru is like an ocean of noble qualities, and He connects His devotees to Him through the Guru; such devotees are absorbed in Him, as rivers become one with the ocean, oh Nanak. 8.1.9.

NOTE: Guru Arjun Sahib has used the names of some great devotees (holy saints) whose compositions are enshrined in Sri Guru Granth Sahib, as well as of some mythical devotees from the Puranas who attained salvation with Waheguru's Naam. Most of the mythical names have been explained in detail under "INTRODUCTION" at the beginning of the Book.

Word Meaning: Dootookiya = a verse with two sentences. Saakhi = advice; stories. Ajamull = a Brahman who is considered a sinner because he married a prostitute. Aik Baar = once; all the time. Balmeek = a dog-eater who became highly spiritual and wrote the Ramayana. Dhuroo = a child prince who became a devotee of Waheguru. Nisung = openly. 1. Jaachou = beg for. Churn Rayn = dust of feet (opportunity to serve). Mustuk Laavoun = put on the forehead; serve with dedication. Pause.

Gunika ea = a prostitute who became a devotee of God while training a parrot to utter the word "God". Gujinder = the elephant which was dragged by an octopus, and was about to drown, when he remembered God, and was saved and salvaged by Him. Bipper = Brahman. Sudama = Krishna's childhood friend. Daalud Bhunj = ending poverty. Bhuj(u) = recite the Naam. Gobind = Waheguru. 2. Budhik = the hunter who shot Krishna in the foot with an arrow. Khum(i) = arrow. Perhaar = attack. Koobija = a hum-backed young lady who was sent to kill Krishna, but was cured by him when Krishna touched her with his big toe. Daasut Bhaayay = with the love and respect of a devotee. 3. Prehlad = a child devotee of God whose father, Hernakhsh, wanted to kill him for worshipping God rather than him, but was saved by God. Bustar Cheenut =disrobing. Dropati = the wife of the five Pandavas, who was being disrobed by Duryodhun, the villain in Mahabharat. Laaj = dignity. Jin(i) Jin(u) = whoever. Unt Baar = at the time of death. Pureh Paar = swim across the world-sea (find salvation). 4.

MEANING: I beg for the dust of the feet of (an opportunity to serve) Your holy saints, oh, my Lord. Kindly grant me that so that I may put that on my forehead (obey them like a slave). Pause. With the advice of a holy saint, Ajamull worshipped God with love and with full dedication and found salvation. Balmeek was fortunate to be in the company of holy saints (and attained salvation). Similarly, Dhuroo was clearly blessed with the holy sight of God. 1. Gunika found salvation while training the parrot, and the drowning elephant was freed from the tentacles of an octopus and was given salvation (when he remembered God). The poverty of the Brahman, Sudama, was eradicated by the Lord. So, you too, recite the Naam of Waheguru, oh my mind. 2. The hunter, who fatally wounded Krishan Ji with an arrow, was also salvaged, and the hump of Koobija was removed when Krishna touched her with his big toe. Bidar (of the Mahabharat) was emancipated when he served Krishan Ji with love and respect. So, you too worship Waheguru, oh my mind. 3.
The Lord saved the dignity of Prehlad, Himself, and protected the dignity of Dropati (the wife of the five Pandavas) when she was being stripped in the court of Duryodhun. All those who served the Lord (recited His Naam) at the end were salvaged. So, you too serve Waheguru so as to cross the world-sea, oh my mind. 4.

