Word Meaning: Titookay = Shabads with each stanza having three sentences. Jaacheen = (I) wish for. Araadheen = (I) worship. Keeta = created; predetermined. Vudayra = great; rich. Khaakoo = dust. Rulsi = will mix (be a part of). Nirunkar = formless (God). Bhuv-khundun = destroyer of rebirths. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of the world. 1. Daateen = largesse. Raajaan = fully contented. Maanus(u) = man. Buppurra = poor; powerless. Salaaheen = to praise. Moohtaaja = subservience; indebtedness. Pause. Bhookh = appetite for worldly attractions. Nikhoot(i) = never ending. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Smaanay = getting absorbed. 2.
Undin(u) = every day; always. Vukhaani = recite. Oopdaysh(u) = teachings. Kaan(i) = indebtedness. Jumaani = of the Jum (Angel of death). Kirpal(u) = kind. 3.
Duyyaala = merciful. Vertaiy = operates; happens. Baal = children. Goopaala = oh, God. Jun(u) = slave; devotee. Kirpaala = oh, kind God. 4.

MEANING: I can be contented only with Your largess, oh my Waheguru. What power does the poor man have to deserve any praise, and what for should I be indebted to him, oh Waheguru? Pause. Who should I wish for (pray to), or worship for blessings, when I know that only those things will happen which have been predetermined by God for everybody? All those so-called great or rich people will eventually mix with (will become a part of) dust. The fearless, formless, and the destroyer of rebirths, Waheguru, is the only one who provides all the comforts of the nine mythical treasures of the world. 1.
Whosoever worships God acquires everything he wishes for, and all his appetite for worldly possessions is gone. Waheguru, which is the provider for all comforts, gives His devotees such wealth (of His Naam) which neither runs out nor leaves them somewhere else. Waheguru first connects His devotees to Satguru, and then Satguru connects them with Waheguru. They enjoy bliss and remain absorbed in a high spiritual state. 2.

Remember Waheguru, worship Him, and recite His Naam all the time, oh my mind. Listen to (and act on) the Teachings of the Guru and of the other holy saints, oh my mind. By doing so, all your indebtedness (of your bad deeds, if any) to the Angel of justice will be cleared. Those, whom Waheguru is kind to, start to recite Guru's Bani (Shabads). 3.
You are kind to all living beings, but who can determine the worth of Your kindness, oh Waheguru? Everything happens as per Your will; who are we ignorant children to go against Your Will, oh, the provider and nourisher of the world, Waheguru? I, Nanak, am Your slave; please protect me from the attacks of Maya like a father protects his children from any danger, oh kind Waheguru. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Chautookay = Shabads with each stanza having four sentences. Salaahiyaiy = sing praise. Bhaayee = oh, brothers. Dhaar = by embedding. Kurni = performance; act. Saar = supreme. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Chhaar = ash; dust. Vaariya = to sacrifice life. Ekunkaar = Waheguru. Adhaar = basis of life. 1. Soyee = that. Sach(u) = everlasting (Waheguru). Janaaya = gave the understanding. Tis(u) = that (Waheguru). Uver(u) = other. Pause. Vihoonay = without; devoid of. Puch(i) = in agony. Soach = purity of mind. Agumm = inaccessible. Dhunee = Lord; Waheguru. Aavun(u) Jaan(u) = birth and death. Chookyee = removed; broken. Jhootthi = false; short-lived. Dooni = of the world. Munee = pride; respect. Koat(i) = millions. Oodhaarda = salvages. Kunee = a drop; a very small amount. 2. Sodhiya = analyzed. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Anik = countless. Kerm = rituals. Thaakiya = exhausted. Bundhun = bonds (of Maya). Chaaray Koondaan = all the four directions. Jaayay = room (in God's Court). Vudbhaageen = fortunate. 3. Nirmula = pure; holy. Nudr(i) = (kind) sight. Praaput(i) = acquirement. Mudhay = in; among. Virla = rare. Rutta = imbued. 4.

MEANING: We should sing praise of Waheguru, Guru, by enshrining His Naam in body and mind, oh my brothers. To embed the everlasting Waheguru's Naam in one's mind is the supreme act in one's life. The mind, in which Waheguru's Naam does not sprout, will eventually become a part of dust (even though all bodies turn into dust, but the devotees' souls merge into Waheguru). I am a sacrifice to the holy saints who worship Waheguru as the basis of their lives. 1. Only that eternal power (Waheguru) should be worshipped, which is the cause of all happenings, oh my brothers. The Perfect Guru has clarified that there is none other like Him. Pause. Countless people, who are devoid of Waheguru's Naam, die in agony. One's mind cannot be cleansed without Waheguru's Naam, because only the inaccessible Waheguru is the purifier. One's respect in society is false (short-lived), and the cycle of birth and death for him never gets broken. (On the other hand), A Sikh of the Guru salvages countless people by implanting Waheguru's Naam with a drop of the Naam-Amrit in their heart. 2. I have analyzed all the Simritis and the Shastras, but one's misgivings are not dispelled without Satguru. One may grow exhausted from performing countless rituals, yet one's bonds with Maya grow stronger and stronger. I have searched in all four directions, but there is no room in Waheguru's Court for you without (taking the shelter of) Satguru, oh my friends. The people with great fortune get connected with the Guru, and recite Waheguru's Naam in His shelter. 3. Waheguru is always pure, and so are the Sikhs of the Guru (who worship Waheguru). But only those individuals get to acquire His Naam whom He is kind to. But such devotees are very rare - maybe one in a million. I am imbued in Waheguru's Naam, listening to which, my body and mind have become pure, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Jun Nanak deen shern(i) aayo Prubh, subh(u) laykha rukhou oothhaayee. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Juou Luou = as long as. Bhaaou Abhaaou = love and hate; likes and dislikes. Maanaiy = believes in; practises. Tuou Luou = till then. Dooraayee = distance; separation. Aan = other. Apna = minme. Beech(u) = between. Bikhaayee = poisonous Maya. 1. Maadhvay = oh, Waheguru. Boojhaayee = understanding; wisdom.

