Word Meaning: Ashatpudi = a Shabad with eight stanzas.

Vaavna = agonize; torment. Jaapaiy= understand; realize. Vaayay = speak; describe. Kayvud = how expansive. Kit(u) = which; what. Jayturray = however many. Liv laayay = with full focus. 1.

Agum = physically unreachable. Apaar = limitless (with unknowable qualities). Paaki = holy. Naayee = magnanimity. Purvidgaar = raiser and nourisher. Pause.

Huqam = Command; Will; Laws. Kayturra = how big. Saou = hundreds. Shaayir = poets. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed (very small). Poojaaveh(i) = deliver. Royay = cry (regret their inability). 2.

Paikaamar = prophets. Saaliq = saints. Saadiq = contented. Shohday = ascetic. Shaheed = witnesses; martyrs. Musaayik = many sheikhs (learned persons). Mullah = a Muslim priest. Dervaysh = holy men who also go door to door and beg. Dur(i) Raseed = reveived at the door (approved). Berkut(i) = enhancement. Ugli = much. Drood = prayer after nivaj. 3

Saajay = creates. Dhaahay = destroys. Kern(u) = worth doing. Bhaavaiy = likes. 4.
Thaavaan = places. Naav = Huiqam; Laws. Vusaiy = reside. Umburr(i) = reach. 5.
Vern-avern = high or low classes. Bhaavni = likes. Vudyayiyaan = honour. Svaaray = grooms; embellish with (noble qualities). Chusa = a moment. Dhill = delay. 6.
Shoomaar(i) = limit. Bayshoomaar(i) = unlimited. Toat(i) = shortage. Bhundaar = treasures. 7.1.

NOTE: The use of many Muslim words in this holy Shabad suggests that Guru Nanak Sahib is addressing some Muslim.

MEANING: Allah is incomprehensible and physically beyond our reach, oh my friend. Allah is our real provider, and nourishes us all; His magnanimity is great, and so is His residence (we cannot describe them fully). Pause.

So, saying (something about God without any knowledge) is simply to agonize one's mind; and the more one says, the more he realizes that his utterings are meaningless. One does not realize how Great Allah is, and where He resides, which he is talking about. All those who meditate and describe Allah (simply with the intent to describe Him) have failed badly in their efforts. 1.

No one knows how expansive (indescribable) Your Huqam is, oh Allah. So, how can anyone write about You? Even if hundreds of poets assemble to describe You, they cannot deliver any information at all – not even the size of a sesame seed – and they simply regret their inability. Everybody says only what they have heard from others, and nobody knows Your secrets, oh Waheguru. 2.

All the holy men, the prophets, the saints, the contented, the martyrs (who suffered in the name of Allah), learned people, qazies, and mullahs - all describe You - but only those are approved by You, who, rather than describing You, sing Your praise like a beggar at Your Door, oh, Allah. 3. However, He (Allah) does not consult any of those to create, to destroy, to grant, or to withdraw anything. He knows His nature, and Himself is the source and the creator. He has His kind sight on everyone, but grants (His Naam) only to those whom He chooses. 4.

Nobody knows anything about His residences and His Huqam, and the magnanimity of His palace where He resides. Whom should I approach to ask about this information, because nobody can reach Him. 5.

If Allah wants to honour someone, He does not care about their caste, whether it is high or low. All types of honours are in His control; He can confer them on anyone of His choosing. He can adorn anyone with noble qualities by His Command, and there is not a delay of even a short moment when He chooses to do so. 6.

With the intent to receive certain favours, everybody praises Him, and asks for more and more, but how great and large the Provider must be that He keeps giving and yet (His treasures) are unlimited in capacity. There is never a shortage in His treasures, which are full over the eons, oh Nanak. 7.1.

NOTE: This holy Shabad does not have “Siri Raag(u) before Mehla 1.

Word Meaning: Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Muhayliyaan = (human) wives. Sugliyaan = all. Sheengaar(u) = make up; beautify (wear religious symbols to show their false spirituality). Gunut gnaavun(i) = to be counted (included) or considered. (They are not honest and their makeup is just a show off). Sooha vays = pink dress (pink colour is representative of Maya). Vikaar(u) = sensual pleasures. Paakhund(i) = dishonest act. Khota = false; counterfeit. Paaj(u) = show off. Khooaar(u) = discomfiture; suffering because of no achievement. 1.

Iyoun = like this (as follows). Raavaiy = enjoys (the union). Naar(i) = woman. Toodh(u) = You. Bhaavun(i) = are liked. Sohaagni = married (loved by husband).

Svaar(i) = grooming; embellish with noble qualities. Pause.

Doyay Ker(i) jorr(i) = (with) both hands folded. Laal(i) Rutti = imbued in the love of the dear. Bhaiy = fear. Bhaayay = affection. Rung(i) Raas(i) = filled with the love of. 2. Chayri = disciple; obedient. Kaandhiyaiy = is considered. Laali = (like a) slave. Vaydhiya = pierced (affected deeply). Bulihaaraiy = be a sacrifice. 3.

Sa Dhun = that woman. Rund = widow (devoid of husband’s love). Baiysyee = stays; lives. Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Resaaloo = full of love. Noutuno = new (whose love never lessens). Saachou = eternal. Nit = every day. Ruvaiy = enjoys (the union). Rujaayay= with obedience. 4

Dhurri = braids. Maandiyaiy = adorn; beautify. Chundun(u) = (pleasant fragrance of) sandal wood (Waheguru). Cheet(i) = in mind. Dusvaan Dooaar(u) = tenth door = Human body has 9 visible doors in the body. The tenth door is the state of being one with Waheguru. Vigaasiya = blooms. Oor = heart. Haar(u) = necklace. 5.

Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Muni = a rare shining stone (anointment of recognition).
Sobha = fame; admiration. Soort(i) = wisdom. Sohaavni = pleasant. Purakh(u) = (some other man). Hayt(i) = with; for. 6.
Nis(i) = night. Undhiyaari = dark. Raiyn(i) = night. Vihayay = spends. Unk(u) = heart. Julou = may burn. Bul(i) = burn. Kunt(i) = husband (Waheguru). Birtha = empty; devoid of. Jobun(u) = youthfulness. 7.
Sayjaiy = on the bed. Boojh = understand. Bhaiy vusi = lived in obedience. Sukhaayay = of the friend (Waheguru). 8.
MEANING: All humans are Waheguru's brides, and all of them adorn themselves (by wearing religious symbols) to be approved by Waheguru. However, their true dress is pink (they are all engrossed in Maya; the pink colour has been used as a metaphor for Maya in Guru Granth Sahib, because pink, though very attractive, fades away quickly like Maya), and they are indulging in sensual pleasures. So, their adornments are a farce, and they just hope to be approved by Waheguru. But they cannot win Waheguru's affection through hypocrisy, and their false show-off brings them shame alone. 1.
Only those human brides enjoy Your union to whom You are kind (who have deep respect and affection for You), oh Waheguru. You can adorn them with noble qualities by Your kindness, and that is how the Husband (Waheguru) enjoys the lucky human brides. Pause.
Such devotees have been adorned by the Guru's Shabad and have offered their body and mind to the Husband (Waheguru). They are waiting for Waheguru's Command with folded hands, and pray before Him. Imbued in the love of the dear (Waheguru), such devotees always keep respectful fear of Waheguru in mind, and being imbued in His love, they are fully content. 2. That devotee is considered a true disciple of the Lord (God), who obeys His Command like a slave. Once Waheguru has connected with an individual through the Guru, their bond of True love is never broken. I am always a sacrifice for the individuals whose minds have been pierced by Guru's Shabad and are imbued with His love. 3.
Such a bride (devotee) who has become "one" with the Guru is never a widow again (never loses His love). The source of all tastes, Waheguru, is always young, and He neither dies nor goes away (is not separated). With Waheguru's kind sight, such a devotee always stays married and enjoys the union with Waheguru. 4. Such a devotee is always adorned with the braids and beautiful clothes of Waheguru's love. She has fostered Waheguru's Naam in her heart, and Waheguru, with the fragrance of Sandalwood (of noble qualities), resides in the temple of her Tenth Door (mind). Enlightened by the lamp of Guru's Shabad, the heart of such a devotee blooms, and she wears the necklace of Waheguru's Naam in her heart. 5.
Such a human bride has a beautiful (pious) heart, and she wears an anointment of a shiny stone (a pleasant glow) on her forehead. Because of her love for Waheguru, she is spiritually very wise and enjoys a holy fame. And because of her love for the Perfect Guru, she does not acknowledge any other person than Waheguru as her master. 6. Sleeping in the darkness of night (ignorance), how does your night (of life) spend without the Husband (Waheguru), oh my friend? Let such a heart burn; set such a body, as well as the mind, and the wealth, on fire, which is without Waheguru's Naam. If a human bride is not loved by her Waheguru-Husband, then her youthfulness is wasted. 7.
If a bride always stays sleeping (engrossed in Maya, and separated from her Waheguru)-Husband, she does not realize that He is not with her. Who can she ask about the joy of union with the Husband who is awake all the time (who fends off the attacks of Maya) while the former is always sleeping? However, those who are connected with Waheguru by Satguru lead their life under respectful fear of their Husband and enjoy their life in the love of Waheguru- riend, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Kuthaiy = describes. Ruttan Purkh(i) = judge (evaluator) of precious stones. Saachou = True; real; eternal. Maan(u) = Meht(u) = pride; dignity; confidence. Dayvunhaar(u) = provider. 1. Kerta = the origin; Creator. Kartar(u) = Creator. Bhaavaiy = as You like. Aachaar(u) = (noble) manners. Pause.

Nirmula = pure. Mujeetth = madder (a plant which is the source of deep red colour which does not fade. Moti = pearl. Oojlo = clear; shiny. Buseetth(u) = mediator. Ghut(i), Ghut(i) = in every heart. Deetth(u) = is seen. Adeetth(u) = invisible. 2.

Bohitha = ship. Paar(u) = on this side. Apaar(u) = on the other side. Vaat = path; journey. Soojaan(u) = wise; flawless. Nideriyaan = fearless. Goobaar(u) = dark. 3.

Usthir(u) = stable; never changing. Kayti = too many. Bundhi = bonded. Dhundhaiy = mundane tasks (Maya). Oobray = salvaged. Liv = concentration. 4.

Puchhaaniyaiy = recognize (realize). Gur Vaak(i) = Guru's Word (Shabad). Such Ghur(i) = God's residence. Otaak(u) = living. Saak(u) = relations. 5.

Joog Chaar(i) = (in the) four accepted eons. Trishna = desires. Oordhaar(i) = fostered in the heart. Laaha = profit; benefit. 6. Vukkhur(u) = merchandise. Laadiyaiy = carry load (deal in). Such Raas(i) = everlasting capital (Waheguru's Naam). Baiysyee = given place (honoured). Bhugat(i) = worship. Put(i) = with dignity. Laykha = accountability. Nibrraiy = settled. 7. Oocha Oochou = higher and higher. Jot(i) Niruntar(i) = (Waheguru's) light without any gap (continuous). Sehj(i) = with a peaceful mind. Soobhaayay = with affection. 8.

NOTE: Being present in everybody, it is Waheguru Himself who prompts people to do whatever they do. There is a lot of freedom to make choices, but the traits and wisdom to make them are gifts from Waheguru.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is (the source) of all noble qualities; He Himself describes, listens to, and ponders on them. Waheguru Himself is the precious stone (His Naam), its evaluator, and Himself the immeasurable worth of (His Naam). Waheguru Himself is the real pride (support) of everybody, such that they can depend on Him for all sorts of support; and He is the only provider. 1. You are the creator and the source of everything, oh my Waheguru. I pray to You to please protect me (from the attacks of Maya) in whatever way You wish and grant me Your Naam as the guide for my life, oh my Waheguru. Pause.

God Himself is the pure diamond (without any filth of Maya), and Himself the colour of madder (which is representative of deep love or full devotion, and which is fostered by His kindness). He Himself is the shiny pearl (beacon of enlightenment), and Himself the mediator (as the Guru) between the devotees and Himself. The otherwise invisible Waheguru, which is present in every heart, becomes visible (with mental eyes) when one sings His praise by the Guru's Shabad. 2. Waheguru Himself is the sea of Maya, Himself the ship to carry people across the sea, Himself, on the near shore of the sea, and Himself, the far side of the sea. The perfectly wise Waheguru Himself is the True path, while Guru's Shabad is the means for people to tread that path and swim across the sea of Maya. Without the Guru, people are in complete darkness, ignorant of the damaging effects of Maya, and fearless of Waheguru; but when the Guru enlightens their mind, they realize the truth of Maya and become fearful of Waheguru. 3. Only God is immortal, while countless people take birth and die. Only Waheguru is pure (without any effect of Maya), while everybody else is indulged in the filth of Maya. Only those are salvaged who act on the Guru's advice and always focus their mind on Waheguru (keep Him in mind). 4.

Waheguru is realized by Guru's Shabad when a devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam. The body (mind) of an individual who resides in Waheguru's Palace (keeps Waheguru in mind all the time) never gets filthy (due to indulgence in Maya). A devotee realizes Waheguru when He casts His kind sight on him; there is no other (permanent) relative in the world than Waheguru's Naam. 5.

Those who realize the eternal Waheguru live in comfort in all the four eons (no matter what eon it is). They overcome their haumein (selfishness and ego), and desires, and keep Waheguru always in their heart. There is only one thing to earn in this world - and that is Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized by pondering on (obeying) Guru's Shabad. 6.

When one deals in the true merchandise (Waheguru's Naam), he earns the Naam as the benefit in his wealth (of noble qualities). With honest prayer with devotion, one gets room (is honoured) in Waheguru's Court. The account (of good and bad deeds) of such a devotee is settled with dignity, as his heart is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam. 7.

People say that God is higher and higher, but He cannot be seen just by saying that. However, when Satguru shows Waheguru to someone with his mental eyes, He alone is visible in every direction. One can realize continuous light (of Waheguru) with control over his mind and with affection, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Sur(u) = pool of water; ocean. Khaara = salty. Usgaah(u) = unfathomable. Ut(i) = extremely. Vaysahou = trust. Kaarun(i) = because of. Kaal(u) = death. Tulaiy = avoid. Sirahou = loomimg on the head. 1.
Maansa = humans. Uchinta = sudden. Jaal(u) = net. Pause.
Baadho = tied; trapped. Afaar(u) = uncontrolled. Ruttay = imbued. Oobray = salvaged. Doobidha = doubtfulness; wavering mind. Vikaar = ignoble sensual desires (or deeds). Sachiyaar = bearers of Truth; full of virtues (pure). 2.
Seechaana = a bird of prey. Budhik = hunter. Faathaiy = snared; trapped. Choagaiy = bait. Saath(i) = with. Choon(i) = selecting; Sungi = companion. 3.
Sacho Sacha = True and True; pure Truth (Waheguru). Sachay = of the True. Thaan(u) = residence. Soochay = clean; pure. Jaaniyeh(i) = recognized. 4.
Saajun(u) = friend (God). Jumdoot = agents of death. Bikh(u) = poison. Houn = I. 5.

