Word Meaning: Ottar = come down. Uvghut(i) = the difficult (descent from the) top of a mountain (height of conceit). Survur(i) = (in the) pool (of Gurbani). Bukaiy = (useless) talk. Soonn(i) = in the spiritual state where no thoughts of Maya disturb you. Rus Sut(u) = blissfulness. Jhoal(i) = mixing well. Muhaa Rus = the supreme enjoyment (bliss). 1. Ubh = heart, mind. Bhurpoor(i) = omnipresent. Dhaar(i) = support. Tthaauray = places. Pause.
Bert = vows (commitments) to do or not to do something. Naym = as principle. Kaal(u) = death. Suntaavaiy = torture; haunt. Kroadh(u) = rage. Guggun = sky; the highest spiritual state of blissfulness. Smaadh(i) = meditation. Paarus = elixir stone; Satguru. Pers(i) = touch; in the shelter of. Perm Pud = the highest spiritual state (union with God). 2. Mun Kaarun = to control mind. Tutt = the root (Waheguru); reality. Bilovaiy = churn. Soobhur = full to the top (with noble qualities). Survur(i) = the pool of holy devotees. Raata = imbued. 3. Hiv Seetul(u) = cold (cool) like ice. Bibhoot = ash (the yogis cover their bodies with ash to look unattractive). Dershun(u) = philosophy; one of the six sects of ascetics. Sehj = spiritual state above Maya. Naad = the bugle of the yogis. 4. Saara = supreme. Mujun = to bathe. Mooraara = Waheguru. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Waheguru's soul. 5. Russiya = drenched in. Aikaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the One (God). Tukhut Nivaasi = occupies the throne (who has overpowered all his senses). Kaar Kmaayee = performed the tasks. Rujaayee = as per the Will of Waheguru. Uvigut = invisible; incomprehensible. Nath = the Lord. Lukhiya = seen. 6. Jul = water. Oopjay = is produced. Nidh(i) = treasure (Waheguru). Hudoor(i) = near; close by. 7. Uver(u) = other. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Phoonn(i) = again; after all. Bhurthur(i) = a famous yogi. Nirmul = holy. Aadhaar(u) = basis. 8.

NOTE: The yogis, who are worshippers of Shiva, live away from the world on the top of some mountain, and come to the plains in the winter to take dips in holy places, and to beg for food. They cover their bodies with ash to look unattractive to women, practice some rituals, and blow into bugles to announce their own presence and also that of their deity. Guru Nanak Sahib had several meetings with them. This holy Shabad is about His meeting with a famous yogi, Bhurthuri.

MEANING: You come down from the top of a mountain, but a real yogi is the one who travels the difficult path of descending from the height of his ego, and who takes a dip in the pool of the gathering of holy men, where Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is the water to take a dip in. Such a yogi sings only praise of Waheguru and refrains from worthless talk. Just like the water vapours which rise high in the sky, such a yogi stays immersed in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya and enjoys blissfulness. Rather than drinking alcohol or some other intoxicant before sitting down for meditation, such a yogi enjoys the supreme bliss by drinking the Naam-Amrit with a peaceful mind. 1. Listen to the Divine Knowledge, oh my mind (oh Yogi); Waheguru is permeating the whole universe, and is providing support everywhere. Pause. Faith in (and remembering) Waheguru should be your firm principle whereby the fear of death will never haunt you, oh Yogi. Burn away your rage with Satguru's Shabad, and meditate on it to stay in the blissful spiritual state. Take the shelter of the Guru to attain the highest spiritual state. 2. Just like yogurt is churned to get the real thing – butter - churn (ponder on) Guru's Shabad to control your mind and to achieve the real objective (union with Waheguru). Cleanse your mind in the pool of the holy gathering where no filth of evil thoughts is left. The man becomes just like (acquires the same qualities as) the deity (Waheguru) in whose love he is imbued. But only that happens which the Creator wishes. 3. The Guru is always peaceful (cool and calm) and puts out the fire of his devotee's desires. So, rather than covering his body with ash to keep his desires (lust) under control, a real yogi should serve the Guru and focus his mind on the Guru's Shabad. Attaining the spiritual state above the effects of Maya should be his real philosophy or his spiritual path. And rather than blowing a trumpet (bugle), he should recite the holy Gurbani to the masses. 4. The real yogi has the supreme essence (sweet taste) of Divine Knowledge in his mind (gets connected with Waheguru), and pondering on Guru's Shabad is the dip in holy places for him. Waheguru resides in his heart, and the real yogi worships Him in his mind. Waheguru connects the yogi's soul with His own (perfect union is achieved). 5. In the love of the "One" (Waheguru), the real yogi is drenched in the Naam - Amrit. By controlling the five demons, the real yogi sits on his heart-throne (his mind becomes peaceful). Even though the invisible Lord cannot be comprehended, the real yogi does only the deeds which are acceptable to Waheguru (accepts His Will). 6. Just as the sun, which is far away from the water on the earth, yet is present in it in the form of its images, Waheguru may seem to be far away from us, yet He is present in every heart. So, how can I say that He is close to some and far away from others? I always think of Him as being very close to me, and I sing praise of the treasure of all virtues (Waheguru). 7. There is none other than Him inside and outside, and only that happens (takes place) which He likes. Listen to this fact, oh Yogi Bhurthur(i); the holy Naam is the basis of my (Nanak's) life. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Jup = Mantras to please some deity. Tup = self-torture. Chuturaayee = cleverness; shrewdness. Oojhurr(i) = in wilderness. Bhermaiy = misled. Thaayay Na Paayee = gets no recognition. Bihoonaiy = devoid of. Maathay Chhaayee = face blackened (are disgraced). 1. Saach(u) = immortal. Dhunee = the Lord (God). Aayay = comes (into being); is born. Binaasa = is destroyed. Chhootus = gets freedom. Praani = man. Pause. Moh(i) = (in) attachments. Gurmutee = with the Teachings of the Guru. Oodaasa = detached (from Maya). Kumul = lotus; heart. Pergaasa = enlightened; blooms. Traasa = fear. 2. Triya = Kaamun(i) = woman. Hitkaari = lover. Kluttar = wife. Visaari = ignores. Birtha = empty (without any gain). Baaji = the game (of life). Saari = supreme. 3. Baahroun = outwardly. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Mookut(u) = free from all bonds. Layp(u) = coating (of Maya). Hirdaiy = in heart. 4. Dhaavut = rushing mind. Tthaak(i) = under control. Kerm(i) = by benevolence. Aavaiy Jaayay = is born and dies. Sunjoag(i) = union. 5. Roorro = beautiful (Waheguru). Akuth = indescribable. Kuthoun = describe. Rujaayee = to live in His Will. 6. Ker = hands. Pug = feet. Taala = dance steps. Nihaala = blissful. 7.

Tirbhuvun = the three layers of the universe. Soojhaiy = understanding. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Smaavaiy = get immersed in. Liv Taara = full concentration. Dhunn(u) = praise-worthy. Svaarunhaara = one who adorns (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: Only the Lord, Waheguru, is eternal, while the world is mortal (is created and is destroyed). Only that individual breaks the bonds of Maya (and becomes immortal by uniting with Waheguru), who acts like a slave of the holy devotees (acts on their advice). Pause.

People who recite some mantras, or torture themselves to please some deity, or try to please their deity by their shrewdness, are completely misled as if they were in the wilderness, and do not find their way out. Without actual realization (about Waheguru), their efforts go unrecognized. Their faces are blackened (they are disgraced) without Waheguru's Naam. 1.

The world is trapped by the bonds of attachments, and has great hopes (to enjoy more luxuries); but a few get detached from Maya (feel fully contented) in the shelter of Waheguru's devotees. With Waheguru's Naam in their mind, their hearts bloom, and they have no fear of the Angel of death. 2.

The world (men) loves women, and is overpowered by them (acts like their slaves). In the love of the sons and the wife, the world ignores Waheguru's Naam. It (the world) wastes away the precious human life, and loses the game of life. The best thing to do is to serve the Guru (obey His Advice). 3.

The true devotees may seem to display their ego outwardly, but internally, they remain unaffected by the gimmicks of Maya. They burn the love for Maya with Guru's Shabad, and recite Waheguru's Naam in their heart all the time. 4.

With Waheguru's benevolence, they get connected with true Sikhs, where they are able to keep their rushing (wandering) mind under control. Without the shelter of the Guru, they keep taking rebirths; but with the kind sight of Waheguru, they get connected with the Guru. 5.

I wish to praise the beautiful (kind and compassionate) Waheguru, but it is very difficult to do that. Even if I try to describe the virtues of the indescribable Waheguru, I cannot evaluate Him. Without Your Naam, life is full of discomfort, but the man acquires all the comforts when he lives his life by Your Will, oh Waheguru. All the troubles disappear with Your Naam. 6.

Some people dance to please their deity, but a devotee, who realizes the importance of the Guru's Shabad (recites and acts on it), is always blissful, and his mind dances without playing any musical instrument with hands, or taking dancing steps with the feet. With Waheguru in his mind, he enjoys all comforts, and Waheguru protects him (from the attacks of Maya) with His kind sight. 7.

When an individual gives up his selfishness and ego, he comes to know how Waheguru controls the whole universe. With the knowledge of Gurbani, he gets fully absorbed in Waheguru, and ponders on Guru's Shabad with full dedication. Waheguru, who adorns His devotees with noble qualities, is praise-worthy (is great), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Laykh = writings. Asunkh = countless. Maan(u) = take pride. Soorut(i) = in thoughts. Vukhaan(u) = describe. Kuthnee = by words. Budnee = by the mouth (by talking). Bhaar(u) = burden (of ego). Alaykh(u) = which cannot be described. Apaar(u) = beyond limits. 1. Jumkaal(i) = Angel of death. Uver(u) = other. Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = next world. Bib-hee = supports to the end. 2. Liv Laayay = fully focused. Achur(u) = which cannot be eaten or consumed; haumein. Churaiy = eats; kills. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Jeevun Mookut(i) = one who breaks the bonds of Maya while enjoying the family life. 3. Dhur = Dhurtee = earth. Guggun(u) = Akaash = sky; universe. Thaapi = created. Oothaap(i) = by destroying. Niruntar(i) = continuous; without any breaks. 4. Poor(u) = overflowing. Maanuk(u) = pearl. Heer(u) = diamond (invaluable virtues). Goonee Guheer = treasure of virtues. Sahib(u) = Emperor. Vujeer(u) = minister. 5. Bundee = prisoner. Aachaari = with noble character. Veechaari = ponders on Guru's Shabad. 6. Jun Koyay = some rare devotee. Roagi = (mentally) sick. Bhoagi = enjoys worldly comforts. Royay = longs for. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Put(i) = dignity. Khoyay = loses. 7. Mehngo Moal(i) = very expensive. Bhaar(i) Afaar(u) = unlimited weight. Atull = everlasting. Achhull = which cannot be deceived. Dhaar(u) = acquire. Bhaayay = with love. Bhaiykaar = all tasks under His fear (acceptable to Him). 8.3.

MEANING: Countless people write about Waheguru, describing Him, and take pride in that (they may or may not have faith in Waheguru and write just to boost their ego). The real praise of Waheguru is to have full faith in Him and to embed His Naam in the mind. Just to describe Him in writing or in spoken words without faith in Him is simply to carry the burden of ego. Countless people write about the indescribable and the limitless Waheguru. 1. There is Waheguru alone in this world, which is everlasting, indescribable, and limitless, while the rest of the world is mortal. So, have faith in such Waheguru, who also controls births and deaths with His Laws, oh my friend. Pause. The world is imprisoned by worldly attachments (bonds of Maya) and is constantly in fear of death. One can be free of the bonds of Maya only by keeping Waheguru in mind. There is none other than the Guru, which is the source of all comforts (gets freedom from Maya), and who supports you in both the worlds –

the present and the next – oh my friend. 2. If a man kills his worldly desires with Guru's Shabad, he stays focused on Waheguru's Naam, and is able to kill his haumein whereby all his misgivings (illusions) are dispelled. By enshrining Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he gets fully detached from Maya while enjoying himself in the family. As a Sikh of the Guru, he stays fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 3. Waheguru, which creates the earth, the sky, and the universe, and destroys it to recreate it, is present everywhere without any gap, and He gives His gifts to everybody without consulting anybody else. 4. You are a sea full of precious (noble) qualities like precious pearls and diamonds, oh Waheguru. You are an everlasting treasure of pure (holy) qualities. You can be reached through the Guru when one enjoys all comforts (blissfulness). You are the only Lord (Emperor), and You are Your own minister (You do not need the assistance of anybody else). 5. The world is imprisoned by the bonds of Maya, while the devotee, who has killed his selfishness and ego, achieves freedom from such bonds. There is a rare individual who has acquired Divine Knowledge (made a connection with Waheguru) and who observes the high moral principles. Likewise, there is a rare individual who is knowledgeable and ponders on the Guru's Shabad. Without making a connection with the Guru, everyone suffers from their ego. 6. The world is suffering; only a rare individual enjoys the comfort of mind (is blissful). The world simply enjoys the gifts of life, but is (mentally) sick, and is crying (looking for) virtues. The world comes into being (is born) and is destroyed, thereby losing its dignity (in the Court of Waheguru). Only the Guru's Sikhs realize the reality. 7.
The low-caste Nanak holds the view that (to attain peace in life, one needs to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart), but this does not come easily. It is highly expensive (requires sacrifices), in which one has to pay a huge price (kill their selfishness and ego) for it. There is no expensive material which can be weighed against it. The only way to acquire the Naam of the eternal and the non-deceivable Waheguru, is to take Guru's shelter. His Naam can be embedded in mind by love for Him, and by performing deeds under His fear (which are acceptable to Him). 8.3.