Guhoun = I hold; seek. Oat = shelter; support. Moohut and Chusaayee are both units of a very short time. Pause. Moogudh = foolish; ignorant. Achayt = unaware. Chunchul Chit = fickle mind. Praanput(i) = Lord of life (God). Tiyaag(i) = abandoning. Aan = with the other (Maya). Ruchiya = mingled well; friends with. Oorjhiyou = deeply involved with. Bairaayee = enemies; evils. 2. Soag(u) = grief. Biyaapaiy = befalls; attacks. Aap(u) = self; selfish interests. Thaapaiy = establishes; promotes. Saakut = Maya-engrossed individual. Bukna = senseless talk. Jhoolaayee = blows away. 3. Praadh(u) = sins; bad deeds. Achhaadiyou = covered. Laykha = account of deeds. Ootthaayee = carry; keep it to Yourself. 4.

MEANING: As long as a man has likes and dislikes for people (based on their relationships with him, and on other factors like colour, creed, ethnicity, etc.), he will stay separated from God till then. When a person makes a distinction between his own (people) and the others in his treatment (favours his friends only), he has a wall of poisonous Maya between him and God. 1. Kindly, grant me the wisdom to take the shelter of the Guru or other holy saints, so that I may not forget You, even for a moment, oh Waheguru. Pause.

Oh, my foolish, unaware (ignorant), and fickle mind, why don't you realize that you have ignored the Lord of your life, Waheguru, and have a strong bond with your enemies (the five demons), because of which you are deeply involved in evil deeds? 2.

The devotees of Waheguru get the wisdom in the company of the holy saints by which they do not promote their selfish interests, as a result of which, no grief befalls them. Also, consider the senseless talk of a Maya-engrossed person as baseless as blowing wind, in which lighter things like papers or dust are blown away, and have no permanent place.

3. (The kind) Waheguru keeps a cover on countless shameful deeds of the man about which nothing can be said (as they are not known to others). I, Nanak, am a humble devotee of Waheguru, and have come to His shelter. Kindly keep the account of my bad and immoral deeds to Yourself, oh dear Waheguru. 4.3.

Ood(i) jaayaygo dhoom(u) baadro, ikk(u) bhaajhou Ram(u) sunayhi. Ruhaou. Teen(i) sungiya kur(i) dayhi keeni, jul, kookur, bhusmayhi. Hoyay aamro greh(i) meh(i) baiyttha, Kern Kaarun bisrohi. 2. Anik bhaant(i) kur(i) muniyay saajay, kaachay taag(i) purohi. Toot(i) jaayaygo soot(u) baapuray, phir(i) paachhaiy puchhtohi. 3. Jin(i) toom sirjay, sirj(i) suvaaray, Tis(u) dhiyaavhou din(u) raiynahi. Jun Nanak Prubh kirpa dhaari, mein Satgur oat guhayhi. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Kluttar = Bunita = wife. Loak = people; relatives. Greh(i) = house. Sunbundhayhi = relations. Unt Kee Baar = at the time of death. Khura = pure; selfless; helpful; Hosi = will. Mithiya = false. Usnayhi = those who love. 1. Puporhou = pamper; treat well. Dayhi = body. Ood(i) = fly away; disappear. Dhoom(u) Baadro = clouds of smoke. Bhaajhou = worship. Snayhi = loving. Pause. Teen Sungiya = collection of three. Jul = (thrown in) water. Kookur = (feed to) dogs or other animals. Bhusmayhi = burn (in fire). Aamro = immortal. Kern Kaarun = Waheguru.

Bisrohi = forgets. 2. Anik Bhaant(i) = in countless ways. Muniyay = beads. Saajay = created. Kaachay Taag(i) = raw (weak) thread. Purohi = stringed. Soot(u) = cotton (thread). Baapuray = poor; weak. Paachhaiy = afterwards. Puchhtohi = repent. 3. Sirjay = created. Tis(u) = Him (Waheguru). Rainahi = night. Guhayhi = held. 4.
MEANING: All relatives of the man in his life, including his sons, wife, friends, and other relatives, are bonded to him because of Maya (their worldly needs and desires); none of them stands with (supports) him at the time of his death, proving that all their love for him was false. 1. (When you know that you are not going to live here forever), then what do you pamper your body for, oh man? Like a cloud of smoke, you will disappear quickly; so, worship the loving (dear) Waheguru. Pause. The human body, created by God, ends in three ways: it is thrown into a river, fed to dogs or other animals (as the Parsees do), or burned or buried, which turns it into ash. Still, the ignorant man forgets Waheguru, who is the creator of everything, and he lives in the house as if he were immortal. 2.
Waheguru has created the necklace-like world, with countless forms of living beings as its beads, but the thread on which the beads are strung is very weak. When this weak thread breaks (the human soul leaves the body), the man has to repent afterward (because he did not keep Waheguru in mind). 3.
Remember Waheguru day and night, which not only created you, but also provided you with all the necessities of life. Waheguru has been very kind to me, and like a slave, I have sought the shelter of Satguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