Baajh(u) = without. Goobaar(u) = darkness (of ignorance). Boojh(u) = understanding. Gurmuti = advice of the Guru. Purgaas(u) = light (enlightenment). Liv = focus of mind; connection with God. Tithaiy = there. Sunchraiy = reach. 6.
Tuhaiy = You are. Soojaan(u) = wise; omnipotent. Maylunhaar(u) = connector.
Paaravaar(u) = limitless. Apaar(u) = incomprehensible. 7.

MEANING: While enjoying life in the deep, salty ocean, the fish feels safe and forgets death. As a result, she fails to recognize the dangers of the net and gets trapped. The fish are considered very beautiful and wise, but why do they trust the net (that there is no danger there)? Because of this unawareness, they get caught and killed. The death looming over their heads cannot be avoided. 1.
Remember, a similar death is looming over your head, oh my brother. Like the fish, the man is caught unaware by the net of death. Pause.
Everybody is trapped in the net of (is a prisoner of) death, which is uncontrollable. Only the Guru can enlighten our minds (so that our concept of death changes, and we look forward to the opportunity to be “one” with God). The Guru clears all our doubts (about Waheguru and Maya), thereby making our mind stable and enabling us to control our sensual pleasures. The Guru connects us with Waheguru, and we are imbued with His Naam and are saved. Guru Nanak says He gladly wants to sacrifice His life for the devotees who are honoured as the bearers of Truth (having noble qualities) in Waheguru’s Court. 2.
Just as a Seechanna (a bird of prey) or a hunter with a net in his hand is dangerous to birds, the net of Maya causes spiritual death for humans. Those who are enlightened by the Guru are saved, but the others are trapped by Maya's bait. Those who are without Waheguru’s Naam in their heart are selectively rejected (in Waheguru’s Court), and there is no friend to help them. 3. One should always recite the Naam of the eternal Waheguru, whose throne is also eternal. Those who believe (have full faith) in the eternal Waheguru, always keep Him in mind. Also, those who have been enlightened by the Guru are connected to Waheguru and are pure in mind and in speech (they speak truth only). 4.
One should pray to the Guru, begging to connect him with the real Friend (God). When one is connected with Waheguru, he enjoys all the comforts, and for him, the agent of death is dead as if he had taken poison. I live in Waheguru’s Naam (always remember Him), and He lives in me, oh Nanak. 5. Without the Guru, there is darkness of ignorance (caused by Maya), but one does not realize this until enlightened by the Guru. When enlightened by the Guru, one stays focused on Waheguru’s Naam. In that state, the human soul becomes “one” with Waheguru, and (the fear of) death does not reach there. 6.
You are my friend, are omnipotent, and You Yourself, connect people with You, oh Waheguru. The inaccessible Waheguru can be praised only by the Guru’s Shabad. The fear of death cannot reach there where the incomprehensible Guru’s Shabad is present (is internalized). 7. All life is born with the Huqam (Laws) of Waheguru, and all humans spend their life as per the Huqam of Waheguru. Some people are subject to death (for rebirth) while some become part of Waheguru as per His Huqam. Only that happens in the world that Waheguru wishes; nothing is in the control of humans, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Theeyaiy = happen, become. Dhun = woman. Vaandhi = separated. Jhooray = laments; grieves. Kern Plaav = implore; supplicate; feel restless. Bhaavaiy = likes. 2.
Sukhi = suhayli = (female) friends. Mohiya = enchanted; having magical effect. Rutti = imbued. Rung(i) = in love. Nihaal(i) = blessed. Svaari = adorned (with noble qualities). 3. Kaamun(i) = woman. Kaam(i) = of use. Khoti = fake; dishonest. Uvgunyaar(i) = having bad qualities. Payiyaiy = (in) parents house (this world). Sahooraiy = (in) in-laws' house (next world). (In Sri Guru Granth Sahib the relation between humans and Waheguru is thought of as between a wife and her husband. All humans are thought of as God's wives with God as the husband). Vaykaar(i) = in sensual desires or acts. Aavun = coming; birth. Vunjun = leave; death. Daakhrro = very difficult; painful. Kunt(i) = husband. Visaar(i) = forget. 4. Pir(u) = dear; husband. Naar(i) = woman; wife. Mooti = separated; disconnected. Kit(u) = what? Saad(i) = taste; interest. Faadil(u) = Baad(i) = meaningless. Dhoyee = shelter. Luhaiy = get; obtain. Doojaiy Saad(i) = in interst of the other (Maya). 5.

Vaacheh(i) = read casually. Pothiyaan = religious books. Boojhaiy = understand. Veechaar(i) = ponder; think deeply. Un-kuou = to others. Mutti = advice. Vaapaar(u) = trade. Kuthni = sayings. Bhuvaiy = wander; straggle. Rehni = lead life. Saar(u) = supreme. 6. Jotki = fortune tellers. Vaad(i) = (fruitless) discussion. Viroddh(i) = in opposition. Gur Kerm = Guru's Kerm = deeds as per Guru's Advice. Vukhaan(u) = explain. 7. Goonvunti = possessing good qualities. Vur(u) = husband. 8.

MEANING: When the mind is dirty, the body is also dirty (with ignoble deeds), and so is the tongue (because it criticizes others maliciously, and tells lies). A liar tells lies with his mouth (tongue), so how can he be clean (pure)? The mind can be cleansed with the water of Guru's Shabad; only Waheguru is the source of Truth. 1.

What kind of comfort can a young woman (human) enjoy when she lacks all the noble qualities? Only those wives (individuals) enjoy the love of the husband (Waheguru) which are connected with Him by Guru's eternal Shabad, and by devotion. Pause.

If the husband becomes foreigner (leaves his wife), the separated wife grieves in separation, and feels restless just like a fish in less water. But she feels perfect comfort when her husband casts a kind eye and begins to like her. 2.

One needs to praise the husband (Waheguru) in the company of the devotee-friends. When the mind of a human bride is enchanted by Waheguru, and she is imbued in His love, she feels blessed, and her body looks pretty (she does noble deeds with her body). Adorned by Guru's Shabad and good qualities, she becomes very attractive and enjoys union with Waheguru. 3. The human bride, who is devoid of good qualities and fakes love for Him, is not worthy of Waheguru (and is ignored by Him) and enjoys no comfort either in this world or the next. She burns (suffers badly) in her false show off. She is forgotten, and disowned by the husband (Waheguru), and is trapped in the painful cycle of rebirths. 4.

Only that human bride is pretty who is loved by the husband (Waheguru); but, the one who has been disowned by Him, spends a tasteless life. She talks useless (about her mundane wishes and desires), and is unworthy for the husband (Waheguru). She finds no support at Waheguru's door, and is ignored because of her interest in the other (Maya). 5.

Pundits do study religious books (for debates only), but do not understand the depth of ideas. They preach others as a business to earn wealth only. Their preaching is false, and misguides the world. Living as per the Shabad of the Guru, is supreme. 6.

There are many pundits and fortunate tellers who ponder on the Vedas. They earn praise for their ability to debate and oppose others, but they keep taking birth again, and again because of their misguided approach to attain high spirituality. They narrate, and explain the ideas to others, and listen to them too, but they can never cut the bonds of Maya without the grace of the Guru. 7. Everybody is thought to have some noble qualities, but I do not have any such quality. Waheguru's wife (the devotee connected to Him) is pretty (has beautiful mind); I wish Waheguru liked me too. Once one is connected to Waheguru by Guru's Shabad (Teachings), she will not suffer any separation again, oh Nanak. 8.5.

(To have their wishes fulfilled) Some people recite some mantras, or torture themselves physically, or live in some holy place (to please some god); but no such act, or even accepted noble deeds, donations (to Brahmans), or other acts of kindness, result in any enhancement in their spiritual level without singing praise of) Waheguru. One reaps rewards only for what one sows; without acquiring noble qualities, one's life goes to waste. 1.
Like a trader who has no capital but looks for profit everywhere, most pundits are looking for spiritual gain outside (without any devotion to Waheguru), and do not realize that the invaluable object they are looking for (source of life - Waheguru) is inside them (in their mind). Without this merchandise (Waheguru's Naam), they experience heavy suffering. The fraudsters are robbed (of spirituality) by the false show of their religiosity - their knowledge of the Vedas and their ability to debate. 2. However, if one always examines the Rattan (precious Waheguru, which is always fresh) by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, he earns a huge spiritual gain. He can achieve the real objective (Waheguru's Naam) in his own heart, and will thus leave the world having achieved the purpose of life. One should come to Guru's shelter, and deal in the (Naam) with the traders (real devotees) by discussing Waheguru's noble qualities (sing Waheguru's praise in their company). 3.
Waheguru can be realized in the company of the Guru (or saintly devotees), provided He wants to connect someone with His kindness. Once one is connected to Waheguru and has been enlightened, he will never experience disconnection. With true devotion and love, a man can be "one" with Waheguru, and enjoy the eternal Residence of Waheguru as an integral component (part) of His. 4. Those who have recognized the self (as a component of Waheguru) and have cleansed their minds to be a place for Waheguru to reside are imbued with Waheguru's Naam, receiving it as a gift. With His eternal Naam in mind, one "sees" Waheguru everywhere in the three-layered universe. 5.
That woman (the bride) becomes very beautiful when she realizes Waheguru within her. She is invited to His Palace by the Master (Waheguru), and she enjoys His love. She is a truly married bride (loved by the Husband), and a pretty woman (with noble qualities), who has been enchanted by Waheguru because of His noble qualities. 6.
(Not realizing that God lives in their heart) Many people, rather than searching Him in their hearts, leave their homes in search of Him. They wander on earth, on mountains, and in forests, but still cannot find Him because only the Guru can lead them on the right path. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, if one keeps wandering unguided, he continues to be born again, and again. 7. (To know the real path so as to be "one" with Waheguru) Ask the travellers for guidance who have actually walked the path for union with Him, oh my friend. They will tell you that (to connect with God) one has to have the qualities of a personal attendant (full devotion with faith). He should recognize the King (Waheguru) as his own Master (serve Him diligently), when he will experience no hurdle or barrier to reach Waheguru's Palace. Then he will also realize that there is only "one" God pervading the whole universe, and no one else, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Nirmul(u) = clean; pure (Waheguru). Dayh = body; mind. Ubh = heart. Peer = peerr = pain. Sehjaiy Tay = with control on mind (mind at peace). Uglo = very much. Jum = Angel of death. Teer = arrow; attack. 1. Maiyl(u) = filth. Nirmul Jul(u) = clean (pure) water (Waheguru's Naam-water). Jaayay = place. Pause.

Hur(i) ka Mundar(u) = God's Palace (human body). Kurnaiyhaar(u) = the Creator. Ruv(i) = sun. Sus(i) = moon. Anoop = without any equal (beautiful). Jot(i) = light. Apaar = without limits; incomprehensible. Haat = shop. Puttun = city. Gurrh = fort. Kotthrri = small room. Sauda = merchandise. Vapaar = trade. 2.

Unjun(u) = kohl; mascara. Bhaiy Bhunjuna = the destroyer of fear (Waheguru). Gupt(u) = invisible. Pergut(u) = visible. Tthaayayn = stable; under control. Sehjay = in the state of peacefuk mind. 3. Kusvutti = touchstone. Purkhay = examine. Hit(u) = love. Chit(u) = (focused) mind. Khotay = fraudsters; cheats. Tthaour = shelter; peace. Khuray = pure; real. Khujaanaiy = in the treasure. Undaysa = doubts. 4. Ugla = much. Manmukh(i) = follower of his own mind. Sum = equal. Shabad(i) = with the Shabad. Bhayd(i) = by piercing. 5. Bani Braham = Guru's compositions praising Waheguru. Biyaas(u) = a sage who reorganized the Vedas (which are attributed to Brahma as the original author). Moon(i) = sages who stay quiet for very long times. Saadhika = one who tries to control their mind using different yogic approaches. Ruttay = imbued. Goontaas(u) = source of all noble qualities (Waheguru). Jin(i) guyyay = achieved success. 6.

Chuhoun Joog(i) = in all the four eons (no matter what the eon is). Mul(u) = filth (of ignoble deeds). Bhaayay = love. Vihooniyaan = devoid of. Put(i) = dignity. Visaariya = forgot. Mootthi = robbed by. 7. Khojut = searching. Puchhaanaiy = recognize. Ghur(i) vusaiy = reside in one's own heart; control one's mind from wandering. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Trishna = sensual desires. Nirmul = Oojlay = clean; pure. 8.
MEANING: Just like a dip in clean water cleanses your body, a dip in the holy water of Waheguru's Naam cleanses the filth of sensual pleasures from your mind, oh my brother. Only Waheguru is eternally clean; all other places (human hearts) are full of filth of evil desires. Pause. However, one gets connected with the Pure Waheguru only by the grace of the Guru, whereby one's mind and body also get pure. (Body becomes pure when no evil deed is done by it). When the mind becomes pure, Waheguru, who knows the pain of your heart (because of separation from Him), takes residence in your heart. When the mind is pure, one feels great comfort (blissfulness), and the fear of death is gone. 1.
Even though the Creator (Waheguru) is present in every heart imperceptibly, He enlightens the hearts of His devotees only and makes their hearts a place to reside. In such beautiful (pure) hearts, the sun of Divine Knowledge destroys the darkness of ignorance, and the moon of coolness puts out the fire of burning desires. The devotee then "sees" God everywhere in the three-layered universe. The heart of such a devotee becomes a shop, a city, or a fort wherein only the "True" merchandise of Waheguru's Naam is traded (the devotee spends most of his time in the company of other devotees, where only Waheguru's praise is sung). 2. If one is fortunate to connect with the Guru who imparts Divine Knowledge in his mind which acts like kohl for the eyes to "see" the destroyer of all fears – Waheguru- who is above the effects of Maya, and fosters love for Waheguru in the mind of the individual, he attains the spiritual state where mind finds peace, and can "see" Waheguru which is present visibly and invisibly (in nature). 3. Like a goldsmith who tests gold for its purity by grazing it on a touchstone, Waheguru examines His humans very carefully, but with kindness. Like counterfeit money, the fake (hypocrite) finds no place in Waheguru's Court, while the true devotees (like real money) become part of Waheguru's treasure. The filth of all the doubts and of the worldly hopes of such devotees is removed, and they become "one with" God. 4. Of course, everybody wishes comforts, and nobody wants discomforts; but they do not realize that comforts are followed by huge discomforts. The follower of his mind does not recognize this fact. The true comfort is attained when a man's mind is pierced with the Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, he makes no distinction between comforts and discomforts. 5. Sage Biyas kept reading the Vedas loudly (preaching them with vigour), but to connect with Waheguru, one needs to ponder on the Guru's Shabad (which praises God). The sages who stay quiet for a long time, the devotees, and the ones who try different ways to purify their minds, are successful only if they are imbued with Waheguru's Naam. I am a sacrifice for all those who are successful in their objective (swim across the sea of Maya) by being imbued in Waheguru's Love. 6. Those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam by their tongue have the filth of Maya, no matter what eon it is. Those who are devoid of the love for worship of God, lose respect in (Waheguru's Court), and their faces are blackened (they are humiliated). The individuals who ignore Waheguru's Naam are robbed (of spirituality) by their ignoble qualities, and they have to repent. 7.
Individuals who have Waheguru's respectful fear in mind and search for Him are connected with the Guru by Waheguru's kindness and are guided by the Guru to be connected with Waheguru. They recognize themselves, overcome their selfishness, ego, and worldly desires, and find peace in their minds. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are pure (in every way), oh Nanak. 8.7.

