Word Meaning: Vaychhorra = separation. Aagaiy = next world; after death. Veesraiy = forgotten. Vaydun = pain; mental agony. 1. Bhee = repeatedly. Pause. Vudda Kur(i) = with faith that (He is) Great. Daata = provider. Maanus = human. Theeyaiy = takes place. Runn K(i) = like women. Roonaiy = by crying. 2. Koat = millions. Gurrh = forts (kingdoms). Vujaayay = rule; reign; did whatever they liked to do. Maavvni = contained. Nuthaan = nose ring; a rope put through the nose of animals to control them; rein in. Sooleeyaan = (resulting) acute pain. 3. Augoon = bad qualities. Jayturray = however many. Taytrray = the same number (as many). Junjeer = chains. Munniun(i) = accepted. Vaypeer = unholy. 4.

MEANING of the Sloak: There is only one living Supreme Being which has eternal existence; which is the creator of the whole universe, is omnipresent; fearless (above the effects of Maya); bears no enmity with anyone (because He has no rival; and is perfectly just); which is unaffected by time; never takes births; is self-illuminated, and can be realized only by the grace of the Guru.

MEANING of the Shabad: Everybody in this world has to die and suffer separation from the world. Get advice from wise people (who have made a connection with Waheguru) to learn who gets to connect with Waheguru (gets His approval) after death. Those who forget Waheguru suffer a huge mental agony. 1. One should repeatedly praise the eternal Waheguru whose kind sight is a source of great comfort all the time, oh my friends. Pause. We should sing Waheguru's praise with firm faith that He is the greatest, and that He is here now, and will always be here even in the future. Waheguru is the provider for everybody, and no human can be the provider. Also, only that happens that is to His liking; crying like a woman (about something that one does not like) achieves nothing. 2. Countless people have ruled this earth and enjoyed in whatever way they chose to. Waheguru puts rope through the noses of those (reins them in) who had thought that even the sky was too small for them. But if people were aware of the suffering caused by sweet things (if they knew the resulting bad effects of their enjoyment of sensual pleasures), they would not enjoy them. 3. All the ignoble qualities (vices) in a person result in as many chains around his neck, which can be cut only by noble qualities, which are helpful, like brothers and friends, to the individual. The individuals with bad qualities are not approved in Waheguru's Court; so, kill, and kick out such unholy qualities (disapproved by the Guru) away (get rid of them) before reaching Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Haali = farmer. Kirsaani = farming. Kerni = deeds. Sherm = hard work. Khayt(u) = field. Beej(u) = seeds. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Soohaaga = leveller (a heavy, thick wooden slab used to level the field after being ploughed). Greebi = politeness; humility. Vays(u) = clothing; outlook. Bhaaou = affection. Kerm = kindness. Jummsi = will sprout. Ghur = heart. Bhaagutth = fortunate. 1.

Inn(i) = this. Mohiya = captivated. Virla = rare. Boojhaiy = realizes. Pause.

Haan(u) Aarja = decreasing of life. Hutt(u) = shop; store. Aarja = age. Vuth(u) = the desired valuable item. Soort(i) = attention. Soach = thinking. Bhaandshaal = the shelf for vessels. Vunjaariyaan = the dealers (in Waheguru's Naam). Vunuj(u) = business; dealings. Laaha = benefit. Huss(u) = laugh; feel blissful. 2.

Shast = religious books. Saudagri = trading (especially of horses). Sat(u) = high morality. Khurch Bunnh = investment for the journey (to Waheguru's Court) . Chungiyaayiyaan = noble deeds. Mut Jaaneh(i) = do not think. Kullh(u) = tomorrow; future. Luheh(i) = acquire. Mehl(u) = woman; devotee. Nirunkaar = God. 3.

Chit(u) Kur(i) = with dedication. Chaakri = service. Bunnh = control. Budiyaan = ignoble deeds. Dhaavni = aggressively. Dhunn(u) = praise worthy.

Chuvgun = four times. Vunn(u) = shine (of purity of mind). 4.

NOTE: Using the four major professions of the time – farming, shop keeping (business), trading, and service – as examples for comparison, Guru Sahib teaches us how to build a noble character and to unite with Waheguru (God).
MEANING: (To merge into Waheguru, which is the main objective of human life) make your mind the farmer and your noble deeds as the profession of farming, oh my friend. Irrigate your body-field with the water of hard work. Now seed the body-field with Waheguru's Naam, and level your mind (clear it of all desires and discrimination) with the leveller of contentment, and wear the clothing of humility in daily life. When you do all that, Waheguru's Naam will sprout in your heart with His loving sight. 1. Wealth does not stay with you at the time of your death, oh, wise man. Some rare individual realizes that the world is (falsely) captivated by Maya. Pause.
Realizing that your life span is decreasing with every breath, remember Waheguru with every breath, and let this be your shop (business), and store Waheguru's Naam as the merchandize in the shop of your mind. Make your attention and your thinking the shelf for vessels, and put Waheguru's Naam in those vessels (of your thoughts). Join the company of the holy men who run the same business (of Waheguru's Naam) as you do, and gain the additional benefit of the blissfulness of your mind. 2. Like a trader in horses, let high morality (good business ethics), and listening to (and acting on the advice of) the religious books (on Waheguru's Naam) be your horses for trading (i.e., trade in Waheguru's Naam). Let noble deeds be your expenses for the journey (to the next world); do not put these acts off until tomorrow which may not be there. Such a devotee realizes all comforts when she goes to the world (Court) of Waheguru. 3. Like a loyal servant, serve Waheguru with full dedication, and make recitation of Waheguru's Naam with full faith as your task (project). Control evil acts aggressively, because of which people will praise you. When Waheguru casts a kind sight on such a devotee, the shine on his face (because of the purity of his mind) becomes fourfold, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Neeka = good; dear. Chatoor(u) = clever; wise. Juvaayee = son-in-law. Baal Kunniya = a little girl. Ut(i) = extremely. Huqam(u) Bhuyya = with (Waheguru's) Will. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment; instantly. Puraayee = belonging to others; strange. Ishnaan = cleansing (of mind). Tit(u) Tun(i) = through that body. Dhoorr(i) Dhoomaayee = spread dust (did immoral and disgraceful things). 1. Maaniya = pleased with. Sukhaayee = friend. Bulihaaraiy = to sacrifice. Pause. Baydhiya = pierced; stitched. Vaad(u) = disputes; belligerent discussions. Ruchaayee = creates; initiates. Mugun(u) = fully absorbed. Mug(u) = path. Johaiy = to keep a watchful eye on. Bikh(u) = poison; immoral and sinful acts. Gundhun Vaiyn(i) = filthy songs. Rutta = imbued. Hitkaari = loving. Soort(i) = mind; thinking. Rung(i) = in the love (for Waheguru). Put(i) = dignity. 2.
Sadh Subha = holy gatherings. Sehj(i) = blissful mental state (above the effects of Maya). Chaakhiya = tasted. Jihba = tongue. Raayee = the size of a grain of mustard; minuscule. Dur = Waheguru's Court. Tthaur(u) = support. 3.
Nudr(i) = kind sight. Kuthun(u) = description. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. 4.

