MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being; His existence is (laws are) eternal; He is the creator of the universe; He is a living power (is omnipresent), and is fearless (because He has no superior, and is above the natural laws); He bears no enmity with anyone (as He has no rival, and is perfectly just). Time has no effect on His persona; He never takes any life form, and is self-illuminating; He can be realized only with Guru's grace.

Word Meaning: Tthaakur = Master; Lord. Chayri = disciple; devotee. Churn = feet; shelter. Guhhay = held; acquired. Nibayri = ended. Jug-Jeevun = life (soul) of the world. Pause. Poorun = perfect; omnipresent. Perm Jot(i) = supreme light. Praan =life. Mohun = mind-captivating (Waheguru). Moh(i) = captivated. Sumjhus(i) = understands; makes connection. 1. Heen = lacking; weak-minded. Hoachhi Mut(i) = shallow thinking. Jhootthi = about worldly things. Jub Kee = ever since. Rungeelaiy = colourful; performer of amazing feats. Raati = imbued. Dheeray = finds peace. 2. Baiyraagun(i) = detached from worldly attractions. Soort(i) = focus of mind. Smaani = absorbed. Akool = having no clan. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya. Maaniya = came to like. Laaj Lokaani = shame of the people. 3. Bhoor = past. Bhuvikh = future. Praan-Adhaara = basis of life. Sohaagun(i) = fortunate; loved by the husband. Bhutaara = husband. 4.

MEANING: I am a devotee of my Lord, Waheguru, who is the basis of the life of the whole world, and have sought His shelter, and destroyed (overcome) my selfishness and ego in His shelter. Pause. My omnipresent Waheguru, which is the supreme source of enlightenment for the world, is very dear to me and is the basis of my life. The mind-captivating Waheguru has captivated my mind, and I have made a connection with Him by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. 1.

Those who follow their own mind (disconnected with Waheguru) are weak-minded, have very shallow wisdom, which thinks only about the perishable worldly things, as a result of which, they suffer mental and physical pain (agony). Ever since my mind has been imbued with my love for the colourful Waheguru, which performs amazing feats, my mind has become peaceful (has quit wandering). 2.

I have become detached from the world by overcoming my selfishness and ego, and my mind has been absorbed in Waheguru (His Naam). My mind has been pleased with Waheguru, which has no clan and is above the effects of Maya. Now, I do not care about any shame from the people (taunting me). 3.
There was none like You in the past, and there will be none even in the future, oh, my dear Waheguru. You are the basis of my life. That human-bride is fortunate, who is imbued in Waheguru's Naam with Him as her Husband (Lord), and is loved by Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Nanak, Prubh tay sehj, soohayli, Prubh daykhut hee mun dheeray. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Kiyoun = how. Biyaapaiy = affects. Jihva = tongue; language. Saad(u) = taste. Feeki = tasteless. Rus = sweetness. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Suntaapaiy = tortures. Pause. Jub Lug(u) = as long as. Pursaiy = touch; get. Tub Lug(u) = till then. Maaniya = pleased. Kumul = lotus. Bigaasi = blooms; thrives 1. Oonuv(i) = coming lower. Ghunhur(u) = clouds. Gurjaiy = thunders. Bursaiy = rains. Kokil = song-bird; cuckoo. Moar = peacocks. Baiyraagaiy = love (the rainy season); feel overjoyed. Turvur = trees. Birkh = oxen. Bihung = birds. Bhooyungum = snakes. Pir(u) = dear; husband. Sohaagaiy = enjoys union. 2. Koochil = filthy living. Kroop(i) = ugly. Koonaar(i) = bad woman.
Koolukhni = having ignoble qualities. Sehj = bliss (of union with Waheguru-husband). Rung(i) = in love. Rusn = tongue. Tripti = contented; feel blissful. Doomut(i) = bad (unclean) thinking. 3. Derd = pain. Sehj Soohayli = blissful of the union. Dheeray = peaceful. 4.

MEANING: How can I survive without Waheguru (His Naam) when one suffers (mentally) without Him? One's language becomes impolite and tasteless without the sweetness of His Naam, and the fear of death tortures him. Pause.
As long as I do not get His holy sight (connect with Him), I feel hungry and thirsty (dissatisfied). Like the lotus flower, which blooms in water, my mind gets blissful only when I see Him. 1.
(In the rainy season) When the low clouds thunder and cause rain, the song-birds and the peacocks, along with the trees, the oxen (because they do not have to work in the fields), the birds, and the snakes feel overjoyed. Similarly, the fortunate human-bride, who has Waheguru in her heart, enjoys His union. The human soul which does not enjoy the bliss of union with Waheguru is filthy, ugly, a bad woman, and has ignoble qualities (in her character). Because of her unclean thinking, her tongue is not contented with (imbued in) the love of Waheguru's Naam, and she continues to suffer. 3.