Gur Nanak Dev Govind roop. 8.1.
Word Meaning: Dhunna = a well-known Bhagat of Waheguru whose 4 Shabads are enshrined in SGGS). Baal Boodh(i) = with innocent wisdom (mind). Tirlochun = another Bhagat of Waheguru, and a contemporary of Namdev Ji. His 4 Shabads are enshrined in SGGS. Sidh(i) = success. Bayni = A bhagat (one Shabad in SGGS). Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. 5. Jaidev = A Bhagat (Shabads in SGGS). Tiyaagiyo = got rid of. Ahunmayv = ego. Naayi = barber. Sain(u) = a Bhagat (Shabad in SGGS). Deeg(i) Na Doalaiy = not weaken or waver. Kuhoun Jaayay = take flights. Turseh(i) = yearn for. 6. Anugreh(u) = show kindness (favour). Uvgun(u) = ignoble qualities. Beechaariyo = considered. Bidh(i) = way; treatment. 7. Kabir, Namdev, and Ravidass = are all highly respected and well-known Bhagats, and each has many, many Shabads enshrined in SGGS. Govind Roop = like Waheguru (His manifestation). 8.
MEANING: Bhagat Dhunna served Waheguru with childlike innocence (and became connected with Him), and Bhagat Tirlochun achieved success (in achieving union with Waheguru) when he took shelter of his Guru. Bayni Ji was enlightened by his Guru. So, you too become a slave (devotee) of Waheguru, oh my mind. 5.

Jaidev Ji got rid of his ego (with Waheguru's Naam), and the barber, Saiyn(u), found salvation by serving Waheguru. The mind of Waheguru's devotee never weakens or wavers, no matter where he goes. So, you, too, yearn for the shelter of Waheguru, oh my mind. 6.
The devotees, whom Waheguru becomes kind to, are protected by Him. He does not consider any of their good or bad qualities. Learning all this, my mind, too, began to serve Waheguru. 7. Kabir Ji worshipped Waheguru with firm love, while Waheguru always stayed with Namdev Ji. Ravidass Ji remembered Waheguru with unparalleled virtues, and Guru Nanak Dev Ji is a manifestation of Waheguru. 8.1.

Budhay = increase. Bikaar = immoral activities. Doobau = drowns; is deeply engrossed. Vuss(i) Keeya = is controlled by. 3. Kub = sometimes. Mungunhaar(u) = beggar. Baandhau = has to experience. Oodhrun = salvation. Saaj(u) = arrangement. Bundhun = chains. Paut Jaah(i) = falls into. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam with love all the time with Guru's Shabad, oh, my friend. Pause. Without remembering Waheguru, man's mind races at high speed (does not find peace), and without understanding Waheguru's Will, the Angel of Death punishes him. He goes to Hell (takes rebirths) and wanders through countless life forms. 1. The man, who does not remember Waheguru, does not realize that Maya's drama is like a cloud of smoke (which quickly dissipates), and finds no contentment in any task. He does not hesitate to commit crimes, and intoxicated with his rich possessions, he is trapped in a long cycle of rebirths. 2. Because of his selfishness, man's immoral activities continue to grow, and the whole world drowns in the sea of worldly attachments and greed. Possessed (controlled) by his lust and rage, he does not remember Waheguru even in his dreams. 3. The whole world experiences comforts and discomforts in life, and sometimes, the man feels like a rajah while at other times he feels like a beggar (pauper). The human mind does not plan for salvation, and gets trapped in more chains of sins every day. 4.

