Word Meaning: Rum Ramaiy = reciting Waheguru's Naam. Baarik = children. Pritpaaray = raised and nourished. Bud Purakh(u) = Great Waheguru. Pause. Asunkh = countless. Soort(i) = meditated. Til(u) = an infinitesimal amount. 1. Amit(i) = immeasurable. Atoal(u) = which cannot be weighed. Thaah = depth. 2. Oostut(i) = praise. Madhau = oh, Lord. Julnidh(i) = ocean. Meenay = fish. Na Kut-houn = not at all. 3. Mudhsoodun = Waheguru. Tayk = support.4.

MEANING: One cannot find Waheguru's limits by reciting His Naam. We are just His children who are raised and nourished by Him, and He is the Great living Lord who is my father and my mother. (So, how can we find His limits? Pause.

The Royal Waheguru is known by countless names, and He is increasingly distant from us due to physical accessibility. The people with noble qualities and with knowledge meditate on Him, but cannot find His worth (limits) even to a very small degree. 1.

A man may sing Waheguru's virtues all the time, but he cannot know all His virtues. Waheguru is immeasurable, unweighable (in terms of His greatness), and endless; one cannot find His depth by reciting His Naam, no matter how frequently. 2.

Like the fish which live in the ocean, and yet can never find its limits, Royal Waheguru's devotees sing His praise, but nobody can find His limits. 3.

Please be kind to Your slave, Nanak, and give him Your Naam to recite, oh Waheguru. I am foolish and spiritually blind (ignorant), but, in the shelter of the Guru, I have acquired Waheguru's Naam in my heart, which is the basis of my life, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Hussiya = smiles; feels blissful. Bhagat(i) = worsip. Pause. Pug = Feet (Shabad). Simeroun = remember. Bussiya = got enshrined. Keerut(i) = praise. Saari = supreme. Ghus(i) = grazing. Chundun = sandalwood. Jus(u) = praise. 1. Liv Laayee = focused mind on. Saakut = worshippers of Maya. Khoaj(i) = to look for; to stalk; to hound. Kirt Sunjog(i) = predetermined nature. Chulliyo = pursue own interests. Ninduk(u) = vilfier. Naagun(i) = snake. Pug = foot. Chhooh(i) = touch; bite. Juliya = burns; suffers. 2. Joog(i) = eon. Rukhiya = protected. Kuhha Bhuyya = so what? Daint = the demon (king Hernakhsh, father of Prehlad). Kur(i) = try all means. Jhur(i) Puriya = failed miserably. 3. Kaalaiy = of death. Mookh Grusiya = in the jaws of. Shern(i) = shelter. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's devotees feel blissful when they sing His praise. One who has good fortune prewritten on his forehead gets to worship Waheguru, but only with the Guru's Advice. Pause. I worship the Feet of the Guru (recite His Shabad) day and night by whose grace, Waheguru's Naam has been embedded in my mind. Like the fragrance of the sandalwood is absorbed by the object which grazes with it, the fragrance of Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in the heart of the devotee who absorbs (listens) to the praise of Waheguru, which is supreme in the world. 1.

When a devotee meditates on (gets connected with) Waheguru, the Maya-worshippers begin to hound him. But as per his nature, when a vilifier begins to vilify such a devotee, he feels as if his foot is burning from the bite of a snake (he suffers mental torture). 2.

Waheguru is the saviour of His devotees, and has been so over the eons. What did the demon Rajah Hernakhsh earn when he tried to kill his devotee-son, Prehlad, using many different ways? He failed miserably (and was killed). 3. All the living beings which have been created by Waheguru are in the jaws of death, but Waheguru protects His devotees (by absorbing them in Him), and I have taken His shelter, oh Nanak. 4.2.

NOTE: The "thay" at the end of each sentence does not have a special meaning. It is simply used to maintain the metre of the Raag.

Word Meaning: Jup(u) = recitation (of Gurbani). Jup(i) = recite. Jugunathay = the Lord of the world (God). Oopdaysh(i) = Teachings. Kilbikh = sins. Laathay = come off. Pause. Rusna = tongue. Khin(u) Pul(u) = every moment. Toomhnuthay = Yours. Locheh = long for. Dikhnuthay = sight. Jea = life. Jeeun Ko = of the living beings. Birthay = (poor) condition 2. Maarug(u) = Punth = path. Dinthay = give. Urpoun = will offer. Milthay = connected with Waheguru. 3. Toochh = insignificant. Bernthay = describe. Vusgut(i) = in control. Sumruthay = omnipotent. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of the Lord of the world, Waheguru, oh my mind. All the suffering of the sins of the devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), is eradicated. Pause.