But the human-bride who enjoys the bliss of union with Waheguru finds peace of mind only after she has a sight of Waheguru (gets connected with Him). Such a bride does not suffer in taking rebirths, and dying, and suffers no mental or physical pain, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Kaamun(i) = Dhun = woman; human-bride. Sohaag(u) = fortunate. Jaat(i) = caste = Bern. Kool = clan. Sehsa = worry; doubts. Chooka = ended. Beechaari = thinker. 1. Maanaiy = convinced; pleased. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Hinsa = cruelty. Lobh = greed. Visaaray = forgets. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Ruvaiy = enjoys. Suvaaray = adorned (with noble qualities). 2. Jaarou = burn away. Preet(i) = love for. Kootumb = family. Sunbundhi = relatives. Pusaari = which spreads (increases). Moh = attachment. Doobidha = indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya). Kerm = deeds. Bikaari = sensual pleasures. 3. Ruttan Pdaaruth = jewel-like precious thing (Waheguru's Naam) Hit Kuou = for the love of. Dooraiy Na = does not stay hidden (unknown); becomes famous. Laal Piyari = dear to Waheguru. Amoluk = priceless. Joog(i) Joog(i) = in every eon. Dhaari = acquires. 4.
MEANING: My mind has been convinced by Guru's Shabad, and I have realized that my Waheguru is not far from me, and I have been connected with the basis of my life (Waheguru). Pause. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, one's doubts about her societal caste, and her clan get cleared, and this is how the fortunate human bride can connect with her dear husband (Waheguru). 1.
The individual, whose mind is pleased (convinced) with Guru's Shabad, gets over her ego, and forgets all about cruelty and greed (they no longer influence her). She is adorned with noble qualities in Guru's shelter, and enjoys the bliss of her union with her Husband. 2.
I will burn all the love for my family and the relatives, which simply increases one's love for Maya. The individual, who does not have love for the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, is a victim of indecisiveness, and she commits immoral acts of sensual pleasures. 3.

The devotee, who has love for the jewel-like, invaluable Waheguru's Naam in her mind, does not stay unknown (she becomes famous). Waheguru's Naam is priceless, which His devotees acquire in their mind only in the shelter of the Guru no matter what the era, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Kaatay Door(i) = destroyed completely. Aatum Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light (Divine Knowledge). Perphoolit = thrives; grows fast. Hujoor(i) = close by. 1. Vuddaiy Bhaag(i) = with good fortune. Utth-sutth(i) = the 68 (Hindu holy places). Mujun = bath; dips. Pug Dhoor(i) = dust of the feet (serve them humbly). Naayay = washes the filth away. 2. Doormut(i) = ignoble thinking. MEANING: I am a humble servant (devotee) of the holy saints in whose shelter (company) I attained the highest spiritual state, and now I "see" Waheguru present everywhere. Pause.
One achieves peace of mind in the shelter of Satguru when all one's sins are destroyed completely. Waheguru's Light (enlightenment of mind) grows fast in his mind, and he sees Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, close to him. 1.
One gains the company of the holy saints and great fortune by reciting His Naam and sees Waheguru as omnipresent. Taking a dip in the dust of the feet of the holy saints (serving them humbly) is like taking a dip at the 68 holy places. 2.
But those who have their thinking polluted, enjoy sensual pleasures, have filthy and shallow thinking, and have deceit at heart. They stay attached to the perishable worldly comforts. The man suffers because of his haumein, and repents and regrets later. 3.

I beg for the dust of the feet of the holy saints (an opportunity to humbly serve them); please be kind, and grant me the opportunity, oh Waheguru. The Guru connects one with Waheguru, and when one is connected with the Guru, he sees Waheguru very close to him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Lukhaari = is seen. 2. Dhernidhur = the support for the earth (God). Saakut = worshipper of Maya. Trishna = fire of worldly desires. Jooyay = in gamble. Baaji = game of life. 3. Ootthut = standing. Baiytthut = sitting. Kinchut(i) = a little. Payij Suvaari = enhances dignity. 4.

MEANING: The world-sea cannot be swum across (by one's own efforts). I am a sacrifice for the Feet of Waheguru (His Naam) because one can swim across the world-sea by reciting His Naam. Pause.

When one recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, his faith in Him grows to a great degree, and the omnipotent Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, gets embedded in his heart, and his thinking becomes contemplative by serving Him (obeying His Will). 1.

Waheguru, which is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and limitless, is present everywhere, and in the body and mind of everybody. When the Guru becomes benevolent toward a devotee, he acquires the incomprehensible Waheguru in his heart and sees him there. 2.

Even though the Naam of Waheguru, which is the support for the earth, is present in everybody's heart, He appears far away to the conceited worshipper of Maya. The fire of his worldly desires is never put out, and he loses the game of his life in the gamble (loses his noble qualities to the attractions of Maya). 3.

