Waheguru helps His devotees, who then enjoy bliss by taking shelter of the supreme devotees of Waheguru (who are already connected with Him). NOTE: Ruhoa is a kind of lyric which is sung mainly by women in a long tune in which the main sentence is repeated again and again. Such lyrics are sung at weddings or in temples. Baiyraagun(i) is another subcategory of Raag Gaurri.

MEANING: Is there someone around who sings praise of the dear Waheguru? (There is rarely someone who does it). Such an individual lives in comfort and enjoys bliss as he gets connected with Waheguru. Pause. (Some people want to be detached from the world, and so leave home), and go to the forests searching for Waheguru. But a rare person meditates on His Naam and connects with Waheguru. They are highly fortunate people who are absorbed in the love of Waheguru. 1. Brahma, and other gods like him, and Sunuk (Brahma's son) and others like him, long for Waheguru, and so do the yogis, celibates and Sidhs who wish union with Waheguru; but only that lucky individual sings Waheguru's praise who has this special gift in his fortune. 2. Fortunate are the people who are connected to Waheguru through the Guru. Such lucky people never go through the birth-death cycle. I seek the shelter (blessings) of those who never forget Waheguru. 3.
Kindly connect me with You, oh my dear Waheguru. I, Nanak(u), beg the support of Your Naam; please, listen to my request, oh, the unreachable Waheguru. 4.1.117.

Boojhaayee = put out (the fire causing heart burning). 4.

MEANING: What virtuous qualities enable one to connect with the Master of my life, Waheguru, oh my mother? Pause. (Let alone any virtues) I do not even have physical beauty, and I am without any wisdom or power. I have covered a long way (have acquired the human form after having gone through many other life forms) to come to You; and I am a stranger here (do not know the customs of this place), (please be kind to me, oh Waheguru). 1. I have no wealth (to be conceited of), and I am not intoxicated with my youthfulness either; I am an orphan (without any support), please provide shelter to me. 2. Searching for You, I have become love-sick for You, and wandering around thirsty (of Your love) looking for You, oh Waheguru. 3. Waheguru is very kind, who connected me with the Guru (holy congregation) where all the fire of my desires has been put out (whereby I got connected with Him), oh Nanak. 4.1.118.

MEANING: My mind is full of love for Waheguru, and I have a strong desire to meet (connect) with Him. If I am lucky enough to get connected with a holy saint, I will drop to his feet and beg him to connect me with Waheguru. Pause.

Completely detached from the world, I am always looking for someone who will describe Waheguru's kindness and virtues to me. I will place all my wealth before him, and offer my mind (for enlightening me); I will completely give up my own wisdom. 1. With great luck, when the seeds of my (noble) deeds of previous lives sprouted, I was connected to Waheguru, who, even though (being present in all living beings) enjoys all the sweet tastes of the world, is still detached from it. All the darkness of my mind (ignorance) was cleared, and I felt as if I had awoken from a deep slumber of many, many lives, oh Nanak. 2.2.119.

Word Meaning: Nickus(u) = get out. Punkhee = bird; man. Paankh = wings. Guhou = hold; take. Ruttan = stone-like precious Naam. Sung(i) = with. Pause.
Deena Naath = Lord of the poor (weak). Kur(u) = hand. Geh(i) = hold. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Raas(i) = wealth; property. 2.

MEANING: Come out of your shell, oh man, and recite Waheguru's Naam to enjoy the high spirits just like a bird which comes out of its nest and spreads its wings to enjoy the beauty of the high sky. Get connected with the Guru, and seek His shelter to implant the Perfect Waheguru's precious Naam in your heart, and hold it there tightly. Pause. The bond of attachment (with worldly things) is very strong, which spawns huge misgivings (that everything is going to be mine forever). The pit of such misgivings is very deep, and the mud of the sweetness of desires is very sticky; it is very difficult for the man to get out of these attractions. Only Waheguru, who is the Guru of the universe, can cut these bonds; so, enshrine His lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in your heart, oh man. 1. Please, be kind, my darling Waheguru, and listen to my request, oh, the Guardian of the weak and the poor. My life, and my body, are Your property (are given by You), oh my Lord. So, hold me by the hand, and pull me out of the pit of worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 2.3.120.

Word Meaning: Paykhun = to see. Simrut = remembers. Aas Piyaasi = thirsty in hope. Chitvoun = think of. Nayra = from close. Pause.
Daas Daasun = slave of slaves. Anik Bhaant(i) = in many different ways. Nihora = to lay a sweet claim. Tooladhaar(i) = using weigh scale (of mind). Ders = holy sight. Thora = less. 1.
Goon Saagur = sea (source) of comforts. Buhora = turned around (brought back the lost item). Bhaytut = on meeting (getting connected). Kirtaaruth(u) = successful = Suful(u). Suvayra = timely. 2.

MEANING: My mind remembers Waheguru day and night, seeking His sight. I am thirsty for Waheguru's sight, and thinking of (some way) to get connected with some holy saint who would show me Waheguru from close. Pause.
I will serve such a holy saint in a variety of ways as if I am a slave of his slaves, and will sweetly claim him as my own (close relative), as if it is his responsibility to connect me with Waheguru soon. I weighed all the comforts of the world on the scale of my mind against union with Waheguru, and found out that all comforts are insignificant in comparison with the union with Waheguru. 1.

By singing praise of the sea (source) of all virtues, Waheguru, and with the grace of the Guru, I have been able to change the direction of going into the cycle of rebirths for many lives (I will no longer get caught in that cycle). By connecting with Waheguru, I was able to achieve the objective of my life in a timely fashion, and acquired all the comforts and the bliss, oh Nanak. 2.4.121.

Word Meaning: Kin Bidh(i) = in what way? how? Goosaayeen = Lord of the earth (God). Sehj Sookhdaata = the provider of the comfort of a peaceful mind. Pause. Alukh = the invisible (Waheguru). Lukhiya = be seen. Moh(i) = attachment. Bherm = misbelief (that Maya is the source of all comforts). Kiyoun = how? 1.
Aika = the same. Ikutt Greh(i) = the same house (human mind). Aik Bust = Waheguru's Naam. Punch = the five senses. Doohaylay = uncomfortable. Agoachur Tthaayeen = the unreachable place. 2. Greh(i) = home. Taala = lock. Koonji = key. Saunpaayee. = in the responsibility of. Anik oopaav = many different ways (approaches). 3. Bundhun = bonds. Liv Laayee = focused on. Punch Juna = the five senses; the supreme devotees. Mungul Gaaya = sang the song of joyfulness. 4. In Bidh(i) = this way. Bhuyya = happened. Bherm = misbelief. Khin = moment. Jot(i) = light (soul) of Waheguru. Smaayee = merged in.

MEANING: How can I connect with the Lord of the earth, oh Your Majesty, Waheguru? I am looking for a holy saint who can guide me on the path that leads to union with the source of comfort and bliss - Waheguru. Pause. The invisible Waheguru resides in everybody's heart, but cannot be seen (realized) because there is a curtain of haumein (selfishness and ego) between the human mind and Waheguru. The whole world is asleep (engrossed in Maya to the extent of oblivion, which the man believes to possess forever); how can such serious misgivings be cleared? 1.

Waheguru and the human mind reside in the same house (the human body), yet they do not communicate with each other (the human mind does not realize Waheguru's presence in the body). Without Waheguru's Naam, the five human senses suffer as they are always dissatisfied due to the inaccessibility of the desired precious item (Waheguru). 2. Waheguru, who is the owner of the human body as His dwelling, has locked Himself out in the human mind and has given the key to the Guru. Only the Guru has the power to open the lock (to connect the human mind with Waheguru). So, no matter how many different ways the man tries to access Waheguru, he cannot do it until he takes Guru's shelter.
But those whose bonds with Maya have been severed by the Guru concentrate their minds on Waheguru in the company of the holy congregation (and get connected with Him). When that happens, the five senses feel contented and sing the song of happiness, rejoicing in the merger of the human soul with Waheguru. 3.
That is the way to get connected with Waheguru, oh my Lord. At that point, all the individual's misgivings are cleared in an instant, his soul merges with the Supreme Soul (of Waheguru), and he feels bliss. Second Pause. 1.122.

