Kin bidh(i) kooshul(u) hoat mayray bhaayee. Kiyoun paayiyaiy Hur(i) Ram suhaayee? 1. Ruhaou. Kooshul(u) na greh(i) mayri subh Maya. Oochay mundar soondar chhaaya. Jhootthay laaluch(i) junum(u) guvaayiyaa. 1.

(PAGE 176): Hustee ghoarray daykh(i) vigaasa. Lushkar joarray nayb khuvaasa. Gul(i) jayvurri haumein kay phaasa. 2. Raj kumaavaiy deh dis saari. Maanaiy rung bhoag buhou naari. Jiyoun nurput(i) soopnaiy bhaykhaari. 3. Aik(u) kooshul(u) mo kuou Satguru butaaya. Hur(i) jo kichh(u kuray su Hur(i) kiyaan bhugtaan bhaaya. Jun Nanak haumein maar(i) smaaya. 4. In(i) bidh(i) kooshul hoat mayray bhaayee. Iyoun paayiyaiy Hur(i) Ram suhaayee. 1. Ruhaou dooja.

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = Shabads with four stanzas. Kin bidh(i) = in what way? How? Kooshul(u) = wellbeing; mental happiness. Kiyoun = how? Ram = Waheguru. Suhaayee = supportive. Pause. Greh(i) = household. Mundar(u) = mansion. Chhaaya = built up. Jhootthay = mortal; temporary. Laaluch(i) = (in) greed. Guvaayuyaa = wasted away. 1. Hustee = elephants. Vigaasa = fees overjoyed. Lushkar = armies; soldiers. Jorray = gathered. Nayb Khuvaasa = assistants. Jayvurri = rope. Phaasa = bonds; traps. 2. Deh Dis Saari = in every direction. Maanaiy = enjoy. Rung = colourful entertainment. Naari = women. Nurput(i) = king. Bhaykhaari = beggar. 3. Bhaaya = liked that. Smaaya = got fully absorbed. 4. In(i) Bidh(i) = in this way. Second pause.

MEANING: What are the means by which we can achieve wellbeing (mental happiness)? How can we connect with Waheguru, who is supportive of us? Pause.

There is no mental happiness in having beautiful, tall and well-built mansions, lots of household stuff, and all the wealth. The man wastes away his precious human life in the greed for temporary possessions. 1. The man feels overjoyed to see his elephants, horses, soldiers, and assistants that he has hoarded over time. But they all serve as bonds for haumein (which erodes his spiritual level). 2.

Even if a man rules over a large territory in all directions and enjoys a colourful life with many women, it is like a dream of a beggar who becomes a king. (In reality, all luxuries of life are short-lived like a dream). 3. The Satguru has revealed to me that there is only a single real mental happiness which the devotees of Waheguru attain by gladly accepting His Will. This slave, Nanak, has listened to the Guru and has been fully absorbed in the Naam by killing his haumein. 4. This is the way to achieve mental happiness, and this is how one gets connected with the supportive Waheguru. Second pause.

NOTE: The final number count at the end of the holy Shabad is missing. It should have been: 4.1.71.

Tis(u) nuhee dooja ko puhoochunhaara. 1. Ruhaou. Subh meh(i) vertaiy aik(u) Anunta. Ta tu sookh(i) soyo hoyay achinta. Ohu subh(u) kichh(u) jaanaiy, jo vertunta. 2. Munmukh mooyay jin dooji piyaasa. Buhou joni bhuveh(i) dhoor(i) kirut(i) likhiyaasa. Jaiysa beejeh(i) taiysa khaasa. 3. Daykh(i) ders(u) mun(i) bhuyaa vigaasa. Subh(u) nudri aaya Braham pergaasa. Put(i) = dignity. Khoyee = lost. 1. Duyyara = kind. Puhoochunhaara = one who can reach (to cause harm). Pause.
Vertaiy = operates. Anunta = who has no end; infinite. Achinta = worry-free. 2.

Durs(u) = sight. Vigaasa = blooming of heart; overjoyed. nudri Aaya = became visible; saw. Braham Pegaasa = light of Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: Why should we be caught in any misbelief when it is clear that Waheguru (which enlightens us) is present on the land, in the waters, and in the sky (He is omnipresent). The followers of the Guru are saved from drowning (in the world-sea), and are salvaged; on the other hand, those who are disconnected from the Guru (Waheguru), lose their dignity (in Waheguru's Court). 1. Nobody can reach (attack) the individual (or attain the spiritual level that he has attained) who is protected by Waheguru, Himself, oh my friend. Pause. (Once one has the confidence that) The infinite Waheguru is operating in everyone; he leaves them with no worries and allows them to enjoy a restful sleep. Waheguru knows everything that happens (in the world). 2. The money-hungry individuals, who have a thirst for the other (Maya), experience spiritual death. Based on their deeds in previous lives, they have a preordained fate from the source (Waheguru) that they must go through many, many lifetimes. They eat whatever they have sown (reap the rewards of their deeds). 3. The wish of the slave, Nanak, has been fulfilled when He is overjoyed to have a holy glimpse of Waheguru and see His Light (enlightenment of mind). 4.2.71.