Word Meaning: Aik = haumein (selfishness and ego). Punchay = all five sensual feelings (lust, rage, greed, attachments, and conceit). Sehj = spiritual state above Maya. Boojhaiy = understanding. Put(i) = dignity. 1. Ohee = for him. Kern Naarun = creator of the universe. Tohee = You (Waheguru). Pause. Baydun = pain (of separation). Terna = ship. Perm Gut(i) = the highest spiritual state. Sherna = in the shelter of. Bohith(u) = ship. Bhaiy = bhaiy saagur = the world sea. 2& 3. Nirbhuou = fearless. Niruntar(i) = continuous; without any break. Sootuk(u) = the superstition that a house becomes impure when a new child is born, or when a person dies in the house. Chhoat(i) = the impure touch. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Binsaiy = destroyed. Sroat(i) = hearing. 4.
Sach(u) = the devotee who has become "one " with Waheguru by killing his worldly desires. Traiy Goon = the three traits of Maya. Neeta Neet = everyday; all the time. Sucheet = alert. Suoupuoun = offer. Krishan = Waheguru. 5. Bheetar(i) = inside. Anayk Asunkh = having (unlimited; countless) forms. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Birunth = useless; worthless. Permarunth = the supreme objective of life. 6. Thaap(i) Oothaap(i) = creates and destroys. Jaat(i) = is recognized. Bhraant(i) = unsettlement of mind. 7.
Sootuk(u) = the misbelief about the impurity in a house on birth and death. Ugun(i) = fire. Hur(i) Rus(u) = the Naam-Amrit. 8.

MEANING: The man can kill (wash away) the filth of his haumein by the Guru's Shabad. When his haumein dies, all his five sensual feelings (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and conceit) begin to cry (because they are the root of haumein and cannot enjoy anymore). He attains the blissful spiritual state by his renewed wisdom and awareness (by making a connection with Waheguru). But, without this realization, the man loses his dignity (in Waheguru's Court because of his haumein). 1. It is difficult to decide who dies an undignified death and who cries for him because You are the root cause of all life and physical deaths, oh Waheguru. Being present in every living being, it is actually You who dies (but, at the same time, being immortal, You never die), oh Waheguru. Pause.
(Most relatives of the dead cry just as a ritual), Only those who really cry for the dead are actually aggrieved. Waheguru knows full well who the real sufferer is, because everything happens as per His Will. 2. Killing one's selfishness and ego (haumein) is the basis of salvation by the grace of Waheguru. We should hail Waheguru whose shelter is the source needed to (kill one's haumein) and attain the highest spiritual state. I will gladly sacrifice my life for the Guru because His Shabad is the ship to ferry us across the world sea. 3. Waheguru is fearless (because He has no superior), and His Light is uniformly pervading the whole universe. Without His Naam, the world is suffering from the superstitions of "sootuk" and untouchability (that touching a low-caste individual causes impurity). The world is dying (spiritual death) because of such superstitions; whom should one cry before (pray to) to get rid of such bad advice (because the religious leaders who are supposed to provide guidance against such superstitions, are actually promoting them)? Without Waheguru's worship, without listening to Guru's advice, the world is simply caught in the birth-death cycle. 4. The friends of Maya (the five demons) really cry at the worldly death (death from worldly desires) of the devotee who has killed his worldly desires, and so do the three effects of Maya (because they cannot enjoy in his body any more) Such a devotee disregards comforts and discomforts, and with alertness against the attacks of Maya, he stays in the blissful spiritual state. He dedicates his body and mind to the love of God. 5. Waheguru, with countless different forms, is also present in every heart. However, without realizing this fact, people perform countless, but worthless religious rituals, and waste away their precious human life without Waheguru's worship. But the true devotees join together to sing praise of God to achieve the supreme objective of human life. 6. Waheguru creates the universe, destroys it, and then creates it again. Being present in everybody when he kills someone, He is killing Himself too (a part of Him) in a way. He has created the world for His Light to be recognized. Union with Waheguru is achieved through the Guru's Shabad when all misgivings are dispelled. 7. The fire of the superstition of "sootuk" is consuming the world, which, according to the superstition, should be present everywhere – in the water and on the land (because living beings take birth and die out everywhere). The world is caught in the birth-death-birth cycle due to the superstitions of "sootuk", and others like it. An individual who drinks the sweet juice of Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru gets rid of all such superstitions, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Shah(u) = goldsmith (Waheguru). Sraafi = business; justice. Saachi Nudr(i) = pure and kind sight. Aik Live = (with) full concentration on Waheguru. Pause.
Poonji = capital; wealth. Saar(u) = supreme. Paiykaar(u) = the expert in olden days who used to separate gold and silver from the ashes. 2. Aasa Munsa = hope and wishes. Vaat = path; journey. Mehl(u) = God's dwelling. 3. Kunchun Kaaya = gold-like pure Punch = five elements. Teen(i) = the three qualities of Maya. Nuv = the nine-region earth. Chaar(i) = the four directions. Dhern(i) = the earth. Kul = power. Oolt(i) Puraavaiy = reverses direction. 5. Aakheen = with eyes. Jihva = tongue. Rus = sweetness. Bikh(u) = poisonous Maya. Maata = imbued in. Loojhaiy = fights. 6. Ootum = superior; noble. Dhaavaiy = rushes. Uvgun = vices; bad qualities. 7. Heera = diamond. Juvayhur = precious stones. Laal(u) = rubies. Moti = pearl-like Maal(u) = possession; wealth. Perkhaiy = tests. Nihaal(u) = blissful. 8.

MEANING: An individual who analyzes himself is able to recognize the virtues of the diamond-like (pure) Guru. The Perfect Guru can salvage an individual with His single kind sight. An individual who brings faith in the Guru gets his mind strengthened. 1.

Like a goldsmith who purifies gold, the Perfect Guru purifies the mind of His devotees who diligently focus on Waheguru's Naam, and get salvaged with His (Satguru's) single pure and kind sight. Pause. An individual who has Waheguru's Naam as his supreme wealth is imbued with the Naam and is pure-minded, and is like an expert who can recover gold and silver from the ashes; he picks up noble qualities from the mixture. With singing praise of Waheguru and of the Guru, he attains the state of blissfulness above the effects of Maya. 2. Such a devotee burns away his hopes and wishes with Guru's Shabad, and recites Waheguru's Naam himself, and makes others do the same. He follows the path to Waheguru's Residence and reaches there with Guru's Shabad. 3. With Waheguru's Light (His Naam) in the heart, the body of a devotee becomes pure like gold (free from evil thoughts and bad deeds), and he "sees" the light-like Waheguru everywhere in the universe in many different forms. I have the wealth of Waheguru's eternal Naam in my heart, which never runs out. 4. The man should always remember Waheguru, which is present in the five elements, in the three effects of Maya, in the nine regions of the earth, and in all four directions, and which is providing support to the earth and the sky, so as to turn around his mind from the attractions of Maya towards Waheguru. 5. The foolish man does not understand the reality even when he sees it with his own eyes. He does not have the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam on his tongue so as to understand Him (connect with Him), and to acquire the bliss that one does with His Naam. The Maya-engrossed man rather fights with the world. 6. One becomes noble in the noble company of holy saints. He searches for noble qualities and washes away his vices in the holy company. But one cannot attain the high spiritual state without serving the Guru. 7.

Waheguru's Naam is like precious diamonds, jewels, and rubies. Waheguru's precious Naam is the wealth of a devotee whose mind becomes pure like a pearl when the Guru casts His kind sight on him, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Praym Bhagat(i) = worship with love (and respect). Mooraari = Waheguru. Pause. Ehinis(i) = day and night; always. Thaan(i) = in the heart. Soothaan(u) = Waheguru's holy Naam. Oosaaray = creates. Smaayay = get absorbed. Vertaiy = operates. Bhaavaiy = likes. Poora = Perfect (Waheguru). 5. Birdh(i) = (in) old age. Soorut(i) = (in) thoughts. Praan(i) = oh man. Bhur(i) Jobun(i) = in the prime of youth. Abhimaan(i) = in ego. Lehs(i) = acquire; receive. Nidaan(i) = at the end. 6. Unn(u) = food. Sehj(i) = the blissful state. Faahi = snare. Baura = eccentric. 7. Boodut = drowning (in the sea of Maya). Tuou = then. 8.

MEANING: In the shelter (under the guidance) of the Guru, a devotee acquires full faith in Waheguru, focuses his full concentration on His Naam, recognizes (realizes) the Lord of the Mansion, Waheguru, and gets connected with Him. Under the guidance of the Guru, the devotee keeps His Shabad (Waheguru's praise) in his thoughts, which is his identity in the path of union with Waheguru. 1. The worship of Waheguru with love (and respect) under the guidance of the Guru is such that the devotee becomes thoughtful (ponders on Guru Shabad), and becomes "one" with Waheguru by reciting His Naam. Pause.

The devotee keeps Waheguru's holy Naam in his heart day and night, and makes a connection with Him, which is present in the three-layered universe, and which is above the effects of Maya. He recognizes Waheguru's Will in the shelter of the Guru. 2.

Connected with Waheguru, the devotee is always happy (blissful) and never suffers from any sadness. Connection with Waheguru through His Amrit-Naam is the supreme food (for his soul). By controlling the five demons, he becomes a source of comfort for the whole world. 3. Everybody belongs to Waheguru because His Light is present in everybody. He connects and disconnects people with Him as He wishes, and only those things happen that he causes (to happen). 4. He demolishes, creates, and absorbs the world in Him with His Huqam (Laws), and they are His laws that operate in the universe as He wishes. Nobody can connect with the Perfect Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru. 5.

If a man does not bring Waheguru in his thoughts when he is a child or when he gets old, he drowns in the sea of Maya in the prime of his youth because of his ego. What objective can he achieve in life at the end without Waheguru's Naam? (Meaning he achieves no spiritually useful objective). 6. If a man does not connect with Waheguru, who is the provider of all the food and wealth (and other necessities of life), and does not enjoy the bliss of a spiritual state above Maya, he is misled by his misgivings (illusions), and has to repent at the end. Snared in the bonds of Maya, he leads his life as an eccentric. 7. When people watch the world drowning in the sea of Maya like this, they get afraid, and run to the shelter of the Guru. Those, who are saved by the Guru, are highly fortunate. I too, have dropped on the feet of (have surrendered to) the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Aachaar = noble deeds; high morality. Praata = in deep love for. Buchnee = Words. Jaata = realized; made connection. 10.

MEANING: The Maya-engrossed pundit sings the song about the (harmful effects of) attractions of the world to the people, but has immoral thoughts in his mind, and makes the people believe that he is above the worldly attractions (above the effects of Maya). But without Waheguru's Naam, such talks do him no good because his talking is all lies, and he is immoral. 1. Where are you rushing to, oh my mind! Stay in your peaceful state (in contentment) which is achieved by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. So, search for Him inside you, and achieve the blissful state above Maya. Pause.
Your body (mind) is full with the thoughts of lust, rage, and worldly attachments; and you are suffering from the pain of gluttony, greed, and your conceit. How can you find contentment under these conditions without Waheguru's Naam, oh man? 2.
People go to holy places for a dip (with the belief to wash away their sins) (but they cannot cleanse their mind with such dips); the mind is cleansed internally when one recognizes Waheguru (makes connection with Him). One can know his internal (spiritual) condition in the shelter of the Guru only. One cannot realize Waheguru's Residence (make connection with Him) without the eternal Shabad of the Guru. 3. A devotee, who immerses his mind into the formless Waheguru which is indivisible, and enshrines His Naam in his mind by continuous recitation, never takes rebirths. 4. I will go where I can acquire the Naam, and will perform noble deeds in the shelter of the Guru. Imbued in His love, I will sing the virtues of Waheguru. 5. One recognizes himself by serving the Guru (obeying His Shabad) whereby the source of all comforts, Waheguru's Naam, takes dwelling in his heart. With Satguru's Bani, such a devotee stays imbued in Waheguru's Naam day and night. 6. A man begins to worship Waheguru only when Waheguru makes him do so. Such a devotee kills his selfishness and ego, and is enlightened with the Guru's Shabad. He is blissful everywhere, and even in the next world. 7. Man's mind is highly fickle, and does not know how to (worship Waheguru). The mind of a Maya-engrossed individual is filthy (with evil ideas), and he does not recognize the value of the Guru's Shabad. But a devotee, who comes to the Guru's shelter, recites Waheguru's Naam and has his mind purified. 8. I pray to Waheguru that He puts me in the company of the Guru, where my mind will be enlightened with His Naam, and all my sins will be washed away. 9.
By pondering on the Guru's Shabad, one acquires high morality and brings faith in only the "One" (Waheguru) with the Guru's Shabad. The mind of such a devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 10.7.

Russaayin(i) = in the treasure of all sweet essences (Waheguru). Hayt(u) = for. 9.

MEANING: The human mind is like an intoxicated elephant, which is so trapped in Maya that it has forgotten Waheguru completely, as a result of which it is mentally imbalanced, and is perplexed in a small part of the world jungle. Whipped by the circumstances, it wanders here and there (does not find peace). But it can search (find) its place (peace) by taking the Guru's shelter. 1. Without following the Guru's Shabad, this mind cannot find peace. (To find peace), One should recite Waheguru's holy Naam, and should give up his haumein (selfishness and ego) as if it were a bitter thing. Pause. Can someone tell me how this foolish mind can find peace? Without understanding the reality (that Maya is false, and Waheguru is eternal), it has to endure the suffering of spiritual death. But when Waheguru becomes kind, He connects the individual with the Guru. Waheguru exhorts him to (recite His Naam), so that he can overcome the fear of the thorn of death. 2. The human mind is so fickle that it keeps doing different things at different times. For example, sometimes the mind performs religious rituals (without worshipping Waheguru) which do him no spiritual good; they rather boost his haumein, which is the cause of his rebirths in the first place. (Man's ego and attraction for Maya causes him to be born again, and again. See the holy Shabads below. Sometimes this mind is engrossed in Maya, is greedy, and is foolish. However, the same mind can be beautiful when it recites Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter. The following two holy Shabads will support this fact. 3.