Waheguru has so many virtues that one cannot sing praise of all of them with a single tongue; so, I pray to Waheguru that He gives me many more tongues. Even if everybody sings His praise every moment, and again, all His virtues can still not be described. 1.

I have developed so much affection for Waheguru that I long to have His Sight. However, Waheguru, which is the supreme provider for all, and is the basis of life of all the living beings, knows the (poor) condition of our minds (and will show His Sight when He feels like). 2.

If someone shows me the path of union with Waheguru, guess what I will offer him. I will offer everything, including my body and my mind, to the great soul who is already connected with Waheguru, and connects me with Him. 3.

Waheguru's virtues and his praise are of great (spiritual) worth, but we describe Him as if He is insignificant. But, at the same time, our wisdom (ability to describe Him) is in His control, as He is omnipotent, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Akuth = indescribable. Urth(u) = wealth; prosperity. Soonthuyee = is heard. Kaam(u) = wishes. Moakh = emancipation. Phirthuyee = follow (beg) (to be accepted). Pause. Muthuyee = on the forehead. Jeh = which. Laykha = account of deeds. 1. Doakh = sins; misdeeds. Hur(i) Jul = Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam. Navaayay = gives bath in. Kilbikh = Paap = sins. Guthuyee = go away. 2. Bhujthuyee = recites. Untee Aousar = time of death. Aayay Bunut Haiy = arrives. Saathyee = companion; friend. 3. Jugunthuyee = The Lord of the world. Paathur = heavy like a rock with sins. Boodthuyee = drowning. 4.

MEANING: Recite the virtues (sing praise) of Waheguru, whom we hear is indescribable, oh my mind. (People beg for) high religiosity, wealth, fulfilment of their wishes, and emancipation; but all these four desirable things chase (beg to be accepted by) Waheguru's devotees (and they do not care for them). Pause.

But only that individual recites Waheguru's Naam who has good fortune prewritten on his forehead. Waheguru demands the account of the deeds of everyone, but His devotees, who recite His Naam in their hearts, are set free with dignity in His Court. 1.

Our minds are filthy with ego and selfishness of many, many lives, but the Guru bathes His Sikhs in the Amrit-like water of Waheguru's Naam whereby all their sins are washed away. 2.

Waheguru's devotees recite His Naam whereby the Lord, Waheguru, makes their hearts His dwelling. At the time of their death, Waheguru's Naam becomes their companion and protects them from any punishment. 3.

The devotees of Waheguru, who is the Lord of the universe, sing His praise by reciting His Naam. He is the saviour of His devotees, and saves His rock-live heavy devotees who are loaded with sins from drowning in the world-sea oh, Nanak. 4.4.

Khuraa = pure. Nimukh = moment. Ta Tay = from that.

Rid = (in) heart. Soodh = wisdom. Puchhutaanaiy = repent. 3. Sumruth = omnipotent. Paasoun = from. Churaanaiy = Feet (Naam). 4.5.

MEANING: Waheguru knows my (everybody's) (noble) thoughts. So, if some vilifier throws mud on Waheguru's devotees, Waheguru pays absolutely no attention to him. Pause. So, giving up everything else, serve the infallible Lord, Waheguru, which is the highest of all. The Angel of death cannot even cast an evil eye on the devotees who serve Waheguru, and he, actually, drops on their feet (begs to be forgiven). 1.

If Waheguru wishes to protect a devotee (from all evils), He emancipates him by giving the Guru's Shabad to him (enshrines it in his heart). Nobody can reach the devotee (to cause him any kind of harm), whose worship is approved by God. 2.

Watch the astonishing feats of Waheguru, who instantly recognizes the impure and the pure, oh my mind. The devotee feels blissful when he is given that wisdom (to recognize the pure from the impure), while the impure repent (because they are recognized as such). 3.