MEANING: I was very fortunate to connect with the Perfect Guru, who enlightened my mind. Nobody else can reach the level of transcendence of my Guru; He has instilled full faith in me about my Lord, Waheguru. 1. I am always a sacrifice for my Satguru, because of whom I feel fully blissful in my heart, due to my high spiritual state, and will enjoy similar comfort in the next world. Pause. My Lord is omniscient and the creator of the world. By dropping on the feet of (surrendering myself to) the Satguru, I have become fearless (no worldly fear affects me), and Waheguru's Naam alone has become the basis of my life. 2. Waheguru is unaffected by time; He has been, and will always be here. His holy sight is the source of success (in achieving union with Him). He protects His devotees by holding them to His neck (embracing them) affectionately. 3.
With Waheguru's great magnificence and with His amazing splendour, I have achieved the objective of my life (union with Him) successfully. I was lucky to be connected with the Perfect Guru, because of whom all my suffering and troubles have been eradicated, oh Nanak. 4.5.

MEANING: Everybody appears to be comfortable to the individual who lives in comfort; likewise, a sick man thinks that everybody is sick. But, the Lord, Waheguru, who has created the world, keeps comforts and discomforts for individuals in His own hands (under His control). 1. Similarly, the devotee, who has gotten rid of his misgivings by recognizing Waheguru's presence everywhere, thinks that nobody is misled in life, oh my mind. Pause. A devotee, who has achieved peace of mind in the shelter of the Guru, believes that everybody enjoys peace of mind. But an individual who is suffering from the disease of haumein, wails (and cries for help) all his life from birth to death. 2.

The individual, who gets the kohl of Divine Knowledge in the eyes of his mind, gets fully enlightened; but, the Maya-engrossed individual cannot see any light (have clear thinking) in the darkness of ignorance, and continues to be misled in life again and again. 3.
Listen to Nanak's request, oh, my Lord: I wish that my mind finds comfort in the shelter of the Guru wherever He sings Your praise. 4.6.

Undh Koop = dark well. Nibaahi = support till the end. 4.

MEANING: I offered my body, my wealth, and my mind to the holy saints by whose grace I recited Waheguru's Naam, and everything became all well (successful) for me. 1.
There is no other provider (of Waheguru's Naam) than the holy saints. All those who take shelter of the Guru are salvaged by Him. Pause. Millions of sins are erased when one serves the super devotees of Waheguru, and when he sings Waheguru's praise with sweetness and reverence in their company. One attains blissfulness in this world by serving the devotees of Waheguru, and goes with a shiny face (pure heart) to the next world; but it is only with great fortune that one gets to enjoy the company of such devotees. 2.
How much can you praise a super devotee with one tongue when he (the holy saint) is overflowing with countless virtues? We should seek shelter in the holy saints who are "one" with the inaccessible, incomprehensible, and immortal Waheguru. 3.
I am devoid of any noble quality, am ignoble, without any spiritual guide, and I am a sinner, but I wish for the shelter of the holy saints. I am drowning in the dark well of worldly attachments. Please protect me till the end, oh Waheguru, begs Nanak. 4.7.

Millions of sins are eradicated by reciting Waheguru's Naam even for a moment in the shelter of the Guru, and one swims across the world sea. 1. Take in the sweet Naam-Amrit of Waheguru, oh, the knowledgeable and wise man. One's mind gets great contentment by listening to the Amrit-like Shabad of the Guru. Pause. Pergut bhuyyee suglay joog untar(i) Gur Nanak kee vudiyaayee. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Ishnaan(u) = bathing (cleansing of mind). Simer = remember (Waheguru). Aroaga = healthy (disease-free). Bighun = obstructions; impediments. Laathay = are removed. Bhulay Sunjoga = favourable combination. 1. Soobhaakhiya = spiritually beautiful utterings (narrations). Pause. Amit(i) = immeasurable. Vudaayee = greatness. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of His worship. Paiyj = dignity. Aad(i) = from the beginning. Bird(u) = innate nature. 2.

MEANING: By reciting Waheguru's Naam, one bathes and cleanses his mind in the pool of Naam-Amrit, as a result of which his mind and body, both, become completely healthy. When a favourable combination of fortunes comes together, one seeks Waheguru's shelter, as a result of which, millions of impediments in life are eradicated. 1. Satguru has spoken beautiful Shabads in praise of Waheguru. Sing, listen to, and recite Satguru's Shabad all the time, and the Perfect Guru will protect you, oh my brother. Pause.
The eternal Lord has immeasurable magnificence, loves His devotees, and is always kind. It is an innate great virtue of Waheguru from the very beginning that He protects His devotees and nurtures them. 2. Take in the Naam-Amrit of Waheguru as your spiritual food at all times, and always recite it with your tongue. By singing praise of Waheguru all the time, one loses the fear of old age, death, and all types of suffering. 3. With the grace of Guru Nanak, whose glory (greatness) has spread all over the world, the Lord, Waheguru, has listened to my request and has given me all the powers (to fight against the attacks of Maya). 4.