Word Meaning: Eetth = dear. Meet = Sukha = friend. Beej(i) = sow seeds. Khin meh(i) = in a moment. Guvaar = unrefined; foolish. 5. Bhermiya = wandered. Kirt Raykh = as a result of deeds previously done. Kermiya = does deeds. Alipt(u) = fully detached. Layp = coating; touch. Poonn = the conventional noble deeds. 6. Kernhaar(u) = omnipotent. Oocha = transcendent. Apaar(u) = endless. Lurr(i) Laayay = accept in Your shelter. Daas = slave; devotee. Shernaayay = shelter.
MEANING: He reaps the (unfavourable) rewards of his own sowing (bad deeds), and he has no dear or close friend to support him. The foolish leaves all his belongings behind in a short moment, for which he commits immoral acts. 5.
As a result of his previous deeds, he continues to wander, bound by his attachment to Maya. Waheguru is fully detached from the worldly attractions, and noble deeds or sins do not even touch Him (so worship Him to become like Him). 6.
I have come to Your shelter, please protect me (from the attacks of Maya), oh the compassionate and the perfectly kind Waheguru. I have no other support than You, kindly give me Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 7. You are the creator, omnipotent, transcendent, and limitless. I, Nanak, am Your slave and have come to Your shelter. Kindly accept me as Your own, (and provide Your shelter), oh Lord. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Hoh(u) Huriya = acquire new life. Kerm(i) Likhuntaiy = prewritten fate based on one's previous deeds. Root(i) = the season (to worship Waheguru). Soohaayi = pleasant; comforting. Trin(u) = vegetation. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Mauliya = blooms. Ful(u) = reward. Sadhu = Guur. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Chhaayi = filth. Buhourr(i) = again. Dhaayi = wandering (through rebirths). 1.
MEANING: Get a new spiritual life by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my friend. The season (human life) to recite Waheguru's Naam is very pleasant (source of bliss), but one gets to serve Waheguru only with prewritten fate (based on his previous deeds). (When one recites Waheguru's Naam), he acquires the Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam, and feels as if all the forests, all vegetation, and the whole universe have bloomed. One acquires such bliss only in the shelter of the Guru (with His guidance) when all the filth of his mind is washed away. I recite only the Naam of the "One" (Waheguru) as a result of which, I will never take a rebirth, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Punjay Muhhabuli = the five powerful demons. Budhay = controlled. Dhoaa = support. Jupaayiun(u) = makes recites (His Naam). Duyyou = compassionate Waheguru. Khurroaa = comes to support. Nuvva Niroaa = young and healthy. Moaa = death. Soyee Hoaa = becomes like (Him). 2.

MEANING: With the support of the eternal Waheguru, the devotee is able to arrest (control) all the five powerful demons (lust, greed, etc.). Waheguru comes to help His devotees to recite His Naam. All ailments and all his griefs come to an end, and the devotee feels young and healthy (full of energy) all the time. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam day and night, he never experiences death again, for he becomes like Waheguru, who created him (and is absorbed in Him), oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Nobody knows where Waheguru originates from, where He resides, and what He gets absorbed into. All the living beings are created by the Lord, so who can find His worth (limits and qualities)? The devotees, who recite His Naam, worship Him, listen to His Naam, and look attractive (noble and exalted) (in Waheguru's Court). Waheguru is inaccessible and incomprehensible; none other can rival Him. I am only sharing the truth which the Perfect Guru has preached, oh Nanak(u). 3.1.

Word Meaning: Mauli = bloomed; comes to new life. Aatum Pergaash(u) = light of Waheguru. 1. Raja Ram = Waheguru. Anut Bhaayay = in countless ways. Pause. Dootiya = second; moreover. Kutayb = holy books of the West (Bible, Quran, Torah etc.). Shankar = Shiva. Yoag Dhiyan = meditation. Smaan= uniformly present.

MEANING: Waheguru's presence in every heart (every living being) causes them to bloom (show internal joyfulness) in countless different ways (vegetation shows its joyfulness in its own ways, while the living being shows them in their own respective ways). I feel His presence everywhere I look. Pause.

The earth comes to life (shows its joy) and produces all sorts of vegetation; and so does the sky; and every heart blooms with Waheguru's Light in it. 1.

Moreover, the religious books, including the four Vedas, the Simritis, the Quran, the Bible, and the Torah, all bloom (become a source of bliss due to Waheguru's Naam in them). Shiva feels in high spirits with his yoga-style meditation. My Lord is uniformly present in everything, oh Kabir. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Pundit = highly literate. Maatay = intoxicated; conceited. Sanyasi = renouncers. Ahunmayv = ego. Tupsee = who torture themselves to please their deity. Kaiy Bhayv = with their secret (belief). 1. Jaag = awake; sane; enlightened. Choar = the five demons. Ghur(u) = mind. Moosun = rob. Pause. Sukhdayo = a son of sage Vyas, and a devotee of God. Ur = and. Akoor(u) = a maternal uncle of Krishna, and a devotee of God. Hunvunt = Hanuman. Lunkoor(u) = a big tail. Shankar = Shiva. Kul(i) = in Kulyug (which is considered very bad). 2. Saar(u) = supreme. Dayhi = body; man. Adhik = much. Kaam = useful. Bhuj(i) = recite (Naam). 3.