ਆਸਾ ਦੀ ਵਾਰ, ਸਲੋਕ ਮਹਲਾ 2 (466)॥ ਹਉਮੈ ਏਹਾ ਜਾਤਿ ਹੈ ਹਉਮੈ ਕਰਮ ਕਮਾਇ॥ ਹਉਮੈ ਏਈ ਬੰਧਨਾ ਫਿਰਿ ਫਿਰਿ ਜੋਨੀ ਪਾਹਿ॥ -------

Meaning: This is the character of haumein that the individual performs deeds under its influence. But the bonds of haumein lead to rebirths again, and again. ---------

ਧਨਾਸਰੀ ਨਾਮਦੇਵ ਜੀ (693)॥ ----- ਪਾਛੈ ਬਹੁਰਿ ਨ ਆਵਨੁ ਪਾਵਉ॥ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤ ਬਾਣੀ ਘਟ ਤੇ ਉਚਰਉ ਆਤਮ ਕਉ ਸਮਝਾਵਉ॥ ----- ਇਹ ਸੰਸਾਰ ਤੇ ਤਬ ਹੀ ਛੂਟਉ ਜਉ ਮਾਇਆ ਨਹ ਲਪਟਾਵਉ॥ ਮਾਇਆ ਨਾਮੁ ਗਰਭ ਜੋਨਿ ਕਾ ਤਿਹ ਤਜ ਦਰਸਨ ਪਾਵਉ॥

Meaning: -------- I shall not come back again (be reborn). I educate my soul by reciting the Amrit Bani of the Guru from the bottom of my heart. I will break the bonds with this world only when I get rid of my attachment for Maya. Attachment with Maya leads to rebirths; I can have a glimpse of Waheguru only after I give up my attachment with Maya.

A devotee of the Guru keeps Waheguru in mind and makes a connection with Him, who is present everywhere in the three-layered universe. Without taking Guru's shelter, the mind is not clear about its real objective, and sometimes follows the yogic path, enjoys worldly gifts (largesse of Waheguru), or tortures itself to please some deity. But, taking Guru's shelter, a devotee recognizes (realizes) Waheguru inside him. 4. Sometimes the mind gives up its selfishness and ego and becomes detached from Maya. (But without taking Guru's shelter), Every heart has many desires and suffers from indecisiveness (whether to choose Waheguru or Maya). On the other hand, a devotee of the Guru enjoys the taste of the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all sweet essences. He sees Waheguru everywhere, which protects his dignity (from the attacks of the demons). 5. By reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, the mind becomes fearless and its own ruler. It acts as a valiant in the battlefield against the five demons, and brings them under his control by killing (overpowering) them. By consuming his haumein, he puts them (the demons) together (as his assistants). 6. A devotee of the Guru gives up (overcomes) all the worldly attractions and all tastes of life. The mind gets enlightened by worshipping Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. When the devotee ponders on the Guru's Shabad, he gains full faith in Waheguru and is convinced of Him as he listens to the auto-playing Divine music. He becomes a part of the Waheguru (merges with Him) by analyzing his soul. 7.

The mind becomes pure, and it sees Waheguru everywhere. In the shelter of the Guru, and with the worship of Waheguru the mind gets imbued in His love, and recites His Naam with full reverence. With Guru's grace, it sings praise of Waheguru day and night, and realizes that Waheguru is present in every heart and has been there since times immemorial. 8.
In the shelter of the Guru, the mind recognizes the source of all sweet essences, Waheguru, and gets imbued with love for Him. With Waheguru's worship, the mind finds its destination at the Guru's feet. I am the slave of the slaves of Waheguru's devotees, oh Nanak. 9.8.

Nirmul(u) = pure. Live = connect with. 1. Sum Kur(i) = treat the same. Bukhsh(i) = with kindness. Pause. Kunik = gold. Kaamni = woman.

Bhugut Vuchhul = the lover of the devotees (Waheguru). Sung(i) = with. Mookut(i) = free (from the bonds of Maya). Rung(i) = in the love of. 8.

MEANING: (Normally, the wealth of a man who dies is inherited by his relatives), but what happens to the Naam-wealth of a devotee who dies? (Is it also inherited by his relatives? (The answer is, no); because Waheguru's Naam-wealth cannot be acquired without taking the shelter of the Guru. It stays with the deceased devotee and accompanies him to the next world. A devotee, who stays connected with Waheguru day and night, is always pure. 1. There is no other permanent companion of the man than Waheguru's Naam. Being stoic (accepting comforts and discomforts the same way), I will never quit reciting His Naam because He kindly connects His devotees with Him. Pause. Because of his indecisiveness, the idiot man forgets Waheguru's Naam in his love for gold (wealth) and his wife. But, no discomfort, or even the fear of death, can come near the devotee whom You kindly make recite Your Naam, and who sings Your praise, oh Waheguru. 2.
Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru with many names, is very kind and our provider. Kindly protect me in whichever way You like, oh my Satguru. I have come to like (love) Waheguru's Naam in Your shelter as a result of which all my illnesses have disappeared, and all discomforts have been prevented. 3. Waheguru's Naam alone is the destroyer of all the sins, and there is no other magic or mantra to do so. Waheguru Himself misguides people who forget His Naam, and He Himself protects some (from the attacks of Maya) with His kindness (who recite His Naam). 4. Those who forget Waheguru suffer because of their misbeliefs, discrimination against some people, and their love for Maya. Without the Guru's shelter, they are misled by their illusions and worship Maya. They cannot have a sight of the Guru and of Waheguru, which is the origin of everything. Without Guru's Shabad, their life is of no value (is worthless). 5. By noticing the amazing things in nature, some fortunate people are awestruck, and, meditating in the higher spiritual state, they realize that Waheguru is present in every heart, whether they are gods or humans. The omnipresent Waheguru is providing support to every mind; there is no one else like Him. 6.
Waheguru is present among those holy saints who recite His Naam with love. Such holy saints have broken all their worldly bonds and always remain in a blissful state. A devotee can also break the worldly bonds in the shelter of the Guru and make a connection with Waheguru. 7. The fear of the Angel of death does not worry those devotees who have their minds focused on Waheguru's Naam. The lover of His worship – Waheguru – is always with His devotees, who become free from all the worldly bonds in His love, oh Nanak. 8.9.

Bundhun Bayd(u), baad(u) ahunkaar. Bundhun(i) binsaiy moh vikaar. 7. Nanak Ram Naam shernaayee. Satgur(i) raakhay, bundh(u) na paayee. 8.10.

Word Meaning: Ikktooki = verse with only one sentence. Tthaakur = the Lord (God). Jaanaiy = recognizes; connects with. 1. Sukhee Sukhaiyni = friends. Naiyni = with the eyes. Pause. Bundhun = bonds; burden. Sunsaar(i) = in the world. Soot = sons. Kunniya = girls; daughters. Ur(u) = and. Naar(i) = woman; wife. 2. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Huoun = ego. Klut(u) = wife. Beeya = the other (Maya). 3. Kirkhee = farming. Kirsaan = farmer. Dunn(u) = punishment. Daan(u) = tax. 4. Sauda = business. Unveechaari = one who does not ponder on Waheguru's Naam. Tiput = contentment. Pusaari = expansion. 5. Shah = money lord. Suncheh(i) = accumulates. Na Puvvyee Thaayayn = is not valued (in Waheguru's Court). 6. Bayd = knowledge of the Vedas. Baad(u) = worthless discussions. Binsaiy = is destroyed; dies of spiritual death. Moh Vikaar = love for vices. 7. Shernaayee = shelter. 8.

MEANING: The devotee, who serves the Guru, recognizes (makes connection with) the Lord. He realizes Waheguru through Guru's Shabad and has all his discomforts eradicated. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, and have a glimpse of Him with your eyes by serving the Guru, oh my friends. Pause. The mother, the father, the sons, the daughters, and the wife are all the cause of bonds in the world (which keep one engrossed in Maya). 2. The religious deeds, which boost one's ego, also bind him with Maya, and so do the love for the son, for the wife, and for Maya. 3. Even the farming that a farmer does leads to bonds with Maya (he sees his crops and feels conceited about the future income, and also takes pride in feeding others); a rajah suffers from the punishment of haumein (which is a form of Maya) when he collects taxes from his citizens (haumein of his power to levy taxes). 4. The business of a businessman also becomes a burden when he does not get contentment with the present income and tries to expand his business due to his greed for wealth, and does not ponder on the Guru's Shabad. 5. A money-lord accumulates wealth, but is always afraid of losing it, which results in even stronger bonds with Maya. His wealth is spiritually worthless if he does not worship God. 6. Even the recitation of the Vedas and the worthless discussion about them boost the ego of the individual, which becomes a burden in the form of extra bonds. One also suffers spiritual death in one's love (enjoyment) of vices. 7. But, when a man takes shelter of Waheguru's Naam, the Guru protects him, and he does not become a prisoner of Maya, oh Nanak. 8.10.

NOTE: The next two holy Ashtpudis cover the tragic events of the aftermath of the cruel and barbaric attack on Eminabad by the army of Babar in 1521. Guru Nanak Sahib had a prior knowledge of the impending attack, so He made a special effort to reach Eminabad in time to lessen the destruction, and to console and help the victims. He had visited Mecca, Baghdad, and Afghanistan before reaching Eminabad. He saw the destruction and the barbaric acts of Babar's army, and was greatly pained to see the suffering of the innocent masses with His own eyes. He volunteered to be a prisoner of Babar's army so as to reach him, and advised him to refrain from such savage acts in future. Babur agreed to all that, and he freed all the prisoners at Guru Sahib's directions.

Guru Sahib was so moved by the destruction caused by Babar's army, that He wrote four Shabads on the subject which are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib.

Word Meaning: Sohun(i) = looked pretty. Puttiyaan = braids. Maangeen = in the cetral part (of hair). Sundhoor(u) = vermillion. Kaati = scissors. Dhoorr(i) = dust. Hudoor(i) = near. 1. Aadays(u) = bow to; salute. Aad(i) Purakh = Supreme Being (the origin of everything). Vays = different appearances. Pause.

Judhoun = when. Laarray = bridegrooms. Heedoali = palanquin. Dund Khund = (bangles of) ivory. Keetay Raas(i) = adorned (the forearms). Paani Vaariyay = a marriage custom in which the mother of the groom puts some water in a small container and revolves (circulates) it around the heads of the new couple. Jhullay = hand fans (with small mirrors inlaid). Jhimkun(i) = shine. 2. Ikk Lukh = one hundred thousand (rupees). Guree = coconut. Chhoohaaray = dried dates. Maanun(i) = enjoy. Sayjurriaan = luxurious beds. Silkaan = ropes. Moatsurriyaan = necklaces of pearls. 3. Jobun = youthful beauty. Rung Laayay = with love; with great care. Dootaan = agents; soldiers. Laiy Chullay = took away (as prisoners). Put(i) Guvaayay = ruining their dignity. Bhaavaiy = likes. Vudiyaayee = honour. Sujaayay = punishment. 4. Shaahaan = the rulers. Soorut(i) = wisdom. Tmaashaiy = entertainment. Chaayay = in zest. Uggon Day = beforehand. Chaytiyaiy = remember Waheguru (Allah). Babarvaani = Babar's frightening orders. Kooyir(u) = princes. 5. Ikkna = for some. Vukhut = time (for Nivaaj). Khooaayiyaiy = passed by; missed. Chaukay = (purified) kitchen. Vin(u) = without. Hindvaaniyaan = the Hindu ladies. Tikkay Kuddhay = anoint their foreheads. Na Kubhoon = never. 6.
Ikk(i) = some; many. Sookh = well-being. Theeyaiy = happens. 7.
MEANING: The hair (of women) which were adorned with braids, and which had vermilion in their central parts, have now been cut with scissors (they have been beheaded with swords), and they are lying on the ground with dust up to their necks now. They were living in palaces, but now they cannot even get near them. 1. I bow to thee, oh Waheguru. Nobody can find Your ends; however, You keep changing Your appearances. Pause.
When they (the royal women) were married, they looked very pretty with their grooms by their side. They came in palanquins adorned with ivory. Their mothers-in-law performed the ceremony of revolving the water containers around their heads, and they were fanned with shiny hand-fans with inlaid mirrors in them. 2. They were given hundreds of thousands of rupees in gifts, whether they were sitting or standing. They were enjoying comfortable beds and ate coconuts and dried dates (which only the rich could afford). Now, many of them had ropes around their necks (as slaves) while their pearl necklaces were falling apart. 3. Their wealth and youthful beauty, which they had maintained dearly, had now become their enemies (because they invited the enemy). The soldiers took them away as slaves, denigrating their dignity on the orders of Babar. It is up to Waheguru whom He bestows honour on, or whom He punishes as per His Will. 4. Why would anyone suffer any punishment if he remembers Waheguru beforehand? The current rulers had lost their noble thinking in the zest of lustful entertainments. Due to the frightening orders of Babar, even the princes lost their appetite. 5. For some, the time of offering nivaj had already slipped by, while some others did not get any time even for ritualistic worship. Without purifying their kitchens, how could the Hindu women take baths and anoint their foreheads? (They had no time for such rituals now. They had never remembered (god) Ram in their comfort, but now they could not even utter Allah (to please the Mughal armies). 6.
Some returned to their homes, while some others enquired about one another's wellbeing; while some were simply grieving in their sad times accepting the tragedy as their destiny. Only that happens what Waheguru wishes; the man is helpless before Him, oh Nanak. 7.11.