You are the provider for the whole world, and are omnipotent; I beg You for the donation of Your Naam to me, oh Waheguru. Please be kind to me, and implant Your Naam in my heart, begs Nanak. 4.5.

Saagur = seas. Kunchun = gold. Dhureejaiy = place (before them). Baancheh(i) = long for. 6. Saakut = Maya worshipper. Bhookhaiy = hungry (for worldly luxuries). Kosun = a unit of distance (about 2.2.km). Bith(i) = gap. 7.
Ootum = (spiritually) superior. Oopma = compare with. Tool(i) = equal to. 8.

MEANING: One's mind gets imbued with love for Waheguru when he recites, or listens to, His, and only His, Naam. Waheguru's Naam is sweet Amrit, which one should drink with Guru's Advice in a high spiritual state. Pause. Just like one builds fire from wood with the right technique, the light of Waheguru's Naam is present in everybody, and the technique to acquire His Naam (enshrine in the mind) is to sing His praise with Guru's Advice. 1.
The human body has nine doors, and all of them are ineffective for spiritual enjoyment; the sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam trickles down in the tenth door (in a high spiritual state). I pray to Waheguru that He becomes benevolent to me so that I may drink His Naam-Amrit with Guru's Shabad. 2. That city-like human body is spiritually beautiful in which one's evil qualities are traded for Waheguru's Naam. The jewellike priceless, and rarely available noble virtues can be acquired by serving the Guru. 3.
Satguru and Waheguru are inaccessible; however, Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) is that sea, which is full of noble qualities, and one can acquire those with the worship of the Guru and Waheguru. I am a humble, needy one like the rainbird; I pray to God that He gives me a drop of His Naam on my tongue (to recite). 4.
Waheguru is the vessel to dye the human mind with His love. I pray to Him that He puts me in the shelter of the Guru to dye my mind with Waheguru's love. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's love, enjoy the sweetness of His Naam, and gulp it down (without any delay) every day (all the time). 5.
If someone extracts all the gold present in the seven continents and in the seven seas of the world and places that before Waheguru's devotees, they do not care for that. They wish only for the sweetness of His Naam, and pray to Him, only for His Naam. 6.
The Maya-worshippers are always hungry for worldly luxuries and show such hunger all the time. They have so much love for wealth that they rush to have it even if it is millions of kilometres away. 7.
Waheguru's devotees are (spiritually) superior to all, so what can we compare their greatness against? There is no other praise higher than Waheguru's Naam. I pray to Waheguru that He gives me His Naam with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Paarus(u) = touchstone. Perse(u) = touch; connect with. Norgooni = having no virtue. Munoor = burnt (britle) iron. Pheekay = tasteless; impolite. Pause. Soorg = Baiykoontth = paradise. Baancheh(i) = wish for. Aasa = hope. Tripit(i) = Dheejaiy = are contented. 1. Subul(u) Bhaari = highly powerful. Kaalukh Daag = stains of dark soot (immorality). Alipt = fully detached from Maya. Mooktay = emancipated. Moorgaayi = waterfowl. Punk(u) = punkh(u) = feathers. Bheejaiy = get wet. Chundun = sandalwood. Vaas(u) = fragrance. Bhooyungum = snakes. Vayhrrri = loaded with; surrounded by. Kiv = how? Khurrug(u) = sword. Kuraara = strong. Bikh(u) = poison (of snakes). Chayd(i) = making holes. 3. Aan(i) = by bringing. Smudha = stack of wood. Pul(i) = instantly. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Bhusm = ash. Oogur = huge. Looki Deejaiy = apply flame. 4. Neekay = beautiful (at mind). Dhureejaiy = placed; injected. Persun Perse = by touching. 5. Soot = cotton threads. Goorjheen Bhuriya = tangled up. Taan Tuneejaiy = set up warp to weave. Tunt(u) = thread. Niksaiy Naaheen = cannot pull out free thread. Sung(u) = company. 6. Ruveejaiy = recite. Ruttan ---- Maanuk = jewels (noble qualities). 7. Poorun(u) = perfection. 8.

MEANING: The Guru is like the elixir stone which purifies even the immoral; so, kindly connect me with Him to be purified to become like Him, oh Waheguru. Pause

Like the burnt and brittle iron, I have no noble quality, and am highly impolite; but I can acquire noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru. Everybody always wishes for paradise and emancipation, but Waheguru's devotees do not care for emancipation; they wish only for Waheguru's Sight (union with Him) and are fully contented to see Him. 1.