MEANING: The highly literate people are conceited to read the Puranas (about their knowledge of the Puranas), and the yogis are conceited about their long meditations. The Sanyasis are conceited about their renunciation of the world, and the individuals who torture themselves to please their deities are conceited about their own belief. 1.

Everybody is asleep (unaware of the Almighty) under some kind of conceit, and nobody is awake (in spirituality). The five robbers always rob them of their noble qualities. Pause. However, a few people were awake, including the sages Sukhdayo and Akroor(u). Hanuman, with the long tail, was also awake, and Shiva was awake by serving at the Feet of God (to obey His Will). In the present eon, which is considered to be filled with immorality, Namdev Ji, and Jaiydev Ji, were awake (were enlightened). 2.

Being awake or asleep is of many kinds (people sleep or stay awake for many reasons of their own). But those who are awake (enlightened) in the shelter of the Guru (with His advice) are supreme. Waheguru's Naam is of great use for those who recite it. So, recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Kabir. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Joyay = wife; Maya. Khusm(u) = husband; master; mind. Jaaya = gave birth to. Poot(i) = son; mind. Baap(u) = man. Servunaa = udder. Kheer(u) = milk (luxuries of life). 1. Kul(i) = Kulyug (the present era) which is considered to be an eon of troubles. Soot = son. Mooklaayi = married. Maaoun = mother (nature). Pause. Pugaan Bin(u) = without feet. Hooriyaan = big jumps. Budnaiy = mouth. Khir Khir Haansta = big laughter. Nidra = sleep. Sovaiy = sleeps; ignores reality. Baasun = container. Kheer(u) = milk; yogurt. Bilovaiy = churns. 2. Usthun = udder. Luvayri = milking cow. Painday Bin = without any journey of rebirths. Baat Ghunayri = difficult path of reincarnations. Baat = the true path of life. Sumjhaayi = explains. 3.
MEANING: Watch (listen) to the (negative) effect of this eon, oh folks. The son(mind) has married its own mother (Maya, who created him; man takes rebirths due to his enjoyment of the luxuries of Maya) (and is enjoying it). Pause.
The wife (of Waheguru, Maya) has given birth to its own husband (human mind, which is a part of Waheguru). (The man, who is created by Maya, becomes its master (husband) and begins to enjoy it). The son (mind) is acting like the father of man (making him follow its commands). The mind has no udder, yet it is feeding milk (worldly attractions to the man) (getting the man to be engrossed in Maya). 1.
The mind has no feet, yet it makes big jumps (makes big plans); it has no mouth, yet laughs aloud (feels proud to control the man). It never goes to sleep (keeps working all the time), yet puts the man to sleep (keeps him intoxicated in worldly attractions). It has no container, yet churns yogurt (imagine big things). 2.
It is like a cow with no udder that still gives milk (makes unreal plans). (Being a part of the Supreme Soul, the man should not have to go through the cycle of births and deaths, but, because of his love for worldly attractions, he goes through a long cycle of births and deaths. One cannot know the path of righteousness (purification of the mind or soul) without the Guru, explains Kabir. 3.3.

Word Meaning: Putthaay = sent. Purrhunshaal = school. Sung(i) = with. Sukha = friends. Baal = children. All Jaal = worldly affairs. Puttiya = wooden board. 1. Chhodoun = quit. Baba = oh, respectable. Aur = other. Kaam(u) = business; interest. Pause. Sundaiy Merkaiy = Shund and Merk, the teachers of Prehlad. Boolaayay = called in. Bayg Dhaayay = come quickly. Baan(i) = habit; practice. Toort = quick. Chhudaaoun = get you free. Kuhhiya = advice. 2. Staavhou = bother; harass. Gir(i) = Puhaar = mountains. Gureh(i) = to my Guru. Gaar(i) = disgrace. Gaal(i) Jaar(i) = burn. Maar(i) Daar(i) = kill. 3. Kaadh Khurrg = pulled out sword. Kopiyo = enraged. Risaayay = irritated. Raakhunhaaro = saviour. Butaayay = tell; show. Thumbh = pillar. Kaiy Bisthaar = increasing his size and form. Chhadiyo = tore apart. Nukh = with his nails (paws). 4. Perm Purakh = Supreme living being. Dayvadhidayv = the first among all the gods. Hayt(u) = for the love of. Nursingh = human body with a lion's head. Bhayv = in the form of. Lukhay Na = cannot comprehend. Paar = limits. Oodhaary = saved. Anik Baar = countless times.