Word Meaning: Khayl = entertaining sports. Tubayla = stable. Bhayri = kettledrum. Shehnaayee = clarinet. Taygbund = scabbard; sheath. Gaadayrurr(i) = of sheepskin. Kuvaayee = army uniform. Aarsiyaan = mirrors. Bunkay = beautiful; handsome. 1. Gosaayeen = Lord (Waheguru). Ghurree = a period of 24 minutes (a moment). Thaap(i) = create. Oothaapay = destroys. Jur(u) = wealth. Pause.
Mundup = highly decorated (stage or something similar). Bunk = very strong. Suraayeen = inns. Sayj = bed. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Paan Tumboal = a wrap of betel leaves containing areca nut (soopaari), lime, and tobacco, etc. Herma = women's section in a royal palace. Chhaayee Maayee = disappear quickly. 2. Ghunee = very much; very many. Vigootee = Khooaayee = discomfited; humiliated; suffered without any achievement. Khoos(i) luyyay = takes away. 3. Koati Hoo = countless. Peer = Muslim holy men. Verj Ruhaayay = locked away. Meer = ruler (Babar). Dhaaya = attacked. Thaan Mookaam Munndar = different buildings. Bij = very strong; reinforced. Moochh(i) = cut into pieces. Kooyir = princes. Roolaaya = insulted; slighted. Percha Laaya = attracted attention; showed magical powers. 4. Run = battlefield. Tayg Vugaayee = attacked with sword. Onhee = Babar's army. Toopuk = guns. Taan Chulaayee = taking good aims. Onhee = the locals. Hust(i) Chirraayee = scattered in hands (failed to hit the target). Cheeri Durgah Paati = who are destined (by Waheguru's Court) to die. 5. Ikk = some. Hindvaani = Hindu. Toorkaani = Muslim women. Bhutiyaani = of Bhatts. Tthakuraani = of Tthaakurs. Payrun = long dresses (veils). Khoor = feet. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Musaani = in the grave.

Bunkay = handsome (dears). 6. Bhaanaiy = Will. Rooaayiyaiy = complain to get sympathy. Huqami = Waheguru. Vigsaiy = heart blooms. 7.

MEANING: Where are the entertaining sports and the stables of horses; where are the kettledrums and the clarinets (which showed the grandeur of the Pathan rule in Eminabad)? Where are the sheepskin sheaths and the red uniforms of the soldiers? Where are the mirrors in which the princes used to see their handsome faces? They are nowhere to be seen now. 1. You are the Lord of this world, and the world is Yours, oh Waheguru. You can create and destroy the world in a moment, and cause the wealth to create a wedge among brothers (so that the loving brothers become enemies of one another). Pause.

Where are the decorated palaces, reinforced gates, mansions, and inns-like houses? Where are the comfortable beds and the beautiful wives who stole the sleep of the princes? Where are the betel-leaf wraps and their servers, and where are the private sections of the royal palaces for women? They have all disappeared in a moment. 2. Very many people have been discomfited (suffered without achieving anything purposeful) by wealth which cannot be accumulated without committing sins, and which does not accompany the individual after his death. The Creator takes away the good qualities of the individual whom He wants to mislead. 3. On hearing about the imminent attack on Eminabad by Babar, the Nawab of Eminabad had locked in many Muslim holy men who claimed that they could use their magic spell to blind, and to disable the Babar army, but no Mughal soldier became blind, and no magic of the holy men worked. On the contrary, the strong palaces and the reinforced forts were burned down, and the princes were cut down into pieces and insulted badly. 4. The Mughals (Babar's army) and the Pathans (the local Nawab's army) fought on the battlefield with swords. The Mughals used their guns very effectively, while the Pathans' guns cracked in their hands (without inflicting any losses on the enemy). Those who had death written in their destiny had to die. 5. Every woman, whether she was a Hindu, a Muslim, a Bhatt, or from a Thakur family, suffered losses. Some of them had their long dresses torn from head to toe, while many others found their dwelling in the grave (were killed). And, it was very difficult for some to spend the night when their dears did not return home. 6. The Creator does everything Himself, and gets others to do whatever He likes, so where can one go to narrate their woeful tale? All comforts, and painful troubles, come with His Will, so whom can one complain to, to get sympathy? The King (Waheguru) operates with His Command, and feels blissful. We simply get the results of what has been written in our destiny, oh Nanak. 7.12.

Word Meaning: Goyil = a temporary meadow by river banks where people used to take their herds of cattle for grazing when no grass was left in the plains during periods of drought; a short-lived stay. Goyili = the owner of the herd. Koorr(u) Kmaaveh(i) = engages in false (spiritually unprofitable). 1. Chulliya = about to die. Vunjaara = the trader (of falsehood). Pause. Neet, Neet = everyday; lasting forever. Pind Puvaiy = when the body collapses. Jeeo = soul. 2. Ohee, Ohee = crying in pain. Haiy = is present now. Hoasi = will be there. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). 3. Dhundha Pirihou = engage in business which causes stronger bonds with Maya. Na Kut Hee = not at all. 4. Ghur(u) = (real) residence. Boojhaiy = realizes. Neend = sleep (of ignorance). 5. Chulda = leaving the world. Sumpaiy = wealth. Sunchou = accumulate. 6. Vunuj(u) = business. Lukhsood = objective. Laiyhou = achieve. Augun = vices. Tutt = reality; the origin of everything (Waheguru). Praavhou = acquire. 7. Bhoom(i) = ground. Sat(u) = high moral character; Waheguru's Naam. Kirs = farming. Laaha = benefit. 8. Kerm(i) = favour; kindness. Vukhaanaiy = recite. Biyohaara = routine dealings. 9. Laaha = profit. Toata = shortage; loss. Vaat = journey; path; custom. 10.

MEANING: Just like a meadow by a river bank where a herdsman takes his cattle to graze for a short period of time, the world is a temporary stay for the man. However, the man is engaging in a false (short-lived) business when he builds big mansions for a short life here on earth. 1. Wake up from a deep slumber (of ignorance), oh my friends; the human trader is leaving (has to leave) this world (and it happens every moment). Pause. One should build (strong and beautiful) mansions only if one has to live here forever. If one understands, he knows that when the soul leaves, the body collapses. 2. Only Waheguru is eternal, which is present now, and will always be there; but the human body is perishable, so why cry when a relative dies? You cry for him, but who will cry for you? 3. Actually, your crying is more like a ritual which bonds you more strongly with Maya. The dead cannot listen to your wailing at all; you simply cry for the people as a show-off. 4. You are asleep - away from (disconnected with) Waheguru - but He is the one who awakens you (providing examples of death that He controls). If one realizes where his real dwelling is, he will never fall asleep in reality. 5. If you find someone leaving this world with some wealth, then you too have the right to accumulate wealth; just think about it. 6. Do such a business in which you may achieve the objective of human life so that you do not have to repent. Give up all the bad qualities (vices) and acquire noble ones so as to acquire (become "one" with) the origin of everything, Waheguru. 7. Like a farmer who grows his crops by preparing the land well and putting in the best seed, one should grow the crop of Waheguru's Naam in the field of his heart by cleansing it with high moral values and seeding it with love for Waheguru. One is a successful businessman only if he gains a high level of spirituality. 8.

If one is lucky enough, he connects with Satguru, follows His advice, recites Waheguru's Naam, and remembers Him in his daily dealings (which are based on Waheguru's Naam). 9. The journey of life is such that sometimes the man makes profits and sometimes runs into losses. One should always accept both situations the same way as the Will of Waheguru. Only then he is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 10.13.

MEANING: I have searched in all four directions and have found out that there is none who belongs to me (will provide selfless support all the time). If you approve it, I will surrender myself to You if You become mine, oh my Lord, Waheguru. 1. There is no shelter for me other than Waheguru, so whom should I salute (serve)? You are my only Lord, and I have only Your Naam on my tongue. Pause. People serve the Sidh yogis and ask for supernatural powers. But, with Guru's advice, I have overcome such desires; I only beg for one thing - I should never forget Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 2. What do the mystics of different sects, like the Sidh yogis, family men, or the ones who cover their entire body with rags, gain when they wander in foreign lands? They still do not realize Guru's Shabad, which emphasizes remembering the Supreme Waheguru, the origin of everything, who is present everywhere with no gap. 3. The pundits, the family gurus (or teachers), and the fortune-tellers read religious books like the Puranas, but they, too, do not recognize Waheguru, which is hiddenly present in everybody's heart. 4.
Some self-afflicters worship some deity in forests or dwell at holy places. But why did they become detached from the world in the first place when they do not examine themselves, and are suffering from rage, and have darkness (of misbeliefs) in their mind? 5.
Some practice celibacy with great effort, and call them celibates, but they will never find salvation without the Guru's Shabad, and will continue to take rebirths because of their misbeliefs. 6. There are some family men who take shelter of the Guru and serve as per His Advice (obey Him). By worshipping God through reciting His Naam, they are enlightened, cleanse their minds, and motivate others to do the same. 7.
A devotee, who realizes Waheguru's door and His residence, (makes connection with Him), is recognized in Waheguru's Court. Such devotees never forget Waheguru's Naam, and get imbued in the Naam, oh Nanak. 8.14.

Duyyal(u) = kind. 1. Daatau = kind provider. Jaachika = beggars. Mundar(u) = temple. Bheejaiy = gets drenched; gets imbued. Pause. Koorra = false; (spiritually non-profitable). Laaluch = greed. Haumein Bikh(u) = the poison of ego and selfishness. 5.
Doobidha = indecisiveness of mind. Koovaatrri = immoral path. Moosougay = will be robbed (cheated). Ehinis(i) = day and night. 6. Saiyl(u) = stone; stone hearted. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Feeka = tasteless; lifeless. Kayta = however much. Ubh Untar(i) = inside. 7. Nidhaan = treasure. Muth(i) = by churning. 8.
MEANING: (One cannot swim across the world-sea while he has wishes and desires in his mind); the sea can be swum only by taking Waheguru's shelter. So, one should arrest his wishes and desires in his mind, and take shelter of the Lord which has been there since times immemorial, and is always kind. 1. You are the provider of everything while we are beggars at Your door, oh Waheguru; please show me Your holy sight. (But to have His glimpse) one needs to recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru whereby his mind-temple (where Waheguru is to reside) gets imbued with His love. Pause.
We can recognize (get connected with) Waheguru only if we give up our greed (for worldly attractions). One realizes his supreme objective of life (union with Waheguru) by getting absorbed in Guru's Shabad. 2. The human mind is extremely greedy, greed-engrossed, and is showing greed. One can be friends with Waheguru only if he gets rid of his greed in the shelter of the Guru. 3. If a farmer seeds a field covered with saltpetre to grow a crop, how can he earn any profit? The mind of a Maya-engrossed man is also like a field covered with saltpetre, and cannot be imbued with love for Waheguru because the falsehood (of Maya) keeps one engrossed in falsehood. 4. Quit (control) your greed because it leads to a big trouble (of reincarnation), oh, the blind (ignorant) people. By killing (controlling) your poisonous selfishness and ego, you can have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in your heart. 5. Quit the indecisiveness (doubts and misgivings) of your mind, as it is a bad (spiritually harmful) path to follow, as you will be robbed of any good qualities. One should rather sing Waheguru's praise (Naam) in the shelter of the Guru. 6.
The mind of a Maya-engrossed man is like a stone, like a rock, which never absorbs water and stays dry inside no matter how long you keep it in water. The life of a Maya-engrossed person is tasteless, and is condemnable because like a rock which does not absorb water, it does not absorb Guru's Shabad. 7. Waheguru's Naam, which is kindly given by the Guru, is a treasure of all virtues (and all comforts). I pray that I should never forget Waheguru, and drink His Naam-Amrit by churning it well (with full understanding and dedication), oh Nanak. 8.15.

Word Meaning: Chullunhaar = mortal. Vaat Vutaaya = following different (non-spiritual) paths. Dhundh Pittay = suffers in worldly affairs. Sunsaar = world. 1. Bhuviyaiy = wander around. Dhoondiyaiy = search for. Mumta = paternal attachment. Visurjiya = got rid of. Pause. Sachiyaar(u) = the searcher of Waheguru's Naam. Buhourr(i) = again. 2. Rovhou = cry for. Na Jaanhoo = do not know. Slaah(i) = with praise. Puchhaanhoo = recognize. 3. Vujhou = wages (earnings). Jaaniyaiy = one needs to recognize. Laaha = benefit. Pullaiy Paayay = bag it. Siyyanyiyaiy = recognize. 4. Paindha Jaayay = is given the robe of honour. Bhaaniyaiy = is liked. Sir(i) Maar(u) = punishment. Bund Rubaaniyaiy = in the prison of God. 5. Niyaayoun = justice. Gerb = ego. Vunjaayiyaiy = remove; get rid of. 6. Vaad Khupaayiyaiy = suffer uselessly in debating. Tthug(i) Mootthi = is cheated; is robbed. Koorriyaar = (woman who deals in falsehood. Bunnh(i) = tied up. 7. Sahib = Lord. Ridaiy = in the heart. Goonhaa = sins. Kmaavhi = work towards. 8. Ghaaliyaiy = put in hard efforts. Nudr(i) Nihaaliyaiy = cast a kind sight. 9.

MEANING: The mortal man follows the path of life, revolving around the illusions of Maya. He does not like Waheguru's Naam (makes no connection with Him), and suffers in worldly affairs. 1. People wander uselessly in forests, and search for Waheguru, but He is not just there. One can "see" Him (make a connection with Him) with the Guru's Shabad only when he relinquishes his love for worldly attachments and finds peace of mind. Pause.

An individual who seeks Waheguru can realize Him through singing His praise, but a Maya-engrossed person cannot. A man who connects his mind with Waheguru never takes rebirths. 2. Crying for the dead is useless, and a man who cries for his dead relatives does not understand what to cry for (have love for). The real crying (wishing) involves singing the praises of Waheguru and obeying His Command (Will). 3. Only the birth of that human being is meaningful who gladly accepts and is satisfied with whatever Waheguru gives him. When he accepts Waheguru's Will like this, he acquires spiritual benefit (attains high spiritual state). 4. Such a devotee is liked in Waheguru's Court, and is given the robe of honour there. While those who do not accept Waheguru's Will (and complain all the time) are punished in Waheguru's prison with His Huqam. 5.

If we have full faith in Waheguru that He always delivers justice, we gain the spiritual benefit of connecting with Him. But we should not be conceited that whatever we receive (achieve) in life is due to our efforts. We receive whatever is prewritten in our destiny (due to His kindness). 6. The followers of their mind suffer uselessly in meaningless debates and are punished. The human-bride, which deals only in perishable things, is robbed and cheated (of good opportunities to connect with Waheguru), and is taken as a prisoner to His Court. 7. One should embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart so that he does not have to repent. One should sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, who forgives all our sins. 8. I, Nanak, always beg for Waheguru's Naam, and will work hard to acquire it in Guru's shelter if Waheguru is kind to me. I have no desire to worship anyone else; please cast a kind sight on me, oh Waheguru. 9.16.

