The dust of the feet of the Guru (service to Him) purifies the immoral, and one enjoys immense blissfulness in His shelter. The objective of my life has been achieved on connecting with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Sloak: Ja kuou bhuyyay kirpaal Prubh, Hur(i) Hur(i) sayee jupaat. Nanak preet(i) lugee tinh Ram siyoun bhaytut Sadh sungaat. 1.
Word Meaning: Kirpaal = kind. Jupaat = recite. Ram = Waheguru. Sadh Sungaat = in the company of the Guru.
MEANING: Only those devotees recite Waheguru's Naam whom He is kind to. But they develop love for Waheguru only in the Guru's company (shelter).
Chhunt: Jul doodh niyaayee reet(i) ub doodh aanch nuhee, mun aiysi preet(i) Huray. Ub oorjhiyo ul(i) kumlayh, baasun(i) maah(i) mugun, ikk khin(u) bhee na naah(i) turaiy. Word Meaning: Niyaayee = like. Reet(i) = custom. Aanch = heat. Oorjhiyo = tangled Ul(u) = bumble bee. Kumlayh = with the lotus flower. Baasun(i) = fragrance. Mugun = lost in. Khin(u) = moment. Turaiy = avoids; stays away. Huriyaiy = with Waheguru. Seegaar = adornments. Rus = different tastes; enjoyments. Urpiyaiy = offer. Jum Punth = path to the angel of death. Bhuniyaiy = is said. Keerut(i) = praise. Gooniyaiy = of virtues. Praachhut = repentances; sins. Huray = are removed (eradicated). Chhunt = songs of praise. Nayhou = love. 1.
MEANING: The love between milk and water is well known - as long as water is present in the milk, it does not suffer from heat - you too love Waheguru the same way (when Waheguru appears in one's mind, he does not suffer from anything), oh my mind. The bumblebee loves the lotus flower (and other flowers), and while enjoying its fragrance, it completely forgets itself and does not stay away from it even for a short moment; one should also love Waheguru like the bumblebee loves the lotus flower, and not forget Waheguru even for a moment; one should offer (sacrifice) all things of beauty and other enjoyments (luxuries) in life to Him. We hear about the sufferings on the path to the Angel of death, but all such fears go away when a devotee (sings praise of Waheguru) in the company of the holy men. All one's repentances (due to his sins) are eradicated (he is left with no sin to repent about) when he sings the virtues of Waheguru (His praise, is to sing His praise is the true love for Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Neer = water. Na Dheeray = does not find peace of mind (mental strength). Nayh(u) = love. Chaatrik = a bird (see stanza 3, Chhunt 3). Chuvaiy = says; begs. Soohavay = pleasant; kind. Mayh(u) = cloud. Ut(i) = extreme. Mooraari = Waheguru. Maan(u) = conceit. Shern Preejaiy = drop on the feet; seek shelter. Soopersunnay = very pleased. Vichhoonay = separates. Dhun = woman (human devotee). Saach(u) Waheguru. Snayha = message. Chhunt = song of praise. Anunt = limitless. Siyoun = with. 2.

MEANING: Love Waheguru the way a fish loves water, which cannot find peace of mind without it, even for a moment, oh my mind. Love Waheguru just the way a rainbird misses (loves) the first drop of rain, and begs the cloud every moment saying, "please cause rain, oh beautiful cloud." Offer your mind for the extreme love of Waheguru, oh my friends. Abandoning all your conceit, seek the shelter of the Guru in order to have a glimpse of Waheguru. When the human devotee pleases the Guru, He takes his message to Waheguru, thereby connecting the devotee with Waheguru, and he never gets separated. If you wish to love Waheguru (get connected with Him), sing praise of the limitless Waheguru; that is the only way to love Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chukvee = ruddy duck. It is believed that after sunset, she gets separated from her male partner and gets reunited at sunrise. She calls him throughout the night and waits for the sun to rise. Ghunee = very much; immense. Diniur(u) = sun. Kokil = koyil = cuckoo. Umb = mango. Chuvaiy = utters. Soohaavia = happily. Rung(u) = love. Hubh(i) = all. Paahooniya = visitors. Ub = now; in this life. Rung(u) = Moh(u) = love; attachment. Ruchaayio = created; made. Naagay = empty-handed. Thir(u) = immortal. 3.

MEANING: The love of the ruddy duck for the sun is well known when she spends all her night awake with the full hope of meeting with her companion in the morning, and waiting for the sun to rise. Similarly, the love of the cuckoo for the mango tree is well known when she sings happily sitting on a branch of the tree. You too, enjoy the love of Waheguru (just like the ruddy duck and the cuckoo love the sun and the mango tree, respectively), oh my mind. One must realize that all of us are just visitors on the earth; so, one should have no conceit - only love for Waheguru. When we know that the man is born, and he leaves the world empty-handed, why should one get so attached to the attractions of life (and suffer later)? When one takes Satguru's shelter, all his worldly attachments are terminated, and he achieves immortality (by getting connected with Waheguru). Just like a ruddy duck which waits for the sun to rise to get connected with her companion, sing praise of the kind and the omnipresent Waheguru with deep love to get connected with Him, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Nis(i) = at night. Koorunk = deer. Naad(u) music. Servunee = with ears. Heeo = heart. Divaiy = gives; dedicates. The deer is strongly attracted to the hunters' music. The hunters cover the mouth of an empty, narrow-necked, and round earthenware pot with cloth, and beat it gently at night to produce the music that the deer loves. Attracted by the music, the deer runs toward the source of the music. The hunters shine a moon-like light on the deer in which he cannot see the hunters and gets caught. Turoon(i) = a young woman. Bhutaar = husband. Oorjhee = lost in his thoughts. Sivaiy = serves. Laal = dear Waheguru. Bhoag = enjoyment. Hub(i) = all. Khooshiyaan = happiness. Rung = love; enjoyments. Laal(u) = deep red (a sign of complete dedication). Ut(i) = extreme. Chiraanay = after a long time. Theeya = became. Saakhi = witness; mediator. Ditthum = saw. Uver Na = nobody else. Mohan = the mind captivating Waheguru. Churn Gujeejaiy = hold feet; surrender. 4.

MEANING: Love Waheguru like the deer which offers its heart (forgets itself and the surroundings) on hearing the music with its ears at night, oh my mind. Offer your mind to the dear Waheguru, and serve Him with dedication like a dedicated wife serves her husband (and lost in his thoughts, she forgets herself). When a human devotee offers her mind to the dear Waheguru, she enjoys His love and all other spiritual enjoyments. On reconnecting with dear Waheguru after a long time, she is imbued with His love so much that she feels as if she is wearing the deep red colour (reflective of complete dedication) of His love. By meditating on the Guru (His Shabad), the devotee is able to “”see” the dear Waheguru with her own (mental) eyes, and finds no one else like Him. Drop on the feet (take His shelter), and sing praise of the kind and the mind-captivating Waheguru; this is the way to show your love for Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.4.

Word Meaning: Khojtee = searching. Haari = exhausted. Avgaah(i) = looking everywhere. Bhaytay = met with. Sadh = Guru.
MEANING: I exhausted myself looking for Waheguru everywhere, from one forest to another (but could not find Him anywhere); however, when I got connected with Satguru, He showed Him (Waheguru) in my own heart.

Jupay = reciters of Naam. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Kirya = rituals. Sodhun = means to purify one's body. Bundhna = restrictions. Guvun Busoodha = roaming all over the earth. Teertheh Mujun = dip at holy places. Nirunjuna = God. Pusoo = animals. Punkhee = birds. Araadhtay = worship. Gutay = salvation.
MEANING: Countless sages, and countless of those misguided people who torture themselves to please some deity, search for Waheguru. Countless Brahmas worship Him, and countless Knowledge-seekers recite some mantras to realize Waheguru. They try countless different means, such as reciting mantras, self-torture, efforts to control their sensual desires, performing accepted rituals, and worshipping gods, and observe other restrictions to purify their bodies. They roam all over the earth and take dips at holy places to meet with Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. The humans, all the vegetation in the forests, the animals, and the birds, all worship Waheguru (obey His laws). But the only way to get united with the kind and the dear Waheguru, and to find salvation, is to recite His Naam in the holy congregation, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Countless Vishnus, including their incarnations, and countless Shivas wearing permanently tangled hair, have immense desire and wish to have a holy sight of You, oh Waheguru. The gods, the Sidh Yogis, and the countless assistants of the gods, sing the virtues of the limitless and the inaccessible Lord, Waheguru, who fulfils all their needs and desires. Countless Indras and countless other gods recite His Naam and hail the Lord. But the kind Master of all the support-less can be realized in the company of the Guru, where one can find salvation as well. 2.

Anik Bhaant = in many different ways. Goopt = invisible. Pergut = visible. Araadheh(i) = worship. Nukhiuttar = stars. Sussiur = the moon. Soor = the sun. Busoodh = the earth. Guggna = the sky. Khaani = all sources of reproduction (all living beings). Baani = different ways of communication. Simritis, Purans, the four Baydas (Vedas) and the six Shastras = they are all Hindu religious books. Jupaat(i) = recite; sing praise. Putit = immoral. Paavun = purifier. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of His worshippers. Saant(i) = with the holy saints. 3.

MEANING: Countless goddesses, including Lakshmi, serve Waheguru in countless different ways, and so do the visible and the invisible living beings in the air and the water day and night. The stars, the moon, the sun, the earth, and the sky, and all the living beings with different ways of communication, worship Waheguru and sing His praise (obey His Laws). But Waheguru, which purifies the immoral, which loves His devotees, and whose Naam is recited by all the religious books of the Hindus, can be realized only in the company of the holy saints, oh Nanak. 3.

Jeeyaan = humans. Oopma = greatness; praise. Kit = how. Gunee = can be measured (described). Daan(u) = gift. Maan(u) = honour. 4.

MEANING: I have named all those entities in the world (that worship Waheguru), about whom I had the ability to know, as granted by Waheguru. I cannot count (name all those) who serve Waheguru, and are not known to me. The invisible, the limitless, and the unfathomable Lord is present in all of us, yet is fully detached. There is only one Provider, Waheguru, which is not far from us, and is always with us visibly (in nature); everybody is a beggar at His door. He has given His control to those of His devotees who get connected with Him (He does whatever they ask for); nobody can sing His praise enough. Only those devotees get this gift and the honour (to sing His praise), who put their head on the Feet of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.2.5.

Sloak: Shoobh chintun, Gobind rumun, nirmul Sadhu sung(i). Nanak Naam(u) na visrou ikk ghurri, kur(i) kirpa Bhugvunt.

Word Meaning: Shoobh Chintun = noble thinking. Rumun = reciting Naam. Nirmul = pure; purifying. Visrou = forget. Ikk Ghurri = a single moment.

MEANING: The company of the Guru purifies the mind, and the devotee acquires noble thinking, and remembers Waheguru in His shelter. Please be kind to me, oh Waheguru, so that I may not forget Your Naam even for a moment, begs Nanak.

MEANING: During the pleasantly moist night when the stars are dazzling in the sky, the loving saints of Waheguru stay awake (and recite His Naam). Actually, the loving saints of Waheguru are always alert and recite His Naam all the time. They concentrate on Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in the heart, and do not forget Him even for a short moment. By giving up their ego, worldly attachments, and evil thinking, they burn the suffering of their sins (if any). I, Nanak, submit humbly that the loving devotees of Waheguru always stay alert (against the attacks of Maya). 1.

On getting connected with the Lord, Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, my heart was sweetened with joy and zestfulness. When Waheguru touched my heart, all my suffering disappeared, and my soul, my mind, and my body acquired a new life. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the auspicious time of my union with Him arrived, and my cherished wish was fulfilled. Nanak submits humbly that on connecting with God, there was a sweet blissfulness in my heart. 2.

Word Meaning: Sukhiyaan = friends. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Neeshaani = identification; signs of union. Praym Rus(i) = sweetness of love. Goorr = deep. Goopt = hidden. Apaar = beyond limits. Nigum = the Vedas. Bhugut(i) Bhaayay = with love and reverence. Dhiyaayay = remember. Soogiyan = Divine Knowledge. Bhaani = liked. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in the love. 3.

MEANING: All my friends came to ask me about the signs of union with Waheguru. But I was so overwhelmed with the love for Waheguru and the sweetness of the union with Him, that I could not utter even a single word (one can only realize, and not explain). The virtues of the invisible and the limitless Creator, Waheguru, are so transcendent that even the Vedas cannot find their end. The only thing one can do is to remember the Lord, and always sing His praise with full dedication and reverence. The devotee, who acquires all the virtues and is full of Divine Knowledge (makes a connection with Waheguru), is loved by Him. The devotee, who is imbued with Waheguru's love, attains the high spiritual state, submits Nanak respectfully. 3.

---------- Sookh sohilurray Hur(i) gaavun laagay. Saajun sersiurray, dookh dooshmun bhaagay. Sookh sehj sersay, Hur(i) Naam(i) rehsay, Prubh(i) Aap(i) kirpa dhaariya. Word Meaning: Sookh Sohilurray Hur(i) = comforting songs of happiness in praise of Waheguru. Saajun = friendly (senses). Sersiurray = bloomed; flourished. Sehj = blissful state. Sersay = bloomed. Rehsay = pleased. Jaagay = awake; alert. Bunvaariy = wearing a garland of wild flowers (Waheguru). Shoobh Divus = auspicious days. Nidh(i) = treasures. Paagay = (at the) feet. Taagay = lasts till the end. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee sings the comforting songs of Waheguru's praise, all his senses become his friends (come under his control) and flourish in his mind, while all his enemies (the evil thoughts) run away. With the grace of Waheguru, the devotee feels great joy in his heart while reciting His Naam and enjoys the bliss of a high spiritual state. By taking shelter at Waheguru's Feet, the devotee remains alert (against the attacks of Maya) at all times and connects with Waheguru. It is the auspicious time for the devotee when he attains the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), and realizes that all comforts and all treasures are at the Feet of Waheguru (in His Naam). Nanak submits respectfully that the love of Waheguru for the devotee in His shelter lasts till the end (forever). 4.1.10.

Word Meaning: Ootth(i) = wake up; get ready. Vunj(u) = go; start worshipping Waheguru. Vutaaoorriya = oh visitor (on the earth). Moohlut(i) Poonnirriya = your life is over. Koorr(i) = false worldly affairs. Lobhaaya = captivated by; attached to. Dhoh(u) Maya = deceit of Maya. Umitiya = countless. Bhusm Dhayri = pile of dirt. Jumeh Hayri = watched carefully by the angel of death. Kaal(i) = death. Bupurray = helpless. Vaisi = will leave. Kmaana = the deeds performed. Sung(i) Jooliya = accompanies; goes with. 1.

MEANING: You are only a visitor here in the world; so, get ready (to achieve your real objective of life, and start worshipping Waheguru); why are you taking such a long time, oh man? Your limit of life is over; in what false world affairs are you still attached to? Captivated by the deceitful Maya, you commit countless sins. The Angel of death is watching you carefully, and when death overpowers the helpless man, his body becomes a pile of dirt. He will leave all his wealth and his youth behind, and all his wearing (clothing) and eating will come to stop. However, the deeds (good and bad) performed by him accompany him as they cannot be obliterated, oh Nanak. 1.