The individual, whom the Guru is evenly slightly kind to, sings Waheguru's praise whether he is standing (working) or sitting (resting). Waheguru enhances the dignity of His devotees on whom He casts a kind sight, oh Nanak. 4.2.

All the suffering of the devotees, who humbly act on the Guru's advice, is eradicated. They worship Waheguru all the time in the shelter of the Guru, and are adorned with noble qualities with the Guru's Shabad. 1.

With Waheguru's sweet Naam at heart, they sing (recite) Waheguru's praise with their tongue, enjoying its sweetness, and ponder on the sweet Naam. With Guru's benevolence, they recognize (make a connection with) the sweet Naam, and reach the door of emancipation 2. Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru, is firm-minded, has firm thinking (against the attractions of Maya), and has firm faith in Waheguru's support through His Naam. I am a sacrifice for such a Guru, and will gladly surrender my mind to Him. 3.

The followers of their mind are misled by their misgivings, have the darkness of ignorance in their minds, and love Maya. They do not see (realize) that Satguru is the provider of all necessities; they submerge in the world-sea, and are neither on this shore nor on the other. (neither find peace in this world, nor in the next after death). 4.

The omnipotent Waheguru is present in every heart and supports everyone with His power. I, Nanak, am a slave of His slaves (devotees), and pray to Him that He salvages me too with His benevolence. 5.3.

MEANING: Serve Waheguru in such a way that you accept everything that He does as the eternal truth, and stay focused on His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. Pause.
When one finds love for Waheguru to be extremely sweet, he forgets loving everything else. His mind is fully pleased with Waheguru, and he is always blissful as his soul merges with Waheguru's Soul. 1.
He is content only when he sings Waheguru's praise, and his mind becomes completely peaceful. But one gets attached to Waheguru (His Naam) only with the grace of the Guru. 2.
One's thinking (mind) is enlightened when one recites Waheguru's Naam with a fully focused mind. When one's mind is pleased with Waheguru when he meditates on His Naam in the peaceful state of mind, Waheguru's Light appears (enlightens) his mind. 3.
On the other hand, the individual, who does recite Waheguru's Naam but only as a show off (to impress others), and has deceit at mind, and performs deeds based on deceit, has immense darkness of greed in his mind and is like the individual who threshes only the empty shells of grains (a labour without any reward), and suffers. 4.
When Waheguru becomes overpleased with a devotee, he gets attached to Waheguru with the grace of the Guru. I have acquired Waheguru's Naam (which enables one to stay unaffected by Maya), and am enjoying bliss, oh Nanak. 5.4.

(Waheguru listened to my prayer), And I acquired the sweetness of His Naam in the company of the holy saints, and now I find His Naam to be very sweet in my body and my mind. 1. The devotees, who love Waheguru and get connected with Him in the shelter of the Guru, stay imbued in His love. They become as Waheguru and their souls merge with the Supreme Soul, as a result of which, they enjoy blissfulness, and their birth-death cycle is terminated. 2. I have a wish to see You with love-filled eyes, recite Your Naam with my tongue, listen to Your praise with my ears, and have love for You in my heart day and night, oh Waheguru. 3. MEANING: Nothing, other than Waheguru's Naam, is permanent (to stay with you) in this world; all other expanses of Maya are (spiritually) worthless. So, recite and read Waheguru's Naam, which is supreme, oh my mind. Pause.

Every visible thing in the world is (spiritually) worthless, so what can one acquire, and what can one give up (there is nothing useful), oh, insane man. The poisonous wealth which you believe is yours will leave you (after your death), and you will be left with a burden of bad deeds on your mind, oh man. 1. The foolish does not realize that his life span is decreasing slowly every moment; the character (nature) of the Maya-worshipper is such that he does only those things which will not accompany him. 2.

You will reach the door of emancipation if you attend the company of the holy saints, oh, insane man. You may ask (read to know the verdict of) the Vedas, and you will find that nobody has attained emancipation without the company of the holy saints. 3.

Be it a rajah or anybody else, everybody has to leave this world and leave the perishable expanse of Maya behind. Only the holy saints, who make Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life, live forever through their teachings, and by merging into Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Bikhiya Rus(u) = enjoyments of Maya. Puchhutaap = repentance. 1. Oopdaysh(i) = teaching. Jun = devotee; holy saint. Suntaap = suffering. 2.

NOTE: Before leaving this mortal world, Guru Ram Dass Ji, the Fourth Guru, gave the Guruship to His youngest son, Shri Arjun Dev Ji, bypassing His oldest son, Pirthi Chand, because the latter was less spiritual and more attracted to worldly attractions. Pirthi Chand had thought that it was his right to be the next Guru, so he made a huge fuss. In this holy Shabad, Guru Sahib teaches Pirthi Chand (and all of us) that money does not stay with anyone forever; it is Waheguru's worship that makes a man good and acceptable to Him.