NOTE: The numbering at the end. It should have been: 4.2.72. The error persists until Shabad 106.

MEANING: You have been given the human body after a very long time, oh man. Now (human life) is your opportunity to connect with God, so do that, oh man. Pause.
(Before this) You had been through many life forms like worms, moths, elephants, fish, deer, birds, snakes, superior quality horses, and oxen, which are used in heavy farm work. 1.
For countless times, you were given life in the rocks and mountains, and were taken through the womb (had many rebirths). Many other times, you were taken through the life of plants. In fact, you were taken through 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu belief). 2.
(Now, that you have been given the human form) achieve the real objective of human life (to unite with God). So, with the advice of the Guru, serve the congregation of the holy devotees, and recite Waheguru's Naam in their company. Quit (overcome) your false ego and any perceived mistreatment, oh my friend. An individual who overcomes his sensual desires while living in the family finds approval in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Whatever is happening is happening by God's Will, and no one else is capable of doing anything like that. No one can connect with Waheguru on their own; only those individuals get connected with Him who He connects Himself. (Guru) Nanak advises to sing the virtues of Waheguru, oh man. 4.3.72.

Word Meaning: Tis = that (Waheguru). Shern(i) = shelter. Bhuou = fear. Soag(u) = grief. Baahur(i) = outside. Hoag(u) = happens. Tujee = quit; give up. Bul = force; power. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Joar = force. Shoar(u) = noise. Kern = (capable of) doing. Sugul = all. Ghutaan = of hearts. Untarjaami = omniscient. 3. Saacha = everlasting. Oopdaysh(u) = Teachings. Layhou = acquire. Live Laagi = got connected with. Dhunn = is worthy of praise; great. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam with deep love, who is always with you inside and outside, oh my mind. Pause. There is no fear or grief in Waheguru's shelter because nothing happens outside of Him. I have given up all my wisdom, power and vices (and am fully dependent on Waheguru) because I am confident that he protects the dignity (from the attacks of vices) of His devotees. 1. Always have faith in the support of Waheguru in mind, and taste the Amrit of Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. Think, what purpose do all other efforts of yours serve when the kind Waheguru Himself protects your dignity? 2. Think, what the man is capable of doing, and what the power of money can achieve, about which we hear so loudly (basically nothing); because being omniscient, Waheguru knows everything about all the hearts (living beings), and thus needs no assistance; so, He alone does everything (and makes people do things He likes). 3.

Embedding (enshrining) the Guru's Teachings in the mind is the source of eternal comfort. The man who connects with Waheguru with full concentration is a highly fortunate person, oh Nanak. 4.7.76.

MEANING: The kind Guru ferried me across the sea of fire (of burning sensual desires), and salvaged me by making me recite Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
With great luck, I was able to get the company (shelter) of the Guru, wherein I developed love for Waheguru. I was able to wash away the filth of my evil deeds by listening to the narrative of the virtues and kindness of Waheguru from the Guru, whereby my mind achieved great piety, and I began to enjoy the comfort of a mountain. 1. I achieved calmness of mind by singing praise of Waheguru, and all my sins of many, many lives were washed away. I found all the treasures (of virtues and comfort) in my mind, so why would I go to any place now to search for them? 2. When Waheguru became kind to me, all the hard labour of this slave was successful (fully rewarded). When I repeatedly remembered the treasure (source) of virtues (Waheguru), He embraced me as His slave and cut all my bonds with Maya. 3. Waheguru, which is present in my mind, is also everywhere and completely fills the whole space. The Perfect Guru has cleared all my misgivings, and I am feeling blissful by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.8.77.

Word Meaning: Uglay Mooyay = who died before. Paachhaiy Puray = left behind (thing of the past). Oobray = those who came up (next generation). Luck Bundh(i) Khuray = ready to go (have higher motivation). Dhundhay = business. Luptaayay = embraced. Doogun(u) = twice as much. Dirri = reinforced; earned; accumulated. Maayay = money. 1. Oh baiyla = that time. Binus(i) jaayay = which is perishable. Taahoo = with the same. Pause. Aasaan Bundhi = built on hopes. Dayh = body (life). Kaam = lust. Luptiyo = clings to. Usnayh = affection; attraction. Tthaandho = standing; watching. Dherm Raayay = the angel of justice. Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). 2. Bundhoun = tie up. Saadhoun = fix; punish. Baiyr(u) = Baiyri = enemy. Bhoom(i) = land. Ghaalaiy = place; put. Pundit = learned person. Chatoor = clever. Boojhaiy = recognize; acknowledge. Bigaana = lacking knowledge; ignorant. 3. Kernaiyhaara = the doer; Creator. Unt(u) = end. Paaravaara = limits. Kubhoo Na = never. Visraiy = forget; lose from mind. 5.