Word Meaning: Bhoolay = misled. Baavray = crazy; insane. Jum(u) = Angel of death. Ghuno = too much. Dohaagni = disowned by husband. Kiyoun = why? how? Thir(u) = stable. Soohaag(u) = husband. 1. Uver(u) = else; other. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Bul(i) = sacrifice. Pause. Put(i) = honour. Shabaash(i) = bravo; big applause. Tayk = shelter. Tiki = stable; settled. Ghur(i) = mind. 2.
Chaylay = disciples. Tthaoun = shelter. Sooaao = objective (of life). Soonjaiy = deserted. Kaaoun = crow. 3. Dayhoori = body. Kullar = saltpetre. Bheet(i) = wall. Mehl(u) = God's palace (union with Waheguru). Cheet(i) = in mind. Rupaiy = imbued. Ghur(u) = (Waheguru's) house. Nirbanee Pud(u) = stage of spirituality above the effects of Maya.

Neet(i) = every day; forever. 4. Kaar Kmaaoun = work toward the objective. Milaavrra = union (with God). 5. Nirmulay = pure. Tuj(i) = by abandoning. Oordhaar(i) = bear in mind. Visaariyaiy = forget; drop from mind. Aadhaar(u) = support. 6. Shabad(i) Muraiy = kill desires by Guru's Shabad. 7. Vudhou Vudayri = greater than the greatest. Aap(u) Cheeniyaiy = self-analysis. 8.

MEANING: Listen, oh, my misled and crazy mind; take shelter of the Guru and recite Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which, the Angel of death will be afraid of you, and all your discomforts will also run away from you. Those who have forgotten Waheguru, and are thus devoid of the love of their husband, Waheguru, suffer a great deal. How can they enjoy the protection of their husband (Waheguru), when they have forgotten Him? 1.

I have no other support (than Waheguru), oh my brothers. Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of wealth for me, which has been kindly given to me by the Guru, and I am always a sacrifice for Him. Pause. I am highly thankful to my Guru, and wish to be in His company (shelter), because His guidance brings me honour. I cannot live without the Guru for even a moment, because I experience spiritual death without Waheguru's Naam (and the Guru gives me the Naam, i.e., connects me to Waheguru). I am blind (completely ignorant), and pray to the Guru that I must not forget Waheguru, and wish to stay always in this state of mind (connected with Waheguru). 2. If a guru himself is blind (has no Divine Knowledge), his disciples will have no support or guidance either. One cannot acquire Waheguru's Naam without the guidance of the Guru, and life is purposeless without the Naam. Like a crow, which goes to a deserted house where it finds nothing to eat, the man does not achieve anything spiritually valuable without the Naam. Those who are without the Naam are caught in the birth-death cycle and then feel remorseful. 3. Like a wall of saltpetre, which crumbles soon, the human body suffers a lot without Waheguru's Naam. As long as one does not acquire Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he cannot reach His Palace (merge into Him). One attains the spiritual stage where Maya has no effect, only when he is imbued in the Guru's Shabad, and then reaches Waheguru's Palace. 4. I will seek my Guru's advice and then perform the deeds accordingly. When we praise Waheguru after the Guru's Shabad, Waheguru takes residence in our hearts, and our pain of haumein is eradicated. With the mind at peace (above the effects of Maya), one gets connected with Waheguru by singing His praise. 5. Those who are imbued in the Guru's Shabad are able to overcome their feelings of lust, rage, and ego and attain purity. They keep Waheguru in mind at all times and sing His praise. Why should one forget Waheguru, who is the provider and the shelter for all living beings? 6. Those who have controlled their mind and killed their worldly desires stay in the high spiritual state and do not experience death again (because being "one" with Waheguru, they become immortal). One can realize Waheguru only by acting on the Guru's Shabad, which fosters love for Waheguru in one's mind. Without Guru's Shabad, the world is misled, and is lost (about the real objective of life), as a result of which, it takes birth, (and it dies) again, and again. 7.

Everybody praises themselves and considers themselves greater than others. But, what does he achieve spiritually by saying and listening to others in his praise, unless he analyzes himself by taking shelter of the Guru? When one recognizes himself through the Guru's advice, he shows no ego, oh Nanak. 8.8.

Word Meaning: Dhun = woman (human bride). Sheegariyaiy = make up; adornment. Jobun(u) = youth. Baad(i) = worthless. Khooaar(u) = suffer without achieving anything. Maanay = enjoy. Sayjurri = sayj = bed. Ghuno = too much. Dohaagni = devoid of husband's love. Bhutaar(u) = husband. 1.
Jup-hou = recite. Rung(u) = love; enjoyment. Pause. Vur(u) = husband. Goohrra = dark; deep fast (colour). Hayt(u) = love. Jaan(i) = recognizing; connecting (with God). Sinjaaniyaiy = develop an acquaintance (make a connection). Chaar(u) = beautiful; noble (qualities). 2. Kaamni = woman. Mohi = captivated; enchanted. Vigsiya = blooms. 3. Munooa = mun = mind. Raavaiy = enjoys. Ikut(u) = same. Taagaiy = thread; bond. Rul(i) Milaiy = mix together. Oopjaiy = is produced 4.
Khin = a moment. Khupaiy = disappear; die. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Suntayaiy = causes trouble; hurts. Sahib(u) = Lord. Atool(u) = which cannot be weighed (measured). Kuthan(i) = by describing. 5. Vaapaari = Vunjaariya = traders; dealers. Vujhou = income (fortune). Kaar = business (work for living). Laaha = profit; benefit. Rujaayay = (according to) the Will. Poonji = capital. Til(u) = sesame seed. Tmaayay = desire; greed. 6. Tol(i) = amount; weight. Tolayaysi = will enable you to have the needed amount. Traaji = weighing scale. Aasa = wishes; hopes. Munsa = desires of the mind. Mohni = captivating. Tthaaki = stopped; controlled. 7.

Chhootiyaiy = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Bhaar = huge amount. Kaaya = body. Soch = cleanliness. Kartar = the Creator (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: If you want comfort (peace of mind), recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. However, love for Waheguru cannot be fostered in the mind without the shelter of the Guru. One can connect with Waheguru only by following the Guru's Shabad, for true enjoyment follows. Pause. A woman, who adorns herself with makeup, but has no union with her husband, fails to enjoy the comfort in the bed of her heart with her husband, and all her makeup goes to waste. Just like that woman, a human bride who wears all the religious symbols without connecting with God, has her life going by worthlessly, and suffers a lot. A wife, who has been disowned by her husband, suffers badly as she has no husband to enjoy on the bed of her heart. 1. Serving the Guru enables the human bride to have the adornment of a high spiritual state above the attractions of Maya so as to get connected with God, and to enjoy the comfort of union with Him. A human bride enjoys the bed (union) with Waheguru when she is connected with Him because of her full affection and devotion for Him. In Guru's shelter, the human bride acquires noble qualities, as a result of which, she comes to recognize Waheguru (get connected with Him). 2.

Captivated by Waheguru, when a human bride is connected with Him, she enjoys the bliss of His love. Because of Waheguru's light in her heart, her body and mind become pure and priceless, and nobody can evaluate her (can describe her) spiritual level. The beloved bride has her Husband (Waheguru) in her mind all the time, and her heart blooms because of the Naam in her mind. 3. If the mind of a human bride is dead towards Maya (has killed all her worldly desires), the Husband (Waheguru) enjoys such a bride (loves her), and they are close to each other like the pearls in a necklace that stick together on the same thread. For a devotee of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam is his support, and he enjoys comfort in the company of the holy men (other devotees). 4. Without the Guru's shelter, a Maya-engrossed individual experiences joy at a birth in the family and grief at a death in the family; the same goes for a gain or a loss in his wealth. At one moment, his heart is buoyed, and the next, it sinks because of changes in his financial situation. On the other hand, an individual who is connected with the Guru's Shabad is always content and feels blissful. The fear of death never bothers him. However, a devotee never claims that he has found the limits of the limitless Waheguru; he only realizes Him, which cannot otherwise be realized simply by claims. 5. All human beings are traders here in this world (who trade in good or bad values), and come here with pre-determined qualities or traits (abilities). Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam earn the benefit of leading their life as per the Will of God. However, only those who earn the capital (wealth) of Waheguru's Naam are connected with the Guru, who has absolutely no greed for His fame, or any other desire for personal gain of any kind. 6. When humans are weighed (evaluated or tested) for their success in Waheguru's Court for their spiritual levels, the scale and the standard weight are only the Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Those who have been enlightened by the Guru meet the requirements because the Guru has enabled them to control the captivating lure of hopes and wishes by making them recite Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's requirements for human success never change, and He Himself enables individuals to meet those requirements. 7.

If someone believes that he can break the bonds of Maya simply by reading books or making claims, he is seriously mistaken because the mind's purity (which is essential to break Maya's bonds) cannot be achieved without worshiping Waheguru with love. Only those get connected with the Guru and Waheguru, who never forget Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.9.

Word Meaning: Poora = perfect (“one” with God). Rattan = (valuable like) precious stone (Waheguru’s Naam). Mookt(i) = freedom from evil desires. Pdaruth = valuable matter (Waheguru’s Naam). Uvgun = bad qualities. Maytunhaar(u) = destroyer. 1.
Naardaiy = from Narad (was a son of Brahma who was born out of Brahma’s thigh. He was a musician and a messenger. He loved to create problems between gods and demons). Biyasaiy = from Biyas. (He was a sage who is supposed to have reorganized the Vedas which are attributed to Brahma as their author). Pause. Ukuth(u) = indescribable (Waheguru). Giyaan(u) = (to acquire) Divine Knowledge (connecting with God). Dhiyan(u) = to focus thoughts (on Waheguru). Dhoon(i) = sound; concentration of mind.
to meditate. Sufliyo = fulfiller of your wishes. Laal, Juvayhur. Maanki = all precious jewels or stones (represent Waheguru’s Naam). Bhundaaraiy = (in) treasures. 2.
Saacho Vukkhur(u) = true merchandise (Naam). Sunchiyaiy = accumulate. Kerm(i) Apaar(u) = by kindness of the incomprehensible (Waheguru). Asoor = demons. Sunghaar(u) = killer; destroyer. 3. Bhuvjul(u) = sea of life (Maya). Bikhum(u) = difficult (to cross). Kundhi = shore. Toolhurra = raft; a crude float. Vunjh(u) = oar. Mulaar(u) = boatman. Bohitha = ship. Nedri = kind sight. 4. mind. Jihva = tongue. Rusayaiy = tastefully. Ghut(u) = heart. Binsaiy = gets destroyed; is dead. 5. Klut(u) = wife. Dhun(u) = woman (human bride). Baad(i) = worthless. Aath(i) = Maya. Kaath(i) = recite; describe. 6. Bhuvaayiyaiy = put through the cycle of birth and death. Puyya Kirt(i) = mental inclination based on one's deeds of previous lives. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-destined. Rujaayay = Waheguru's Will (Huqam). Gurmut(i) = guidance of the Guru. 7. Jeo = life. Praan(u) = breathing. Haumein = selfidhnes and ego. Mumta = motherly affection. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Gooni Nidhaan(u) = treasure of noble qualities (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: You cannot acquire Divine Knowledge without the Guru, oh my brothers; (you will get the same response even if) you ask the wise people like Brahma, Nard, the Vedas, or (sage) Biyas. Pause. If you are lucky enough to connect with the Guru, only then will you learn to discuss the Divine qualities of Waheguru, which are priceless, like jewels. If you offer your mind to the Guru (to acquire His wisdom), you can realize Waheguru, who loves everybody. Waheguru is the destroyer of all evil qualities and is the source of His Naam, which frees you from the bonds of Maya. 1. The Guru enables you to acquire Divine Knowledge (connect with the source – Waheguru), to focus your mind, and to meditate on Him. The Guru is like an evergreen fruit tree which provides tasty fruit (fulfils all your wishes) and provides good shade (shelter) too. All the noble qualities, which are priceless like some jewels and pearls, are in the treasure of the Guru. 2. The love for the holy Naam (of Waheguru) can be acquired only from the treasure of the Guru. This everlasting merchandise (Waheguru's Naam) can be had only by the kindness of the incomprehensible (Waheguru). Satguru is the source of all comfort, the eliminator of all discomforts, and the destroyer of all evil. 3. The sea of life (of Maya), which has no shore either on this side (this world), or on the far side (the next world), is very frightening and extremely difficult (to cross). (Other than the Guru), There is no boat, not even a crude raft, no oar, and no boatman (to take across the sea). Satguru is the ship which kills all your fears and ferries you across the sea, just by His kind sight. 4. If I drop my dear Waheguru from my mind even for a moment, all my comforts disappear, and discomforts entrap me. Such a tongue, which does not recite Waheguru's Naam tastefully, deserves to be burnt, and must be burnt. When the heart fails (the body takes its last breath), the Angel of Death takes the individual into his possession and causes him a great deal of misery; at that time, the individual feels remorse. 5. The man lays claim to all his belongings, but when he dies, nobody - including his own body, his wealth, or even his wife – accompanies him to help his soul. The man is misguided (by his desires) and pursues the path for Maya without realizing that worldly wealth is worthless without Waheguru's Naam. The man should serve Waheguru by taking Guru's shelter, who makes him recite the Naam of the indescribable God. 6.
However, the man is also helpless because he pursues the path of life for which he is predestined. His prewritten destiny cannot be erased, which has been written according to Waheguru's Will. At the same time, the man cannot cut himself loose from the bonds of Maya without Waheguru's Naam, which can be worshipped only by acting on the Guru's advice. 7. There is nobody else who is mine other than Waheguru, who is the Master of my life and breaths. I wish my selfishness, my attachment with the family, my greed, and my ego were burnt down, because to attain union with the source of all the Divine qualities (Waheguru), all the evil qualities must be gotten rid of by pondering (and acting) on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.10.

Ghuno = too much. Shaant(i) = peaceful (satisfied). Ghurri = 24 minutes; a short period of time. Ubh = heart. Peer = pain. 2. Chaatrik = rainbird; a bird that is believed to drink the first drop of rain water which falls during a mythical Swanti sub-planet. Mayh = rain; cloud. Sur = bodies of water like lakes, ponds etc. Bhur(i) = full. Thul = ground. Kayh = to what use? Kirt(i) Puyya = pre=written destiny. 3. Aavtun(u) = boiling. Khuvaiy = endures. Khupan = suffer. Vichhooniyaan = the separated. Vudiyayee = honour. 4.