Kunik = gold. Anik Bhaant(i) Saaji = designed in a variety of ways. Ruchaayo = created. Khoyee = removed. Tutaiy Tut Milaayo = united the human soul with the Supreme Soul. 4.

MEANING: I made such an affectionate bond with Waheguru that He kindly connected me with Satguru. Pause. Satguru instilled such a faith in me about You, that I see You everywhere, oh Waheguru. Why should I pray to someone else when You listen to my prayers? 1. The Guru has severed all my bonds with Maya, and all my misgivings have been cleared. Now, I am enjoying the comfort of blissfulness. (Satguru has convinced me) that whatever has to happen (according to Waheguru's Will) will take place (regardless of whether you worry about that or not). One experiences no comfort or grief without His Will. 2.

The Guru has removed the curtain of haumein from within me and shown that the human soul and Waheguru reside in the same place (the human heart or mind). Since the source of all the nine treasures (Waheguru) resides in one's heart, where else would he go (outside his heart) looking for Him? 3. Just as gold is designed in many different shapes and sizes (but the gold is the same), the Satguru has cleared all my doubts and explained that the human soul is a part of the same Supreme Soul (Waheguru), and has caused the two to merge into each other, oh Nanak. 4.2.123.

MEANING: Life is getting shorter with every day and night; so, achieve the real objective of life (union with God) in the shelter of the Guru, oh my friend. Pause.

I am making a request to you, so listen carefully, oh, my friend. Human life is an opportunity to serve the Guru; earn the reward of serving the Guru in this life so that your life in the next world (after death) becomes comfortable. 1.
This world is like a sea which is full of attractive sensual enjoyments, and the misguided and ignorant human beings are drowning in this sea. Only devotees with a deep connection to Waheguru swim across this sea successfully. But only those devotees sing praise of the indescribable Waheguru, who have been awakened (enlightened) by Him, and given the sweet taste of His Naam. 2.
Deal in Waheguru's Naam, and embed it in your mind in the shelter of the Guru; this is the objective of human life for which you have been given it (the human life), oh my friend. Enjoy the bliss (of Naam) in your own heart, and you will not be reborn. 3.
Kindly fulfil my (Nanak's) wish to serve the holy saints, and to be humble like the dust of their feet, oh, the omniscient, and the carver of our fate, Waheguru. 4.3.124.

There are five troublesome demons to attack me, and I alone am helpless against them; so, protect me, oh, my Guard, Waheguru. They cause trouble and torment me, so I have come to Your refuge. 1. MEANING: Waheguru is the immortal King (who rules the universe). He is fearless and resides in your heart (so, you should be fearless as well), so where has this (worldly) fear come from to torture you (you should have no fear), oh my mind? Pause. Waheguru resides in every heart (and everyone should have similar qualities), yet some hearts (humans) are inflated with ego, while others are humble and powerless. Some hearts (humans) have full control over their minds (are independent and do not even acknowledge others), while others are weak and completely dependent. 1. Although Waheguru is present in every heart (person), some hearts (humans) are knowledgeable and are good orators, while others are idiots (no intelligence). Some humans accept (grab) everything they can lay their hands on (even if they have to rob people), while others do not accept anything that is not theirs. 2. Actually, we, the human beings, are not free to choose our own traits; we are more like puppets which are controlled by their operator, and they perform in whatever way the operator operates them, and they wear the make-up that the entertainer puts on them. 3. Like an operator, Waheguru has created countless bodies of different living beings (humans, animals, birds, sea life and so on), and protects them all. The living beings have no right to choose the type of animal they want to be; the helpless living beings have to live in whatever way Waheguru creates them. 4. Only the Creator knows about His creation, which has been created in a variety of ways. Only the infinite Lord knows the worth of His tasks, oh Nanak. 5.5.126.

MEANING: Quit enjoying the sweet tastes of the poisonous Maya, oh my friend. You are entangled in (attracted to) Maya just like cattle are attracted to green crops, oh foolish and unrefined man! Pause. The Maya, which you think will serve you, does not accompany you even for a very short distance. You came naked into this world, and will leave the world naked. You are in the jaws of death and will have to go through the cycle of rebirths. 1. You feel very happy to watch (enjoy) the amazing drama of, and are fully engrossed in, Maya, which looks very attractive like the beautiful pink flower of ksoombh which lasts for a short while only. The thread of your life is becoming weaker and weaker by day and night, but you have not even achieved a fraction of the real objective of life (union with Waheguru), oh man. 2. You have reached your old age working the same way (involving Maya) every day, and have exhausted yourself with hollow logic (defending your actions). Your body has grown weak, yet you have been so captivated by the attractive Maya that your interest in her has not faded a bit. 3. When the Guru showed me this reality of the world (and I realized the real purpose of life), I gave up all my ego and took His shelter (guidance). The Guru showed me that the path to connect with Waheguru is to sing His praise repeatedly (all the time). So, I, Nanak, sing His praise with love now. 4.6.127.

I cannot describe all Your different forms and Your amazing feats, oh Waheguru. You are the source of all the virtues and of all the comforts. You are unreachable, incomprehensible, and eternal, oh Waheguru; but I have recognized You (learnt about You and made a connection with You) with the grace of the Guru. 2.
The holy sight of the Guru (His holy company) has removed all my misgivings (doubts) and fears, and eradicated my selfishness and ego. As a result of all that, I am fully detached from the world now. Also, all my fears (doubts) about life and death have been cleared (death does not scare me anymore). 3.
I wish to sacrifice my life millions of times for my Guru, and to wash His feet and serve Him (like a slave). I am one with my Guru (and Waheguru) by whose grace I have swum across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 4.17.128.

Jun = devotees. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Sehj = peace of mind (controlled mind). Anund = joy; bliss. Sumsur(i) = equal. Uver Na = onbody else. Daatay = donors. 1.
Jugut oodhaarun = salvation of the world. Ders Piyaasa = thirst of Waheguru's sight. Turiya = swam across the world-sea; salvaged. Poorun = fulfilled. 2.
Nihaala = blessed. Rayn(u) = dust (of the devotees' feet). Prubhoo = God. 3.
Jobun = youthfulness. Uvdh = life. Joog Meh(i) = in the world. Ghaatiya = decreasing; on the decline. Nidhaan = treasure. Nuvtun = fresh. Nirmul = pure. Dhun = wealth. Khaatiya = earned. 4.

MEANING: I offer my life to those who make Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life. Pause. How can we measure the spiritual greatness of the devotees who are fully imbued in Waheguru's love? There is mental peace, blissfulness, and comfort in their company; there is no other donor (guide in spirituality) like them. 1.
Such holy devotees, who themselves have the thirst (longing) to "see" Waheguru, come to the world to salvage it (save it from vices). Whoever surrenders to them has his wishes fulfilled and swims across the sea of Maya in their company. 2.
I feel spiritually alive and blissful when I come to their shelter. I pray to God that with His kindness, I become the dust of their feet (serve them humbly). 3.
Every visible thing, including reign (of some state), youthfulness, and life, is on the decline (is perishable). Only Waheguru's Naam is such a treasure, always fresh and pure. That is the wealth which I have earned, oh Nanak. 4.10.131

Word Meaning: Joag = union (with Waheguru). Joogut(i) = means. Shabad(I) Boojhaayo = Advised to explain. Pause.