Love for Maya is very dominant in everybody's mind, but it stains their mind with its darkness (evil qualities). But the devotees of my Waheguru are fully detached from Maya, and are emancipated from its bonds like the waterfowl whose feathers do not get wet with water (they stay above the surface of water). 2. Like the sandal trees, which are besieged by snakes for their fragrance, (Waheguru's Naam is surrounded by the poisonous attractions of Maya). So, like the sandalwood, which is very difficult to get because of the snakes, Waheguru's Naam is also very difficult to acquire. So, what should one do? Answer: Guru's Advice (Shabad) is that powerful sword which can pierce the poison of the attractions of Maya, and the devotee can enjoy the sweetness of the Naam – Amrit. 3.
Just like huge stacks of wood can be changed into ash in a moment by fire, grave sins, which a Maya-worshipper has committed, can be set on fire (eradicated) in the shelter of the Guru. 4. The devotees of Waheguru who have enshrined His Naam in their hearts have beautiful (pure) minds. One can also become purified in the company of such devotees and have Waheguru's Sight. 5.
Like one cannot set up a warp with a ball of thread that is badly tangled, the mind of a Maya-worshipper is also tangled in Maya-related affairs (and cannot think about Waheguru), so never have friendship with a Maya-worshipper, oh man. 6.
The company (shelter) of the Guru is (spiritually) beautiful (mind purifying), so one should recite Waheguru's Naam in His company. There are jewel-like noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru, and one can acquire them with His grace. 7.
My Lord is very, very high (transcendent), so how can I reach (have union with) Him? Answer: Satguru is Perfect who can connect one with Waheguru, and in whose shelter the devotee also attains perfection (acquire Waheguru-like noble qualities), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Rum = Ruveejaiy = recite (the Naam). Neekay = (spiritually) beautiful. Rung Keejaiy = enjoy (Waheguru's) affection. Pause. Jea Junt = living beings. Jug(u) = world. Doalut Doal = weakens. Thummun Kuou = to provide support. Thummh = pillar; support. Busoodha = earth. Rooleejaiy = be humble like dust. Ut(i) Ootum(u) = extremely superior (pure-minded). Sisht(i) = world (its attractions). Churn Tul = under your feet (ignore completely). 2. Bhulee = Neeki = noble; kind. Shiv = Waehguru. Paani Bhureejaiy = becomes slave. Shukut(i) = Maya. Maiyn Dunt = teeth of wax; weak mind toward Maya. Saar(u) = (hard like) iron (attractions of Maya). Chubb = chew. Peejaiy = drink; enjoy. 3. Ungreh = favour; kindness. Buhhou = much. Bistheerun Keeyay = disseminated. Sugul Bhuven = all houses = the whole world. Jus(u) = Waheguru's praise (majesty). 4. Preetum = Dear (Waheguru). Julun(g) Jul = only water. Khin(u) = instantly. Phoot(i) = explodes. 5. Abhaag = misfortune. Dhoor(i) = dust of feet (opportunity to serve). Tishna = fire (appetite) for luxuries. Julut = burning. Boojheh(i) = put out. Dund = punishment. Dherm Raayay = Angel of justice. 6. Bert = commitments like fasting. Poonn(u) = noble deeds (donations). Hivvaiy Gaal(i) = slowly get bitten by frost in ice (coldness). Cheejaiy = weaken. Atoola Toal = immeasurable weight. Ko = some rare. 7. Tuv = Yours. Julnidh(i) = ocean. Meen = fish. Sung(i) = with. 8.

MEANING: (With His benevolence), recite only Waheguru's Naam, oh my friends. The Guru and the holy saints have spiritually beautiful and pure minds; so, enjoy Waheguru's love in their company. Pause. The minds of all the living beings of the world weaken for the attractions of Maya; please be kind, and connect us with the Guru, which is the support for the weakening minds of the living beings, oh Waheguru. 1.

Like the earth, which is so humble that it is beneath the feet of everybody, and everybody is above (on) it, you become humble too in the shelter of the Guru. Become so high in morality that all the luxuries of the world are under your feet (the luxuries beg you to accept them, but you ignore them), oh my friends. 2.