Word Meaning: Dhoodhi = search for. Bun Huriyaavla = healthy forest. Tikaiy = stays. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Ootaavla = eager; happily. 1. Soyay = Waheguru. Uver(u) = any other. Gur Kee Kaar Kmaayay = act on Guru's advice. Guru. Mehl = Waheguru's Residence. Pause. Bhaavyee = is liked. Rujaayay = accept His Will. Unk(i) = in the heart. 2. Vusaiy = takes dwelling. Toat(i) = shortage. 3. Ubay Tubay = every common man (Tom, Dick, and Harry). Chaakri = slavery. Kiyoun = how? Bhurnaal(i) = in the middle of the sea. 4. Vaychiyaiy = sell (surrender unconditionally). Vust(u) = thing; Waheguru's priceless Naam. Bhaalay = search for. 5. Aakhiyaiy = talk about. Aap(u) guvaayay = lost (gave up) selfishness and ego. Mur(i) Ruhay = kill desires; dead as far as Maya is concerned. Mern = recurring death; the birth-death cycle. Theeya = happens. 6. Dhoor Kee Foormaayee = as dictated by Waheguru. Keemut = worth. 7. Ruttna = noble qualities. Paarukh(u) = evaluator. Dhunee = Lord. 8.

MEANING: (People go to forests to search for Waheguru), but what do they search for there? For me, my house is a lush green forest (I feel detached from Maya while living there). With Guru's Shabad, Waheguru happily takes up dwelling in the heart of such a devotee. 1.

Now, I find Him everywhere, no matter which direction I look, and I do not recognize anybody else like Him. One recognizes Waheguru's Residence (gets connected with Him) by acting on the Guru's Word (advice). Pause. When Waheguru likes someone, He connects the devotee with Him. By spending life as per Waheguru's Will all the time, the devotee merges with Him. 2. When the True Lord takes dwelling in a devotee's heart, he sees Him everywhere. Then Waheguru bestows honour on the devotee, and there is never a shortage of such honour (all deserving people receive honour, no matter how many there are). 3. One cannot reach Waheguru's Court by acting like a slave to (by pleasing) everybody. It is like boarding a rock boat that sinks in the sea. 4. When a devotee unconditionally surrenders his mind and his wisdom to the Guru, he finds Waheguru's priceless Naam in his own heart. 5. People talk about the cycle of birth and death, which Waheguru Himself has created. A devotee whose selfishness and ego are eradicated has this cycle broken for him (he merges into Waheguru). 6. If a devotee spends his life as per the Will of Waheguru, and realizes Him by surrendering his mind to Satguru, who (no one) can put any value on his high level of spirituality? 7.
Waheguru is the evaluator of the jewels (virtuous devotees), and He is the one who evaluates them (and rewards them accordingly). The true (everlasting) honour for a devotee is that when the Lord comes to dwell in his heart, oh Nanak. 8.17.

Word Meaning: Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Bherm(u) = illusions. Mool(u) = root (Waheguru). Daali = branch (Maya). Chhaayee = ash; dust. 1. Chhootiyaiy = liberate. Put(i) = dignity. Pause. Aiko = the One (Waheguru). Poori Mut(i) = perfect wisdom. Aad(i) Joogaad(i) = from times immemorial. Nirunjunaa = Waheguru. 2. Uver(u) = other. Saachay Perthaayee = in the spiritual state connected with God. 3. Kaytee = a large number. Aap(i) = Waheguru. Vaaturri = the beautiful path. 4. Oojhurr(i) = in wilderness (where one gets lost). Nerk = hell (rebirths). 5.

Bhermaayiyaiy = travels though. Ta Kee = of Waheguru. 6. Saayee = the same. Vudiyaayee = grandeur; majesty. 7. Sir(u) = wisdom; thinking. Put(i) Paayay = is honoured. 8.

MEANING: Those who are misled by their misbeliefs (illusions) and have forgotten Waheguru's Naam are ignorant and get attached to the branches (Maya) and ignore the root (of the Waheguru-Tree). (They do not realize that when the root dies, the branches cannot survive. So, what do they achieve? Ash? 1. Only a few people realize that we cannot find salvation without Waheguru's Naam. Only those find salvation who take the Guru's shelter; those who turn their face away from the Guru (do not follow the Guru's Word), lose their dignity in Waheguru's Court. Pause. Those who serve only Waheguru have perfect wisdom. A real devotee always stays in the shelter of Waheguru, who has been around since time immemorial. 2. I have only one Lord (Waheguru), and none else. I enjoy bliss in the spiritual state in which I am connected with Him with His kindness. 3. Many people talk about Waheguru, and get others to do the same, but no one can realize Him without the shelter of the Guru (they do not know the correct approach). Waheguru Himself puts people on the right path, in which His real worship (as advised by the Guru) is reiterated. 4. No matter how much a Maya-engrossed person is advised about the correct path to realize Waheguru, he always follows the path of spiritual wilderness (of Maya), where he gets lost, and never gets connected with the Guru. He cannot find salvation without Waheguru's Naam, and goes to hell (is trapped in the birth-death cycle) after death. 5. He does not recite Waheguru's Naam and goes through the birth-death cycle. Without serving Guru, he does not recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam. 6. But, no one can be blamed for his actions because he performs only that type of service which Waheguru makes him do. Waheguru does everything the way He wants, and watches His splendour. There is no one else to whom one can complain. 7.
Only that individual serves the Guru whom Waheguru makes serve Him. One can find salvation only when he surrenders his head (mind or wisdom) to Waheguru; such a devotee is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 8.18.

Word Meaning: Roorro = Roorri = beautiful; supreme. Maahro = expert; perfect. Pud Nirbaani = the spiritual level above the effects of Maya. 1. Ohlgi = a menial; (of) low caste. Chhoaroo = boy; slave. MEANING: The Lord is supreme and perfect, and so is the Gurbani. With great luck, a man gets connected with the Guru and attains the supreme spiritual level. 1.

I am a menial of the menials, and a slave of Yours, oh Waheguru. I am content to live as You wish, but I have only one request: I want Your Naam on my tongue. Pause.

I have a great thirst for Your holy sight with Your kindness, and a devotee earns Your liking only if You wish so. All honours are in the hands of my Lord (are under His control), and a man gets respect only with His Will. 2. Do not think that Waheguru is far away from you; He resides inside you. I see Him to be present everywhere, but no one can evaluate Him. 3. Waheguru does (creates) everything Himself, and takes things away (destroys them) as He likes. He enjoys His own grandeur. A devotee, who seeks Guru's shelter, sees Him everywhere, and that's how (and when) he evaluates Him. 4. If one acts on the advice of the Guru, he can gain spiritual benefit (wealth) in this life, but one gets connected with Waheguru only if he is predestined to do so. 5. Misled by his misgivings, the follower of his mind (disconnected from the Guru) suffers loss of noble qualities all the time. The money-engrossed blind man does not think of Waheguru, so how can he have a glimpse of Him (connect with Him)? 6. One is thought of (given credit for) having been born in the world only if he gets connected with Waheguru. Such a person becomes just like the Guru on connecting with Him, and he is able to merge with Waheguru. 7.

Those who are imbued with Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam), feel always contented. They perform deeds in life according to the prewritten Huqam of Waheguru for them, and stay detached from Maya day and night, oh Nanak. 8.19.

MEANING: No matter how much we talk about Waheguru, we can never find His limits. I am without any support. You are my only support, and I feel very strong because of Your strength (You are the source of my strength), oh Waheguru. 1. It is my, Nanak's, request to You, that gift me Your everlasting Naam because it is the source of all comforts, oh dear Waheguru. With Guru's Shabad, one can overcome one's selfishness and ego, and one's mind is enlightened, and one connects with Waheguru. Pause.

With Guru's Shabad, one gains a clear understanding of Waheguru and is freed from selfishness and ego. The Guru gives the devotee Waheguru's Naam, which becomes the basis of his life, and his mind is convinced of the vital importance of the Naam. 2. Waheguru's Naam provides contentment day and night, and this is the true service to the Lord (to keep His Naam fresh in mind). The devotee, who leads his life by the Will of Waheguru, experiences no obstacle in his path (to union with Him). 3. The individual, who accepts Waheguru's Will gladly, finds approval in His Court, and becomes worthy of His Naam-Treasure (to be used later as a Guide to enlighten the world). The impure (with vices) find no shelter in Waheguru's Court; they are rejected and put together with other impure people (to be recycled in other life forms). 4. The pure are looked after well day and night (always) in Waheguru's Court, and they acquire the everlasting blissfulness as their possession. The impure do not catch the kind sight of Waheguru, and are burned in the fire of hell (rebirths). 5. Those who search their own souls also realize Waheguru. For them, Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is the only tree (shelter) for them, which is also the fruit of reward for them. 6. Those who taste the reward of Amrit enjoy contentment while connected with Waheguru. They have no misgivings or feelings of discrimination, and enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam on their tongue. 7. With predestined union (of his soul with his body) by the Will of Waheguru, the man comes into this world; so, he should always accept Waheguru's Will gladly. If I, a man full of vices, can get the virtues of Waheguru's Naam as a gift, I will consider that to be the best honour for me, oh Nanak. 8.20.

MEANING: My mind is imbued with Waheguru's Naam as I recite it. Why should it cause any problems for the people if You like me, oh, Waheguru? 1.

As long as one is alive, and has healthy body, he should recite Waheguru's Naam. The benefit of singing Waheguru's praise is that one enjoys blissfulness. Pause. Serving You (obeying Your Command) is the true business of life, so please be kind and make me do just that. I survive only by singing Your praise as You are the basis of my life, oh Waheguru. 2. I am a slave, a doorman at Your door, and You know the discomfort (pain of my separation from You) of my Waheguru. The amazing thing is that Your worship eradicates all my discomforts. 3. When a devotee takes Guru's shelter, he comes to realize that it is only Waheguru's Naam that is approved in His Court. An individual who leads his life with contentment and serves humanity with love receives Waheguru's Naam as his journey expenses (to complete the journey of life successfully, i.e., achieve union with Waheguru). The eternal Waheguru delivers full justice, and knows whom to give the gift of His Naam. The individual, who Waheguru likes (who deserves), receives His Naam. 6.

The gift of the Perfect Waheguru is also perfect, but He gives it only to him whom He is kind to. His Naam is priceless, and I wish to serve Him day and night to have His Naam, oh Nanak. 7. You are Supreme, and I am a low-caste person (have bad qualities), but I am still known to be Your servant. I pray to You to cast a kind sight on me so that - even though I am disconnected from You (because of my bad qualities) - I get Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 8.21.

Word Meaning: Aavun Jaana = rebirths. Ruhhay = stopped; avoided. Mayla = union (with Waheguru). Ghuno = very much; unbearable Sehsa = fear; worry. Doyee = love with someone other than Waheguru. 1. Phit = Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Chuturaayee = cleverness. Sadh = Satguru. Bhaayee = liked. Pause. Tuou = (only) then. Poora = perfect. Raas(i) = capital. Binsaiy = vanish. Bherm(u) = misbelief. Koora = false (about Maya). 2. Dhun(u) = praise-worthy. Jus(u) = praise. Aad(i) Purakh(u) = the origin (Waheguru). Uprumpura = limitless. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. 3.

Nutooyay = acrobat. Saang = impersonation. Baazi = drama. Sunsaara = world. Khin Pul(u) = for a moment. Oojhrut = destruction. Nuhee Baara = in no time. 4. Chaupurr = the game of dice (where some pawns reach the destination while others lose). Jhootthaiy = false. Jinaiy = win. 5. Tohni = stick (to guide). Nis(i) = night. Daut = day. Svaariay = adorns. 6. Tiyoun = as You please. Unt(i) = for the end; at the time of death. Sukhaayee = friend; benefactor. Mookut(i) Dooaara = the door for salvation. 7. Matiya = erased; eradicated. Mooraaray = of Waheguru. Taaray = salvages. 8.

MEANING: How can one put a stop to (avoid) rebirths, and achieve union with Waheguru? The suffering of rebirths is unbearable, and there is always a worry of falling in love with Maya (which is the root of the birth – death cycle). 1. There is no life without Waheguru's Naam, and man's cleverness (or shrewdness) is condemnable because he does not like to serve Satguru or worship Waheguru (and thinks that he can enjoy life living in the world of Maya). Pause. One can break the birth-death cycle only when one connects with the Perfect Guru because He dispels the false belief of the gimmicks of Maya, and gives Waheguru's Naam as the capital for life. 2. An individual is praiseworthy who stays in the company of the holy devotees and sings Waheguru's praise. Waheguru, which has been here ever since, is limitless, and can be realized in the shelter of the Guru only. 3. This world is like a drama where the actors are performing different roles, like an acrobat (actor) who changes appearances frequently. The world enjoys this drama for a very short time, which could be over (suffer destruction) in no time. 4. The world can also be compared to a game of dice in which some pawns reach their destination and win, while others never reach their destination. The ego of some people causes them to lose, while others, who ponder on Guru's Shabad (act on his Advice), reach their destination (achieve union with Waheguru), and win. 5. Just like a stick in the hand of a blind man, which guides him, Waheguru's Naam is the stick in my hand to guide me (on the spiritual path). Waheguru's Naam is my support, adorning my life (with noble qualities) day and night (and making it successful). 6. Your Naam is the basis of my life, and I will gladly live my life the way You want, oh my Waheguru. I have realized Waheguru's Naam, which will be my benefactor at the time of my death, and take me to the door of salvation. 7.
I have been able to eradicate the suffering of the birth-death cycle by reciting Waheguru's Naam. I pray that I should never forget Waheguru's Naam, and the Perfect Guru ferries me across the sea of Maya (to connect me with God), oh Nanak. 8.22.

