Word Meaning: Umlee = addict. Umul(u) = intoxicant. Umbrraiy = delivers; receives. Bhaavaiy = liked. Sheh(i) = husband; Lord (God). 1. Vaari = to sacrifice. Vunjaan = go; under go. Khunniyaiy = cut into pieces. Pause. Sufliyou = laden with fruit. Rookhrra = tree. Triput = fully contented. 2. Hubiyaan = everybody. Tikha = thirst. Tihaaya = thirsty. Luhhaiy = acquire. Sur = pool (of Amrit). Bheetur(i) = inside. Paal(i) = wall. 3. Baaniya = trader; dealer. Raas(i) = capital. Dhokha = anxiety; misgiving. Luhhaiy = comes off. Sift(i) = praise. Ardaas(i) = prayer. 4.

MEANING: An addict cannot survive if he does not get the needed intoxicant. Likewise, fish cannot survive without water, but unlike an addict or the fish, the devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru love, like everything (they do not need anything in particular to survive). 1. I will gladly sacrifice my life or cut myself into pieces to acquire the Lord's Naam. Pause. The Lord, Waheguru, is like a tree which is laden with the fruit of Amrit (Waheguru's Naam); those who take this fruit get fully contented (are left with no worldly desires). I am a sacrifice for such devotees. 2. Waheguru lives with all my friends, but why can't I see Him? (Answer): Even though I am also thirsty for His Naam, how can I acquire Amrit from His Naam-Pool when there is a strong wall of Maya (worldly desires) separating me from the Amrit-Pool? 3. I am a dealer in Your Naam, and Your Naam is my capital (but I am misguided by my misgivings). My misgivings (anxiety) can be dispelled only when I pray to You by singing Your praise, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Goonvunteen = having noble qualities. Raaviya = enjoy union (with God). Kookay = cry to complain. Thee Ruhaiy = stays; acquires. Bhee = then; also. 1. Kunt(u) = husband; Lord. Risaaloo = source of all sweet tastes (comforts) Kee = why? Dhun = woman; human bride. Uvrah = others. Pause. Kerni = noble deeds. Kaamun = magic to enslave (control). Theeyay = becomes. Maanuk = pearl (Lord's Naam). Chit(i) = in mind. Puroyay = to string; stitch. 2. Dusaayee = asked (advised). Joolaan = go; walk on. Umrriaas(u) = have reached. Ukoouna = lack of communication; no connection. Ghur(i) Vaas(u) = live in the heart. 3. Baahra = without. Luggi Ruhaiy = stay connected. 4.

MEANING: The human brides with noble qualities (above the effects of Maya) enjoy union with Waheguru. But why is the human-bride who lacks all the noble qualities raising clamour (complaining about separation from Waheguru)? She can also enjoy Waheguru's union if she acquires the required noble qualities. 1. My Lord is the source of all comforts; so, why does the human-bride go to enjoy others (attractions of Maya)? Pause.

If the bride uses the spell of noble qualities to enslave her Lord-Husband, and uses her mind as the thread, she can string the pearl of Waheguru's Naam, which cannot be bought anywhere by any amount of money, in her heart. 2. The human-bride does not follow the path advised for union with Waheguru, yet claims she has reached her destination. She has no communication with Waheguru (through His praise), so how can He take up dwelling in her heart? 3. There is no one outside of Waheguru's Laws (He is Supreme); if a human-bride stays connected with Him, she too can enjoy union with Him, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Moreen = peacocks. Roon-jhoon = soft and slow voice. Saavun = the month of July-August (rainy season in Northern India). Tayray = Your (beautiful nature). Moondh = young beautiful woman. Kutaaray = knives. Jayda = rope (of love to tie with). Loabhi = greedy. Loobhaaya = captivated. Vit-houn = from; for. Khunniyaiy = cut into pieces. Jaavaan = go; undergo. Koorbaano = sacrifice. Ja- Tu = when You are. Maan(u) = pride. Choorra = bangles which the newlywed women wear. Plungh = big decorated bed. Siyoun = with. Sun(u) = along with. Baaheen = the side support of the bed. Aiytay = so many. Vays = make-up. Shuhou = Sheh(i) = husband. Raata = mingled well. Uveraaha = others.

Muniyaar = who sells bangles. Vungrriyaan = bangles. Kuntth(i) = neck. Suheeyaan = friends. Raavun(i) = enjoy the love (of God). Daadhi = burned of luck; unfortunate. Umaali = oh, friend. Khuree Soochujji = having many skills; well-mannered. Maatth(i) Goodaayee Puttiyaan = attractive hairstyles with braids. Maang = central part. Sundhooray = (with) vermilion. (The married Hindu women put vermilion in the central part of their hair). Munniya = given approval. Visoor(i) Visooray = slowly in dull pain.

Roonna = cried (in sympathy). Vunhoun = from the forest. Punkhayroo = birds. Birha = pain of separation. Pirhoun = from my dear Husband (Waheguru). Jul Bhuriya Royay = cried to drenching. Toojh Kunn(i) = near (visit) You. Bhayj = send (someone or a message). Soobhaagi = fortunate. Mut(i) = may be; perhaps. J(i) = whichever (person). Sees(u) = head. Baiysun(u) = seat. Vin(u) = without. Mureejaiy = die (for). Jeaurra = soul; thinking. Vidaana = belongs to others.

MEANING: (After a long, extremely hot summer) the rainy season has arrived, and there are beautiful clouds in the sky (and the whole nature looks very pretty). The peacocks also enjoy the beauty of nature, and are singing in a low, soft voice. The beauty of Your nature is piercing the heart of the young, beautiful woman (a fresh devotee of Waheguru) like a sharp knife, and also serving as the rope (of attraction) to entrap her (me) in Your love. I am greedy of Your holy sight for which I can cut myself into pieces, and I am a sacrifice for Your Naam to see Your beauty in nature, which is captivating me. I feel proud to express my thoughts about Your beauty with faith in You; otherwise, what pride can I have, oh my Waheguru?

Like a young human bride who beautifies herself with ornaments and with different hairstyles to attract her husband, the young human-bride (Waheguru's fresh devotee) uses a lot of religious symbols to please Waheguru. If all that heavy makeup and beautiful clothes of the young wife do not attract her husband, and he is imbued with the love of others, the wife would break her ceremonial bangles along with her arms, and also her big bed along with the side supports (because they failed to attract the husband to the wife).

Neither the dealer of bangles (who has so much variety of bangles to choose from) nor the bangles, including the beautiful ceremonial ones of the bride, proved useful to attract her husband. The arms that do not hug the husband feel burning. (Similarly, if the religious garb and symbols of a human bride do not connect her with Waheguru, she should burn her garb and symbols).

All my friends have gone to enjoy (are enjoying) their union with Waheguru, (but I am without Him). I am deeply unfortunate for being disconnected from Waheguru, so whose door should I go to for advice? I take pride in being highly skilled and having many good qualities, but my Lord does not like even a single one of them, oh my friend. Like a wife who beautifies herself with different attractive hairstyles to please her husband, I also did a lot of religious makeups, but (now I know) they are not approved in Waheguru's Court, as a result of which I am slowly crying in dull pain. On seeing me crying (because of my sincere suffering due to my separation from Waheguru), the whole world and the jungle birds cried with me in sympathy, but my pain of separation from the Lord did not cry with me (my heart was not moved and stayed indifferent, which had caused my separation from the Lord in the first place).
You came in my dream and left when the dream was over; I cried to drench my clothes in Your separation; I cannot come to visit You, and cannot even send a message to You, oh my dear Waheguru. I wish for the fortunate sleep in my eyes with the hope that I may be able to see my Lord in my dream again.
If someone talks to me about You, guess what I will offer to him, oh my dear Waheguru? I will cut my head to make a seat for him and serve him without my head. (This sacrifice is not a high price to pay) Because why would I not die (kill my ego) for my Waheguru, and offer my mind (wisdom) to please my Lord, who has become a stranger to me now, oh Nanak. 1.3.

Word Meaning: Bherm Bhoolaaya = misguided by doubts. Virla = some rare. 1. Aasun = yoga meditation positions. Indri = senses. Kmaayay = works toward. 2. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Oolti Bhuyee = change in thinking. 3. Bhunut(i) = says. Mildou Muraiy = kills desires on meeting with the Guru. Mumta = parental love for the family; worldly attachments. Mul(u) = filth. Ottraiy = comes off. 4.

MEANING: The whole world is misled by the misgiving that taking dips in holy waters washes away their sins, but some rare individual realizes that taking dips in holy waters may clean one's body, but if his mind is full of filth, then everything is filthy about him, and washing the body does not clean his mind. 1. Recite only Waheguru's name; this is the treasure that the Guru has bestowed upon me, oh my mind. Pause.
If someone learns the meditating positions of the Yogis to control his senses and works toward that objective (leads his life that way), such practice simply boosts his haumein (ego and selfishness), but the filth of his mind does not go away. 2. There is no other way to control your mind (and senses) than to take shelter of the Guru; when someone is connected to the Guru (spiritually), his thinking is reversed (he loves Guru's Shabad and gets detached from Maya), and the level of his spiritual state (blissfulness) becomes high beyond description. 3. On connecting with the Guru, the devotee's worldly desires are eradicated, and he starts a new life based on the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak(u). His filth of worldly attachment is washed away, and his mind becomes clean (pure). 4.1.

Subhna nudr(i) Aik haiy, Aapay ferk(u) kuray. Nanak Satgur(i) miliyaiyn ful(u) paaya, Naam(u) vudaayee, dayay. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Nudri = kind sight of Waheguru; benevolence. Sayv = service . 1.
Chayt(i) = remember. Aiko = only Waheguru. Na Moolay = not at all. Pause.
Mur(i) Kaiy = after killing selfishness and ego. Vusaiy = gets enshrined. 2.
Chaakhiyou = tasted. Sa = that. Un Rus = in other tastes. Bhaayay = in love for. 3.
Ferk(u) = differentiates. Ful(u) Paaya = reaps the rewards. Vudaayee = honour. 4.

MEANING: Remember (worship) only the eternal Waheguru, oh my mind. By serving only Waheguru, one acquires all comforts and never suffers. Pause.
But one can serve Satguru and other humanity only by the benevolence of Waheguru. One can control and purify one's mind only with the grace of Waheguru. 1.
One can live a high spiritual life by killing his worldly desires with the kind sight of Waheguru, and it is also with the benevolence of Waheguru that He comes to reside in the devotee's heart when he follows the Guru's Shabad. It is with the grace of God that one can recognize Waheguru's Huqam and stay absorbed in His Naam. 2. The tongue that does not taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam feels as if it is burning. It keeps enjoying the various attractions of Maya, and suffers as a result. 3. Waheguru has the same kind sight for everyone, but does differentiate between people (based on their deeds and thinking). When one gets spiritually connected with Satguru, he reaps the rewards, and Waheguru bestows honour on the devotees who recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Nanak munmukh(i) bundh haiy, Gurmut(i) mookt(i) kuraayay. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Goobaar(u) = complete darkness. Doojaiy = in the other (Maya). Purj = people; masses. Vigoyee = misled. 1. Kerni = performance. Saar(u) = supreme. Ruveh(i) = remember; recite Waheguru's Naam. Moakh Dooaar(u) = door to salvation. Pause. Nidhaan = treasure; source. Vichhurri = separated; detached. 2. Ghut(i) Guyyay = fell short; went in loss. Huth(i) Kihou Na Aaya = did not gain anything. Such(u) = eternal Truth; Waheguru. 3. Aasa Munsa = hopes and wishes. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Bundh = imprisoned. 4.

MEANING: Attachment with Maya creates deep darkness in the mind (where it cannot see right from wrong); but the mind cannot be enlightened (to dispel the darkness) without the Guru. Only those individuals recognize this fact who follow the Guru's Shabad, but the masses are misled in their love for Maya. 1. To live life according to the Guru's advice is the supreme performance of human duty, oh, my mind. The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, reaches the door of salvation (is salvaged). Pause. There is only one source of noble qualities (Waheguru), and only that devotee acquires those qualities whom Waheguru bestows upon with His benevolence. Everybody is disconnected from Waheguru without His Naam; they can be connected to Him only through the Guru's Shabad. 2. Maya-engrossed people (disconnected with Waheguru) run into loss (of noble qualities) while pursuing worldly things and still achieve nothing. One gets connected with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 3. The human body is all about hopes and wishes (spends life in their pursuit), but one should enlighten their mind with Waheguru's Light (His Naam). The follower of his mind is imprisoned by the allurements of Maya, but can get freedom by the Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Nanak vayk keetiun(u), Naamay luyyiun(u) laayay. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Sohaagni = married (to God); connected with Him. Oojla = clean; pious. Sehj(i) = in a high (blissful) spiritual state. Soobhaayay = in love with. Raaveh(i) = enjoy the union. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 1. Dohaagni = condemned; disconnected with Waheguru. Khurriyaan = standing; in discomfort. Bil-laayay = cry (for help). Mehl(u) = God's Residence; union with Him. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love with (Maya). Kuroopi = ugly. Aagaiy = next world. 2. Goovunti = having noble qualities. Ruvaiy = remembers. Augunvunti = lacking noble qualities. Kaamni = woman; human beings. 3. Bhutaar(u) = husband; Lord. Vayk = of different characters. Keetiun = created. 4.

MEANING: Satguru has fully explained to me about Waheguru (has connected me with Him); so, recite His Naam, oh, my mind. Pause. The human-bride, who is married (connected with Waheguru) through the love for the Guru, enjoys the high spiritual state (of blissfulness), and has a radiant face (pious mind). She gets rid of her selfishness and ego and remembers her Waheguru-Husband constantly. 1. (On the other hand), the ones who are disconnected with Waheguru cry in discomfort for help and cannot reach Waheguru's Palace (connect with Him). Due to their love for Maya, they look ugly (unholy) and suffer (receive punishment) in the next world (Waheguru's Court). 2.
The devotees possess noble qualities and retain them, and embed Waheguru's Naam in their hearts; whereas, the human-brides with bad qualities suffer and cry for help. 3.
Even though everybody has the same Waheguru as their Husband (Lord), nothing can be said about who receives His love and who remains deprived of it. He has created humans of different characters, and only some of them get motivated to recite His Naam, oh, Nanak. 4.4.