MEANING: Prehlad was sent to school with quite a few of his childhood friends. (Prehlad did not like the education which revolves around worldly affairs only), So opposing such education, he said, "What kind of education are you giving me, which attaches one with worldly attractions; just write down (praise of) God on my wooden board." 1.

"I will not quit God's Naam; I have no interest in any other type of education, oh my respected teacher". Pause. Shund and Amerk, the teachers of Prehlad, complained to his father, who called Prehlad in and advised him to quit the practice of reciting God's Naam; he would free him (forgive him and let him go right away). 2. But Prehlad was adamant and said, "Why do you harass me again and again. It is God who has created everybody, the waters, the land, and the mountains. So, I will not quit singing His praise, because if I do so, my Guru will be disgraced. So, you may burn me alive, or kill me". 3.

Irritated, his father, King Hernakhsh, pulled out his sword, and, ready to attack, he said to Prehlad in a fit of rage, "Show me where your saviour is". Right at that moment, God tore through a pillar, and appeared in a huge and frightening form – Nursingh – with the lower body of a man, and the head of a lion, and tore apart Hernakhsh with his lion paws. 4.

He is the Supreme Living Being, and the first among all the gods (their creator). He appeared as Nursingh for the sake of His devotee. Nobody can comprehend his limits (capabilities) who saves His countless devotees like Prehlad, oh Kabir. 5.4.

Aousar Saar(i) = somehow spending their time. 2. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. Thaah = measurement; greatness. Deena Nath = Lord of the weak. Aath(i) = Maya. Dheer = lessen. Ruyyoon = recite; sing. 3.

MEANING: A thief-like lust resides in my body, which has robbed me of my jewel-like Divine Knowledge. I am helpless, so what should I do, oh my Lord? Who has not been humiliated (everybody has been) by this thief? So, who am I to resist? 1.

It is a frightening (huge) suffering which I cannot endure, oh my kind Lord. My thinking (mind) is capricious, and I have no control over it. Pause.

Even the great sages and gods like Sunuk, Snundun, Shiva, Sukhdev, and Brahma (who was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu), and the yogis with permanently tangled hair, were all victims of lust, and simply killed their time somehow, and left the world. 2. You are fathomless, and I do not know Your splendour, and do not have access to you. So, whom should I tell my suffering, oh my Lord? Kindly lessen (remove) my suffering caused by the attractions of Maya, which lead to rebirths, oh God. I simply wish to sing praise of God, who is the ocean (source) of all comforts, oh Kabir. 3.5.

Naayik(u) aik(u), bunjaaray paanch. Berdh pucheesuk, sung(u) kaach. Nuoun buhhiya, dus goan(i) aah(i). Kussun buhuttar(i) laagi taah(i). 1. Moh(i) aiysay bunuj siyoun nuhhi na kaaj(u).

jhaar(i). 2. Poonji hiraani, bunuj toot. Dehdis taando guyyo phoot(i). Keh(i) Kabir mun sersi kaaj. Sehj(i) smaano ta bherm bhaaj. 3.6.