NOTE: Most of the time, the word "Ishnaan" meaning bathing, has been used to imply cleansing of the mind in Sri Guru Granth Sahib, and not of the body. Washing the body to keep it clean and to shake off laziness is important, but not required in Sikhism. Guru Sahiban have disapproved of any ritualistic bathing in holy places as a means to cleanse the mind. Out of scores of such Shabads, only a couple are given below in which "Ishnaan" clearly implies cleansing of mind.

- ਸੋਰਠਿ ਮਹਲਾ 1 ਅਸਟਪਦੀ (636)॥ --- ਜਲਿ ਮਲਿ ਕਾਇਆ ਮਾਜੀਐ ਭਾਈ ਭੀ ਮੈਲਾ ਤਨ ਹੋਇ॥ ਗਿਆਨਿ ਮਹਾ ਰਸਿ ਨਾਈਐ ਭਾਈ ਮਨੁ ਤਨੁ ਨਿਰਮਲ ਹੋਇ॥ --------

Meaning: We wash our bodies with water by rubbing them well, but they get dirty again. But, if we take a bath in the great-tasting Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam), our body and mind both get purified, oh my friends.

- ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5 (188)॥ ਸੰਤ ਕੀ ਧੂਰਿ ਮਿਟੇ ਅਘ ਕੋਟਿ॥ ਸੰਤ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ ਜਨਮ ਮਰਨ ਤੇ ਛੋਟ॥ ਸੰਤ ਕਾ ਦਰਸੁ ਪੂਰਨ ਇਸਨਾਨ॥ ਸੰਤ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਤੇ ਜਪੀਐ ਨਾਮੁ॥ ----- 46॥

Meaning: Millions of sins are eradicated by the dust of the feet of the Guru (by reciting and acting upon His Shabads). One is relieved of the birth-death cycle with the grace of the Guru. The sight of the Guru is the perfect bath in itself because we recite Waheguru's Naam (and cleanse our mind) by His grace. ------ 46.

Both these Shabads prove beyond doubt that "Ishnaan" or bathing implies cleansing of mind.

I will massage Your feet, wash them by rubbing them well, and offer my mind to You. I have come to Your shelter; please advise me on how to connect with Waheguru, oh my dear friend, Guru Ji. 2. Offer your soul, mind, and body in His service; this is how you get to have His holy sight, oh my friend. 3.
With the benevolence and the grace of the Guru, I have found Waheguru’s Naam to be very sweet. With the benevolence of the Guru, I, a slave of Waheguru, have “seen” the clan less Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.1.12.

Word Meaning: Koat(i) = millions; countless. Brahmund = galaxy. Daata = provider. Pritpaalaiy = nourishes. Saar(i) Smaalaiy = looks after and cares well. 1.

Aaraadh(i) = worship. Jaana =know; to value. Ram Daas(u) = Slave (devotee) of Waheguru. Pause. Sookh Saagur = ocean (source) of comforts. Ghutaan = (in) hearts. Bhurpoori = omnipresent. Paykhut = sees. Doori = distance; separation. 2. Biyunt = limitless. Huoun = I, me. Mit(u) Kur(i) = Limited. Vurnoun = describe. 3. Kaytuk Baat = something amazing. Koat(i) Praadi = with countless sins. Turiya = salvaged. Paykhiya = saw. Gerbhaas(i) = in the womb. 4.2.13.

MEANING: Waheguru is the Lord of countless galaxies, and is the provider for all living beings. He nourishes and looks after us all the time. Despite all His great virtues and kindnesses, I am such an ignorant person that I have not valued even a single of His countless noble qualities. 1.

I do not know how to express my true praise and reverence for Him; I chant words like Waheguru and Guru without understanding their deeper meaning. People still call me a devotee of Waheguru simply because of my chanting “Waheguru, and Guru”. Pause.

Waheguru, which is kind to the poor and the powerless (humble), and is the ocean of all comforts, is present in every heart. He is always with us, and sees and hears everything, but I am so foolish that I think Him to be separate (far away) from us. 2.

Waheguru is limitless, but I describe Him as being limited. What do I know about what He is like? I pray to my Satguru to educate the foolish me about Waheguru. 3.

I do not know what there is about me that, despite the fact that I am foolish and have committed countless sins, I have still been salvaged. (There is one thing for sure that) those, who have seen Guru Nanak with their mental eyes, and have “listened” to His Preaching (and acted on them), are never born again in any life form. 4.2.13.

MEANING: Listen to this amazing happening, oh my friends; the Waheguru, about which we had heard that He is beyond our comprehension, has been "shown" by Satguru in my heart (Satguru has connected me with Him). Pause. Now all my doubts and worries have been cleared, and I am fully absorbed in the high spiritual state. Also, all my senses have become comforting to my mind, and my inverted mind (turned away from Maya and towards Waheguru) has bloomed in bliss. 1. Those demons (lust, greed, rage, etc.) which used to torment me before have been frightened now (are under my control, and no longer affect me). Now, they rather beg me to save them from the wrath of Waheguru, and assure me that they will be my slaves as they are in my shelter now. 2. Waheguru has thrown open the doors to the treasure of His worship, but only those lucky individuals who have it predestined for them by Waheguru reap its benefits. The Guru has kindly given me the jewel (Waheguru's Naam) because of which my body and my mind have become peaceful. 3. The Guru has given me only a drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with which I will no longer experience spiritual death as I have become "one" with the eternal Waheguru. The Guru has endowed me with the treasure of Waheguru's worship, and now nobody will ask me about the account of my deeds, oh Nanak. 4. 3.14.