Nanak Ikkus(u) bin(u) mein uver(u) na jaana, subhna deevaan(u) Duyyaala. 5.5.

Word Meaning: Sud = always. Saad(u) = taste. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. 1.

Pergaasi = created. Pusaara = expanse. Muhadeo = Shiva. Vertaiy = is considered. Taamus(u) = anger. Ahunkaara = ego. 2. Kishan(u) = Vishnu. Avtaareen Roodha = busy in reincarnating. Chookaiy = lifted; cleared. Moh Goobaara = darkness due to attachments. 3. Nistaara = salvation. Baiyraagi = detached from the world; (attached with God). 4. Vertaiy = operates. Pritpaala = raising and nurturing. Deevaan(u) = support. 5.

MEANING: One enjoys the taste of the Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam, which is always sweet with Guru's Shabad. Guru's eternal Bani (Shabad) leads the devotee to attain the high spiritual state by getting him absorbed in the Shabad, as a result of which Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart. 1. Waheguru connects His devotees with the Guru by His benevolence, and the Perfect Satguru recites Waheguru's Naam (and reinforces it in devotee's heart). Pause. Brahma illuminated the contents of the Vedas (which he is believed to have written) and disseminated the allure of Maya throughout the world (the Vedas discuss Maya alone). Shiva is considered to be a spiritually knowledgeable god, but he is full of anger and ego at heart. 2. (The third most popular god of Hindus), Vishnu is always busy in reincarnating (he has ten reincarnations), so who should the world follow to swim across (the sea of Maya) and get salvation? The Sikhs of the Guru are imbued in the Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) with which their darkness of worldly attachments is cleared. 3. Guru's Sikhs swim across the sea of Maya and find salvation in the shelter of the Guru. They are detached from worldly attractions and are imbued with Waheguru's Naam, whereby they find the door to salvation. 4.
Only Waheguru is operating in everybody's heart, raising and nourishing them. I do not recognize anyone other than the kind Waheguru, who is the support (provider) for everyone, oh, Nanak. 5.5.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = truthfulness; Waheguru. Sunjum(u) = self-control. Tut(u) = the origin (Waheguru). Giyan(u) = connection with God. 1. Nibhaiy = accompanies till the end. Pause. Put(i) = honour. Soyay = Waheguru. Sukhaayee = friend. 2. Vudaayee = respect. Kerni = performance (of deeds); lifestyle. Saar(u) = supreme. Purvaaraiy = family; associates. Sadhaar(u) = support. 3 & 4.

MEANING: A true Sikh of the Guru does not need any special effort to acquire Waheguru (His Naam) in his heart and to achieve self-control; they follow (are acquired by him) automatically when he makes connection with Waheguru (remembers Him) in the shelter of the Guru). 1. Remember Waheguru's Naam which accompanies you and stays with you all the time in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. Pause. For a Sikh of the Guru, the presence of Waheguru in his heart is the basis of his (high) caste (social status) and his honour. In other words, those things have no importance for the Sikh. He has a Waheguru-friend in his heart. 2. However, only that individual becomes a Sikh of the Guru to whom Waheguru is benevolent, and He Himself bestows honour upon the Sikh. 3. Noble and truthful living based on the Shabad of the Guru is the supreme performance for the Sikh; he also supports (motivates) his associates to follow his lifestyle, oh, Nanak. 4.6.

Nanak mustuk(i) jis vudbhaag(u). Gur kee Bani sehj baiyraag(u). 4.7.

Word Meaning: Rusna = tongue. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Soobhaayay = with love. Triptiyya = fully contented. 1. Suntokhiyaan = contented. Liv = deep meditation. Dooja Bhaaou = love for Maya. 2 Purmul(u) = sweet fragrance. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Baiyraag(u) = detachment from the world. 3&4.

MEANING: My tongue is enjoying the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam by reciting it with love, and I have acquired the state of blissfulness; also, my mind has become fully content because of the recitation of God's Naam. 1. I am a sacrifice for my Satguru because pondering on His Shabad provides great comfort. Pause. My eyes are content because of their focus on Waheguru's Naam, and my mind has become fully content by giving up its attachment to the attractions of Maya. 2. Waheguru's fragrant Naam has been enshrined in my heart, and my body and my mind are in perfect comfort with the recitation of the Naam with Guru's Shabad. 3. The devotee, who recites the Guru's Bani (Shabad) with devotion, gets detached from the worldly attachments and achieves the state of blissfulness. However, only that devotee recites the Guru's Shabad who has great luck on his forehead, oh, Nanak. 4.7.

Nanak say vudghaagi, jin Hur(i) Naam(u) dhiyaaya. Gur persadi munn(i) vusaaya. 4.8.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam can be realized only through the Guru (in His shelter), where the devotee gets absorbed in the eternal Waheguru by the eternal Shabad of Satguru. 1. Obey the Will of your Guru and acquire the treasure of Waheguru's Naam in your heart, oh my mind. Pause. Wash away the filth of your mind by the Guru's Shabad when the holy Naam will get embedded in your mind. 2. (The people of) The world is misled by misgivings because of which the Angel of death humiliates them (punishes them), and they keep taking births and dying. 3. Those devotees are highly fortunate who recite Waheguru's Naam and get it embedded in their hearts by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Hur(i) chayt(i) mun mayray, tu Gur ka Shabad(u) kmaayay. Huqam(u) munneh(i) ta Hur(i) milay, ta vichoun haumein jaayay. Ruhaou. Haumein subh(u) sreer(u) haiy, haumein oput(i) hoyay. Haumein vudda goobaar(u) haiy, haumein vich(i) boojh(i) na sukaiy koyay. 2. Haumein vich(i) bhugut(i) na hovyee, Huqam(u) na boojhiya jaayay. Haumein vich(i) jeeou bundh(u) haiy, Naam(u) na vusaiy mun(i) aayay. 3. Nanak Satgur(i) miliyain haumein guyee, ta Sach(u) vussiya mun(i) aayay. Sach(u) kmaavaiy, Sach(i) ruhaiy, Sachay sayv(i) kmaayay. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Haumein = selfishness and ego. Virodh(u) = opposition; enmity. Tthaayayn = place. Birtha = empty; without achieving anything. 1.
Chayt(i) = remember. Kmaayay = follow (the Advice). Pause. Oput(i) = production; reincarnation. Goobaar(u) = pitch darkness. Boojh(i) = understand. 2.
Bundh(u) = imprisoned (by Maya). 3.

MEANING: Man's ego and Waheguru's Naam oppose each other (are mutually exclusive); the two cannot live in the same place (exist together). For that reason, one cannot serve Waheguru and does not acquire any noble quality or any spirituality as long as he suffers from haumein. 1. Remember Waheguru and follow the advice of the Guru, oh my mind. By obeying Waheguru's Huqam (Will), one gets rid of their haumein and gets connected with Waheguru. Pause. The human body is full of haumein, which causes him to reincarnate again and again. Haumein causes deep darkness in one's mind because of which he cannot understand anything noble (and Waheguru's Will). 2.
One cannot worship Waheguru because of his haumein, and cannot understand Waheguru's Huqam(u). One becomes a prisoner of Maya due to his haumein, and cannot have Waheguru's Naam implanted in his heart. 3.
One gets rid of his haumein in the shelter of the Guru, and Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart, oh Nanak. Then the devotee leads his life according to the Guru's Teachings, stays absorbed in His Shabad, and serves (worships) Waheguru. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Sayj = bed. Raavay = enjoys. Sookh Saagur = source of comfort.
Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Bhurpoor = full of. 1 & 2.
Goonvunti = full of noble qualities. Thaaka = exhausted. Oopaav = measures. 3&4.

MEANING: There is only one Lord (Husband), Waheguru, and the devotee's heart is the bed for the Waheguru-Husband to dwell there. (On the bed of his heart), Guru's Sikh enjoys union with Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts. 1. I also have the wish (yearning) to connect with Waheguru, but only the Perfect Guru can connect me with Him. I love to repeatedly sacrifice my life for the Guru who connects me with Waheguru with His benevolence. Pause. I am full of ignoble qualities, whereas my dear (Waheguru) is Perfect (full of virtues), so how can I connect with Him? 2. I do not have the noble qualities that the other human-brides who have been connected with Waheguru have; so, how can I connect with Waheguru, oh, my mother? 3. Word Meaning: Soondar = handsome; pure; perfect. Saar = knowledge about; worth; transcendental level. Doojaiy = in Maya. Lobhaani = attracted to. 1.
Iyaani = ignorant. Sohaagun(i) = loved by. Siyaani = wise; enlightened. Pause.
Doash = shortcomings. Anayk = countless. 2. Raaviya = enjoyed. Bhulee = lovable; fortunate. Sohaagun(i) = loved by (Waheguru); connected with Him. Say = those.

Dohaagun(i) = rejected by; disconnected from. 3. Kermheen = unfortunate. Kub Hee = when? Goonvunta = having noble qualities.
Augunaara = having ignoble qualities. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. 4 &5.
MEANING: My Waheguru is Perfect, but I was unable to appreciate the extent of His transcendence because, ignoring Waheguru, I was engrossed in Maya. 1.
I am highly ignorant, so how can I connect with Him? The devotee, who is loved by Waheguru, is the one who is really married to Him (is connected with Him), and is wise. Pause. I am full of shortcomings, so how can I connect with my Dear? He has so many beloveds, and I am never on His mind. 2. The devotee, who enjoys union with Waheguru, is fortunate and is connected with Him; but I do not have those noble qualities by which the devotees are connected with Waheguru, so what should I, who has been rejected by Him, do? 3. The devotees, who are married to Waheguru, enjoy His company all the time, but I wonder when He will hug an unfortunate like me? 4.
I realize that the Husband-Waheguru is full of virtues, and I am full of ignoble qualities; I can only implore that He forgives me, oh Nanak. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Aas = hope; wish. Moogudh(u) = foolish. Chit(u) = mind. 1.
Vays = beautification. Kaarun(i) = for. Rutta = imbued; loves. Uvrah = others. Suvra = handsome; attractive. 2.
MEANING: I have a great wish to have a sight of Waheguru, but how can I do so? I have to go to my Satguru and ask for a way to enlighten my foolish mind so that it may have a sight of Waheguru. The misled mind comes to understand (is enlightened) with the Shabad (Advice) of the Guru when it begins to recite Waheguru's Naam all the time. But only that individual begins to love Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) whom He is kind to, oh Nanak. 1.

I will beautify myself (my mind) in any way if the eternal Waheguru would like me. But the Dear Waheguru for whom I adorn myself is imbued with the love of others. Such a devotee, who enjoys union with such Perfect and handsome Waheguru, is worthy of praise; oh Nanak. 2.

(PAGE 562): Dhun(u), dhunn(u) Guru, Gur, Satgur(u) Poora, Nanak mun(i) aas poojaayay. 4.

Word Meaning: Soohaagun(i) = married to; connected with. Kiyoun = how? Paayayurra = acquired; connected with. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Mayra, Tayra = discrimination. Maarug(i) = path. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Soul. Joti = human soul. 3.
Sunayha = message. Paani Dhovaan = serve water (a big service those days). Jun = slave; devotee. Kuthaa = story; virtues. 4.

MEANING: When I asked the devotee who is married to (connected with) Waheguru how she acquired (made connection with) Waheguru, she replied: when I got rid of my discriminating character toward human beings, Waheguru became benevolent to me. The path to union with Waheguru is to offer your mind, body, and soul to Him (get rid of your selfishness and ego), oh my friend. Waheguru casts a kind sight on you, and your soul merges with that of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.
I will gladly offer my mind and body to the individual who delivers me the message of Waheguru (explains His Huqam to me). I will be happy to fan him (in hot weather), fetch him water, and serve him in any other way. I will always serve the devotee who narrates the virtues of Waheguru and the way He runs the universe. The Perfect Guru, Satgur, is Great and is worthy of worship, who fulfills my wish to connect with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.

---------- Gur sujjun(u) mayra mayl(i) Hurray, jit(u) mil(i) Hur(i) Naam(u) dhiyavaan. Gur, Satgur paas-houn Hur(i) gosht(i) poochhaan, kur(i) saanjhi, Hur(i) goon gaavaan. Word Meaning: Hur(i) Gosht(i) = union with Waheguru. Saanjhi = share in the company. Loachaiy = longs for. Smaalay = remembers. Sayti = with. Ruliya = merged. 5&6.

MEANING: Connect me with my Guru-Friend so that I may recite Your Naam in His shelter, oh Waheguru. I will learn from Him the way to connect with You, and will recite Your Naam in His company. I wish to sing Your praise all the time because my mind comes to life (blooms) when I listen to Your Naam, oh Waheguru. The moment I forget Your Naam, my soul dies right away, oh Nanak. 5. Everybody longs for a sight of Waheguru, but only that lucky individual gets to “see” Him whom He is kind to “show” Himself. The individual, on whom He casts a kind sight, recites His Naam all the time, but only that individual does so who gets connected to the Perfect Guru first. With recitation of Waheguru’s Naam, the soul of the devotee merges with that of Waheguru, and both become “one,” oh, Nanak. 6.1.3.