Nuoun Khund Prithmi = all the nine divisions of the earth. Ruvviya = present. Nimukh, Nimukh = every moment. Numuskaara = bow to Him. Deekhiya = advice. Moondraan = earrings. Drirriyo = reinforced. Nirunkaara = formless Waheguru. 1. Punch Chaylay = the five disciples (five senses). Ikuttra = came together (became calm). Aikus = pure mind; high moral thinking. Vus(i) = in the control. Dus = the ten (five senses and five actions using the senses). Baiyraagun(i) = turned off from pleasures. 2. Bherm = misgivings. Churhaayee Bibhoota = covered the body with ash. Punth(u) = faith. Aik(u) = One God. Paykhiya = saw. Sehj = controlled mind. Bhoogta = the sweets distributed to the congregation. Mustuk(i) Laykhiya = destiny. 3. Aasun(u) = place to rest (for the mind). Baandhiyo = built; raised (the mind). Singi = bugle (trumpet). Unhut Bani = Guru's Shabad that raises one's spiritual level where the Divine music is believed to be heard. Tut = the root; the origin (Waheguru). Dunda = baton of the yogis. Joogut(i) = customs (daily routine of yogis). Bhaani = liked; favourite. 4. Vudbgaageen = with great luck. Bhaytaiy = meets; one connects with. Moorut(i) = image; personality. Pug = feet. Chaatay = lick. 5.

NOTE: As discussed earlier, too, the yogis, who renounce the world and go from door to door to beg for food and other necessities of life, believe that theirs is the best way to achieve union with Waheguru (which never happens, as their real aim is to acquire some supernatural powers through concentration). They cover their bodies with ash, wear big glass earrings, hold a baton in their hand, and blow a bugle (trumpet) to show their presence, and observe some other customs.

In this Shabad, Guru Arjun Dev Ji explains the true path to have union with God.

MEANING: I came to the Guru's shelter to learn the true path to connect with Waheguru. Satguru explained to me that Satguru's Shabad (to sing Waheguru's praise) is the only way to connect with Him. Pause. Satguru explained to me that Waheguru, which is present in all the nine regions of the earth, is also present in me (every human being), and we must bow to Him (obey His Will) each and every moment. And rather than wearing rings in the ears, one should wear Guru's advice in the ears (listen to it), and reinforce only the Naam of the single Supreme Being, which has no physical form. 1. (With Waheguru's Naam at heart) All five human senses calm down and come under the control of the pure mind (with high moral thinking). At the same time, all five senses, and the five feelings based on them, get turned off from sensual pleasures and become obedient (compliant). This is how your mind becomes pure, oh yogi. 2. The ash that the yogis use to cover their bodies should be produced from burning the misgivings (eradicating them), and to see only the "One" (Waheguru) everywhere should be the path of the faith to follow. Rather than distributing some sweet stuff among the congregation, the yogis should distribute the comfort of peace of mind (the high spiritual state). This is the lifestyle, written by the Lord as a requirement for connecting with Him. 3.

The real devotee of Waheguru concentrates on Waheguru's Naam to build (attain) that state of mind where there is no fear; and rather than listening to the music of the trumpet of the yogis, the true devotee of Waheguru focuses on the Guru's Shabad to hear the auto-playing Divine music which the yogis believe to hear in their meditation. The true devotee ponders on Waheguru and uses it as a baton to keep vices at bay. He believes in Waheguru's Naam as his only means to connect with Waheguru. 4.
One connects with such a yogi (a true devotee of Waheguru) with great fortune who can cut the bonds of Maya. I would love to lick the feet (be his slave) of such a noble personality, and serve him, worship him, oh Nanak. 5.11.132.

MEANING: Listen to Waheguru's Naam, which has nothing similar to be compared against in terms of its spiritual value, and recite it, oh, all my friends. The individuals who have been given the Guru's Naam as the panacea for all illnesses have their minds purified. Pause. Guru's Shabad lights up as a lamp in the minds of such individuals, and all the darkness of their minds (ignorance) disappears. Those who develop full faith in the company of the Guru have their misgivings dispelled. 1.
When one gets connected with the Guru who is imbued in Waheguru's love, all his wishes are fulfilled, and he swims across the deep and the tough world-sea in the company of the Guru, which serves as the ship. 2. The dedicated devotees acquire the treasure of Waheguru's Naam by which their minds and bodies are fully contented. However, only those lucky people are able to acquire the treasure of Naam who obey Waheguru's Huqam with His grace, oh Nanak. 3.12.133.

MEANING: Please, be compassionate and kind to me, oh, the Lord of my life, Waheguru; I am an orphan (without any support), and have come to Your shelter. Please, protect me from the dark, deep well of Maya; I cannot fend for myself (from the attacks of Maya) with my own wisdom or logical assertion. Pause.

Everything that happens in the world is either done by You, or You make living beings do that, and there in none else capable like You. Only You know the height of Your capability (spirituality) and Your measurements (the worth of Your noble qualities). Human beings can only be Your devotees – and only those who have good fortune on their foreheads. 1. Waheguru is closely knit with His devotees like the cross threads in fabric. The devotees recite His Naam, calling Him "Dear," and long for His holy sight the way a Greek partridge sets its sight on the moon because of its love for it (the moon). 2. There is no difference between Waheguru and His devotees; however, there is only one such devotee among millions. The individual, in whose heart Waheguru appears, sings His praise and recites His Naam with the tongue all the time. 3. Oh, the omnipotent, limitless, transcendental, source of all comforts, and the Lord of my life, Waheguru, please be kind to me – Nanak - and keep me in the company of the holy saints. 4.13.134.

The Satguru has enlightened my mind with Divine Knowledge, due to which all the darkness has disappeared. I drank the Amrit of Naam whereby my mind is fully contented, and has become fearless (there is no fear of any discomfort or loss of anything). 2.

By obeying the Huqam (Advice) of the Guru, I have been able to get the house (source) of all discomforts demolished, and now I am enjoying all comforts. When the Lord became overly pleased with me, He showed me His presence everywhere. 3.

It also became clear to me that nothing comes or nothing goes (the soul is immortal); life and death are just a drama of Waheguru. Waheguru is higher and higher (beyond our reach), but His Naam alone is the support for His devotees. 4.15.136.

Get rid of the wisdom (thinking) of your mind, oh, the devotee of Waheguru. You acquire (enjoy) all comforts when you understand (obey) Waheguru's Will. Accept the Will of Waheguru with the faith that whatever He does is for your wellbeing, and remember Him in every situation - whether it is a happy or a sad occasion. 1.
Waheguru purifies millions of the immoral in a moment, with absolutely no delay. Waheguru is the destroyer of the pain (troubles) and the discomforts of the weak (humble), and bestows dignity on those whom He likes. 2.
He raises and nourishes everyone like a parent, and is the source of life and comfort. There is never a shortage in the largess of the Creator, and His treasures of wealth of all kinds are always full to capacity. 3. This beggar (Nanak) begs for the Naam of the Lord, which is present in every heart, and this slave has come to the shelter of the Lord, which nobody is deprived of, oh Nanak. 4.16.137.

NOTE: This is the first Shabad in Raag(u) Gaurri Poorbi; hence, there is Mool Muntar and a slight change in the numbering sequence.

MEANING: Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts in this world and the next, and which nourishes and looks after all living beings, should never be dropped from mind (forgotten), oh my friend. Pause. Waheguru destroys huge troubles in a moment for the individual who recites His Naam by the tongue. He puts out the fire (of the desires for Maya), and provides calmness and peace of mind to the individuals who take His shelter. 1. Waheguru ferries across the sea of Maya (salvages) and protects from the hell of the womb (the individual does not go through many, many life forms). Whoever remembers Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in mind, has his fear of the Angel of death eradicated. 2.
The omnipresent Waheguru is very high (transcendental), is unreachable, and is limitless. An individual who recites His Naam and sings praise of the source of all comforts (wins the game of life) and does not lose it in gambling. (One gambles when he hopes to win wealth against the real objective of life – union with Waheguru). 3.
My mind is possessed by lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, oh, the fulfiller of all my needs, Waheguru. Please be kind, and grant me (Nanak) Your Naam; I am always glad to offer my life to You. 4.1.138.