---------- Phaathou mirg jivaiyn paykh(i) raiyn(i) chundraayin(u). Sookhoun dookh bhuyay, nit paap kmaayin(u). Paapaan kmaanay chhudeh(i) naahi, laiy chullaiy ghut(i) glaaviya. Word Meaning: Phaathou = trapped. Mirg = deer. Chundraayin(u) = like moon light. Sookhoun = from comforts. Ghut(u) Gulaaviya = putting the rope around; tied up. Hurchundauri = mirage. Moottha = deceived. Sayja Raaviya = enjoyment of bed. Lub(i) = greed to eat. Loabh(i) = greed. Maata = intoxicated. Gerb(i) = in conceit. Smaayin(u) = completely lost in. Ugiyan = lack of knowledge; ignorance. Binsay = gets destroyed; suffers. Mitaiy = not erased. Aavun(u) Jaayin(u) = rebirths. 2.
MEANING: Like the deer, which is trapped by the hunters when they play a special music to which the deer is attracted, and they shine a light on it, which he mistakes for moonlight, the man gets trapped by the captivating Maya. With sins which the man commits every day, his comforts change into suffering. The sins committed by him do not leave him alone, and the agents of the Angel of death tie him up, and take him away. He does not realize that the enjoyments of Maya are just a mirage, and are not real; he gets deceived by them, and the enjoyments in bed turn out to be false (short-lived, and for which he is punished). Intoxicated by the false enjoyments, the man gets completely lost in gluttony, his greed, and his ego. Like the deer, which suffers for his ignorance, the man also suffers consequences of his bad deeds, and the cycle of rebirths for him never gets terminated, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mitthaiy = on the soft raw sugar (jaggery). Mukh = bee. Mooa = stuck to die. Kiyoun = how? Luyyay Oodaari = take flight. Hustee = elephant. Gurt(i) = in a deep pit. Turiyaiy Taari = swim. Doohayla = difficult. Bhuyya = became. Khin(i) meh(i) = in a moment. Khusm(u) = the Lord. Sujaayee = punishment. Goojjha = hidden. Kmaana = deeds performed. Pergut(u) = visible. Eet Ooteh(i) = here and there; everywhere. Khooaari = discomfiture; humiliation. Baajh(u) = without. Moottha = deceived. 3.
MEANING: Like a fly, which gets stuck on a soft nugget of raw sugar (jaggery), and cannot fly away, and dies there; and like an elephant which falls in a deep pit, and cannot come out (and gets trapped), the man who forgets Waheguru, and gets deeply attached to Maya, will find it impossible to swim across the world-sea. His troubles, which he gets into as punishment for his unholy deeds, cannot be counted, but he cannot blame someone else as he reaps the rewards of his own doings. Whatever ignoble deeds he performed secretly, become visible to Waheguru, and he suffers humiliation everywhere (in this world and in the next). The Maya-engrossed and egoist man gets deceived (stripped of good qualities) without the guidance of the Guru, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Daas = devotees. Jeevay = live; survive. Kuntth(i) Lugaayay = hugs them. Bul = moral strength. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Giyan = knowledge. Dhiyan = concentration. Turaaya = salvaged. Rukhunhaaraiy = the saviour. Nirmul = pure; holy. Kerni = deeds. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru's devotees survive only by taking His shelter (reciting His Naam) when the Lord embraces them (connects them with Him). Waheguru grants them the moral strength, the wisdom, the knowledge, and the ability to concentrate, and makes them recite His Naam with dedication. He serves as the holy congregation (plays the role of the Guru), and salvages the world. The saviour, Waheguru, protects His devotees (from the attacks of Maya) because of which they perform only the holy deeds; and those devotees, who come to the shelter of the Guru, or Waheguru, never go to hell, oh Nanak. 4.2.11.

Word Meaning: Vunj(u) = go away (it is Potthohaari Punjabi). Aalsa = laziness. Raavoun = enjoy. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Sohunti = looks elegant. Sungay = with (in the company of). Kunt = husband. Raaviyaiy = enjoy. Chitaar(i) = remembering. Paykh(i) = to see. Birha = pain of separation. Lujaaya = felt ashamed; disappeared. Amiyo Drishti = Amrit-like sight. Sichunti = irrigated; nourished. 1.
MEANING: I request Waheguru that He order my laziness to depart from me (kill my laziness) so that I may enjoy my union with Him. Like a bride, who looks elegant only in the company of her husband, the devotee-bride looks good (feels blissful) when she is connected with the Lord-husband, and enjoys union with Him day and night. I, too, survive by remembering Waheguru with every breath, and by singing His praise. When I have a holy sight of Waheguru, my pain of separation disappears, and Waheguru irrigates (nourishes) the field of my heart with His life-sustaining Sight. I respectfully submit that I have found the Waheguru I was looking for, and my wish has been fulfilled, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nus(i) Vunjhou = run away. Kilvikhou = oh, sins. Kerta = the Creator (Waheguru). Dooteh = the demons; ignoble sensual pleasures. Dehun(u) = burned down. Pergtay = appeared. Laalun = darling. Vukhaaniya = described; sang praise. Aachurj = amazing. Amiyo = Amrit (the Naam). Voottha = rained. Shaan(i) = peace; blissfulness. Vudhaayee = joy; zestfulness. Mayla = union. 2.

MEANING: Run away, my sins; there is no room for you in my heart now that the Creator, Waheguru, has come to dwell in here. With Gobind (Waheguru) appearing in my heart, the demons have been burned (destroyed). The dear Waheguru, which is also known as Gopal and Gobind, appeared in my mind when I sang His praise in the shelter of the Guru. It was an amazing experience for me that with the grace of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam-Amrit rained on my heart, and my mind became peaceful and joyous. However, even with Waheguru's Naam at heart, no one can find His limits. Nanak submits respectfully that the man is unable to connect with Waheguru with his own efforts; Waheguru Himself arranges for such union whereby the devotee acquires all comforts and blissfulness. 2.

Word Meaning: Deetthrriya = see. Jaiy, Jaiy = hail; acclaim. Dherm = Dhermraj (the Angel of justice). Plaayin = disappear. Dherm = high morality. Dheeruj = patience. Sehj = state of blissfulness. Anugreh(i) = benevolence. Moh Mumta = attachments. Tujay = gave up. Geh(i) = by holding. Kuntth Laayay = hugged. Aghaayin = contented. Pujaayin = delivers; fulfils.

MEANING: A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, is hailed by the Angel of justice, and his agents run away from him; and the devotee does not see hell (experiences no hell-like suffering). A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints, acquires high morality (noble principles), patience, and the comfort of the blissful spiritual state. Waheguru protects His devotee (from the attacks of Maya) with His benevolence, and he (the devotee) gives up all worldly attachments. Waheguru hugs His devotee (showing deep love for him) and connects him with the Guru in whose shelter the devotee recites Waheguru's Naam and becomes fully contented. You, too, remember Waheguru, which will fulfil all your wishes and desires, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Nidh(i) = treasures. Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Kaahrra = worries; irritants. Vus(i) = under the control. Geh(i) = by holding. Bhooja = arm. Deenay = the helpless. Kur(u) = hand. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Viyaapaiy = affects. Amiyo = Amrit.

Akhaarra = battle ground (of the world where the man battles against the sensual pleasures). Oopaarra = uproots; kills. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee drops on the Feet of Waheguru (takes His Shelter), which is the source of all treasures and all supernatural powers, he becomes free from all worries. My Waheguru controls each and everything. He held me, the powerless (a non-entity), by the arm, put His hand on my forehead, and protected me in every way (including the attacks of Maya). When a devotee tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, the world-sea has no effect on him. When a devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's love in the shelter of the Guru, he wins the huge battle against the sensual pleasures. Nanak respectfully submits that when a devotee comes to the shelter of the Lord, he neither dies nor takes rebirths (because he merges into Waheguru). 4.3.12.

Word Meaning: Kmaayayurro = the deeds done. Maathaiy = on the forehead, as a sign of fortune. Lookaayayndurro = hiding. Vaykhee = sees; watches. Saathaiy = with (you). Kernhaara = the Creator. Kaayay = what for. Sookirt(u) = honest labour. Mool(i)= not at all. Bhuj(u) = recite (Naam). Doakh = ignoble deeds. 1.

MEANING: The result of all the deeds that you perform day and night appears on your forehead, oh ignorant man. You do not realize that Waheguru, from whom you hide your deeds, is always with you and watches you closely. When the Creator, Waheguru, is always with you and watches you, why should you commit sins, oh man? Earn your living by honest means, and recite Waheguru's Naam as a result of which you will not go to hell at all, oh my friend. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of holy saints all the twenty-four hours, which will accompany you (to Waheguru's Court), and all your ignoble deeds will be eradicated, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vulvunch = deceit. Oodur = belly; stomach. Gavaara = uncivilized. Dataar(u) = the provider (Waheguru). Nisungay = without any shame (societal pressure). Kool Smooha = the entire clan. Sadhik = those who try to cleanse their bodies. Moon(i) = hermits. Adhaara = basis; support. 2.

MEANING: The foolish and the uncivilized man fills his stomach (earns his living) by deceitful (dishonest) means, and does not realize that the Provider (Waheguru) is providing him with everything that he rightfully needs. Why should one drop Waheguru from his memory when the Provider, Lord, is always kind? Without caring for the prevailing norms of society, if one recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of holy saints, not only he but all his associates are rescued. Waheguru's Naam is the basis of all the Sidh yogis, the yogis who try to cleanse their bodies, the hermits, and His devotees. We should recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the only Creator (and the only Provider), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Khoat(u) = dishonesty. Perkhunhaara = evaluator; judge. Koorr(u) = falsehood; dishonesty. Kuput(u) = deceit. Kumaanvdurray = practise. Sunsaar(u) Saagur(u) = the world-sea. Anind = which does not deserve vilification. Ruviya = is present. Ooch = high; transcendent. Agumm = beyond reach. Apaara = beyond limits. Tayk = support; basis. Jun = devotee. 3.

MEANING: One should never practise dishonesty because Waheguru is the final Judge. Those who practise dishonesty and deceit are born again, and again in the world. But, those, who recite Waheguru's Naam (with dedication) swim across the world-sea (are salvaged). Giving up my lust, rage, and unwarranted vilification of others, I have come to Waheguru's shelter. Waheguru, which is highly transcendental, physically inaccessible, and limitless, is present in the water, on the land, and in the sky. Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) is the basis of the spiritual life of His devotees, submits Nanak respectfully. 3.

Word Meaning: Paykh(u) = see; consider. Hurchundaururri = mirage; not real. Usthir = everlasting. Rung = attractions. Jaytay = all those. Smaaliyaiy = remember. Bhaaou Dootiya = love for the other (Maya). Jaaliyaiy = burn; destroy. Jobun(u) = youthfulness; beauty. Maal(u) = wealth. Serbus(u) = all those. 4.

MEANING: View the world as a mirage (false; perishable); there is nothing that lasts forever, oh man. All those attractions and enjoyments of Maya (that you see and enjoy) do not accompany you to the next world. Only Waheguru is with you all the time (is your permanent companion), so remember Him day and night. There is nothing other than Waheguru, which is permanent; so, we should burn our love for the other (Maya). Love Waheguru, as if He is your only friend, your youthfulness, and your wealth. But He can be realized only with great fortune when the devotee attains the spiritual state above Maya, and enjoys blissfulness, submits Nanak(u) respectfully. 4.4.13.

Word Meaning: Kumla = Maya. Bherm bheet(i) = wall of illusions (gimmicks). Teekhun = very sharp. Mud = intoxicant. Bipreet(i) = opposite to the prevalent customs (path of righteousness). Uvdh = span of life. Akaaruth = meaningless; goes waste. Jaat = is spent. Ghor Gehbur = very dense (dark). Bun = forest. Greh(i) = house; mind. Moosut = being deceived; stealing. Dinkuro = sun. Khaat = consuming. Bihaat = being spent. Kroonaputay = source of mercy. Gutay = high spiritual state. Kool = clan. Roop = beauty. Dhoop = fragrance (of virtues). Heeni = without; empty of. Maat = mother (shelter). Ker joarr(i) = with folded hands. Nurhur = Waheguru. 1.
MEANING: The gimmicks of Maya create a wall between the man and Waheguru, oh man. It does have a strong intoxicating effect, but it is misleading and takes one away from the path of righteousness, and his precious human life is spent wastefully. The world of Maya is like a dense, dark forest where man cannot find the true path of life, and the mind-thief steals his virtues. Each day, it eats away at his life. Without Waheguru's Naam, time eats away one's life, which goes away wastefully; so, I request the source of mercy, Waheguru, to kindly connect me with Him. The man goes through countless lives and deaths, but there is no spiritual gain without Waheguru's Naam (and he will continue to be in the death-birth cycle). I do not belong to a high clan, have no physical beauty, and no fragrance of virtues, and there is no one to provide shelter to me other than You, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter, and beg You with folded hands, to please, salvage me. 1.

Word Meaning: Meena = fish. Jul = water. Kheen = weak. Kut = how. Priya = dear (water). Sunmukh = facing (the target). Baan = arrows. Mirg = deer. Urpay = offers. Baydhiyo = pierced. Sehj = blissful. Sroat = sound (of music he loves). (See Chhunt 11 verse 2). Priya = dear (Waheguru). Baiyraagi = fully dedicated devotee of Waheguru. Khin Rehan = live even for a moment. Dhrig = shameful; condemnable. Pulka = eyelids. Paagaiy = (with the) feet. Chitvunt(i) = thinks of. Sri-Rung = Waheguru. Raatay = imbued. Maatay = intoxicated. Dootiya = others. Khoat = remove completely. Muyya = kindness. Duyya = pity; mercy. Duyaal = kind. Poorun = full of. Mugun = fully absorbed. 2.

MEANING: The fish feels very weak by mind and by body (and eventually dies) without water. How can he live without water? Attracted to the blissful music which he likes, the deer offers his mind, his body, and his life when he faces the arrows of the hunters, and is pierced by them. Similarly, a fully dedicated devotee, who renounces the world for his love for Waheguru, considers his life condemnable if he has to stay away from Waheguru even for a moment, and begs Waheguru to connect him with Him. He is so deeply attached to the Feet of his Dear (Waheguru's Naam) that he always thinks about Him, and cannot shut his eyes (go to sleep). Those devotees, who are imbued in Waheguru's love, and are intoxicated with His Naam, are free from all worldly fears, and the illusions of Maya. Please be kind and merciful to me, so that Nanak may get fully absorbed in Your love, oh the perfect source of kindness, Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Aliul = bumble bee. Goonjaat = hums. Mukrund = pollen. Baasun = fragrance. Maat = fully absorbed. Kumul = lotus. Bundhaavut = gets trapped. Chaatrik = waterbird, the bird which drinks only the first rain drop (See Chhunt 3, verse 3). Piyaas = thirst. Ghun Boond = drop from the clouds. Buchittar(i) = strange. Ul = Ul(i) = intoxicating (causing blissfulness) liquid (Waheguru's Naam). Binsut = get destroyed. Taap = discomforts. Ut(i) Ghunaa = immense. Chutur(u) = intelligent. Suntaap = suffering. 3.

MEANING: The bumblebee hums on the lotus flower, and loves the sweet smell of the pollen so much so that it gets fully absorbed in the smell, completely forgetting that the pollen is sticky, and it would be trapped in the petals. Similarly, the waterbird is thirsty of, and loves the first rain drop so much that he always thinks about it, and begs the clouds to cause rain. The man should also love the intoxicating Waheguru's Naam (like the fish loves water and the rainbird loves the first rain drop) to have all his discomforts eradicated. When a man gets connected with Waheguru because of his immense love for Him, all his discomforts and his suffering get eradicated. Waheguru is so attractive, so intelligent, and so wise, that I do not have the tongue to sing His virtues. Please hold me by the arm, and grant me Your Naam, oh Waheguru; Your kind sight eradicates all the sins. I recite the Naam of Waheguru which purifies the immoral, and seeing whom, all sufferings are killed, oh Nanak. 3.

Binvunt(i) Nanak mayri aas poorun, milay SriDhur goon nidhaan. 4.1.14.35.

Word Meaning: Chitvoun = think of. Chit = mind. Nath = Lord; God. Shern = in Your shelter. Anaath = orphan; support less. Chaayilay = full of zest. Loobudh = greedy. Giyan = Divine Knowledge (making a connection with God). Jaachuk = beggar. Maan Poorun = bestows honour. Bideerun = destroyer. Kuntth Laagay = hugs. Nah = Nath; Lord. Sayj = bed (of heart). Sohuntiya = looks pretty. Moorari = God. Kulmul = sins. Haan = go in loss; are destroyed. Sri-Dhur = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: I think of the Lord in my mind, and pray to Him: Please, keep me, the shelter-less, in Your shelter; please, connect me with You as my soul feels zestful on meeting with You. Your beautiful Feet are the focus of my mind, and my mind is full of greed for Your Divine Knowledge (to get connected with You); I am a beggar at Your Door, please save my honour (fulfil my wish), oh Lord. Waheguru saves your honour (against the attacks of Maya), is the destroyer of all suffering, and fulfills all your wishes. That day is lucky for a devotee when Waheguru hugs him, and the bed of his heart becomes very attractive (comforting) when he gets connected with Him. When Waheguru casts His kind sight on a devotee, the latter gets connected with Him (Waheguru), and all the sins of the devotee are destroyed. All my wishes were fulfilled when the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru, connected me with Him, submits Nanak respectfully. 4. 1.14.35.