With the grace of the Guru, the soul of His devotee is also purified, and becomes so much like Waheguru's Soul that even Maya becomes his slave. The wax-like, flimsy teeth of his character are replaced with so strong teeth that he can even chew the iron-like hard character of the mind-captivating Maya, and enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam. 3.

With the kindness of Waheguru's Naam, the devotee gets connected with the Guru which disseminates the sweetness of the Waheguru's greatness and His virtues all over the world.4.

Like the fish, which loves water all the time, and explodes (wriggles) to its death without water, the dear Waheguru is always in the mind of the Guru and of the holy saints (they love Him so much that) they cannot survive without seeing Him. 5.

Those who do not serve the Guru are highly unfortunate. They keep burning in the fire of their worldly desires, which is never put out, and they are punished by the Angel of justice. 6. One may perform all the prevalent rituals like pilgrimage, observe some commitments (principles) like fasting, perform yugs (huvuns and serving food to the Brahmans), perform the accepted noble deeds, or even slowly frost their bodies to death, but they cannot find the limits of the immeasurable Waheguru. The worth of Waheguru's Naam is immeasurable; some rare devotee worships Him in the shelter of the Guru, but cannot find His true worth. 7. Only Waheguru knows His own qualities. I simply take His shelter, oh Nanak. You are the ocean, and I am Your fish; kindly keep me in Your shelter, oh, Waheguru. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Urp(i) = offer. Dhuroun = place. Drirreejaiy = reinforce. Braham = God. Shaakh = branches. Turovar = tree. Choon(i) = pick. Aatum Dayo = Waheguru. 1. Bibayk Boodh(i) = wisdom to make distinction. Bicher(i) = by pondering on. Pudaaruth(u) = Waheguru's Naam. 2. Nirmoluk(u) = priceless. Heero = diamond. Neeko = beautiful; mind purifying. Bidhijaiy = pierce. Motishaal = mine of pearls (noble qualities). Purukh = test; verify. 3. Oochay = high (in morality). Peep = the peepul tree. Plass (Plaah) = a tree which can absorb other trees like the peepul tree. Baas(u) = fragrance. Buseejaiy = enshrines. 4. Nirmul = noble. Kerm = deeds. Jurrjaiy = inlays; adorns. Behkaar = Baas(u) = fragrance. 5. Drisht(i) = Sight. Pusray = is spread. Churn = feet. Tulay = beneath. 6. Nkuttay = without noses; disgraced. Ghus(i), Ghus(i) = slowly erodes away. MEANING: Kindly enable me to worship You with love and enjoyment with the Advice and the Knowledge of the Guru, which I wish You to reinforce in my mind, oh, my Waheguru. I wish to offer my body and my mind in Your service. Pause.
Waheguru is the real and the only God to worship, and should be worshipped while enjoying the sweetness of His Naam. Waheguru's Naam is like a tree of which the branches (leaves and flowers) are made of His noble qualities. We should pick the leaves and flowers of His virtues to worship Him. 1. The wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad is the purest wisdom, and one can enjoy Waheguru's sweet Naam by pondering on the Guru's Shabad with such wisdom. One should offer one's mind to the Guru with whose grace one acquires such wisdom, and Waheguru's Naam. 2.
Waheguru's Naam is like a priceless diamond (of virtues), and one should pierce his mind with the Waheguru-Diamond to become a diamond like Him. One's mind becomes a mine of pearls (noble qualities) with the Guru's Shabad, with which he can verify another devotee with noble qualities. 3.
Just like a plaas tree consumes a peepul tree, one's bad qualities are eaten away (he gets rid of them) in the company of the holy saints, and he becomes very high in morality. The devotee, who enshrines the fragrance of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, becomes supreme (in spirituality) among all other men. 4.
The devotee, who adorns his mind with the fragrance of the leaves and the flowers (noble qualities) of the Waheguru-tree, performs the most noble deeds as he disseminates the fragrance of the leaves and the flowers of the high morality of the Guru's Shabad in the world, and reinforces it in others. 5.
There is only one Light (Waheguru) in the whole universe, which is present in everybody's mind. So, see only the "One" in the whole world. The "One" Waheguru is pervading the whole world, and everybody puts his head under His Feet (obeys His Huqam). 6.
People, without Waheguru's Naam, are disgraced, and their respect (if they had any) erodes slowly. The Maya-worshippers are egoists, and their life is shameful without Waheguru's Naam. 7. As long as one has breath in his body (lives), he should rush to Waheguru's shelter without any delay. I pray to Waheguru to be kind to me, and give me the opportunity to wash the feet of the Guru (to serve Him), oh Nanak. 8.4.