MEANING: Why do you argue angrily with your father, oh my son? It is a sin to argue with one's parents who give birth to him and raise him. Pause.
The wealth, which you are conceited of (you love), never stays with you all the time. The man leaves the poisonous enjoyments of Maya in a moment, only to suffer the consequences. 1.

Waheguru's devotees get connected with Him because of their deep reverence for Him, and only in the shelter of the Guru (with His grace). My mind was filled with bliss on "seeing" the Royal Waheguru. Waheguru became benevolent to His devotee, Nanak, when I recited His Naam everyday, and all the time. 2.3.10.

Word Meaning: Nibhuou = fearless (because He has no equal). Sat(i) = eternal. Nirvaiyr(u) = bears no enmity (perfectly just). Akal Moorut(i) = time has no effect on His persona. Ajooni = does not take any life form. Sumbhuou = self-illuminated. Undino = everyday. Nirunkaar(u) = formless. Nirahaari = needs no food. Pause. Koat(i) = millions. Koat(i) Taytees = the 330 million (Hindu gods). Jutee = celibates. Tut = banks of rivers. Teeruth = holy places. Purbhuvun = roaming around. Thaayayn Puyyi = given credit. Bunvaari = God. 1. Bhulay = good; noble; approved (by God). Tay = those. Ootum = superior. Bhaavut = are liked. Mooraari = Waheguru. Ung(u) Kuray = favours. Paiyj Suvaari = enhanced dignity. 2.

MEANING: Recite all the time the Naam all Waheguru which is fearless, is eternal, bears no enmity with anyone (is fully just), and on which time has no effect; which never takes any life form, is self illuminated, is formless, and which needs no food to survive, oh my mind. Pause.

Countless people, including the Sidhs, celibates, yogis, and the 330 million gods, live at holy places on the banks of rivers, undertake pilgrimages, roam around, and stay without food to "see" Waheguru. But only the hard labour of those is given credit (is rewarded) by Waheguru, whom He is kind to. 1.

Only those holy saints and devotees of Waheguru are noble (are approved), and are superior, who are liked by Waheguru. Waheguru enhances the dignity of those devotees, whom He favours, oh Nanak. 2.4.11.

Word Meaning: Govind = God. Gooni-Nidhaan(u) = treasure of virtues (God). Srisht(i) = world. Prubho = Lord. Boal(i) = sing praise. Abinaashi = immortal. Pause. Piyaasi = feeds. Chukhaasi = tastes. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Jaasi = goes away. Chatrik = rain-bird, the mythical bird which drinks only the first drop of rain. Triptaasi = is contented. 2.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of Waheguru which is the treasure of all virtues, and is the Lord of the whole world, oh my mind. Sing praise of the eternal Waheguru, oh my mind. Pause. Only that individual gets to enjoy the sweet taste of the immortalizing Naam of Waheguru who has the thirst for (big desire to see) Waheguru. Only that lucky individual whom Waheguru connects with Satguru with his benevolence, tastes the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru. 1. The individual, who serves (recites the Naam of) my Waheguru all the time, gets all his suffering, misgivings, and his worldly fears eradicated. MEANING: Recite always the Naam, and sing praise of Waheguru which is omnipresent, is eternal, and is omniscient. Pause.
Waheguru is the creator of everythin and of the whole world. The individual, whom Waheguru becomes kind to, recites His Naam with full concentration, and stays absorbed in Him. 1. Just watch the greatness of Waheguru which protects the dignity of his devotees in the next world (in His Court). Word Meaning: Moorut(i) = persona. Bul(i) Jaaoun = lay down life. Untar(i) = in. Chaatrik = the rain-bird. Suful = successful; actual. Pause. Anaathaan = orphans; shelterless. Serb = all. Pritpaaluk(u) = raiser and nourisher. Bhugut-Vuchhul = lovers of His devotees. Praani = oh, man. Asraaou support; shelter. 1. Needhuriyaan = support-less. Dhur = support. Niguttiyaan = in very low spirits. Gut(i) = in high spirits. Nithaaviyaan = shelter-less. Dehdis = in any of the ten directions (eight horizontal and two vertical). Tuhaan = there. Sungay = with. Keerut Kerm = deeds of Your praise. Kmaaoun = work toward. 2. Gut(i) = transcendence. Mit(i) = measurements; limits. Bayunt(u) = limitless. Khayl(u) = drama. Dikhaaoun = I see. 3. Sadhun = holy saints. Sadh = Guru. Gosht(i) = meeting; discussions. Liv Laaoun = meditate with full dedication. Chaaou = excitement; zest; strong desire. 4.