Word Meaning: Sur(u) = Sarovar = pool of (Naam-Amrit). Soorsuri = the River Ganga. Churn Smaani = absorption in Waheguru's feet (Naam). Shaakhaan Teen(i) = Maya with three qualities. Mool(u) = the basis (Waheguru). Raavaiy = recites. Vidaani = amazing. 1. Ta Kay = His (Waheguru's). Jun(u) = devotees. Pause. Taytees Krorri = the 330 million gods of Hindus. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Adhaari = basis; in control. Roop = manifestations. Lukhnay = seen. 2. Teen Goona = the three qualities of Maya. Joog = eon; world. Chaaray Khaani = the four sources of reproduction. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Perm Pud = the highest spiritual level. Kuthay = describe. Akuth = indescribable. 3. Praani = man. Smaani = gets absorbed. 4. Aavun Jaani = which come and go (all living mortals). Bhaavaiy = like. Boojhaiy = realizes. Iyaani = ignorant. 5. Buppurra = poor; powerless. Avtaari = are born. 6. Joogah, Joogah = of different eons. Raajay = kings; noble souls. Avtaari = an incarnation of Waheguru. Ta Ka = of Waheguru. 7. Dayh(i) = give (the ability or understanding). Vukhaani = recite. Sehjay = in the blissful state of mind. 8.

MEANING: All the religious books like the Shastras, the Vedas, and the Simritis are contained in Your Naam-Sarovar (Their teachings do not come even close to Your Naam), oh Waheguru. Your Naam is supreme, and I do not need to ponder on such religious books. Likewise, the River Ganga, which is considered sacred by Hindus, lies at Your feet (has no special significance), so I do not need to take a dip in it either. You are the creator of all amazing things, including Maya, which has three qualities, and You are the origin (basis) of everything. I simply recite Your Naam with my (limited) wisdom, (and feel blissful). 1.
I worship Waheguru's Feet (remember Him), and recite the Amrit-like Gurbani. Pause.
All the 330 million Hindu gods are Your slaves, and all the supernatural powers (which people long to have) are in Your control. Waheguru, in His many different manifestations, is not visible (is beyond comprehension), so how can one describe Him by any thoughts? 2.
The three qualities of Maya in the world are created by You, and so are the four sources of reproduction. It is only by Your benevolence that one can attain the highest spiritual state, and be able to describe the story (virtues) of the indescribable Waheguru. 3.
You are the creator, and everything has been created by You; the man has no power (to change anything). The individual, on whom You cast Your kind sight, gets absorbed in Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4. Everybody, who is born and who dies, recites Your Naam,(but not everybody can realize the Truth); only that individual realizes You (makes a connection with You) in the shelter of the Guru, whom You like. The others are followers of their minds and spend their lives in ignorance. 5. It is believed that You gave all four Vedas to Brahma, who wrote them and read them and kept pondering on them. He did not understand Your Huqam; rather, he discussed which religious deeds lead to paradise and which lead to hell. 6. You created some noble souls in every eon who were praised as Your incarnations by many people. But even those noble souls (like Rama and Krishna) found no end to Your limits; so how can I think about Your virtues and discuss them? 7. You are everlasting, and so is Your creation, oh Waheguru. I can recite Your eternal Naam only if You give me the ability to do so. A devotee, whom You enlighten, gets absorbed in Your Naam in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 8.1.23.

Word Meaning: Bherm(u) = doubts; illusions. Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (Waheguru). Cheenh(i) = recognizing; understanding. 1.
Tutt = the origin (Waheguru). Giyan(u) = the truth. Bidh(i) = situation; secrets. Pause.

Vin(u) = without. Doojaiy = other (Maya). Lobhaani = engripped by worldly attachments. 3. Tup = torturous labour (to worship some god). Sir(i) = above. Saar(u) = supreme. Visaarunhaar(u) = destroyer. Sachiyaar(u) = the true devotee (with perfectly pure mind. 4. Tirbhuvun = of the three-layered universe. Sojhi Hoyay = gets the understanding. Aap(u) Puchhan(i) = recognizing self. Mehl = Waheguru's residence. 5.
Kool = clan. Oodhaaray = finds salvation. Oor(i) Dhaaray = implant in mind. Saachi Sobha = honest praise with a pure mind. 6. J(i) = those. Undin(u) = every day. Drirraayay = reinforce. 7. Raatay = imbued. Moakh Dooar = door of salvation. 8.

MEANING: My Satguru dispelled all my doubts and implanted Waheguru's Naam, which is above the effects of Maya, in my mind. By understanding Guru's Shabad (and thereby making a connection with Waheguru), I realized all the comforts. 1.
Listen to the truth about Waheguru, oh my mind. The Provider, Waheguru, knows the situation of the minds of all, but He gives the treasure of His Naam only through the Guru. Pause. The greatness of getting connected with the Guru is that He puts out the fire of worldly attachments and desires. Then, imbued in Waheguru's love in the blissful state of mind, the devotee sings Waheguru's praise. 2. Nobody knows about Waheguru (get connected with Him) without the shelter of the Guru, and one stays gripped in the worldly attachments caused by Maya. A devout devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam and Bani in the Guru's shelter. 3. Service to the Guru (obeying His Advice) is the supreme worship and is the best way of all the torturous worships by which Waheguru's Naam, which is the destroyer of all sufferings, is embedded in the mind of the devotee. Such a true devotee is clearly visible (is prominently honoured) in Waheguru's Court. 4.
One gains an understanding of the three-layered universe (and how Waheguru administers it) in the shelter of the Guru. The devotee who recognizes the self also realizes Waheguru. He gets access to Waheguru's Residence (makes connection with Him) with Guru's eternal Bani (Shabad). 5. Waheguru's honest praise with a pure mind leads one to His Door (connects the devotee with Him). With service to (in the shelter of) the Guru, such a devotee keeps the holy Naam in his mind all the time, and not only does he find salvation for himself, but also for his whole clan (for all his spiritual associates). 6. Those are highly fortunate who are put to the Guru's service (by Waheguru). They worship Waheguru constantly and reinforce His Naam in their minds. The whole world can be salvaged with Waheguru's Naam. 7. Nanak offers advice to keep Waheguru's Naam afresh in your mind all the time, oh my friends. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's worship are emancipated at Waheguru's Door. 8.2.24.

Word Meaning: Niraasa = overcoming worldly desires. Sootay = asleep; unaware of reality. Loyee = people. Soyee = that (Waheguru). 1. Boojhaaya = enlightened. Bhookh(u) = appetite of Maya. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Rujaayee = with His Will. Pause. Kul(i) = in this world of unrest. Keerut = (Waheguru's) praise. Chookaiy = is removed. Pervaan(u) = is approved. Jaan(u) = realize (make a connection with). 2. Vusaayay = is implanted. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 3. Bhoolaavaiy = misguides. Maarug = (the right) path. 4. Subh = the whole world. Buouraani = confused; misguided. 5. Teen Bhuvun = the three-layered universe. Bhaaou = love; attachment. Drirraaya = reinforced. Kerm = rituals. 6. Undin(u) = every day. Bhogaiy = enjoys. Sehj(i) = Anund = in blissful state. Ruttay = imbued. 7. Jup(i) = by reciting. Bhaiy = fear. Oordhaar(i) = implant in the heart. 8.

MEANING: Normally, everybody builds hopes, and more hopes about a better life in future, but they become disinterested in worldly affairs (become contented) once they recognize Waheguru's Will (that whatever He does is for their good, and His Will cannot be changed). Lost in their hopes, many people are asleep (unaware of Waheguru's Huqam); only that individual wakes up who is awakened by Him (to obey His Huqam). 1. A man's appetite for Maya never gets satisfied without Satguru's shelter, who enlightens him with Waheguru's Naam. One's fire of desires is put out by Waheguru's Naam, but he receives the Naam only with His Will, though. Pause. So, to lead a life free from the bonds of Maya, one must sing Waheguru's praise with Satguru's Shabad. This is the only worship which eradicates one's ego. One is approved in Waheguru's Court with service to Satguru (by obeying His Advice). Make a connection with Waheguru, the origin of everything (and the fulfiller of all hopes). (Maya, too, has been created by Him), Oh, my friend. 2. What should one offer to the (Satguru) who explains His Shabad, and kindly implants Waheguru's Naam in one's heart? (Answer)The right thing to do is to offer one's head (surrender one's wisdom) to Him, and give up all one's selfishness and ego. By recognizing Waheguru's Huqam (accepting His Will), he enjoys all comforts. 3. Waheguru does everything Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes. He, Himself, implants His Naam in the devotee's heart by making him seek Satguru's shelter. He Himself puts some people on the path of righteousness while misguiding others (by attaching them to Maya). One merges with Him with His Shabad (as explained by Satguru). 4. Satguru's Shabad and His Bani are both eternal, which the devotees recite in His shelter in every eon (to attain salvation). People who are disconnected from Waheguru are misguided by their misbeliefs and attachment to Maya. The whole world is confused without Waheguru's Naam. 5. Maya has the same effect in the whole universe; the foolish read the religious books like the Shastras, but use their study to reinforce love for Maya (rather than for Waheguru). They perform many religious rituals, which are the source of more suffering. But the devotees always enjoy bliss by serving the Satguru. 6. Pondering on the Guru Shabad (acting on it) is as sweet as Amrit. One can enjoy it all the time by killing their selfishness and ego. With Waheguru's grace, the devotees enjoy the bliss of the high spiritual state above Maya, as they get imbued in the love for Waheguru's Naam. 7. Pondering on (focusing on) Guru's Shabad, and killing his selfishness and ego, one should recite Waheguru's Naam with fear for Him in mind. But, Waheguru's Naam can be enshrined in the mind only with the wisdom (advice) of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.3.25.

Word Meaning: Kaafi = a type of lyric. Shaant(i) = calmness; peace of mind. Oopjaiy = springs up; is produced. Vuddi Vudiyaayee = great honour. 1. Chayt(i) = refresh in mind. Julunda = burning (in the fire of desires). Pause. Muhaa Tutt = the great reality; Waheguru. Dur = Waheguru's Door. Ghur = Waheguru's Residence, own heart (self-realization). Bhundaara = treasures. 2. Slaah = sing praise. Apaara = without limits. 3. Nirmul = clean; pure; pious. 4. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Sojhi = understanding. Pusr(i) Ruhhee = is spreading out. Bighun(u) = obstacles; impediments. 7. Aapnaiy Huth(i) = in Waheguru's hand. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. 8.
MEANING: One gets peace of mind in the shelter of the Guru because He puts out the fire of his desires. We receive Waheguru's Naam from the Guru as a result of which we earn great respect (in Waheguru's Court and in this world too). 1.

(If you want peace of mind), keep reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh, my friend. Watching the world burning in the fire of desires, I rushed to the shelter of the Guru. Pause.
One acquires Divine Knowledge (union with Waheguru) from the Guru, which is the source of knowledge of the Supreme Truth (Waheguru). I acquired the Knowledge about the Door and the Residence of Waheguru (made a connection with Him) from the Guru, and now I have the treasures of worship full in my heart. 2. The worth of Waheguru's Naam can be appreciated and can be recited only in the shelter of the Guru. It is only in the shelter of the Guru that one gets to sing praise of Waheguru, whereby the Shabad (Naam) of the limitless Waheguru gets embedded in his heart. 3. One always enjoys comforts in the shelter of the Guru, and one never suffers from any misery. One's selfishness and ego get killed in the Guru's shelter, and one's mind becomes pure and holy. 4.
When one's selfishness and ego are eradicated in the Guru's shelter, he comes to realize the working of the whole universe (how God looks after His creation). He can see the holy Light of Waheguru everywhere, and his own soul merges with Him. 5.
When the Perfect Guru explains Waheguru's secrets, one's thinking is purified. With Waheguru's Naam in the heart, his mind becomes peaceful, and he enjoys bliss. 6.
However, one connects with Satguru only if Waheguru casts a kind gaze on him. In that case, all his sins are eradicated, he never suffers any discomfort, and he never encounters any hindrance on the path to his union with Waheguru. 7. All the honours are in the hands of Waheguru, and He instils His Naam in the heart of the devotee of His choice. When the Naam-treasure gets implanted in the devotee's mind, he is accorded honours everywhere, oh Nanak. 8.4.26.

Word Meaning: Vusaayay = embed. Undin(u) = always. Chit(u) = mind. 1. Dooja = (attachment for the) other (Maya). Vudiyaayee = honour. Pause.

Soor = gods. Nur = men. Moon(i) = ascetics who stay quiet for long times; sages. Khojday = search for. Jotikee = fortune tellers. Boojh = understanding. 2.
Thaiyn Subh Rukhiyoan = keeps everybody in its place; looks after everyone. Boojh Boojhaayee = given the understanding; clarifies. 3. Jea Junt = all living beings. Munda = bad; evil. 4. Vertda = operates. Sir(i) Kaara = duty to perform; in destiny. Bhuvaali = spun head; misguided. Lobh(u) = greed. Vikaara =lust; sensual desires. 5. Bukhshiun = gifted. Bhundaara = treasures. 6.
Sojhi = enlightenment. Bhoolaayay = misguided. 7.
Punch = the five demons. Veechaari = thoughtful. Vus(i) = under control. 8.
MEANING: If you embed Waheguru's Naam in your heart, Waheguru will come to reside in your heart on His own, oh my brother. Such a devotee stays absorbed in His thoughts and worships the eternal Waheguru (which is the real worship). 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam only, and you will enjoy comforts. Overcome your selfishness and ego and love for the other (Maya); you will earn honours. Pause.
The gods, the men, the ascetics who stay quiet for long times (they believe that they can quieten their mind too this way) long for Waheguru's worship, but they cannot acquire it in their mind without the shelter of Satguru. The pundits and the fortune tellers read religious books, but get no understanding of true worship. 2. Waheguru looks after everybody's interests, but nothing can be said about His kindness as to whom He gives the gift of His worship. The Guru makes it clear to us that only that devotee gets the gift of His worship whom He likes. 3. All the living beings are His creation, and He belongs to everyone; so how can we call someone bad or evil when he is no stranger (is created by Waheguru). 4. There is only one Huqam (law) of Waheguru that operates everywhere, and everybody does whatever is in his destiny. Waheguru Himself spins the heads of people (misguides them) by injecting greed and lust (sensual enjoyment) in them. 5.
He makes some of us devotees of the Guru by giving us the power of spiritual thinking. He gives them the gift of His worship, and their treasures are full of that. 6.
The knowledgeable people (with Divine Light in them) have firm faith in Waheguru and see Him everywhere. They are not misled by anyone (even if someone tries), because they know the Truth. 7. They have all the five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego) operating in their mind, but they are all thoughtful now (stay under control). However, they cannot be controlled or ego killed without the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.5.27.