Moh(i) = attachment. Mohiya = fascinated; overcome. Hudoor(i) = in attendance (present); close by. 4.
MEANING: There is no comfort (peace of mind) without the worship of Waheguru, oh, my mind. If you recite Waheguru's Naam (with full devotion) in the company of the Guru (or holy congregation) even for a moment, you can win this life (achieve the objective of human life), which is priceless like a precious ruby (because one does not get human life easily). Pause. Countless people, who enjoyed the luxuries of life, including wealth, sources of entertainment, and the love of their sons and their wives, left this world without any of those. 1. The foolish person, who owned and enjoyed superior horses and elephants, reigned over a large state and had sources of fun and entertainment, leaves this world naked (empty-handed). 2.
The body, which was beautified with the essence of roses and sandalwood, and which swelled up with ego, is degraded (humiliated) to dust. 3.
Captivated by Maya (overcome by attachment with the mortal), the foolish man thinks of Waheguru as being far, far away; but He is always near us, oh Nanak. 4.1.139

The violent (nonpeaceful) world spreads darkness of ignorance (and strengthens the bonds of Maya); but the Divine Knowledge of the Guru is the lamp that dispels the darkness, and causes brightness for the people to realize (that Maya is short-lived). 1. The poison of Maya is spread very densely in the world; only those individuals (break the bonds of Maya and) find salvation, who recite the Naam of Waheguru which is the treasure of virtues. 2. The (ignorant) man is deep asleep (unaware of reality) in the intoxication of Maya, but all his misgivings and fears are dispelled when he gets connected with the Guru. 3. MEANING: You are my only support, oh Waheguru; and seeking Guru's shelter is the service to You. Pause. I tried many different ways to connect with You, but failed; however, the Guru accepted me as His personal attendant (devotee of Waheguru) (and advised me to keep You in mind all the time), oh Waheguru. 1. With Guru's grace, I was able to overpower the army of the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego) and destroy it (the army of demons). 2.

I received Your Naam from the Guru as a token of gratuity, and now I am enjoying the comfort and bliss of a peaceful and restful mind (my mind is wandering no more). 3. Those who serve Waheguru are noble (are recognized by Waheguru) and their faces gleam (they are honoured) in His Court. 4.3.141.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is your only support, oh my mind. There is a fear of the Angel of Death (that we will be reborn again and again) in everything else that we do or have done by others. Pause. We recite Waheguru's Naam only if we have great fortune; there is no other way to worship Him, no matter how much effort we put in. 1. We may be very smart and may argue cleverly, but none of such abilities is successful (not even to the extent of the size of a sesame seed) in Waheguru's Court. 2. You are the reign (ruler), youthfulness, and wealth for Your devotees (they get all these comforts when they connect with You), oh, Waheguru. You are formless (have no physical traits and therefore invisible), but, being present everywhere in nature, You are also visible (the entire universe is Your manifestation), oh Waheguru. 2.

The devotees of Waheguru are not born again whereas other people are born again, and again, and go through the 8.4 million life forms (as per the Hindu belief). 3. MEANING: Reciting Waheguru's Naam with the tongue provides a great deal of comfort and blissfulness in this world, and is greatly helpful in the next world (Waheguru's Court), oh my brother. Pause. An individual who obeys the Guru's advice by heart (with dedication) has all the nine treasures and all supernatural powers in the palm of his hand (they are all his slaves). 1 An individual who believes in (makes a connection with) Waheguru as the source of everything never experiences a shortage of anything. 2.
An individual who recognizes Waheguru as the basis of all life enjoys every comfort of life. 3. All discomforts disappear in the company of the individual who has the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, oh Nanak. 4. 9.147.

He has a deep attachment to Maya, which the Vedas and the holy saints strongly forbid. The sensual pleasures overpower him, and have full control over him, as a result of which, he is losing the purpose of life, just like a gambler who loses in gambling. 1. Waheguru, who takes away life (or others' necessities of life) and then gives back again, is perfect in every which way, but the man is devoid of the love for His lotus-like soft Feet (for Him). I am sheltered in the shelter of the Guru with whom I was connected by the source of benevolence, Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.10.148.

The ignorant man wishes for something (Maya) which is not there all the time. Ignorance (because of the attachment with Maya) is like a dark and black night; is there a way to get rid of this darkness so as to have the day-like brightness of knowledge? 1. I am exhausted searching for different ways to overcome the attraction for Maya (but was unsuccessful). Now, the kind Waheguru has connected me with the holy congregation, which is the treasure of treatments for me to overcome my (disease of) attachment for Maya, oh Nanak. 2.12.150.

Juou = when. Naayay = Naam. Mookut(u) = free. Bundhun = bonds. 4.
MEANING: Comfort lies in the shelter of Waheguru, oh my mind. The day on which Waheguru, which is the source of life and all comfort, is forgotten, goes completely to waste. Pause. You are here (on the earth) as a visitor for a very short time, yet you build hopes and wishes as if you were going to stay here for eons, oh man. The house, the mansion, and the wealth you see are like the shade of a tree (which keeps changing direction and vanishes at sunset). 1. You believe that your body, wealth, orchards, estate, and other properties are yours, but forget the Waheguru who has given you everything. You do not realize that all these things become foreign (strange) to you in a moment (at your death), oh man. 2. The man is narcissistic, who washes his body, wears clean clothes, and sprays perfumes (essences of roses and sandalwood) to look attractive. But all adornments are like the bath of an elephant (who sprays dust on his body right after the bath) because the man does not recognize (makes no connection with) the fearless and the formless Waheguru, (and without love for Him), the face of the man is coated with the dirt (filth) of Maya. 3.

When Waheguru is kind, He connects you with Satguru (who reinforces Waheguru's Naam in you) whereby you feel blissful because all comforts are there in Waheguru's Naam, oh man. Satguru has loosened all my bonds with Maya, and by singing Waheguru's praise, I am now completely free (from the bonds of Maya), oh Nanak. 4.14.152.

Word Meaning: Ruttan Junum = priceless human life. Suful(u) = successful (union with Waheguru). Bulhuriyaiy = offer life for sacrifice (service). Pause.
Graas = bites (of food). Mut(i) = advice; wisdom. Boodh(i) = intelligence. 1.
Jum Bundh = shackles of the angel of death. Bunchhut = as per the wish. 2.
Isht = faith; dear. Soot = son. Kerta = the Creator (His Naam). Sung(i) Chaalaiy = accompanies. Paalaiy = in possession; acquire. 3. Dhaari = adopted; became. Binsay = eradicated. Andaysa = doubts. Klaysa = animosity. 4.

MEANING: Remember Guru all the time, oh my mind. The Guru has made my priceless life (which is not easily available) a success. (Has connected me with God). I will gladly offer my life to have a glimpse of the Guru. Pause.
We should sing Waheguru's virtues with every breath and every bite of food, oh my friend. But one acquires this wisdom and intelligence (to recite Waheguru's Naam) only if Satguru is kind to him. 1. One gets freedom from the shackles of the Angel of death (is not reborn), and enjoys the best of all the comforts by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. And by serving the Satguru, who is a manifestation of the provider of all our necessities - the Lord Waheguru - one gets all his wishes and desires fulfilled. 2. Waheguru's Naam is the dearest friend and the son for us as it accompanies us to the next world, oh my mind. But you acquire Waheguru's Naam only from Satguru; so, serve Him. 3.

With Guru's grace and Waheguru's kindness, all my doubts have been cleared, and all the animosity and hostility towards others have been eradicated by singing Waheguru's praise. Now, I am enjoying all comforts, oh Nanak. 4.15.153.

Word Meaning: Trishna = fire of desires; thirst for Maya. Birlay = rare (individual). Boojhi = put out; quenched. Pause. Koat(i) = Laakh Kroaray = millions. Hoaray = stops; contented. Puraiy Puraiy = farther and farther. Loojhi = struggles; suffers. 1. Anik Perkaari = in many different ways. Pur Greh(i) = house of others (other women). Bikaari = lustful. Soojhi = recognize; make a distinction. 2. Bhermut = misled in the journey of life. Bhermaya = captivated by. Goon Nidh(i) = treasure of virtues (Waheguru). Bikhaiy = sensual pleasures. 3. Jeevut Muraiy = dead for (detached from) worldly attachments while living in a family. Sijhi = successful. 4.

MEANING: It is a rare, fortunate individual whose fire for the desires for Maya has been put out (he has been contented). Pause.

People accumulate millions of rupees in wealth, and they are still not content; they struggle (suffer in dissatisfaction) to acquire more and more. 1.