Mehl(i) boolaaya, Prubh Amrit bhooncha. Kuhou Nanak Prubh mayra oocha. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Ut(i) = extreme. Unt(u) = end. Paaravaara = limits. Koat(i) = millions. Dhaavaiy = try hard. Til(u) = minuscule. 1. Sohaavi = pleasing. Vayla = time; moment. Mayla = union. Pause. Tupeesur = One who endures hardships to please the gods. Sadheh(i) = practise. Yogishur = accomplished yogis. Bhogisur = those who enjoy worldly luxuries. 2. Thora = few. Jutun = effort. Jeeou = life. 3. Phirt, Phirut = searching around. Bherm = misgivings; fears. Mehl(i) = in Waheguru’s Residence. Bhooncha = take in. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru’s Court (transcendence) is extremely high (beyond reach), and there is no limit to His majesty. Millions of people try hard to find His limits, but are unable to reach even an extremely small fraction of the height of His Residence. 1 How wonderfully pleasing that moment must be when one gets connected with Him! Pause. Countless people worship Him, and countless suffer self-afflicted hardships to please Him in some way. Countless yogis practise yoga to acquire Him, while countless others simply enjoy the luxuries of life. 2. Even though Waheguru is present in every heart, some rare individuals realize it and make a connection with Him. Is there a friend who can tear down the wall of Maya for me which separates me from Waheguru? With the kind favour of such a devotee, I, too, can make an effort to demolish the wall of Maya and connect with Waheguru. I will gladly sacrifice my life for him. 3. Searching around, I came to the holy saints who eradicated all my misgivings and my suffering. Waheguru called me into His Residence and fed me the Amrit (of His Naam). My Waheguru is great, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Toom mehrvaan, daas hum deena. Nanak Sahib bhurpoor leena. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Dhun(u) = great; fortunate. Jit(u) = at which. 1. Jea = (spiritual) life. Mun(u) = mind; soul. Chitayray = remembering. Pause. Sach(u) = everlasting. Muntar(u) = Shabad. Bani = spiritual compositions in praise of God. Seetul = calm; blissful. Purakh = Waheguru (a living power). Drishit = sight. Soojaani = full of wisdom. 2. Tykhut(i) Nivaasi = who resides on (occupies) the throne = King of the universe. Abibaashi = immortal. Daas = slave. Deena = humble. Bhurpoor(i) Leena = present everywhere; omnipresent. 3&4.

MEANING: That time, that moment, is great (highly fortunate for the devotee) when he gets to have a sight of Waheguru (makes a connection with Him). I am all sacrifice for the Feet of the Guru (His Shabad) (because of which I can connect with Waheguru). 1. My dear Waheguru is the source of my (spiritual) life; my soul survives by remembering (reciting) His Naam. Pause. The Word of the Guru in Your praise is eternal, and His Bani sustains the soul (makes it immortal as it merges in You), oh Waheguru. You are the source of blissfulness, and have wise vision (thinking), oh, the omnipresent Waheguru. 2. Your Huqam is (Laws are) eternal, oh, the King of the universe. You are immortal and never take birth or die. 3. Waheguru is benevolent and omnipresent, and I am a humble servant of His, oh, Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Bayunt(u) limitless. Jaanaiy = realizes; makes a connection with (Waheguru). Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. 1. It Oot = here and there; everywhere. Oat = shelter; support. 3. Moh(i) = I; me. Nirgoon = having no qualities. Sadhu = Guru. Raata = imbued. 4.

MEANING: You are limitless, but some rare devotee recognizes You (makes connection with You) with the grace of the Guru and by acting on His Advice, oh Waheguru. 1. I am Your slave, and it is my prayer to You that bless me with Your Naam so that I may live by reciting it, oh Waheguru. Pause. My Waheguru is always benevolent, and the provider for all, but only that individual comes to realize Him (gets connected with Him) whom He makes to do so. 2. I find Your shelter (support) everywhere; I am always a sacrifice for You, oh God. 3. I have no noble quality, and am unable to recognize

Your virtues; however, my mind has been imbued with love for You since I, Nanak, took the shelter of the Guru. 4.3.

Shern(i) puriyou Nanak Hur(i) dooaaray. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Untarjaami = omniscient. Poora = perfect. Dhoora = dust of feet. 1. Thul(i) = on land. Muhhiul(i) = in the sky. Nicket = close by. 2. Jea Junt = living beings. Pritpaaray = raises and nourishes. 4.

MEANING: The Perfect Waheguru is omniscient and bestows the dust of the Feet of the Guru (provides His shelter or His Shabad) to the devotees. 1. Please, be kind to me (to connect me with the Guru too), oh, benevolent to the humble, Waheguru. I have only Your Shelter, oh, the Perfect Waheguru. Pause. Waheguru is not far from you, oh man. Being present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky, He is very close to you (is present in your mind as well). 2. The devotee, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, recites His Naam and sings His praise all the twenty-four hours. 3. Waheguru raises and nourishes all the living beings; I have come to His door to seek His shelter, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Nanak Naam(u) juput sookh(u) paavaan. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Vud Daata = a great provider. Ruvviya = present. Poorun = perfect. Adhaara = basis for life. 1 & Pause. Shern(i) = shelter. Pooray = perfect. Nirmul(u) = pure. 2. Churn Kumul = lotus-like feet (of Waheguru); His Naam. Oordhaaray = implanted in the heart. Blihaaray = be a sacrifice. 3.

MEANING: You are the greatest provider and are omniscient (know the needs of all), oh Waheguru. The Perfect Lord is present in everybody. 1. Dear Waheguru, Naam is the basis of my life; I survive by listening to His Naam only. Pause. I am in Your shelter, oh, my Perfect Satguru (Waheguru). My mind is purified by the dust of the Guru's Feet (His Shabad). 2. I can sacrifice my life to have Your holy sight (to get connected with You). I have acquired Your lotus-like Feet (Your Naam) in my heart, oh Waheguru. 3. Please, be kind to me so that I may sing Your praise. I, Nanak, acquire blissfulness by reciting Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4.5.

Ghut(i), ghut(i) untar(i) mayra Soami voottha. Nanak Naam(u) paaya Prubh(u) toottha. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Amrit = life-sustaining Naam of Waheguru. Muraiy = (spiritual) dies. Na Kubhoon = never. Chheejaiy = becomes weak. 1. Ruttan, Javaahur, Maanuk, Laala = jewels and pearls. Nihaala = blissful. 2. Jut Kut = wherever. Voottha = dwells. Toottha = pleased to be kind. 4.

MEANING: Take in the Amrit (of Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of the Guru whereby your mind will not suffer spiritual death, and will never become weak, oh, my friend. 1. It is with great fortune that one gets connected with the Perfect Guru; it is with the Guru's grace that one worships Waheguru. Pause. Waheguru's Naam is invaluable and is like possessing many jewels and pearls; one becomes blissful by reciting His Naam. 2. I see Waheguru everywhere, and my mind is purified by singing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru. 3. My Lord dwells in every heart, but one acquires His Naam only when He is pleased to be kind to His devotees, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Tayray jea, Tu sud hee saathi. Sunsaar saagur tay kudhday haathi. 2. Aavun jaavun Toom hee keeya. Jis Tu raakheh(i), tis dookh(u) na theeya. 3. Tu Aiko Sahib(u), uver(u) na hoar(i). Binou kuraiy Nanak ker(i) joar(i). 4.7.

Word Meaning: Vissur(u) = forget. Kirpaala = benevolent. Pause. Chit(i) = in mind. Soohaava = comforting; pleasant. Haava = sighs. 1. Sunsaar Saagur = the world sea. Haathi = elephant; inflated mind; conceited. 2. Theeya = happens. Uver(u) = other. Ker(i) Joar(i) = folded hands. 3 & 4.

MEANING: You are very kind and benevolent to the humble; I have come to Your shelter with the request that please do not be forgotten from my mind, oh, omnipresent, and kind Waheguru. Pause. The place where You come to mind becomes very comforting (holy), but I begin to sigh (become sad) when I forget You. 1. All living beings are Yours, and You are their life-long companion. I have a huge ego; please salvage me, oh kind Waheguru. 2. You have created the cycle of birth and death, but the individual whom you protect does not suffer in any way (in the cycle of rebirths). 3. You are the only Lord, and there is no one else (like You); with folded hands, I, Nanak, pray only to You, oh Waheguru. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Janaayeh(i) = give the understanding. Vukhaanaiy = recites.
Achurj = amazing; wondrous. Bisma = mesmerizing. 1 & Pause.
Kaarun = source of all matter. Kerna = the doer; creator. Adhaari = basis. Bukhsheesh = benevolence; gifts. 2 &3.
MEANING: Only that individual comes to learn about You (gets connected with You) whom You give the required wisdom, and he begins to recite Your Naam as bestowed by You, oh Waheguru. 1. You are wondrous, and Your nature is mesmerizing, oh Waheguru. Pause. You are the source of all matter, and You are the creator of the universe. Word Meaning: Loacha = longing; yearning. Huoun = I; me. Kiyoun = how? Kheeray = milk. Ummaali = friend. Neeraiy = serve. Pirum Ka = for the Dear. Dheeray = become peaceful; find solace. 1. Sookh-Daata = the source of all comforts. Jea = mind; heart. Baydun = pain. Chaatrik = rainbird, a mythical bird that drinks only the first raindrop, and that too only when the Suvantee planet is visible. Bil-laata = cries in despair. Saar(i) Sumaaleen = remember; keep in mind. 2.

MEANING: I have a yearning to meet my dear Waheguru (get connected with Him); how can I connect with my omnipresent Guru (Waheguru)? Just like a child who cannot live without milk, no matter how much you distract him with different things to play with, my appetite to see my Guru does not go away, even if I am served hundreds of delicious foods, oh my friend. My mind and body have deep love for my Dear Waheguru; how can I find solace without seeing Him? 1. Listen to my request and connect me with the Guru who is the source of all comforts, oh my friend, my dear, my brother. The Guru knows all the pain of my heart and always speaks of Waheguru. Like the rainbird that cries for the special raindrop, I cannot survive without Waheguru for even a short moment. What virtues of Yours (You have countless) can I recall to enshrine You in my mind? I have no virtue, yet You always protect me, oh, Waheguru. 2

Word Meaning: Bhuyyee = became. Oodeeni = sad; in low spirits. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Rus Bhoagun = enjoy sweet tastes. Na Laykha = of no use.

Sookhaavaiy = gives comfort. Vaysa = beautification. Raaviya = enjoyed. Aadaysa = bow to (them). 3. Sheegaar = makeup; adornment. Kaam(i) Na = does not pay; of no use. Sheh = Husband (Waheguru). Baat Na poochhiya = ignored. Jobun = youthfulness. 4. Jichur(u) = as long as. Bherm = misgivng. Tichur(u) = till then. Rung(u) = love. Maaniya = enjoyed. 5.

MEANING: I am feeling sad without my Lord; when will I see my Dear with my eyes? I have forgotten to enjoy all the tastes of life because they are of no use without my Dear. These beautiful clothes provide me no comfort, and I do not like to adorn my body in any way. I will bow to (request) the friends who have enjoyed the company of dear Waheguru (to guide me too). 3. I did all the adornments (wore religious symbols), but they are of no use without my Dear, oh my friend. All my youthfulness (means to attract Him) goes waste if my Lord pays no attention to me (ignores me). Those married women (devotees) are highly lucky who enjoy the love of Waheguru, oh my friend. I will gladly offer my life to those devotees and will always wash their feet (serve them with devotion). 4.

As long as I had misgivings about the attractions of Maya, I had thought Waheguru to be far away till then, oh my friend. But, when I got connected with the Perfect Guru, all my hopes and wishes were fulfilled; I realized all the comforts, and found Waheguru to be present everywhere. I, Nanak, am a slave of my Guru and Waheguru, and by dropping on the feet of my Satguru (surrendering my ego and selfishness), I have acquired and enjoyed the love of Waheguru, oh my friend. 5.1.9.

Word Meaning: Sachi = everlasting. Sach(u) = approved by Waheguru; fully rewarding. Dhoon(i) = concentration of mind. Salaahna = singing praise. 1. Vit-houn = for. Bul(i) Jaaoun = sacrifice life. Daasaan = slaves. Pause. Jihva = tongue. Sachi = real (performs its real duty); pious. Rutti = imbued. Junum Khoyay = waste away human life. 2. Khayti = farming. Beejna = sowing. Laaha = benefit. Bhundaara = treasures. 3. Pehnuna = wearing clothes. Tayk = support. Bukhshay = bestows. 4. Mool(i) Na = absolutely not. Sachiyaar = truthful; holy. 5. Snaayay = praise. Sach(u) Thaan(i) = holy gathering where God's praise is sung. 6 Moorut(u) = time; moment. Aakaar(u) = creation. 7. Bhaavaiy = likes. Rukhsi = keeps. Rujaayay = with (His) Will. 8.1.

MEANING: The holy compositions in praise of Waheguru are eternal (they never fail to connect with Waheguru), the meditation on Waheguru's Naam with full devotion is fully rewarding, and so is the pondering on the Guru's Shabad. It is my great fortune when I sing Waheguru's praise. 1. I will gladly lay down my life for Waheguru's Naam, oh, my mind. One acquires Waheguru's Naam when he serves Him like a slave of His slaves. Pause. The tongue, which is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, is real (pious) and performs its real duty, and pious are the body and the mind. The individual who praises someone other than Waheguru wastes his precious human life. 2.

Just like any business, like farming and trading, Waheguru's Naam is the business and the seeding of the crop for a devotee. His daily gain in this business is the acquisition of the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, of which the treasures are always full (unlike other forms of wealth, which run out on being used, the wealth of Waheguru's Naam never experiences any shortage, no matter how many devotees acquire it). 3. For a devotee, Waheguru's Naam is his food, his clothing, and his support (He always keeps Waheguru in mind, no matter what he does). But only that lucky individual acquires it whom Waheguru bestows upon; such a devotee is given room in His Palace (is honoured in His Court). 4. Such devotees are born pious (with Waheguru's Naam in their heart), leave the world pious, and are never born again because they are proved to be pious in the Court of Waheguru, and merge into Him. 5. I am a sacrifice to my Satguru, with whose benevolence I sing Waheguru's praise in the company of holy saints, and acquire Waheguru's Naam and purity of mind. 6. That time, that moment, was pious (was lucky for me) when I fostered love for Waheguru in my mind. Now I see Waheguru everywhere; I sing His praise, and realize that His whole creation is real. 7. But I got connected with Waheguru only because He connected me with Him, oh Nanak. He protects me (from the attacks of Maya) the way He pleases. 8.1.