MEANING: The man, who was an apple of the eyes of his parents, a wise son-in-law to his father-in-law, dear father to his little daughter (his children), and an extremely dear brother to his brother, left the house and the outside belongings (upon his death) at the Will of Waheguru in a moment, and everything became strange to him. The Maya-engrossed man did not recite Waheguru's Naam to cleanse his mind, nor did he do any philanthropic act in his life; he simply enjoyed sensual pleasures thereby earning only disgrace. 1. I wish to drop at the feet and sacrifice my life for the Guru who enlightened me with the true understanding (of the purpose of human life) whereby my mind has come to love Waheguru's Naam as my real friend. Pause. The man's mind is pierced with the false love of Maya, and he gets into unnecessary and aggressive discussions with the devotees of Waheguru. Deeply engrossed in the love for wealth all the time, he looks for ways to earn it even by immoral means (like robbing and killing); he does not recite Waheguru's Naam, and dies a spiritual death, enjoying sensual pleasures and committing other sinful acts. Imbued in the love of filthy songs, he does not like focusing his mind (pondering) on Guru's Shabad. He does not get imbued in Waheguru's love and his mind does not get pierced with the sweetness of the Naam; the Maya-engrossed, and detached from Waheguru, the man loses his dignity. 2. The man does not enjoy blissfulness in holy congregations, and his tongue experiences no taste at all of Waheguru's sweet Naam. He considers his mind, his body, and the wealth as his own, but has no knowledge of Waheguru's Court (judgement). On closing his eyes (on his death), the blind leaves this world where he cannot see his house or his door, not even his brother (supporter). Tied at the door of the Angel of justice, he gets no support, but he cannot blame anyone because he is reaping the rewards of his own deeds. 3. If Waheguru becomes kind, I can "see" Him, but still cannot describe Him. Listening to the Shabad of praise of Waheguru with my ears, I am able to embed His Amrit Naam in my mind. The Light (Soul) of Waheguru, who is fearless, formless, and without any enmity, is present everywhere. Without the Guru, man's misgivings do not go away; on the other hand, one earns respect with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Bhuvun = building; universe. Moorut(i) = picture; image; reflection. Mookh(i) = from (Your) mouth (with Your word or Huqam). Tuksaala = mint. 1. Choaj = amazing feats. Vidaana = wondrous. Leena = absorbed; present. Pause.

Ootbhooj = vegetation. Saytuj = from invisible sources under suitable conditions – like mould, bacteria, maggots, etc. Junta = living beings. Poorb(u) = amazing feat. Ruvunta = present. 3. Prunvut(i) = requests respectfully. Doobda = sinking. Puthur = (heavy like) rock; loaded with sins. Leejaiy = save; salvage. 4.

MEANING: Like the two millstones of the grinding mill, the earth is the bottom, and the sky the top stone of Waheguru's mill of world creation. All four directions make up His throne to sit on. The whole universe is solely Your image which has been created in the mint of Your mouth (with Your Huqam or Command), oh Waheguru. 1. Your feats are wondrous, oh my Lord. You are present in the waters, on the land, in the sky, and in every living being. Pause. You have indescribable forms; it is Your Light everywhere, no matter in which direction I look. With only one identity (You are the only one), You are present hidden in everybody, yet nobody is like anybody else. 2. All the living beings from all the four sources of reproduction – eggs, live births, vegetation, and from invisible sources (present in air, like bacteria and viruses) – have been created by You. It is Your amazing feat that You are present in each of them (regardless of the source of reproduction). 3.
You have countless noble qualities, but I am foolish for not recognizing even a single one of them; kindly give me some wisdom. It is my humble submission that I am like a heavy rock, loaded with sins, and am drowning in the world-sea, oh Nanak. Please protect me, oh kind Waheguru. 4.

Tiseh(i) = His. Sreek(u) = rival. Daasun(i) Daasa = slave of slaves. 4.

MEANING: I am a sinner, an immoral, and the biggest hypocrite, whereas You are pure, and formless, oh Waheguru. In Your shelter, I have tasted the sweetness of Your Amrit-Naam, and now I am imbued in the supreme essence (of the Naam). 1.
You are the pride of this humble servant, oh Waheguru. When one gets absorbed in Your eternal Naam, he acquires pride, fame, and the wealth of Your Naam, oh God. Pause.
You are perfect, but I am empty (devoid of noble qualities), and have very low wisdom; You are loaded with noble qualities and have complete self-control, whereas I lack all noble qualities and have no self-control. I wish I were always imbued in You, love day and night, so I urge my mind to recite Your Naam with the tongue. 2.
You are everlasting. I wish to be pierced with Guru's Shabad in Your praise so that I may stay absorbed in Your Naam and become like You. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are pure, while those who take births and die are impure. 3.
I do not see anybody else who could rival You, and whom I could praise, oh God. I submit humbly that I have realized Waheguru with Guru's guidance, and I am a slave of His slaves, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Soochaiy bhaandaiy Sach(u) smaavaiy, virlay soochachaari. Tuntaiy kuou Perm Tunt(u) milaaya, Nanak shern(i) Toomhaari. 5.6.

Word Meaning: Alukh = invisible. Apaar = beyond limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Kerma = rituals; obligations. Jaat(i) = upper caste. Ajaat(i) = lower class. Ajoani = never takes birth. Sumbhuou = self-illuminated. 1. Sachiyaar = source of virtues. Vit-houn = for. Roop = form; shape. Vern = colour. Raykhiya = physical features. Neeshaan(u) = identity. Pause. Bundhup = relatives. Ukool = has no clan. Uppur Prumpur(u) = beyond limits. 2. Braham = God. Lookaaya = hiding. Bujjur = rock. Kpaat = doors. Mooktay = free from all bonds. Nirbhaiy = fearless. Taarri = deep meditation. 3. Junt = living beings. Vusgut(i) = under control. Pdaaruth(u) = desired product; Waheguru's Naam. Chhooteh(i) = emancipated. Kmaayee = act on. 4. Soochaiy = pure. Bhaanda = vessel; heart. Virlay = rare. Soochchaari = pure-hearted. Tuntaiy = tutt (basic element); human soul. Perm Tunt(u) = Supreme Soul; Waheguru. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru is invisible, beyond limits, inaccessible, and incomprehensible. He has no lust and no obligations to meet. Unlike human beings, He has no upper or lower caste; he never takes births, is self-illuminated; and has no fear (has no rival); and He needs no running around to fulfill His obligations. 1. I am a sacrifice for the eternal source of such virtues – Waheguru. He has no form, no colour, and no physical features. He can be identified (realized) only with the eternal Shabad of the Guru (in His praise). Pause. Waheguru has no mother, no father, no sons, and no relatives. He has no lust and has no need for any woman. Waheguru, which has no clan and which is above the effects of Maya, is beyond limits, and the whole creation is His Soul (He is the basis of all life). 2. Waheguru is present hidden in every heart, and His Light is shining everywhere (everything is His reflection). The rock-like strong doors of the mind (which separate us from Him) become free (open up) with the Guru's Teachings when we "see" the fearless Waheguru in meditation. 3. Having created living beings, Waheguru has created death for them as well, but it is He who controls everything with His Huqam (Laws). One can acquire the desired valuable product of Waheguru's Naam by serving the Satguru and get emancipated by acting on the Guru's Teachings. 4. Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in the pure heart only, but some rare devotees have pure hearts whose souls get merged with the Supreme Soul of Waheguru. I have come to seek Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 5.6.

Sookh, dookh(u) Daata Gur milaiy, kuhou Nanak sift(i) smaayay. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Meena = fish. Saakut(u) = Maya-engrossed; disconnected with God. Piyaas = thirst (desire for Maya). Birtha = empty; without. 1. Jus(u) = praise. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Luhoun = acquire. Pause. Sungtee = in the company. Utth-sutth(i) = 68 (the 68 Hindu holy places). Mujna = dips. Ders(u) = sight. Praaput Hoyay = is acquired. 2. Jut = control on lust. Baahra = outside of; without. Tup(u) = self-torture; hardship Sat(u) = high morality; service to mankind. Suntokh = contentment. Dayhoori = body. Doakh = vices; evils. 3. Saakut(u) = Maya-engrossed. Sift(i) = with (Waheguru's praise). 4.