Chukvee = (Greek Partridge) another bird which gets separated from its companion after sunset, and meets again with sun rise. So chukvee waits all night for the sun to rise and keeps calling her companion throughout the night. Soor = sun. Khin(u) Pul(u) = a single moment. Hudoor(i) = Hujoor(i) = present close by. Sojhi = understanding. 5.
Gunut gnaavni = a show off (to be included among the devotees). Lochaiy = longs.6.
Nayhou = affection. Bhaytaiy = connects with. Pdaruth = invaluable objective. Tirbhuvan = three-layered universe. Sojhi = understanding. Gaahuk = customer. 7.
Khayl(i) guyay = their game is over. Punkhnoo = birds. Choogday = feed themselves. Sur = pool of water. Moohut(i) = short period of time. Ujj(u) = today.
Sacha Pirr(u) = everlasting play ground (the game of life). Mull(i) = winning. 8.
Sohun(g) = I am that (part of Waheguru). Aap(u) = self. Bhayd(i) = by piercing. Putiyayay = convinced; bring around. Uver(u) = else. 9.
Munmukh(i) = follower of own mind. Vichhurr(i) = by separating. Choataan Khayay = gets hit; suffers badly. Dur(u) = door. Ghur(u) = home = shelter. Jaayay= place. 10.
MEANING: One cannot break the bonds of Maya without the love for God, oh my mind. By Guru's grace, Waheguru takes residence in one's heart and is present there all the time. The Guru confers the treasures of Waheguru's worship on the devotee. Pause.
So, love God just as the lotus flower loves water; even though the flower is hit by the water waves, it thrives even more. Other living beings, which have been created by God to live in water, die without it. 1. Love Waheguru the same way as the fish love water. The more water there is, the more comfort the fish get, and their mind and body feel at peace. They do not survive without water for even a moment. So, one should love Waheguru, who knows the pain of our heart (provides comfort) the same way (as fish does for water), oh my mind. 2. Love Waheguru the same way as the rainbird loves the rain drop during the Swanti sub-planet. Even though all the water bodies may be full to the brim, and the land may be green due to rain, all these waters mean nothing to the rainbird if he does not get that particular raindrop. But everybody is limited by the consequences of his deeds in previous lives; one only receives that which is given to him by the kindness of Waheguru. (Even union with Him depends on His kindness). 3. Love God the same way as water loves milk, oh my mind. Water endures the heat of boiling and protects milk from the heat (water boils off while the milk stays behind). (Like water, if someone yearns to connect with God), Waheguru Himself unites such separated individuals with Him and honours them. 4.
Love Waheguru the same way as the Chukvee loves the sun, oh my mind. She cannot sleep even for a moment and keeps calling her companion all night, thinking he is far away, even though he is still close by. She loves the sunlight and waits for the sun to rise. Likewise, the follower of their mind thinks God to be somewhere far away, while for a Gurmukh, Waheguru is always around him. 5. The followers of their mind try to be included among the religious people by showing off, but only what the Creator does (or makes people do) happens. However, nobody can find the limits of God's qualities - no matter how hard they try or wish for that. But when one comes to Guru's shelter, he can appreciate Waheguru's qualities and enjoy bliss by connecting with Him. 6. If God connects one with the Guru, his true affection for Waheguru never fades. (In Guru's shelter), One acquires the invaluable Divine Knowledge (connection with Waheguru) and realizes that Waheguru is present in the entire three-layered universe. When one begins to deal in the Divine qualities by taking the Guru's shelter, he never forgets the holy Naam of Waheguru. 7.

The birds which used to pick food by the pool of water have completed their enjoyable games (people have completed their lives and are dead). Everybody has to leave this world shortly – maybe today or tomorrow – but only those who are connected with Waheguru are connected with Him through His own kindness. Such lucky people leave this world achieving the true objective of life (union with Waheguru). 8. Love for Waheguru does not develop in people's mind, and the filth of selfishness does not wash away, until they come to Guru's shelter, whereby their mind is pierced with Guru's Shabad, and they are convinced about the existence of God (and love for Him), and one recognizes self, and realizes that he is a part of Waheguru. One recognizes oneself only by taking the Guru's shelter; nobody can recognize oneself on their own, or with help from others. 9.
Those who are convinced by the Guru's Shabad about Waheguru become connected to Him and do not need to be united again because they never get separated from Him. But the followers of their minds do not attain enlightenment about Waheguru and remain separated from Him, and as a result, they suffer greatly. There is only one door and one support – Waheguru –, and there is no other place in the universe for human support, oh Nanak. 10.11.

Word Meaning: Tthaur = shelter. Pdaruth = valuable article. Khoya = lost. Tthugiya = Moottha = defrauded; swindled. 1. Baba = elderly (wise) man. Bherm(i) = misled; deceived. Dohaagni = disowned by husband. Unk(i) = (in the) heart. Smaayay= mixes completely; becomes one with. Pause. Disunited = foreign countries. Grehou = home. Tuj(i) = relinquish. Doongur = hill. Thul = desert; ground. Dolaayay = uncontrolled; wavering (mind). Dhooroun = right from the source. Vichhooni = separated. Gerb = ego. Billayay= wails. 2. Vichhoorriyaan = separated. Rus(i) = with taste. Sehj(i) = mental state above the attractions of Maya. Sobha = fame; praise. Ghuni = very much. Adhaar(i) = support. Bhutaar(u) = husband. 3. Akkhur = letters; teachings of holy books. Bhaykheen = symbols of different faiths. Abhimaan = Goomaan = conceit. Sultan = a Muslim ruler. 4. Pdaruth = valuable item. Tut(u) = the root; source (Waheguru). Sa Dhun = that woman. Aap(u) = self. Seegaar(i) = adornment. Hayt(u) = (by) live. 5.
Chaakri = personal tending. Nirmul = pure. Haumein = selfishness and ego. 6.
Kerm(i) = by the grace. Ruttiyaan = being imbued. Pullaiy = in account. 7.
Abhool = infallible. Apaar(u) = incomprehensible. 8.

MEANING: (Maya's effects on man are very powerful), and under its influence, the man is misled from the real path of life (to get connected with Waheguru), oh, wise man. A misled human bride (man) is like a wife who has been disowned by her husband and cannot enjoy his love (Waheguru). Pause.

The follower of his mind is misled (under the influence of Maya) from the real path of life and has no shelter (for spiritual gain). Nobody, other than the Guru, can show him the real path (to connect with God), and the blind (ignorant man) leaves this world trapped in the birth-death cycle, because he has been cheated of the valuable Divine Knowledge by Maya. 1.

Misguided (but still desirous of connecting with Waheguru), the man leaves home (in search of God), and wanders in different territories, on the mountains, and on earth, but due to the non-clarity of his mission (caught between Maya and the search for God), his mind does not find peace. But such men are not fully to blame because those who are pre-destined to be engrossed in Maya are deceived by their ego; they only wail about their misfortune. 2.

However, the Guru can connect such people to Waheguru by fostering in their minds the love and the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam. (Acting on Guru's advice), When an individual becomes imbued in Waheguru's Naam and makes Waheguru his only support, he attains a spiritual level above the attractions of Maya, remains connected to Waheguru, and earns praise in the world. Hey Waheguru, I pray to You to kindly protect me, too, from the attacks of Maya, in whatever way You please; I have no other husband (Lord) than You, begs Nanak. 3.

Some people read holy books, but (without the proper guidance of the Guru) they are misled and may join a faith group and wear its symbols, yet they still suffer from their false ego (of being religious). Pilgrimage, too, does not serve any purpose if the mind has the filth of ego on it. Their mind is the ruler for them (controls all their actions); the mind can be enlightened only by the Guru, and nobody else. 4.

By taking Guru's shelter, one ponders on the Divine qualities of the root (Waheguru), and acquires love for Him. With the mind adorned by the Guru's Shabad, such a human bride is able to kill her selfishness. With pure love for the Guru, she realizes the incomprehensible God in her heart (and does not need to leave home). 5.

Service to the Guru as a personal attendant purifies one's mind, and one realizes and feels all comforts. One's ego is eradicated when the Guru's Shabad takes residence in his mind, and he permanently earns the valuable Naam (it stays in his mind forever). 6.

However, nobody can acquire Waheguru's Naam by their own efforts; only the kindness of the Guru makes that possible. Therefore, the man should always take Guru's shelter to get rid of his selfishness. When one is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he acquires Him (becomes "one" with Waheguru). 7. Everybody is fallible; only the Guru and Waheguru are infallible. So, the individual, who takes shelter of the Guru, develops love for Waheguru, and his mind is enlightened. Guru's Shabad connects one with the incomprehensible Waheguru, and he never lets the Naam slip from his mind, oh Nanak. 8.12.

Ghurriyaiy = moulded. Vigaas(i) = blossoms; feels blissful. Purkhay = examines; evaluates. Paarkhoo = examiner. 4.
Tthok(i) Vujaayay= (tested) from all aspects. Tikaiy = stays. 5.
Vaad(u) = arguments; struggle. Bikhiya = poison. Dooja = Maya. Feeka = tasteless. 6.
Aasaa = hope (wish or desire to achieve). Kus = salty and sour. Moohay mooh(i) = on the face again, and again. Uvgun = ill qualities and deeds. 7. Bhulo = good; noble. Put(i) = dignity. Saath(u) = companion. Bhaakh(u) = utter. 8.
Tirbhuvun(i) = three-layered universe. Smaayay= present. Bhaao = affection. Bhaavaiy = (as He) pleases. Rujaayay= Will (Huqam). 9.
MEANING: I have no other support than You, oh My dear (Waheguru). I do not like anybody else; I feel blissful to like You. Pause. Sons, relatives, wife at home, and desires are all forms of Maya, which is captivating. The world is being defrauded by wealth, youthfulness, greed, and ego. I am also a victim of the deceiving worldly attachments (which induce temporary unconsciousness); in fact, the whole world is their victim. 1.
(To escape from the captivating Maya), I sing praise of Naam (Waheguru), taking Guru's shelter because of which I find contentment. One must realize that everything visible is perishable, and love for them is false (short-lived). So, one should not pay any attention to them. Watching people leaving this world all the time, one can realize that he is here on this earth like a visitor, and life is just a short journey. 2.
If we were to count, there are countless people who talk (about God), but they get no enlightenment without the Guru. If one gets enlightened about the greatness of the Naam, he earns respect by getting imbued in Waheguru. We cannot judge people and label them as good or bad; only those are good whom You like, oh Waheguru. 3.
One can get freedom from the bonds of Maya only by the grace of the Guru; the capital (spiritual investment) of a follower of his mind is fake (not acceptable to Waheguru). The eight-elemental human body belongs to Waheguru, and it feels blissful when it is moulded in Guru's Shabad. The adjudicator Waheguru Himself examines individuals, and those who have the investment in spirituality, succeed and become part of Waheguru's Treasure. 4.
People have tried to examine You from every angle, and no one can evaluate You, oh Waheguru. (Let alone evaluating You), Nobody can achieve anything spiritually simply by saying things about You; only those are honoured who keep You in mind all the time. You can only be praised in the shelter of the Guru; other than that, nobody is qualified to say anything about Your magnanimity. 5. The mind, which has no liking for the Naam, is a home for haumein and tussle (lack of peace). No one can get enlightenment without the Guru, and the love for Maya is like a poison (which kills spirituality). Without noble qualities, nothing is acceptable (in Waheguru's Court) as Maya has no place in spirituality. 6.
The man is born with some hopes and desires, and he lives his life experiencing tasty and sour foods (good and bad results of his deeds). Engrossed in hopes and desires, he leaves this world and suffers continuous punishment on his face (mental torture). Man receives punishment because of his ill qualities, but is salvaged in the shelter of the Guru when he worships (Waheguru's) Naam. 7.

You are omnipresent; please protect me (from the attacks of Maya) in whatever way You please, oh Waheguru. When the True Naam takes residence in the heart of a person in the Guru's shelter, goodness and respect automatically come with it. By reciting the Naam of the only Truth – Waheguru – by Guru's Shabad, the disease of haumein is cured (and man becomes "one" with Waheguru). 8. You are present everywhere - in the sky, in the underworld, and in the whole universe – oh Waheguru. You yourself are the love for devotion, and You connect with people through the Guru. Please, Waheguru, be kind to me so that I may not forget Your Naam, and may live my life as per Your Huqam (Will), oh Nanak. 9.13.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib discusses the futility of self-torture, donations to undeserving people, and other prevalent rituals to please Waheguru. He emphasizes the important role of the Guru in the union with God.
MEANING: Leading one's life according to the Will (of Waheguru) is the only true path to connect with Him, oh my mind. Concentrate on the Naam (of God) who has not just given the (human) body and mind, but has also refined it. Pause.
When my heart is pierced with Waheguru's Naam, I do not need to think about anyone else. Acting on Guru's Shabad and concentrating on it produces comfort in one's mind, and imbuing the mind with Waheguru's Naam results in the supreme comfort (mental bliss). Please, Waheguru, protect me in whatever way You like, because Your Naam is my sole support. 1. If someone burns himself alive, or cuts his body into small pieces, the size of a Rutti, or offers his mind and body as fuel for a yug day and night, or performs millions of other prevalent rituals (to please some god), there is no spiritual gain, because all such acts of self-torture are fruitless as nothing comes even close to Waheguru's Naam as far as union with God is concerned. 2.
If someone cuts his body into two pieces, or has his head cut by the saw (in Banaras- now Varanasi), or exposes his body to the ice on Himalayas for freezing (again to please some god), all such gory acts are useless because one's ego does not go away (in fact it is enhanced) (the destruction of which is a prerequisite to the union with God). We have tested from every angle, and nothing comes close to the recitation of Waheguru's Naam. 3.
If someone donates forts (mountains) of gold, many excellent horses and elephants, or gives land, and many, many cows, such donations are useless because they produce more ego and conceit. The real donation (that counts for union with Waheguru) is getting one's mind pierced with His Naam, which is given (fostered in mind) by the Guru. 4.
Many people use obstinacy (continuous but misdirected effort), or their wisdom, or ponder on the Vedas, or put constraints on their mind (to please gods); but all such approaches are useless to please Waheguru, who is pleased only when people take the Guru's shelter, and cut the bonds of Maya by His advice. Every other approach is lower than the worship of God, which is higher than even high living. 5. We should treat everybody as belonging to the high class, and nobody is lower, because the same God has created everybody as equal, and it is His light which is present in all the three worlds (three-layered universe). One receives His Naam (gets connected to Him) only by His mercy, and nobody can erase His gift, which He gives to individuals right from the beginning. 6.

Holy men keep company with other holy men only, and the contentment is achieved when one lives their life as per the Guru's Dictum. That way, the man becomes "one" with the Guru, and ponders on the story of the indescribable Waheguru (His traits) as enlightened by the Guru. One achieves complete contentment in Guru's shelter as he drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 7.
In love with Guru's Shabad, each heart feels as if soothing music of the fife is playing there day and night. But only a rare person is enlightened in the Guru's shelter who can educate (control) his mind. One should not forget Waheguru's Naam because the bonds of Maya can be broken only by following the Guru's Teachings, oh Nanak. 8.14.