MEANING: (Even though the people see with their own eyes that when others die, they do not take anything with them to the next world), yet they forget that reality easily. The next generation has even higher motivation (to earn more money). They pursue the same business as their predecessors and earn twice as much. 1. They do not recall the time when their predecessors left this world without a thing and continue to cling to perishable, mundane things. Pause. The idiot man bases his life on hopes and clings to lust, rage, and love for the family. He does not realize that the Angel of justice is watching him very closely, yet continues to enjoy the taste of poisonous Maya as if it were sweet. 2. (Guided by his ego) He barks loudly, “Who can set foot on my land? I will tie up and punish my enemy. I am a learned person, and am very clever.” The ignorant does not realize that the Creator who controls everything (is watching Him). 3. Waheguru alone knows His own magnanimity and His capabilities. What can anyone say about, or describe Him? Living beings do whatever Waheguru wants them to do, and everybody prays to Him for their own wellbeing. 4. You are limitless, are the creator of the whole universe, and everything belongs to You (is under Your control), oh Waheguru. Word Meaning: Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Chhootaara = freedom from Maya (worldly bonds). Aagul = very much. Bhaara = weight (of evils). Nirmul = pure. Hayt = love; dedication. Sobha = honour. Sayt = with. 1. Guhou = hold; seek. Ohla = support; shelter. Jhola = whirlwind; gust. Pause. Bohith(u) = ship. Bhaiy Saagur = dreadful sea. Deepaah(i) = gives light. Seet = intense cold. Laahus(i) = takes away, removes. Juput = by reciting. 2. Ootur(i) jaayay = is removed. Piyaas = thirst. Aas = hope; wish. Dolaiy = waver; dodder. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Meet = friend. 3. Aukhudh(u) = medication. Vusaiy = is embedded. Tih = his. 4.10.79.

MEANING: If you seek (come to) the shelter of Waheguru's Naam, you will not suffer even a small gust of warm wind (no discomfort at all), oh my mind. Pause.

No matter how hard a man tries, he cannot break the bonds of Maya on his own. The wiser he thinks he is, the bigger the burden (of evil deeds) that he will carry. On the other hand, if he serves Waheguru (obeys His Will) with pure love and dedication, he goes to Waheguru's Court (gets connected with Him) with respect. 1. When a man recites Waheguru's Naam, he accomplishes a great comfort of mind which is like a ship for a person who is drowning in a dreadful sea, or like a man in darkness who suddenly gets the light of a lamp, or like a man freezing in cold who gets the warmth of fire. 2.

So, recite Waheguru's Amrit-Naam in the shelter of the Guru, which will remove the thirst for Maya from your mind, oh my friend; your mind will quit doddering (become peaceful), and all your wishes will be fulfilled. 3. However, only that individual can receive the medication of Waheguru's Naam who is given by Waheguru Himself with His kindness. The heart, which becomes a dwelling for Waheguru's Naam, gets all its discomforts and sufferings eradicated (by the Naam medication), oh Nanak. 4.10.79.

Word Meaning: Derb = wealth. Aghaana = contented. Putiyaana = win over; convinced. Kluttar = wife. Oorjhiyo = entangled; trapped. Binsaiy = ends; vanishes. Bhusmaiy Dhayri = pile of dirt. 1. Bil-laatay = crying; complaining due to suffering. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Pause. Bigaari = forced labour. Daam = money. Khusmaiy Kaiy Greh(i) = house of the master. Oon = that (labourer). Suhaam = endured. Baiysut = became. Naytur = eyes. Pusaaraiy = expanded; opened. Niraaruth = meaningless; worthless. Kaaja = task; position. 2. Raakha = guard. Khayt = field; crop. Puraayay = somebody else's. Ootth jaayay = leaves (empty handed). Kaarun(i) = because of that. Kurraiy = suffers. Paalaiy = in possession. Purraiy = goes into. 3. Jis = Waheguru. Trishna = burning desire for. Bihaanay = destroys. Raas(i) = befitting; suitable. 4.

MEANING: I have seen many people complaining, crying, and suffering because they are without Waheguru's Naam (do not recite it). Condemnable is the body and the wealth of the people who (forgetting Waheguru's Naam) are imbued in (are indulged in) Maya. Pause. The human mind is not content with accumulating wealth (there is always a desire to have more and more). Nor is man's mind content to enjoy different forms of beauty. He is completely entangled in the love for his son and his wife, believing they are his forever. However, wealth and other enjoyments are perishable and leave him; his family members die and become a pile of dirt (so he loses all of them, and nothing stays with him forever). 1. Man's love with the perishable is just like that of a forced labourer who is carrying a load of someone else's money on his head; the money is delivered to the house of the owner, and the labourer simply suffers under the weight because he does not get anything in return. (Another relevant example about love with perishable things) Is that of a man who becomes a king in his dream? When he wakes up and opens his eyes, he realizes that his kingship was all meaningless. 2. Another example is that of a person who is guarding (grain in) someone else's field for which he endures suffering (sleeplessness and the danger of attack from thieves or wild animals). The owner pockets the sale proceeds, but the guard leaves without any reward. 3. (The only everlasting thing is the Naam of Waheguru). It is a natural law that a man dreams of what he wishes for. So, when Waheguru gives wealth, He also instills the fire of desires in the human mind. Waheguru Himself destroys, and Himself creates situations which are suitable for individuals (based on their character). Always pray to Waheguru only (for your needs), oh Nanak. 4.11.80.