MEANING: Just as the fish dies without water, the Maya-engrossed man forgets Waheguru and dies spiritual death because of his thirst (desires) for Maya; and just like that, I feel (spiritually) dead even if a single breath of mine passes without remembering Waheguru. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise, oh my mind. But I cannot enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam without the guidance of the Guru; only the Guru can implant Waheguru's Naam in my mind. Pause. The real company (to sing praise of Waheguru) is the gathering of the holy saints; it is in the shelter of the Guru that one can take a dip in the holy pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. Having Guru's holy sight (pondering on His Teachings) is like having a dip in the 68 holy places. 2. The human body without Waheguru's Naam in mind is like a yogi who has no control over his lust; does not endure any self-affliction (undergo any hardship) to remember Waheguru, has no moral character, and has no contentment. The Angel of Death punishes such people who have evil thoughts in their minds. 3. One should not develop any affection for (friendship with) a Maya-engrossed individual (because he will also become like the latter); Waheguru can be realized only with the love for the Guru. If one connects with the Guru who converts discomforts into comforts, he merges with Waheguru by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 4.7.

NOTE: Guru Sahib does not support self-torture as a means to realize Waheguru. He is simply saying that these are the beliefs of the Yogis.

Word Meaning: Daata = provider. Daan(i) = donor. Mut(i) Poora = perfectly wise. Thaaray = Yours. Bhaykhaari = beggars. Thir(u) = permanent. 1. Bunvaari = God. Goopto = hiden. Vertaiy = operates. Nihaari = see. Pause. Mert = world; earth. Puyyaal = underworld. Honi = will be there. Mooraari = God. 2
Buppurro = uncivilized; ignorant. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Baaji = game of life. 3. Bundhun = bonds. Niraary = free from bonds; detached. Buhourr(i) = any more. Gerbh Mujhaari = in womb; take births. Pergaasiya = lighted up. Nirunkaari = formless God. 4.

MEANING: You are the provider and the donor for all the living beings, and have the Perfect Wisdom (to know the needs of each living being), and we all are beggars at Your Door, oh Waheguru. What should I beg for (no material thing is worth begging) because I know nothing stays with us forever. So, kindly donate Your Naam which is very dear to me, oh Waheguru. 1. Waheguru is present in every heart and operates hidden in the waters, on the land, and in the sky; but one can “see” Him only with Guru’s Shabad. Pause.
With His grace, the Guru has shown Waheguru’s presence in this world, in the underworld, and in the sky. So, search for Waheguru, which never takes births, is present now, and will be here in the future too, in your heart, oh my friends. 2. The ignorant world does not worship Waheguru because of its love for Maya, as a result of which it continues to take births and to die. If one connects with Satguru, he receives His Wisdom (gets enlightened); but the Maya-engrossed individual loses the game of his life (remains disconnected from Waheguru). 3. Satguru breaks the bonds of the individuals with Maya and emancipates them, as a result of which such individuals never get into the womb (are never born again). The jewel-like Naam of Waheguru has enlightened my mind, and the formless Waheguru has made my heart His home, oh Nanak. 4. 8.

Chuturaayee = smartness. Doobidha = dilemma; indecisiveness. Ful(u) = rewards. 1. Thir(u) = stable; non-wavering. Mut(u) = lest; do not. Kut = somewhere else. Dhoondhut = searching. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Ghut = heart. Pause. Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Dhaavou = rush for. Sur, Upsur = appropriate and inappropriate. Saar = knowledge. Keech = mud (of attachments). 2. Maiyl(u) = filth. Loabh = greed. Kaahi = what for. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. 3. Purhur(i) = push away (get rid of). Ninda = vilification. Koorr(u) = lies; falseness. Tiyaag-hou = abandon. Buchnee = Word; Teaching. Bhaavaiy = as You please. 4.

MEANING: The Amrit-water (Waheguru's Naam) for which you have come to the world (are born), is in the possession of the Guru, oh my friends. So, abandon the fake (deceitful) religious outlook (symbols and the garb) of your faith because you will not receive any rewards with this double behaviour (you pretend to be religious by wearing the symbols, but inwardly you are rapt in Maya), oh my friends. 1. Stay peaceful (quit wavering), and do not wander anywhere else, oh my mind. You will suffer immensely if you look for Waheguru outside; His Amrit Naam is in your own heart. Pause. Give up your ignoble qualities, and rush to acquire noble qualities; you will have to repent if you commit immoral deeds. You do not have any knowledge of the appropriate and the inappropriate, and keep sinking deeper and deeper in the mud of worldly attachments. 2.
What is the use of washing your body at holy places when you are loaded with the filth of greed and falsehood, oh man? You will attain a high spiritual state only if you seek the shelter of the Guru and always recite Waheguru's purifying Naam. 3.
Kick out your greed, abandon vicious criticism of others, and your hypocrisy. Acquire Waheguru's Naam (and truthful living) by Guru's Shabad, and reap the rewards (of Waheguru's kindness). I, Nanak, am Your slave; please be kind to me so that I may live by Your Will, and sing Your praise with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Ghur = heart. Moosut = being robbed. Pur = of others. Johun = keep an evil eye. Dur = door. Rus Chaakhay = taste Waheguru's sweet Naam. 1.

Kuhaa Mut(i) = what kind of thinking? Un Rus = other tastes (of Maya). Lobhaanay = being attracted. Puchhutaah(i) = repents. Abhaaga = unfortunate. Pause.

Herkh = happiness. Bhog(i) = luxuries. Bhogaavaiy = makes to enjoy. Unraaga = without any love (attraction); detached. 2. Triptaaga = contented. Mohit = captivated by. Khoya = lost. Saakut = Maya-engrossed. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. 3.

Jeeou = basis. Puvunput(i) = Lord of air (breaths). Dayhi = body. Dayo = light-like Waheguru. Smaaga = absorbed; present. Gaayeen = I sing. Triptay = contends. Live Laaga = fully concentrated on; connected with. 4.

Sungut(i) = company. Bhuou = fear. Bhaaga = disappeared. Mustuk = forehead. 5

MEANING: Try to understand where your wisdom (thinking) is leading you to, oh my mind. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, you are attracted to the (false) tastes of Maya for which you will have to repent later, oh my unfortunate mind. Pause. Why are you keeping an evil eye on others' house (on their wealth, and their women) when you cannot save your own house (mind) from being robbed (of noble qualities)? You can save your own house and doors (noble qualities) only if you perform the deeds that a devout devotee does in the shelter of the Guru, and taste the sweet Naam of Waheguru. 1. You feel very happy when you acquire wealth and comforts, but begin to cry when they leave you. You must realize that comforts and discomforts are a part of life, and Waheguru Himself causes the man to live with comforts as well as with discomforts. But Guru's Sikh stays detached (unaffected) from both situations. 2. There is nothing else that can be described as superior to the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam; whosoever tastes it, becomes fully contented. Engrossed in the love for Maya, the man loses this heavenly essence (of Waheguru's Naam) and gets involved in evil deeds. 3. The basis of mind, and the Lord of breaths (soul) and body, Waheguru, is present in the body in the form of His light. If You grant, I will recite Your sweet Naam, and feel fully content by focusing my mind on Your Naam with full devotion, oh Waheguru. 4. One acquires the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints, whereby he loses all the fear of the Angel of death. With the good fortune on my forehead, I have realized Waheguru by reciting His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 5.10.

Word Meaning: Laykh(u) = destiny for future deeds. Dhooraahoo = right from birth. Alaykh(u) = without any requirement for any deeds. 1. Srayvhou = serve. Daata = provider. Bhoogta = consumer. Pause. Aik Drisht(i) = with the same (non-discriminating) eye. Smoyee = present. 2. Chultou = wandering; wavering mind. Tthaak(i) = prevent; control. Adrisht(u) = invisible (God). Bismaadi = mesmerized. Bisraiy = disappears. 3. Apiyo = Amrit. Nij = own. Ghur = home; heart. Junum Mern = from birth to death. Bhuv-Bhunjun = destroyer of fears (worries). Poonrup(i) = again. 4. Tutt(u) = the basis (of the universe). Nirunjun = God. Subaayee = everywhere. Sohun(g) = I am the same. Bhayd = difference. Uprumpur = limitless. 5.