MEANING: Kindly provide me with an opportunity to wash the feet of the Guru (serve Him), because all one's sins are eradicated in His shelter, oh my Lord, Waheguru. Pause.

I am a humble servant of Yours, and waiting on Your Door for Your holy Sight with a great desire; kindly endow me with that donation. I have come to You, begging for Your shelter; kindly reinforce Your Naam in my heart with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), oh Waheguru. 1. Lust and rage are overwhelming me in my body, even though I am always fighting with them courageously and valiantly. Kindly have mercy on me, and protect me from their attacks by putting me in the shelter of the Perfect Guru, as He is the one who can kick them out of my body (rid me of them), oh Waheguru. 2. There is a powerful fire of sensual enjoyments in my body, the Guru (implants) His pacifying Shabad in my mind as a result of which, my body and my mind become completely calm, all my ailments (sufferings due to these demons) are eradicated, and I enjoy peaceful sleep (night of my life). 3.

Just like the sun is present everywhere through its rays, Waheguru is present in every heart. When a devotee gets connected with the Guru (comes to His shelter), he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in his own heart. 4. A devotee loves the Lord like the ruddy duck, which loves to see the sun (when she gets united with her companion, which gets separated at night). Just the way she waits for the sunrise throughout the night, a devotee waits for the early morning to enjoy Waheguru's Amrit-Naam. 5.

The Maya-worshipper is like a dog which is known for is greed, and gathers a filth of his immoral activities. He talks too much for his selfishness, so who can trust him? 6. One should take shelter of the Guru or of the gatherings of the holy saints, where he can extract (enjoy) the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru gives His worship (Naam) on the tongue of the holy saints, who acquire noble qualities and give advice for the benefit of others. 7. Waheguru is inaccessible, but He is very kind and is the source of mercy, and protects everybody with His kindness. He alone is the soul of the world, and raises and nourishes all living beings, oh Nanak. 8.5.

MEANING: Make me a slave of Your slaves (devotees), oh Waheguru. As long as I have breath in my body, I wish to drink the wash of the feet of the Guru (serve Him with full reverence and affection. Pause.

Even the popular gods and sages like Shiva, Nard, Sheshnaag, and the hermits long for the dust of the Guru's Feet. All the cities and the houses are purified where the Guru sets His foot. 1. Giving up all his worldly shame (embarrassment), his ego, and everything else, one should enjoy the love of God in the shelter of the Guru. By doing so, all accounts of his deeds with the Angel of justice are paid off, and drowning in the sea of Maya, he is pulled out by the Guru. 2. Not taking any steps to take shelter of the Guru, those who suffer spiritual death, come to life when they take the Guru's shelter. For that reason, one should waste no time and rush to drop at the feet of the Guru (surrender to Him). 3. Waheguru's praise, Waheguru's Naam, is such a jewellike invaluable diamond and a sweet thing which can be tasted only in Guru's shelter. The Guru makes Waheguru's Naam available to them, and implants in their mind those who have full faith in His words (Shabads). 4. Listen to the Guru's words, oh holy saints; He is inviting you aloud. If you look for eternal bliss for your mind, take the Guru's shelter, oh my friends. 5.

If one has really good fortune, he reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his mind with Guru's Advice, enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state, and easily swims across the sea of Maya's attractions, which is otherwise very, very difficult to swim across. 6. Those who are very deeply involved in Maya-related affairs burn in the fire of their desires. The path to salvation, which is already very difficult to walk on, is made much more difficult for the Maya-worshippers because of the darkness of their ignorance and by the load of their ego. 7. Recite only Waheguru's Naam to attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. When one takes the Guru's shelter, Waheguru's Naam is reinforced in his mind by the Guru, and he gets connected with Waheguru through His Naam. 8.6.