ੴ ਸਤਿਨਾਮੁ ਕਰਤਾ ਪੁਰਖੁ ਨਿਰਭਉ ਨਿਰਵੈਰ ਅਕਾਲ ਮੂਰਤਿ ਅਜੂਨੀ ਸੈਭੰ ਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥

Ek Onkar Sat(i) Naam, Kerta, Purakh(u), Nirbhuou, Nirvair(u), Akal Moorut(i) Ajooni Saibhunn(g) Gur Persad(i).

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being whose existence is (Laws are) eternal. He is the creator and is omnipresent (living power). He is fearless (because He has no superior and is above all natural laws). (See Sloak 1 after Paurri 3). He bears no enmity (because He has no rival) for anyone (and is perfectly just). Time has no effect on His Persona, and He never takes any life form. He is self-illuminated and can be realized only with the grace of the Guru (Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru).

Assa Mehla 1: Vaar Sloakaan Naal(i), sloak bhee Mehlay Pehlay kay Likhay.
Toonday Asraajay kee dhooni.

NOTE: A Vaar is a type of lyric which used to be sung by bards on stages to narrate some story of bravery (or a short epic) to inspire people. Vaars did inspire people. So, Guru Nanak Sahib thought of vaars as a medium for singing the praise of Waheguru and used them for this sole purpose. He wrote three Vaars, one each in Raag Maajh, Raag Assa, and Raag Mulhaar. The other Gurus also wrote vaars in praise of Waheguru. There are 22 Vaars in Guru Granth Sahib as follows.

Guru Nanak Sahib = 3
Guru Amar Dass Ji = 4
Guru Ram Dass Ji = 8
Guru Arjun Dev Ji = 6
Satta and Bulvund = 1

Total = 22

The Vaars were written in verses, called paurris, and were intended to have some sloaks with them, but the sloaks were not necessarily written at the same time as the vaars. The appropriate sloaks were selected by Guru Arjun Sahib later to match the paurris (have similar meanings). Guru Arjun Sahib advised that, wherever possible, the vaars be sung to the tunes of popular folk vaars so that people can memorize them easily and sing Waheguru's praise. Assa Dee Vaar is advised to be sung on the tune of the vaar about "Toonda Asraaj". "Toonda or Tunda" means a person with severed hand(s). Asraaj was a handsome young son of an aged rajah who married a young and beautiful girl. The new wife of the rajah was attracted to Asraaj who did not approve the new queen's advances. When Asraaj told the new queen in no uncertain terms that he would not yield to her immoral advances, the queen complained to the Rajah, blaming Asraaj of sexual assault. The Rajah became so furious that he did not listen to any appeal of Asraaj, and ordered that his hands be severed and later be killed. However, the executioner believed Asraaj's story and did not kill him. He did sever his hands and threw him in an open well in a deserted place. By Providence, a passerby heard cries from the well and pulled Asraaj out. Asraaj healed completely and was made the rajah of a neighbouring state. The bards began to sing vaars about him.

Assa Dee Vaar, which has 24 paurris (verses) and 59 sloaks, is a very popular composition of Guru Nanak Sahib, and is recited in every Gurdwara early in the morning as a regular feature. In addition to Waheguru's praise on many fronts written in a mesmerizing language, the Vaar also attacks the common misbeliefs and superstitions prevalent at the time, and enlightens the masses, showing them the true path of life. It also illuminates the role of the Guru in our spiritual life.

Sloak(u) Mehla1: Bulihaari Gur aapnay, diyohaarri sud vaar. Jin(i) maanus tay dayvtay keeyay, kert na laagi vaar. 1.

Word Meaning: Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice life. Diyohaarri = day. Sud = hundreds. Maanus = human being. Kert = in doing so. No Vaar = No time. 1.

MEANING: I would love to sacrifice my life (be His slave) hundreds of times a day for my Guru, who transforms humans into gods (holy men) and takes no time to do so. 1.

(ਅੰਗ 463)॥ ਮਹਲਾ 2॥ ਜੇ ਸਉ ਚੰਦਾ ਉਗਵਹਿ ਸੂਰਜ ਚੜਹਿ ਹਜਾਰ॥ ਏਤੇ ਚਾਨਣ ਹੋਦਿਆ ਗੁਰ ਬਿਨੁ ਘੋਰ ਅੰਧਾਰ॥ 2॥

(PAGE 463): Mehla 2: Jay suou chunda oogveh(i), sooruj churreh(i) hajaar. Aitay chaanun hoandiyaan, Gur bin(u) ghor undhaar. 2.

Word Meaning: Suou = hundred. Chunda = moon. Oogveh(i) = grow; rise. Chaanun = brightness; light. Ghor = immense. Undhaar = darkness. 2.

MEANING: If there were hundreds of moons and thousands of suns in the sky to give off light, there would still be deep darkness (in the minds of the people) without the Guru.2.

ਮ:1॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰੂ ਨ ਚੇਤਨ੍ਹੀ ਮਨਿ ਆਪਣੈ ਸੁਚੇਤ॥ ਛੂਟੇ ਤਿਲ ਬੂਆੜ ਜਿਉ ਸੁੰਞੇ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਖੇਤ॥ ਖੇਤੈ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਛੁਟਿਆ ਕਹੁ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਉ ਨਾਹ॥ ਫਲੀਅਹਿ ਫੁਲੀਅਹਿ ਬਪੁੜੇ ਭੀ ਤਨ ਵਿਚਿ ਸੁਆਹ॥3॥

M:1: Nanak Guru na chaytni, mun(i) aapnaiy soochayt. Chhootay til booaarr jiyoun soonjay undar(i) khayt. Khaytaiy undar(i) chhoottiyaan kuhou Nanak suou naah. Fuliyeh(i) fooliyeh(i) buppurray, bhee tun vich(i) sooaah. 3.

Word Meaning: Chaytni = think of; remember. Soochayt = alert; wise. Chhootay = are left behind. Til Booaarr = a sesame plant which has only ash in its pods and no sesame seed, as if it were burned (rotten). Soonjaiy = deserted. Khayt = field. Naah = master; owner. Fuliyeh(i) Fooliyeh(i) = flourish. Bupurray = poor; helpless. 3.

MEANING: Some of the people think themselves to be very clever (in the realm of Maya), but never think of Waheguru, oh Nanak. They are left ignored by Waheguru like a rotten sesame plant, which is ignored (not harvested) by the owner, and is left behind in the deserted field. Left behind in the deserted field, the rotten sesame plant may have many owners who could use it for different purposes (for example as fuel or as a sweeper), but it will have no real owner for the purpose it was cultivated for. Similarly, the Maya-engrossed individual will have no owner (Guru) who could lead him to union with Waheguru which is the real objective of human life. Like the rotten sesame plant, such individuals may flourish in the world of Maya, but will have only ash (ignoble qualities) in their bodies (minds). 3.

Word Meaning: Saajiyo = Ruchiyo = created. Naaoun = Laws. Dooyee = the other; second. Koodrut(i) = nature. Toos(i) = pleasingly. Pusaao = spreading; giving. Jaanoyee = know-all; omniscient. Kuvaaou = word; Huqam. Aasun(u) = place to sit (to manage); throne. Chaaou = with zest. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru created Himself, and also the Laws to govern the universe. Next, He created the nature (the visible world), and now sitting on His throne, He is watching it with zest. He is the Creator and the Provider, and because of His kind nature, He gives His gifts pleasingly to the living beings, and keeps giving them (never stops giving them) He knows everything about His creation, and takes away life of living beings after giving it to them with His Huqam. He is watching his creation with zest from His throne. 1.

Word Meaning: Sachay = for real; everlasting. Khund = Parts of the universe; planets. Brahmund = universe. Loe = worlds. Aakaar = heavenly bodies. Kernay = creations. Amar = Huqam; Will. Deebaan(u) = Court; justice. Foormaan = Order; Will. Kerm = benevolence; largesse. Neeshaan = identity; stamp of approval. Taan(i) = strengths. Joar(i) = forces. Salaah = Sift(i) = praise. Sach(u) = immortal. Kuch(u) Nikuch(u) = absolutely weak (vey low) in noble qualities; will take rebirths.

MEANING: (Contrary to the belief of some people that the world is not real and is only a dream), Your planets and Your universe are all real, oh Waheguru. All Your worlds and all heavenly bodies are for real. Your Reign and Your Court (Justice) are everlasting, and so are Your Huqam (Laws) and Your Command. Your benevolence and Your stamp of approval (of individuals) are also eternal. Millions of people describe You (Your Virtues such as Your gifts, and strengths, etc.) as being everlasting, oh, the eternal Waheguru. Your praise is everlasting (it surely connects the devotee with You). Your (system of) creation is also everlasting. Those who worship the eternal Waheguru also become immortal by merging into Him, but those who take births and keep dying have no noble qualities (no significant spirituality) and will keep taking births and dying, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru's magnificence is great because His system of laws is great (looking after His creation well, delivering full justice, and keeping the universe in order). His magnificence is great because He delivers full justice, and because His throne is eternal (He will be the only Supreme Being ever). His magnificence is great because He knows the feelings and the needs of His creation without them (the living beings) saying anything. His magnificence is great, because He grants His gifts without being asked. His magnificence is great because He is the sovereign (and has no rival or superior). His deeds cannot be described, and whatever is happening in the universe, happens by His own Will, oh Nanak.2.

Word Meaning: Kotthrri = a small room to dwell. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Ikknah = some. Smaayay = absorbs (in Him). Vinaas(u) = destruction. Bhaanaiy = with His Will. Kuddh(i) Luyyay = pulls out. Nivaas(u) = live in; deeply engrossed. Raas(i) = suits the needs; serves the purpose. Gurmukh(i) = devotee. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. 3.

MEANING: This world is the dwelling of Waheguru, and He resides in it. He absorbs some of the human beings in Himself (connects them with Him) while He destroys the spirituality (noble qualities) of others (by keeping them engrossed in Maya) by His Huqam (judgment). He pulls some out of their deep involvement in Maya while keeping the others engrossed. However, it cannot be predicted which situation will suit an individual (meet his objective) (for example, it is possible for a very rich person to spend his wealth on noble causes to serve humanity). Only that lucky individual can be considered a real devotee, who is enlightened by Waheguru Himself, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Oppaayay kaiy = having created. Likh(i) Naavaiy = to record accounts of deeds. Dherm(u) = (mythical) Angel of justice. Nibbrraiy = final decision. Choon(i) Vukh Kuddhay = sorts out. Jujmaaliya = (mentally) sick (sinners). Koorriyaar = dealers in falsehood (deceitful). Dojuk(i) = hell. Ruttay = imbued. Jin(i) guyyay = winners (in the game of life). Tthuggun Vaalay = deceitful.

MEANING: After creating the living beings, Waheguru appointed the Angel of justice to record the accounts of deeds performed by them, oh Nanak. There (in Waheguru's Court), the decisions are based purely on truth; the sinners are sorted out and separated. The dealers of falsehood (fraudulent) find no room there, and are sent to hell with their faces blackened (disgraced). The devotees, who are imbued in Your Naam, win the battle of life (achieve the objective of union with You) while the deceitful lose the game of life (and are sent to be reborn), oh Waheguru. Waheguru has appointed the Angel of Justice to record the accounts of deeds, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vismaad(u) = mesmerizing. Naad = music. Vayd = the Vedas; knowledge. Bhayd = differences. Roop = forms. Rung = colours. Khadeh(i) = displays its different effects and forms. Vidaani = amazing. Khaani = sources of reproduction. Saad = tastes. Sunjoag(u) = union. Vijoag = separation. Bhoag = enjoying food. Sift(i) = Salaah = praise. Oojhurr = wilderness; lost from the right path. Raah = the clear (right) path. Haajra Hujoor(i) = present close by. Vidaan(u) = amazing feats. 1.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib sees Waheguru everywhere and in everything, and is mesmerized by the ways He presents (shows) Himself in nature. Everything in nature mesmerizes Guru Sahib. But one has to have a high spiritual level to appreciate this holy Shabad.

MEANING: I am mesmerized by the many different varieties of sounds produced by living and nonliving things, as well as by those of music. The Vedas and the other sources of knowledge are also mesmerizing. I also get mesmerized by the variety of living beings and by the differences among them in terms of their forms and colours. It is also mesmerizing to note how the animals survive (in extreme weather conditions) without any protection from clothes. The importance of air and water, and their easy availability, is also mesmerizing. The way fire (energy) displays its power in different forms (appearing as lightning, dispelling cold, changing landscapes around volcanoes, and even under the surface of water in oceans, and so on), and how it can also be highly destructive, is mesmerizing. It is amazing to see the earth as the source of infinite things, and the different ways in which living beings reproduce. How the living beings, especially humans, enjoy so many different tastes with the same tongue is mesmerizing. The effects of union and separation are mesmerizing. I am mesmerized by the system of appetite (some animals can go without food for days or even for months, while some others keep eating), and by the different ways living beings are fed. The different ways to sing Waheguru's praise are also mesmerizing. It is also mesmerizing to see how, living in the same world, different men follow different paths – some the path of righteousness, while others are completely misled. It is also mesmerizing to note that some people find Waheguru far away, while others find Him very close. I am completely mesmerized to see amazing things in nature. But only some very lucky people attain this spiritual state to experience such mesmerization (to appreciate Waheguru's nature), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Koodrut(i) = nature; Waheguru's presence; His Laws. Bhuou = (respectful) fear; obeying His Will. Saar(u) = supreme. Pataaleen = in the underworlds. Aakaar = universe. Kutaybaan = the religious books of the West (Quran, Bible, Torah etc.). Jinseen = different kinds. Naykiyaan = noble deeds. Budiyaan = ignoble deeds. Abimaan(u) = disrespect; insult. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Khaak(u) = dust. Qadir(u) = designer. Kerta = creator. Paaki = holy; pious. Nayee = praise; greatness. Taako Taak = alone; solely. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is visible and can be heard through His nature (in which He is present). Living in His respectful fear (obeying His Will) is a source of supreme comfort. He is present in nature everywhere - in the underworlds, in the skies, and in the whole universe. Waheguru's nature is discussed in the Vedas, in the Puranas, in the religious books of the Western world, and in discussions. All the processes of eating, drinking, and wearing (what we can eat, drink, and wear) as well as the natural feeling of love, are all governed by natural laws. Waheguru's nature shows in different forms of life on earth (in different kinds, and in different colours). Nature is also reflected in noble and ignoble deeds, and in respect or disrespect of the man. Nature also shows itself in the air, in water, in fire and in the dust of the earth (they are all regulated by natural laws). It is all Your nature, and You are its designer and the creator, oh Waheguru. Your magnificence lies in Your piousness and in Your purity. Waheguru looks after His creation using His laws, and He solely governs the universe, oh Nanak.

Paurri: Aapinaiy bhog bhog(i) kaiy, hoyay bhusmurr, bhaur sidhaaya. Vudda hoa doonidaar(u), gul(i) sungul ghut(i) chulaaya. Uggaiy kerni keerut(i) vaachiyaiy, beh(i) laykha kur(i) sumjhaaya. Thaaoun na hoyee puoudeeyee, hoon(i) sooniyaiy kiya roovaaya. Mun(i) undhaiy junum(u) guvaaya. 3.

Word Meaning: Bhoag = (enjoyment of) worldly materials. Bhusmurr = pile of ash. Bhaur = soul. Sidhaaya = went away. Vudda Hoa = beyond old age (died). [Until about 1980s, the use of the word "death" was avoided as far as possible. Even when a lamp was to be put out, the elderly women used to say "lamp vudda kur(i) diyou"]. Doonidaar = family man. Sungul = chain. Ghut(i) = by putting. Chulaaya = taken away. Uggaiy = in the next world (Waheguru's Court). Kerni Keerut(i) = deeds performed. Vaachiyaiy = reviewed. Laykha = account. Thaaoun = room. Puoudeeyee = being hit with shoes; taking punishment. Roovaaya = cries. 3.