Aapay daan(u) kuray, kis(u) aakhiyaiy, Aapay dayay boojhaayee. Nanak Naam(u) dhiyaayay tu, Dur(i) Sachaiy sobha paayee. 8.6.28.

Word Meaning: Ghuraiy undar(i) = in the heart. Vuth(u) = the invaluable article (Waheguru's Naam). Kupt = kupaat = doors. Khoolaahi = get opened. 1. Gaahuk = buyer. Ruttan(u) = precious like jewels. Veechaara = thinking. Dib Disht = the vision of the gods (deep vision). Undar(u) Khohlay = open the mind. Mookut(i) Bhundaara = the treasures of salvation. 2. Mehl Anayk = dwelling of the limitless Waheguru. Jeeo = soul. Vusayra = resides. Mun Chindiya = as wished by the mind. Ful(u) = reward. Phayra = return; rebirth. 3. Paarkhiyaan = evaluator; judge. Smaal(i) Luyyee = take care. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Amool(u) = priceless. Koyee = some rare. 4. Bhaalay = looks for. Luhaiy = acquire. Bhermay Bhoola = misled in doubts. 5. Pur Ghur = residences of others. Jhoottha = liar; immoral. Vaangoon = like. Choataan Khaayee = gets beaten. 6. Jaata = recognized. Vudiyaayi = greatness. 7. Daan(u) Kuray = gives gifts kindly. Sobha = praise. 8.

MEANING: The all-important Waheguru (His Naam) resides in the heart of the man, and there is nothing outside (in forests or on the mountains where the man is looking for). But Waheguru's Naam can be realized only in the shelter of the Guru, where the doors to the spiritual world open in one's mind. 1. Waheguru is realized in the shelter of the Guru, oh my brother. There is an invisible treasure of Waheguru's Naam in man's heart which the Guru reveals. Pause. But, only a buyer of Waheguru's Naam acquires the jewel-like precious thinking to acquire the Naam. With this kind of thinking, he acquires godlike insight and sees the treasure of emancipation when his mind opens to the spiritual world. 2. He realizes that the limitless Waheguru resides in his mind along with his own soul. With realization of Waheguru, all the wishes of his mind are fulfilled, and he never takes birth again. 3. Enlightened by the Guru, the devotee becomes a judge (an appraiser) of the value of Waheguru's Naam, and carefully enshrines it in his heart. But only a rare devotee acquires the priceless Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 4. What can a person achieve by looking for Waheguru in the wilderness when He is present in our hearts? The whole world is misled by its misbeliefs and is disconnected with Waheguru, as a result of which it is losing its dignity (in Waheguru's Court). 5. The immoral man forgets his own house (his wife and his belongings) and, because of his lust and greed, he keeps an evil eye on others' houses. But he is caught like a thief, and without Waheguru's Naam (and because of the resulting immorality), he gets a severe beating (punishment) in Waheguru's Court. 6. Those who search their own mind for Waheguru are blissful. With Guru's greatness (of being kind), such devotees recognize Waheguru in their mind. 7. Waheguru, Himself, enlightens His devotees and grants the gift of His Naam. There is no one else to whom we can appeal. Recite Waheguru's Naam to earn praise in His Court, oh Nanak. 8.6.28.

Word Meaning: Puchhaaniya = recognized. Saad = taste. Rus(i) = enjoyable taste. Chaakhiyaan = by tasting. Mookut = free from the bonds of Maya. Bhuyyay = became. Saacho Bhaayee = like (have surrendered to) Waheguru. 1. Nirmul = pure. Vaasa = dwells. Bikhiya = Maya. Oodaasa = detached. Pause. Jaapuyyee = (self) understanding. Undhi = blind; ignorant. Ghut(i) = in the heart. Chaanuna = light. Unt(i) = at the end. Sukhaayee = friend; benefactor. 2. Vertday = deal in. Veechaara = pondering. 3. Vudiyaayee = honour. Salaahay = praise. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Palace. 4. Ghut(i) = in the heart (mind). Sobha = praise. Oopjaiy = sprouts; is a source of. 5. Munniyaiy = recognized; gets respect. Jumpur(i) = in the court of the angel of death. Baandhay = tied up. Birtha = empty; without achieving anything. 6. Boojhaayee = understanding. Munniyaiy = earn respect. 7. Gurmutee = wisdom of the Guru. Vus(i) = in the control of. Bhaag(i) = luck. 8.

MEANING: When a man analyzes himself, he finds the result to be very sweet (as he gets connected with Waheguru). Those who surrender to Waheguru taste the sweetness of His presence in their heart and find salvation. 1. Waheguru is the purest of the pure and takes residence in a pure mind. If one sings His praise with the Guru's wisdom (advice), he becomes detached from the attractions of Maya. Pause. However, one cannot recognize oneself without Satguru's Shabad; the whole world is blind (unaware of its inner self). With Guru's advice, man's mind is enlightened, and he acquires Waheguru's Naam, which becomes his friend (support) at the end. 2. Such devotees deal only in Waheguru's Naam, and their everyday routine also revolves around Waheguru's Naam (like Guru Nanak Sahib when He was working for the Nawab of Sultanpur Lodi, and always repeated the number 13). They have Waheguru's Naam in their mind, on their tongue, and discuss Waheguru by pondering on Guru's Shabad. 3. One should listen to Waheguru's Naam and have full faith in Him; as a result, he is respected everywhere. When one sings Waheguru's praise constantly, he reaches Waheguru's Residence (becomes connected with Him). 4. One's mind is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam, and he earns praise everywhere. Waheguru's Naam is the source of all comforts, and one gains Waheguru's shelter because of the Naam. 5. Nobody gets recognition (in Waheguru's Court) without the Naam; that's why the follower of his mind loses his dignity there. Tied up, he receives punishment in the court of the Angel of justice, and he wastes away his precious human life. 6. Everybody serves (shows respect for) the holy man who bears Waheguru's Naam in his heart. But one understands Naam only in the shelter of the Guru. One gets respect and praise because of Waheguru's Naam. 7. But only that devotee receives the Naam (enshrined in the heart) who Waheguru becomes kind to, and makes him take Guru's advice. Everything is under the control of Waheguru, but some rare fortunate individual acquires His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.7.29.

Word Meaning: Dohaagni = condemned by husband; detached from Waheguru. Sooaaou = pleasure; enjoyment. Phikka = discourteous. Na Niveh(i) = do not bow down (yield); (have a huge ego). placed. Alukh = incomprehensible. 5. Pirmul = perfume. Ruttan = precious like jewels. Veechaar(u) = thoughts. 6. Ootma = superior; one with no faults. Jut(i) = Jaat(i) = caste. Put(i) = dignity. Neech Jaat(i) = low caste. Bishta Ka Keerra = worm of feces (Maya). 7. Huoun, Huoun = me and I; selfishness and ego. Ruttay = imbued. 8.
MEANING: The individuals who are disconnected from Waheguru (are engrossed in Maya); they never get access to Waheguru's Residence (never connect with Him), and thus cannot enjoy the taste of union with Him. They show discourtesy in their conversation (talk ill of the devotees), have a huge ego, and are deeply attracted to Maya. 1. How can the mind be controlled? It can be prevented from evil thinking with the benevolence of the Guru, and with the wisdom He imparts, with which the mind stabilizes (quits wavering). Pause.
Waheguru Himself adorns the human brides He loves with noble qualities and instills His love in their minds. They lead their life as per His Will, and wear the adornment of His Naam because of which they stay in a high spiritual state. 2. With deep love for their dear Waheguru, they enjoy eternal union with Him on the bed of their heart. They are captivated by the love of their dear (Waheguru) and enjoy bliss in His company. 3.
Union with Waheguru is the supreme adornment with which a devout bride (devotee) earns praise everywhere. Because of her love for and dedication to Waheguru, such a human bride is the beauty queen among others. 4. The incomprehensible and limitless Waheguru cultivates His love in the human brides He loves. Such brides serve the Satguru (obey Him) and stay imbued in the love of their eternal Husband (Waheguru). 5. The devotees, who are loved by their Waheguru-Husband, adorn themselves with noble qualities, and that is the necklace they wear around their necks. They wear the perfume of love for Waheguru on their bodies and have thoughts about the jewel-like, precious Waheguru in their minds. 6. Those who are imbued in the worship of Waheguru are pure at heart with no weakness, and they enjoy the status of a spiritually high caste (nobility) and dignity with the Guru's Shabad in their heart. Without Waheguru's Naam, everybody is a low-caste and a worm of feces (Maya). 7. Everybody is living in selfishness and ego, which do not go away without the Guru's Shabad. But those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, overcome their haumein, and stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.8.30.

Word Meaning: Ruttay = imbued. Say = those. Nirmulay = pure. Soyay = praise. Aithaiy = here, in this world. Jaapdaiy = are well known. Aagaiy = next world. Joog(i) Joog(i) = in every eon. Pergut Hoyay = shine; become famous. 1. Roorrhay = beautiful; good. Rungulay = colourful. Rupaiy = get dyed. Pause. Neech = immoral. Maiylay = filthy. Ut(i) = extremely. Abhimaani = conceited. Vikaar = vices. Paarus = elixir stone; philosopher's stone. Kunchun = gold. 2. Bhaiy = fear. Bhaayay = love. Siftee = with (Waheguru's) praise. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. Smaaou = get absorbed. 3. Laag(i) = primary coating. Kerm Kmaavnay = perform religious rituals. Jhootthaiy = false; Maya-engrossed. Tthaaoun Na = no shelter. 4. Sat Sungut = Guru's company; holy congregation. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Sehjay = in the higher spiritual state. Soobhaayay = with love. 5. Pus(u) = Dhoar = cattle. Jinh(u) = Waheguru. 6. Ikk(i) = many. Goon = virtues. Vihaajheh(i) = deal in. Augun = vices. Vikneh(i) = sell, get rid of. Voottha = came to dwell. 7. Daata = Lord; provider. Dhundhaiy Laayay = puts them in worldly business. Svaariun(u) = adorn. 8.

MEANING: Those who are imbued in the love of Waheguru have pure minds, and their praise is everlasting. They are well known in every house in this world, and shine in the next world, no matter what the eon (yuga) is 1. Get dyed in the everlasting colour of love for Waheguru, oh my good, but colourful mind (which has many other colours). If you get dyed in the love for the beautiful (pure) Bani (Waheguru's Shabad), you will have a permanent colour (of God's love) on you, which never fades or comes off, oh my mind. Pause.

We are low-caste (immoral), have filthy minds, are extremely conceited, and are lustful (full of vices) in the love for Maya. But if touched by the Guru (listens to His Shabad), which is like an elixir-stone, this mind becomes pure like gold, with the pure Light of the limitless Waheguru in it. 2. But, only the Guru, and nobody else, can dye the mind with the colour of Waheguru's love. So, take shelter of the Guru to get the mind dyed with Waheguru's love, oh man. Those who are imbued with the fear of (reverence for) and the love for the Guru, sing praise of Waheguru because of which they merge with Him. 3.

Without fear (reverence) for the Guru, one's mind does not get coated with the primer (respectful fear for the Guru) to have a permanent colour of Waheguru's love, and does not get purified. Those who perform religious rituals without reverence for the Guru (and Waheguru) are Maya-engrossed and find no shelter (support) in Waheguru's Court. 4. (But nobody can have their mind dyed with Waheguru's love with their own efforts); only those have their minds dyed, whom Waheguru is kind to, and He connects them with the congregation of holy men. The holy congregation arises from the teachings of the Perfect Guru, in which the devotee remains imbued with the love for Waheguru in the blissful state of His shelter. 5. Without the holy congregation, the life of an individual is just like an animal because he does not recognize (acknowledge) the Creator; all such people are thieves without Waheguru's Naam (because they use the necessities of life without being grateful). 6. With love for the Guru, some people deal in (buy; acquire) virtues while selling (getting rid of) their vices (bad qualities), and stay in the blissful state. They serve the Guru, whereby Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in their mind. 7. There is only one Lord of everybody who puts everybody to work (the type of which depends upon their previous deeds). He adorns some of them with noble qualities by making them recite His Naam, and connects them with Him through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.9.31.

Word Meaning: Loachdi = longs for. 1. Bayunt = limitless. Duyyal = kind. Vudiyaayee = honour. Pause. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many different ways. Srishut = world. Oopaayee = created. Kaar = woldly affairs. 2. Boojhna = have understanding. Aboojhna = no understanding. Sir(i) Kaar = supreme job (benevolence); Your command for us. Ikknah = (to) some. Bukhsheh(i) = give the gift. Koorriyaar = who deal in mortal things (Maya). 3. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Puvit = Paavun = pure; unblemished; holy. 4. Koochul = on an immoral path. Koocheel = filthy (of mind). Vikhleeputay = masters of immorality; low character. Khooaayay = misled. Sidh(i) = success. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Sunjumi = having control on sensual pleasures. Ootvutaayay = purposeless; without any clear objective. 5.
Bhaavni = reverence. Sut(u) = service to humanity. Suntokh = contentment. 6.
Laykha = account. Poochiyaiy = asks for; gives credit. Kuth Kehnay = by describing (Wahguru's qualities). Keemut = worth. Sojhi = understanding. 7.
Dayhi = body (mind). Soadh(i) = purify. Hayt(i) = in love with. Apaar = limitless. 8.