MEANING: Everybody has their destiny for future deeds prewritten by Waheguru, and there is none without it. The only exception is Waheguru Himself, who has no such destiny written for Him. He has created the nature (the world), and looks after it (provides for all living beings) with His Huqam (Laws). 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam to enjoy blissfulness, oh my mind. Serve Guru's Feet (obey His Teachings) day and night; the Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru, the provider (and being present in everybody); He is also the consumer. Pause. Recognize only Waheguru, which is present inside you and outside as well, and do not recognize any other power. Like the true Sikh of the Guru, if you see everybody with the same eye (without any discrimination), you will see Waheguru's Light present in everybody. 2. Control your ever-wandering mind so that it becomes peaceful. But such wisdom or ability (to control the mind) can be acquired only in the shelter of the Guru. See the invisible Waheguru in His nature, which is mesmerizing, and whereby all your discomforts will disappear, and you will enjoy comforts. 3. Take the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam by which one acquires supreme bliss, and the mind stays in itself (quits wandering). From birth till death, one should sing praise of Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all troubles and as a result of which one never takes rebirths. 4. The light of the origin of the universe –Waheguru - is present in everybody; in that sense, I am the same as He is (I am a part of His), and one can merge into Him (by worshipping Him) when there will be no difference between the two. I am lucky to have met (got connected with) the limitless and the greatest Lord, Waheguru, who is my Guru, oh Nanak. 5.11.

Word Meaning: Ja = if. Bhaavaan = is liked. Tud Hee = only then. Ful(u) = reward. Soyee = that (Waheguru). Nidh(i) = treasure (Waheguru's naam). Ta Tay = by which. Smaayee = absorbed. 1 & Pause. Saakhi = Teachings. Jaagi = enlightened (mind). Chunchul = fickle; capricious. Tiyaagi = gave up. Oojiyaara = light. Undhiyaara = darkness. 2. Churnee = feet; Shabad. Maarug(u) = journey. Keerut = praise (of Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: My singing of Waheguru's praise is worthwhile only if it is to His liking; only then can I be rewarded for that. But the reward is meaningful only if it is given by Waheguru at His pleasure, which one has to earn by reciting His Naam with devotion. 1. One can acquire the treasure of Waheguru's Naam only by following the Advice of the Guru by which one stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Pause. One abandons (gets rid of) his capricious thinking when his mind is enlightened by the Guru's Advice. The light of the Guru's Advice dispels all the darkness of ignorance. 2.
When one applies his mind to focus on the Guru's Feet (His Advice), the path leading to the court of the Angel of Death is destroyed (such a devotee suffers no spiritual death and merges into Waheguru). When one realizes Waheguru with His (respectful) fear, he remains in a blissful state of mind in which Maya has no effect. 3. Only some rare individuals come to realize that their deeds are of prime importance in this world, oh Nanak. But one gets to sing Waheguru's praise automatically (which is the supreme business) only when Waheguru appears in His mind. 4.1.12.

Word Meaning: Sayvuk = servant; devotee. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Sohaaya = looks attractive (because of noble qualities). 1. Kayvul = only. Sacha = Perfect. Mooraari = a name for God. Pause. Jaagut Ruhay = stay alert. Girhi = in the family. Oodaasi = detached. Tut = essence; basis. Oordhaari = implanted in the heart. 2. Dehdis(i) = in every direction. Dhaanvda = rushes. Khooaaya = misled. Moogudh = foolish. Chaytaiy = remembers. Birtha = empty; without any gain. Bhaytay = on meeting (getting connected). Chookaaya = paid off; got rid of. 3. Kmaaveh(i) = works on. Veechaari = thoughtful. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mut(i) = wisdom; high thinking. Raas(i) = capital; wealth. 4.

MEANING: All those devotees who relish (feel blissful with) Guru's Shabad are actually serving You, oh Waheguru. Those who get rid of their selfishness and ego by the grace of the Guru are pure (pious) in their minds. They sing praise of the eternal Waheguru all the time and are adorned with noble qualities with the Guru's Shabad. 1. We are children (spiritually immature), and are in Your shelter, oh Lord. You are the only one who is Perfect and immortal, oh Waheguru. Pause. Those who stay alert (about the attacks of sensual pleasures) and kill their selfishness and ego with the Guru's Shabad, realize Waheguru. They become more thoughtful by acquiring Divine Knowledge and remain detached from Maya, even when living in the family (where one is more vulnerable to Maya's attacks). They serve Satguru (lead their life according to His Advice) and enjoy bliss by embedding Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 2. The human mind rushes in every possible direction (does not find contentment) and gets misguided in the love for Maya. The Maya-engrossed individual does not remember (recite) Waheguru's Naam and wastes away his (precious) human life. One can acquire Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru, where one gets rid of one's selfishness, ego, and worldly attachments. 3.
By pondering on Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's devotees perform deeds liked by Waheguru, and become "one" with Him. When a devotee enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, Waheguru Himself connects the devotee with Him. I have attained a high spiritual state and acquired Guru's wisdom by reciting Waheguru's Naam; now this is my real wealth, oh Nanak. 4. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhun(u) = wealth. Akhoot(i) = never running out. Nikhootaiy = runs out. Oojlaiy = clean; shiny; pure. 1. Punch Choar = the five demons. Dayhi = human body. Amrit = noble qualities. Vertaara = dealings. Goobaara = darkness. 2. Vigootay = suffer misguided. Kihou = anything. Nudri = one who casts kind sight (Waheguru). Nihaal(i) = blissful. 3. Giyan = Divine Knowledge. Amar(u) = Huqam; command. Undin(u) = every day; always. Laaha = benefit. Nistaara = salvation. Paaha = realizes. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru bestows the treasure of His worship to His devotees in the form of His Naam, which is their wealth. This treasure is never-ending and never runs out (no matter how many devotees it is given to), yet nobody knows its real worth. One realizes Waheguru with the wealth of His Naam, and his face begins to radiate the piety of his mind. 1. Waheguru is realized with Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. The world is misled (and commits immoral acts) without Guru's Shabad, as a result of which he gets punishment in Waheguru's Court. Pause. The five demons – lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego – reside in the human body, and rob the man of his noble qualities; but the follower of his mind is not aware of that, and nobody listens to his cries for help (when he gets punishment in Waheguru's Court for his misdeeds). Without the Guru, there is complete darkness of ignorance, and the world is blind, and so are its dealings. 2. Misled by his selfishness and ego, the man amasses wealth and suffers because nothing accompanies him after death. But Guru's Sikh always keeps Waheguru in his mind and recites His Naam all the time. He sings Waheguru's praise with Satguru's eternal Bani and feels blissful with the kind sight of Waheguru. 3. The Divine Knowledge imparted by Satguru, which enlightens one's mind, is above the reign of the kings (is superior to reigning a state). The devotee worships Waheguru day and night, as a result of which he acquires His Naam, which is his benefit (wealth). One becomes emancipated by Waheguru's Naam and, imbued in Satguru's Shabad, he realizes Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Daasun(i) Daas(u) = slave of slaves; extremely humble. Kaaruj = objective. Ikk Rungee = in love with only the “One” God. Smaayee = absorbed. 1. Saachi = purifies the mind and leads to union with Waheguru. Paiyj = dignity; protection from attacks of Maya. Sooaaliyou = Handsome. Jaaga = awake; alert. 2. Gumbheer = honest about responsibilities. Achint(u) = without any special effort. 3. Maarug(u) = Punth(u) = path. Vikkhrra = difficult; tough. Veechaara = thoughts; Advice. Rung = love. MEANING: A devotee realizes Waheguru when he serves Him like a slave of His slaves (with utmost humility) and gets rid of his selfishness and ego. The objective of a devotee is to achieve blissfulness by pleasing Waheguru by singing His praise all the time. Those who are imbued in Guru’s Shabad love only Waheguru, and stay absorbed in His Naam. 1. Your kind sight purifies the mind and leads to union with You, oh Waheguru. Please. be kind to Your slaves (devotees), and protect our dignity (from the attacks of Maya), oh dear Waheguru. Pause. I survive only by singing Waheguru’s praise with Guru’s Shabad, and all my worldly fears have been eradicated with the Advice of the Guru. My God is perfectly pure and extremely handsome (loaded with noble qualities); my mind is now stitched to Him by serving the Guru (acting on His Advice). Satguru’s Shabad purifies the mind, and His holy compositions in praise of Waheguru connect the devotee with Him, because of which the devotee stays alert against the attacks of Maya. 2. Waheguru is extremely serious (diligent) about His responsibilities towards His creation, and is always a great source of comfort; yet nobody knows His limits. By serving the Perfect Guru, the devotee realizes Waheguru without any special effort, whereby his mind and body always stay pure; his misgivings are dispelled, and he always feels blissful. 3. Journey to union with Waheguru is always very difficult and full of obstacles; only a rare individual reaches Him with Guru’s Advice. The devotee has to abandon his ego and all his sensual pleasures; he must get imbued in the love of Waheguru and be intoxicated with Guru’s Shabad (to be united with Waheguru). With Guru’s Shabad, one becomes imbued with the love of Waheguru and is adorned with noble qualities (and meets Waheguru’s approval), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Saleeheen = (Your) praise. Jichur(u) = as long as. Pul(u) Khin(u) = a short moment. Jaanou = feels like. Burse Puchaasa = fifty years. Moorr = Moogudh = foolish. Sudaa Say = ever since. Pergaaasa = enlightened. 1. Boojhaayee = understanding. Vit-houn Vaariya = sacrifice for (You). Pause. Mooyay = died (killed worldly desires). Jeevaalay = spiritually alive. Mookut(i) = freedom from the bonds of Maya; emancipation. Boalay = deaf. Kit(u) = what for? Bishta = feces; sensual pleasures. Keerray = worms. Goobaara = darkness. 3. Maarug Laayay = put on the path of life. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Maytaiy = erase; obliterate. 4.