Nanak jin kaiy hirday vussiya, moakh mookut(i) tinh paaya. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Munooaa = mind. Dhaavnda = runs uncontrolled. Indri = the five senses. Viyaap(i) Adhikaayee = influencing strongly; overpowering; Suntaavaiy = cause mental unrest. 1. Wah(u) Wah(u) = Waheguru's praise. Sehjay = in a blissful state. Ruveejaiy = can be recited. Doolubh(u) = invaluable; extremely difficult to acquire. Pause.

Cheen(i) = by recognizing; by pondering on. Nij Ghur(u) = own heart. 2.
Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Mun Chindiya = as wished. Ful(u) = reward. 3.
Neech = (spiritually) ignoble. Ootum = superior; noble. Vudiyaayi = greatness. 4.
Bikh(u) = poison. Boodh(u) = wisdom. Ukk(u) = a bush-like bitter and wild plant (Calotropis procera). Permul = sandal tree. Vaashna = fragrance. 5. Maanus = human. Khuttiya = make it worthwhile (successful). 6. Bikh(u) = poison; Maya; vices. Ahila = highly valuable. Bhaaya = liked. 7. Vusaaya = embedded. Moakh Mookut(i) = salvation. 8.

MEANING: The human mind wanders around in all ten directions (as prompted by its five basic senses and five implementing senses) (and is never peaceful), so how can it sing Waheguru's praise? Man's senses strongly overpower him, and lust and rage cause him mental unrest all the time. 1. Waheguru's Naam is acquired by only a few people in the world; its sweet taste can be enjoyed only with the wisdom (Advice) of the Guru when the devotee sings Waheguru's praise to attain the high spiritual state. Pause.

When the mind of a devotee is purified by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, he sings Waheguru's praise. When he analyzes his inner self with Guru's advice, his mind stays calm (becomes peaceful) (and he embeds Waheguru's Naam in there). 2.

Always sing Waheguru's praise while imbued in His love, oh my mind. Waheguru is always pure at heart (does no injustice), and is the source of all comforts; sing His praise to reap the rewards of your choice. 3. By coming to Waheguru's shelter, I was transformed from an ignoble to a spiritually superior individual. It was His real greatness that He pulled me, a stone-hearted, out (of the world sea) as I was drowning in there. 4.

I acquired Guru's wisdom (His advice), which transformed me from a poison (a bitter person who hurt many people) to amrit (a sweet and polite individual who motivated people to recite Waheguru's Naam). It was like changing a ukk plant into a sandalwood tree, as I acquired a sweet fragrance (Guru's advice) in my mind. 5. Human life is invaluable and is rarely available; a devotee makes it really worthwhile (successful) in this life. One recites Waheguru's Naam when he connects with Satguru through his great fortune. 6.

Those who are disconnected from Waheguru (follow their own mind) are engrossed in the vices of Maya, thereby wasting their invaluable human life. They do not like Guru's eternal Shabad, and therefore also do not like Waheguru's Naam, which is the sea (source) of all comforts. 7. Everybody utters Waheguru with their tongue, but some rare individual enshrines it in their heart. Those who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts attain freedom from the bonds of Maya and attain salvation, oh, Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body; soul. Koorr(i) = in falsehood; in love with Maya. Vigaarr(i) = make impure; contaminate. Saach = purity; piety. Pervaan(u) = acceptable. Taam(i) = then. Likhay Baajhoun = without written (Huqam of Waheguru). Soorut(i) = (spiritual) understanding; in thoughts (mind). 1. Ta = only then. Kehn(u) = words of praise. Bhaaya = liked. Dayra = dwelling; source. Dhaaya = demolished. Jaam(i) = when. 2. Vaari = turn. Kirt(u) Kmaavna = deeds done. Jhuggraa = argumentation. Vunjaavna = suffer humiliation. Shreeki = rivalry. Rooaavna = cry; complain. Vaavna = boast or complain publicly. 3. Kaurra = discomforts; troubles. Meettha = comforts; happiness. Poonn(u) Daan = forced donations to brahmans. Anayk Kerni = countless religious rituals. Sumsuray = equal. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Dhoor(i) = right from the origin. Kuday = sometime. 4.

MEANING: What is the use of taking dips in holy waters when you have contaminated your body (soul) with immoral deeds resulting from your attraction for Maya? Only those dips are acceptable to Waheguru when one lives a truthful and pious life. One acquires Waheguru (gets connected with Him) when his heart is pure, and he has Waheguru's Naam at heart. However, one acquires no spiritual understanding (enlightenment) unless it is written in his fate with Waheguru's Huqam. Otherwise, he simply wastes his spoken words (they are of no spiritual use to him). One should enshrine Satguru's Shabad in his thoughts, and talk (pray) for the wellbeing of all (sing Waheguru's praise) wherever he goes. What is the use of taking holy dips when one's soul is contaminated with immorality? 1.

I have said a few words in Your praise only because You enabled me to do so, oh Waheguru. Your Naam is the real Amrit, and I like it. I found Your Naam to be sweet whereby the source of all my discomforts has been demolished. With Your Will, Your Naam has been implanted in my heart. You have created Yourself, oh Waheguru; I can only pray to You, but it is Your benevolence that You cast a kind sight on me to sing Your praise. I have said a few words in Your praise only because You enabled me to do so. 2.

The Lord pulls one from the deep well of Maya (severs his bonds with Maya) when his turn comes, which is based on the deeds performed by him. You should not criticize anyone for their bad behaviour (because everybody leads their life as per the prewritten Will of Waheguru for them). So, when you criticize someone, you create an unwarranted dispute not just with the person under attack, but also with Waheguru, who tailored his lifestyle; as a result, you will suffer humiliation. By criticizing someone, you are playing a rival to the Lord with whom you should have friendship (take His shelter); otherwise, how can you cry for His help when you appear in His Court? You should accept (be satisfied with) whatever He gives you, keep your feelings inside you, and not complain in public. Waheguru pulls one out of the deep well of Maya when his turn comes, which is based on his deeds. 3.

Waheguru has created everyone, and casts kind sight on all of them. But nobody asks for troubles, everybody asks for comforts and happiness in life. Anyone can ask for happiness, but Waheguru delivers only what He likes (what the individual deserves). Some people make donations (to Brahmans) and perform countless other religious rituals to have happiness in life, but no ritual or any other approach comes even close to reciting Waheguru's Naam. However, one acquires His Naam in the heart only if it has been written in his fate by the benevolence of Waheguru right from the beginning, oh Nanak. Waheguru creates everybody, and casts a kind sight on them all. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Vukhaana = say, recite. Oopaayay = created. Serb Smaana = present everywhere. Dhundhaiy Laayiya = put in the business related to Maya. Bhikh = begging for living. Bhuvaayiya = made to wander. Ait(i) = this. Bherm Bhoolaana = misled in this misgiving (falseness of Maya). Taam(i) = only then. 1.
Soor(i) Nur = god-like humans. Sooghurr = wise. Soojaana = knowledgeable. Moheh(i) = robbed by; captivated by. Chayteh(i) = remember. Ehila = priceless. Moorr Moogudh = foolish and ignorant. Na Moolay = not at all. 2.
MEANING: I recite Your Naam only when You are kind to me, oh Waheguru. Waheguru has created everybody, and is present in everybody (and everywhere). Waheguru is omnipresent and puts everybody in business related to Maya. He makes some people rulers, while making some others beggars who have to wander around to collect alms. He has made greed and worldly attachments sweet for the people, as a result of which, they get misled (engrossed in such attachments). I can recite Your Naam all the time only when You are kind to me, oh Waheguru. 1.
Your Naam is immortal (the only way to connect with God in any eon), and I love it, oh Waheguru. All discomforts are eradicated with Waheguru's Naam, and comforts take their place in one's life. Gods-like men, wise, and knowledgeable people, sing Waheguru's praise (in their own way), but only those sing Your real praise whom You like, oh Lord. The Maya-engrossed individuals do not remember Waheguru, and waste away their precious human life. Many foolish and ignorant people do not realize that everyone who is born has to leave this world (and nothing will be theirs forever, except the Naam), and do not remember Waheguru at all. Your Naam is eternal (the only way to lead to connect with Waheguru in any eon), and I love it, oh Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Vukhut = time (to sing Waheguru's praise). Bhaaou = love; reverence. Saaou = taste. Joyay = which; who. Churreh(i) Suvaaya = many-fold increase (in spirituality). Kerm(u) Dherm(u) = religious rituals. Ikk(u) Na = not even one. Sunjum(u) = control on sensual desires. Aik(u) = "One" (Waheguru). 3. Raj(u) = Kingship. Nihchul = permanent; everlasting. Kubhoon Na = never. Chaakur = servant of love. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Dooshmun(u) = the five demons. Naavyay = Naam. 4.

MEANING: The time when I sing Your praise is very soothing, and the holy compositions in Your praise are the real Amrit. Your devotees serve You (sing Your praise) with affection, and enjoy the taste (of this Amrit). Those (devotees) who acquire Waheguru's Naam-Amrit enjoy its sweet taste, and the sweetness (their enjoyment of the Naam) increases many-fold all the time. Not even a single religious ritual or control on sensual pleasures is worth anything if the devotee does not recognize (make a connection with) the "One" (Waheguru). The time when I sing God's praise is very soothing, and the holy compositions in His praise are the real Amrit. 3.
I am a sacrifice for Waheguru's Naam. Your Kingship (rule over the universe) is eternal, and never goes away (never ceases), and is permanent forever. Your slave (devotee) is the one who stays in the blissful state of spirituality (above the effects of Maya). None of the five demon enemies (lust, rage, greed, etc.) can impact Your devotee in any way, and no sin can even come near him. I am always a sacrifice for Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Joogeh Jooguntar(i) = in every eon. Keerut(i) Kureh(i) = sing praise. Mooraaray = Waheguru. Taam(i) = only then. Jaapeh(i) = appears. Jaam(i) = when. Bhermo Bhoolaava = misgivings. Chookaavyay = is removed. Jumhoun = from the Angel of death. Oobaaray = get free; salvage. 5.
Ulukh = invisible; incomprehensible. Apaara = beyond limits. Kiyoun = how? Aakh(i) Na Jaana = do not know how to express myself. Boojhaavhay = give the understanding. Sehsa = doubt; worry. 6.
MEANING: You have Your devotees in every eon who sing Your praise at Your door, oh, Lord. They worship only "One" Waheguru. But the eternal Waheguru appears in their mind only when they get rid of their misgivings and their doubts (about Maya) -which have been created by Him - and when they enshrine His Naam in their heart. With the grace (mediation) of the Guru, please be kind to me and free me from the jaws of the Angel of death (from the misdeeds which lead to him), oh Waheguru. You have Your devotees in every eon, oh God. 5. How can I pray to You when I cannot express myself, oh the great, incomprehensible, and limitless Waheguru? I can recognize (connect with You) only if You cast a kind sight on me. I can recognize Your true existence only when You make me understand (connect me with You) and when You dispel my worries about the worldly problems, including hunger, created by You in the world, oh Lord. I humbly submit that such worries are eradicated only when one ponders on Guru's Shabad. The incomprehensible, and the limitless Waheguru is Great!! 6.

Word Meaning: Bunkay = impressive; beautiful. Loyin = eyes. Dunt = teeth. Reesaala = enjoying all tastes; healthy; beautiful. Lummrray Vaala = long attractive hair. Kunchun Kaaya = gold-like body (attractive and shiny). Dhaala = moulded. Krishan Maala = long, flower garland (like the one Vishnu used to wear). Jum Dooaar = at the door of the Angel of death. Sikh = advice. Muhaliyou = ladies. Huns = swan; a Gur Sikh. Hunsa = white. Bug = heron, an imposter. Bugga = white. Jaala = blinders. 7.

Chaal = gait. Soohaavi = pleasant; attractive. Mudhuraarri Bani = very sweet (like honey) language. Koohkun(i) = sing in a sweet voice. Kokila = a black songbird; a kind of cuckoo. Turl Jooani = non-serious; capricious youth. Ichh = wish; desire. Saarung = elephant. Pug = foot; step. Tthim(i) Tthim(i) = slow pace with conceit. Sundhooryay = adorn. Srirung = husband of Maya (Waheguru). Raati = imbued. Maati = intoxicated. Gunga Ooduk(u) = water of the Ganges (considered holy). 8.

MEANING: You have created human beings with beautiful eyes and with beautiful and healthy teeth, oh Waheguru. They have very nice noses and beautiful, long hair. Their bodies are beautiful and shiny (radiant) as if they have been moulded in gold. (But, as You are present in them, all their beautiful features are Yours as well). So, worship Waheguru, whose body has been moulded in gold, and who wears a long flower-garland around His neck, as Vishnu did, oh my friends. If you listen to this advice (of worshipping Waheguru), you will not have to queue up at the door of the Angel of death (will not have to appear before him as you will merge into Waheguru), oh ladies (human brides). By worshipping Waheguru, the blinders of the mind of a man are removed, and he can see the damaging effects of Maya clearly; and like a white heron (which is an imposter as it can be mistaken for a white swan from a distance), he can be transformed into a real swan (Gurmukh). In other words, a Maya-engrossed person who is disconnected from Waheguru (an imposter like a heron) can be transformed into a Gurmukh (like a swan, which is not deceitful). You have beautiful eyes and beautiful, healthy teeth, oh Waheguru. 7.

The gait of the human beings (women) created by You is very attractive, and they have a honey-like sweet language (since You are sitting in them, these attractive features are in fact Yours, oh Waheguru). Your nature is also very beautiful, in which the cuckoos sing in a sweet voice, and which is full of capricious youths. Waheguru, Himself, likes the capricious beauties, and He has fulfilled His own wish by creating them. He Himself adorns the beautiful damsels who walk majestically in small steps like a conceited elephant. On the other hand, the devotees of Waheguru are imbued with His love and roam intoxicated in it, their pure hearts like the water of the river Ganga, which the Hindus believe to be pure and holy. I, Nanak, humbly submit that Your gait is attractive, and Your language is sweet like honey, oh Waheguru. 8.2.