MEANING: I will gladly lay down my life for my Satguru, and just like the rain-bird which feels satisfied only after drinking the first drop of rain (and waits for that), I am eagerly waiting for the moment when I will actually see my Satguru (to connect me with God). Pause.
Waheguru is the shelter for the shelterless, and He is the raiser and the nourisher of all. Lover of the devotees is His name (He is known for this). He provides support to an individual who has none at all. 1.
He is the support of the support-less, raises the spirits of those in low spirits (provides encouragement), and provides shelter to the shelter-less. No matter in which direction I go, You are always with me; and performing noble deeds is Your real praise, oh Waheguru. 2.
There are millions of worlds which You have created from Yourself, and which will eventually get absorbed in You. I cannot describe Your transcendence and Your limits. You are limitless, and we cannot find Your limits; I see Your Drama (creation) everywhere, oh Lord. 3.

I am always in the company of the Guru, have conversations with Him, and meditate on Waheguru's Naam in His shelter. I have acquired You through Guru's Advice and have a strong desire to see You. Kindly show me Your holy sight, prays Nanak. 4.1.

Sadh-sungut(i) kee dhoor(i) ikk maagoun, jun Nanak, puyyo suraan. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Untarjaami = omniscient. Jaan = know-all. Sakhi = witness. Bhoot = past. Puvaan = future. Pause. Baishno = a devotee of Vishnu; maintains all sorts of physical purity. Khut Kerma = the six expected rituals of the Brahmans and the Khatris (see "INTRODUCTION"). Lobh Jootthaan = impurity (filth) of greed. Doobay = drown in the world-sea; lost in worldly attractions. Ugiyaan = ignorant. Soampaak = food prepared with own hands (to maintain purity). Hireh(i) = steal. Pur Durba = wealth of others. Goomaan = conceit. Mun Kaiy Maan = are controlled by their ego. 2. Bidh(i) = the rules; practices. Biyaapay = influenced by; guided by. Sundhiya Kaal = the prescribed prayers. Verta = religious principles (customs). Sufree = entertainer. Dumphaan = entertaining tricks. Oojhurr Paayay = misled to wilderness (confusion). Nihful = worthless. Kermaan = deeds; rituals. 3. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Oodhriya = salvaged. Bisvaan = world. 4. Kuth = describe. Bhaavaiy = (as He) wishes). Dhoor(i) = dust of feet (opportunity to serve). Suraan = shelter. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru is omniscient and knows everything about us. One hides his immoral deeds from people, but how can he hide them from Waheguru, the witness of all his past and future deeds? The man considers himself a devotee of Vishnu and performs all six religious rituals, yet harbours the filth of greed within. All such people are spiritually ignorant, and vilify the holy saints and their gatherings as a result of which, they drown in the world-sea (die spiritual death). 1.

As a show of external purity, they cook their own food but are egoists, tell lies, and steal others' wealth. They do not follow the principles of the Vedas and the Shastras and are controlled by their own ego. 2.

They do offer their scheduled prayers and observe religious customs, but all their actions are meant to show off, like the tricks of an entertainer. Actually, they are misled to confusion by Waheguru Himself, and all their rituals are spiritually worthless. 3.
Only that individual is educated and a devotee of Waheguru, whom He is kind to. Such people attain the highest spiritual state by serving Satguru and attain salvation for the whole world. 4. I have no ability to describe Waheguru's virtues and His amazing feats; I only say whatever He makes me say. I have sought Waheguru's shelter, and beg for the dust of the feet of the holy saints (an opportunity to serve them), oh Nanak. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Naachno = dancing for Maya. Ruhho = has ended. Laal(u) = ruby-like, Dear. Rungeela = colourful; performer of amazing feats. Buchun = Shabad. Luhho = acquired. Pause. Kooaar Kunniya = newly married young woman. Sung(i) = with. Suhayri = friends. Priya Buchun = talks about her Dear. Oophaas = in a joyful mood. Soorijun = noble man (husband). Greh(i) Bheetur = in the house. Kaaj(i) = covers. Lujo = shyness. 1. Kuniko = gold. Kotthaari = a crucible like container in which gold is melted. Kubro = (dances like) crazy. Shoodh = pure. Baareh(i) = purest form of gold. Thaan Thiro = becomes stable (peaceful). Bujjiyo = strikes (the bell of clocktower). Moorut, Ghuree, Pulo = short periods of time. Bujaavunhaaro = the striker. Ootth(i) Sidhaariyo = leaves the scene. Baaj = sound. Bhuyyo = happens. 3. Koombh = a pitcher of water. Ooduk = water. Poor(i) Aaniyo = brought in full. Bhinn = different. Drishto = is seen. Daariyo = poured in. Umbhaiy = water.