MEANING: I wish to sing Your praise all the time as long as I have breath in my body, oh my dear Waheguru. It feels like a gap of fifty years if I forget You even for a very short moment. I have been foolish and ignorant ever since my birth, but now my mind has been enlightened with Guru's Shabad. 1. You Yourself, grant the wisdom to (connect with You), oh Waheguru. I wish to sacrifice my life for You, and for (the Guru who imparts) Your Naam. Pause. My worldly desires have been killed by Guru's Shabad, and I have been given a new (spiritual) life; also, I have been able to break my worldly bonds with Guru's Shabad, oh my friends. My mind and my body have been purified by the Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru has taken dwelling in my heart. Satguru is the source of the Shabad with which my mind has been imbued and because of which I am fully absorbed in Waheguru. 2. Those who do not understand the worth of the Guru's Shabad (make no connection with it) are spiritually blind and deaf; why are they even born in this world? They do not enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam, waste away their (precious) human life, and keep taking rebirths, dying again and again. The Maya-engrossed individuals are foolish and ignorant; they are worms of feces (sensual pleasures) in which they stay absorbed all the time. 3. But such individuals cannot be blamed entirely because it is Waheguru who looks after everybody and puts them on the path of life decided for them. There is no one else like Him. Nobody can erase what is prewritten in an individual's destiny; only what Waheguru wishes happens. But, when Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in a devotee's heart, he does not recognize any other power, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Bhaaveh(i) = is liked (loved) by Waheguru. Vukhaanay = says; recites. Saar = looking after. Puchhaata = recognized; connected with. Gooni = the source of noble qualities (Waheguru). 1. Unt Kaal(i) = at the time of death. Baily = friend. Nibhaiy = supports constantly. Pause. Doosht Chaukrri = union of the evil. Koorr(u) = falsehood. Ninda = malicious criticism. Hernaakhsh = (a mythical) non-believer and evil king, father of Bhugut Prehlaad(u). Nukheh(i) Bidaaray = destroyed (torn apart by Vishnu) with his paws when he appeared with the head of a lion. 2. Bhulaa = noble. Viyaapay = are engaged in. Jaasun = will leave. 3.
Suful(u) = successful. Sehjay Maatay = intoxicated in the high spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who worships Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, is loved by Waheguru. Waheguru looks after the devotees whom He likes in a special way, and protects them in every possible way. You are the source of all virtues and can be recognized with (made connection with) Satguru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. One merges into the source of virtues (Waheguru) by singing His praise. 1. Remember Waheguru all the time, which is your friend at the time of death, and which always supports you till the end, oh my mind. Pause. The assembly of the evil always deals in falsehood (engages in immoral acts), and the man neither understands nor thinks about the objective of human life. Who has ever reaped a good reward by vilification of others and by performing evil deeds? Look at the evil Hernaakhsh, who was torn apart by Vishnu with his sharp paws in the form of a lion-headed human, and Waheguru's devotee, Prahalad, who always sang His praise, was protected by Him. 2.
The follower of his mind has no (spiritual) wisdom but proclaims himself to be a very noble man. He maliciously criticizes the holy saints, thereby wasting his precious human life and leaving the world with the same ignoble thinking. Such people never think of Waheguru, and leave the world repenting. 3. Waheguru makes the life of His devotees successful, and Himself makes His devotees serve the Guru. Imbued in Guru's Shabad and intoxicated in the high spiritual state, the devotees sing Waheguru's praise. I pray to Waheguru that He gives me the opportunity to drop at the feet of such devotees (serve them), oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Bundhup = friend. Bhaanay = (obeys) Will. Vichhurr(i) = disconnected. Choataan Khaavaiy = gets beatings; suffers. 1. Daas = slaves; devotees. Soohaylay = in comfort; blissful. Kilvikh = sins. Pause. Kootumb(u) = family. Jea Kay Bundhun = chains for the soul. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Sainsaara = world. Moakh = emancipation. Kerm = rituals. 2. Pulch Ruhhiya = tangled up; engrossed in. Kayra = of. Mehl(u) = (Waheguru's) Palace. Busayra = dwelling. Aiythaiy = here; in this world. Boojhaiy = understands; unravels. Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = analyzes self. 3. Bhaaagaan = fortune. Bhaaou = affection; intent; wish. Aap(u) = selfishness. 4.

MEANING: Only that devotee is a true Sikh or a friend of the Guru who obeys His Will gladly (follows His Advice). The individual who follows his mind stays disconnected from the Guru and suffers in life. Without connecting with the Guru, he never finds comfort and keeps repenting, again and again, oh my brothers. 1. Waheguru's devotees are blissful all the time because Waheguru connects them with Him by first connecting them with the Guru in whose shelter all their sins of many previous lives are washed away. Pause.