Ruliyaan Maanay = enjoys luxuries (blissfulness). Maati = intoxicated. Vukhaanaiy = says; recites. Kaamun(i) = woman. Liv = full concentration; devotion. Soobhaaya = with love. Seegaar = adornment. 3. Chull

Gur Kaiy Bhaayay = follow His Advice. Vur(u) = husband. Nij Ghur(i) = in own house (heart). Vaasa Paayay = mind stays peaceful (quits wandering). Vujaayay = plays the music (of Guru's Shabad). Ruliyaala = source of bliss. Jobun Baala = young and youthful. Mustik Bhaago = fortune on the forehead. 4.

MEANING: The human bride who has killed her worldly desires, and is imbued in the love of her Waheguru-Husband, earns praise everywhere, and with Guru's Shabad in mind, and with her love for Waheguru, she enjoys union with her dear Waheguru. Because of her love and devotion to her Waheguru-Husband, she is equally loved in return and adorned by Him with noble qualities. By killing her selfishness and her ego with Guru's Shabad, she stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. The human bride (devotee) who has adorned her life with noble qualities and is full of love for Waheguru is attracted to Him and is dear to Him. Waheguru connects such a devotee with Him whom He has adorned with noble qualities, oh Nanak. 1.

Believe that Waheguru is close to you, oh, the bride (devotee), lacking all the noble qualities. The devotees, who have enjoyed the company of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, find Him present everywhere. See the omnipresent Waheguru close to you, oh, the new devotee; He has been believed in, and is worshipped as the only supreme power in every eon. The devotee, who is child-like (pure-minded) and innocent, recites Waheguru's Naam in the blissful state and gets connected with Waheguru, who is the carver of our fates. The devotee, who recites Guru's Shabad with love and reverence, takes dips in the Waheguru's Naam-Pool (stays imbued in His love) all the time. Only that devotee is loved by Waheguru who sees the omnipresent Waheguru close to her with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 2.

Approach the human brides (devotees) who have overcome their worldly desires and have killed their selfishness and ego, to ask them (how they got bonded with Waheguru), oh, ignorant young devotee. Those who do not kill their selfishness and ego do not understand Waheguru's Huqam and invite spiritual death. But those devotees who get rid of their selfishness and ego enjoy blissfulness in Waheguru's love. They are always imbued with Waheguru's love and intoxicated by it; they attain a high spiritual state and recite His Naam all the time. That woman (human being) is highly fortunate who stays concentrated on Waheguru's Naam in His love. The devotee who adorns her soul with Waheguru's love is imbued with His love and attains the spiritual state beyond the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 3. Get rid of your selfishness and ego, and follow the Guru's Advice to lead your life, oh, ignorant woman; otherwise, you will be inviting spiritual death. If you kill your worldly desires, your mind will stay in its place (will quit wandering and become peaceful), and you will enjoy the union of your Waheguru-Husband. The devotee, who plays the music of Guru's Shabad in her mind (sings Waheguru's praise), gets control of her mind and stays married to her Waheguru-Husband all the time. Waheguru-Husband is always young and youthful, and is the source of all bliss; He adorns His devotees with noble qualities. The devotee, who has good fortune written on her forehead (most people believe that one's fortune is written on his forehead), is adorned with the eternal Shabad of the Guru, and acquires Waheguru as her husband (Lord). The woman (human bride) is imbued with Waheguru's love if she obeys the Guru's Advice, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Vapaar(u) = business; means of earning. Bhulaa = good; noble. Sehjay = uninfluenced by Maya. Laaha = (added) benefit. Raaveejaiy = recite God's Naam. Sungreh(i) = accumulate. Uvgun = bad qualities. Vikneh = to sell; to disown for good. Niraali = unique; different; tough (because one has to break the bonds of attraction of Maya). 1. Khayti = crop (of Waheguru's Naam). Jumaayay = grow. Ghur Undar(i) = in own mind. Bhoonch(u) = take in; enjoy. Perthaayay = in the next world. Vunuj(u) = trade. Trishna = desire more and more. Soobhaayay = with love. 2. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Munee = precious jewel. Nij = own. Baiyraago = detachment from Maya (and love for Waheguru). Buouraana = crazy. Soohaago = married; loved by husband. Bhuou Bhunjun(u) = destroyer of fear (Waheguru). 3. Vudiyaayi = praise; honour. Suvaarunhaara = one who adorns; one who enables to achieve the objective successfully. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (God). 4.

MEANING: Any business (to earn a living) is noble for a Gur Sikh if it is done without any influence of the attractions of Maya. One should recite Waheguru's Naam (keep Him in mind) all the time (no matter what business he is pursuing). The added benefit of keeping Waheguru in mind is that the individual enjoys the sweet taste of His Naam (and his spiritual level is raised). To have this additional benefit, one should worship Waheguru by reciting His Naam as a result of which, the devotee recognizes self, and accumulates noble qualities when his ignoble qualities are sold (gotten rid of) easily (without any special effort on his part because for the noble qualities to get in, the ignoble must be out. It was a huge blessing of the Guru that He imparted His Advice to me; now I am enjoying the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad. Waheguru's worship is unique (it detaches one from the effects of Maya), and only a rare devotee does it, oh Nanak. 1.

Like a famer seeds his field, the Sikh of the Guru sows the seed of Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and grows it in his body. One can enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in his own heart (mind), and get the benefit for the next world. To enshrine Waheguru's Naam in the heart is the best kind of farming or of business, and one also carries its benefit to the next world. One can recite Waheguru's Naam and enshrine it in his heart by pondering (and acting) on Guru's Shabad. The Maya-engrossed individuals exhaust themselves in farming or doing some other businesses to earn wealth, but their appetite to acquire more and more never gets satisfied. So, plant the seed of Waheguru's Naam in your mind with Guru's eternal Shabad with love, oh Nanak. 2.

Only those individuals who deal in the business of Waheguru's Naam get the jewel of their fortune to shine on their forehead. One's mind stays in itself (quits wandering and becomes peaceful) with Guru's Advice, and he severs all worldly bonds to foster love for Waheguru. Those devotees whose fate shines on their faces and foreheads become thoughtful, and, because of their love for Waheguru, they are imbued with His love. One can kill his selfishness and his ego with Guru's Shabad; without Waheguru's Naam, the whole world is going insane (for Maya). When a devotee begins to love and follow the Guru's eternal Shabad, she acquires new wisdom; and by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, she gets married to (united with) Waheguru. The devotee, whose fortune shines on her forehead, begins to recite Guru's Shabad, and realizes the destroyer of all fears –Waheguru - and enjoys union with Him, oh Nanak. 3.

Whatever means a man pursues to earn his living, he does so by Waheguru's Will; so, we should not complain about our situation in life; we should rather accept His Will gladly. One gets honoured in Waheguru's Court when he accepts Waheguru's Will (Huqam). However, one realizes Waheguru's Huqam only through the Advice of the Guru, who connects the devotee to Waheguru. When a devotee obeys the Huqam of the limitless Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad, he attains a high state of spirituality which is above the effects of Maya. Waheguru adorns the soul of His devotee with noble qualities when he seeks the Guru's advice, whereby the devotee earns an everlasting respect. When Waheguru connects a devotee with the Guru, he gets rid of his selfishness and ego in the Guru's shelter, who then connects the devotee with Waheguru. When one recites the Naam of the inaccessible, incomprehensible, and the omnipresent Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, he stays absorbed in Him with His Will, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = the eternal Waheguru. Samaal(i) = remember. Ghur(i) = home; heart. Poh(i) = come near; touch. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Joh(i) = watch closely; frighten. Ruhaayay = is stopped. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love for Maya. Vigooti = misled; suffer discomfiture. Mohi = captivated by. 1.
Nidhaan(u) = treasure (of Naam). Vust(u) = the (valuable) thing (Naam). Bhoonch(u) = enjoy. Nihaal(i) = feel blissful. Sukhaayee = friend. Giyan = Divine Knowledge; spirituality. Vihoonay = empty; devoid of. Khooyaayi = discomfiture; humiliation. Chootay = gets freedom. Baandhi = imprisoned. 2. Pdaaruth = valuable item (human life). Apaara = limitless Waheguru. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Suntaapaiy = suffers; causes discomfort. Sach(i) Shabad(i) = in praise of Waheguru. Adhikaayee = much. Maanus = human. Doolumbh(u) = not easily available. 3. Ram = Waheguru. Mun(u) Maareh(i) = kill desires of the mind. Baiyraagi = detached from Maya. Nihchul = stable; unwavering. Ut(i) Goohrri = deeply (in love). Sehjay = in the blissful state. Vukhaaniya = recited. Kaamun(i) Hitkaari = lovers of a woman. Moh(i) = attached to. Abhaagay = unfortunate. 4.

MEANING: Remember Waheguru (recite His Naam) all the time, as a result of which your mind will be peaceful, and the spiritual death will not even come near you, oh my friend. When you concentrate on Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru, the Angel of (spiritual) death will not be able to frighten you with his net. The birth-death cycle of the devotee whose mind is always imbued in Waheguru's Naam is terminated. But the individual who loves (is engrossed in) Maya suffers discomfiture and, captivated by its gimmicks, follows the path that leads to the Angel of Death. Remember Waheguru all the time, oh my mind, advises Nanak(u). 1.

The treasure of (Waheguru's Naam) is inside you, so do not search for this precious thing outside (of you), oh my mind. Take Guru's shelter, and enjoy (accept) Waheguru's Will gladly, as a result, you will be blessed with Waheguru's kind sight; He is your friend, and resides inside you, oh my mind. The followers of their mind are blind (unenlightened), are devoid of any spirituality, and suffer humiliation because of their love for Maya. Everybody is a prisoner of the Angel of (spiritual) death (because of their strong bonds with Maya), and nobody can get freedom from this prison without Waheguru's Naam. The treasure of Waheguru's Naam is inside you, so do not look for it outside of your mind (in forests, etc.), oh Nanak. 2.
Having taken birth in a precious human form, some people get into the business of worshipping Waheguru, and serve their Satguru with the Shabad of praise of Waheguru, oh my mind. With love for Waheguru's Naam, and with the Shabad of His praise in their heart, they feel as if they have acquired all the nine mythical treasures. On the other hand, the followers of their mind suffer deeply because of their love for Maya, and lose their respect (suffer humiliation). But the devotees, who kill their selfishness and ego, are absorbed in Waheguru's praise, and stay deeply imbued in His love. Satguru has given the clear understanding that human life is not readily available (so recite Waheguru's Naam to connect with Him in this life), oh Nanak. 3.
Those are highly fortunate who serve their Satguru; and those who kill their worldly desires are fully detached from Maya (and love Waheguru), oh my mind. Those devotees are really detached from Maya, who concentrate on Waheguru's Naam and recognize the self (realize the objective of human life). They have unwavering mind (wisdom) and a deep love for Waheguru; they recite Waheguru's Naam and achieve the blissful spiritual state in the shelter of the Guru. But many just love women, find Maya very attractive, and are strongly attached to it; such followers of their mind are unlucky, spending their lives in ignorance (unaware of the consequences of such a lifestyle). Those who serve their Guru with an unwavering mind (with full devotion) are highly lucky, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ruttan Pdaaruth = jewel-like valuable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Vunjiyeh(i) = deal in. Goon = noble qualities (Waheguru's praise). Laaha = benefit. Gooni = the source of noble qualities (Waheguru). Smaayee = gets absorbed. Adhaaray = is the support. Vukkhur = merchandize. Ait(u) = this. 1. Khota = dishonest; unrewarding. Vapaara = business. Koorr(u) = lies. Vikaara = vices; immoral acts. Sehsa = worrisome. Vaad(u) Vukhaaneh(i) = quarrelsome debates. Chookay = ends. 2. Khuray = pure. Perkhiun(i) = are tested. Tit(u) = His. Soottiun(i) = are thrown away; rejected. Oobhay = standing; in suffering. Moogudh = foolish. Guvaara = crude. Bhaaya = like. Khuttay = earn. 3. Aap(i) = (Waheguru) Himself. Laayaysi = puts (in that business). Vudiyayee = greatness; wish. Vuriyaam(u) = gallant; brave. Phoosi = weak. Kerm(i) Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Bukhshay = forgives; bestows. Put(i) = respect. 4.

MEANING: The Satguru has explained that one should deal in the precious Waheguru's Naam in human life, oh man. By acquiring noble qualities (singing praise of Waheguru), one earns the benefit of His worship, and as a consequence, one gets absorbed in (gets connected with) Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities. But only that devotee gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam whom He exhorts (gives the wisdom); that devotee earns the benefit of (is gifted with) His worship in this world (and he carries the benefit to the next world as well), and with Guru's wisdom (Advice), he makes Waheguru's Naam to be the basis of his life. There is no comfort in life without Waheguru's Naam; one loses his respect (suffers humiliation) because of his love for Maya. The merchandize of Waheguru's Naam is always beneficial, but one gets into this business only when Waheguru puts him into it. One deals in Waheguru's precious Naam when Satguru endows him with the wisdom. 1.

On the other hand, love for Maya is an unrewarding business and causes trouble because one tells lies, gets caught up in the poisonous enjoyment of short-lived pleasures, and their immoral activities increase all the time. With the increased vices, the man suffers from worries and loses his respect without Waheguru's Naam (which imparts noble qualities). The pundits (learned people) study the religious books but only to take part in aggressive debates; they cannot enjoy comfort without understanding spirituality (without praising Waheguru). The greed for more wealth is dear to them, as a result of which, the cycle of births and deaths never ends for them. The love for Maya is always troublesome, and it is an unrewarding business. 2.