MEANING: Oh, holy devotees of Waheguru, please advise me how to acquire the state of bliss where the fire of all desires is put out, and the mind gets contentment. Pause.

I have seen many colours and many forms of captivating Maya, which also captivates writers (in the form of haumein) because of their wise writings. The leaders, the kings, and the wealthy are all captivated by Maya, but nobody has ever found any contentment in it. 1.

Many people ride elephants and horses, which can run at the speed of the wind; others enjoy the company of beautiful women on beds perfumed with sandalwood. People entertain themselves by watching actors perform on stage and listening to their songs, but nobody finds lasting mental contentment in either. 2.

Sitting on the thrones, the kings may enjoy large gatherings, a variety of decorations and plush carpets, may have all kinds of fruits in their orchards, and may feed their hobbies of hunting, or making other arrangements to enjoy the world, but they still do not have the comfort (peace) of mind. 3. The holy devotees of Waheguru have kindly revealed the eternal truth that to have the supreme bliss of the mind, we should sing Waheguru's praise in a holy gathering. However, only lucky people can join such a gathering, oh Nanak. 4. Only that individual is blissful who is connected with the holy congregation by Waheguru to earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. Second Pause. 12.81.

Word Meaning: Praani = man. Buhour, Buhour = again and again. Ohaoo = with the same. Luptayra = clinging. Kluttar = wife. Grist = family. Phaasa = bonds. 1.
Kuvun = which. Bidh(i) = means. Turaiy = swim across. Maayay = Maya (sea of). Pause. Bhulaayee = favourable; good for. Boora = bad. Jaanaiy = thinks of. Bikhaiy = poison. Sumaanaiy = like; comparable. Vaalayvaa = dealings. Saakut = disconnected from God. 2. Hulaahul = forbidden. Baura = crazy. Lukh Chauraaseeh = 8.4 million (life forms). Bhermta = travels through. Phuhaayay = trapped in. Punkhi = birds (humans). Rus(i) Rus(i) = tastefully. Bhog Kureh(i) = enjoys. Bhuyay = becomes. Jaal = net (bonds). 4.

MEANING: The man thinks that his body is here forever, so he clings to it (loves and nourishes it) again and again. Also, he is bonded very tightly with his son, wife, and family. Under such conditions, he cannot become a devotee of Waheguru. 1.
By what means can one sing praise of the virtues of Waheguru, and with what wisdom can he swim across the sea of Maya? Pause. (The unfortunate thing is that) The man considers what is actually good for him to be bad. If someone tells him the truth (reality), it hurts him like poison. The ignorant does not know where his gain or loss is. This is how the money-minded person (disconnected from God) deals in the world. 2.
The crazy person drinks what is forbidden for him (does forbidden or evil deeds), while the Naam-Amrit is bitter for him. He has no nearness (no connection) with the holy congregation, as a result of which he is cycled through the 8.4 million life forms. 3. All the human-like birds are caught in the same net (of love for Maya), who enjoys the attractions of life with great taste. The bonds of Maya of the individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, are cut by the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 4.13.82.

Word Meaning: Tuou = Your. Maarug = path (of Truth). Bundhun = bonds (of Maya). Chhootaiy = get freedom. 1. Sayv = serve. Dayv = Waheguru. Pause.
Bhaavaiy = like. Vukhaani = describe; explain. Muyya = kindness. 2.
Nirmul = pure; pious. Kerma = deeds. Dherma = high living; noble deeds. Nidhaan Goon = treasure of virtues. Sahib(u) = Lord. 3. Rung(i) = with love. Raata = imbued. Kulyaan(u) = wellbeing. 4.

MEANING: We are incapable of doing anything on our own; we serve You only when You prompt us to do so, oh Waheguru. Pause. We get on the right path (of connecting with You), and recite Your Naam only with Your kindness, oh Waheguru. The bonds of Maya are broken only with Your kindness; also, our ego and selfishness can be eradicated only if You are merciful, oh Waheguru. 1. I can recite Your Naam and describe Your virtues only if You like (enable me to do so). Satguru is kind to me only if You approve that, and I enjoy all comforts only when You are kind, oh Waheguru. 2.
Only those deeds are pure (holy) which You approve; and only that living is high (those acts and thoughts are noble) which are as per Your Will. You own (You are) the treasures of all the virtues; You are the Lord, and I am only Your slave who can only pray to You, oh Waheguru. 3. My mind and body are purified in Your love, and I enjoy all the comforts in the company of the holy devotees. My only wish is that my mind remain imbued with Waheguru's love, as all wellbeing is incorporated in His Love, oh Nanak. 4.14.83.