One may have a beautiful wife whom he loves in many ways, yet he remains unsatisfied and always looks to other women. In his lust, he becomes so blind that he cannot recognize the good from the bad. 2. He gets so deeply entangled in the web of Maya that, captivated by it, he is misled in the journey of life, and never sings praise of Waheguru, which is the treasure of all virtues. His mind rather battles (enjoys but feels guilty) the sensual pleasures. 3.

But the devotee, whom Waheguru is kind to, stays detached from Maya while living in the family; he swims across the sea of Maya in the shelter of the Guru. Such a devotee is declared successful in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.1.154.

Word Meaning: Rus(u) = (source of) sweetness (real bliss). Kaahoo = some; somewhere. Joag = detachment from Maya. Bhoag = enjoying Maya. Dhiyaan = concentration; meditation. Dund Dhur(i) = baton-bearing (yogi). 1.

Sometimes animals are sacrificed, followed by a big meal. Naym = principles; customs. Gaun(u) = travelling to different places. 2.
Teer = the bank of a river. Neer = (holy) waters. Priyay = dear. 3.

MEANING: (No matter what people do to achieve happiness), Waheguru's Naam is the only source of real bliss for all. Pause. Some people leave home to become detached from Maya, while others enjoy its pleasures; some meditate, some seek knowledge, while others practise meditation. Some of them are baton-holder yogis. 1. Some people recite mantras (to please some god), some torture themselves physically; some worship some deity of their choice, while some others perform huvuns as per the custom. Yet some others travel the earth in search of peace. 2. Some people reside on river banks (away from the family); some take a dip in holy waters, while some ponder on the Vedas. However, Waheguru is pleased only with His worship, oh Nanak. 3.2.155.

NOTE: It must be clear that Waheguru is NOT conceited so as to be worshipped. The objective of human life is to be united with Him, which is possible only if we have the same qualities as God does (no selfishness, no conceit and no attraction for Maya). Worshipping Waheguru implies obeying His Huqam, which is possible only if we understand what Huqam is. Understanding Huqam comes from remembering Him. That's why His worship is a requirement, not to feed His ego.

MEANING: Singing Waheguru's virtues is the treasure (of wealth) for me. Pause.

Your Naam is tantamount to enjoying different tastes in the world, and the worldly praise for me, oh Waheguru. You are the beauty and the source of all entertainment for me. You are my hope, and my shelter, oh Waheguru. 1.
You are my pride, and the source of all wealth; You are my dignity, and my life. The kind Guru has connected me with Waheguru (I was disconnected before). 2.
You are in the house, and in the forest (for me, where I can sing Your praise); but being present in every heart, You sing Your own praise (You prompt people to sing Your praise) and you listen to it too, because You are closer than being close (as You dwell in every heart), oh Nanak. 3.3.156.

Bhaatthi = kiln; furnace. Poacha = wet cloth used to condense alcohol during distillation. Roocha = focus. Jaato = realized. 2. Sehj Kayl = enjoying the peace of mind. Phayr = rebirth. Mayl = union. Praato = stitched. 3.
NOTE: This holy Shabad seems to have been addressed to the yogis who drink alcohol with the belief that it enhances their concentration during meditation.
MEANING: I am also intoxicated – albeit not with alcohol, but with Waheguru's Naam, oh yogi. Pause. I feel the same effect (as you believe alcohol has on you), and feel similarly intoxicated, but this (heavenly) intoxication has been gifted to me by the Guru in the form of Waheguru's Naam, and I am fully imbued in Waheguru's love. 1. For me, Waheguru's Naam is the kiln to distil alcohol, and also the wet cloth that you use on the pipe carrying vapours of alcohol to condense them. Waheguru is my love and my focus, and my mind is blissful because of His Naam. 2.
Now my mind is stitched with Guru's Shabad, and having been connected with Waheguru, I am enjoying blissfulness. I will no longer be caught in the rebirth cycle, oh Nanak. 3.4.157.

Nanak(u) kuhaiy soon(i) ray muna, kur(i) keertun(u) hohay oodhaar(u). 4.1.158.

NOTE: A new sub-category, Malwa, has started with this holy Shabad, and this is the only Shabad in this category.

Word Meaning: Meeta =friend. Aagaiy = ahead; to the next world. Bikhum = very difficult. Punth = path, journey. Bhaiyaan = frightening. Pause.

Sayvut = serving. Sung(i) = with. Bust(u) = dwells; follows you. Kaal(u) = death. Hoam = Huvan. Jug = serving free meals for some cause. Budhay = increase, boost. Bikaar = vices. Bhoonchna = take in; live with. Avtaar = birth. 2.

Shiv, Braham, Indar Puri = cities (kingdoms) of the respective gods (Hindus believe that the devotees of a particular god go to his city to live with him after death). Nihchul = permanent. Saakut = worshipper of Maya (disconnected from God). 3.

Oodayshiya = advised. Taiyso = the same. Pookaar(i) = aloud; spread (the Message). Keertun = praise of Waheguru. Oodhaar(u) = salvation. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam again and again, oh my friend, because the journey ahead (to the next world) is very difficult and frightening. Pause.

The death follows you all the time, so serve, and always serve, Waheguru (recite His Naam) (to overcome the fear of death and rebirths). Serve the Guru and cut the net (bonds of Maya) so that you do not have to face the Angel of death (and unite directly with Waheguru). 1. The accepted religious rituals, like performing huvun (building holy fire and feeding it with lots of ghee and other costly materials to please the god of fire), serving meals to the top most castes – Brahmans and Khatris - pilgrimage to holy places, and the like, actually boost the ego of the devotees who then indulge in more vices. They are born again and again and have to live through hell and paradise (unlike all other religions, Sikhism does not believe in any dedicated places for hell and paradise. They simply imply discomfort and comforts). 2.

(According to Hindu belief, people go to the kingdom of the god they worship after death) But none of such places is permanent for them. There is no complete comfort (bliss) without serving Waheguru, and the money-minded individual (disconnected from God) keeps rebirth after rebirth. 3. I am simply spreading the Word of the Guru exactly the way He revealed it to me. (And His advice to all is) to sing praise of Waheguru so as to find salvation, oh Nanak. 4.1.158

Juou Luou = as long as. Huou = I. Chitvoun = imagine. Tuou Luou = until then. Juou = when. Bhaytiya = met with; connected. Anund = blissful. Sehjay = peaceful mind. 1. Jaytee = as much. Kerm = religious deeds (rituals). Bundh = shackles. Sadhu = Guru. Ker(u) = (His) hand. Mustuk(i) = on (my) forehead. Mookut = free (from the shackles of Maya). Bhuyay = became. 2.
Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Ghayray = surrounds (creates more shackles). Urpeen = offer; surrender. Sehj(i) = in peace. Soyay = slept; became indifferent. 3.
Poat = package (of worldly affairs). Ootthaayee = carrying. Daan = punishment. Daar(i) = throw away. Nirbhay = became fearless. 4.

MEANING: I have realized the mental comfort (blissfulness) with my clean mind, like that of an innocent child. When you connect with the Guru, you acquire that purity of mind and begin to feel the same way (no emotions) in happiness or sadness, in losses, at deaths in the family, in comforts, or in discomforts. Pause.
As long as I think and imagine different things, I am surrounded by troubles. But ever since I got connected with the Guru, I have been enjoying bliss and peace of mind. 1. All those deeds, which I performed with my own wisdom, resulted in more shackles of Maya; but since the Guru placed His kind hand on my forehead (provided His support), I became free from all those bonds. 2.
As long as I believed that everything should belong to me (when I was selfish), the poisonous Maya grasped me; but when I surrendered my mind, my body, and my wisdom to Waheguru, I achieved peace of mind and enjoyed worry-free sleep. 3.
As long as I carried out my worldly affairs (was attached to Maya), I was punished (had to suffer), but, when I got connected with the Guru, I got rid of my worries related to the worldly affairs, and became fearless (no worry of any loss), oh Nanak. 4.1.159.