Word Meaning: Naayik = leader; moneylender. Aik = man. Bunjaaray = traders. Paanch = five (senses). Berdh = oxen (in those oxen were used to carry merchandize). Pucheesuk = twenty-five (basic elements in the body according to the Sankhya Shastra). Sung(u) = accompanying. Kaach = perishable. Nuoun = the nine doors of the human body. Buhhiya = poles (clubs) used to load the heavy merchandize. Dus = the ten senses (five natural, and five implementors). Goan(i) = big bags (of grains or somethings similar). Aah(i) = is; are. Kussun = pack-threads to tighten (to stitch). Buhuttar = 72 (long veins). Taah(i) = with that. 1. Bunuj = business. Kaaj(u) = interest. Mool(u) = capital. Biyaaj = interest to pay. Pause. Saat Soot = trading. Mil(i) = getting together (of the senses and desires). Kerm Bhaavni = the character based on deeds previously done. Teen = the three characters of Maya. Jagaati = tax collectors. Raar(i) = dispute; demand share. Haath Jhaar(i) = empty-handed. 2. Poonji Hiraani = capital. Hiraani = lost. Dehdis = in every direction. Taando = merchandise. Phoot(i) = scatters. Sersi Kaaj = the task (objective) will be successful. Sehj(i) Smaano = get absorbed in a high spiritual state. Bherm Bhaaj = the illusions run away (disappear). 3.

MEANING: The man is alone who has some capital of noble qualities with which his five senses do worldly business (enjoy life). The twenty-five basic elements (according to the Sankhya Shastra) serve as the oxen to carry the merchandise, which is all perishable. The nine doors of the body act as clubs (poles) to load the merchandize and the ten senses (five natural, and five implementors) act as the bags containing the merchandise (of wishes and desires). The 72 long veins act as the pack-threads to stitch the body and the senses together. 1. I am not interested in the trading business (immoral enjoyments of life) in which the capital of noble qualities decreases every day, and the interest (debt) of the immoral activities keeps increasing. Pause.

All the senses get together to do the business, which is aided by the character of the mind (man) developed by his previous deeds. The three qualities of Maya serve as tax collectors and demand their share of the man's capital (noble qualities), so, in the end, the trader man leaves empty-handed. 2. All his wealth (of noble qualities is robbed, and the business comes to an end. The ingredients of the human body (the senses, wishes, desires, lust, etc.) get scattered in every direction. Kabir advises that if the man wishes to achieve his objective successfully, he needs to attain a high spiritual state in which all his misgivings and illusions will flee (and he will unite with God). 3.6.

Word Meaning: Jootthi = impure; false. Ful = offspring. Abhaagay = unfortunate. 1. Soocha = pure. Tthaaoun = place. Pause. Jihba = tongue. Bolut = words; conversation. Kern = ears. Inderi = senses. Ootrus(i) Naahi = does not come off. Braham Ugun(i) = the fire of the conceit of being a Brahman. Lootthay = burnt. 2. Kurchhi = ladle. Purosun = serve. 3. Gobur(u) = cow-dung. Chaunka = outdoor kitchen. Kaara = boundary lines. Tayee = those. Bichaara = thinking. 4.

MEANING: (Not worrying about the purity of his mind, the Brahman shows his outside purity to impress the masses, and cooks his food in his own special ways, and eats in an outside kitchen which has been "purified" by coating the floor with cow-dung, and by drawing an outer boundary to stop entry of the undesirable people). Kabir Sahib questions such purity and advises the Pundit.

Tell me which place is pure where I should sit down to eat my food, oh Pundit. Pause.

Your mother's wisdom and your father's discontentment were both impure (sinful), and so are their offspring (your evil thinking). The man is born impure, and leaves impure, and the unfortunate dies impure as well 1. You are impure, your tongue is impure as it tells lies, and so are your conversations. Your ears are impure (because they enjoy listening to immoral things), and your eyes are also impure because they cast evil sights on the belongings of others. The impurity (filth) of your senses never comes off, oh, burnt in the fire of your false conceit of being a Brahman, oh, pundit. 2.

The fire and the water are impure (because they are used to cook food with discrimination against people in mind), and the people who sit down to cook your food are impure. The impure meal is served with the impure ladle, and the impure people sit down to eat. 3.