MEANING: Having enjoyed the worldly materials that were destined to be in his life (fate), the soul of the man leaves his body, which turns into dust. After the death of the family man (who stayed engrossed in Maya), the agents of the Angel of death put chains around his neck, and take him away to produce him before Waheguru. The accounts of his deeds are reviewed there, and explained to him. He does not find any room (to hide) when he is given the punishment he deserves due to his ignoble deeds, and there is nobody to listen to his cries. The blind man wastes away his precious human life.

Bhaiy vich(i) aaveh(i) jaaveh(i) poor. Sugliyaan bhuou likhiya sir(i) laykh(u). Nanak nirbhuou Nirunkaar Sach(u) Aik. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy = respectful fear; Waheguru's laws. Sudvaaou = always. Duriyaayo = rivers. Vaygaar(i) = service without any reward. Dubbi Bhaar(i) = pressed (constrained) under some weight; force of gravitation. Ind(u) = the god of rain; clouds. Sir Bhaar(i) = on its head (upside down) (because the rain falls downwards and not upwards). Raja Dherm = Dherm Raj = the Angel of justice. Koh = a unit of length or distance; (koh = 2.2 km). Soornath = the king of the gods. Aadaanaiy = stretched. Jodh Muha Bul Soor = gallants; valiant (who have conquered their mind and the five demons). Aaveh(i) Jaaveh(i) = are born and die. Poor = large groups of people. 1.

MEANING: The air always moves, and millions of rivers flow according to the laws of nature (Waheguru). The fire performs its duties without any reward as directed by Waheguru's laws, and the earth is suppressed under some weight to keep it in position (in its orbit). (Here, Guru Sahib alludes to the force of gravitation; otherwise, what will the term "weight" imply? Similarly, what will the word "constrained " imply other than the force of gravity? He did not want to use the word for gravity directly, because He was not here to teach us science.

The clouds also float upside down (the water drops of rain are at the bottom, and not on the top of the clouds) in the sky in keeping with Waheguru's laws. Even the Angel of Justice (actually there is none) serves at the door of Waheguru (he has no independent portfolio). Even the moon and the sun obey Waheguru's laws when they move millions of kilometres with no end. All the Sidh yogis, the Buddhas, and the king of the gods are governed by Waheguru's laws, and so are the stretched skies. All the gallant and the valiant (those who have conquered their minds) obey Waheguru's Command, and huge groups of people come and go (take births and die) governed by His laws. All the living beings have their fortunes written on their foreheads as per the laws of Waheguru. It is the eternal Waheguru alone which is not subject to any laws, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nirunkaar(u) = the formless God. Kaytay = many; countless. Ram = god Rama. Ruvaal = dust of feet. Kunnh = Krishna. Kuhaaniyaan = stories. Mungtay = beggars. Girr Moorr(i) = repeatedly. Pooreh Taal = dance steps matching the music. Bazaari = stage performers. Kudheh(i) Bazaar = give performance. Aal pataal = meaningless talk. Tukiyaan (Tuka) = a rupee (or commonly a 1/32 rupee). Moondrray = large earrings. Haar = necklace. Chhaar = ash. Hikmut(i) = cleverness. Huqam = claim as a right. Khooaar(u) = discomfiture. 2.

MEANING: Only Waheguru is fearless (above any laws) while countless individuals like god Rama, are the dust of His feet (are His slaves and obey His Command), oh Nanak. There are many stories associated with Krishna, and many ideas from the Vedas (which all obey Waheguru's Command, meaning one cannot find salvation or connect with God by worshiping them). Countless beggars dance to music in the streets and repeatedly try to match their dancing steps with the music, with the belief that they are pleasing their deity. Similarly, many street performers give performances, play the roles of kings and queens, and talk about meaningless things to earn money and please their deity. All this happens in keeping with the laws of nature. Then, there are some rich people who flaunt their wealth by wearing large earrings and necklaces worth millions of rupees, but they do not realize that the bodies they love to adorn will eventually become dust. One cannot acquire Divine Knowledge (make a connection with Waheguru) simply by talking about Him; it is extremely difficult, like chewing iron, even to describe (what things or deeds please God). It is only by God's benevolence that one can connect with Him; all other means of shrewdness and claims as a right are fruitless and lead to discomfiture. 2.

Word Meaning: Nudr(i) = kind sight. Jeaou = man. Bhermiya = went through. Jayvud = as great. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Guvaaya = lost; got rid of. 4.

MEANING: If Waheguru casts a kind sight on some of His devotees, he gets connected with Satguru. When the man goes through many life forms, Waheguru connects him with Satguru to receive the proper advice. There is no other benefactor as great as Satguru in this world, listen, oh, the people of the world. Satguru explains the Truth and only Truth to His devotees (the path of righteousness and how to connect with Waheguru). Those who get connected with Satguru, and are able to kill their selfishness and their ego with His grace, realize Waheguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Ghurriyaan = a small unit of time (24 min). Gopiyaan = cowgirls (friends of Sri Krishna). Pehray = a larger unit of time (3 hours). Kunh Gopal = Krishna. Gehnay = ornaments. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Avtaar = gods. Maal(u) = possessions. Dhun(u) = wealth. Vertun(i) = life style; money for daily needs. Junjaal = bonds of Maya. Moosaiy = is cheated. Vihooni = without; devoid of. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. 1.

MEANING: (The acts that the stage-performers perform, giving the people the impression that they are worshipping God, are spiritually totally worthless. They do so to earn money only. The real acts of praise for Waheguru are performed in nature all the time. The stage actors believe in Krishna as God, and play the roles of Krishna and his cowgirl friends on the stage. However, Waheguru is being praised in nature all the time as obeying His Laws is the same thing as praising Him. For example, time, passing in the form of ghurrees, and pehrs, is obeying Waheguru's Laws, and is akin to the role of the Gopis, and Krishna played by the actors. The stage actors wear ornaments while playing their respective roles; in nature, air, water, and fire serve as the ornaments with the moon and the sun as gods (people believe in them as gods), which obey Waheguru's Laws (and thus sing His praise). The stage actors sing praise of Krishna, and collect money from the people (not from Krishna), but in nature, the deity – Waheguru - gives the whole earth (everything that is produced in it, in the form of all possessions and the wealth) to all His living beings for their daily needs, and also binds them with Maya to keep them occupied; and they do not even need to sing His praise for that. Because of the lack of Divine Knowledge, the whole world is being deceived by Maya's attractions, and the Angel of Death is consuming it, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vaayin(i) = play musical instruments. Chaylay = disciples; assistants. Gur = leader. Raava = dust. Jhaata = (unruly) hair. Pooreh(i) Taal = dancing steps matching the music. Pichhaarreh(i) = throw against. Kerm(i) = benevolence. Churraaou = high spirits. Bhinni = moist; comforting; blissful. Rain(i) = night (of life). Sikhi = learned. Lunghaayay Paar(i) = ferries across. Kohloo = oil mill. Churkha = spinning wheel. Chuckee = (the stones) of the flour mill. Chuck(u) = potter's wheel. Thul(i) Vaaroalay = whirlwind. Ununt = countless. Laatoo = spinners. Madhaaniyaan = churners. Unn-gaah = crude thrashers to separate grain from the shells (or pods). Punkhee = hand fans. Bhaundiyaan = while spinning. Na Saah = without rest. Sooyay Chaarr(i) = mounted on a pin. Junt = machine; pinwheel. Bundhun Bundh(i) = bonds of life (Maya). Bhuvaayay = takes through many life forms. Soyay = the same (Waheguru). Puyyiyaiy Kirt = predestined to do deeds based on his deeds of previous lives. Ood(i) na jaayee = cannot get free. Sidh = successful. Chaaou = gusto; zest. Bhaaou = love. 2.

MEANING: While giving a performance on the stage (which normally is dusty ground), the self-proclaimed guru (leader of the group) dances while his assistants play the musical instruments. They move their feet and turn their heads. With the movements of their feet, dust rises and covers their heads at which the onlookers laugh and go to their homes. They dance to the tune of the music and throw themselves against the ground to entertain people so as to earn bread and butter. They sing as they perform the roles of the Gopis, Krishna, Sita, and Rama. But they do not remember Waheguru which is fearless, formless, has everlasting existence, and is the creator of the whole universe. Those devotees, who serve Him due to His benevolence, are always in high spirits. The night of life of those, who serve Him zestfully becomes very pleasant and blissful. Those, who learn to worship Waheguru by taking the Advice of the Guru, are ferried across the sea of Maya (are salvaged) with Waheguru's kind sight.

The misguided stage performers, who believe that they can please their deity simply by spinning around while dancing, should realize that if God could be pleased simply by spinning, then all the spinning objects like, the oil mills, the spinning wheel, the flour mill, the potter's wheel, countless whirlwinds on the land, the spinners, the churners, and the grain thrashers, would all be God's favourites because they all spin. Not only these, the fans spin without any rest, the pinwheels, and many other countless objects spin. Actually, it is due to God's Will that some people dance and spin as they are destined to do so as a result of their deeds in previous lives, which they committed because of their bonds with Maya. Everybody is dancing in one form or another to enjoy life. They have fun while dancing, but have to cry when leaving this world as they would be taken through many life forms. They cannot free themselves from the bonds of Maya and cannot succeed in achieving their objective of life. Dancing, and jumping around may be fun, but it cannot connect one with Waheguru. Only those truly love Waheguru who have His respectful fear in mind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nirunkaar = the formless Waheguru. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Guvaayiyaiy = lose (respect or credibility). Lorreh(i) Chunga = wish good (for self). Poonnhou = noble deeds; donate for charity. Neech(u) = low caste. Jurvaana = the evil and powerful Angel of death. Purhuraiy = push away; avoid. Jur(u) = old age. Vays = in the garb of. Bhuriyaiy Paayiyaiy = when the paayee gets full and sinks (when the time is over). (In olden days, time was measured by placing a standard flat-bottomed metal bowl with some holes in the bottom, called the Paayee, on the surface of water. Water would enter the paayee through the holes, and it would eventually, sink. The time taken by the paayee to sink was called a Ghurree (24 minutes). 5.

MEANING: Your Naam is the most important thing for the man, oh Waheguru; by reciting Your Naam, one does not go to hell. Man's body and soul belong to Waheguru, which provides delicious food to the man without being asked; so, there is no need for the man to beg for food from Waheguru. Actually, begging lowers a man's credibility. If the man wishes good for himself, he should do the noble deeds (like giving to charities and serving the people) and consider himself a low-caste (humble). Without Waheguru's Naam at heart, the man is always afraid of death and tries to avoid the evil and powerful Angel of death. However, the old age (which brings death close), does show up after all, and nobody can stay in this world when his time is up. 5.

Word Meaning: Musalmaan = a Muslim. Shruyiut(i) = the religious laws of the Muslims. Bunday = slaves; devotees. Say = those. Bundee = chained in restrictions (obey the religious laws). Deedaar(u) = (holy) sight. Salaahee = worthy of praise. Dershun(i) = Shastras. Roop(i) Apaar(u) = having extreme beauty. Urcha Pooja = worship with flowers and other offerings. Agurvaas(u) = sandalwood. Behkaar(u) = fragrance. Soonn(i) = in meditation where no thoughts of Maya originate. Alukh = incomprehensible. Sookhum = micro-sized. Moorut(i) = persona. Aakaar = universe. Sutiyaan = philanthropists. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Sehsa Goona = thousand times. Yaar = womanizer. Koorriyaar = deceitful; Maya-worshipper. Kharaab = bad; evil. Vaykaar = immoral acts; sensual pleasures. Hoanda = whatever (noble qualities) they possessed. Aiythaaoun = here, in this world. Kaar = deeds. Pooriyaan = cities; countries. Loaan = of many worlds. Saar = look after. Bhookh = appetite; wish. Salaahun(u) = sing praise. Adhaar = support; basis. Goonvuntiyaan = virtuous people. Paa Chhaar = acquire dust of the feet (serve them). 1.

MEANING: (Members of each faith have their own ways to worship their deity or God). For example, the Muslims praise their religious laws (follow them diligently) and ponder on them by reading them over and over. According to them, the real devotee of Islam is the one who enslaves himself to the restrictions of the Religion so as to have a holy sight of Allah. Likewise, the Hindus follow their Shastras to sing the praises of their deity, whom they believe to be extremely handsome (beautiful). They take dips in their holy places and worship their deities with many fragrant offerings, such as sandalwood extract, to please them.
The Yogis (who are followers of Shiva) meditate on their deity, whom they believe to be microscopic, yet they believe that the whole universe is his body. While meditating in the mental state in which no thought of Maya originates, they recite his name, calling him “Alukh” (incomprehensible) and “Nirunjun” (unaffected by Maya).
The philanthropists feel contented with the thought of making donations, hoping to receive a thousand times what they donate and to be showered with praise by the masses. On the contrary, there are countless thieves, womanizers, dealers in falsehood (Maya), evil, and immoral people in this world. They expend the earnings (rewards) of their deeds of their previous lives, now (in this world), and are left with no noble qualities before they die. What kind of business is that on their part?
However, Waheguru knows the needs of all His living beings in the water, on the land, in all the worlds, and in the entire universe, and provides for them (whether they are good or bad). But His true devotees have the appetite only to sing His praise. His Naam is the basis of their life, oh Nanak. They are blissful day and night to serve the virtuous devotees of Waheguru.1.

Word Meaning: Mitti = dirt (of the grave) (which is more pliable and suitable for pottery). Ghurr(i) = to design and make. Bhaanday = earthenware. Juldi = burning. Pookaar = begs; cries in suffering. Buppurri = helpless. Jhurr(i) = fly around. Ungiyaar = sparks. Kaarun(u) Keeya = created the universe. Kartar(u) = Creator. 2.
MEANING: (The Muslims do not cremate their dead - they rather bury them for a variety of reasons, including the belief in resurrection. (If someone burns their dead, how do they expect the ashes to be resurrected). But Guru Nanak Sahib explains that potters like the dirt from old graves because the mud made from it is very pliable and suitable for pottery. When they get the dirt from old graves, they mould the mud into earthenware and bricks, and bake them in kilns where the mud containing the remains of the dead, burns and cries (suffers). The helpless mud cries when it burns, and the sparks fly around (so what happens to the dead about resurrection now that the potter has baked the dirt of the grave)?
(Guru Sahib says that it does not matter how you dispose a dead body, it is the soul that bears all the consequences), but nobody knows what happens to the soul after it leaves the body. Only Waheguru, which has created the universe, knows about the departed soul, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bin(u) = without. Paayo = realized. Aap(u) = (Waheguru) Himself. Pergut(u) = clearly. Aakh(i) Soonaaya = made public. Mookut(i) = free from the bonds of Maya. Moh(u) = attachment. Chookaaya = ended; got rid of. Ootumm(u) = superior; very good. Jug Jeevun = life of the world (Waheguru). 6.

MEANING: Nobody has ever realized Waheguru without Satguru (and nobody ever will) because Waheguru has placed Himself in Satguru, and has made it perfectly clear to the world that Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru. When a devotee gets connected with Satguru, he becomes emancipated forever because Satguru breaks his bonds of worldly attachments. It is the best idea (act) to apply your mind to Waheguru (always remember Him) so as to get connected with Him, which is the life (soul or basis) of the whole world. 6.

Word Meaning: Huoun = Haumein = selfishness and ego. Khuttiya = earned. Guyya = lost. Sachiyaar = having noble qualities; truthful (spiritual). Koorriyaar = dealer in falsehood; deceitful. Bhuriyaiy = accumulate filth (of evil deeds). Dhovaiy = wash away the filth. Jaati = high caste. Jinsee = kind; humanity. Khovaiy = loses. Mokh Mookut(i) = emancipation. Saar = worth; value. Chhaya = darkness (of ignorance). Boojhaiy = understands. Dur(u) = (Waheguru's) Door. Soojhaiy = thinks of. Vihoona = empty; devoid of. Kuth(i) Kuth(i) = in discussions. Loojhaiy = burning of heart. Vakheh(i) = examines; evaluates. Vaykh(u) = appearances; character. 1.