MEANING: On connecting with the Guru (taking His shelter), I have given up all my likes and dislikes (wishes). By obeying the Will of Waheguru, I am feeling blissful, delighted, and enjoying all the tastes of life. Pause.

I have dropped at the feet of the Guru (surrendered myself to Him), and now respect and disrespect for me are the same to me. In the love of the Lord (Waheguru), now I do not feel overjoyed to see more wealth, or become disheartened in the face of some trouble or difficult situation. 1. Now I see Waheguru alone in dwellings (cities and towns) and in the wilderness. The Guru has dispelled all my misgivings, and seeing the omniscient Waheguru present everywhere, I have become fearless (no worldly fear affects me). 2. By the grace of the holy saints (holy congregations) my ignorant mind, which was asleep (was unaware), has been awakened (enlightened), and I do not complain about any difficult situation which the Creator (Waheguru) puts me in. 3. (With the grace of the Guru), I (Nanak) have sought Your support and have come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. Now, I am enjoying blissfulness and peace of mind, and no trouble or discomfort comes even near me. 4.2.160.

Bhookh = appetite. Trishna = desires. Laathi = came off; went away. Chinta = worries. Bisaari = forgotten. Ker(u) = hand. Mustuk = forehead. Dhuriyo = placed. Jeeto = won over. Jug(u) saari = the whole world. 1.
Triput Aghaayay = fully contented. Rid = heart. Doalun = lose control on mind; wavering of mind. Chookay = ended. Akhoot(u) = inexhaustible. Khujaana = treasure. Toat(i) = shortage. 2. Achurj = amazing; incredible. Boojhaayee = explained; gave understanding. Laah(i) = remove. Purdah = curtain (of misgivings). Bisree = disappeared. Taat(i) = causing burning; jealousy. Praayee = of others. 3. Achumbhou = astonishing. Chaakhiya = tasted; experienced. Sach Bigaasa = Light of Waheguru. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Ridaiy = in the heart. 4.

MEANING: With Satguru's grace, I have realized Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like rubies and other precious stones. Now, I am fully absorbed in Satguru's Shabad and enjoying the peace of body and mind. Pause. All my appetite and desire for Maya are gone, and I have forgotten all worries. The perfect Guru placed His kind hand on my forehead (blessed me), and I have full control over my mind; and it feels as if I have control over the whole world (all my desires and wishes have been fulfilled, and I have no further desires). 1. My mind is fully contented now, and it no longer wavers. Waheguru's Naam is such an inexhaustible treasure of contentment and bliss that the Satguru has bestowed on me, that there is never a shortage of anything, and it never runs out. 2.
Listen to this amazing thing that the Guru has shown me (made me understand), oh my friends. When he removed the curtain of all my misgivings and connected me with Waheguru, I saw His presence everywhere - in each and every living being. Now, everybody seems to be a member of Waheguru's family, and nobody is a stranger to me anymore. So, all my jealousy of others has disappeared. 3.
However, this amazing feat cannot be described; only the lucky individual who has experienced it can understand it. I saw the bright light of Waheguru, and the Guru has implanted this treasure in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.3.161.

Sadh sungut(i) junum mern(u) nivaaraiy, Nanak jun kee dhoora. 4.4.162.

Word Meaning: Oobrut = is salvaged. Raja Ram = Waheguru. Serb Loak = all three worlds – underworld, earth, and the sky. Maya kay Mundul = under the influence of Maya. Gir -----Dherni = drop to the ground (low spiritual level). Pause.
Muha Purkhan = holy saints. Nistaara = salvation; freedom from the bonds of Maya. Na Kinhoon = nobody. Luhhiya = acquired. 1. Teen Bhuvun = earth, underworld, the sky. Lukhmi = wealth. Boojhut = die; end. Lehyray = waves (strong urges for Maya). Thit(i) = contentment; peace of mind. Phirto = runs around. Pehray Pehray = all the time. 2. Bilaas = sensual pleasures. Mun Mohan = mind-captivating. Kaama = lust. Julto = burning (in the fire of desires). Boojhut = die out. Birthay = worthless. 3. Meeta = friend. Ihaiy = this is. Saar = supreme. Nivaaray = remove; eradicate. 4.

MEANING: One can find salvation only in the shelter of Waheguru (by surrendering to Him). All other people from the earth, the underworld, and the sky are so influenced by Maya that they drop to the ground (the lowest level) in spirituality. Pause.
The pundits ponder on the Vedas and the Simritis, but the holy saints advise that nobody can get freedom from the bonds of Maya and enjoy mental peace without reciting Waheguru's Naam. 1. Some people accumulate the wealth of all three layers of the universe (unlimited amounts), but their strong urges for Maya still do not die out. Where (how) can they find contentment and peace of mind? They cannot find peace, and they continue running around all the time (in the pursuit of Maya). 2. They indulge in countless sensual pleasures which captivate their mind, yet their lust is never satisfied. Their burning sensual desires never get satisfied, and all their efforts to find happiness become worthless because it cannot be found without Waheguru's Naam. 3.
The only way to achieve the supreme comfort (blissfulness) is to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh, my friend. One gets rid of the birth-death cycle (and finds the ultimate bliss) only in the company of the Guru (or holy congregation); that's why I seek the dust of the devotees of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.162.

Word Meaning: Bidh(i) = the way (to connect with God). Ko = who. Kerta = (like) Waheguru. Junaavaiy = educate; enlighten. Pause.
Unjaanut = in ignorance. Kmaano = work towards. Saadha = performed. Deh Dis(i) = in all ten directions. Kuvun kerm = (due to) what deeds? 1.
Bhoom(i) = land. Bherm = misgivings. Soojhus(i) Naahi = cannot understand. Paiykhur = shackles. 2. Tub = at that time. Kuchho Na Hoata = had no existence. Jub = when. Nirunjun = unaffected by Maya. Nirunkaar = formless; invisible. 3. Kertub = amazing things. Ruchun Ruchaaya = created (the universe). Bherm(u) = misgivings. Chookaaya = lifted, removed. 4.

MEANING: Only a supreme devotee of Waheguru, who is like Him (is fully connected with Him), can teach me the way to connect with Waheguru. Who else can show me the way (if he himself has not experienced union with Him)? Pause.
Whatever the man does, he does so in ignorance and does not perform even the prevalent rituals (with dedication). He allows his mind to wander in every possible direction; for what accomplishments is the man so tied to Maya? (Only Satguru can enlighten us). 1. The man brags about being the master of his mind, his body, his wealth, and the land, claiming that all those things are his, and he is theirs. Under such false impressions, and because of his worldly attachments, he cannot think right, and his attachments serve as shackles from which he cannot get free. 2.
When the world had not yet been created, and Waheguru was all by Himself to do whatever He wished to do, and when the man had no existence yet, what could he earn at that time? 3. Only the Creator, who has created this world, knows His feats. Satguru has cleared the big misgiving (that man is capable of doing things) and explained that only God is capable of doing everything, oh Nanak. 4.5.163.

Boojhaiy naahi Aik(u) soodhakhur, oh(u) sugli jhaakh jhukhaayiyaiy. 3. Nanak(u) kehto eh(u) beechaara, j(i) kmaavaiy su paargraami. Gur(u) sayvhou ur(u) Naam(u) dhiyavhou, tiyaag-hou munhou goomaani. 4.6.164.

Word Meaning: Uver = others. Kirya = acts; deeds. Birthay = useless. Jup = recitation of some mantras. Tup = self-affliction. Sunjum = efforts to control sensual pleasures. Oaraiy = even before (one's deeds are evaluated in Waheguru's Court). Moosay = stolen; stripped off. Pause. Bert = fasting. Naym = discipline; follow the norms. Aadh(i) = negligible (half of the lowest-valued coin of the time). Aagaiy = next world. Chullun(u) = moral requirements. Aour = different. Oohaan = there. 1. Dherni Bhermta = wandering in the world (to get away from Maya). Tthaur = shelter; support. Bidh(i) = method; approach. Putiyavaiy = win trust. 2. Chatur = four. Mookh Buchnee = by heart. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's residence (connection with Him). Boojhaiy = understand. Soodhakhur = Pure Word (Waheguru). Jhaakh Jhukhaayiyaiy = useless blabbering. 3. Kmaavaiy = works towards (the embedding of Waheguru's Naam in the heart). Paargraami = able to find salvation. Goomaani = conceit; ego. 4.