MEANING: Everybody wants to have Waheguru's Naam (enshrined in his mind), but only that lucky individual acquires it who is kind to Waheguru. It is all misery without Waheguru

Naam, but the individual who gets His Naam embedded in his heart enjoys all the comforts. 1. Waheguru is limitless and kind, and (one gets all the comforts) in His shelter. His Naam also earns one respect everywhere, but the Naam can be acquired only from the Guru. Pause. There is only one Supreme Being (Waheguru), who is permeating inside and out (everywhere), and He creates the world in many different ways. Everybody performs deeds of the kind which Waheguru wants him to perform; there is nobody else whom one can complain to, or seek help of. 2. Understanding Your Will, or the lack of it, is controlled by You, and Your Will is the command for us (everybody uses the wisdom given by You), oh Waheguru. You forgive some, and connect them with You by Your kindness, while the Maya-engrossed are punished, and thrown out of Your Court (are taken through the birth-death-birth cycle). 3. Some are pure and holy right from the beginning, and they deal in Your Naam with Your Will. They enjoy bliss in the service of the Guru who enlightens them with the Shabad in Your praise, oh Waheguru. 4.
Some individuals follow the immoral path in life, have filthy minds, and are of very low character; such individuals are misled by You. They have no (spiritual) success in life, have no wisdom, have no control over their sensual desires, and lead a purposeless life (without any clear objective). 5. You instil reverence for You in the minds of those whom You are kind to. Through Guru's Shabad, they acquire noble qualities such as service to mankind, contentment, control over sensual pleasures, and purity of mind. 6.
One cannot have access to Waheguru's Palace by simply keeping the account of his ritualistic deeds, nor can one find an end to the limits of Waheguru by telling His virtues to others. The worth of Waheguru's virtues can be appreciated only in the shelter of the Guru when one gets enlightenment with His eternal Shabad. 7.
Purify your mind and body with Guru's Shabad by pondering (acting) on it, oh Nanak. Waheguru's Naam resides in human body, but can be realized only with love for the Guru, and for the limitless Waheguru. 8.10.32.

Kaar Kmaayay = live as per the Guru's advice. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Sehj = in the blissful spiritual state. Smaayay = merges with. 3. Dohaagun(i) = condemned by the Husband (devoid of His love). Koorr(u) = lies. Bikh = poison; Maya. Jaanun(i) = to know; make a connection. Soonjee = empty. Sayj = bed. 4. Mut(u) = lest; do not. Pooch(i) = seek advice. Nirmul(u) = pure. 5. Saytee = with. Geh(i) = hold; stay connected. 6. Mayri = mine. Pullaiy = acquire. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Palace (union with Him). 7. Lorreh(i) = wishes. Kaamni = woman; human bride. 8.

MEANING: Those human brides, who adorn their souls with Guru's Shabad, are loved by their Waheguru-Husband, and stay imbued in His love. They find Waheguru in their own mind by pondering on Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise. 1. They focus on Waheguru's Naam with full concentration (stay connected with Him), and get their vices forgiven by acquiring noble qualities. The Guru connects them with Waheguru, and they get the love of their Waheguru-Husband. Pause. Some (unlucky) are misled by their illusions about Maya, and do not realize that Waheguru is close to them. How can such human brides who are condemned by their Waheguru-Husband (are disconnected with Him), get connected with Him? Their nights of life are spent in discomfort (misery). 2.
But those individuals who have Waheguru embedded in their minds spend their lives doing noble deeds. They always serve Waheguru in the higher spiritual state, and stay connected with Him. 3. Those who are condemned by the Waheguru-Husband (who are engrossed in Maya and are disconnected with Waheguru) are misled by their misbeliefs (illusions); they tell lies and consume poison (are engrossed in the poisonous Maya). They do not recognize their dear husband (Waheguru), and suffer in their empty bed (without Waheguru in their heart). 4. Do not get misled, oh my mind; there is only one True (Eternal) Lord. You can enshrine His holy Naam in your heart by serving the Guru and seeking His advice, oh my friend. 5. The individuals who get rid of their selfishness and ego get connected with their dear Waheguru and are eternally married (loved by Him). They always stay connected to their Dear Waheguru and enjoy blissfulness on their eternal bed. 6. Those who lead their life driven by the objective of "me, and mine" (in selfishness and ego) do not achieve anything worthwhile. There is no place for them in Waheguru's Court, and they leave the world repenting. 7. I have only one Lord, and I focus my concentration on Him alone. If the human bride wishes to have everlasting bliss, she should foster love for Waheguru's Naam in her heart, oh Nanak. 8.11.33.

MEANING: Waheguru makes the devotees who love Him taste His Naam-Amrit and keeps them in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya, in which they enjoy blissfully. Waheguru is carefree and has absolutely no appetite for worldly things at all – not even the size of a sesame seed. 1. Waheguru's Naam-Amrit rains all the time (is always available to everyone), but only the devotees of the Guru take it in (enshrine it in their heart). Their minds bloom all the time, and they sing Waheguru's praise in the blissful state of mind. Pause. The Maya-engrossed individuals are disconnected from Waheguru, and are always deprived of His love, even though they may be wailing (begging for acceptance) at His Door. They cannot enjoy the taste of union with Waheguru, and keep doing the deeds of the nature (kind) for which they have been predestined by Him. 2. The true devotees of the Guru deal in Waheguru's Naam. They sow the seeds of the Naam in their hearts, which flourish in there. Those who have been put on this spiritually beneficial path by God are given the treasures of His worship by Him. 3. The devotees of the Guru always enjoy Waheguru's love as they have adorned their minds with His worship and love for Him. They always keep Waheguru in mind and enjoy union with Him at all times. 4.

I will gladly sacrifice my life for those (serve them like a slave) who kill their selfishness and ego, and thereby enjoy union with Waheguru all the time. 5. Their body and mind are peaceful because of their love for the Waheguru-husband, and they have radiant faces (worthy of respect). By killing their haumein (selfishness and ego) and their worldly desires, their heart-bed becomes very comforting with Waheguru's presence. 6.
Because of his unlimited love for the Guru, Waheguru becomes very kind to the devotee and resides in his heart. The devotee earns the love of only Waheguru as her husband. 7.
One should utter only such words which win him love of Waheguru, who then forgives all his sins, and connects him with Him, oh Nanak. 8.12.34.

MEANING: The noble qualities are delivered by Satguru (Satguru is the source of all noble qualities), and one acquires them when Waheguru kindly connects him with Satguru. When one recites Waheguru's Naam in the peaceful state of mind (with full dedication and concentration), his mind is enlightened with Divine Knowledge (he is connected with Waheguru). 1. Never think of Waheguru as being far away from you, oh my mind; always "see" (feel) Him close to you. He is omnipresent in the form of Shabad and listens to and sees everything at all times. (Shabad is one of His three forms – Nirgoon, Surgoon, and Shabad). Pause. Those who recognize the self in the shelter of the Guru, recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration. They always keep their Dear (Waheguru) in mind, and enjoy bliss while reciting His Naam. 2. If you ponder on Guru's Shabad diligently, you will realize that there is no one who really belongs to you (forever), oh my mind. So, rush to take Waheguru's shelter so as to reach at the door of salvation (achieve salvation). 3. Listen to Waheguru (His Naam), comprehend Him, and stay fully connected with Him with Satguru's Shabad, oh my mind. One can kill one's ego and selfishness with the Guru's Shabad when one enjoys bliss in Waheguru's Residence (connects with Him). 4. One earns true praise in this world only because of Waheguru's Naam; nobody gets any praise without the Naam. One's praise (fame) because of Maya is very short-lived, and it does not take any time for that to fade away. 5. Those who forget Waheguru are spiritually dead and still face bodily death (rebirths) because they cannot become immortal because of their love for Maya. They never enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, but stay absorbed in feces-like Maya. 6. Waheguru connects some lucky individuals to Him through His benevolence and puts them in the business of His Naam. They deal in Waheguru's Naam, stay connected with Him, and eventually merge with Him. 7. Without Satguru's Shabad, the world is deaf and blind and cannot see Waheguru and hear His Command. They are misled in life. They suffer severely without Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized only by His Will. 8. Those who apply their mind to Gurbani are purified, and are approved by Waheguru (to become a part of Him). They never forget Waheguru and are recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 9.13.35.

Word Meaning: Shabadaun = from the Shabad. Jaapday = become known. Bani = all utterings; routine conversation. Sachi = full of Truth (Waheguru). Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Sach(i) = with Waheguru. Milaawaa = union. 1. Put(I) = dignity. Maanay = accord respect. Pause. Mayra = me; mine (selfishness). Jaat(i) = distinct nature. Abhimaan = conceit; ego. 2. Poora = perfect. Bhaytiya = got connected with. Suful = successful. Nauvaiy Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Akhoot = inexhaustible. 3. Raasi = capital; wealth. Vapaariyay = traders. Veechaara = pondering. 4.
Saar = worth. Dhoorhoun = right from the source (Waheguru). Khooyayun(u) = misled. Jooyay = gamble. Baaji = game (of life). Haari = lost. 5. Pdaruth = (the invaluable) article (Waheguru's Naam). Dheer(i) = is pacified. 6.
Vusaiy = resides. Doobidha = the indecisiveness of mind. Maar(i) = by killing. 7.
Jut(i) = high caste. Put(i) = dignity. Suvaar(i) = adorns with noble qualities. Shernaayee = shelter. Kaaruj(u) Saar(i) = make the task successful (of uniting with Waheguru). 8.
Niraali = unique; detaches one from Maya. Jaapaiy = can be accomplished. 9.

MEANING: Waheguru's bhagats become known (are respected) because of the Guru's Shabad (with which they sing Waheguru's praise). All their conversation revolves around Waheguru. They get rid of their selfishness and ego by obeying Waheguru's Will, whereby they get united with Him. 1. Waheguru's Naam is the respect for them. Their human life becomes successful (because they connect with Waheguru), and everyone respects them. Pause. Man's haumein has its own special nature because all his deeds are based on his selfishness, which leads to rage and ego (and causes huge suffering). If a man is able to kill his haumein by Guru's Shabad, his bad nature gets killed as well, and he merges into Waheguru. 2. Our life becomes a success by getting connected with Satguru (because Satguru bestows the gift of Naam on us), which is like having all the nine mythical treasures of the world, which never run out. 3. Those who love Waheguru deal in His Naam. The devotees of the Guru, who ponder on the Guru's Shabad and have embedded it in their mind, acquire the wealth of Waheguru's Naam. 4.

The individual, who has his face turned away from the Guru (does not listen to His Shabad, and is engrossed in Maya), is full of ego, and does not know the worth of Waheguru's worship. Such individuals are misled right from their birth (by Waheguru), and they lose the game of precious human life in the gamble (love for Maya). 5. No worship of any kind is acceptable without love for Waheguru; and such individuals never enjoy comfort in their body (life). The real thing (Waheguru's Naam) can be acquired only with love. and the worship of the Guru provides peace of mind. 6. However, not everyone can worship Waheguru on their own; only those devotees whom He motivates can worship Him. Such individuals are able to kill the indecisiveness of their mind, and enshrine only Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 7. Waheguru's Naam alone is the high-caste and the respect for the devotees, and they are adorned with noble qualities by Waheguru Himself. I am always in His shelter, and request Him to make my objective (of acquiring His Naam) successful in whatever way He chooses. 8. Waheguru's worship is very unique (detaches one from Maya) and can be accomplished only by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. When an individual adorns his mind with the worship of Waheguru with deep love and reverence, he is able to enshrine His Naam in his heart, oh Nanak. 9.14.36.

MEANING: The man is misled (so deeply absorbed) in other tastes (that he forgets Waheguru's Naam) and suffers without the Naam. He does not get connected with Satguru, who could enlighten his mind with the true wisdom (about God). 1. Taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam and enjoy it, oh my foolish mind. You are pursuing other tastes and are wasting your precious human life. Pause. Only the devotees of the Guru have pure minds in this world who keep their minds fully focused on Waheguru's Naam. (But not everybody gets to recite Waheguru's Naam), nothing can be achieved without good fortune (benevolence of Waheguru). Also, nothing can be said about who gets to be fortunate. 2. The man should analyze himself and kill his selfishness, ego, and vices, with the Guru's Shabad. If he rushes to Guru's shelter, the forgiving Satguru forgives all his sins. 3. Without Waheguru's Naam, one cannot have any comfort in life, and the troubles never leave one alone. The world is badly influenced by its love for Maya, and is misled by its misgivings about the other (Maya). 4. Those who are disconnected from Waheguru cannot know His worth, so how can they adorn themselves to look attractive to Him? They suffer in jealousy day and night, and do not enjoy union with the husband (Waheguru) on the bed of their heart. 5. Those who are loved by Waheguru enjoy union with Him by killing their selfishness and ego. Their minds are adorned with noble qualities as they act on Guru's Shabad, and are connected with their husband (Waheguru) by His own Will. 6.
In the darkness of his love for Maya, the man forgets Waheguru, and the Maya-engrossed man dies many times spiritually before his physical death, and is reborn again, and again, and suffers discomfiture in the court of the Angel of death. 7. Only those who ponder on Guru Shabad can get connected with Waheguru - that too only if Waheguru Himself connects them. Those, who are absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, have radiance on their face (a sign of high spirituality) in the Court of the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.22.15.37.

This is how my body-and-mind-city was populated with noble qualities. With reinforcing Guru's Divine Knowledge (making a connection with Him and Waheguru), all my sins have been washed away. Pause.

To keep the noble qualities safe, and to keep the demons away, I have erected a fence of Waheguru's Naam and high morality around my mind, and have fortified the windows (the five senses through which the vices could attack) with service to the Guru (pondering on His Divine Shabad). 2. You, too, raise the crop of Waheguru's Naam in your mind, oh my friend, and make service to the Guru (acting on His Advice) your daily business. 3. By acting on Guru's Teachings and by reciting Waheguru's Naam, one acquires the great comfort of the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya and blissfulness, and becomes just like the Guru. 4. Waheguru's Naam (they trade in their weaknesses for Waheguru's Naam). Waheguru's Naam is their wealth, which they accumulate, and which is credited to their account of deeds.
7. A Sikh, who is given the gift of service to Waheguru by Satguru, makes his heart so pious that it becomes an immortal dwelling for Waheguru which cannot be attacked by any vice, oh Nanak. 8.1.