MEANING: The man comes to this world full of haumein (selfishness and ego), and he leaves the world with haumein. He is born with haumein, and he dies in haumein (haumein is the basic character of the man). He makes donations in haumein (to get lot more in return, and to earn praise of the people), and he accepts things from others in haumein (thinking that it was his right to receive, or, he was obliging others by accepting their humble gifts). He earns in haumein and loses in haumein too. It is mostly because of his haumein (selfishness) that he shows honesty in his dealings, and again, it is his selfishness because of which he cheats others. One's haumein is the underlying cause of his noble and ignoble deeds, and it is because of his deeds (noble or ignoble) which he commits under his haumein that he is born either in paradise-like conditions (born to enjoy luxuries) or in hellish conditions (born to suffer). He is happy or sad due to his haumein, and it is because of his haumein that he accumulates filth of evil deeds, or washes it away.

He loses his high caste (respect in society), and his degree of humanity because of his haumein. He performs acts of wisdom or of foolishness due to his haumein, and has no idea about the worth of emancipation and freedom from the bonds of Maya. He is under the influence of Maya, and is in darkness of ignorance because of his haumein. Man's haumein is the basis of his rebirths. When he understands haumein, he will think of Waheguru's Door; but without that knowledge, he suffers from heart burning in useless discussions. But we cannot entirely blame the individuals, because they acquire the character, and follow the path which Waheguru had carved for them after examining their previous deeds according to His laws, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jaat(i) = nature; character. Kerm = deeds. Bundhna = bonds. Sunjum(i) = means; how. Deerugh(u) = long; serious. Roag(u) = illness. Daaroo = treatment; cure. Kmaah(i) = works on. Junhou = hey, people. 2.

MEANING: It is the nature of haumein that the man performs all his deeds under its influence. Haumein is the basis of such strong bonds with Maya that he is born again, and again. Now the question arises: where does haumein originate, and how can one get rid of it? The answer is: haumein is a long and serious disease (because it is the basic nature of all human beings, as explained in the above holy Shabad), but the cure also lies in it. (Because the man is selfish), he always wishes good for himself. If By Guru's grace, he comes to realize that acting on Guru's advice is the best thing for him in the long run, he will act on His Advice (and recite Waheguru's Naam which kills one's haumein). (Guru) Nanak(u) advises that this is how (by reciting Waheguru's Naam) one can get rid of his haumein, listen, oh folks. 2.

Word Meaning: Suntokhyeen = the contented individuals. Sacho Sach(u) = only Waheguru. Mundaiy = on the bad (evil) path. Sookirt = honest (noble) deeds. Bundhuna = bonds. Unn(u) = food. Bukhsheeshee = largesse. Ugla = more than enough. Svaaya = many times. Vudiyaayee = praise. Vudda = the Great God. 7.

MEANING: Those devotees really serve Waheguru who recite only His Naam, and are always content. They never set foot on a path leading to evil, and they maintain high morality by earning their livelihood honestly. They break all their worldly attachments and eat only a little just to maintain good health. You give a lot to such devotees, and it keeps increasing many times, oh kind Waheguru. Word Meaning: Purkhaan = humans. Birkhaan = (of) trees. Tuttaan = river banks. Maygh = clouds; sky. Khayt = fields; grains. Deep = continents; land. Loe = world. Mundul = solar systems. Khund = part. Verbhund = galaxy. Unduj = from eggs. Jayruj = from mammals. Otbhooj = vegetation. Saytjaah = air-borne bacteria. Mit(i) = measurements; counts. Sur = bodies of water; oceans. Mayr = mountains. Junt = living beings. Sumhaalay = looks after. Tis(u) = that (Waheguru). Johaari = bowing to. Sooust(i) = hail; long live. Deebaan(u) = reign. Abhug(u) = non-perishable. Tikka = anointment. Tug = the sacred thread of the Hindus (janeyoo). 1.

MEANING: (It is a foolishness on the part of the man to claim that he knows the number of) human beings, or the living beings which live on the trees, at holy places, in rivers, in the sky, in the fields (vegetation), on the land, in other worlds, in galaxies, and the whole universe, and the living beings that are produced from mammals, eggs, vegetation and air-borne bacteria (that the total number is 8.4 millions). Only Waheguru knows the actual number of his living beings from all those sources, including those in the oceans and on the mountains. After creating living beings, Waheguru looks after all of them. The Creator, Waheguru, who creates all the living beings, has the responsibility to look after them. I bow to the Creator, Waheguru, and hail Him (praise Him) for the way He looks after His creation. His reign (system of looking after His creation) is everlasting. Without Waheguru's Naam at heart, wearing of religious symbols like anointment on the forehead, and janeyoo (the sacred thread) carries no meaning, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Lukh = millions; countless. Naykiyaan = Chungiyayiyaan = noble deeds. Poonna = donations. Pevaan(u) = approved. Tup = self-affliction to please some deity. Sehj Yog = meditating without thought of Maya. Baybaan = wilderness; graveyards. Soortun = acts of chivalry. Sungram = fighting battles. Run = battlefield. Soorti = focusing of mind. Dhiyan = concentration. Mutee = advices. Mithiya = false. Kerm(u) = benevolence; munificence. Sacha = everlasting. Neeshaan(u) = identification. 2.

MEANING: (People practise many different ways to please their deity to have a good future life, and also to elongate their life span, if possible). For example, some people perform countless approved noble deeds like giving donations (to Brahmans), and helping the needy, while many others torture themselves at holy places, or meditate in the wilderness (so as not to think of Maya) to please their deities. Countless gallants show their chivalry on the battlefield and lay down their lives. Countless people focus their concentration and read the Puranas to acquire knowledge. However, none of such efforts earns the pleasure of Waheguru, who has already planned the births and deaths for his creation. Word Meaning: Sacho Sach(u) = Truth and only Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Vertaaya = spread; operates. Kmaaya = worked on.

MEANING: You are the only everlasting Lord, and Your Naam operates all over the universe, (Your Huqam or Laws are reigning the whole world), oh Waheguru. However, only those work on Your Naam (recite it, and adopt it in their life) whom You grant (with Your kindness). Your Naam can be realized only when a devotee gets connected with Satguru who implants Your Naam in the heart of the devotee. MEANING: (Many people read religious books for the sake of discussions or with the belief that they can please their deity just by reading the books), but they are sadly mistaken because Guru Nanak Sahib does not support this belief; He rather disapproves such readings (without love for Waheguru) saying: If one reads so many religious books that many bullock carts can be loaded with them, or they can be piled up in stacks, or many boats or pits can be filled with them (the result is still unproductive). Not only that, if one reads them for many years, and for all the months, or for his entire life with every breath, he gains nothing spiritually. There is only one thing (Waheguru's Naam) that gets them credit (in Waheguru's Court); the rest all is for nonsensical discussions to feed their ego, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Tayta = as much. Kurriya = irritated with self. Bhuviya = roamed. Luvviya = useless, talking like a crow. Bhaykh = religious garb (mainly for show off). Suhou = endure. Unn = food. Dooja Bhaaya = liked the other (Maya). Bustar = clothes. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Kehraiy = punishes self. Moan(i) = staying quiet. Vigoota = misled. Pug = feet. Oopaytaana = without shoes. Ul(i) mul(i) = unhealthy (arousing sensual feelings). Chhaayee = ash. Put(i) = respect. Thaanyayn = room; recognition. Baybaani = wilderness. Murrheen Musaanee = graveyards. Jaanaiy = realizes. Puchhutaani = repents. Bhaytay = met with; get connected. Undaysay = doubts; misgivings. Nihkayvul = detached; free from. 2.

MEANING: A man who writes something about his faith and reads it achieves nothing spiritually; he rather gets irritated and frustrated with himself because he does not receive the respect of the people he was expecting. The more he writes and reads, the more frustrated he gets. The more the pilgrimages he undertakes, the more useless he talks like a crow (about his conceit of his pilgrimages). The more religious garbs he dons, the more he tortures his body. Well, he has to endure for what he does. Likewise, the individual, who does not eat food (to show off his religiosity) and lives on dairy products and fruits, achieves no spirituality, but does miss the taste of some good foods, and suffers a lot for his love for Maya. Some people do not wear clothes for their religious beliefs, and torture themselves day and night. Some others are misled by their belief in staying quiet (which does not quieten their mind); how can they be awakened (from their sleep of ignorance) without being awakened by the Guru? (A misguided person) does not wear shoes, and suffers for such foolish acts. He consumes unhealthy and filthy foods (which arouse his sensual desires), and gets ash on his head (gets insults) for his acts; the blind and foolish lose respect (if he had any). He lives in the wilderness or in graveyards; the blind (ignorant) does not realize that he will not get any respect without Waheguru's Naam, and has to repent later. Only that individual enjoys blissfulness who embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart in the shelter of the Guru - that too only when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him, and when he burns away his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and gets rid of his unreasonable hopes and his doubts, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mun(i) Bhaavnday = are liked. Sohun(i) = look impressive. Kerma Bahray = without luck; without Waheguru's benevolence. Dhow = shelter. Dhaanvday = even when trying to approach. Mool(u) = roots; basis. Unhonda = undeservedly. Gunaayaynday = claim credit. Dhadheeka = a small bard. Neech Jaat(i) = low-caste. Ootum = superior. Mungaan = wish for. 9.

MEANING: You love Your devotees who sing Your praise at Your Door, oh Waheguru. They look very impressive (holy) singing Your praise. However, those, who are devoid of Your benevolence, find no shelter at Your Door even if they try hard. Many people do not realize what their origin (Waheguru) is, and claim undeserved credit for what they are not. I am a low-caste, and a small bard (of Waheguru) while others call themselves to be belonging to high caste. I only wish (the sight of) those who worship Waheguru, oh Nanak. 9.

Word Meaning: Koor(u) = false; perishable. Perja = subjects. Mundup = all adornments. Maarri = palaces. Baiysunhaar = living in them. Roopa = silver. Pehnunhaar = wearer.

Kaaya = body. Roop Apaar(u) = extreme beauty. Meeyaan = husband. Beebee = wife. Khup Hoayay Khaar(u) = suffer humiliation even after hard work. Nayhou = attachment. Visriya = forgotten. Chullunhaar = perishable. Maakhiyoun = beehive; honey. Dobay = causes to sink. Poor(u) = large groups. Vukhaanaiy = says; makes. Baynti = request.
MEANING: Everything in this world is false (perishable), including the kings and their subjects. So are all the decorations, palaces, and their dwellers. False is to wear gold and silver ornaments, and false are those who wear them. Perishable are the body, the clothes, and the extreme beauty. False are the husband and the wife who suffer humiliation at the end, even after their hard work (to earn more wealth), because no such work gets recognition in Waheguru's Court. Forgetting Waheguru, the perishable human beings love the perishable things without realizing that friendship with the worldly things is short-lived (because the whole world is perishable). However, people still find worldly materials to be sweet like honey, as a result of which large groups of people drown in the world-sea (are caught in the birth-death cycle). I have only one humble suggestion to make to them that everything other than Waheguru, is perishable, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = everlasting; truth; truthful living. Ta Per(u) = only if. Ridaiy = at heart. Sacha = Waheguru. Koorr(u) = falsehood; short-lived. Mul(u) = filth. Rehsiyaiy = blooming of heart. Mokh Dooaar = the door (path) to freedom from worldly bonds. Joogut(i) = technique. Dhert(i) = land; field. Saadh(i) Kaiy = make perfectly suitable. Kerta = Waheguru (His Naam). Sikh = advice. Duyya = compassion for. Jea = humans. Poonn(u) Daan(u) = noble deeds. Aatum = soul; mind. Teeruth = mind purified with Waheguru's Naam. Daaroo = medication. 2.
MEANING: Living is considered truthful (whereby the man can become immortal by merging into Waheguru) only if the following conditions are met:
The man has Waheguru (His Naam) at heart, washes away the filth of falsehood, and cleanses his body and mind well (with the Naam). He fosters love for Waheguru, and his heart blooms on listening to the Naam (Waheguru's praise), whereby he can follow the path to freedom from the worldly bonds. He knows the technique (path to connect with Waheguru) which is to make the field of his heart perfectly suitable (clean and full of love for Waheguru) to sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam. He receives the true Advice (of the Guru), has compassion for others, and performs noble deeds like donating to noble causes and helping the needy. With Satguru's Advice, he concentrates his mind on Waheguru's Naam (which truly is the real holy place) and stays in that state all the time (keeping Waheguru's Naam always in mind). This kind of truthful living is the cure for all diseases by which the man can get rid of all his sins which are washed away.

I make a request to those who have Waheguru's Naam in their repertoire (possession; in fortune) (that they be kind to me and give His Naam to me too), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Daan(u) = donation; gift. Mehinda = mine; for me. Tulee Khaak = dust of the feet (of Waheguru). Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Laaluch(u) = greed. Ikk Mun(i) = with a focused mind. Alukh = incomprehensible (Waheguru). Ful(u) = reward. Kaar = deeds. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. 10.
MEANING: The best gift for me is the dust of the Feet (of Waheguru; His Naam). I will put that on my forehead (serve Him like a slave if I can get it). (To receive this gift), we need to get rid of our false greed, and recite Waheguru's Naam with fully focused mind (in the shelter of the Guru or some other holy saints). But one reaps the reward of the kind of deeds he performs. One gets the dust of the feet of the holy saints only if it is prewritten in his fate. However, we lose all the rewards of our service due to our low wisdom (we make mistakes and sometimes we begin to claim rewards for our service). 10.

Word Meaning: Kaal(u) = drought; shortage; unavailability. Kul(i) = in Kalyug; in the present era which is thought to be the worst. Kaalukh = blackness; darkness (of evil deeds). Baytaal = ghosts; phantoms. Beaou = seeds; whole grains. Put(i) = dignity. Oogvaiy = sprouts. Daal(i) = split grains. Rooti Hoo Root = the most suitable among the seasons. Paahaiy Baahra = without the primer (respectful fear of God). Kora = new; never used before. Khoomb = the process of dying in boiling water. Sherm(u) = hard work. Rpupaiy = dye. Koorraiy = of the deceitful. Soyay = news; praise. 1.
MEANING: There is a big shortage of truthful living in the present era (Kulyug), in which there is darkness due to the evil deeds of human beings, who behave like phantoms. (It is believed that humans were more truthful in the earlier eras) who sowed the complete seeds (of Waheguru's Naam) and left the world with dignity. Now the grain of Waheguru's Naam has been split (the people are more attracted to Maya than to Waheguru, and their minds are suffering from indecisiveness). So, how can a split grain sprout now? The seed can sprout only when it is complete and the season is most suitable (the mind is fully focused and the environment is favourable, i.e., one is in the company of the holy men). Just like a new fabric needs a primer before it is dyed with a fast colour, the man needs the company of the holy men, in which the man develops love for Waheguru, which acts as the primer for Waheguru's Naam to sprout in his heart. Just as the new fabric is given a primer in boiling water to be dyed, the human mind needs a primer in Waheguru's Naam. In this case, fear for Waheguru, and man's hard labour to recite His Naam act as the primer. Once the man is dyed in (is imbued in) Waheguru's Naam, no falsehood can affect him, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Lub(u) = greed to eat; gluttony. Paap(u) = sin. Mehta = minister. Koorr(u) = deceitfulness. Sikdaar(u) = chief. Kaam(u) = lust. Nayb(u) = assistant. Sud Poochhiyaiy = seek advice. Ruyyiut(i) = masses. Vihooni = devoid of. Bhaayay = fire (of desires). Bhuray = pays (as fine). Moordaar(u) = encroachment on others' rights; taxes. Giyani = religious leaders. Vaajay Vaaveh(i) = play musical instruments. Seegaar(u) = adornment. Kookeh(i) = sing aloud. Vaadaan = stories of battles. Jodhaan = of the valiant. Hikmut(i) = cleverness. Hoojut(i) = logical arguments. Sunjaiy = money. Dhermee = a religious person. Guvaaveh(i) = loses. Moakh Dooar = door to salvation. Jutee = celibate. Joogut(i) = technique. Poora = perfect. Pervaana = standard weight. Toliyaan = by weighing. 2.