MEANING: Now, my dancing to the tune of Maya has ended as I have acquired the dear and colourful Waheguru with Satguru's Shabad in my high spiritual state. Pause.
Like the newly married young woman who talks about her dear husband with her friends in a joyful mood, my capricious mind was also dancing joyfully for Maya, but has now become shy (stable) like the young woman, who covers her face in shyness when her husband comes home. 1. Another way to describe the situation of my mind is that it was dancing like crazy for Maya, like the gold piece placed in the hot crucible to melt, but now it is peaceful, like the purest form of gold, which quits dancing when all impurities are removed. 2.
Yet another way to describe the situation of my capricious mind is that it was making noise (demands) like a bell in the clock-tower which is struck at regular intervals of time, but when the attendant leaves, the bell strikes no more (becomes peaceful. (Now that Maya, which was causing noise in my mind, has left my mind), it too has become peaceful. 3.
Now, my mind (soul), which seemed different from that of Waheguru's, has merged with Him and has become indistinguishable like the water in a pitcher which seemed different from the water in the pool with which it was filled, becomes indistinguishable when poured back into the pool, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ub = now. Poochhay = being asked. Laino Naam = ought to have recited Naam. Neeko = beautiful; worthy. Baavur = foolish. Bikh = poisonous Maya. Geh(i) Ruhha = stayed entangled (engrossed). Pause. Doolubh = not easily available; precious. Chirunkaal = after a very long time. Kaudi = worthless cowrie shell. Budulha = in exchange for. Kathoori = musk. Gaahuk = customer. Laadiyo = loaded up. Kaalur = worthless dirt of saltpetre. Birkh Jivehaan = worthless tall grass-like vegetation. 1. Laabh Laabhun Kay Taayeen = to find (earn spiritual) profit. Mohun Tthagauri = the mind-captivating vine of Maya. Ooljh(i) Ruhaa = stayed entangled (engrossed). Kaach = glass (perishable things). Laal(u) = rubies (noble qualities). Khoyee Haiy = lost. Aousur = opportunity (of human life). Kud(i) Luhha = when will be available? 2. Sugul = all. Praadh = bad qualities. Daas(i) = slave (Maya). Bhujhaa = worship. Musht(i) = tight-lipped; semi-unconsciousness. Jurrvut = lifeless matter. Kee Niyaayee = like. Tuskur = thief. Dur(i) Saniha = on the spot of break-in. 3. Aan = other. Oopaaou = means; solution. Soojhaiy = think of. Daasun = slaves; devotees. Chhootiyaiy = get freedom; emancipation. Juou = when. Aougun = bad qualities; demerits. Mayt(i) Dhurhaa = got rid of; eradicated. 4.

MEANING: You came to this world to recite Waheguru's beautiful (sweet) and immortalizing Naam while enjoying its sweetness, but you, the foolish one, stayed engrossed in the poisonous affairs of Maya, oh my mind. So, what will you say when Waheguru asks you? Pause. You acquired the precious human life after a very long time, but you are wasting it in exchange for the worthless cowrie shells (bad qualities). You were sent to this world to buy (acquire) the musk-like fragrant - Waheguru's Naam, but you loaded your mind with the immoral qualities like those of the dirt of saltpetre, and the worthless grass-like plants. 1. You were born to earn spiritual qualities, but you got engrossed in the attractions of the mind-captivating vine of Maya. You have lost your ruby-like noble qualities and acquired the useless qualities which love perishables; who knows when you will get this great opportunity again. 2. You have all the ignoble qualities, and not even a single good quality, because, forgetting the Lord (Waheguru), you have been worshipping the slave (Maya). In Waheguru's court, you will be as tight-lipped (have no explanation) as the lifeless matter, or like a thief caught red-handed at the scene of the break-in, oh, my mind. 3.

I cannot think of any other solution to this problem than taking shelter of the holy saints. One gets emancipation only after one has gotten rid of all one's ill qualities, oh Nanak. 4.4

I utter “my dear, my dear” with my tongue day and night, and do not sleep even for a short moment. All the physical adornments like wearing necklaces, kohl, and expensive clothes (or any religious symbols) feel like poison to me without my Waheguru-Husband. 1.
Like a very humble person, I ask everybody if anyone could tell me where Waheguru lives. I will offer my heart, mind, and my body at his service, and put my head on his feet (show full reverence) to such a holy saint. 2. I will lie flat at His feet, and will be His unpaid slave (serve Him without any return), and pray before the Guru to connect me with Waheguru so that I may have His holy sight - even if it is for a very short moment. 3.
Waheguru appeared in my heart when He became kind to me, and now I am blissful in body and mind. Now, my mind is singing the songs of joy, and I feel as if Divine music is playing in my mind, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Living beings of all the four sources of production (live births, eggs, vegetation, and bacteria), the four Vedas, and the six Shastras, are all perishable; but the Word of the Guru will live forever. 2.

All human beings under the influence of the three effects of Maya (see INTRODUCTION), and the whole visible world will perish; the only thing that will live forever is the Guru's Word (which enables the man to merge into Waheguru to become eternal). 3.