The (people of the) whole world are misled by their misgivings, not realizing that the strong bonds with the family are, in fact, chains around them (preventing their union with Waheguru). These bonds cannot be broken without the Guru's benevolence; the Guru's shelter is the door to emancipation for a true Sikh of the Guru. An individual who performs religious rituals but does not recognize the value of the Guru's Shabad remains in the cycle of birth and death. 2. The whole world is entangled in the deeds revolving around "I, and me" (selfishness and ego), and nobody is a real friend of others. But the Sikhs of the Guru sing Waheguru's praise, embed His Naam in their heart, and reach His Palace (merge into Him). Those who understand this path of union with Waheguru recognize self (their virtues and weaknesses, and the objective of life) and earn the approval of Waheguru, who becomes their own (they merge into Him). 3. Satguru is always kind, but we cannot connect with Him without good fortune, oh my brothers. He casts the same kind gaze on everyone, but everyone reaps the reward of their wish (some may opt for wealth, while a few for union with Waheguru). Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in the heart of the devotee who overcomes all his selfishness and ego, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Chautookay = Shabads with four stanzas. Sachi = everlasting; devotional; of Waheguru. Sachi Bani = Satguru's evergreen Shabad. Smaani = gets fully absorbed. Saachay = Perfect (like Waheguru). Iyaani = immature; unenlightened. Vin(u) = without. 1. Shernaayee = in the shelter (of Waheguru) (obey His Will). Put(i) = dignity. Vudiyaayee = respect; honour. Pause. Jugjeevun = soul of the world (Waheguru). Tuj(i) = abandoning. Hujoor(i) = close by. Ruvviya = present. Apaara = (of the) limitless (God). Bani = holy composition in praise of God. Muneh(i) = to (in) the mind. 2. Puchhaata = recognized; made a connection with. Rus(u) = sweet essence. Chaakh(i) = by tasting. Triptiya = contented = Aghaaya. Gooni = the source of virtues (Waheguru). Kumul(u) = lotus; heart. Raata = imbued. Unhud = auto-playing Divine Music. Vujaaya = played. Sach(i) = (in) Waheguru. 3. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mug = path. Rusn = tongue. Rusaayee = sweetened. Sunjum = control over senses. Vusaayee = embeds. 4.

MEANING: The true worship of Waheguru with full devotion happens (is most rewarding) only in Satguru's shelter where the devotee embeds His evergreen Shabad in his heart. Such a devotee enjoys permanent bliss by serving Satguru (obeying His Advice) when his selfishness and ego get absorbed (disappear) in Guru's Shabad. No true worship happens without Satguru's grace; the rest of the world is misled in its ignorance. The Maya-engrossed individuals wander aimlessly (spend their lives) in Maya-related business and simply suffer; they drown in the waterless sea of Maya. 1. Always stay in Waheguru's shelter (sing His praise and obey His Will), oh my brothers. He protects His devotees with His kind sight and honours them by bestowing His Naam on them. Pause. By pondering on the evergreen (eternal) Shabad of the Perfect Guru, one recognizes self (his virtues and ignoble qualities, and the objective of human life), and by overcoming his lust, rage, and ego, one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart forever. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, he sees Him close by and present everywhere. With Satguru's Shabad, he realizes that His holy compositions in praise of God are valid in every eon (are the only way to have union with God), and he finds Waheguru's Naam to be sweet in his heart. 2.

Those who recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam (make a connection with Him) by serving Satguru succeed in their life (achieve the objective of human life). They get fully contented by singing His praise and tasting the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all virtues. The devotee's heart blooms with Waheguru's Naam, and imbued in His love, he feels as if the auto-playing Divine Music is captivating his mind. With Satguru's holy Shabad, his body and mind get purified, and with Waheguru's eternal Naam, he gets fully absorbed in Him. 3. Nobody can know the high level of transcendence of Waheguru, but one does get His Naam enshrined in his heart with Satguru's Advice. A real Sikh of the Guru recognizes the path of righteousness (to union with God) and sweetens his tongue by reciting Waheguru's Naam. He does not need any ritualistic recitation of some mantras, self-torturing, or any special effort to control his sensual pleasures; all these things happen to him automatically when he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart in Guru's shelter. Those devotees who keep Waheguru's Naam in mind look noble and get honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Oolti bhuyee = turning around of wisdom (thinking). Jeevut Muraiy = kill desires while living in the family. Boojh Paayay = acquires Divine wisdom. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Soul. 1. Sayti = with. Live Laayay = focus mind on (connect with). Thaayayn = room; given full credit; approved. Pause. Oopjaiy = develops; sprouts. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Tooh = grain shells without grains (kernels). Kooteh(i) = beating; flailing (to get grains). Kerm = rituals. Pullaiy = in possession; make gain. 2. Ruvviya = present; appears. Ruvaiy = remember; recite. Hayt(i) = in love with. 3. Pervaan(u) = approved. Chit(u) = mind. 4.

MEANING: One's thinking gets turned around (from evil to noble) on getting connected with Satguru, and he gets the Divine wisdom with which he is able to kill his worldly desires while living in the family. Only that devotee is considered to be a guru or the true Sikh whose soul gets connected with the Supreme Soul (of God). 1. Stitch yourself to Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. One finds Waheguru to be very sweet when he recites His Naam in Guru's shelter, as a result of which he is approved by Waheguru. Pause. One does not foster any affection for Waheguru without Satguru's shelter; the individual disconnected from Satguru loves only Maya. Such a Maya-engrossed individual may perform prevalent religious rituals, but his effort is as futile as flailing grain-less shells to obtain grains; he does not gain anything at all. 2. But, when one gets connected with the Guru, Waheguru's Naam takes root in his heart, and he acquires true love and affection for Him. With extreme love for the Guru, the devotee always sings the virtues of (praise) of Waheguru. 3. The individual, who applies his mind to serve the Guru, finds approval in the Waheguru Court. One acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart and connects with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Tihee Gooni = the three effects of Maya. Tirbhuvun = universe. Viyaapiya = influenced; affected. Boojh = wisdom. Boojhaayay = educates; enlightens. Chhootiyaiy = get emancipated. Giyani = holy saints. 1. Chauthaiy (Pud) = the fourth spiritual level (above the three effects of Maya). Chit(u) Laayay = focus mind. Vusaiy = makes dwelling; gets enshrined. Pause. Oopjaiy = grow spiritually. Ugiyaani = ignorant. Moohaayay = robbed. 2. Jaagay = awake; aware of. Oobray = salvaged. Bhuvjul(u) = world sea. Laaha = befit; spiritual achievement. Oordhaar(i) = enshrined in the heart. 3. Liv = concentration of mind (connect with God). Bayrra = boat. Toolhurra = raft. 4.

MEANING: The world is operating under the influence of the three effects of Maya; only the devotees in the shelter of Satguru are imparted the wisdom to realize this fact (so as to break loose from the bonds of Maya). One can confirm the fact from the holy saints that one can get freedom from the bonds of Maya only by applying his mind to (by keeping in mind) Waheguru's Naam. 1. Rise above the three effects of Maya (abandon them) and focus on attaining the fourth spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), oh my mind. But that happens only when you sing Waheguru's praise all the time to embed His Naam in the heart. Pause. People grow spiritually only with Waheguru's Naam and experience spiritual death when they forget it. The world is blind to ignorance, and, unaware, people are robbed of noble qualities (by the five demons). 2. On the other hand, Guru's Sikhs stay awake against (are aware of) the attacks of the demons and focus their mind on Waheguru's Naam with full devotion, as a result of which they are ferried across the world sea and find salvation, oh my brothers. 3. Those who come to Guru's shelter with full devotion, concentrate on Waheguru's Naam, which is the boat and the raft to cross the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Nanak Satgur(u) milaiy ta ukheen vaykhaiy, ghuraiy undar(i) Sach(u) paayay. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Sookh Saagar(u) = source of all comforts. Hoarthaiy = any other place. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Dhaahi = cry loudly; wailing. 1.
Praani = oh, man. Jaahinga = will go; will die. Pause.
Dhaat(u) = (running around) for Maya. Kerm = rituals. Kmaaveh(i) = performs. Sundhiya = three-times-a-day (idol) worship. Turpun = offering water to the ancestors. Gayathri = A Hindu holy mantra consisting of three lines. Bin(u) Boojhaiy = without understanding the real objective of life, and Waheguru. 2. Jun = devotees. Triptaasay = contented. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 3. Mug(u) = path (to union with God). Ukheen Vaykhaiy = see with one's own eyes. 4.