All, the pure (noble), and the impure (ignoble) are tested in the Court of Waheguru, and the impure are thrown out (punished for their ignoble deeds). Suffering badly, they cry for help. The foolish and ignorant suffer and cry for help; the Maya-engrossed people waste away their precious human life. Maya is a poison which has misguided the whole world, and the Maya-engrossed people do not like Waheguru's Naam. The followers of their mind harbour enmity for the holy saints and invite trouble. The noble and the ignoble are all tested in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Waheguru does everything on His own (He makes His own decisions without any external assistance); so, whom we can complain to; there is nothing we can do (except to obey His Will), oh man. He puts people in the business of His choice (as He wishes or as per His Laws); there is no valiant or weak person on his own. Waheguru is the source of life for everybody, and is the carver of our fates; He, Himself forgives people or endows them with necessities of life (fulfills their wishes). When one gets rid of his selfishness and his ego, he earns respect with the benevolence of the Guru, oh Nanak. Waheguru does everything on His own, and there is none whom we can complain to; also, there is nothing we can do about that. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Sauda = merchandize. Sacha = everlasting wealth. Vunjiyaiy = deal in. Moal(u) = price. Afaara = extremely high. 1. Bhureejaiy = accumulates; fills up. Bheejaiy = melts; overwhelms with love. Beechaaari = ponders on. Khoohta = well; deep pit. Punihaari = who draws water from a well. Ruveejaiy = recites (Naam). 2. Pundit = learned man. Joatki = fortune tellers. Mul(u) = filth. Aavun(i), Jaan(i) = in taking birth, and dying. Bikh(u) = poison (sensual pleasures). Bishta = feces; vices; immoral acts. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (by Waheguru). Kmaavaiy = performs the same deeds. 3. Soodh(i) = consciousness. Suvaarunhaara = one who adorns; causes tasks to be completed successfully. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the true (most worthy) merchandize, and is the best business which is the everlasting possession for man. Waheguru's Naam is priceless, and one can deal in (acquire) His Naam with the wisdom imparted by the Guru (by following His Advice) only. Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam, which is priceless and is the worthiest business, are very fortunate. They are always imbued inside and outside in Waheguru's worship, and are fully focused on His Naam. But only those acquire Waheguru's Naam (get connected with Him) who ponder on (act on) Guru's Shabad with the kind sight of Waheguru. Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam and are imbued in it enjoy the real bliss, oh Nanak. 1. Attraction for Maya, and one's selfishness and ego, are huge sources of mental filth, and the man keeps accumulating it. But, with the Advice of the Guru, one's mind is purified, and he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with his tongue (enjoys its recitation). With Guru's Shabad in praise of God, one becomes thoughtful, his mind gets overwhelmed with his love for Waheguru, and he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with his tongue (recites His Naam). Man's mind is like a well which contains Amrit (Waheguru's Naam), (but it lies deep down and is not easily available), but like a woman who knows how to draw water from the well, the devotee extracts and drinks the Naam-Amrit with the Shabad of the Guru. Only those who deal in Waheguru's Naam and recite it with the tongue on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight. Those who are imbued in the Naam are pure (pious), the others accumulate filth of haumein, oh Nanak. 2.

The learned men and the fortune-tellers study their respective books, and preach the masses loudly (about the ill-effects of Maya); but themselves have the filth of their love for Maya. All their preaching is about the business of Maya, so who are they preaching to? They find the world to be attractive, and all their dealings are about Maya, as a result of which they suffer in the birth-death-birth cycle. They are worms of sensual pleasures and pursue them; and like a worm of feces, which always stays there, they stay engrossed in immoral activities. But they are not to be fully blamed because they are pursuing only those activities for which they are preprogrammed by Waheguru – the activities based on their character built over their previous lives- and nobody can erase this character of theirs (except for the Guru). Only those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam enjoy bliss, while the foolish and the crude die while preaching to others loudly, oh Nanak. 3.

Man's mind is dyed with the greed of Maya, and in his greed, he has no consciousness of spirituality (cannot tell moral from the immoral). But, if one dyes his mind (with love for Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of the Guru, his love for Maya is eradicated. When one becomes fully absorbed in God, his love for Maya disappears, and he realizes that all the treasures of the world are filled by Him (He is the only provider, and even Maya is created by Him). The devotee realizes this in the shelter of the Guru, and adorns his life (with noble qualities) by getting absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. But only that individual is connected with Waheguru, to whom He connects Himself; nothing else can be said about it (no other approach works to connect the devotee with God). The world is misled in misgivings without Waheguru's Naam, but there are some who have dyed their minds with Waheguru's love, and stay absorbed in His love, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Aavagaun(u) = subject to birth and death. Nibayrra = final decision; end Phayra = return; rebirth. Sehjay = in blissful spiritual state. Bhaaya = liked. Bhuvjul(i) = in the world-sea. 1. Burl(u) = fit of foolishness; loss of self-control. Khoovaayi = discomfiture; humiliation. Hayt(u) = love; attachment. Pulchaayee = confused. Poorb(i) Kmaayee = result of the deeds done earlier (including in previous lives). Mayt(u) = erase; undo. Srisht(i) = world. Tup(i) Tup(i) Khupaiy = suffers in irritation. Bhoolla = misled. 2. Julta = burning with frustration over unfulfilled desires. Vudaayi = respect. Daata = provider. Jaata = acknowledged (as being Supreme). Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. 3. Oopjaiy = sprouts; flourishes. Bhaayee = liked. Soobhaakhiya = recites (Waheguru's Naam) with love and respect. Ghur(i) = home; heart. Nij = own; personal. Mut(i) = wisdom; thinking. Pervaan(u) = approved. 4.

MEANING: The world is based on a birth-death-birth cycle, which ends only when one gets connected with Waheguru, oh my mind. The eternal Waheguru forgives some people with His own Will who do not fall in the birth-death cycle again. When the birth-death cycle of a devotee is broken in the shelter of the Guru, he is honoured in Waheguru's Court as he merges into Him. The devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru's love, feel intoxicated in the blissful spiritual state and stay fully absorbed in Him. They like Waheguru by mind, and enshrine Him (His Naam) in their heart, and their birth-death cycle comes to an end as they are imbued in Guru's Shabad. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's Naam remain connected to Waheguru and never take birth again in this world. 1.

The love for Maya is a fit of foolishness in which the man loses his self-control and suffers humiliation. There is love for one's parents in his mind, and he becomes confused by it (his vision blurs). But, man's confusion due to his love for his parents (connection with them) is the result of (is based on) his deeds in his previous lives, which cannot be erased by anyone (except for the Guru). The Creator of the world watches all this, and there is no one else as great. The Maya-engrossed individual is blind (to the reality of Waheguru), and suffers due to his ongoing irritation or frustration (for being unable to achieve his worldly objectives); he cannot have peace without Guru's Shabad. Without Waheguru's Naam, everyone is misled from the path of righteousness and suffers humiliation because of his love for Maya, oh Nanak. 2.

On seeing the world burning in the fire of their unfulfilled desires, I rushed to Waheguru for shelter, and prayed to the Perfect Guru to save my honour and sustain my dignity (save me from the attacks of Maya). It is Your greatness that You protect the dignity of the people who come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. There is none other as great as You are as the provider. Those are highly fortunate who come to serve Wahegutu who is recognized as the only Supreme Being, in every eon. No matter how many religious rituals one performs, and how much effort one puts into staying celibate, maintaining high character (or serving others), one cannot attain a high spiritual state without the Guru. Waheguru gives the wisdom to understand the importance of the Guru's Shabad to those who come to His shelter, oh Nanak. 3.

Only that wisdom flourishes (is acquired) which Waheguru gives to people; no other wisdom affects the individuals (they develop only that character which they are destined for), oh my friends. Waheguru is present inside and outside of us; He gives us the wisdom (character) (based on our previous deeds). He is the only one who gives wisdom that the people operate with; they cannot acquire any other wisdom. Individuals enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Such devotees sing Waheguru's praise all the time, and are treated as a part of Him (are fully enlightened) in His Court. The individual, who is honoured by Satgur(u) realizes Waheguru in his heart. Only those devotees reach Waheguru's Palace (get connected with Him) who are imbued in His Naam, and only their wisdom (character) is approved by Him, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Ram = Waheguru. Visaarunhaara = remover (eradicator) of all suffering. Dershun(u) = sight. Sersay = fills with sweetness; feels blissful. Drirraayay = reinforce.

Vigsay = hearts bloom. Kumul = lotus; heart. Pergaasay = enlightens; blooms. Nuvnidh(i) = the nine treasures (a Hindu belief). Laatha = came off; got removed. Sehj(i) = in the state of a peaceful mind. Vudaayee = honour. Dayv = God-like; source of light. Persay = by touching. 1 & 2.
Aan(i) = to bring. Poora = Perfect. Baiyraag(u) = detachment from the world (and deep love for Waheguru) Baiyraagi = the individual who feels baiyraag. Dhoora = dust of the feet (opportunity to serve). Jayvud = as great. Daata = provider; Lord. Daano = donation. Sayvuk Bhaayay = with the sentiment (love; reverence) of a devotee. Purakh = Waheguru like. 3 & 4.
MEANING: My Satguru has implanted love for Waheguru, and has caused His Naam to be enshrined in my heart, oh my mind. My Satguru, who has planted Waheguru's Naam in my mind, which destroys all suffering, is great and worthy of worship. But, only some highly fortunate people get His holy sight (get connected with Him). Serve the Satguru whether you are standing or sitting (meaning all the time) because your mind acquires peace when you serve Him. The Satguru has implanted love for Waheguru in me, oh my mind. 1.
I survive by having the holy sight of my Satguru (by serving Him and obeying His Advice) whereby my whole body is filled with sweetness (I feel blissful), oh Waheguru. My Satguru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in my mind, the recitation of which causes my mind to bloom. My mind is enlightened, my heart blooms when I recite Waheguru's Naam (sing His praise), and I feel as if I have realized all the nine treasures of the world. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam has eradicated the damaging illness of my selfishness and my ego, and has caused me to attain, and to stay in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Waheguru's Naam is a great honour for me, which has been bestowed upon me by my Satguru; I feel blissful to touch the Feet of my God-like Satguru (to show my reverence for Him). I survive by having a holy sight of my Satguru, whereby my mind begins to bloom. 2.
I will cut my body into pieces and offer it along with my mind to the holy saint who would narrate the Words of the Perfect Satguru to me, and bring Him to me (take me to the Satguru), and connect me with Him. My mind feels fully detached from worldly attractions and has a deep love for my Satguru; I feel blissful at the sight of His holy form. Please, be kind to me, and grant me the dust of the feet of my Satguru (opportunity to serve Him), oh my Waheguru. I wish someone had connected me with my Satguru. 3.
There is no other provider (Lord) as great as my Satguru. My Satguru is a manifestation of God and bestows the supreme gift of the Naam of Waheguru, who is above the effects of Maya. The suffering, the misgivings, and the worldly fears of the individuals who recite Waheguru's Naam get eradicated. The devotees, who foster love for the Feet of the Guru (for His Shabad), are highly fortunate, for they connect with Waheguru with the spirit of a devotional slave (devotee). Waheguru Himself connects such a devotee with the Satguru (His own manifestation), and the devotee attains a high degree of bliss. There is no other provider (Lord) as great as the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Khuree = very much. Nimaani = sad; depressed. Jugjeevun = the (basis of) life; Waheguru. Smaani = absorbed (in Waheguru's Naam). Kaarun(i) = for. Dhoondh(i) Dhoondayndi = searching for. Sujjun = friend. Drisht(i) = kind sight. Jaata = realized. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. Puchhaani = recognized. 1. Surayveh = worshipped; served. Untarjaami = omniscient. Sherdha = respectful (reverent) wish. Poor(i) = fulfil. Raaya = Royal. 2. Vaari = be a sacrifice. Adhaaray = support. Sukhaayee = friend. Nimukh = a short moment. Suvaaray = beautifies with noble qualities. 3.

Purakh(u) = omnipresent (Waheguru). Nirunjun = unaffected by Maya. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Luyya Na Jaayee = cannot be acquired. Chuturaayee = cleverness. 4.

MEANING: I feel very depressed without my Guru. With Waheguru's grace, which is the basis of life for the whole world, I have been connected to the Guru by whose kindness I have been absorbed in Waheguru's Naam now. With Satguru's grace, I have been absorbed in Waheguru, and I have found the (Waheguru) friend whom I have been looking for (everywhere), in my own heart now. I recognized the "One" omnipresent Waheguru at first sight. I feel very depressed without my Satguru. 1.

The devotees, who are connected with the Guru (who have enshrined the Guru's Word in their hearts) by God's grace, are connected with Waheguru by the kindness of the Guru. I would drop on the feet of such devotees, and worship them (serve the devotees). I wish to worship the feet of the devotees (serve them) who have worshipped Satguru (enshrined His Word in heart), oh Waheguru. You are the greatest donor (Lord) and omniscient, please fulfil my respectful wish, oh, the majestic God. My reverent wish was fulfilled when I sang praise of Waheguru in the company of the Sikhs of the Guru. Waheguru connected me with the Sikhs of the Guru by whose kindness I was connected with Waheguru. 2.

I am a sacrifice for my dear Gur Sikh friends who recite Waheguru's Naam for me to listen - which is the basis of my life. Waheguru's Naam is the friend of my soul (basis of my life), without which I cannot survive even for a short moment. With the kindness of Waheguru, which is the source of all comfort, I drink the Naam-Amrit in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru Himself evokes His love in the heart of his devotee and adorns him with noble qualities. I am a sacrifice for my dear Gur Sikh friends. 3. Waheguru is omnipresent and is above the effects of Maya. He Himself connects His devotees with Him, and only that happens that He wishes, and nothing can be done against that. Many people have tried many forms of their cunning, but Waheguru cannot be pleased with any such wisdom. With Guru's grace, I have realized that there is no one other like Waheguru. He is the only one who is omnipresent and unaffected by Maya. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Bhaaya = like. Timmer = darkness. Ugiyaan(u) = lack of Knowledge; ignorance. Unjun = kohl (used to improve eyesight). Binaasay = eradicated. Perm Pud = highest spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Giraasay = bite of food. Sukhaayee = close friend. Drirraaya = reinforced. Kluttar(u) = wife. Tithaiy = there. Purakh Nirunjun(u) = (manifestation of the) omnipresent and unaffected by Maya (Waheguru). 1 & 2.