The cow-dung, with which you coat the floor, is impure, and so are your outdoor kitchen and its boundary lines. Only those individuals are pure who have pure thinking, oh Kabir. 4.1.7.

Word Meaning: Kut = where. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Rung(u) = love; high spirits. Pung(u) = lame; cripple. Pause. Divus = day. Oomung = zest; desire. Ghus(i) = graze; abrade.

Chundun = sandalwood. Choa = extract of flowers. Soogundh = fragrances. Poojun Chaali = left for worshipping. Braham Tthaayayn = temple. Braham = God. 1. Juhaan = wherever. Teh = there. Pukhaan = (idols of) stones. Smaan = uniformly. Joyay = examine well. 2. Toar = for you. Sukul = all; whole. Bikul = tough; hard. Bherm = misconceptions. Kaatay = cleared. Soami = Lord. Rumut = present. Koat(i) = millions. Kerm = (ignoble) deeds.

MEANING: Why do you need to visit some (religious) place when you are already feeling in high spirits, and have love for God in your heart? I do not feel like going anywhere as my mind feels crippled. Pause.

One day, I had a desire to go to a temple and worship God by offering abraded sandalwood, flower extract, and many fragrant materials, but the Guru showed me the Lord in my own heart. 1.

You find water and the stone idols everywhere you go. But You are uniformly present everywhere, oh God. I have carefully examined the Vedas and the Puranas and concluded that one needs to go to a religious place only if God is not present here. (inside me). 2.

I am a sacrifice for my Guru, who has cleared all my tough misgivings. `Rama Nand's Soami is present everywhere. Guru's Shabad eradicates the results of countless ignoble deeds. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Sahib(u) = master. Sunkutvaiy = gives trouble. Sayvuk = servant; attendant. assistant. Chrinkaal = long time. Lujiay = brings shame. 1. Churn Kumul = lotus-like (Feet of God) (His Naam). Heeuray = in heart (mind). Pause. Maandaiy = is determined (ready). 2. Ganga, (Guyya), Godaavri = (holy places along the banks of) these two rivers. Kaama = rituals; customs. Supersunn = overly pleased. 3.

MEANING: If the long-time personal attendant of an employer deserts him when the employer causes some hardship for the attendant, the attendant does not live for a long time anyway, but brings shame (because of his disloyalty) to both generations of his family (his parents, and his children). 1.

But I will not leave Your worship (will be a loyal devotee) even if people make fun of me, oh Lord. Your lotus-like Feet (Your Naam) have been enshrined in my heart. Pause.

Like a money-lover who becomes determined to die for his wealth, God's devotees are determined not to quit reciting His Naam. 2. Anil Bayrra = boat is in wind (strong storm). Khayv(i) Na = cannot steer (keep afloat). Paar(i) = the other end. 2. Tur = swim. Baanh Dayh = extend Your hand. 4.

MEANING: Powerful waves of greed are rising very high in the world-sea (of Maya), and I am drowning in the sea, oh, my Lord with beautiful long hair. 1.
Please, ferry me across the world-sea, oh my father, God. Pause.
I cannot steer my boat in this stormy sea, and cannot find Your limits either, oh, my God. Please, be kind to me, and connect me with Satguru, who will ferry me across. 3.

Throotut(i) = a small ball of food (usually of animal-dung). Haankti = drives (rolls along). Sur(i) = pool; lake; gathering of holy saints (Guru). Laaduli = lover (devotee) of God. Pause. Dhobi = washerman; Guru. Bireh Biraata = detached from the world because of His love for God; imbued in love of God. Raata = imbued. 2. Bhunut(i) = says. Rum Ruhhiya = omnipresent (God). 3.

MEANING: Like a washerwoman who drives the bullock-cart full of dirty laundry from behind with a stick in her hand, and goes to some pool to wash the dirty clothes; and like a persistent dung-beetle, which (performs a tough job) to push a ball of animal dung and rolls it along slowly, a dear devotee of Waheguru gathers mental strength, and goes to attend the holy gathering of the Guru to wash away his filth in the holy pool of God's Naam which is recited at the gathering. 1 & Pause. Imbued in God's love and detached from the world, the washerman-like Guru cleanses the minds of His devotees. As a result, my mind has been imbued with the love for God's Naam. 2.