Waheguru does everything on His own and shows His drama to the world. 4.6.

MEANING: Waheguru has come to reside in my heart. The heart-city in which Waheguru's Naam is recited enjoys comfort and bliss. Pause. The heart which forgets Waheguru suffers from all kinds of discomfort (troubles). But the wealth of all comforts is there where praise of the source of all bliss and joy, Waheguru, is sung. 1.

The place where we do not listen to Waheguru's praise is like a frightening wilderness (lifeless); but the place where the holy saints sing Waheguru's praise while enjoying its sweetness, feels as if there is a sweet fragrance of all kinds of fruits (it is bliss and joy there). 2. The whole life of the individual who does not recite Waheguru's Naam goes worthless even if he lives for millions of years. But the individual who recites Waheguru's Naam for even a short moment lives forever (by merging into Waheguru). 3.

I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, which is omnipresent, and which knows all the means by which to acquire noble qualities, to pray that He kindly puts me in the company of the holy saints so that I may always listen to, and sing His praise, oh Nanak. 4.7.

My Guru has removed (cleared) all my doubts and worries, and now I enjoy peaceful sleep and stay absorbed in the high spiritual state. Waheguru has granted me whatever I wanted (connection with Him) and has reaped the rewards I wished for. 1.
I recite His Naam at heart, focus my sight on Him, and listen to His praise with my ears. I walk on the path which leads to union with Him with my feet, and sing His praise with my tongue (use all my senses to stay absorbed in Him). 2.
My Guru has turned my thinking around (from Maya to Waheguru), as a result of which I have acquired the jewel-like, priceless Naam of Waheguru, which does not leave you, and now I see the Lord, the embodiment of all joy and bliss, everywhere. 3.
What kind of His praise, what kind of His Grandeur, and which of His noble qualities should I describe to please Him? (I have no such ability), I can only pray to Him that He be kind to me and grant me an opportunity to serve His devotees like a slave, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Pergutiyo = appeared; enlightened. Agumm Perkhaavut = beyond testing (verification). 3. Nirgoon = above the effects of Maya. Nirunkaar = formless. Abinaashi = immortal. Atoolo = immeasurable.

Ajur(u) = the powers of the spiritual state which are difficult to contain. Juriya = endure; control. Bun(i) Aavut = befits. 4.

MEANING: I feel blissful, and feel like enjoying the wondrous nature to see the holy sight of Waheguru, and my mind is joyfully singing His praise. Whom (how) can I describe the blissfulness of my mind? Pause. I am amazed to see the benevolent Waheguru present everywhere. I have drunk (taken in) the immortalizing and the priceless Naam of Waheguru, and feel so blissful that I cannot describe its taste, just like a mute who smiles (feels happy) to have something very tasty but cannot describe its taste. 1.

Like the still air in a closed room, the presence of which cannot be felt whether it is moving, the high mental situation (blissfulness) of the individual whose heart has been enlightened by Waheguru cannot be described. 2. All other skills are acquired by learning, but the Naam of the dear Waheguru cannot be acquired by learning; it appears in one's heart without any signs (indications), and it becomes very difficult to test that. 3.

The Lord is above the effects of Maya, is formless, immortal, and immeasurable. His transcendence cannot be measured. Similarly, the transcendence of the devotee, who can control the power of his high spiritual state, cannot be described, and it only befits him, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Bikhuyyi = one who is addicted to sensual pleasures; immoral. Bhujaiy = remember; recite Naam. Ahunboodh(i) = egoist. Maata = intoxicated. Jooyaiy Haaraiy = loses in the gamble. Pause. Amoala = priceless. Pur Ninda = vilification of others. Hitkaaraiy = loves. Chhuppur(u) = a hut of bamboo and grass. Suvaaraiy = beautifies. Trin = grass. Dooaaraiy = around. Paavuk Jaaraiy = lights up fire. 1. Kaalur Poat = a package of worthless saltpetre. Moondeh(i) = on the head. Daaraiy = drops; throws away. Oadhaiy = wears. Bustar = clothes. Raakha = protector; guard.

MEANING: A man, who overindulges in sensual pleasures spends his days and nights in such enjoyment. Intoxicated in his ego, he never recites Waheguru's Naam, and loses the game of his life in this gamble (to enjoy pleasures at the cost of his spirituality). Pause. He does not love the priceless Naam of Waheguru, but loves to vilify others. It is like beautifying a hut of grass, and burn fire around it. 1.