MEANING: Satguru is the only source of all comforts in this world; there is no comfort anywhere else. The world is suffering from the disease of selfishness and ego because of which it keeps taking births and dying, and wails in suffering. 1. Serve the Satguru to accomplish comforts, you will waste away your precious human life and leave this world in suffering, oh man. Pause. The man performs many religious rituals under the influence of the three effects of Maya, with which he cannot enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. He does perform idol worship three times a day, offers water to the ancestors, and recites the Gayathri mantra, but without understanding the real objective of life and without reciting Waheguru's Naam, he suffers greatly. 2.

That devotee is highly fortunate whom Waheguru connects with Satguru and provides the opportunity to serve the Guru. Such devotees get rid of their selfishness and ego by reciting Waheguru's Naam, and they feel fully contented by drinking the sweet Naam-Amrit. 3.
This world is blind in the darkness of ignorance, and all its deeds are based on ignorance. They cannot find the path of righteousness without the Guru. If they connect with the Guru, they can see reality with their own eyes when they find Waheguru in their own heart, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Bhermaayee = wanders misled. Deen = helpless; humble. 1. Daata = provider; source of bliss. Aadhaaray = support; fofod (for the soul). Pause. Munsa = desires; wishes. Doobidha = indecisiveness; choosing between God and Maya. Sehj(i) = spiritual state of blissfulness. Apaara = limitless Waheguru. Chaakh(i) = by tasting. Kilvikh = sins. 2. Murhou = be dead for (kill) worldly desires. Jeevhou Sud Hee = become immortal (by merging into Waheguru). Koyee = some rare person. 3. Daat(i) = gift (of Naam). Bhaavaiy = likes. Jaapeh(i) = becomes visible; gets recognized. Sayee = that. 4.
MEANING: One suffers a great deal without Satguru and wanders around (spends his life) misled in any of the four eons (contrary to the beliefs of Hinduism, the Natural laws are the same no matter what eon it is). We are Your humble slaves, and You are the Lord in every eon; please give us the wisdom (to serve You) by Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 1. Please, be kind, and connect me with the Guru, which is the source of Your Naam, and by which I may connect with You, oh dear Waheguru. Satguru will bestow me with Your Naam, which is the basis of my life. Pause. I have killed (overcome) all my worldly desires as a result of which my indecisiveness (struggle to choose between Waheguru and Maya) has disappeared, and I have realized the Naam of the limitless Waheguru, and now I am fully absorbed in the blissful state of mind. Waheguru's Naam is the destroyer of all sins; my mind has been purified on tasting Waheguru's sweet Naam. 2. When one kills his worldly desires with Guru's Shabad, he becomes "one" with Waheguru and lives forever; he never experiences death again. Waheguru's Naam, which makes one immortal, is always sweet, but some rare devotee acquires it (in the Guru's shelter). 3.

The Lord, Waheguru, controls the invaluable gift of His Naam and gives only to the devotee whom He likes. Those who are imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam enjoy blissfulness and are recognized (honoured) in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Naamay = with the Naam. Naam(i) = in the Naam (Waheguru). 1. Bauraana = crazy; daft. Jhootthaiy = false; misleading. Bhoolaana = misled. Pause. Bundhun = bonds. Kmaayay = performs deeds. Oobhou = standing; waiting. 2. Verteh(i) = operates. Chautha Pud = fourth spiritual level (above the three effects of Maya). Cheenaiy = recognizes; attains. 3. Nistaara = freedom from the bonds of Maya; emancipation. 4.

MEANING: One attains a high level of concentration of mind (on Waheguru's Naam) and the wisdom that leads to a high spiritual level only when he serves Satguru. Waheguru's eternal Naam appears in his heart, and he gets absorbed in Him by virtue of His Naam. 1
The whole world is insane without Waheguru's Naam; the follower of his mind is blind and knows nothing about Guru's Shabad. He is misled by his false beliefs. Pause.
He is misled by his misgivings about Maya, which have three effects, and performs deeds to boost his ego, thereby becoming more strongly bonded to Maya. Births and deaths watch him carefully, and he suffers as he goes through different life forms. 2.
The whole world operates under the influence of the three effects of Maya and loses its dignity because of its selfishness and ego. But a Sikh of the Guru attains the fourth (highest) spiritual level and enjoys blissfulness with Waheguru's Naam. 3.
You are the creator of everything including the three effects of Maya; and everything happens as per Your wish, oh Waheguru. One overcomes his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and gets salvaged with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.12.

MEANING: Dear Waheguru operates in (manages) the whole world Himself, yet He is completely detached from it. (Being present in the living beings), He, Himself, is the businessman in the entire world, and Himself the eternal (inexhaustible) source of all needed materials. He, Himself, is the trader in the daily trading (business) of the world, and Himself is its Reliable Provider. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise with the grace of the Guru, oh my mind. Dear Waheguru, which is the real Amrit (sustains the life of the world), is physically inaccessible and unfathomable. Pause.