Word Meaning: Chittay = artfully painted. Dhaulhur = mansions. Buggay = white- washed. Bunk = beautiful; strong. Oosaariya = built. Doojay = the other (Maya). Dheh Dhayri = collapse into a pile of rubble. Chhaar(u) = ash. 1.

Nirmulo = clean; pure. Daat(i) = gift. Dayvunhaar(u) = the provider. Aagaiy = next world; Waheguru's Court. Poochh = checking. Bayli = friend. 2.
Sunjog(i) = union by destiny. Vigasiyaiy = blossoming of mind. Hurkh(u) = happiness. Soag = grief. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Rus(i) = taste; juice. Bhog = enjoy. 3.
Chit(u) chullay = mind suffers depression. Vit(u) = wealth. Sakut = money - minded. Doal(i) = weakening of mental strength. Dhoondh(i) = search. Vigoochiyaiy = suffer in vain. Vust = the article (Waheguru's Naam). Soothayayn = the same place (his heart). Moosi = deceived. Pullaiy Paayay = acquires. 4. Nirgoonaariya = devoid of noble qualities. Mool(u) = origin; roots. Rukt(u) = blood (egg of mom). Bind(u) = sperm (of dad). Ugni Paas(i) = in possession of fire (to burn the body). Piraan(u) = understand (do not forget). Vus(i) = in control. Dayhoori = body. Mustuk(i) = (on) forehead. Neeshaan(u) = stamp (Huqam). 5. Lorraiy = wishes. Vihoonaiy = without; empty. Gunni = consider. 6.
Nis(i) = (at) night. Nindra = sleep. Surpun(i) = a female snake used as a metaphor for Maya. Doyay = prejudice; feelings of the higher and lower classes. Loyay = world. 7.
Baarik = child. Theeyaiy = happen; exist. Meen(u) = fish. 8.
MEANING: Nothing – not even the body and the wealth – accompanies a man to the next world, oh my brothers. Only Waheguru's Naam is the true wealth (that accompanies the man), which is gifted by the Guru by the benevolence of God. Pause.
Artfully painted houses with beautiful white gates, which are built with great zest in the love for Maya, look very pretty from the outside. But if they are empty inside, they collapse into rubble. Just like such houses, if a mind is empty of the love for Waheguru, it turns into dust upon death. 1. Just like God is pure, His Naam-wealth is also pure, and its bearer can easily become "one" with Him. But, Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru. The bearers of Waheguru's Naam go through no checking (scrutiny) in Waheguru's Court, as the Guru and Waheguru are his friends (supporters). One can find salvation only if Waheguru Himself helps him, because He is the only one who is the source of such gifts. 2. The follower-of- his-mind considers his daughters and sons to be his own, not realizing that he got them only because of his prewritten destiny (Will of Waheguru). His mind blossoms to see his wife, but along with this joy, he also feels depressed because of the possible fear of losing them. But the devotees of the Guru are always imbued in His Shabad, and enjoy the delicious food of Waheguru's Naam (and never feel sad or overjoyed). 3. When a money-minded man loses some wealth, he also loses peace of mind and his mental strength. He tries to find peace of mind in the outside world, and does not realize that the peace lies in his heart (in the form of Waheguru's Naam), which is occupied with the desire for wealth (so, the Naam lies dormant in his heart). The follower of his mind is defrauded by his haumein, whereas the devotee of the Guru acquires Waheguru's Naam. 4. Recognize your roots (origin), oh, devoid of noble qualities, and money-minded, man. (You are conceited of your body, oh man), But remember, that it is made up of the egg of your mother and the sperm of your father (by Waheguru's Huqam) and eventually has to burn down (die). It is the eternal Huqam of Waheguru on the forehead of every man that the body functions only as long as he breathes (which God controls). 5.
Everybody wishes for a long life, and nobody wants to die. However, only that life is considered comfortable (worth living) which has taken Guru's shelter, and which has made its mind a home for Waheguru to live in. (Without Waheguru's Naam), an individual, who has not had a holy "sight" of the Guru and Waheguru, is not worth even as a statistic. 6.
Just as a sleeping man is misled by various situations in his dream, which lasts only for as long as his sleep, (and sees the reality upon waking up), a man who ponders on Guru's advice, realizes that this world is also just like a dream (and not a reality). Under the influence of Maya, the human mind considers this world to be real, as a result of which, he has both haumein and prejudice in his mind. 7.

Just as the fire of the appetite of a child is put out when his mother feeds him milk, the fire of desires is put out by the Naam-water. Just as a lotus does not live, and a fish dies without water, a Waheguru's devotee cannot live without Him, and survives only when he sings praise of Waheguru, and enjoy its taste, oh Nanak. 8.15.

Budfaili = immoral acts. 4. Vigsiyaiy = feel overjoyed. Bhutaar = husband. Choa = perfume from rose etc. Chundan = extract from sandalwood. Roop(u) = beautify. Khayh = dust. 5. Mehur = Chaudhary = chief. Mlook = sultan. Rao = ruler of a small state. Duv(i) = forest fire. Dudha = burnt. Kaan(u) = reed (a plant of the bamboo family). 6. Kaajul = kohl (which is black – another metaphor for the darkness of Maya). Kotthrri = a small room. Nivaari = put out. Bhaah(i) = fire. 7.
Ruttan = precious stone. Vaysaah(u) = business; investment. Bhoujul = world-sea. Puch(i) = struggling without much achievement. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. 8.
NOTE: Even though Waheguru is omnipresent and lives in every heart, we are unable to see Him because there is a thick curtain of Maya between Him and us. This curtain is called the sea of Maya or the world-sea. So, Gurbani professes that we have to swim across this sea to be one with Him. Another construct used in Gurbani is that Waheguru resides above the effects of Maya; since the visible world is Maya, God is thought to live way up high in the sky above all the visible universe. So, to reach Him, we have to rise very high too (above the effects of Maya). So, for our understanding, Guru Sahiban have used the analogy of climbing up a mountain to reach Waheguru. However, the reasoning of some religions that believe God lives somewhere up in the sky differs from that of Gurbani. Because God is inaccessible, they think He must be living high up in the sky. For example, Muslims believe there are seven skies above the earth, and that God lives on the seventh. Similarly, Hindus believe that their gods live in paradise, which is believed to be somewhere in the sky. So, please note the difference in reasoning.
MEANING: The sea of Maya is very scary because it is very difficult to swim across it, oh my brothers. However, if one can connect with the Perfect Guru by virtue of one's love for Him, He can foster Waheguru's Naam in his heart, which can take him across this sea. Pause.
Looking at the tough and challenging climbing of mountain-high path (to the residence of Waheguru), the human bride feels intimidated in this world because the tall mountain path is tough, and the bride has no ladder to climb. However, because of the Guru's union with Waheguru, the devotee of the Guru realizes that God is in his mind and is thus able to swim across the sea of Maya. 1. If I realize that I have to leave this world because I am mortal (and so is the rest of the world) and only God and the Guru are immortal, the best thing for me to do is to sing Waheguru's praise in the company of the devotees to become "one" with Waheguru, which is the objective of human life. 2. A man may have beautiful mansions, thousands of fortified forts, many, many horses, and elephants with (decorated) saddles, and countless soldiers, none of these accompany him (at death), even though the ignorant man might have experienced lots of hardships to acquire them. 3.
One accumulates gold and silver (with great effort); and he may be well known for his riches in his area, but he does not realize that all the wealth becomes a bigger net for immoral activities because of his further attraction for Maya, and the sword of death is always hanging on his head without Waheguru's Naam. When the body collapses, the game of the mind is over, and he must suffer the consequences of his ignoble deeds. 4.
One feels overjoyed to see his sons and his wife on his bed. To look attractive, one wears nice clothes and sprays perfumes, like the extract of roses and sandalwood, but the individual has to leave his house and the belongings at his death, and the body is made of earth, mixed with dust (thus all adornments become useless). 5.
During one's life, one may be called a chief, a king, the ruler of a small state, or a chieftain, but all such titles become a source of conceit, due to which the individual suffers loss of peace of mind. The follower of his mind forgets Waheguru, and looks like a reed burnt in a forest fire (short- tempered – burnt by the fire of desires). 6.

This world is black like kohl due to the darkness (ignorance) (caused by Maya). Anybody who falls in the trap of Maya will turn black by body and mind due to his haumein, and will leave this world as such (full of haumein) (and will be punished in Waheguru's Court). Only Guru's Shabad can put out the fire of desires (for Maya), and salvage people. 7.
The followers of their mind die in the world-sea suffering needlessly from the effects of Maya, but the devotees swim across this unfathomable sea. I pray that I may not drop Waheguru's Naam from my mind, and continue to deal in the Naam, which is precious like a jewel. Waheguru is the King of kings, and one can swim the sea of Maya with His True Naam, oh Nanak. 8. 16.

Ruv(i) = sun. Nis(i) = night. Sus(i) = moon. Lukh Taarika = millions of stars. Puloyay = will disappear. Bugoyay = say 8.
MEANING: (When every visible thing is perishable), how can this world be called a permanent place to live, oh, man? (If you want to be immortal and want to live forever, you need to be "one" with God because only He is immortal). (To be one with Him) You need to have faith in Him, do noble deeds, and stay connected with Waheguru (His Naam). This Naam-wealth will serve as your expense for the journey to Waheguru's. Pause.
One cannot think of this world as his permanent place, because he is aware of the fear of impending death, which always haunts him. Man's stay here can be thought of as permanent only if the whole world is permanent (and it is not). 1.
(Disregarding the fact that the world is not permanent, people still act as if this were so, and they forget God completely. For example, to acquire supernatural powers, the yogi sits in a special position for a long time, and the mullah sits on his designated seat to preach to others. Likewise, the Pundits explain their religious books to people, and the Sidhs preach in temples (as if they are going to live forever). 2. The gods, the Sidhs, assistants of Shiva, Gundherbs, the Moonies, Peers, the learned men, and the chiefs, all leave this world turn by turn, while the others have to leave (sooner, or later). 3.
The rulers – big and small, the chiefs, and the rich, all have left the world. You have to understand that you too have to leave in a short time, oh my mind. 4.
Many tell you that (this world is not permanent), but that is only in words, because only a few really understand this fact. (Guru) Nanak respectfully submits that only God is eternal, present in water, on earth, and in the sky. 5. The whole world is a temporary stay because living beings come and go; only incomprehensible, unreachable, compassionate, the creator of the entire universe, and the source of all gifts – Waheguru - is permanent (eternal). 6.
The only permanent entity in this universe is the one that has no accountability (the burden of immoral deeds) on its head (in other words, which is like Waheguru). Even the sky and the earth are perishable; only the One (God) is eternal. 7.
The sun, the days, the moon, the nights, and millions of stars will all disappear; the truth is that the only eternal power is Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8. 17.

Word Meaning: Bin(u) = without. Boojhay = understand; realize. Milaava = unite. 1.
Heen(u) = without; empty. Birtha = useless. Guvaaya = lost; wasted. Pause.
Jug Jeevun(u) = life (support) of the world. Bukhsh(i) = by being kind. Junt = living beings. Vaychaaray = poor; powerless. Vudiyayee = honour. 2. Kootumb(u) = family. Moh(i) = attachment. Lobhaana = is entangled. Goon Nidhaan(u) = treasure of noble qualities (Waheguru). Sukha = friend. 3. Payiurray = paternal home (this world). Put(i) = dignity. Mug(u) = path (to spirituality). Tthaur = shelter; support. Sookh Daata = source of comfort. 4. Undin(u) = day and night. Chookaaya = ended; got rid of. Raata = imbued. 5. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Bhaao = affection. Sehj(u) = state of mind above the attractions of Maya. Trishna = desires. 6.
Nirmula = clean; pure. Nirmul(i) = through purity. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. 7.
Aap(u) = self (selfishness). Bhugut(i) Vuchhul(u) = lover of devotion (Waheguru) Sobha = praise. Soort(i) = concentration of mind; ability. 8.

MEANING: (The real objective of human life is to be “one” with Waheguru by worshipping Him). So, what for did the individual, who is devoid of Waheguru’s worship, come in this world, oh my brother? He does not serve the Perfect Guru and wastes away his precious life for nothing. Pause. (But we cannot entirely blame such an individual because), A man cannot worship Waheguru on his own. Only those serve (worship) Him whom He kindly connects with the Guru. And only that individual recognizes this fact whose mind has been purified by Waheguru after he has been connected with Him (through the Guru). God is Pure, and so is Bani or His praise, (which can be sung by) Guru's Shabad only, and which connects the individual with God. 1. Waheguru Himself is the life (support of all kinds) of the world, and it is because of His kindness that He connects people with Him; otherwise, the poor living beings have no power (to connect with Him) and are unable to explain anything about Him. Waheguru Himself honours people (by connecting with Him) and enables them to serve Him. 2. On seeing his family, the man is entangled in (possessed by) its affection, which does not accompany him at the moment of his death. He does not recognize the value of union with Waheguru, the source of all noble qualities, which can be realized only by serving Satguru. God is the only friend who can help one at his death. 3.

While living in this world, the follower of his mind does not remember Waheguru (which is the source of life of the whole world), and loses his respect (in Waheguru's Court). Without Satguru, the blind man does not know the real path (of union with Waheguru) and does not find shelter (peace of mind). The source of all comfort, Waheguru, does not take residence in his heart, and he leaves the world repenting. 4. (On the other hand) A man who takes Guru's advice in this life gets Waheguru to make home in his heart. By worshipping Waheguru day and night, he gets rid of his haumein and worldly attachments. Being imbued in His Naam, he acquires the same traits as Waheguru, and thus becoming pure, he merges with the Pure God. 5. When God is kind to someone, He connects the individual with the Guru, who ponders on the Guru's Shabad, and develops affection for Waheguru. By serving Satguru, one can overcome one's haumein and sensual desires, thereby attaining the spiritual level (Sehj) where Maya has no effect. In that state, Waheguru, which is the source of all the noble qualities, takes residence in his heart, and the individual always preserves His Naam in his heart. 6. Waheguru is always pure and can be realized only with a pure mind. The treasure of Naam (Waheguru) begins to reside in the pure heart, and all the pain (suffering) of haumein of the individual is gone. Satguru kindly guides people with His Shabad; I love to sacrifice my life for the Satguru. 7.
One may think to himself and may make people believe he has overcome his selfishness, but nobody can overcome selfishness without the Guru. Waheguru, the source of all comforts, who loves being worshipped (and loves His worshippers), kindly implants His Naam in the hearts of His devotees. Waheguru gifts the wisdom to praise Him, and honours individuals by connecting them with the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.1.18

Word Meaning: Haumein = selfishness and ego. Kerm = deeds. Dund(u) = punishment. Oobray = rose above (the attractions of Maya); salvaged. Saytee = with. Liv = concentrate. 1. Naam(u) Dhiyayaiy = recite the Naam with devotion. Dhoor(i) = from the source (God). Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written. Kertaiy = the Creator. Smaayay= merged with. Pause Bin(u) = without. Purteet(i) = have faith. Bhaao = affection. Suvaiy = sleeps. 2. Keechaiy = do; utter. Lochiyaiy = long for. Kirt(u) = result of previous deeds. Maytiya = erased. Bhaana = Will (Huqam). Thaayayn = room in Waheguru's Court (approved by Waheguru). 3. Dirraavaiy = reinforce. Rung Siyoun = with love. Suou = hundreds. Neeriyaiy = irrigate; feed. Bhee = still. Bikh(u) = poison. Dhaayay = approach aggressively 4. Kmaanvday = earn. Tuj(i) = relinquish. Vikaar(u) = immoral indulgence. 5. Mun hutth(i) = to try to control natural body needs by obstinacy. Oopaayaiy = ways to control. Simrit Shastar = Hindu holy books. Sod-hou = pondering. 6. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Paaravaar(u) = limitless; this end or the other. Sohnday = look attractive. Kartar(u) = Waheguru. 7. Aur = other Kerm(i) = by the kindness. Praput(i) = acquire. 8.