MEANING: All other deeds than Waheguru's Naam are worthless in the spiritual world. Recitation of any mantras, and self-affliction (to please some deity), or the efforts to control sensual feelings, are stripped off the man before he is presented before Waheguru after death. Pause. (Without Waheguru's Naam) The man may perform prevalent rituals like fasting, follow other norms (such as pilgrimage, donations to Brahmans, etc.), or try to control his sensual pleasures, but such deeds carry no value in spirituality. The moral requirements are different in the next world (in Waheguru's Court), and the ritualistic deeds do no work there. 1.

An individual who takes dips in the so-called holy waters or wanders on the earth (with the false belief that one gets detached from Maya) finds no support in the next world. He may be able to win the trust of some people here (as a religious person), but such approaches carry no weight there (do not convince Waheguru). 2.

A pundit may recite all four Vedas by heart, but he does not get access to Waheguru's Residence (get connected with Waheguru). All his utterings are worthless blabbering because he does not understand the importance of the holy Word (Waheguru's Naam). 3. Nanak espouses the thought that an individual finds salvation only by working hard to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart. (And the way to do so) is to serve the Guru, recite Waheguru's Naam, and get rid of one's ego. 4.6.164.

Word Meaning: Maadhou = (the husband of Maya) Waheguru. Raakhou = keep. Pause. K(i) = what? Kernaiyhaara = capable of doing. Bichaaray = powerless. 1. Serb Kay Daatay = provider for all. Aik Roop = one form (One Waheguru). Liv = focus with deep concentration. 2.

MEANING: We are incapable of doing anything, oh my Lord. We have to live the way You provide for us. We should only recite Your Naam by the tongue. Pause. What can the poor and the powerless man do? What is he capable of doing, and what does he have control over? (The answer to all these questions is: nothing. You are the omnipotent and omnipresent, oh Waheguru, and the man does exactly the same as You make him do. 1. Please, be kind and motivate me to concentrate only on You, oh, the provider for all, Waheguru. My (Nanak's) request to You is that You make me worship Your Naam; oh Waheguru. 2.7.165.

MEANING: Oh, the kind to the weak, and Royal Waheguru, You have made millions of devotees, and put them to Your service (to recite Your Naam). You are present everywhere, and to love Your devotees is Your attribute from eternity. 1.

What noble deeds do I need to perform by which I may have a glimpse of You? I will serve Your holy saint like a slave, will bow to him again and again, and touch his feet. I will offer my life to the saint who will guide me to connect with You. 2.

The pundit searches for You in the Vedas and other religious texts; others wish to be detached from Maya and leave home to take dips in holy places, seeking You. Yet some others use lyrics and music to sing praise of some deity, but I recite the Naam of the worry-free Waheguru. 3. My Lord became kind to me (and connected me with the Guru). I had become immoral, but the Guru purified me when I dropped on His feet (surrendered to Him). The Guru fulfilled my wish and dispelled all my misgivings and my worries, and freed me from any enmity. 4.

The individual who embeds Waheguru Naam in his heart is wealthy in the real sense, and the individual who recites Waheguru's Naam earns real praise. An individual who is in the shelter of the Guru performs only noble deeds. I, a devotee of Waheguru, am enjoying the state of blissfulness, oh Nanak. 5.1.166.

You are present everywhere – in the forests, in all vegetation, and in the entire universe. I feel supreme bliss in Your company (shelter), oh, Waheguru. (With You in my heart) I feel my bed (sleep) to be very comforting, and my mind begins to bloom. All these comforts are acquired (associated with) when I have a glimpse of You. 2. I wish to wash Your Feet, and serve You all the time. I wish to worship You, offer my respects, and bow to You to say my prayer, oh my God, Waheguru. I wish to serve you like a slave of Your slaves, and recite Your Naam. And I wish to pray only to You for my needs. 3. Now, my wish has been fulfilled, and my mind has come to life, and all my troubles are gone on "seeing" the Lord, Waheguru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, I have swum across the sea of Maya. However, not everybody has the ability (to attain that spiritual level) where such a supreme bliss can be borne, oh Nanak. 4.2.167.
NOTE: While working towards a high spiritual level, people acquire some supernatural powers through concentration. Most people cannot contain themselves with this ability. They forget the real objective of union with Waheguru, and begin to impress people with their new powers, which boost their ego. So, this mental state is called the "Ajur" (unbearable) state.

Word Meaning: Poorun = complete; achieved. Kaama = tasks; objectives. Pause. Puvittar(u) = pious. Jus(u) = praise. Jis Tay = from whom. 1.
Pdaaruth = valuable (useful) things. Fulaa = rewards. Visaariayiy = forget. 2. Lurr(i) Luggiyaan = taking shelter. Bhuvjul = world-sea. Oodhaar = salvation. Mookh Oojul = faces shine (are honoured). 3. Jeevun Roop = life-like; sustainer of spiritual life. Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Shaabaash(i) = praise (for some achievement). 4.

MEANING: All your objectives are achieved by reciting the Naam of Waheguru again and again. Pause. The mouth (tongue) that recites Waheguru's Naam becomes pious. Make friends only with those who sing Waheguru's praise, oh my mind. 1.
Why would anyone forget Waheguru, which is the source of everything, all rewards, and all virtues, and the recitation of whose Naam eradicates all ills? 2.
Waheguru's shelter sustains one's spiritual life and enables him to swim across the sea of Maya (breaks all the bonds with Maya). If one connects with the Guru, he finds salvation and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Waheguru's Naam sustains one's spiritual life and is the wealth of His holy devotees. Individuals who recite Waheguru's Naam with dedication find salvation (get rid of all their vices) and win praise in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.3.171

Word Meaning: Meetthay = sweet. Jindoo = soul (mind). Saytee = with. Ruttiyaan = imbued. Nithaavayn = shelterless. Thaaoun = shelter. Pause.
Phikkiya = bland; tasteless. Phit(u) = condemnable. Unchul = a fabric wrapped around the body (shelter). Geh(i) = hold; seek. Turna = swim across. 2.
Soomittar = good friend. Aougun = shortcomings. Mitaayay = remove; eradicate. Peropkaar = favour. 3. Maal(u) = wealth. Thayhou = house at a height (mansion). Nidhaan = treasure. Jaachuk = beggar. Toodhno = Yourself (Your Naam). Daan = alms. 4.

MEANING: Sing the sweet virtues of Waheguru, oh my soul. By being imbued with Waheguru's love, a shelterless individual finds shelter (in His Court). Pause.
Other than Waheguru's Naam, all enjoyments are tasteless, and one's body and mind also become tasteless (they become impolite and unhelpful to others). Whatever else one does without Waheguru's Naam is condemnable. 1.
The world-sea can be swum across by seeking Guru's shelter, and the whole family of the devotee (his associates) can find salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 2.
Only that individual is the real friend, relative, and close pal who implants Waheguru's Naam in your heart. Such an individual does you a huge favour by eradicating all your vices. 3. Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) is the treasure of all wealth, house and mansion. I, Nanak(u), am a beggar at Your door, and beg Yourself (Your Naam) in donation, oh Waheguru. 4.4.172.

Word Meaning: Sadho = holy men; devotees of Waheguru. Mun Ka Maan(u) = ego. Tiyaagou = get rid of; overcome. Sungut(i) = company. Doorjun = evil person. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Pause. Sum = equal. Aur = and. Maan(u) = respect. Upmaana = insult; disrespect. Hurkh = happiness. Soag = sadness. Ateeta = indifferent; unaffected. Tut(u) = reality; base (Waheguru). 1.