Such an individual carries the burden of immoral activities on his mind while he throws away the Amrit-Naam of Waheguru which is like someone carrying a heavy load of worthless saltpetre on his head (which does him no good, but he wastes a lot of useful energy). In other words, his situation like a man who wears rich clothes while surrounded by ash; which he has to shake off again, and again. 2.
He is like the foolish person who cuts the branch of a tree on which he is standing, and at the same time smiles while eating its fruit. At the end, he drops deep into a pit with his head down and is broken into small pieces. 3. He initiates enmity with (the saints of Waheguru) who bear no enmity with anyone, but the foolish cannot reach them (cause any harm to them) because the formless Waheguru is the guard of His devotees, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Uver(i) = others. Bhoolay = misguided. Bhermut = misled. Jaaniya = realize. Shoodhaakhur = pure word (Waheguru). Badeh(i) Tut(u) = gist of the Vedas. Pause. Pervirt(i) Maarug(u) = the path of worldly affairs. Jayta Kichh(u) = all that. Loag Puchaara = to entertain (impress others); a show off. Pergaasa = enlightenment.
Dherti = land (field). Sadhaiy = prepare for seeding. Buhou Bifh(i) = in many ways. Jaamaiy = sprouts. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Abhimaana = ego. 2. Neer(u) = water. Biovaiy = churns. Muthaama = on the forehead. 4.
MEANING: Everybody is misled (by the attractions of Maya), and misguided; they do not realize (the significance of Waheguru's Naam). But the devotee, who has Waheguru (His Naam) embedded in his heart, feels as if he has recognized the gist of the Vedas (does not need to study them). Pause. Whatever people do in their daily dealings is all fake (hypocritical) to impress others. They are in complete darkness as long as their mind is not enlightened. 1. Like a field in which no crop sprouts as long as grains are not seeded in there, even if it has been prepared well in many ways, a man's ego is not uprooted, and he cannot attain emancipation without Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 2.
Like a man who churns water but cannot get any butter out of it, no matter how hard he tries, one cannot find emancipation or connect with Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru (all his other efforts are like churning water). 3.

After searching a lot, I have come to the conclusion that only Waheguru's Naam is the source of all comforts, but only that lucky individual acquires it who has it prewritten on his forehead (in his fate), oh Nanak. 4.11.

Let us all get together with the holy saints and recite the Naam of the immortal Waheguru, which is the provider (source) of our life and of all the comforts. Their minds remain focused on Waheguru's Naam, and all their suffering, disputes, and worries disappear. 2. All their bonds with Maya, including their lust, rage, lies, and vilification of others, get broken with Waheguru's Naam. Also, with Guru's grace, they get rid of their deep engrossment in worldly attachments and their ego. 3.
The Lord Waheguru is omnipotent, omnipresent, and very close to us. I am His devotee, and pray to Him that He be kind to me (and grant me His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.12.

The Guru is fully capable of doing everything; He recites Waheguru's Naam Himself, and makes others do the same, and He is the ship to ferry us across the world-sea. 1.

The Guru, whose Teachings dispel all one's doubts and worries, is the source of all the virtues, and injects them in those who are short in them, and makes them perfect. Those who obey the Huqam (act on the Advice of) Waheguru's supreme devotees never take births again. 2.

Those who serve Waheguru's devotee happily while singing Waheguru's praise, get their suffering of births and deaths (rebirths) terminated. Also, those whom Waheguru is kind to can keep the spiritual powers they acquire under their control by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3. The transcendence of those who are contented with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and who attain the high spiritual state, cannot be stated by the tongue. With the Guru's grace, such devotees are fully contented, and they attain salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.13.

You wandered through countless life forms and have now acquired the rare human life, but as soon as you came out of the womb, you began to pursue other interests (related to Maya). 1. You perform (spiritually) such worthless deeds as deceiving others and enjoying sensual pleasures. You suffer badly from rushing to perform deeds that are like threshing empty shells without grains. 2.
You get attached to (engrossed in) the perishable things which may look attractive, like the koosumbh flowers, but which are also short-lived like them. When you are caught in the net of the Angel of justice, you leave the world disgraced. 3.
But the man cannot be fully blamed for his actions, because only that individual is connected to Waheguru, whom He connects Himself to as per the prewritten fate on his forehead. I am a sacrifice for those devotees of God who keep their minds detached from worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 4.2.16.

MEANING: I am a sacrifice for the moment when, with great fortune, I began to recite the Naam of my Waheguru twenty-four hours a day to realize Him. Pause.

Kabir Ji was respected in Waheguru's Court because he served the holy saints of Waheguru as their slave and became connected to Him. Similarly, Saiyn Ji was superior (honoured by Waheguru) for the same reason as Kabir Ji, even though Saiyn Ji was a low-caste barber. Namdev Ji was the highest among all at his time because he treated everybody the same way, and Ravidaas Ji was liked by Waheguru because of his love for Him (Waheguru). 1.

As an entertainer who forgets his audience (from where he earns money) wastes away his time eating at some restaurant, the (spiritually) blind man, forgets his Provider (Waheguru). 1.
The tastes of immoral activities and their enjoyments are useless on the journey (to union with Waheguru), which is very tough and where one has to pass many hard tests (of morality).