Churnaara = lotus-like feet (of Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: By worshipping Waheguru, a man becomes completely healthy – mentally and physically - and attains blissfulness. On the other hand, forgetting the loving Waheguru results in countless sufferings for the individual. Pause. The man, whose mind is completely devoted to the lotus-like soft Feet of Waheguru (His Naam), feels fully contented. But the individual, who does not get Waheguru's Naam implanted in his heart, always feels thirsty for worldly desires. 1. Those who seek Waheguru's shelter are blissful in there. But those who forget the carver of our fates - the omnipresent Waheguru - are among the sufferers. 2. By listening to the Advice of the Guru, those who get completely absorbed in Waheguru's Naam enjoy great blissfulness, but those who forget Waheguru and turn their faces away from the Guru (do not heed His Advice) are put to suffer in torturous hell (frightening cycle of rebirths). 3. (But we cannot entirely blame such individuals) because they simply perform the way they are predestined by Waheguru, and such is their behaviour. I have taken shelter of the holy saints (the Guru), as a result of which of I am fully absorbed (am unaware of the surroundings) in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.4.15.

It perfectly behoves a devotee that he believes in the nearness of Waheguru to him, serves Satguru, and feels fully contented with singing His praise. Pause. Just as literati are busy in (enjoying) literary activities, and a blind man feels blissful when he gets his sight back, and just as the tongue is greedy for (attracted to) different tastes, a devotee of Waheguru loves to sing His virtues (praise). 3.

Waheguru is the Master of all hearts (knows their wishes) and fulfills the wishes of their choice. I had a great thirst (yearning) for Waheguru's holy sight, and, being omniscient, He has connected me to Him, says Nanak, thankfully. 4.15.16.

Please pull me out of the world-ocean (attractions of Maya), oh Waheguru; I, Nanak, am in Your shelter. 4.15.26.

I am a sacrifice for my Satguru in whose company I realized all the rewards. 1 Waheguru did not consider any of my noble or ignoble qualities, and made both the worlds – the present and the next – highly successful for me.

My Guru placed His kind hand on my forehead, whereby my objective was achieved. Guru's Word is non-erasable (is eternal), oh Nanak. 2.21.49.

*__NOTE:__ It has already been explained earlier that when child Hargobind had a severe attack of smallpox, many people tried to convince Guru Arjun Sahib to worship the goddess Seetla (which was thought to be causing the deadly disease), but Guru Sahib refused to worship any such goddess. He preached to the people that Waheguru is the greatest of all, and He (Guru Sahib) had full faith that the child would be saved by the benevolence of Guru Nanak. When Hargobind Ji fully recovered from the attack, Guru Sahib wrote many Shabads in praise of Waheguru to help people have faith in Him. This is just one of many such Shabads.

Whosoever takes a dip in that pool finds salvation - not just for himself, but for his associates too. Pause. When one takes a dip in that pool, Waheguru becomes a shield for Him (to protect him), and no spiritual harm is done (by the demons) to him at all. The Guru causes such a dip successfully, and all sins are eradicated by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 1. The whole world sings praise of such a holy pool (gathering) and realizes the wishes of their mind. They recite Waheguru's Naam and acquire bliss and happiness. 2. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, an individual becomes free from the cycle of rebirths; so, he never dies or takes birth again. 3. But only that individual internalizes this Divine thinking to whom Waheguru becomes kind. I sought Waheguru's shelter (surrendered to Him) whereby all the accounts of my deeds have been erased, oh Nanak. 4.7.57.

MEANING: A newly married bride, whose husband has gone away to some other land, yearns for his company in the romantic rainy season when the sky is fully overcast with layers of pretty clouds, and the flashes of lightning scare her as she feels lonely on the bed and gets no sleep. 1. She complains to her mother that she has not heard from her dear husband this time. In the past, he would send her four letters after every koas he travelled. Pause. Using her sad state of mind caused by her separation from her husband (the root cause of which is purely physical love and which is short-lived) as an example, Guru Sahib says that how can a human bride afford to forget the extremely dear Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts (and the union of which is everlasting). (As in the olden days when people would go on the rooftop to find if their desired family member was on his/ her way home). The human bride also goes on the rooftop to look for Waheguru, but her eyes well up with tears when she cannot see Him. 2. She does not realize that Waheguru resides close by; it is the wall of selfishness and ego which separates the human bride from Waheguru and does not allow her to “see” Him. Just like the paper wall in the paper spinning toy, which obstructs our vision to look inside it when it is spinning, (even though He is so close to us), Waheguru seems far away to the ignorant human-bride because we cannot see Him. 3. The Lord of all became benevolent to me, whereby all my suffering has been eradicated. When one’s wall of selfishness and ego is demolished, he connects with the kind Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4. Emperor, Waheguru, is the treasure (source) of all virtues; the Guru connected me with Waheguru, fulfilling my wish. Now, all my misgivings have disappeared, oh my mother. Second Pause. 11.61.