Word Meaning: Aan = other. Rusa = rus = tasty (enjoyable) things. Chaakhay = tasted; enjoyed. Nimukh = moment. Tishna = desires. Laathay = removed. Saad(u) = taste. Bismaad(u) = amazement; mesmerization. 1. Rusna = tongue. Triptaari = contentment. Pause. Jihvay = tongue. Kut-houn = wherever. 2.
Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Araadh(i) = worship. Tthaakur = Lord. Aagaadh(i) = unfathomable. Eehaan = here (this life). Oohaan = there (next world). Amoli = priceless. 3. Bnusput(i) = vegetation. Mauli = bloomed. Payday = on the trees. Raati = imbued. Luaiy = compare; come even close. Suhaayee = supportive. 4.

MEANING: No matter how many different tastes you have enjoyed, your thirst (desire) for such tastes is not quenched even for a moment, oh my tongue! But if you taste Waheguru's Naam (recite it), you will be mesmerized as soon as you taste it. 1.

Taste the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, and you will be completely contented by its sweetness, oh my dear tongue. Pause. Sing praise of the virtues of Waheguru, and recite His Naam every moment, oh my tongue. One should not listen to other (filthy) songs (than Waheguru's Naam) and must not visit any place (where Maya may captivate one) other than the holy congregation, which, however, can be accessed only with great luck. 2.
Waheguru is the unfathomable Lord, (to connect with Him) recite His Naam all the twenty-four hours, oh my tongue. The tongue which sings the virtues of Waheguru becomes priceless and is blissful in both the worlds – the present and the next. 3.
There is no doubt that there is tremendous beauty in nature – the trees bloom, and bear flowers and fruits, which attract us; but a person who is imbued in the essence of Waheguru's Naam never quits reciting His Naam to enjoy other things. When the Guru becomes kind to someone, he feels that no other taste or source of enjoyment can rival the taste of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.15.84.

Dikhlaaya = showed. 4.
MEANING: The human mind (soul) is like a temple with the body as a fence around it to protect it. The limitless Waheguru dwells in there; the source of everything, Waheguru, is said to be present there. What kind of dealer can earn trust there? 1.

Some rare individuals deal in the Naam, which is highly valuable like a precious stone, and use the Naam-Amrit as their mental food. (This is the kind of dealer who earns the trust of Waheguru). Pause. By what means can the stonelike hardness of an individual's mind melt (develop love for Waheguru)? Who is the individual who accumulates the wealth of Waheguru's Naam? I will offer my mind and body to serve him and will drop at the feet of such a great individual without any hesitation (with total disregard for my ego and his identity) if he can connect me with Waheguru. 2. By what means can one reach the Palace of Waheguru? What can one do to be called inside by Him? Waheguru is the source of everything, and countless people trade for His spiritual gifts. Is there a philanthropist among them who can take me and deliver at Waheguru's door (connect me with Him)? 3. The kind Waheguru connected me with His trustworthy Guru, who made me search my own mind, and after a hard search, I found Waheguru there. MEANING: Taking the shelter of the Perfect Guru, those devotees who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, are blissful by body and mind. Pause.
(Because of their love for Waheguru), Such devotees enjoy the same (peaceful) state of mind day and night, and think Waheguru to be with them all the time. Waheguru's Naam is their normal way of dealing, and they feel fully content to "see" Waheguru. 1.
Waheguru's lotus-like feet (His Naam) is the food for their soul. They "see" only Waheguru everywhere, and are obedient to Him (accept His Will gladly). They do not recognize any other power than Waheguru, and they deal only in one thing - Waheguru's Naam - which is their only business. 2. They are free from (are above) both happiness and grief.

They are detached from the world, are connected with Waheguru, and have a high moral lifestyle. They can be seen among everybody (lead normal life), yet they are detached from everything and keep Waheguru in mind. 3.

MEANING: Maya exerts its influence on human beings in a variety of ways. The holy devotees lead their life with Your support, oh Waheguru. Pause.
Maya exerts its influence during happiness, grief, and during expansion (increase in wealth, business, family, etc.). Because of its influence, people go to hell, heaven, or take rebirths. It influences the rich, the poor, and individuals who earn fame (by boosting their egos or by oppressing others). Its attraction makes people greedy, and greed is the root of all ills (evils). 1. It influences the people so that they get intoxicated in their ego, and causes people to get too attached to their sons and wives. It influences people to love their elephants, horses, and clothes, and to feel intoxicated by the intoxication of beauty and youth. 2. Maya influences the landlords, the pauper, and the wealthy, and it makes people enjoy (Maya-related) songs and music with their friends. It influences by causing attraction to comfortable beds, mansions, and decoration, while the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and conceit) blind their rational thinking. 3. It influences people to do deeds that trap them in ego and selfishness. It influences the family man, and those who think they are detached from the world (such a false show of detachment leads to haumein). It influences people's dealings based on their caste or social status. (In a nutshell), It influences everyone except those imbued with Waheguru's love. 4.
The bonds of Maya are cut by Waheguru for His devotees; so how can Maya influence them?