He listens to the needs of the world, sees everything, makes people make wishes of their choice, and makes them sing His praise with their tongue. He misleads some, so that they can find no right way of life, as if they were in a wilderness, while He shows others the right path of life. He, Himself, is everything in the world (the world is in His full control, and people simply dance to His tune), yet He is carefree. 2. He creates the world, and puts everybody to daily business designed by Him for each individual. Waheguru Himself prepares everybody for the business designed for him, and everybody dies when He kills them. He, Himself, is the ford (boat launching area), and Himself the boat to ferry the people across the sea of Maya. 3. He, Himself, is the world-sea, and Himself the ship which is steered by the Guru-Captain, and Himself propels it. Word Meaning: Chautha = fourth. (It is a reminder that Mehla number is to be read as First, Second, Third, etc. and not like one, two, three). Unduj = from eggs. Jayruj = placenta; live birth. Saytuj = from bacteria or virus. Ootbhooj = from vegetation. Khund = parts of the universe. Loyay = worlds; planets. Soot(u) = thread; string (for necklace). Muniyaa = beads. Shakti = Maya. Proyay = string the beads. Sootdhaar(u) = support (strength) for the world-necklace. Khinchay = pulls out the string. Dheh(i) Dhayri = collapses to a pile. 1. Nidhaan(u)= treasure. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Choyay = feeds dropwise. Pause. Thul(i) = on the land. Rijk(u) = food and other necessities. Smaahnda = delivers. 2. Nirmulaa = purifier. Keemut = worth. Alukh = invisible; incomprehensible. 3. Gehr = deep; unfathomable. Gumbheer(u) = never changing; unaffected by anything. Jayvud(u) = as great. Ghut = hearts. Bhogvaiy = enjoys. Naari = woman. Purakh = man. Goopt = hidden. Pergut(u) = visible; appears. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the source of all the four sources of reproduction; Himself the smaller parts of the world, and Himself the planets. He, Himself, is the thread; Himself the countless beads; and Himself strings the beads-like world into a necklace, using Maya as the thread (the binding force). He provides the strength to the thread of the world-necklace, which collapses into a pile of dust when He pulls away the thread. 1. There is no other provider (support) for the world than Waheguru, oh my mind. Satguru possesses the treasure of Waheguru's Amrit-Naam, which He kindly injects dropwise (so as to be absorbed fully) in the mouth of the devotees (for them to recite the Naam with the tongue). Pause. Dear Waheguru is present in everybody, in the waters, and on the land; and only that happens that He wishes to do. He delivers food and other necessities of life to everybody, and there is no one else like Him. He makes people act the way He wants them to, and only what He wants happens in the world. 2. He is perfectly pure Himself and is the only purifier of the minds of His living beings. He alone knows His worth, and things happen only the way He chooses. He is invisible and is beyond comprehension, but He can show (reveal) Himself as He pleases. 3. He is unfathomable and never changes with external conditions; there is no one else as great as He is. He is present in every male and female, thus enjoying all the tastes of life. The dear Waheguru operates hidden in the world, but reveals Himself in the heart of a Gur Sikh, oh Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: Waheguru alone controls the whole universe, and creates and destroys it at His Will. He watches His own amazing feats and blooms at heart (enjoys them). He is present everywhere - in the forests, and in vegetation; He reveals Himself through the Guru. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam so as to feel contentment with its sweet essence, oh my mind. The devotee, who tastes Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with Guru's Shabad, finds it extremely sweet. Pause. Waheguru Himself is the holy place, and Himself the raft on which He swims across (ferries His devotees across) the sea of Maya. Waheguru Himself casts the net of Maya in which He, Himself (as the living beings) gets trapped by the gimmicks of Maya, like the fish which are attracted by the bait. Waheguru is infallible and never makes a mistake; there is none other like Him to be found. 2. (Being present in everybody), Waheguru Himself is the trumpet of the Yogis who blow into it, and He Himself is the music produced by the trumpet, and He Himself plays the tune of His choice. Waheguru Himself is the Yogi, and Himself endures the hardships of self-affliction (as some people do to please some deity). Waheguru is the Satguru, Himself the disciple, and Himself preaches to the world. 3. Waheguru, Himself exhorts (motivates) people to recite His Naam, and (being present in them), it is He who recites His Naam. He Himself is the Amrit (holy liquid of immortality), and Himself the sweetness in it. Waheguru Himself sings His praise, and the devotees are fully contented by its sweetness, oh Nanak. 4.3.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the weighing scale, Himself the operator to weigh, and Himself weighs the load (the operation of the whole universe) in terms of the qualities of the individuals, their needs, and their deeds. (Being present in everybody), He Himself is the Lord and the trader, and Himself strikes deals (decides) for the living beings in terms of the path of life which they must follow (moral or immoral living). He, Himself, has created the earth, and balanced it with almost no weight in the other pan of the weighing scale (has held it in position without any visible support). 1. Dear Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of Amrit; the Perfect Guru instills it in the minds of His Sikhs, who find it to be very sweet. I have realized great comfort by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Pause. Waheguru, Himself is the earth, and the water (He is present everywhere), and whatever is happening, is caused by Him. He operates (controls) the world with His Huqam (laws), and has contained the oceans in the land. He creates His own fear in the minds of the living beings, and can cause a goat (a very humble man) to tie up a lion (a powerful, wicked man), and walk him (the latter) around (fully control him). 2. Waheguru Himself is the wood, and Himself has placed fire in it (fire can be generated in the dry wood when two pieces are rubbed (grazed) very hard against each other, yet the internal fire does not burn the wood) by the Huqam of Waheguru. He, Himself, kills and brings the living beings to life, and they breathe only with His Huqam. 3. Waheguru, Himself is the force (power) and Himself the monarch, and puts the world to business. The living beings lead their life exactly the way Waheguru commands them, and as He pleases. He Himself is the musical instrument, and Himself plays it; I am His slave, and dance to His tune, oh Nanak. 4.4.

MEANING: Dear Waheguru creates the world Himself (as He wishes) with the sun and the moon as the two lamps to provide light and energy. He is the power to the powerless, and the pride for the weak who have no self-esteem. He is perfectly wise, and knows the needs of every living being, and is kind to protect them. 1. Gopi = cow girls. Kahn = Krishna. Bun(i) = forest; meadows. Saanvul = dark coloured. Soondra = handsome (Krishna). Vuns = flute. Vujaaha = blows into; plays (Krishna used to graze cows with young cow girls in the meadows of Brindabun by the banks of River Yamuna. He also used to play flute). Koovulliyapeerr(u) = an elephant which Kans (Krishna's maternal uncle) sent to kill Krishna. Koovulli = incurable (disease). Peerr(u) = pain. Baaluk Roop = child Krishna. Puchaaha = caused to suffer; destroyed. 2. Akhaarra = ring for wrestling and other athletic events. Chojaaha = amazing feats. Chundoor(u) and Kays(u) were two of the very strongest wrestlers of Kuns(u). Kuns(u) = Krishna's maternal uncle and the ruler of Mathura. He tried many times to get Krishna killed. He Himself makes them sing His praise, and causes them to be absorbed in the Guru's Shabad. He, Himself, is the pen and the writer, and Himself writes the fortune of the people. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam zestfully, oh my mind. With good fortune, when you do that, you will be connected with the Guru, whereby you will be able to earn the benefit of blissfulness all the time, oh my mind. Pause.

Because He is present in everybody, it was indeed Waheguru who was the young cowgirls and Krishna who were grazing cows in the meadows of Bridabun by the banks of the River, Yamuna. It was the handsome Waheguru present in the dark Krishna who was playing flute. It was Waheguru, in the form of child Krishna, who killed the elephant Koovulliyapeerr(u), sent by Kuns(u) to kill Krishna. 2. Waheguru, Himself, creates the world as a rink (for sports of deeds) and watches His amazing feats. He created the child Krishna to kill Kuns(u) and his two very strong wrestlers – Chundoor and Kays(u). Waheguru Himself gives the power to people, but smashes the power of the foolish and the stupid (conceited). 3. Waheguru creates the whole world but keeps control over the lifestyles (activities) of its people in His own hands, like the owner of an animal, who controls it with a leash and which moves in the direction the owner pulls its chain. Whoever is overcome by his conceit (ego), is destroyed by Waheguru, while His devotees merge into Him by worshipping Him, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Like a rainbird which cannot live without the rainwater and wails for that, my thirst for Waheguru's Naam- Amrit does not go away (and I am suffering). Guru's Sikh acquires the Amrit-water of Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter with his love and dedication, and his heart blooms in the comfort of the high spiritual state. 2.
(On the other hand), A Maya-engrossed man is always discontented while his mind runs uncontrolled in every direction, and he suffers without Waheguru's Naam. He gets punished in Waheguru's Court and keeps taking rebirths. 3.
But, if Waheguru is kind to him, he begins to sing Waheguru's praise and enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in his heart. My Waheguru has been kind to me, and the fire of my worldly desires has been put out by Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.8.

MEANING: A man achieves success in his objective (of union with Waheguru) if he is able to get rid of his selfishness and ego, which are extremely difficult to control. With such control over his senses, he acquires a new wisdom, whereby his mind is pierced by the arrows of love for Waheguru, and all his misgivings are dispelled. 1. I am a slave of Yours, oh Waheguru. Kindly grant me the honour to be enlightened with Your Naam with Guru's wisdom and of staying in Your shelter all the time (obey Your Will). Pause.

This world is a temporary home where everybody comes and goes (takes birth and dies); so, remember Waheguru (keep Him in mind) all the time, oh my ignorant and foolish mind. However, one gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam only if He is benevolent to connect him with the Guru. 2. Only Waheguru knows the worth of His invaluable possession (His Naam), and only that lucky individual receives it whom Waheguru grants Himself. This invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam) is unparalleled in beauty, is inaccessible, and incomprehensible. Only the Perfect Satguru "shows" the invisible item - Waheguru's Naam. (One acquires it only in Satguru's shelter). 3. The sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam is like the sweet dish of a mute person who cannot describe its taste; only the individual who has enjoyed its taste knows it. However, like a shiny jewel, the bearer of Waheguru's Naam cannot hide it even if he tries very hard to do so. 4. Everything belongs to You, and You are the Lord of everyone, oh the omniscient Waheguru. Only Waheguru can give the gift of His Naam to select people, and nobody else has that ability, says Nanak, the slave of Waheguru. 5.9.