MEANING: Gluttony and sins are as closely related as a rajah and his minister. In such a situation, deceitfulness becomes the leader of all. Lust acts as their assistant, which is invited by the first three to seek its input, and all of them plan together how to rob the man of his virtues. The masses (humans) are without any Divine Knowledge, and are paying taxes to the fire of desires for their immorality in the form of their noble qualities. Devoid of Divine Knowledge, those who claim to have some knowledge, are dancing and playing musical instruments, and adorn themselves with ornaments to play various roles (see Sloak 2 with Paurri 5: Vaayin chaylay -----). They sing in a loud voice and narrate the stories of battles and of the valiant in the form of songs. The foolish pundit loves money, and uses all his cleverness and logical arguments to make such stories interesting to collect money from his audience.

The religious leader does some noble acts, but loses his credit by asking for salvation (only selfless service is accepted in Waheguru's Court). Some people call themselves celibates, but do not know the path to union with Waheguru, and renounce their house and its belongings (in the hope to find salvation). Everybody believes their spiritual path to be perfect, and nobody claims any less. However, the actual worth of their spirituality is determined when it is weighed against the standard weight (by which Waheguru weighs the spiritual worth of His devotees, and honours them) in the other pan of the scale, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vudee = whatever is supposed to happen. Vujug(i) = will happen. Chhaalan = jump ahead; outperform. Joar(u) = power. Jeeou = people; officers. Laykhaiy Put(i) Puvaiy = are honoured. Chungay = good; noble. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru watches, and whatever is supposed to happen (whatever He had planned), does happen. Everybody tries to outperform the others, but only that happens which the Creator had planned for each of them. There is no consideration in Waheguru's Court for the high caste, or for the power one enjoyed here. There are unfamiliar officers there to judge their deeds performed. Only those are good (are approved), who are honoured in Waheguru's Court based on their deeds in this world, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = right from the source. Kerm(u) = benevolence; largess. Juntaan = humans. Vus(i) = control. Vayki = of the kind. Khooyaaya = misguided. Boojhaaya = given the understanding. Sehjay = without any special effort; in a state of peaceful mind. Smaaya = got absorbed. 11.

MEANING: Only those fortunate individuals recite Your Naam to whom You were benevolent right from the beginning, oh Waheguru. These living beings have no control on anything; this is the kind of world You have created, oh God. You connect some of them with You, while You purposely misguide some others. In cases where You wished that the devotees should be enlightened, the Guru gave them the understanding. Such devotees easily merge with You by attaining the blissful spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 11.

Word Meaning: Daaroo = cure; cause. Bhuyya = becomes. Taam(i) = urge; desire. Naahi = non-entity. Huoun = I; me. Bulihaari = wish to offer life. Lukhiya = comprehended. Jaat(i) = (human) kind. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light (soul). Jaata = is recognized. Akul-Kula = indivisible into parts; with full power; Waheguru. Bhurpoor(i) = filling the entire space. Sift(i) = praise. Sooaaliyo = pretty; sweet. Paar(i) Puyya = crossed the world-sea; got connected with God. 1.
MEANING: Troubles in the life of a man become the basis for (can cause) him to recite Your Naam (which is the cure for all troubles), and enjoyment of comforts turns into serious illness for the man who enjoys them because in that comfort, he does not have much desire to remember You, (and forgetting You is the root of all illnesses), oh Waheguru. You are the creator of the whole universe, and I am a non-entity, because I am not capable of doing anything. I wish to offer my life to You, oh the omnipresent Waheguru. Nobody can comprehend Your limits. Pause.
Waheguru's Light is present in every human being, from where He is recognized. The indivisible Waheguru is filling the whole universe uniformly. You are the True Lord, oh Waheguru. Anyone, who sings Your sweet praise, gets connected with You. I will simply submit that Waheguru does whatever He has to do, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Subdum = huqam; societal norms; order for; expected behaviour. Khuttri = a caste of warriors. Soor = valiant. Shoodur = the lowest caste in the Indian system (an untouchable). Prakriteh(i) = serve others. Aik = of the One (Waheguru). Bhayo = secret. Nirunjun Dayo = light-emitting Waheguru. 2.
MEANING: The expected behaviour of a yogi is to acquire knowledge of his faith, whereas that of a Brahman is to study and preach the Vedas. The societal norm for a Khatri is to be a warrior, and that of an untouchable is to serve the other three castes. (However, the performance of such expected norms is not given any credit in Waheguru's Court). The expected norm in the spiritual world is that every human being (regardless of their societal norms) serves Waheguru (recites His Naam). If someone understands (acts on) this secret, he becomes a part of Waheguru, and I will be His slave, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Krishan(ung) = Waheguru. Dayva = God. Aatma = soul. Baasdayvus(i) = (of) Waheguru. 3.
MEANING: Only Waheguru is the Lord of all gods, and is their soul. Everybody has a part of Waheguru's soul in them. If someone understands this secret (and worships Waheguru alone), he will become a part of Him; I would love to be a slave of such a devotee, oh Nanak.3.

Word Meaning: Koombh = a big earthen container to store water. Budha = restrained. Jul(u) = water.

MEANING: An earthen container to hold water cannot be built without water, but water needs to be put in a container to keep it from flowing everywhere. Just like water, which is restrained by the container, the mind is restrained (from wandering in every direction) by the Divine Knowledge. Also, just like the earthen container cannot be built without water, the Divine Knowledge cannot be had without the Guru. 4.

Word Meaning: Gunehgaar(u) = guilty. Omi = an illiterate person who knows only to say "Om". Sadh = a simple-minded person. Maariyaiy = punished. Ghaalay Ghaalna = to do hard labour in certain field. Puchaariyaiy = becomes common. Kulaa = trade; skill. Khaydiyaiy = practise. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court = Uggaiy (next world). Mooh(i) Chullay = who are controlled by their mouth (self-praise).

MEANING: If an educated guide is guilty of misleading an illiterate and a simple-minded person, the latter should not be punished for the mistake of the former. The man is known by the type of work he does (an honest person is called "honest" and a person who steals, is called a thief). One should not practise a skill for which he loses in Waheguru's Court. Who is educated, and who is illiterate, is decided in Waheguru's Court. Those, who are guided by their mouth (self-praise), are punished there. 12.

Word Meaning: Mayru = supreme (a mythical mountain which is believed to be a mine of diamonds and gold). Ruth(u) = chariot. Ruthvaah(u) = charioteer. Joog(u) = yug (era). Vutaayiyeh(i) = are changed. Suntokh = contentment. Dherm(u) = high morality. Jut = control on lust; self-discipline. Joar(u) = strength; force. Tupaiy = self-toture to please some deity. Sat(u) = donations (especially to Brahmans). 1.

MEANING: If we compare our body to a chariot, then the mind acts like the charioteer. The knowledgeable people have realized that the body and the mind (thinking) have been changing in character over the eras. It is believed that the body was the chariot of contentment while high morality was the charioteer in Satyug, or conversely, this is how Satyug is defined. In the next yuga, Trayta, self-discipline was the chariot and physical strength was the charioteer. In the third yuga, Dooapur(u), self-torture (self-discipline) was the chariot while donations (to Brahmans) were the charioteer. But, in the present era, fire of desires is the chariot, and falsehood (deceit) is the charioteer (or this is how we can define Kulyug), oh Nanak. 1.

NOTE: There are four Vedas – Rig, Shaam, Jujoor, and Athurbun. Each is associated with each era – Satyug, Traita (Tretha), Dooaapur, and the Kalyug, respectively- and describes the main characters of each era. In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib describes the main characters of each Era, but the Vedas do not necessarily correspond to their respective time periods in this description. The first letter of the main character of the era matches the name of the Veda. At the end, Guru Sahib maintains that the Vedas may be right to describe the characters of the eras, but their study does not connect the reader with Waheguru even though it may improve (or change) one's thinking. One can connect with Waheguru only if he worships Waheguru with love and dedication.

Word Meaning: Saytumbur = clad in white clothes. Soami = the Lord. Aachhaiy = wish for; were. Smaavaiy = stay absorbed. Bhurpoor(i) = full. Soor(u) = the sun. Praachhut = sins. Moakhuntar = emancipation. Jooj = Jujoor (Veda), in Dooaapur. Joar(i) = with force. Chhulee = deceived; kidnapped. Chundraavul(i) = a cow girl who was a cousin of Radha (a beloved of Krishana), and was married to Goverdhun. Paarjaat = a tree in the paradise which is believed to fulfil any wishes. It was retrieved from the ocean when that was churned jointly by the gods and the demons. Indra, the king of the gods, planted it in his capital - paradise. Rung(u) = enjoyment. Neel Bustar = blue clothes. Amul(u) = practice; custom. Chaar = beautiful; refined. 2.

MEANING: The Veda Shaam says that in Satyug, the Lord was called Hansa (wore white clothes; had four arms, and carried a deerskin). Everybody was truthful, all their dealings were also honest, and the people were always absorbed in (guided by) truth (did not think of dishonesty). In the Treta yuga, god Rama's name shone like the sun among all the gods (he was the most revered). Whoever, worshipped him, had all his sins removed and found salvation. In the Dooaapur yuga, Krishna Yadav was the most recognized, who forcibly kidnapped Gopi Chundraavl(i), and enjoyed his childhood in Binderabun (Vrindavan, a beautiful forest by the banks of River Yamuna, in District Mathura, U.P.) He stole the Paarjaat Tree from Indira's Garden, and transplanted it in Satyabhama's yard – another gopi-friend of Krishna. God came to be known as Allah in Kalyug, and, adopting the customs of the Turks and the Pathans, the masses began to wear blue clothes. Thus, all four Vedas rightfully described the character of each Era. Whoever reads and ponders on them, has his thoughts refined. However, one gets salvation only by worshipping Waheguru with love and dedication, (no matter what the yuga is), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vit-houn = for. Vaariya = offer to sacrifice life. Smaaliya = remembered. Oopdaysh = preach; advise. Unjun = kohl; a medication for the eyes to improve vision. Naytureen = with the eyes. Nihaaliya = saw in a different light. Doobbay = drowned (in the world-sea). Bohitha = ship. Virlaiy = some rare. 13.

MEANING: I will gladly sacrifice my life for Satguru, connecting with whom, I have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart. He enlightened me with His Advice, and imparted Divine Knowledge in me with which I saw the world in a different light now with my eyes. Those traders, who deal in Maya ignoring Waheguru, get drowned in the world-sea. Some rare individual realizes that Satguru is the ship to ferry the people across the world-sea, and who, kindly, takes them to the other end safely, (connects them with God), oh Nanak. 13.

Upraadhi doona nivaiy, jo huntaan mirgaah(i). Sees nivaayiyaan kiya theeyaiy ja ridaiy ksoodhay jaah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Simmul = a very large and tall tree which bears fruit is like cotton bulbs. Sraayira = straight. Deerugh = long. Mooch(u) = big; fat. Oye = those (birds). Niraasay = disappointed. Kit(u) = where? why? Phikkay = tasteless. Bukbukay = having aweful taste. Mitthut(u) = sweet behaviour. Tutt(u) = gist. Nivaiy = bows to. Aap Kuou = for selfish reasons. Traajoo = weighing scale with pans. Gaura = heavy (loaded with good qualities). Upraadhi = culprit. Hunta = killer. Mirgaah(i) = deer. Ridaiy = heart. Ksoodhay = ignoble (path). 1.

NOTE: In this Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib advises that the size of the objects or of man's possessions is not important; the valuable quality is the sweetness of the tongue and one's behaviour towards others.

MEANING: Simmul (L. Brombax Heptaphyllum) is a straight, very tall, and huge tree, but why do those birds which land on it with great hope get disappointed and fly away? (The reason for that is) Its fruit is tasteless, its flowers have an awful taste, and its leaves are of no use. The gist of this description is that sweet behaviour towards others is one of the best qualities a man can possess, oh Nanak. But, simple casual bowing to others is not good enough because everybody bows to others for selfish reasons, and not as a matter of courtesy. Also, what purpose does bowing to others serve if the mind of the individual is following the wrong path (has deceit at heart)? For example, a guilty person bows twice as much, just like a hunter who has to bend down to take aim at a deer to kill it. But at the same time, if we weigh two objects against each other on a common scale, the one that hangs lower (bows to the other) is heavier (is loaded with noble qualities). (So, bowing to others is good if done with a pure heart. 1.

Word Meaning: Sundhiya = daily prayer. Baadun(g) = useless discussions. Sil = rock; idol. Bugul = like a heron (egret). Smaadhun(g) = in meditation. Bibhookhun = ornaments. Saarun(g) = supreme. Traiypaal = a three-lined holy mantra of the Hindus (called the Gayathri Mantra). Tihaal = three times a day. Mala = rosary. Tilk(u) = anointment. Lilaatun(g) = on the forehead. Kpaatun(g) = on the head. Brahamun(g) Kermun(g) = the deeds to please God. Phoakut = useless. Nischuou = for sure. Nihchuou = with faith. Vaat = path (leading to union with God).

MEANING: The Brahman reads the religious books and also offers prayers, but he uses his knowledge for useless discussions only (to boost his ego). He worships idols, sits in fake meditation like a heron, and recites the three-lined Gayathri Mantra three times a day. He adorns (coats) his big lies with supreme sweet words (to give the false impression of his deep faith in the idol to impress people). He wears a rosary around his neck, and anoints his forehead as symbols of religiosity. He also wears two dhotis - one to cover the lower part of his body, and the other to cover his head. But, if he knew about the real deeds to please God, he would know for sure that all these deeds are totally useless. One needs to worship Waheguru with full faith, but he cannot find the right path without the kind guidance of Satguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Roop(u) = beauty. Soohaavna = attractive. Mun(i) Bhaanvday = as desired. Bheerray = very narrow. Uggaiy = next world. Nunga = stripped; exposed (of his evil deeds). Dojuk(i) = to hell. Khuraa = very much. Draavna = scary; ugly. Aougun = bad deeds. Puchhotaavna = repent. 14.
Word Meaning: The man has to leave all his beautiful clothes and his handsomeness (youth) behind in this world. He has to reap the rewards of his good and bad deeds. He received all the services he wished for in life without realizing that the future path to Waheguru's Court is very narrow (where everything is scrutinized very carefully). When he is sent to hell fully exposed for his evil deeds, he looks very ugly. He repents for his ignoble deeds then. 14.

Word Meaning: Duyya = compassion. Kupaah = cotton. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Soot(u) = thread. Jut(u) = control on lust; high morality. Gundhee = knots. Sat(u) = service to mankind. Vutt(u) = twirl; spin. Janayoo = the ceremonial thread considered to be sacred by Hindus. Jea Ka = for the soul. Paanday = oh Brahman. Ghut(u) = put on. Mul(u) = filth. Dhunn(u) = worthy of praise; lucky. Maanus = men. Chaukurr(i) = with a worth of only four tiny cowrie -shells (very cheap). Unaaya = brought. Chaunkay = in the (purified) kitchen yard. Sikhaan = advice; to educate. Thiya = became. Oh(u) = that. Jhurr(i) Puyya = fell off. Vaytugga = without the thread.
NOTE: The entire holy composition of Assa Dee Vaar expresses Guru Sahib's disapproval of the prevalent practices and rituals which were keeping the ignorant masses in the dark, and they were made to pay big chunks of their income to the deceitful religious leaders and the government officials - all in the name of religion. The above holy Shabad strongly attacks the practice of wearing a janeyoo.
Janeyoo Ceremony: When the males of the upper two classes – the Brahmans and the Khatris – were about 10 years old, they were required to wear a cotton thread at a special ceremony. The thread, called janeyoo, was considered sacred, helping the wearer in Waheguru's Court after death, and was also a status symbol, as it showed the wearer was a member of a high caste. All relatives, friends and dignitaries were invited for the special ceremony at which the family Brahman, called the Pandha, would recite some mantras sitting next to a fire built for the purpose. Meals, including goat meat, were served after the ceremony.
When Guru Nanak Sahib was about 9 years old, His father Mehta Kalu Ji, in consultation with the family Brahman, Hardyal Ji, decided to hold the janeyoo ceremony for his young son. Nanak Ji waited happily for the ceremony so that He could dispel the meaningless significance of the custom. When all the guests had arrived, and Hardyal Ji had finished all the formalities and was about to put the thread around Nanak Ji's neck, He stopped the Pandha from doing so and, to everybody's surprise, asked the Brahman about the significance of the thread. The Brahman was shocked, and simply narrated the usual story that it was a centuries old custom. Nanak Ji said that He did not see any useful purpose of wearing such a thread which would wear out with time, get lost, or get burned. Moreover, it will not accompany Him to the next world. The Brahman had no convincing response. Nanak Ji seized the opportunity, and surprised and mesmerized everybody when He described the kind of thread He wanted to wear. His main logic is explained in this holy Shabad. Imagine a young boy of 9, explaining the qualities of the real Janeyoo!! Enjoy the holy Shabad.