Maya cannot even come close to those who are able to get the dust of the feet of the holy devotees (serve them), oh Nanak. 5.19.88.

MEANING: If the mind is alert (against the attacks of Maya) in the human body, it protects its wealth of virtues (which lead to union with God). Pause.

But man's eyes are asleep (from morality) and cast an evil sight on others' wealth and women. His ears are asleep (from hearing Waheguru's Naam and other moral values), and he rather enjoys listening to malicious thoughts about others. The tongue is asleep (not watchful) in the greed of sweet tastes. The mind is asleep in enjoying the captivating Maya. 1.

All the friends (senses) are imbued in their respective tastes, and have no knowledge about their mind-house (that it is being robbed of virtues). The five demons are attacking the unguarded mind and robbing it of its virtues. 2.

None of the man's father, mother, friends, or brothers can protect his mind from the demons' attack. The demons cannot be prevented from attacking, even by one's wealth or wisdom (the wealthy and wise are as likely to be attacked by the demons as anyone else). The evil demons can be controlled only in the company of the holy devotees. 3.

Please, be kind to me, oh Waheguru, and connect me with Satguru so that I may preserve my wealth of noble qualities. For me, the dust of the feet of the holy devotees (serving them with full dedication) is all the treasures. I stay alert in the love of God, oh Nanak. 4.

Waheguru, whose Court is higher than any other (delivers full justice without any favouritism or discrimination), and whose Naam is the support of life of all the devotees, and whose praise is being sung by every heart, is the perfect source of everything and is present everywhere. 2. Remembering Waheguru demolishes the house of all suffering, and forces the Angel of death not to utter even a single word (of disrespect to the devotee). Remembering Waheguru brings life to the dry (stonelike) heart, and enables the sinking rocks (stonelike hearts) to float (swim across in the sea of Maya) (attain salvation). 3.
Waheguru’s Naam is the support of the life of this slave, Nanak, who wishes a long life for the congregation of the holy saints, where my request was heard, and by whose kindness, my soul has found dwelling in the Naam. (I always live in Naam). 4.21.90.

The worldly attachments and all the misgivings disappear by the Guru's kindness. Bathing in the dust of the feet of the Guru (serving Him with full dedication) incorporates all the religious deeds (rituals). Waheguru becomes kind to you through the Guru's benevolence. The Guru is the support of my life. 3. I pray to the treasure of kindness, Waheguru, that I may be given the opportunity to sit in (be connected with) the holy congregation of the devotees. All the suffering goes away when you remember Waheguru in your mind, and all the fears vanish with His Naam. 1. With Waheguru's fear (in mind), the man does not have any other fear; and what kind of comfort can one have if he forgets Waheguru? Pause. Become fearless by reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which is supporting many earths and skies; whose light is enlightening all the living beings; and whose largesse cannot be obliterated by anyone, oh my mind. 2. Reciting Waheguru's Naam for all twenty-four hours is like taking a dip in countless holy places. Millions of blemishes (sins) are eradicated in a moment by taking shelter of Waheguru. 3.

Waheguru is a fully sovereign King and omniscient (He depends on no one for anything, as everyone and everything is under His control). His devotees have full faith in Him. The Perfect Guru protects His devotees (from the attacks of Maya) by extending His hand. 4.26.95.

MEANING: With Guru's benevolence, my mind has fallen in love with Waheguru's Naam, and my dark mind has been enlightened; it feels as if I have woken up from a deep slumber of many, many lives. Now, I am singing the immortal virtues of Waheguru by Guru's Shabad. This is the advice of the Perfect Guru, oh man. 1. One achieves all wellbeing (bliss) by remembering Waheguru, and enjoys all comfort inside (mentally) and outside (in the world). Pause. With Guru's kindness, I have recognized (been connected with) Waheguru, which has created us. Waheguru Himself kindly connected me with the Guru who adopted me by extending His kind hand, and now I am reciting Waheguru's Naam and His virtues constantly. 2. If one develops faith in Waheguru as the support of his life, he does not need to recite any mantra, perform any magic, use any treatment, or perform the deeds (rituals) of atonement to please some god. With Guru's grace, one gets imbued in Waheguru's love, which is the eternal wealth, and he swims across the sea of Maya, which is otherwise almost impossible to swim. 3.
Waheguru's Naam is limitless wealth, and is the source of all comfort (bliss). Earn this wealth, and attain bliss, oh all the holy people, my friends, and my family. However, only those individuals earn this wealth who receive it from the Guru's kindness. No such devotee leaves without it (the Naam-wealth), oh Nanak. 4.27.96

Bul(i) = offer self for any sacrifice (service). 4.