Oostut(i) = praise. Ninda = malicious criticism. Khojaiy = searches for. Pud(u) = state. Nirbaana = above all sensual desires. Khayl(u) = game; act. Kutthun(u) = difficult. Kinhoon = some rare (individual). 2.
MEANING: Overcome your ego, oh the devotees of Waheguru, and run away (stay away) day and night from lust, rage, and the company of an evil person. Pause.
An individual who accepts comfort and discomfort the same way, as also respect and disrespect, and stays unaffected by happiness or sadness, realizes the reality (root) of the world (Waheguru). 1. An individual who gives up false (undeserved) praise and unwarranted malicious criticism of others attains a state of spirituality above the effects of Maya. However, it is very difficult to attain such a state, and only rare individuals do so in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Sadho = devotees. Ruchna = creation. Ikk(i) = a few. Binsaiy = perishable. Ikk = many. Usthir = lasting forever; immortal. Achurj(i) = amazing. Lukhiyo = understood. Pause. Kaam = lust. Bus(i) = under the control. Moorut(i) = image; existence. Bisraayee = forgot. Jhoottha = temporary. Saacha = eternal. Raiynayee = (of) night. 1. Baadur = clouds. Chhaayee = shade. Mithiya = false; perishable. 2.
MEANING: It is amazing, and difficult to understand, that only a few people believe that the world created by Waheguru is perishable, while many others believe as if it is going to last forever, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. Pause.
The man is being controlled by his lust, rage, and worldly attractions, and has forgotten the existence of God. He is under the false belief that his perishable body is going to last forever. This belief is like a dream at night (which vanishes when the man wakes up). 1. Everything that is visible in the world vanishes just like the shadow of a cloud. I have realized that the world is perishable; so I have taken shelter in Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Praani = man. Jus(u) = praise. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Mugun(u) = fully absorbed; rapt. Pause. Mumta = parental affection; worldly attractions. Bidh(i) = way. Bundhaavaiy = gets trapped. Mirg Trishna = mirage. Taas(i) = that. Dhaavaiy = makes a quick move. 1. Bhoogut(i) = food. Mookut(i) = freedom from Maya. Moorr = foolish. Bisraavaiy forgets. Koatun = millions. Koyoo = rare.2.
MEANING: It does not occur in the mind of the man to sing Waheguru's praise. He is rapt in Maya day and night, so how can he sing Waheguru's virtues? Pause.
He gets entangled in the attachments of his sons, friends, and Maya. He runs after the attractions of the world, which are false like a mirage. 1.
The foolish forgets the Lord who is the source of all food (and other necessities of life), and is the emancipator from Maya. There is a rare person (maybe one in a million) who dedicates himself to the worship of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Guhiyo = controlled. Chunchul = fickle; capricious (changing fast). Bust(u) = resides; accompanies. Ya Tay = because of which. Thir = stable. Pause. Kutthun = tough; difficult to control. Ghut = heart. Bheetur = within. Ruttan Giyaan = superior ability. Soodh(i) = sense; awareness. Subh Ko = of everybody. Hir(i) Leena = stole away. Na Busaayee = unable to fight back; become helpless. 1. Gooni = educated; scholars. Ruhay = lost; failed. Bidh(i) = ways; efforts. 2.
MEANING: The human mind is uncontrollable, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. The capricious desires for Maya live in it because of which it does not become stable (does not stop wavering). The tough (difficult to control) rage lies within the heart, which causes loss of the man's ability to realize the truth (that he is mortal, and only God is immortal). The rage and the fickleness of mind steal away the superior ability of the man who becomes helpless before them. 1. Many people have tried to control the mind; for example, yogis use yogic techniques, and educated people use their knowledge of controlling the mind, but both fail badly. But when Waheguru is kind, any and every technique works to control the mind, oh Nanak. 2.4.

Word Meaning: Maanus Junum(u) = human life. Amoluk = priceless. Birtha = empty. Kaah(i) = what for? Guvaavhou = lose. Pause.
Putit = fallen from morality (immoral). Puneet = pious; purified. Deen Bundh = relative (friend) of the weak. Guj = elephant (see the note below for the story). Traas = fear; trouble. Bisraavou = forget. 1. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Abhimaan = ego. Phoon(i) = again; also. Mookut(i) = of freedom (from Maya). Punth = path. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. 2.

NOTE: There are many stories in Hindu Granths that have been quoted in Guru Granth Sahib as parables to glorify Waheguru (or to stress a point). Guru Granth Sahib does NOT believe in these stories. The story of the elephant is just one of them. According to this story, a Gundhurb (musician of the gods) was transformed into an elephant by a sage's curse. This elephant went to drink water in the pool of god Varun, where an octopus wrapped its tentacles around all four legs, making him completely immobile, and began dragging him into deep water. When the elephant was about to drown, he held a lotus flower in his trunk and prayed to Vishnu (Waheguru), who cut the octopus's tentacles and saved the elephant.

MEANING: Sing praise of Waheguru, oh His devotees. Human life is priceless (as it is the only opportunity to be one with God), so why let it go to waste? Pause. Waheguru is the friend of the weak, and He purifies the immoral; so, come to His shelter. Why should you forget Waheguru, who freed the frightened elephant from the grip of the octopus when he prayed to Waheguru for help? 1. Abandon your ego, affection for the family, and attachment to Maya, and focus your mind on the worship of Waheguru. This is the path to get freedom from the bonds of Maya, but you cannot tread this path without taking the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Maayee = oh, my mother. Bhooliyo = misled. Sadh Mug = path of the holy saints. Nimukh Na = not even for a moment. Pause.

Doorlubh = invaluable. Dayh = body. Maanus = human. Birtha = wastefully; uselessly. Siraavaiy = spends. Sunkut = trouble. Rooch = interest. 1.
Sung(i) = with. Nayh(u) = affection. Mookut(i) = free (from the bonds of Maya). Taah(i) = him. Ghut(i) = in the heart. 2.
MEANING: My mind is so misguided that even after listening to the teachings of the Vedas, of the Puranas, and the advice of the holy saints about the path to follow to connect with Waheguru, it still does not sing His praise. Can someone enlighten my misled mind, oh my mother! Pause. After being born a human, the man wastes his precious human life (a gift of Waheguru and not easily available). The attachment to Maya is a troublesome, thick forest (it is not easy to find a path out of it), yet the human mind shows deep interest in Maya. 1.
The man does not develop any love for Waheguru, which is always with him - inside and outside. But only that individual is considered free from the bonds of Maya, who has Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, oh Nanak. 2.6.

Word Meaning: Bisraama = peace of mind. Goon = use. Pause.
Mumta = affection for family. Phoon(i) = also. Aou = and. Bikhiyun = sensual pleasures. Hurkh = happiness. Soag = sadness. Pursaiy = touch; come near. Moorut(i) = image; like Him Dayva = God. 1.
Amrit = a mythical liquid that makes one immortal; highly useful substance. Bikh(u) = poison (which kills); very harmful substance. Kunchun = gold. Paisa = copper. Oostut(i) = praise. Ninda = negative criticism. Phoon(i) = also. Taiysa = similar. 2.
Baandhay = bind. Jaanou = consider. Giyaani = having Divine Knowledge. Eh Bidh(i) = this way. Praani = man. 3.
MEANING: Peace (stability) of mind can be achieved only in the shelter of Waheguru, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. The benefit of reading religious books like the Vedas and the Puranas is useful only if one begins to recite Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
A man becomes the image of Waheguru (like Him) if greed, love for Maya and for the family, and happiness and sadness do not come near him (affect him), and he refrains from indulging in sensual pleasures. 1. Such an individual treats paradise (luxuries of life), and hell (troubles in life); amrit (the mythical ambrosial water) and poison; and gold and copper, all the same way. He is also not affected by praise or negative criticism, greed, or affection. 2.

A person is considered to have Divine Knowledge (connected with Waheguru) if discomforts or comforts do not bind (entrap) him. Such a person, who follows the above path of life, is considered free from the bonds of Maya, oh Nanak. 3.7.

You have wasted away your precious life, and have not realized the importance of the high spiritual state that Waheguru's worship lifts you to. Only that individual who enjoys a comfortable life sings Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. The rest of the world is captivated by Maya, as a result of which it cannot attain the spiritual level which is above all worldly fears. 3.8.