MEANING: I will gladly wear the sacred thread if you have one which is made from the cotton of compassion, the thread of contentment, the knots of high moral character, and is spun with the willingness to serve humanity, oh Pundit Ji. Such a janeyoo, which is designed for the soul, will never break, will not get dirty, will not burn, and will not leave you any time (will always stay with you). Those men are lucky (and praise-worthy) who wear such a janeyoo (which accompanies them to the next world), oh Nanak. The thread, which you prepare for the young people, is bought for a very low price, and you put around the neck of your clients in the kitchen yard, which you claim to have been "purified". You load up the ears of the newly baptized child with your preaching, and proclaim to be his guru. When the wearer dies, the janeyoo falls off, and he goes to the next world without your sacred thread. 1.

Word Meaning: Lukh = millions; countless. Jaariyaan = illegitimate relations. Koorriyaan = lies. Gaal(i) = abusive language. Tthuggiyaan = cheating. Pehnaamiyaan = (immoral) deeds done secretly. Tug = the thread; junayoo. Kooh(i) = after killing. Bukkra = he goat. Rinnh(i) = cook. Joar(u) = (spiritual) strength. 2.
MEANING: (Continuing His philosophy on the Janeyoo, Guru Sahib comments): countless thefts, immoral relations with other women, countless lies, countless abusive words, cheating, and countless other hidden immoral acts are the daily routine of the man, (so in what way does the Janeyoo keep a man holy?). The thread is made from cotton, and the Brahman spins it. A goat is killed, cooked, and served to all those present, and the Brahman declares that the janeyoo ceremony has been completed. When it becomes old, it is thrown away, and a new one is put on. Why would a janeyoo break, if it has any (spiritual) strength, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Naayay = Waheguru's Huqam. Munniyaiyn = have faith; obey. Salaahi = by praising. Sach(u) = (approved by) Waheguru. Soot(u) = Tug = janeyoo. Tootus(i) = breaks. Poot = sacred.
MEANING: One earns respect by obeying Waheguru's Naam (Huqam), and the true janeyoo (which is approved by Waheguru) is generated by singing His praise. Such a sacred janeyoo never breaks, and accompanies one to Waheguru's Court (where the wearer of such a janeyoo is honoured).

Word Meaning: Inderi = sensual organs. Naari = woman. Bhulkay = morning; every day. Thook = spit; sputum; insult; disgrace. Jihva = tongue. Vutaiy = roams around. Ghutaiy = puts. Kaagul = the book of predictions (astrology). Raah(u) = path; auspicious time. Vidaan(u) = strangeness. Soojaan = know-all; wise.

MEANING: The janeyoo, that the Brahman puts around the neck of others, does not protect (prevent) one (from lust); and what about women who are not allowed to wear a janayoo anyway? Because of his immoral acts, the Brahman earns disgrace every day (all the time) for his future (after death). It does not protect (stop) the feet from walking on the immoral path, and the hands from committing immoral acts. It does not stop the tongue from vilifying others, and the eyes from casting evil sight on the belongings of others. The Brahman spins the thread and puts it around the necks of others, but himself roams around without any protection against all such evil acts. He charges hefty fees from families for arranging matrimonial alliances between them (in those days, all marriages were arranged by Brahmans). He pulls out his book of future predictions and tells them the auspicious times for the ceremonies. Just listen to this unbelievable and strange thing, oh the folks of the world; the man who is blind of wisdom, is considered wise. 4.

Word Meaning: Sahib(u) = the Lord (Waheguru). Saayee = the same. Kaar = acts; deeds. Pervaan(u) = approved. Munhou Chindiya = as wished. Paiyndha = is robed; is honoured. 15.

MEANING: If the Lord is kind to some of His devotees, He makes the devotee perform those deeds which are liked (approved) by Him. That devotee serves Waheguru by obeying His Huqam. Such a Huqam-obeying devotee is approved by Him, and he gets access to Waheguru's Palace (attains union with Him). If the devotee does what Waheguru likes, he reaps the rewards for his liking, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 15.

Word Meaning: Guoou = cow. Kur(u) = tax. Gobur = cow dung. Tikka = anointment. Jupmaali = rosary. Mulaychhaan = of the impure (Muslims) (The Hindus considered the Muslims as impure because they ate beef. So, Hindus would not eat Muslims' food). Dhaan(u) = money. Kutaybaan = The religious books of the Muslims (Quran, Hudees, etc.). Sunjum = customs; lifestyle. Paakhunda = hypocrisy; phoniness. Jaah(i) Trunda = swim across the world-sea; get salvaged. 1.

MEANING: (In this Shabad, Guru Sahib highlights the contradictory behaviour of the Hindu masses during the Muslim rule). As an employee of the Muslim rulers, you collect taxes levied on the Brahmans (Hindus) and the cows when ferrying them across rivers; at the same time, you treat cow-dung as a purifier, and cover the floors with a thin layer of that, oh my Hindu friends. Do you think that the cow dung will get you across the world's seas? You give the impression of being pure (religious) by wearing a dhoti, an anointment on your forehead, and by carrying a rosary; and you call Muslims impure, yet you use their money (and other products). You worship your idols inside your home, but read the religious books of Islam in public, and have adopted the Muslim customs. Quit all your phoniness (hypocrisy) and recite Waheguru's Naam, which will ferry you across the sea of Maya, oh Pundit Ji. 1.

Word Meaning: Maanus Khaanay = man-eaters; blood suckers. Nivaaj = Muslim prayer. Chhoorie Vugaayin = attack with a knife; cut-throats. Taag = thread (janeyoo). Pooreh(i) Naad = play music; recite mantras. Saad(u) = taste; enjoyment. Koorri = immoral. Raas(i) = capital; investment. Vapaar(u) = business. Koorr(i) boal(i) = tell lies. Ahaar(u) = food; (earn) livelihood. Sherm = shame; honesty. Dherm = morality. Dayra = dwelling. Bhupoor(i) = present everywhere. Tikka = anointment. Tayrr(i) = lower part of the body. Kukhaayee = saffron colour. Chhoorie = knife. Kasaayee = butcher. Neel Vustar = blue clothes. Pervaan = are approved. Mulaychh = Muslims. Dhaan(u) = money. Abhaakhiya = unacceptable language. Koottha = killed by the Muslim way (the Muslims do not kill an animal for meat with a single cut, they rather cut its throat slowly, which is a very cruel way to kill an animal. They also recite some verses from the Quran (which Guru Sahib calls "Abhaakhiya) to make it holy (Muslims call it "Halal"). The Sikhs call such killing "Koottha" and do not eat that meat. Chaunka = the kitchen area. Kaar = lines. Koorriyaar = deceitful. Bhityaiy = a touch by a lowly person, which makes the object unholy (unfit for use). Phittaiy = becomes condemnable (unfit). Phayrr = (immoral) deeds. Jootthaiy = impure; filthy. Choolie = clean mouth with water by swishing (to show cleanliness). Sooch(u) = cleanliness (of mind). 2.

MEANING: (The funny thing about the behaviour of the religious leaders is that those who suck human blood (usurp wealth of the helpless people through bribery or otherwise) offer nivaj, and those who cut the throat of others, wear janeyoo (which they call sacred). The Brahmans recite mantras with music in their (blood-suckers) houses, and enjoy the share of the money collected by immoral means. Immoral are their investments (earnings), and immoral is their business by which they earn their living by telling lies. Shame (honesty) and dharma (morality) have taken their dwelling in some faraway place (have disappeared) while deceitfulness is present everywhere, oh Nanak.

The Brahman (who is the biggest fraud) wears anointment on his forehead and a saffron dhoti (to fool the people by his fake religiosity), while in reality, he is a butcher of the world with a knife (to rob people) in his hand. To seek approval in the Muslim rule, he wears blue clothes in public, receives funds from them while calling them impure, and yet worships Puranas in his privacy. He will eat goat meat prepared in the Muslim way, but will allow no low-caste individual to enter his kitchen area because he believes that the touch of a low-caste individual with any part of the kitchen area makes it impure and unfit for consumption in case of food. So, he draws a boundary line around his kitchen to keep the untouchables away. (When the food is ready), The deceitful (impure like him) sit down to eat. With unfit (filthy) bodies, they perform the usual rituals like cleaning their mouths with water by swishing (another show-off of cleanliness or purity) with a filthy mind. They do not realize that purity does not come with the performance of rituals which are just a show-off. Purity comes when Waheguru's Naam is recited with pure mind, and when He comes to dwell in the devotee's mind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chitaiy Undar(i) = in mind. Chulaayaynda = manages. Vudiyaayee = honour. Kerm = deeds. Vudhou Vudda = greater than the greatest. . Maydni = world. Siro Sir(i) = as per the qualities of the individuals. Dhundaiy Laayaynda = puts to work. Ooputthi = turn back. Sultaana = Muslim kings. Ghaaou Kuraayaynda = makes them worthless like a blade of dry grass. Bhikh = alms. 16.

MEANING: Everybody is in the mind of Waheguru, and He manages the world by keeping everybody under His sight. He makes some to perform deeds of His choice, and bestows honours on them. He is greater than the greatest, and his kingdom is also very large. He puts everybody in business (of performing deeds) according to their qualities (prewritten fates) If He turns His kind sight away, even the kings can be reduced to the level of a dry blade of grass in worth, and nobody even gives them alms when they go begging at their doors. 16.

Word Meaning: Mohaaka = a deceitful person; a thief. Moohaiy = deceives; steals. Pitreen = ancestors. Uggaiy = in Waheguru's Court. Vust(u) = (stolen) articles. Dulaal = mediator (the Brahman). Moosfi = judgment; justice. Khuttay Ghaalay = earns with one's own hard work. 1.

MEANING: (The Hindus believe that if you donate certain things to Brahmans, they reach their ancestors with the mediation of the Brahmans. Continuing His attack on the despicable misguidance of the ignorant public by the Brahmans, Guru Sahib says): If a thief steals something from some house and sends that to his ancestors through his family Brahman, (and if it does reach his ancestors as per the prevalent belief), that article is recognized by Waheguru as a stolen one for which his ancestors are also held as thieves. Waheguru chops off the hands of the mediator (the Brahman) - that is His judgment. Only those things (their reward) accompany a man to the next world which he earned by his honest hard work, and gave in donations to the needy, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Joroo = woman. Sirnaavni = washing of hair; monthly periods of the women. (Sirnaavni is a polite name for the monthly periods. It is so named because after the periods, the woman must wash her body and hair). Vaaro Vaar = repeatedly. Jootthaiy = filthy; deceitful. Joottha = deceit; lies. Khooaar(u) = suffers humiliation. Soochay = clean; pure. Pinda = body. Soyay = that (Waheguru). 2.

MEANING: (The society) treats the woman as being impure when she is having her monthly periods even though it is not her fault, and it is a natural process which happens every month. But in reality, a person who has lies on his tongue all the time is impure and suffers humiliation every day. Those, who just wash their bodies (but not their minds) are not called pure. Pure are the people who have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Tooray = horses. Pulaanay = saddles. Paun Vayg = as fast as the wind. Herm = palace. Koatthay = rooms; houses. Mundup = decorations. Maarriyaan = mansions. Pasaariya = expanses. Cheej = fun; enjoyments. Boojhun(i) = realize.

Foormaayish = orders. Khaaya = ate; lived his life. Mehlut(i) = palaces, etc. Mern(u) = death. Jur(u) = old age. Jobun(i) = youth. 17.

MEANING: The man acquires fast-running horses, decorates them with attractive saddles, and adorns his palace with many different colours. With a big expanse of houses, adornments, and mansions, the man enjoys them (as if he is going to live there forever). He has all the fun the way he wants, but loses at the end because he does not understand the impending Will of Waheguru (death). He spent his youth issuing commands, intoxicated by his wealth and palaces, and he forgets death. But eventually, youth gives in to old age (and death comes closer). 17.

Word Meaning: Sootuk(u) = Another superstition created by the Brahmans that the home, where a new birth or death takes place, becomes impure for 13 days. The new mother is kept in isolation and not allowed to enter the other parts of the house, especially the kitchen. Gohay = in the animal dung. Keerra = livings organisms. Jeeaa = life. Baajh(u) = without. Pehlaan = first of all. Huriya = green; alive. Rukhiyaiy = prevent. Rusoyay = kitchen.

MEANING: If we believe in sootuk(u), then we can never avoid it because it is everywhere (small organisms keep being born and dying in every house). The animal-dung cakes and all the dry wood (both used as fuel) contain small organisms that die in the fire. None of the grain-seeds is without life (what an amazing disclosure by Guru Sahib!!), so when we cook the grains, we are killing life (again causing sootuk). But wait, to begin with, even water has life in it as it keeps everything alive. So, how can we prevent sootuk because it is there even in the kitchen where food is cooked, and countless organisms are killed? We cannot get rid of this superstition about sootuk by taking any precaution. It can be removed only with knowledge (about life and death as natural occurrences), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Lobh(u) = greed. Jihva = tongue. Koorr(u) = lies. Pur = of others. Triya = woman. Roop = beauty. Kunn(i) Paiy = by the ears.; by listening. Laa-itbaari = backbiting. Hunsa = swan-like (a virtuous person). 2.

MEANING: (Actually, there are many other forms of sootuk that cause impurity), for example, greed is a sootuk for the mind, and telling lies is the sootuk for the tongue. Casting an evil eye on the women, the wealth, or the beauty of others, is a sootuk for the eyes, and listening to the backbiting of others is the sootuk for the ears. Because of these impurities, even the swan-like (virtuous people) are chained and taken to the court of the Angel of death, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bherm(u) = superstition. Doojaiy Luggaiy = faith in (love for) other things (than Waheguru). Bhaanaiy = by Waheguru's Will. Aavaiy Jaayay = takes birth, and dies. Puvittar = holy. Rijk = necessities of life. Sumbaah(i) = delivers. Gurnukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru (with His Advice). 3.

MEANING: All sootuks are simply superstitions that the people have faith in. Births and deaths are the laws of Waheguru, and everybody comes and goes (is born, and dies) according to His Will. There is nothing impure about eating and drinking (even though there is life in all of those), as they have been provided by Waheguru, which delivers all the necessities of life. Those, who have come to realize these facts in the shelter of the Guru have no superstition about sootuk, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Vudda Kur(i) = with faith in His greatness. Vudiyayiyaan = great qualities. Sheh = the Lord (Waheguru). Nudri Aayiyaan = become visible; are realized. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Huth(u) Dhur(i) = with kindness; by assuring support. Booriyayiyaan = ignoble qualities. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. 18.

MEANING: We should praise Waheguru with the unshakable faith that He is the greatest, and has all the great virtues. But a devotee realizes them only when Waheguru connects him with Him, and when he embeds them in his heart by His Will. When Waheguru places His kind hand on the forehead of the devotee (with His caring support) all the ignoble qualities of the devotee are destroyed with His Huqam. When Waheguru is pleased to be kind to an individual, he feels as if he has acquired all nine mythical treasures of the world. 18.

Word Meaning: Soocha = clean; pure. Aap(i) = the Brahman. Soochaiy = in the purified (kitchen). Bhitiyou = made impure (unfit for consumption). Jayvia = served (food). Sloak = mantra. Koohuthi = bad; filthy; undesirable. Jaayay = place. Doakh(u) = blame. Ghirt(u) = ghee. Paak(u) Pvit(u) = pure; holy. Paapi = sinner. Guddiya = mixed. Thookaan = spit; sputum. Tit(u) = (on) that. Oochreh(i) = recited. Rus = delicious tasting (sweet Naam). Tit(u) Mookh(i) = on that face. 1.