MEANING: With the concentration of your mind as pen, your mind as paper, and your thoughts as the inkpot, write the Amrit-Naam, and sing praise of Waheguru, oh my friend. Pause. When you do this, your hands become pious right away, and all the bonds of worldly dealings vanish. Recite Waheguru's Naam with your tongue, and thus enjoy bliss, oh my friends and dears. 1. All your vices are eradicated, and there is no fear of the Angel of Death punishing you when you recite Waheguru's Naam. The agents of the Angel of justice will have no reason to watch you closely, and you will not be lost in the thoughts of Maya again, and nothing else will fascinate you. 2.
By reciting Waheguru's Naam, not only will you find salvation, but you will also enable the world (your associates) to be salvaged. When you work hard to realize Waheguru (embed His Naam in your heart) and advise others to do the same, Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in your heart for sure. 3. However, only those who recite Waheguru's Naam have it in their destiny, which is prewritten on their foreheads. I love to sing Waheguru's virtues all the time, and I will be glad to sacrifice my life for Him. 4.28.97.

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = having four stanzas. Doopuday = having two stanzas. Puraayo = which is not yours. Tuj(i) = give up; quit. Ruchna = get absorbed. 1. Gosaayeen = Lord of the earth (Waheguru). Boon-na = knit. 3. Doohaan Siriyaan = of both ends; this world and the next. Mookta = free. 4.

MEANING: How can one connect with God when he loves everything which has been forbidden to him? Pause. The man considers everything his own, unaware that nothing is really his, for everything will be left behind when he dies. He indulges in things which he is bound to leave behind. 1. He considers perishable things as being immortal, and does not like the eternal Truth (Waheguru's Naam, and virtuous qualities) even a little bit. 2. He is taking the wrong and difficult path (away from spirituality), which is akin to an individual knitting something inside out (weaving a web of problems for oneself). 3. Waheguru is the Lord of both worlds; only those individuals who are connected to Him are freed from the bonds of Maya. 4.29.98

NOTE: The Custom of Sutee: It still exists in some parts of India, but the custom of "Sutee" in which a widow would burn herself at the pyre of her husband if he died before her, was prevalent at the time of Guru Sahiban throughout India among the Hindus. If she did not want to perform the custom voluntarily, she was forced to do so by the priests and her family. This highly inhumane and cruel custom was called “Sutee” which actually means high moral character. The “sutee” to be, was given the misleading (false) allurement that she would be loved by God, and would be reunited with her parted husband. Guru Sahiban condemned this highly barbaric custom and preached strongly against it. The Third Master, Guru Amar Dass Ji, even exerted pressure on Emperor Akbar and persuaded him to pass a law against this inhumane custom. There has been a significant decrease in the practice, but it has not been eradicated completely. This holy Shabad is intended to educate supporters of the custom against it.

MEANING: The husband and wife get bonded in matrimony due to their predestined relationship in this troublesome world. They enjoy the worldly facilities for as long as God allows. 1. With the (false) hope to reunite with her dead husband, and to please God, a young woman burns herself on her husband’s pyre, but she cannot unite either with her husband or with Waheguru. Pause. Women immolate themselves by copying others, and by the false determination of their minds. But they do not get to unite with their husband; they are rather taken through many life forms as a punishment for their barbaric act. 2. (Waheguru is not pleased by such foolish practices), He is rather pleased if the would-be “sutee” obeys Waheguru’s Will with a cool mind, and by controlling her desires. Such a woman should have no fear of the Angel of death. 3. *The “sutee”, who loves Waheguru and obeys his Will as she would do for her husband, is worthy of praise, and is approved (honoured) in Waheguru’s Court, oh Nanak. 4.30.99.

NOTE: According to Guru Granth Sahib, there is only one way to unite with Waheguru – by enshrining Waheguru’s Naam in the heart in the shelter of the Guru. There are hundreds of holy Shabads in Guru Granth Sahib that testify to this statement. To blend (mix well) two substances so that the resulting mixture is identical to the original ingredients without any change, it is a basic requirement that the two ingredients in the mixture have identical properties. So, for a man to be one with Waheguru, it is the basic requirement that he has the same virtues as Waheguru Himself. When one embeds Waheguru’s Naam in his heart, he acquires the same virtues as Waheguru.

For a woman to serve her husband and obey him under all conditions does not, in itself, earn her the pleasure or approval of Waheguru. What if the husband is an evil man and the wife supports him in all his evil activities? Will she be honoured by God and reunited with Him? There are many examples of such women in History. Many of you may know the story of Sajjan – the robber and killer at Guru Nanak Sahib‘s time. He had a woman associate*, Khemi,* who fully cooperated with him and obeyed him like a highly dedicated wife. When Guru Nanak Sahib visited Sajjan in his inn near Toolumbha (now in Pakistan) where he looted the suspected wealthy guests and killed them, Guru Sahib reprimanded Khemi as well for her part in the evil deeds. Being always kind, Guru Sahib forgave them and completely changed their characters.

So, we cannot translate the last two stanzas of the holy Shabad to imply that if a woman obeys her husband obediently and treats him like God (serves him like a slave), she is liked by Waheguru. It is completely untrue. With that idea in mind, I translated the holy Shabad differently. Many more examples could be given, and many holy Shabads could be quoted, but that will make the explanations very lengthy.