MEANING: You bring back our lost spirituality (or any other desired thing), emancipate us from worldly bonds, and are the destroyer of all our suffering, oh Waheguru. But I do not perform any noble deeds, know nothing about my moral obligations (or divinity), am greedy, and a worshipper of wealth. However, people still call me (consider me) Your devotee. Kindly protect me (from the attacks of Maya) because now it is a matter of the honour of Your shelter too, oh Waheguru. 1. You are the pride of the poor (who enjoy no respect), oh Waheguru. My Waheguru transforms the insignificant individuals into important persons. I am a sacrifice to His amazing powers. Pause. When a child commits countless offences because of his natural inclination, his father reprimands and teaches him how to behave, but later hugs him too. Similarly, Waheguru forgives our past blunders and sins, and shows us the right path for the future. 2. When the omniscient Waheguru has the ability to know our sins and to forgive us, to whom can (and why should) we complain? He is not pleased just by saying or explaining His virtues; He protects our dignity (against the attacks of Maya) only when and as He pleases. I have tested all other shelters; only Waheguru's shelter is everlasting. 3. When the Lord, Waheguru, is kind, He listens to our prayers of His own volition. He connects us with the Perfect Guru, who then connects us with Waheguru (only the Guru can connect us with God) whereby all our worries get eradicated. The Guru puts Waheguru's Naam in our mouth (on our tongue to recite) as the medication (to treat our haumein) as a result of which we sleep (spend our life) in comfort, oh Nanak. 4.12.62.

Your Naam is life-giver, oh Waheguru. One swims across the world-sea (finds salvation) when he recites Your Naam as advised by the Perfect Guru. Pause. You are our adviser (guide), You listen to our problems, and You are capable of doing anything, oh, (the creator), Waheguru. You are the provider, and (being present in everybody) also the enjoyer of Your gifts; what can the helpless man do? 2. NOTE: Guru Tegh Bahadur Sahib, the Ninth Guru, spent a long time in eastern India (Bihar, Bengal and Assam), disseminating the Divine Message. Some stories from the Puranas had become very popular among the people there. Guru Sahib used them as parables to glorify Waheguru wherever possible. No matter what god was involved in these stories, Guru Sahib preached the splendour of Waheguru in each incident.
Word Meaning: Bichaarou = think of. Gunka = a prostitute who was given a parrot by a sage to put her on the path of spirituality. The sage advised her to teach the word “Ram,” meaning Waheguru, to the parrot. In the process of teaching the parrot, Gunika got so absorbed in the word “Ram” that she got connected with Waheguru.
Jus(u) = praise. Oor(i) Dhaarou = implanted in heart. Pause. Atull(u) = immortal. Dhoo (or Dhuroo) = a five-year-old son of a king who was pulled out angrily of his father’s lap by his stepmother. Dhoo was deeply hurt and went to the nearby forest to worship God at his mother's advice.
Nirbhaiy Pud = the state of fearlessness. Dookh Hurta = remover of all sufferings (Waheguru). Bidh(i) = means. Bisraaya = forgot. 1.
Shern(i) Guhee = took shelter of. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = the source of benevolence (God). Guj = elephant. A musician of the gods turned into an elephant under the curse of a sage. Once, the elephant was drinking water in the pool of god Varun, when an octopus gripped him in his tentacles and began to pull him down. The helpless elephant grabbed a lotus flower with his trunk and began praying to Vishnu, who saved him. Grah = grip. Mehma = praise; magnificence. Bernoon = describe. 2.
Ajamull(u) = People considered Ajamull(u), a Brahman of Kanauj (UP), a huge sinner when he married a prostitute (he should be considered a liberator). A sage advised him to name his youngest son “Narayan” (which means Waheguru) as his atonement for the “huge sin” which he had committed. On repeatedly using his son’s name, Ajamull(u) turned out to be a worshipper of Waheguru, and was salvaged.
Nimukh Maah(i) = in a short moment. Nistaara = emancipation; salvation. Chayt(i) = remember. Chintamun(i) = fulfiller of wishes, Waheguru. 3.
MEANING: Think of seeking Waheguru’s shelter (surrender to Him), oh my mind. Implant praise of Waheguru in your heart, remembering that even an immoral woman like Gunka was salvaged. Pause. Why have you forgotten the Lord (Waheguru), who is the destroyer of all suffering and knows all the means to salvage anyone, including Dhoo, who was salvaged, and who acquired the immortal status by remembering Him? 1.

How much more praise of Waheguru's Naam can I sing when even an elephant, who was in the grip of an octopus, and was about to drown, was freed from the tentacles of the octopus as soon as he took shelter of Waheguru and recited His Naam? 2.
Everybody knows that even a sinner like Ajamull(u) was salvaged in a short moment (when He recited Waheguru's Naam); so, you too, will be ferried across the sea of Maya (salvaged) if you remember Waheguru, which fulfills all the wishes of the people, oh Nanak. 3.4.