Nihful(u) = worthless = Birtha. Shaakut = Maya-engrossed. Jhooray = repenting. Ruttan Pdaaruth(u) = priceless item (Waheguru's Naam). Hur(i) Hur(i) = for God's sake. Chaatrik = rainbird; a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Deen = poor; humble. Sutee = eternal. 3 & 4.

MEANING: I like (love) the Feet of my Satguru (His Shabad, and I wish to serve Him), so kindly connect me with Him, oh Waheguru. The Guru has injected the kohl of Divine Knowledge into my mind (to enlighten it, as kohl improves human eyesight), so that the darkness of my ignorance has disappeared. I recited Waheguru's Naam with every breath and every bite and attained the highest spiritual level by serving the Guru. But only those devotees get to serve the Guru whom Waheguru is kind to. I love the Feet of my Satguru, so connect me with Him, oh Waheguru. 1.

My Satguru is very dear to me, and I cannot live without Him. He implanted Waheguru's Naam in my heart, which will be my friend even at the time of my death. My Satguru has reinforced the Naam in my heart. Where there is no friend, not even your son or your wife, Waheguru's Naam gets you free from the claws of the Angel of death (from any punishment). My Satguru is very dear to me, and I cannot live without Him. 2.

Those who did not get a sight of Satguru (did not connect with Him) wasted away their precious human life. The Maya-engrossed people do not connect with Satguru (seek His shelter), and die in suffering, and repenting. Such people are unfortunate and remain hungry (devoid) of the precious Naam of Waheguru, even though it is always in their hearts. They believe Waheguru to be far away somewhere. For God's sake, do not go even near those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam, and who have not had a sight (do not seek shelter) of the Satguru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru. 3.

I am humble and poor, but long for Your sight just as a rainbird longs for the first drop of rain; I request You to please, connect me with the dear Satguru in whose shelter I wish to worship You, oh Waheguru. I can worship Waheguru and the Satguru only when Waheguru is kind to me. I have no other real friend than my Satguru, which is the basis of my life. My Satguru has reinforced the Naam of the eternal Waheguru in my mind. I am humble and poor, and like a rainbird, which longs for the first drop of rain, I long for Your Naam. I wish to make a request to Waheguru to connect me with Satguru, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Sookh-Daata = source of all comfort. Paayay Lugeh = drop at the feet. Punth = path (of high morality). Sumut(u) = the same; make no distinction. 1.
Binsay = eradicated. Paapa = sins. Luthiurray = came off; removed. Nivaaray = removed; eradicated. Khurrug(u) = sword. Kunkur = assistants. Bidaaray = destroyed. 2.
Bhaaya = liked. Gurmukh(i) = following Guru's Advice. Aroagut = healthy. Sehj = spiritual state of blissfulness. Smaadh(i) = settled in meditation. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheera = never changing; unaffected by any emotion. Ajaat(i) = low caste. 3.
Dhaarhou = adopt; show. Oobaaray = salvage. Nirgoon = without any good quality. Daiyaal = benevolent. Shernaaya = shelter. Dookh-Bhujun = destroyer of all suffering. Paathur = stone; heavily loaded with sins. Bhayt(i) = connect. Rus = sweet taste. Oodhaaray = salvage. 4.

MEANING: Please be kind and connect me with my Satguru, who is the source of all comforts, oh my Waheguru. I will ask my Satguru about the countless virtues of Waheguru. I will ask my Satguru - who has realized the precious Naam of Waheguru - about the path which leads to union with Waheguru. I took shelter of Satguru's Feet (His Shabad), who has realized Waheguru, and who, at my daily request, explained the path to connect with Waheguru. My Satguru explained to me that an individual is a true devotee of Waheguru only if he remains stoic (accepts suffering and comforts it the same way) and remains imbued in Waheguru's Naam. Please be kind to me and connect me with Satguru, the source of all comforts, oh Waheguru. 1.

All my sins due to my selfishness and ego were eradicated when I listened to Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, I have been able to eradicate all my suffering in the world. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam get their suffering and sins eradicated. Satguru gives the sword of Divine Knowledge to the devotees who kill and destroy the assistants of the Angel of spiritual death (they do not suffer from the fear of death). With the benevolence of the source of all comforts, Waheguru, all my troubles and suffering have been eradicated. 2.

By reciting it over and over again, I came to love Waheguru's Naam in my mind, and by reciting it with my tongue in the shelter of the Guru, I was able to get rid of all my illnesses. I got rid of all my illnesses (mental and physical), and I became perfectly healthy when I worshipped Waheguru in the company (shelter) of my Guru. I always remained in a high spiritual state during my meditation and recited the Naam of the unfathomable, never-changing Waheguru. Whosoever recites Waheguru's Naam with devotion, attains the highest spiritual state regardless of the fact whether he belongs to a high or to a low caste. By reciting it over and over, I came to love Waheguru's Naam. 3.

Please be kind and salvage me, oh Waheguru. I am a great sinner, have no noble quality, and yet am a humble servant of Yours. I am a sinner, have no noble quality, and am weak, but You are kind; I have come to Your shelter. You are the source of all comforts, and the destroyer of all suffering; I am loaded heavily with sins (and like a rock, will drown in the world sea); I can be afloat and swim across only if You support me, oh Waheguru. I acquired the bliss of the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam only after I got connected with Satguru, and this slave of Waheguru has been salvaged because of His Naam. Please, be kind to me and rescue me with Your kindness. 4.4.

Kirt(u) Joorrunda = accumulated deeds. Dayhurri = beautified human body. Permanunda = source of supreme bliss = God. Ruchaaya = initiated. Pooraiy = perfect; omnipresent. Junj = marriage party. Vur(u) = husband. Mungul(u) = joy. Vudhaayee = blissfulness. 4.

NOTE: It is a very popular and essential custom in India for a groom to ride a ghorri (a female horse) to his bride's home to marry her. (Even though horses have been replaced with cars or other types of vehicles now) The ceremony of riding a horse by the groom is still an integral part of the marriage ceremony. Special songs, called "Ghorriyaan" are also sung at this ceremony in a special tune.

In Sikhism, the human beings are all considered as the brides of Waheguru who is considered to be the only male (Lord) in the universe. The objective of human life is to get married to Waheguru (achieve union with Him). That is why this world has been called as the paternal home and the next world as the in-laws' house in Sri Guru Granth Sahib. There are many holy Shabads in Sri Guru Granth Sahib that highlight this relationship.

Death has also been considered the bride of the valiant in Indian culture. In either case, human beings marry either Waheguru or death; so they have to ride some kind of horse to get married. Guru Ram Dass Ji has very appropriately used mare as a metaphor for human body which he must ride to go to its in-laws. Guru Sahib has written two holy Chhunts on this important subject, and He has also named them "Ghorriyaan" Also, He has written them in such a way that they can be sung with the same tune as the traditional songs.

The mare the groom rides is adorned as much as people can afford. Similarly, the human body, to be used as the mare to ride to have union with Waheguru, must be adorned (with noble qualities). Guru Sahib has done an amazing job in making the comparison of human body with the horse, and how to adorn the human body with noble qualities to have union with God.

Enjoy the holy Shabads.

MEANING: The human body is like a mare which has been created by God, oh Waheguru. The human form is great (because one can unite with Waheguru only in the human form), which one acquires because of his noble deeds done in his previous lives. One acquires the human form with great fortune, but only that individual makes his body (life) pure like gold who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and dyes his mind with the deep and new colour of his love for Waheguru. The human body is beautiful because it is only with the human body that one can recite Waheguru's Naam – the Naam which makes it very attractive (pure). Waheguru's Naam is the best friend of man, and Waheguru gives the human body to the soul that has performed noble deeds in its previous lives, oh Nanak. 1.

After understanding Waheguru's virtues, I saddle my body-mare with such noble qualities, and ride the adorned horse to swim across the tough world-sea. The sea of Maya (world-sea) has countless attractive waves that captivate the man (and keep him trapped in there); so, one can swim across the world-sea only in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru (Guru's Shabad) is the ship to go across the world-sea, which is steered by the Guru. So, to get on to the Waheguru-Ship, one must sing Waheguru's praise day and night and dye one's mind in the love of the colourful Waheguru. (By singing Waheguru's praise) I have acquired the supreme state of spirituality, which is above the effects of Maya, and is liked by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

A bridle is used in the mouth of the horse to control it; I have used Guru's Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) on my tongue, and reinforced it all the time to control my body (and mind). A whip is used to move a horse. I use my love for Waheguru as the whip to motivate my tongue if it does not recite Waheguru's Naam. I listen to the words in praise of Waheguru as spoken by the Guru with my ears, and I dye my mind-mare with the love of Waheguru. Riding such an adorned body-mare, I can travel on the extremely difficult journey of life (in which there are so many barriers of sensual pleasures), oh Nanak. 3.

The human body is like a horse created by Waheguru. That mare is great and worthy of praise, with which the man can recite Waheguru's Naam. The human body is praiseworthy and deserves accolades because it is only in the human form that one can recite Waheguru's Naam, and it is given to the man because of the accumulated noble deeds of his previous lives. Adorn your body-mare with noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru so as to get across the very difficult world sea, and merge into Waheguru, which is the source of supreme bliss, oh my friends. Waheguru, Himself, initiates the blissful task of the marriage of His devotee with Him in which the holy saints join as the members of the marriage party. With the support of the holy saints, the human bride (the devotee) acquires Waheguru as her husband and feels blissful at heart, oh Nanak. 4.1.5.

Word Meaning: Gur Giyan = Guru's Advice. Mungi = begs for. Kutha Chungi = praise of Waheguru. Gut(i) Mit(i) = transcendence. Sufliyo = successful. Vukhaaniya = described; sang. Chungeeya = rewarding. 1. Jeen(u) = saddle. Soovinna = of gold. Jurr(i) = inlay. Ruttana = collection of jewels. Ghunay = immense. Untarjaami = know-all; omniscient. Naam Jaanaiy = makes close connection with Waheguru. 2. Kurriyaal = bridle. Ankus(u) = ankus; the sharp tool used to control an elephant. Maiygul(u) = elephant. Vus(i) = in control. Perm Pud(u) = supreme spiritual state. Dhun = woman. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Sayti = with. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Sehjay Maati = intoxicated in the blissful state. Sohaiy = looks good (attractive). Jun = devotee. 3. Mungul(u) = song of joy. Sayvki = with the sentiment of service. Rung Mehleen = the place of blissfulness (Waheguru's presence). Soobhaayay = with deep love. 4.

MEANING: That mare-like human body is great, which is dyed with the fresh love for God, and which begs the Guru for spiritual knowledge, oh Waheguru. That horse-like human body is successful, which begs for Guru's wisdom and for Waheguru's praise with which it tries to comprehend the transcendental state of Waheguru. Waheguru makes that human body successful (it achieves its purpose of union with God) which recites Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's devotees beg for Waheguru's Naam to sing His praise and for His worship. I ask the holy saints to remember that Waheguru's worship is the most rewarding, oh Nanak. 1.

That human-mare is pure like gold and has a saddle of gold (noble qualities) which is inlaid with the jewels of Waheguru's Naam. With such a human body (full of noble qualities), one achieves a priceless union with Waheguru, a source of immense comfort. Some lucky devotees recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and imbued in His love, they become like Waheguru. A devotee, who makes a close connection with Waheguru, and recites and begs for His Naam, becomes a part of Waheguru, which is omnipresent, and is always in new colours (in new spirits and stays young), oh Nanak. 2.

Just like a bridle is used in the mouth of the horse, and just like an ankus is used on the head of an elephant to control him, Guru's Shabad on the tongue controls one's mind. The human mind is like an uncontrolled elephant, which is controlled by the Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. A devotee, who attains the highest spiritual state by controlling her mind, is loved by the Waheguru, Husband. She has love for Waheguru in her mind, and she looks attractive (dignified) in Waheguru's Court. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, she remains imbued with Waheguru's love, feels intoxicated with the blissful spiritual state, and becomes united with Him. But only a few fortunate people recite Waheguru's Naam, submits Nanak, a slave of Waheguru. 3.

Only that mare (human body) is successful which sings praise of Waheguru in Guru's shelter and gets connected with Waheguru. Such a devotee sings the blissful praise of Waheguru with the sentiment of a devout servant, and reaches the Palace of Waheguru, which is the source of maximum enjoyment, and she enjoys union with Him. With his heart full of love for Waheguru, she recites His Naam and sings His praise with Guru's Advice. With Waheguru's grace, and with the body adorned with virtues like an adorned mare, the devotee rides her body-mare to reach Waheguru's Palace, oh Nanak. 4.2.6.

Word Meaning: Luddha = found; made connection. Ji = oh, dear. Vaaro Vaara = continuously (offering as sacrificial). Bhuvjul = the world sea. Kaan(i) = subservience; any owing; indebtedness. Jumaani = of the Angel of death. Usthir Theeya = (mind) became peaceful (quit wavering). Aavun Jaani = rebirths. Ghur(i) = spiritual state. Smudha = in meditation. Adhaara = support; basis. Maanay = enjoys. Ruleeyaan = (spiritual) pleasures. Numuskaara = bowing to; hail (the Guru). 1. Meindrray = mine. Meeta = friend. Shabad = Waheguru's praise. Mungul(u) = providing bliss (praise of God). Chookay = removed; eradicated. Undaysa = doubts; worries. Baiysa = sitting; accompanies. Bhaana = liked. Maana = pride. 2. Triput(i) Aghaayay = fully contented. Tthundha = cool; calm; peaceful. Trishun = hunger for luxuries. Boojhaayay = quenches. Dunjha = strong desire. Khujaana = treasure. Bhoonchun = use; enjoy. Nirbhuou = fearless. Khusum = Lord. Traas = fear. Liv Laayay = with full concentration (devotion). 3.
Aasa = hope. Munsa = wish; desire. Kit(u) = with what; how? Uvgoon = bad qualities. Bhukhsh Leeya = forgave. Khin Maahi = in a moment. Nau Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Vadhaayee = happiness. Vaajay = play. Unhud = auto-playing; uniform. Tooray = musical instruments. Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). Ghur(i) = in my own heart. Laathay = came off; removed. Visooray = worries. 4.