MEANING: Those who perform tasks to satisfy their ego suffer the punishment of the Justice of deeds. Those who serve Satguru and concentrate on Waheguru's Naam are salvaged. 1. So, take Guru's shelter. and recite Waheguru's Naam (with dedication), oh my mind. Those who are predestined by the Creator act on the Guru's advice and stay imbued in Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Without Satguru, one does not develop faith and love for God's Naam. They do not find comfort even in their dreams, and spend their night (life) gripped in discomfort. 2. Even if someone wants to recite Waheguru's Naam with his own efforts (he is not successful), because his bad nature due to the results of his deeds of previous lives, cannot be changed (on his own). However, the devotees who obey Waheguru's Huqam (Will) are recognized for their dedication in God's Court. 3. No one can worship Waheguru without the grace of the Guru, who reinforces His Shabad in praise of Waheguru in the heart of the Sikhs. The follower of his mind is like a poisonous tree which aggressively bears poisonous fruit, even if it is watered with amrit (of hundreds of noble qualities). 4. Those who have honest affection for Satguru are truthful and pure. They obey Satguru's Will by relinquishing all their selfishness, ego, and evil deeds. 5. Nobody can overcome the attractions of Maya by exercising self-control with his own efforts; even the Simritis and the Shastras will tell you that. The only way (to break the bonds of Maya), is to follow the Guru's Shabad in the shelter of the Guru, or His devotees. 6.

Waheguru's Naam is an inexhaustible treasure, but one can acquire the Naam only by taking shelter of the Guru with His kindness. Such devotees look honourable (are honoured) in God's Court. 7. There is only one Provider (Waheguru) and none else, oh Nanak. One can realize Him only by the benevolence of the Guru and of Waheguru. 8.2.19

Nij = own. Ghur(i) = in the heart. 1. Kaar Kmaayay = act as per (Guru's advice). Bhaanaiy = as per the Will. Raacheh(i) = get imbued. Pause.

Chuhou Dis(i) = all four directions. Ghunay = way too many. Daajheh(i) = burns (suffers). Billaheh(i) = wails; repents. Mehl(u) = (God's) palace. Amrit = liquid of immortality (life-sustaining Guru's Shabad). Paaheh(i) = receives. 2. Braham = (like of) God. Soobhaayay = good nature (intentions). Shaakhaan Teen(i) = the effects (of Maya: Tumo = darkness (no awareness); Rujo = normal; balanced (some awareness), Suto = top state (more awareness). Nivaariyaan = removed; gotten rid of. 3. Oobhay = stalled (no improvement). Sook(i) = dried up. Giraaoun = village (shelter). Tai = and. Nit = every day. 4. Kerm = deeds. Pervaan(u) = approved. Kool = clan; ancestry. Oodhaar(u) = salvation. 7. Nudri = sight. Vudaayiyaan = praise. Kerm(i) = kindness. Praput(i) = receiving. 8.

MEANING: Lead your life as per the Teachings of the Guru, oh my mind. If you obey Guru's advice, you will stay connected with Waheguru's Naam all the time. Pause.

(Human mind is unstable, and takes flights like) a bird perched on a tree, which can fly freely in any direction to pick food. A human mind is pretty (has noble qualities) if it picks the food of Truth (Waheguru's Naam) with love for the Guru. He enjoys the juice of Waheguru's Naam and attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya, as a result of which he is not caught in the rebirth cycle. Such an individual's mind becomes stable, and he stays connected with Waheguru's Naam. 1. But the human mind, which takes flights in every direction in pursuit of Maya, does not become stable, and as a result, he suffers severe discomfort, and his mind burns (becomes restless and suffers), and he wails in suffering. Without the Guru, he cannot acquire the Amrit–fruit (life-sustaining Waheguru's Naam), and cannot reach Waheguru's Palace. 2. In His love, a true devotee of the Guru attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya and becomes "one" with Waheguru. He becomes like an evergreen tree, providing shade and fruit (for the needy) in every season. By being imbued in the Guru's Shabad, he overcomes the three known effects of Maya. Waheguru is the only source of the Amrit-fruit, and He Himself feeds it to His devotees. 3.

The followers of their mind become like leafless trees which bear no fruit, and have no shade (they have nothing positive to offer to anyone). One should not join a company because they have no home (stable mind, and definite objective). Since they do not act on Guru's Shabad, they do not have Waheguru's Naam; as a result, they always suffer like a dead tree that is cut and burned. 4. But they are not fully to blame because (based on their deeds of previous lives) they are predestined to perform deeds of haumein (selfishness and ego). They have to obey Waheguru's Huqam whether they are allowed to have a "sight" of Waheguru, or to do other deeds. It is with Waheguru's Huqam that a man makes his heart Waheguru's residence, and merges with Him (or not). 5. The ignorant do not understand Waheguru's Will, and the unrefined wander around, misguided. They perform deeds guided by their mind and suffer all the time without any success (spiritual gain). They do not develop any affection for Waheguru, and as a result, find no peace of mind. 6.

In the love for Guru, His devotees have pretty faces (internal peace because of high moral values). With true devotion, they are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and are honoured in Waheguru's Court as the bearers of Truth. Their deeds are approved by Waheguru, and along with them, their clan (other devotees in their company) is also salvaged. 7.

Everybody performs deeds under Waheguru's supervision, and nobody can escape His supervision. A person acquires the character as it is moulded under Waheguru's supervision. Waheguru's Naam earns respect, which one can acquire only by the benevolence of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.3.20

MEANING: It is a rare individual who realizes that the true service to the Guru is worshipping Him (obeying His Teachings). So (to earn Waheguru's approval), act like a slave of His slaves (serve the devotees of the Guru), oh my brother. Pause.
The follower of his mind does not realize that Waheguru's Naam can be worshipped only in the shelter of the Guru. The faces of the devotees of the Guru are always shiny (honourable with the confidence of noble qualities) because they have made their heart a residence for Waheguru. With the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, a devotee remains connected to Waheguru and enjoys all comforts. 1. If a human bride leads her life as per the Will of the Guru, she always enjoys the company of the Waheguru-husband and stays married (connected with Him) all the time. Waheguru-husband is eternal, and He never dies or leaves. Once connected with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad, the devotee never experiences separation from Him and clings to His heart (his soul merges into the Supreme Soul). 2. Waheguru is pure and cannot be realized without the Guru. Ritualistic recitation of mantras does not enlighten anyone; they wander, misguided, wearing symbols of different faiths. All those who take Guru's advice (act on it), realize Waheguru, and their tongue is always imbued in the taste (love) of His Naam. 3. Acting on Guru's advice, they routinely overcome the attractions of Maya without any special effort. Without Guru's Shabad, people are in pain (they suffer), and Maya swallows the followers of their mind (it kills their spirituality, robbing them of good qualities). We can recite Waheguru's Naam and become "one" with Waheguru only through the Guru's Shabad. 4. Even the Sidhs (yogis who meditate to acquire supernatural powers) are misguided by Maya, and cannot concentrate on any power with dedication. Maya is affecting people in all three worlds (earth, the underworld and the sky) in a big way. One cannot overcome the fickleness of the mind and get freedom from the bonds of Maya without the Guru. 5. What is called Maya, and what kinds of deeds does one perform under the influence of Maya? (Under the influence of Maya), A man commits deeds of selfishness and ego, including the acquisition of comforts and freedom from discomforts. But man's misgivings are not cleared without the shelter of the Guru, and he is not able to overcome his selfishness and ego. 6.
Also, one cannot worship Waheguru without love for Him, and his efforts are not recognized without the Guru's Shabad. Man's haumein can be eradicated by Guru's Shabad, and his doubts about the futility of Maya are cleared. By taking Guru's shelter, one attains the spiritual state where one feels no effects of Maya and acquires invaluable Naam. 7.
Without the Guru, one does not recognize the noble qualities without which one cannot worship God. With the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), Waheguru, which loves his worship (devotees), takes residence in the devotee's mind, and the latter becomes "one" with Him. Waheguru can be praised by Guru's Shabad - that too only by the benevolence of Guru, oh Nanak. 8. 4. 21

Word Meaning: Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misguided by internal conflicts. Kerm = deeds (tasks). Boojhay = understand; solve riddle. Birtha = uselessly. Chaanun = light. Kerm(i) = benevolence. 1. Sehj(i) = mental state above the effects of Maya. Pause.
Bherm(u) = worthless running around. Bhuou = fear. Chit(u) = mind. Mehl(i) = Waheguru's palace; Waheguru. Jum kaal(u) = agent of death (his fear). 2. Naama and Kabir = are two very well-known and respected Bhagats (devotees); Their holy compositions are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib. Chheemba = washerman (Namdev Ji). Jolaaha = weaver (Kabir Ji). Gut(i) = high spiritual level (enabling union with God). Braham = God. Baytay = knowledgeable. Puchhaaneh(i) = realize (get connected with). Shabad = Bani = holy composition in praise of God. Soor = gods. Nur = men. Maytaiy = erase; remove. 3. Daiynt Poot(u) = son of a demon (king Hernakush or Hernkushyup) = Prehlad. Prehlad was a devotee of God and recited His Naam constantly. On the other hand, his father, Hernakush, who had acquired some supernatural powers with the blessing of a god, wanted his subjects to worship him alone. So, he was gravely offended by his son's worship of God. He first tried to persuade Prehlad to desist from worshipping God, but when Prehlad refused to comply, the king tried to punish him in many different ways, even to kill him; but nothing worked, and Prehlad continued to recite God's Naam. Finally, Henakush tried to kill his son, himself. As he was about to attack Prehlad with a sword, a lion-headed god with a human body appeared, and tore Hernakush apart with his lion-like, sharp paws, and saved Prehlad.

Kerm Dherm Sunjum = prevalent rituals to please gods. Dooja Bhaaou = love for someone else (Maya). Bhaytiyaiy = connect with. Vukhaanaiy = utter; describe. 4.

Khut(u) = six. Dershun = philosophy; ascetics of six different faiths (Yogi, Sanyasi, Jungum, Budhist, Bairagi, and Jains). 5. Vaad(u) = destructive debates. Lukh Chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu faith). Phayr(u) puyya = go through (those life forms). Chaytaiy = remember. 6. Soobhayay = noble intentions. Urpeen = offer. Aap(u) = self. Vitoun = from. 7. Binday = recognizes. Saytee = with. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. Nicket (i) = close. Ghut = hearts. Virlaiy = some rare. 8.

MEANING: If you want to enjoy comfort, recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Praise the Perfect Guru, and you will realize Waheguru in the higher spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause. One needs to realize that Waheguru Himself has created attraction for Maya in the mind of humans, thereby misguiding them (from the path of righteousness) by creating doubts. The follower of his mind does not realize it and performs deeds (under the influence of Maya) and wastes away his precious human life. Gurbani is the real light (to guide the world) in this darkness (of ignorance) in the world, and takes residence in one's heart (enlightens his mind) by the grace of the Guru. 1. When one connects with God's Feet (His Naam), all his doubts are cleared, and he becomes fearless (of death and of any other suffering). When a devotee acts on the Guru's advice, Waheguru takes residence in his mind, and the devotee becomes "one" with Him, and his mind finds peace; no fear of death comes near him. 2. (God loves his devotees no matter what social status they have in society). Remember well-known Bhagats Naam Dev Ji, and Kabir Ji - Naam Dev Ji was a washerman, while Kabir Ji was a weaver (both were from low classes in the Indian system of castes) – but both achieved the spiritual state above the effects of Maya by taking shelter of the Guru. They acquired Divine Knowledge (got connected with Waheguru) through the Guru's Shabad, and destroyed (overcame) their haumein. Now, humans and even gods sing their Bani, and nobody can erase this honour of theirs. 3. Prehlad, the son of the demon king Hernaksh, did not know any prevailing religious rituals or practices, or even ways to control sensual desires, but did not have love for anyone else (Maya). But when he got connected to the Guru, his mind became pure, and he recited Waheguru's Naam day and night. He recited only One (Naam), and realized the only One (God), and acknowledged nobody other than God. 4. With the guidance of the Guru, all six main faiths of ascetics, the Yogis, and the Sanyasis (who leave their homes in search of God), are misled in their pursuit of God. Like anyone else, they can achieve a higher spiritual level by serving the Guru (acting on His Advice), thereby making their heart a place for Waheguru to reside. Thus, they imbibe the True Bani of the Guru and are able to break the cycle of rebirth. 5. Without the guidance of the Guru, the pundits study the Vedas with a view to taking part in religious debates. This approach does not result in any enhancement of their spirituality; rather, they suffer from their haumein and go through the cycle of 8.4 million life forms. They cannot break the bonds of Maya (and thus cannot get out of the rebirth cycle) without the Guru's Shabad. With Guru's kindness, when they get connected with Waheguru, they keep Him in mind all the time and attain a high spiritual state. 6.