Soritth Mehla 9: Praani kaun(u) oopaaou kuraiy? Ja tay bhugut(i) Ram kee paavaiy, Jum ko traas(u) huraiy. 1. Ruhaou. Kaun kerrm, bidiyaa kuhou kaiysi, dherm(u) kaun(u) phoonn(i) kuryee? Kaun(u) Naam(u) Gur ja kaiy simeraiy, bhuv saagur kuou turyee? 1. Kul(i) meh(i) aik(u) Naam(u) Kirpanidh(i), jaah(i) jupaiy gut(i) paavaiy. Word Meaning: Praani = man. Oopaaou = measures; means. Traas(u) = fear. Huraiy = remove; lose. Pause. Kaun(u) = which. Kerm = rituals. Bidiya = knowledge. Dherm(u) = moral (or religious) deeds. Phoonn(i) = then. Bhuv Saagur = the world sea. 1. Kul(i) = in the world (full of aggression). Kirpa-Nidh(i) = the source of mercy. Jaah(i) = which. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Sum(i) = equal. Bidh(i) = technique. 2. Nirlaypi = detached. Niruntar(i) = continuous. Derpun Niyaayeen = like a mirror. 3.

MEANING: What means should a man use so as to enshrine Waheguru's worship (His Naam) in the heart, and dispel the fear of the Angel of death? Pause.
What rituals should one perform, what knowledge should one acquire, what high moral (or religious) obligations should one discharge, and what Naam should one recite in the shelter of the Guru, so as to swim across the sea of Maya (to find salvation)? 1.
Answer: There is only the Naam of the source of all benevolence, Waheguru, in this world full of aggression, by which one can attain a high spiritual state. Even the Vedas tell us that there is no other religious deed which equals Waheguru's Naam. 2.
The Lord of the world, Waheguru, always stays detached from all comforts or discomforts (they do not affect Him). He resides continuously in your heart like an image in a mirror (which is not visible in the dark; similarly, you cannot see Him in the darkness of ignorance of your mind), oh Nanak. 3.5.

ਸੋਰਠਿ ਮਹਲਾ 9॥ ਮਾਈ ਮੈ ਕਿਹ ਬਿਧਿ ਲਖਉ ਗੁਸਾਈ॥ ਮਹਾ ਮੋਹ ਅਗਿਆਨਿ ਤਿਮਰਿ ਮੋ ਮਨੁ ਰਹਿਓ ਉਰਝਾਈ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਸਗਲ ਜਨਮੁ ਭ੍ਰਮ ਹੀ ਭ੍ਰਮਿ ਖੋਇਓ ਨਹ ਅਸਥਿਰ ਮਤਿ ਪਾਈ॥ ਬਿਖਿਆਸਕਤ ਰਹਿਓ ਨਿਸਿ ਬਾਸੁਰ ਨਹ ਛੂਟੀ ਅਧਮਾਈ॥ 1॥ ਸਾਧ ਸੰਗੁ ਕਬਹੂ ਨਹੀ ਕੀਨਾ ਨਹ ਕੀਰਤਿ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਗਾਈ॥ ਜਨ ਨਾਨਕ ਮੈ ਨਾਹਿ ਕੋਊ ਗੁਨੁ ਰਾਖਿ ਲੇਹੁ ਸਰਨਾਈ॥ 2॥6॥

Soritth Mehla 9: Maayee, mein kih bidh(i) lukhoun Goosaayeen. Muhaa moh ugiyan(i) timmer(i) mo, mun(u) ruhhiyo oorjhaayee. 1. Ruhaou. Sugul junum(u) bherm hee bherm(i) khoyo, neh usthir mut(i) paayee. Bikhiya-sukt ruhhiyo nis(i) baasur, neh chhootee

Word Meaning: Maayee = oh, mother. Bidh(i) = means. Lukhoun = see; comprehend. Moh = attachments. Ugiyan Timmer(i) = darkness of ignorance. Mo = in. Oorjhaayee = tangled up; engrossed. Pause. Bherm Bherm(i) = wandering in the pursuit of Maya. Usthir = stability; peace. Mut(i) = wisdom. Bikhiya-Sukt = engrossed in immoral activities. Nis(i) = night. Baasur = day. Udhmaayee = ignoble thinking (activities). 1. Kubhoon Nuhee = never. Keerut = praise. Shernaayee = who seeks shelter. 2.
MEANING: Because of my ignorance, my mind is engrossed in the big attractions of Maya, which has created complete darkness in my mind; so how can I see (or comprehend) Waheguru, oh my mother? Pause. I lost (wasted) my whole life in the pursuit of Maya, and did not acquire the wisdom to have peace of mind. I stayed engrossed in immoral activities day and night and failed to get rid of my ignoble thinking. 1. I never joined the company of the holy saints, and never sang praise of Waheguru. I, Nanak, have no virtue at all, but have come to Your shelter; please protect me now, oh kind Waheguru. 2.6.

Soritth Mehla 9: Maayee, mun(u) mayro bus(i) naah(i). Nis(i) baasur bikhiun kuou dhaavut(u), kih bidh(i) roakoon taah(i). 1. Ruhaou. (PAGE 633): Jub hee shern(i) Sadh kee aayo, doormut(i) sugul binaasee. Tub Nanak chaytiyo Chintamun(i), kaati Jum kee phaasi. 3.7.
Word Meaning: Bus(i) = in control. Bikhiun = vices. Dhaavut = rushes. Bidh(i) = means. Roakoon = stop; prevent. Taah(i) = that. Pause. Nimukh = moment. Heeyay = in heart. Busaavaiy = enshrine. Pur = of others. Ruchiyo = absorbed. Birtha = worthless; waste. Siraavaiy = spends. 1. Mud(i) = intoxicated. Bhuyyo = became. Baavro = crazy; insane. Soojhut = think of. Ghut = heart. Bheetur(i) = inside. Merm = secret; knowledge. 2. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Binaasi = destroyed; removed. Chintamun(i) = a mythical stone that fulfills all desires (God). 3.
MEANING: My mind is not in my control and runs after immoral activities day and night; how can I prevent it from doing that, oh my mother? Pause. Even after listening to them, it does not implant any teaching from religious books like the Vedas, the Puranas, and the Smritis in the heart, even for a short moment. To the contrary, it is fully absorbed in the enjoyment of wealth, women, and in the vilification of others, and is wasting away life in worthless activities. 1. Intoxicated by the attractions of Maya, it has gone insane and cannot think of anything spiritual. Even though Waheguru resides in the heart, my mind is unaware of His presence. 2. However, when I took shelter of the Guru, all my ignoble thoughts were eradicated, and I began to remember Waheguru (recite His Naam), which fulfills all your wishes, and the noose of the Angel of Death around me was severed, oh Nanak. 3.7.