MEANING: I realized the dear Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and offered my body and my mind to Him with the spirit of sacrificing them for Him with the result that I have conquered the world-sea (have overcome all my desires), and any indebtedness to the Angel of death (for my ignoble deeds) has been paid off, oh God. I have taken the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, and my mind has become peaceful (it has quit wandering), and my birth and death cycle is over now (I will not be reborn). Waheguru's Naam has become the basis of my life, and I have realized the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and I stay focussed on Waheguru's Naam now. I bow to my Guru Ji, whose grace enables me to now enjoy spiritual pleasures, oh Nanak. 1.

I want my dear friends and pals to know that it is the Guru who gives the Mantra to sing in praise of the eternal Waheguru. All my doubts and worries have been removed since I began to recite Guru's Shabad and sing Waheguru's praise. Now, I have realized Waheguru, which is always with me and never leaves me for somewhere else. Waheguru's liking for you is the true honour for you. Waheguru bestows His Naam-wealth to the devotee because of which the devotee attains the state of spiritual bliss. I am a sacrifice to the devotee who disseminates Waheguru's Naam to everybody, oh Nanak. 2.

When You wish (become kind to a devotee), he gets fully contented (is left with no worldly desires); his mind becomes peaceful (quits wandering), and the fire of his strong desires is completely put out, oh Waheguru. He feels blissful and feels as if he has acquired a huge treasure. It all happens because of the grace of the Guru that all the Sikhs and the devotees begin to enjoy the treasure of Waheguru's Naam. I am a sacrifice to my Guru. When a devotee gets imbued with the love for the Lord, he becomes completely fearless, and is not afraid of the Angel of death (because a holy devotee feels totally disinterested in worldly pleasures as a consequence, he will not commit any immoral or sinful act). I, Nanak, wish to stay connected to You all the time, serve You as a slave, and worship You with full dedication, oh Lord. 3.

You are full of noble qualities, whereas I possess no good qualities at all; yet You have kindly fulfilled all my hopes and wishes, oh Waheguru. Because I have no good quality, I do not know with what face I can sing Your praise. But, disregarding all my merits and demerits, You forgave me in a short moment. Now, I feel blissful and joyful at heart, as if I have acquired all the nine mythical treasures of the world, and also feel as if automated musical instruments are playing sweet music in my mind. I am lucky to say that I have realized my Waheguru-Husband in my heart, and all my worries have been eradicated, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Sloak(u): Kiyya soonayndo koorr(u), vunjun(i) puvun jhoolaariya. Nanak sooniur tay pervaan(u), jo soonaynday Sach(u) Dhunee. 1.

Word Meaning: Soonayndo = (you) listen to. Koorr(u) = lies; short-living comforts. Vunjun(i) = go away, leave. Puvun Jhoolaariya = whirlwinds. Sooniur = ears.
MEANING: What are you listening about the short-lived gimmicks of Maya, oh my friend? Do not you realize that just like whirlwinds, they disappear quickly? Only those ears are approved (are honoured) which listen to the praise of the Lord, Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.
Chhunt(u): Tin ghoal ghoomaayee, jinh Prubh(u) servuni sooniya Ram. Say sehj(i) soohaylay, jinh Hur(i), Hur(i) rusna bhuniya, Ram. Say sehj(i) soohaylay, goonah amoalay, jugut oodhaarun aayay. Kuhou Nanak, tis(u) ghoal ghoomaayee, jin(i) Prubh(u) servuni sooniya. 1.
Word Meaning: Ghoal Ghoomaayee = offer to sacrifice. Servuni = (with) ears. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. Soohaylay = enjoy comfort. Rusna = tongue. Bhunniya = recited. Goonah Amoaly = of priceless qualities. Oodhaarun = to salvage. Bohith = ship. Kaytay = many. Laykha Na Gunniya = kept no account (of deeds). 1.
MEANING: I will gladly sacrifice my life for those devotees who listen to Waheguru's Naam with their ears. They enjoy the comfort of the blissful spiritual state by reciting Waheguru's Naam with their tongue. Such devotees acquire priceless noble qualities and enjoy the blissful spiritual state; they come to the world to salvage people. The world-sea is very frightening, but Waheguru's Feet are (His Naam is) the ship which ferries countless people across the sea. No account of the deeds of the devotees is kept whom Waheguru becomes kind to. I am all sacrifice for the devotees who listen to Waheguru's Naam with their ears, oh Nanak. 1.
Sloak(u): Loyin loyee ditth, piyaas na boojhaiy moo ghunee. Nanak, say ukkhrriyaan biyunn(i), jinhi disundo ma Piree. 1.
Word Meaning: Loyin = eyes. Loyee = the world. Ditth = see. Piyaas = thirst (of desies). Moo = mine. Ghunee = immense. Biyunn(i) = different. Disundo = see; is visible. Ma = my; mine. Piree = Dear (Waheguru). 1.
MEANING: I see the (attractions of the) world with my eyes all the time, but my thirst for such attractions is never satisfied (no matter how long I see them). (However, one cannot see the Creator of all such beautiful attractions). Those eyes ae (internal sight is) different with which one can "see" the Creator, Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Chhunt(u): Jinhi Hur(i) Prubh(u) dittha, tinh koorbaanay, Ram. Say Saach Durgeh bhaanay Ram. Tthaakur(i) maanay, say perdhaanay, Hur(i) sayti rung(i) raatay. Kuhou Nanak, jinh Hur(i) Prubh dittha, tinh kaiy sud koorbaanaiy. 2.
Word Meaning: Dittha = saw. Bhaanay = are liked. Maanay = acknowledged; honoured. Perdhaanay = leaders; respectable. Sayti = with. Ruseh(i) = with the sweetness. Rumuyiyya = omnipresent (God). Jaatay = recognize. 2.
MEANING: I am a sacrifice for those devotees who have seen (realized) Waheguru; they are liked (loved) in Waheguru's Court. Those devotees are respectable who are imbued in Waheguru's love, and who are recognized in Lord's Court. They are content with the sweetness of Waheguru (His Naam), remain in a blissful spiritual state, and see Waheguru in every heart (they treat everyone the same). Those are Waheguru's friends, holy men, and are blissful, who are liked by Him. I am a sacrifice for all those who have seen (are connected with) Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Sloak(u): Dayh undhaari undh, soonjee Naam vihooniyaa. Nanak, suful junum, jaiy ghut(i) voottha Sach(u) Dhunee. 1.
Word Meaning: Dayh = body. Undhaari Undh = blind in the darkness. Soonjee = empty. Vihooniyaa = without. Jaiy = in which. Ghut(i) = heart. Voottha = took dwelling. Dhunee = Lord. 1.
MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam in it, the human body is blind in the darkness of ignorance. But the human life is successful (achieves its objective) which has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in it, oh Nanak. 1
Chhunt(u): Tinh khunniyaiy vunjaan, jinh mayra Hur(i) Prubh deettha Ram. Jun chaakh(i) aghaanay, Hur(i), Hur(i) Amrit(u) meettha Ram. (PAGE 578): Kuhou Nanak, tinh khunniyaiy vunjaan, jinh ghut(i) mayra Hur(i) Prubh(u) voottha. 3.
Word Meaning: Khunniyaiy Vunjaan = offer life by cutting self into pieces (an expression of deep love and reverence). Chhaakh(i) = by tasting. Aghaanay = fully contented. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Voottha = gets embedded. Bherm = misgivings. Binaas = destruction. Jugdeesh = Lord of the world. Easeh(i) = Ishver = Waheguru. Jaiy Juyyay = long live; hail (the Lord); sing praise. Reht = without. Bikaar = vices. Thaakay = became weak; lost desire. Punch = five demons. Sung(u) Toota = broke away. 3.
MEANING: I will gladly offer my body, piece by piece in the service of the holy saints who have seen my Waheguru (got connected with Him), oh Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is very sweet, and those who taste it get fully contented. When a devotee finds Waheguru sweet in his mind with Waheguru's benevolence, His Amrit-Naam gets embedded in devotee's heart, and he enjoys blissfulness. When a devotee recites the Naam of the Lord of the world, Waheguru, and sings His praise, all his sufferings and his doubts are eradicated. His love for worldly relations and for wealth fades away, he gets disinterested in sensual pleasures, and his friendship with the five demons is over. I will offer my body, piece by piece in the service of those who get Waheguru's Naam embedded in their heart, oh Nanak. 3.

Sloak(u): Jo loarreenday Ram, sayvuk sayee kaandhiya. Nanak jaanay sat(i), Saayeen, sunt na baahra. 1.
Word Meaning: Lorreenday = are needed; are liked. Kaandhiya = are called. Sat(i) = true. Saayeen = Lord. Bahra = outside of; different from MEANING: Only those individuals are called the real devotees of Waheguru, who are liked (loved) by Him. Believe it to be completely true that Waheguru is not different from His saints (the saints are His manifestations), oh Nanak. 1.
Chhunt(u): Mil(i) jul(u) juleh(i) khutaana, Ram. Sung(i) joti, Jot(i) milaana, Ram. Smaayay Poorun Purakh Kertay, aap(i), aapeh(i) jaaniyaiy. Word Meaning: Juleh(i) = with water. Khutaana = mixes well; become inseparable. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. Smaayay = are absorbed. Aap(i) = self. Aapeh(i) = Himself. Soonn(i) = Sehj(i) = spiritual state where no desire arises. Aik(u) = only "One" (Waheguru). Vukhaaniyaiy = is uttered (recited). Goppta = hidden. Mookta = free of all bonds. Vukhaana = reveals; shows. Goon = the three effects of Maya. Binaasay = disappeared; eradicated. 4.

MEANING: Just like water in two separate containers becomes inseparable when mixed well, a devotee becomes inseparable from Waheguru when he gets his soul merged into the Supreme Soul (his mind gets in compete unison with God). A devotee merges into the omnipresent, and the creator, Waheguru, when he analyzes self (and finds out that he is a part of Him). He further realizes that (being omnipresent), Waheguru, Himself is present hidden in his mind, He is free from all bonds, and reveals His own qualities (attributes). All misgivings, fears, and the three effects of Maya of such a devotee are destroyed; he becomes pure just like Waheguru, and becomes inseparable from Him just like water in two containers on mixing well, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Kurn = Creator. Kaarun = the basis. Sumrutha = fully capable. Hutha = hand; protection. Sherna-Joag = peovides shelter. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = Treasure of kindness; merciful. Sookh-Daata = provider of all comforts. Puchaata = recognized; realized. Vern(u) = colour. Chihun(u) = physical feature. Lukhiya = seen; comprehended. Kuthun Tay Akutha = beyond description. Binvunt(i) = submits humbly. 1. Kerta = creator. Durd = pain. Herta = remover; eradicator. Nivaar(i) = remove; eradicate. Khin = moment. Deen-daiyaal = kind to the weak. Gopala = oh, Waheguru. Goon-Nidhaan = treasure of virtues. Buhourr(i) = again. 2. Aatth Pehr = twent-four hours. Ichhurriya = as wished. Miteh(i) = erased. Traasa = fears; frightening feelings. Sungaaya = with; in the company. Tuj(i) = quit; get rid of. Vikaar = vices; immoral deeds. Bhaayiyaiy = liked by. 3. Dur(i) = door. Unhut = auto-playing; uniform. Vaajay = musical instruments. Vaajeh(i) = play. Gaajay = roars; appears. Biraajay = takes seat. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Oocha = transcendent. Bayunt = unlimited. Puhoocha = reach; match. Pritpaalay = raises. Saajay = creates. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is the basis (creator)of the whole universe, and is fully capable of creating anything (is omnipotent). Please, protect the world by extending Your kind hand, oh Waheguru. Waheguru is omnipotent, the provider of shelter, Lord of the world, and is the treasure of benevolence and of all comforts. I am a sacrifice for all Your devotees who have recognized You (have made connection with You) as the sole Supreme Being. You are invisible as far as Your colour and Your physical features are concerned, and You are beyond description. I want to make a humble submission that Waheguru is the creator, and the basis of whole universe, and is omnipotent, oh Nanak. 1. All the living beings are Yours, and You have created them, oh Waheguru. God is the remover (destroyer) of all pains (suffering) and of all misgivings. You are very kind to the poor (humble) and protect them by destroying their misgivings, suffering, and troubles in a short moment, oh Waheguru. We are Your children, and You are our real mother, father, Lord, and the friend, oh, the provider for the world, Waheguru. Whosoever comes to Your shelter, acquires treasures of virtues, and never takes birth or dies again. I, Nanak, submit humbly that all living beings are Yours, and You are their creator, oh Waheguru. 2.

We should sing Your praise all twenty-four hours, and realize our desired wishes, oh, Waheguru. Not only do we realize our cherished wishes by singing Waheguru's praise, but our fears of the Angel of death are also dispelled. A devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise in the company (shelter) of the Guru, gets his hopes fulfilled. We can earn Waheguru's love by getting rid of our ego, worldly attachments, and all our vices (sensual pleasures). I humbly submit that we should worship Waheguru all day and night, oh Nanak. 3.

Auto-playing musical instruments play all the time at Waheguru's door (in the mind of the devotee who has taken His shelter), and Waheguru appears (enlightens the mind) in every heart which has come to His shelter. The inaccessible, the incomprehensible, and the transcendent Waheguru is always present, and clearly appears in such devotees' heart. Waheguru has countless noble qualities which cannot be described, and nobody else can match Him in qualities. Waheguru creates all living beings, and raises them Himself (without any outside assistance. I wish to make a humble request (statement) that there is blissfulness in the worship of Waheguru, and the devotee feels as if auto-playing musical instruments are playing in his mind, at Waheguru's Door, oh Nanak. 4.3.