With love for the Guru, when one gets connected with Him in the company of the devotees, Waheguru's Naam takes root in his heart. I will lead my life according to the Guru's advice, and will offer my body and mind to the Guru. I am a sacrifice to my Guru who connects my mind with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 7. Only he deserves to be called a Brahman who gets connected with Braham (God), and is imbued in His Naam. Waheguru is close by and resides in everybody's heart, but a rare person realizes Him. One is honoured if he bears Waheguru Naam in his heart by acting on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8. 5. 22

Word Meaning: Sehjaiy = mental state above the effects of Maya. Loachdi = longs for. Jotki = fortune tellers. Bhaykheen = symbols of different sects. Bherm = doubts. Bhaytay

= meeting with. Rujaayay = Will. 1. Tay = from. Oopjaiy = is produced; takes birth. Pause. Thaayaiyn puvaiy = finds the right place; is recognized. Kuthni = saying (about spirituality). Baad(i) = fruitless. Bairaag(i) = no attraction for Maya. Shaant(i) = peace (of mind). 2. Smaadh(i) = meditate with full concentration. Oochraiy = utters. Liv = concentration. Rusna = tongue (which tastes). 3. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Vidaariya = killed. Shernaayee = shelter. Kaar Kmaayay = work towards the objective (union with God). Vudbhaagi = fortunate. 4. Doojay Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Chookyee = ends. 5. Trihou Goon = three effects of Maya (see Ashtpudi 3, stanza 3, Mehla 3). Moondhoun = right from the beginning. Ghootha = missed opportunity. Chautha Pud = the fourth level above the three effects of Maya. It is also called the level of freedom from Maya. Pullaiy Paayay = receives. 6.
Nirgoon = formless; above the three effects of Maya (Waheguru). Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Sojhi = enlightenment. Goonvunteen = possessing noble qualities. Milaava = union. 7. Goobaar(u) = darkness; ignorance. Appar(i) = of limitless; incomprehensible. Bukhsh(i) = through kindness. 8. Adisht(u) = invisible. Nirbhou = fearless (having no rival). Nirunkaar(u) = formless. Daata = provider. Milaavunhaar(u) = connector. Na Paaravaar(u) = limitsless. 9. Vapaar(u) = trade. Undin(u) = day and night. Laaha = earnings, benefit. Akhoot = inexhaustible. Bhundaar = treasures. Tot(i) = shortage. 10.
MEANING: Without the shelter of the Guru, one cannot attain the high spiritual level (Sehj) where Maya becomes ineffective, oh my friends. Guru's Shabad enables one to attain the Sehj stage and have union with Waheguru. Pause.
Everybody longs to attain the Sehj stage, but it is not achievable without taking shelter of the Guru. The Pundits and the fortune tellers exhaust themselves reading their holy books (without any success). Likewise, the ascetics of different faiths are misguided with belief in the symbols of their faiths (as they believe that just wearing the symbols makes them holy). When Waheguru is kind to someone, He connects the individual with the Guru on His own Will, whereby the individual can attain the Sehj state by acting on the advice of the Guru. 1. Singing His praise is recognized by Waheguru only if it is done in the Sehj state; otherwise, the simple uttering of words of praise is worthless (as it is only ritualistic). The real worship of Waheguru arises from the Sehj state when an individual becomes indifferent to Maya and fosters love for God. Also, one attains comfort and peace only in the Sehj state, and without it, life goes to waste. 2. One can meditate with full devotion to Waheguru in the Sehj state and sing His praise. Waheguru's noble qualities are sung (to be approved by Him) in the Sehj state only, and full concentration (on His Naam) is also attained only in the Sehj state. (In the Sehj state) man's tongue relishes the taste of Waheguru's Naam, and Waheguru takes residence in the devotee's heart. 3.
One attains the Sehj state by taking shelter of the Guru, and his fear of death (or of rebirth) is dispelled in that state. One performs noble deeds (as per the Guru's guidance) in the Sehj state, as Waheguru makes one's heart His residence. They are fortunate who realize Waheguru in the Sehj state, as they remain merged with Him. 4.
The Sehj state cannot be attained as long as one is attached to Maya, because attachment with Maya is contrary to the Guru's Teachings, and takes one farther away from Waheguru. The deeds of a Maya-gripped man revolve around his haumein, as a result of which, he suffers in its fire; his rebirth cycle never ends, and he takes births again, and again. 5.
As long as a man is under the influence of the three effects of Maya (Tumo, Rujo, and Suto), he cannot attain the Sehj state, because the three effects misguide the man, and he is unsure about the right path (for union with God). What can a man read, ponder on, or describe anything (about Waheguru), when he has missed the opportunity right from the beginning (to serve Waheguru)? As far as the Sehj state (also called the fourth level of spirituality) is concerned, one attains it by rising above the three effects of Maya, in the shelter of the Guru. 6. When one realizes that the Naam of the formless Waheguru is the source of all comforts, (he works hard to connect with Him), and rises above the three effects of Maya to attain the Sehj state. The bearers of noble qualities (true devotees) praise the eternal Waheguru, and earn eternal praise for themselves as they become "one" with Him. When the misguided lucky individuals connect with the Guru's Shabad, they attain the Sehj state and become "one" with Waheguru. 7. Without attaining the Sehj state, there is ignorance all around because Maya creates a wall of complete darkness (between the man and God). By following on Guru's Shabad, one attains the Sehj state, and understands (connects with) the incomprehensible Waheguru. The Creator Waheguru's kindness connects the individual with Him through the Perfect Guru. 8.

The invisible light of the fearless and formless Waheguru is realized in the Sehj state. There is only one Provider for everybody who connects individuals (who are a part of His Light) with Himself (the source of all Light). The incomprehensible Waheguru can be praised by the Shabad of the Perfect Guru. 9. The true wealth of a devotee is Waheguru's Naam, and he deals in it in the Sehj state. He earns the benefit (wealth) to recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, of which Waheguru has inexhaustible treasures. There is no shortage of Waheguru's Naam, of which the Provider has His treasures full, oh Nanak. 10.6. 23.

Word Meaning: Fayr(u) = return; rebirth. Pooraiy = perfect. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Smaayay= merged; connected. 1. Siyoun = with. Nuvtuno = new; refreshing. Pause. Shernaayee = (in) shelter. Jeevut (u) merna = kill mind (control) from the attractions of Maya. Bhuvjul(u) = the sea of Maya. 2. Vuddaiy Bhaag(i) = with good luck. Soohayee = pretty (life); to Waheguru's liking. Sehjay = in the Sehj state (where Maya has no effect). 3. Ikna = some. Bhaavaiy = like. Bundhun(i) = (in) bonds; restrictions; societal obligations. Bundh(i) = tied. Bhuvaaya = recycled; reincarnated. Lukh cahuraasee = 8.4 million life forms, according to Hindu belief. MEANING: Attach (connect) yourself to the Satguru, oh my mind. (With Satguru's grace), Waheguru's pure Naam will take residence in your heart. Pause.

By connecting with Satguru, one does not take rebirths, and one's suffering due to the birth-death cycle is terminated. One's mind is fully enlightened by the Perfect Shabad of the Guru, and he stays connected with Waheguru's Naam. 1.

I pray to God that He keep me in His shelter, and I obey His Will to spend my life happily (as per His Will). The followers of the Guru are able to kill their mind (control it) as far as attractions of Maya are concerned, and swim across the sea of Maya. 2.

Highly fortunate people acquire Waheguru's Naam by following the Guru's advice, which makes their life highly blissful. The Creator Himself takes residence in their heart, and they remain connected to Him in a higher spiritual state (above Maya). 3.

There are some who follow their mind and do not like the Guru's Shabad. Such people are prisoners of Maya, and they are taken through the birth-death-birth cycle. They waste away their precious human life and go through 8.4 million life forms. 4.

Being imbued in Perfect Guru's Shabad, the devotees feel blissful. They sing praise of the pure Waheguru day and night, and stay connected with Him in the higher spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 5. They sing the Amrit (life-sustaining) Shabad of the Guru in His shelter, thereby acquiring Divine knowledge. In Guru's shelter, they remember and worship the one and only Waheguru, whose qualities are indescribable. 6.

When one remembers the True Lord in the shelter of the Guru, He (Waheguru) takes residence in his heart. He is always imbued in His Naam, and the Kind God absorbs him into Himself. 7. Waheguru does everything by Himself, and also makes people do whatever He wishes (them to do). He awakens the sleeping people (enlightens the ignorant), and connects them with Him by imbuing them in Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.7.24.

Word Meaning: Sayviyaiyn = by serving (obeying). Bhuyay = became. Pvit(u) = holy; pure. Aanund = blissful. Bhaytiya = met with. Gehr = very deep. Gambheer = never changing; unemotional. Dheer = support; peace. 1. Nisung(u) = openly; without hesitation. Ptung(u) = a very small amount. Pause. Put(i) = honour. Puchhaaniya = recognized; made a connection. Bulihaaraiy = sacrifice self. Tthaur = Thaoun = shelter; peace. Kut-houn = somewhere. 2. Vaas(u) = Nivaas(u) = residence. Aatum Ram(u) = Waheguru; God. Nij = own. 3. Saakhi = Oopdaysh(u) = advice; teaching. Soyay = fame; praise. Visaariya = dropped from mind; ignored. Chulay = leave the world. 4. Kook = cry loudly; calling. Pookaar = begging; praying; implore. Birtha = fruitless. 5. Dirraaya = reinforced. Sunjum = control over sensual pleasures. Bohitha = ship. Bhuvjul(u) = world-sea; sea of Maya (between man and God). 6. Lukh-chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms as per the Hindu belief. Mookt(i) = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Moani = sages who stay silent for long periods of time. Doojaiy bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Uver(u) = other; else. 7.

Sachaiy = eternal (Waheguru). Kaar = business; work. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Sachaiy Mehl(i) = in Waheguru's Palace. Ruchun(i) = get absorbed. 8.17.8. 25.

MEANING: Serving (obeying) the Satguru, one's mind is purified, his body becomes pious (the body does not perform ignoble deeds), and one gets connected with the unfathomable, and never-changing Waheguru, as a result of which, one is always blissful. Such an individual stays in the company of true devotees, and his mind is peaceful because he bears the eternal Naam in his heart. 1. Serve Satguru publicly (without the fear of being labelled as weak by the ritualists), oh my mind. Serving Satguru results in Waheguru taking residence in one's heart, and the mind does not get even a slight amount of filth. Pause.

Following on the Guru's eternal Shabad, one is honoured in both worlds and acquires the pure Naam of the Pure Waheguru. I am a sacrifice to those who get connected with Waheguru by overcoming their haumein. The followers of their mind do not recognize the Truth (God), and find no peace or support anywhere. 2.

The eating, wearing, and living of the devotees is all about remembering Waheguru (they stay connected with God even when they are doing their routine business). They always praise the eternal Waheguru and keep the eternal Shabad in mind. Acting on the advice of the Guru, they have control over their mind and realize Waheguru (stay connected with Him). 3.
With their bodies and minds pure, whatever they see or talk about is about Waheguru. They become “one” with Waheguru, and receive only True advice, and preach Waheguru’s Naam only; and they earn true (eternal) fame. Those who forget Waheguru leave this world unhappy and repentant. 4. What for those who come into this world, who do not serve Satguru (they waste away their life)? Shackled, they are punished by the Angel of Death, and there is nobody to hear their cries or prayers. They waste their precious human life, and keep taking birth again and again. 5. Watching the suffering of this world, I got concerned and ran to take shelter of Satguru. Satguru reinforces Waheguru’s Naam and preaches living by high moral standards with control over sensual desires. Satguru is the ship (treasure) of Waheguru’s Naam, and one swims across the sea of Maya by following His Shabad. 6.
Man may go through the 8.4 million life forms, but cannot find salvation without Satguru. The pundits and the moanies (sages who stay quiet for long times) exhaust themselves by reading books, but cannot free themselves from the bonds of Maya, and thus lose respect in the next world. Satguru reveals the Truth that no one other than God can free man from Maya. 7.
But only those who follow the path of righteousness are guided by Waheguru Himself, and they lead their life as guided by the Guru. They find Waheguru in their own mind, and live in Waheguru’s Palace (become “one” with Him). The devotees are always absorbed (imbued) in the True Naam, and are always blissful, oh Nanak. 8.17.8.25.

Word Meaning: Ut(i) Mooshkul(u)= extremely difficult situation (trouble). Dhoyee = shelter; support. Laagoo = on the attack. Saak = relatives. Chookaiy = ended. Parbraham = God; Waheguru. Tutti Vaao = hot air (India, being a hot country, experiences a very hot climate that becomes unbearable in the summer months, especially at the time of Guru Sahiban, when no fans or air-conditioning were available). So, hot air was synonymous with big discomfort and has been used as a metaphor for troubles. 1. Taan = force; power. Nitaaniyaan = powerless; downtrodden. Thir(u) = uniform; never changing. Pause. Doobla = weak. Peer = Peerr = pain; discomfort. Dumrra = a very small unit of money. Pullaiy = in possession. Dheer = comfort; support. Sooaaruth(u) = Sooaao = needs. Kaaj(u) = task. Nihchul(u) = stable; everlasting. Raj = rule. 2. Viyapaiy = happens; attacks. Grist(i) = Kootumb(i) = in family (affairs). Hurkh(u) = happiness. Soag(u) = grief. Gaoun = travel. Koont = directions. Seetal(u) = calm; peaceful. 3.
Kirpun = money-minded. Chaaray Kilvikh (Ugh) = all the four recognized sins (killing of a Brahman, and a cow; killing or selling a daughter; and donations from an immoral person). Asoor = demon. Sunghaar(u) = deserving death. Pothi = religious book. Kvit = (religious) poem. Na Kurn(i) dhuriya = turned no ear; paid no attention. Nimkh = a moment. Turiya = swam across (the sea of Maya); salvaged. 4.

Shast, Simrit(i), Bayd (Vedas) = Hindu religious books. Mookhaagur = from memory. Bichray = explains. Tupay = Tupeesur = self=torturers. Teeruth Guvun(u) = pilgrimage. Khut(u) Kerma = six accepted deeds (for Brahmans: receive and deliver education; perform yugna for self and for others; give and receive donations. For other Hindus: bathing; recitation of some mantras; peforming huvans; idol worship; pilgrimage; and meditation). Rung = love. Surpur = for sure. 5.
Milk = Milkh = estate. Sikdariyaan = leadership. Bisthaar = expansion. Afaar = (of the) conceited. Bidhi = of different kinds. Chaayay = gusto; zest. 6.
Dhunaadh(i) = rich. Achaarvunt(u) = disciplined; strict follower of expected norms. Lushkur = soldiers. Turkush = quiver (for arrows). Bund = Bundna = to bow before.
Khurr(i) = take to. Rusatul(i) = underworld (hell). Deet(i) = is sent; thrown. 7.
Kaayan = bodily. Chhider = shortcoming; weakness; bad habit. Kaarra = suffering. Soag(u) = grief. Mirt(u) = death. Ehinis = day and night. Bhoagaiy Bhoag(u) = enjoys luxuries. Shunk = doubt. Jum Kunkur = deputies of the angel of death. 8.
Rung(u) = love; affection. Khusm(u) = Lord; Master. Uver(u) = other. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. 9.
MEANING: The Lord is the power behind the powerless (downtrodden), oh my friend. (Not only that), He is eternal, and never comes or goes (dies or leaves); one can realize Him by the Guru's Shabad. Pause. If someone is in big trouble, and has no shelter or support, his enemies are on the attack, all his relatives have left him, and all the doors of support are shut on him; he does not suffer even a slight trouble if he remembers Waheguru with full faith. 1. If someone is weak, is suffering the pain of poverty and hunger; has no money, and there is nobody to solace him; nobody helps him in his needs, and he is unable to achieve anything; he will attain (a spiritual state where he feels that he has) an eternal reign if he thinks of Waheguru (prays to Him) with full faith. 2 If someone is suffering from some bodily disease, and is overwhelmed by several worries; and he is so engrossed in the family affairs, and experiences some happiness and some grief; and runs around in all the four directions to meet his needs, and cannot rest even for a moment; he will find bodily and mental peace if he thinks of God (prays to Him) with full faith. 3. If someone is fully controlled by lust, rage, worldly attachments, greed, and love for money; and the demon has committed all the four big sins for which he deserves death; and he has never paid any attention to the praise of Waheguru in the form of a religious book, a song, or a poem; he can be salvaged in a moment if he remembers Waheguru (prays to Him) even for moment with full faith. 4. (On the other hand) If someone is able to read the Shastra, the Simritis, and the four Vedas from memory, and undertakes pilgrimage like the well-known yogis, tortures himself, or performs twice as many as the six recognized rituals, takes early morning baths, and performs idol worship, he is bound to go to hell if he has no love for Waheguru. 5. If someone owns huge tracts of land, is a popular leader, or even a ruler, has a huge expanse of enjoyable luxuries, has beautiful orchards, and the conceited can issue big orders, can afford too many different and colourful activities which he enjoys zestfully, he will be incarnated in a snakelike form if he does not remember God. 6.
If someone is very rich, leads a disciplined life as per societal norms, and enjoys fame because of his clean behaviour; and his mother, father, sons, brothers and friends all love him; and if a number of soldiers with quivers loaded with arrows bow to him, and obey his orders; he is still thrown in hell if he does not remember God. 7.
If someone does not suffer from some bodily disease, has no shortcoming, or no suffering due to some grief, has never thought about death, and enjoys luxuries of life day and night; has control on everything, and never doubted his ownership of all his properties; becomes a prisoner of the deputies of the Angel of death if he has not remembered God. 8.