Word Meaning: Soojhunta = think straight. Pehraava = (expensive) outfit. Oobh(i) Jaah(i) = head swells; is conceited. Gerbvati = egoist. Naahi Thaaoun = cannot contain in self. Luvvaiy Kaaoun = crow crows (brings message of death); death looms over your head. (It is a common belief that when a crow crows on the roof, it is a signal for some visitor to come). 1. Kaaay = why? Gerbeh(i) = conceited. Baanvli = foolish. Bhaadoun Khoombraj(u) = a big mushroom in the month of August (which dies quickly). Khurie = more. Ootaavli = impatient (more likely) (to die). Pause. Koorunk = musk-deer. Bhayd(u) = secret. Soogundh = fragrance. Dhoondhaiy = searches for. Perdays(u) = outside. Up Tun = own body (self). Kunkur = assistant. Khooaar(u) = humiliation. 2. Kluttar = wife. Ahunkaar = pride. Laykha = account of deeds. Mungunhaar = demands. Pharray = result of (bad) deeds. Suhhaiy = endures. Paachhaiy = after (death). Peeou = dear. 3. Sadhu = Guru. Oat = shelter. Koat(i) = millions. Joan(i) = womb; rebirths in different life forms. Kaam(u) = business. 1.

MEANING: What are you so conceited about, oh, foolish man? Your life could come to an end even sooner than the large mushroom that grows in the month of August (and which has a very short life). Pause.

You get conceited even to look at your expensive clothes and cannot contain your conceit. You cannot think straight to realize that death looms over your head. 1.

Like the musk-deer, which does not know the secret of his fragrance (that the source of fragrance is his own body), and searches for the source outside, (the man does not realize that God is present in his own heart, and searches for Him in the wilderness). The individual, who examines his inner-self, is not humiliated by the assistant of the Angel of death. 2.

The individual, who becomes conceited of his sons and his wife, does not realize that God will ask for the account of his behaviour and his deeds. One has to bear the consequences of his (bad) deeds. Who can he call his dear after his death? 3.

All the millions of your sins will be erased if you come to the Guru's shelter, oh man. An individual who recites God's Naam has nothing to do with his worldly caste, the place where he was born, or even his rebirths (he is never born again), oh Ravidass. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sureh = cow; gentle nature. Chaal = gait; walking. Poonchhut Jhumuk Baal = hairs shine on the tail; dress of a gentleman. 1. Iss Ghur Meh(i) = in your own house; honest earnings. Dhoondh(i) = search. Aour Kis Kay = others belongings. Mut(i) = do not. Pause. Chaaki Chaateh = lick the grinding mill. Choon(u) = flour. Cheethurra = the cleaning rag. 2. Chheekay = a basket hung high to store food to keep it safe from cats and dogs; belongings of others. Deetth(i) = greedy look. Mut(u) = watch out. Sota = heavy stick. Peetth(i) = on the back. Bhog Bhulay = many enjoyments. Eent Dhaym = stone you. 4.

NOTE: In this Shabad, Kabir Ji compares the man to a dog for his greed.

MEANING: You look very gentle from your gait and from the way you dress, oh, the dog-like greedy man. 1. You have the right to eat and enjoy everything from your own home, but you should not cast any evil eye on others' houses. Pause.

Like a dog eats the flour spilled outside a flour mill, and even licks it, you may eat everything available to you, but like the dog which takes even the mill rag with traces of flour on it with him because of his greed, why do you over-indulge as if there will be no tomorrow, oh man? 2. Like a dog, you have a highly greedy look at the high-hanging basket (at the houses of others), but watch out, you may be hit hard with a heavy stick on your back (may be severely punished. 3.

You have enjoyed many different foods (and are still not satisfied). Make sure others do not pelt stones on you, warns Kabir. 4.1.