MEANING: (Continuing His philosophy about eating and drinking, Satguru Nanak discusses another important aspect of the subject). When a Brahman is invited to have a meal at somebody's place (which was a common practice at the time, and is still prevalent at many places), he would take a bath to clean (purify) himself. He is seated at a special place which has been purified for him according to the prevalent specifications. Clean (pure) food, which has not been touched by anyone yet, is served before the "clean" Brahman. He again purifies his mouth by swishing with water and begins to recite a mantra. The meal was prepared by using the holy ingredients of food, water, and fire, which the Brahmans call gods. It is cooked in ghee and some salt is added. Thus, the food served to the Brahman is completely holy by his standards. Now he puts the holy food in a filthy place (his stomach, where it turns into repulsive excrement, which people spit on), so who is to blame for this filthy result? The good food turned into repulsive feces when that came in contact with the sinful body of the Brahman. The individual, who does not recite Waheguru's sweet Naam with his tongue, and consumes food without the Naam, should think that the people do not spit on his feces, they rather spit on his face, oh Nanak. 1.

Jit(u) mookh(i) suda salaahiyaiy bhaagaan rutti chaar(i). Nanak tay mookh oojlay, Tit(u) Sachaiy Durbaar. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhund(u) = woman. Nimmiyaiy = the origin of the fetus. Mungun = engagement. Rah(u) = worldly affairs. Bhaaliyaiy = search for. Bundhaan = bonds; relationships. Munda Aakhiyaiy = condemn. Rajaan = saints. Baahra = without. Bhaag = fortune. Rutti Chaar(i) = a unit of weight for precious stones meaning that the face shines like a precious stone. Tay = those. Oojlay = radiating; pious. 2.

MEANING: (The Hindu Granths treat the woman like a slave and condemn her as being thoughtless and impure. Guru Nanak Sahib opposes such thinking and such mean treatment of women in strong words, maintaining that be it a male or a female, only that individual is honoured in Waheguru's Court, who sings his praise). The man's origin begins as a fetus in the woman's womb, and he is born from the woman. When he grows up, he is engaged to and married to a woman. His only real friend is the woman he is married to, and all worldly affairs revolve around the woman. If the wife of an individual dies, he again looks for a woman, and all the relationships in the world are based on the existence of women. Also, it is the woman who gives birth to all the holy men. So, where is the justification to condemn her? Even women are born out of other women, and nobody is born without a woman (as a mother). Only Waheguru is beyond women (is self-illuminated). The mouth that sings praise of Waheguru is highly fortunate with the shine of a precious sparkling stone on his face. Such faces radiate (piousness) and are honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Appna = mine. Choon(i) Kuddhiyaiy = sort apart. Laykha = account of deeds. Sundhiyaiy = make connection. Kaayit(u) = what for? Gaarub(i) = conceit; ego. Hundiyaiy = experience; live with. Akkhur = education; Guru's Advice. Loojhiyaiy = get into useless discussion.

MEANING: Everybody claims that certain things belong to him (everybody has worldly attachments); if you find someone without such a claim, find him out, and show me, oh my friends. Everybody does the deeds of his choice, and makes a connection with the account of his deeds (is responsible for the result of his deeds). If we know that we are not going to live in this world forever, why should we lead our lives in conceit or ego? It is Guru's Advice that we should not call anyone bad or of low wisdom, but, at the same time, not to engage in any intense argument with a fool. 19.

Word Meaning: Phikka = impolite; hurtful. Sudiyaiy = called. Soyay = reputation. Paana = shoes. Sujaayay = punishment.

MEANING: If someone talks to people in an impolite or hurtful way, his body and his mind also become impolite, oh Nanak. An impolite person is called impolite, and the same becomes his reputation. An impolite person is thrown (treated badly) in Waheguru's Court, and everybody spits on him (insults him). He is called a fool and beaten with shoes (badly insulted). 1.

Dur(i) luyay laykha, peerr(i) choottaiy, Nanaka, jiyoun tayl(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Jhootthaiy = liars; deceitful. Paiyj = honourable. Phaiyl(u) = deeds. Utthsutth(i) = the 68 (holy places). Putt(u) = silk; noble qualities. Goodurr(u) = rags; poor; humble. Bhulay = good; noble; helpful. Nayhou = love; attachment. Rubb = God. Sayti

= with. Rung(i) = in love; obeying His Will. Pervaah = care. Naah = the Lord. Dur(i) = (Waheguru's) door. Vaat = journey (of life). Khurch(u) = expenses; necessities of life. Jubaiy = when. Deebaan(u) = Court. Kulm = pen. Humaa = mine. Tooma = yours. Maiyl(u) = union. Laykha = account of deeds. 2.

MEANING: Some people perform deeds which earn them respect outwardly, but are deceitful at heart. The filth of their mind does not get washed away even if they take dips at the 68 holy places. On the other hand, those who have noble qualities inside, but are humble (do not show any conceit of their noble qualities) in their daily behaviour, are the real good (noble) people in the world. They have love for God with the thought (wish) to "see" Him. They feel happy or sad in His love (respect His Will), and also become quiet (normal) in His Will. They do not care about anybody other than the True Lord. They beg for the necessities of life at His Door, and use them as He bestows His gifts on them. All of us have the same Court (of Waheguru's Justice), and the same pen (with which He writes His judgment), and that is where all of us have to meet (with Him). When the account of the sinners is viewed, they suffer unbearable pain of punishment like the oil-seeds suffer when they are put through the mill to get oil, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kerna Keeyo = created the universe. Kul = power. Dhaariyaiy = acquired. Kuchee = unripe (without good qualities). Pukki = ripe (having good qualities). Saariyaiy = pawns in the game of chess. Chulsi = will leave this world. Vaariyaiy = as per turn. Jea = soul. Praan = life. Visaariyaiy = forget; ignore. Kaaj = objective. Suvaariyaiy = finish successfully. 20.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself has created the universe, and has acquired this ability (power) on His own. Most of the humans lack noble qualities to reach their final destination (union with Waheguru), while a few are very close to their destination, just like the pawns in the game of dice, but Waheguru looks after all of them. Everybody who comes to this world has to leave when their time comes. Why should we forget the Lord who has given us life and the soul? We should strive hard to complete our task (the objective of union with Waheguru). 20.

Word Meaning: Kinayhi = what kind? Aashki = love affair. Doojaiy Luggaiy = attraction for the other (Maya). Smaayay = absorbed. Munda = bad; unfavourable. Laykhaiy Vertaiy = business-like dealings. 1.

MEANING: What kind of a love-affair (with Waheguru) is that where one gets attracted to someone else (Maya) than his true Love (Waheguru)? Only those individuals are called true lovers who always stay absorbed in the thoughts of their Love (Waheguru). Those are not lovers who deal with their Love in a business-like fashion, such that they are happy when the Love does something good for them, but complain when something bad happens to them. 1.

Word Meaning: Slaam = salute; obey command. Jubaab(u) = questions. Moondhoun = from the very start. Ghootha = misled; missed opportunity. Koorriyaan = untenable; flawed. Thaayayn = room; recognition. 2.
MEANING: An individual who obeys the command of his Master but at the same time questions His judgment is misguided right from the start. Both these positions are untenable, and have no room together (lead one nowhere), oh Nanak. 2.

Jiyoun Sahib naal(i) na haariyaiy, tayvayha paasha dhaaliyaiy. Kichh(u) laahay oopur(i) ghaaliyaiy. 21.
Word Meaning: Smaaliyaiy = remember. Keeta paayiyaiy = reap the reward. Ghaal = hard labour. Ghaaliyaiy = work hard. Keechuyyee = do; perform. Lummi Nudr(i) = far sight; for long-term rewards. Nihaaliyaiy = see; think of. Tayvayha = like that; appropriate. Paasha dhaaliyaiy = throw the dice. Laahay = for benefit.
MEANING: The Lord, serving whom one enjoys permanent bliss, should be remembered all the time. And, why should we work on something for which we are going to reap bad (harmful) rewards? We should think carefully about the long-term results, and should not do anything bad (sinful) at all. Like the game of dice, where a player throws the dice in a calculated way so as not to lose, we should also behave appropriately and accept the Will of the Lord so as not to lose His favour. We should work for the long-term benefit. 21.

Word Meaning: Chaakur(u) = servants. Gaarub(u) = conceit; ego. Vaad(u) = discussion. Ghunayriyaan = too much. Saad(u) = approval. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Maan(u) = respect. Lugga = attached to. Pervaan(u) = approved.
MEANING: If a servant engages in a conceit-filled discussion while serving the master, and talks a lot, the master does not like that, and is not pleased. The servant gets some recognition only if he serves the master by getting rid of his ego. (Similarly, a devotee) who serves Waheguru (obeys His Will), wins His approval, and gets connected with Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Mehla 2: Jo jeeyay hoyay su oogvaiy, mooh ka kuhhiya vaao. Beejay bikh(u), mungaiy Amrit(u), vaykhou eh(u) niyaayoun. 2.

Word Meaning: Jeeyay = in mind. Oogvaiy = sprouts; flourishes. Vaao = air; meaningless sound. Bikh(u) = poison. Amrit = delicious and useful product. Niyaayoun = justice; just expectation. 2.

MEANING: Only that idea flourishes (gets results) which an individual has in mind (the intent matters); simple words from the mouth are a meaningless sound. What kind of just expectation is that where a man sows the seeds of poison, but wishes for some delicious and highly useful product? 2.

ਮਹਲਾ 2॥ ਨਾਲਿ ਇਆਣੇ ਦੋਸਤੀ ਕਦੇ ਨ ਆਵਹਿ ਰਾਸਿ॥ ਜੇਹਾ ਜਾਣੈ ਤੇਹੋ ਵਰਤੈ ਵੇਖਹੁ ਕੋ ਨਿਰਜਾਸਿ॥ ਵਸਤੂ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਵਸਤੁ ਸਮਾਵੈ ਦੂਜੀ ਹੋਵੈ ਪਾਸਿ॥ ਸਾਹਿਬ ਸੇਤੀ ਹੁਕਮੁ ਨ ਚਲੈ ਕਹੀ ਬਣੈ ਅਰਦਾਸਿ॥ ਕੂੜਿ ਕਮਾਣੈ ਕੂੜੋ ਹੋਵੈ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਿਫਤਿ ਵਿਗਾਸਿ॥ 3॥

Word Meaning: Iyaana = (spiritually) ignorant; incompatible. Raas(i) = favourable; leading to success. Vertaiy = operates. Nirjaas(i) = test; verify Vustoo = an article; thing. Hovaiy Paas(i) = is removed. Sayti = with. Kuhhi Bunaiy = suits; befitting. Vigaas(i) = blooming of heart. 3.

MEANING: You can verify this fact that friendship with an ignorant (an incompatible) person is never favourable (does not last for long) because he operates as per his own thinking (which could be harmful to the other party). (Similarly, one cannot gain any spirituality from an incompetent guru). A product can be absorbed (placed) in a container only if the other product which was filling the container before is removed. (An individual will love Waheguru only if his love for Maya dies first). A servant cannot issue orders to his master; it is only befitting that the servant makes a request to the master. With deceitful behaviour, one is bound to get similar (deceitful) results, and always feels worried about the bad results; but the heart of the man, who sings (Waheguru's praise), blooms, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Iyaana = immature; ignorant. Vudaaroo = one who talks big over others' heads. Thaaoun Na Thayh(u) = no mark left behind. 4.

MEANING: Friendship with an ignorant person (a fake guru who has no spiritual knowledge), and love with a highly literate person who talks above the heads of the people (like a pundit who preaches the masses in Sanskrit, which is an obsolete language and not understood by the masses) are as ineffective for spirituality as a line drawn on the surface of water which leaves no mark behind. 2.

Word Meaning: Iyaana = untrained; lacking skills. Raas(i) = suitable; successful. Ikk-Udh = one or half. Dooji = next. Vayraas(i) = unsuitable; unsuccessful.
Meaning: An unskilled person cannot complete their tasks successfully. If he achieves success at one or two tasks, the next will certainly be a failure. (Similarly, one's efforts to get connected with Waheguru without the guidance of the Guru are not successful). 5

Word Meaning: Chaakur(u) = servant; worker. Bhaayay = as per the will (or liking). Hoormut(i) = regards; respect. Uglee = much. Vujhou = wages. Gaiyrut(i) = shame; humiliation. Paana = (beating with) shoes. Shaabaash(i) = praise. 22.
MEANING: The workers, who serve their master with love and as per his will, earn much more respect and receive double the wages. But those who try to rival their master have to suffer humiliation. Not only do they lose their wages, but they also get a beating with shoes (suffer humiliation badly). Similarly, we should praise (and be thankful) to our Master, Waheguru, who provides us with food. Ordering the master does not work; one needs only to beg before him, oh Nanak. 22.

Word Meaning: Kinayhi = what kind. Daat(i) = gift; donation. Aapus = with one's own efforts. Kurmaat(i) = great gift. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind.
MEANING: What kind of gift is that which a servant receives from self? The best gift is the one which the Lord bestows on His attendant (devotee) with His pleasure and kindness, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮਹਲਾ 2॥ ਏਹ ਕਿਨੇਹੀ ਚਾਕਰੀ ਜਿਤੁ ਭਉ ਖਸਮ ਨ ਜਾਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸੇਵਕੁ ਕਾਢੀਐ ਜਿ ਸੇਤੀ ਖਸਮ ਸਮਾਇ॥ 2॥

Word Meaning: Chaakri = service. Bhuou = fear. Kaandhiyaiy = is called.
MEANING: What kind of service is that where the worker is afraid of his master all the time (so as not to displease him). Only that worker is the real servant who becomes one with his master, oh Nanak. (Such a situation is possible only between a devotee and Waheguru). So, Waheguru is the only Master to serve, advises Guru Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Unt = limits. Paaravaar = limitless. Saakhti = creation. Maar = death. Junjeeriyaan = chains. Toori = horses. Bisiyaar = large; expensive (smart). Pookaar = appeal. Kerna Keeya = created the universe. Saar = care; look after. 23.

MEANING: Nobody can find the limits of the limitless Waheguru, oh Nanak. He creates the world, then destroys it (raising some to very high levels while throwing others to the ground). There is so much disparity in this world that some have chains around their necks (are treated like slaves), while others are so rich that they ride very expensive horses. Who can the man appeal to when Waheguru does everything Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes? Still, Waheguru, who has created the universe, looks after His creation, oh Nanak. 23.

Word Meaning: Bhaanday = vessels; human bodies. Saajiun(u) = creates. Poorun dayay = perfection. Doodh(u) = milk; good qualities. Smaayiyaiy = add culture to make yogurt; implant. Choolleh = on the hearth; earthen stove. Churray = stay there (and suffer from heat). Nihaaleen = on comfortable mattresses (beds). Khurray = (guard) with alertness. Suvaaray = adorns; grooms (with noble qualities). 1.

MEANING: Waheguru creates human vessels (human beings) and adorns (some of them) to perfection by implanting noble qualities in them. There are some vessels used to make yogurt when milk is placed in them, and culture is added (they are treated nicely), while others suffer heat on the stove all the time (receive bad treatment). Similarly, there are some humans which enjoy long sleeps in comfortable beds, while there are some who guard them with alertness. Waheguru grooms some with noble qualities whom He is kind to, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Saajay = creates. Jaayee = creation. Rukhaiy = looks after. Junt = living beings. Thaap(i) = after creating. Oothaap(i) = destroys. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru creates the universe, and looks after His creation. He creates living beings in the world, and watches as He creates and destroys them. Who can we appeal to when Waheguru is everything Himself, oh Nanak? 2.

Sumbaah(i) = delivers. Sayee = that. Kaar Kmaavuni = performs deeds. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Tinnaiy = that Waheguru. Aikee = Waheguru. Jaayay = place; shelter. Rujaayay = (His) Will. 24.

Shoodh(u) = corrected, verified.

MEANING: The magnificence (virtues) of the Great Waheguru cannot be described even if one tries very hard. He is the creator, the designer of nature, and the provider who delivers the necessities of life to His living beings. Everybody performs the kind of deeds for which he is predestined by Waheguru right from his birth. There is no place beyond Waheguru's control. He does whatever He wishes, oh Nanak. 24. Verified.