If Waheguru is kind to someone, he gets connected with the Guru, and the more he stays in touch, the more he is imbued in Waheguru's love. Waheguru is the Lord of both the worlds (present and the next after death), and there is no place beyond His control. I have realized such Waheguru's Naam by the benevolence of Satguru, oh Nanak. 9.1.26

Word Meaning: Bhaavaiy = likes. Baata = wording; deeds. Khoj(i)= search. Pause. Dhiyani = meditator. Kmaveh(i) = earns; works toward. Kin = some rare person. 1. Bhugaouti = devotee. Joogta = (in) discipline. Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya. Tupsee = self- torturer. Raata = imbued. 2. Moani = an ascetic who stays silent for a long time. Sanyasi = an ascetic who renounces the world. Brahmchaari = celibate. Oodaasi = turned away from Maya. 3.

Worship of Nuvaiy Parkaara = Hindu books have listed nine forms of worship as follows:

1. Listen to the praise of one's deity. 2. Singing praise. 3. Remembering the deity. 4. Wash the feet. 5. Offering flowers etc. 6. Kneeling before. 7. Friendly behaviour. 8. Personal tending. 9. Offer self. Gristi = family man.

Vayd(u) = Vedas. Pookaara = reads aloud. Gristi = family man. Dhermaata = discharges his responsibilities. 4. Ikk-sahabadi = ascetics who utter only one word at the doors to collect food. Buhouroop = who changes appearances frequently. Uvdhoota = naked sadhus. Kaaprri = one who covers his entire body with clothes. Kautay = poets; entertainer. Jagoota = who does not sleep. 5. Nirhaar = who does not eat. Verti = those who take vows not to do certain things. Aapursha = who don't touch others. Look(i) = keep hiding. Giyaata = knowledgeable. 6. Ookut(i) = logic. Oopaava = arrangements; use different techniques. Praata = fallen (on feet). 8.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Arjun Dev Ji explains the different approaches people follow to connect with God. Everybody believes that their approach is successful (pleases Waheguru). But, worshipping Waheguru by taking Guru's shelter is the only way to please or connect with Him.

MEANING: I don't know which religious path (approach) pleases (is approved by) Waheguru for connecting with Him. So, search for the right approach, oh my mind. Pause.
The meditators believe in meditation alone; the (divine) knowledge seekers believe in acquiring knowledge, but no one has realized Waheguru (or made a connection with Him) using such approaches. 1. The devotees of god Vishnu worship as per their belief - a special anointment on the forehead, wearing a necklace of basil, and pilgrimage, etc. The Yogis believe that their path leads to freedom from Maya, and the people who torture themselves believe that their approach is right. 2. The ascetics who stay quiet for long periods of time practise their belief; the Sanyasi and the celibates believe in their respective approaches, and the people who believe in turning their minds away from Maya, follow their own path. 3. Some believe in the nine types of worship; the pundits read the Vedas aloud to the people, and the family man is busy with his family obligations. 4. There are some who go from door to door to collect food, and utter only one word (Aulukh, Nirunjun, etc.) to draw the attention of the families. Some believe in wearing no clothes at all, while some others keep changing their appearances. On the other hand, some believe in covering their whole body with clothes; some people are poets, and some entertain people with different acts, and there are some who believe in having no sleep. There are still others who believe in pilgrimage. 5. Some eat no food, some live by certain self-imposed restrictions, while others do not let people touch them. Some stay in hiding and remain invisible, while others consider themselves highly knowledgeable. 6. Nobody believes that his path is less effective than others, and everybody claims that they have realized God, but only he is the real devotee whom Waheguru Himself connects with Him. 7. I have relinquished all these logics and approaches and have fallen at the Guru's feet (taken His shelter) to be connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak(u). 8.2.27.

MEANING: (Being omnipresent) You are a Yogi among the yogis, and a family man among the family men, oh Waheguru. Nobody has ever found Your limits in the sky, on the earth, and in the underworld. 1. I wish to sacrifice myself for Your Naam (magnanimity). Pause. You created the whole world and gave everyone responsibility (putting everyone in worldly affairs) according to their suitability. Now, You are watching your creation, in which humans are acting like pawns in a game of dice. 2. You are visible in the world through Nature, and everybody longs for Your Naam. However, the whole world is enchanted by the gimmicks of Maya, and no one can acquire Waheguru's Naam without the Guru's benevolence. 3. One should offer one's life to the Guru with whom one connects and attains a high spiritual level. Satguru enlightens the individuals to realize Waheguru, whom the gods, men, and the Moanies long for. 4. (If someone asks) What a holy congregation should be like, (then Guru Sahib's response is): it is a gathering where only Waheguru's Naam is explained and discussed. Satguru has declared that only Waheguru's Naam is the command (of Waheguru) to be followed (for union with Him). 5.
This world has been misled in doubts (caught between Maya and Waheguru), and Waheguru Himself has misguided it. The unfortunate human-wives (souls) who have no good fortune inscribed on their foreheads and have been discarded by the Husband (Waheguru) suffer gravely. 6. How can a dohaagun(i) be recognized? They are disconnected from their Waheguru- Husband, and spend their lives in disrespect. Their dresses (bodies) are dirty (they are unattractive because of their ignoble deeds), and the night of their life is spent in suffering. 7. Q: What kind of deeds do the individuals perform to be a sohaagun(i) (to enjoy the love of the husband)? A: They reap the rewards of their virtuous deeds of previous lives, as a result of which, Waheguru Himself connects them with Him by casting His kind sight on them, and they are loved by Him. 8.
Waheguru fosters His Naam in the hearts of the human wives whom He makes to obey His Will. Those friends (devotees) who win Waheguru's love are sohaaguns. 9.
Those who enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Will have their doubts cleared. The Satguru is the one who connects everybody with Waheguru. 10.
As a result of connecting with Satguru, the individual's ego disappears. Good fortune appears on his forehead, and his suffering from the ill-advice is destroyed. 11.
Guru's Shabad in Your praise is Amrit, and it takes dwelling in the heart of Your devotees, oh Waheguru. I feel great comfort when You keep me in Your service; You salvage people by Your kind sight, oh Lord. 12. An individual's connection with Satguru is meaningful only if he worships Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru. Nobody can realize Waheguru without the shelter of Satguru, no matter how many other rituals he performs, or even exhausts himself performing accepted deeds of kindness. 13.
I am a sacrifice to the Satguru who clears all our doubts and guides us on the right path (to union with Waheguru). Waheguru Himself connects some lucky individuals with Him if He casts His kind sight on them. 14. Even though the Creator, Waheguru, is present in everyone, He is invisible. He appears in the heart of only those fortunate individuals who come to Satguru's shelter and in whom Waheguru places His light. 15.

The Lord Himself creates humans, neatly giving them body and life, and Himself confers honour on His devotees. He protects their dignity (against Maya's attacks) and rescues them by placing His kind hands on their foreheads. 16.

NOTE: God is formless. “Placing both His hands” has been used by Guru Sahib for our understanding only.

All wisdom and all efforts to control sensual feelings become insignificant for the devotees because Waheguru knows their intentions and protects them. Waheguru spreads the fame of His devotees in the world, and everybody sings their praise. 17.

Waheguru did not consider my virtues or vices; He simply exercised His eternal nature of kindness. He took me in His embrace and did not let me suffer even a little. 18.

I worshipped Waheguru with my mind and body, and reaped the fruit of my wishes. God is the Lord of all kings and emperors; I survive only by reciting His Naam. 19.

God creates Himself, and Maya (to sustain living beings' interest in the world). It is Waheguru, which is operating everywhere, but only those few people of His choosing understand this fact, whom He enlightens. 20. Waheguru is realized only by Satguru’s benevolence; Satguru enlightens individuals so that they lose all interest in Maya. Waheguru then unites those individuals with Him by His kindness. 21. (People worship Sri Krishna, who used to graze cows by the banks of the River Yamuna, in the company of cowgirls, and who later lifted Mount Govardhan on his little finger to use that as an umbrella to protect the masses from incessant rain), but (being omnipresent), it was You, oh Lord, who did all that. The Lord Waheguru creates all bodies and destroys them, reshaping them for their spiritual improvement. 22. Those who fall in love with Satguru lose all interest in Maya. Their souls become pure, and they leave this world clean. 23.

You are always very kind and forgiving, oh Waheguru. I sing Your praise day and night for Your noble qualities. Waheguru fulfils all your needs even without you asking for them, so man must remember Him at all times, oh Nanak. 24.

MEANING: I drop on the feet (of Satguru) to win His affection. Satguru connected me with the Primal Being (Waheguru), who has no equal. Pause. My Lord of the world is very sweet – sweeter than even my mother and father. Nobody - sister, brother or other relative (friend) - is like Him. 1. It is like the month of June-July (the sowing season) for me. So, (to sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam), I am ploughing the land of my heart with the tiller of high moral character. I am sowing the seed of His Naam with the hope that with His kindness, I will have a bumper crop (of His Naam). 2.

In the shelter of the Guru, I recognize only the "One" (Waheguru), and I will never think of any other power as my Guru. Waheguru has sent me (given me human life) for only one business (of His Naam); now I request Him to please finish this business successfully the way He pleases. 3. Satguru has conferred the robe of honour on me in His Court. Now, I am the ruler of my body-village and have made the five opposing demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and rage) my prisoners. I ask my devotee brothers to enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam –juice. 4. I have come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. Now the five demons are my farm assistants (they help me in growing the Naam-crop in my heart). None of them can raise their head (to harm the Naam-crop), and the village of my heart has been densely inhabited with noble qualities (virtues). 5. I am a sacrifice to You, oh my Lord, and recite Your Naam continuously. You have re-inhabited the ruins of my deserted heart-village (with virtues), oh Waheguru. I wish to lay down my life for You. 6.
I recite Your Naam with love and respect, and reap the fruit of my wishes (Your Naam). You have fulfilled all my wishes and satisfied the appetite of my mind, oh Waheguru. 7.
I have dropped all other worthless deeds and worship only the True Lord of the world. I have realized that the real treasure is Waheguru's Naam, and have firmly entrenched this fact in my mind. 8. I have fostered Guru's Shabad in my mind, and have acquired the best of all comforts. Satguru has shown me Waheguru by placing His kind hand on my forehead. 9. The Guru has founded a place (holy congregation) for the Sikhs to attain a high level of spirituality. He asks His Sikhs to look around to find other Gur Sikhs. He washes their feet, fans them to provide comfort from the heat, and bends down to touch their feet (to set an example of humbleness). 10.
Hearing such great things about the Guru, I, too, went to His shelter. Satguru reinforces
The importance of Waheguru's Naam, service to the masses, and purity of mind.
(Following the Guru's advice), The whole world has achieved freedom from the bonds of Maya, because the Guru enabled them to board the ship (of Waheguru's Naam) which carries them (across the sea of Maya) to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 11.
The entire world is serving You day and night; pay attention to their prayers, oh kind Waheguru. Everybody has examined thoroughly from every aspect, and found out that when You are pleased with someone, You cut him free from the bonds of Maya on Your own, oh Waheguru. 12. It is Your Law (that when people are cut loose from the bonds of Maya), no demon (of sensual feelings) troubles them, oh Waheguru. Such people have a life of blissfulness, and this is what you may call the kingdom of humbleness. 13. (In this state of spirituality) There is a drizzle of Amrit in their minds; they speak what they are told to (by the Lord), meaning they obey Waheguru's Command. They have full pride (faith) in Waheguru, which values their dedication and connects them with Him. 14.
Waheguru's devotees are always hungry for (desirous of) His sight. He fulfils all their wishes. Kindly grant me Your sight, and take me in Your embrace, oh, the source of all comforts! 15.
I have searched, and have not found anybody as magnanimous as You are, oh Waheguru! You are present in the islands (earth), in all fourteen worlds, and in the underworld. You are present everywhere, oh Lord! Waheguru is the support for all His devotees, oh Nanak! 16. I am a wrestler of the Lord of the world, and fight against my evil sensual pleasures. With the Guru's support, I am the winner (against the five demons). Everybody is a wrestler

In the world-rink, and the kind Waheguru Himself is watching them fight against the five demons. 17.

NOTE: Guru Sahib has used “Chhinjh or Wrestling Match” as a metaphor for the struggle humans are facing against the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment and ego).

(Like music is played in traditional matches where scores of wrestlers take part), different types of musical instruments of sensual pleasures - like the ones that are played with the mouth, small and big drums, etc. – are being played in the human mind. The human-mind and the five demons have entered the wrestling ring for the match, and each is displaying its confidence. Devotees of Waheguru are able to disarm the five demons, and the Guru pats their backs in admiration! 18.

Everybody is fighting this battle in the world (some will win and some will lose), and following different paths, they will leave this world to go to the next world to face the consequences! The Gurmukhs will leave this world with profit (higher spiritual levels) while the followers of their mind will leave with the loss of even their capitals (the virtues they were born with, if they had any). 19.

You are without any colour or facial features, yet you are still visibly present (in nature), oh Waheguru! Hearing about Your wonderful qualities, Your devotees worship You, and are imbued in You Naam, oh the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru. 20.

I have been in the service of the kind Lord through the eons (there have been devotees of God in all the eons). The Guru has cut my bonds of Maya; I got this opportunity (human life) to serve Waheguru, and as a result, I won’t have to struggle against the demons any more (I won’t be born again), oh Nanak. 21.2.29.