MEANING: We are really wealthy and lucky when we sing Waheguru's praise with a peaceful mind, and love, and embed Waheguru's Naam in our heart. Pause.
When I (Guru Arjun Dev Ji) checked the treasure of Divine poetry (in Waheguru's praise) written by my forefathers (from Guru Nanak Sahib Ji to Guru Ram Dass Ji), I was mesmerized and felt as if I had acquired all the treasures of the earth. 1. No amount of the precious stones (jewels) can pay the price of this treasure, which is inexhaustible and immeasurable (in value). 2. (As opposed to the other treasures, which decrease with usage), This treasure keeps growing - the more we use and share, the more it grows, and there is never a shortage. 3.

as being far away, we die of fear of (discomfort and suffering), but once Satguru shows you the omnipresence of Waheguru, all the fears are dispelled. 1.
One experiences suffering, illness, and grief when one forgets Waheguru's Naam; however, one always enjoys bliss when one sings Waheguru's virtues (praise). 2.
Do not call (or label) anyone either as bad or as good (if they do not deserve it); just quit (overcome) your ego, and drop on Waheguru's feet (seek His shelter). 3.

NOTE: To fleece the innocent people, the Brahmans had created many false beliefs among them. Hefty donations to them during the eclipses were another. They had concocted many false stories about the mythical gods and demons. They made people believe that eclipses occur when a couple of bottomless demons – Rahoo and Kaytoo – grab the gods, the sun, and the moon in their jaws and swallow them. To free the gods from the demons' jaws, the people must donate generously to the Brahmans so they can bribe the demons to set the gods free. Donations to Brahmans were considered a deed of huge religious value. However, being bottomless, the demons could not hold the gods for too long in their mouths, and the gods would eventually come out of the other end.

MEANING: If a man purifies himself by taking a dip in Waheguru's Naam-pool, he is rewarded with a million times the reward of the so-called noble deed of donations to Brahmans at the time of eclipses. MEANING: Those individuals who are addicted to enjoying the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss, get stitched to (connected with) the lotus-like soft Feet of Waheguru (His Naam) through their worship with deep love. Pause.
Without Waheguru's Naam, the world is fruitless (one does not gain anything in spirituality); all other enjoyments are worthless like dirt. 1. (However, one cannot develop love for Waheguru with one's own efforts). Waheguru Himself pulls individuals out of the deep, dark well of Maya with His kindness. (Ordinarily, the man is so engrossed in Maya that he becomes blind to Waheguru). An individual who sings Waheguru's virtues sees His amazing grandeur. 2. Waheguru is present everywhere – in the forests, in the vegetation, in the entire universe - and the kind Waheguru is always with you in His entire expanse (no matter where you go). 3. Only those words in Waheguru's praise are supreme which are acceptable to Him, oh Nanak. 4.94.163.

humiliation. In this Shabad, Guru Arjun Sahib highlights the magnificence of Waheguru and the victory of Truth against evil.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself proved the litany of the complaints (against Guru Amar Dass Ji) to be completely false, and the sinner Khatri suffered humiliation. 1. Even the Angel of Death does not come near the devotee whom Waheguru supports. Pause.

Pause. The wisdom of selfishness and ego is greasy filth on one's soul, which is scrubbed off to purify it by the dust of the feet of the Guru (by His advice). 1. If a man takes a dip in countless holy waters to wash off sins from his body, he cannot cleanse his body of that filth with those waters. 2.

NOTE: Hargobind Ji (later the Sixth Guru), the only child of Guru Arjun Dev Ji, was born in 1595 when the area between Amritsar and Lahore was under serious attack of smallpox - a deadly disease. Guru Arjun Dev Ji was touring that area to provide physical and moral support to the suffering humanity. Guru Ji had to keep Hargobind Ji with Him for safety reasons, as child Hargobind Ji's life was under threat from Guru Sahib's elder brother, Pirthi Chand. Hargobind Ji also suffered a severe attack of the deadly disease. In those days, the general masses believed strongly that every disease had a god or goddess behind it. It was believed that the goddess Seetla controlled smallpox, and that a patient would survive only if the goddess was pleased by performing certain rituals. A large number of sympathizers, especially women, advised Guru Sahib to perform the prevalent rituals to save Hargobind Ji's life. But, how could Guru Arjun Dev Ji, a manifestation of Guru Nanak, and hence of Waheguru, believe in such a baseless belief!! So, He never agreed. When the child Hargobind recovered fully, Guru Sahib thanked Waheguru and, to instil love and faith in Waheguru in the minds of the masses, He wrote many holy Shabads, which are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib. This is one of those Shabads.

People would invite them to dinner on occasions of happiness or sadness, including births, deaths, marriages, engagements, buying property, and so on. Not only would the Brahmans enjoy a rich feast, but they were also offered money to their satisfaction. If the guest Brahman was unhappy with the money, he would threaten the host with a curse. Many a time the poor family could not afford to satisfy the monetary hunger of the Brahman, but the latter would be totally merciless with his demands, which was like murdering the host. Guru Sahiban have written many holy Shabads to condemn this evil behaviour of the Brahmans. This is just one of those Shabads.