Soritth Mehla 9: Ray nur, eh saachi jea dhaar(i). Sugul jugut(u) haiy jaiysay soopna, binsut lugut na baar. 1. Ruhaou. Baaroo bheet(i) bunaayee ruch(i), puch(i), reht nuhee din chaar(i). Kuhou Nanak, nij mut(u) sadhun ko, bhaakhiyo toh(i) pookaar(i). 2.8.

Word Meaning: Jea = (in) mind. Dhaar(i) = affirm; realize. Baar = moment. Pause. Baaroo = (of) sand. Bheet(i) = wall. Ruch(i) Puch(i) = (with) zest and with a good finish. Reht Nuhee = dies, not live. Din Chaar(i) = four days; shot time. Guvaar = foolish. 1. Ajhoon = now. Bigriyo = damaged. Mooraar(i) = of Waheguru. Nij = personal. Sadhun Ko = of saints. Bhaakhiyo = said; told. Pookaar(i) = aloud. 2.

MEANING: Realize this truth firmly in your mind that this whole world is like a dream, which does not take any time to be destroyed, oh man. Pause. If a man builds a wall of sand with zest and gives it a beautiful finish, it still does not last for long. The comforts of Maya are as short-lived as a wall of sand; what are you engrossed in, oh foolish man? 1. I am telling you, as personal advice from the holy men, that not much damage has been done yet; come to your senses and recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.8.

Sooaan pooch jiyoun bhuyyo na soodho, buhout jutun(u) mein keeno. Nanak, laaj bird kee raakhou, Naam(u) Toohaaro leeno. 3.9.

Word Meaning: Meet(u) = (real) friend. Sugul Jugut(u) = whole world. Pause. Dara = wife. Sunbundhi = relatives. Nirdhun = poor; penniless. 1. Yiya = this. Bauray = crazy. Nayh(u) = love. Deena Nath = Lord of the poor (God). Bhaiy-Bhunjun = destroyer of all fears. Jus(u) = praise. Bisraayo = forgot. 2. Sooaan = dog. Poochh = tail. Soodho = straight. Jutun(u) = efforts. Laaj = honour. Bird = the innate virtue (of being kind and loving). 3.

MEANING: I have not found any real friend in this world; the whole world is working for their own comforts, and nobody stands by you in hard times. Pause. One's wife, his friends, his sons, and all other relatives are after his wealth. As soon as they find out that you are penniless now, they run away from you. 1. How can I teach my mind that you are in love with the short-lived selfish friends, and have forgotten to sing praise of Waheguru, who is the Lord of the helpless, and is the destroyer of all fears? 2.

Despite my countless efforts, my mind does not shed its evil nature like the tail of a dog, which does not lose its curled state and does not straighten out, no matter how hard one tries. Now, I recite Waheguru's Naam and pray to Him to maintain the dignity of His innate virtue of being kind and loving (and protect me), oh Nanak. 3.9.

Soritth Mehla 9: Mun ray, guhhiyo na Gur Oopdaysh(u). Kuhaa bhuyyo juou moond(u) moondaayo, bhugvoun keeno bhays(u). 1. Ruhou. Saach(u) chhaad(i) kaiy, jhoottheh(i) laagiyo, junum(u) akaaruth khoyo. Ruhhiyo achayt(u), na chaytiyo Gobind, birtha aoudh siraani. Kuhou Nanak, Hur(i) bird(u) puchhaanhou, bhoolay sudaa praani. 3.10.

Word Meaning: Guhhiyo = receive; heed to. Moond(u) = head. Moondaayo = shaved. Bhugvoun = saffron colour. Bhays(u) = attire; garb. Pause. Saach(u) = everlasting (Waheguru). Jhoottheh(i) = short-lived (attractions of Maya). Akaaruth = worthlessly. Khoyo = lost; wasted. Perpunch = deceitfulness. Oodur = stomach. Phokhyiyo = filled; nourished. Pusoo = animal. Niyaayeen = like. 1. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Oorjh(i) = tangled up; engrossed. Bikhiun = immoral activities. Baura = crazy; foolish. Ruttan = (valuable like a) jewel. 2. Achayt (u) = unaware; ignorant. Chaytiyo = remembered. Aoudh = life. Siraani = spend. Bird(u) = innate virtue of being kind and loving. 3.

MEANING: So, what, if you shaved your head and wore a saffron-coloured attire (which are "deceitful" symbols of holiness in some sects) when you did not heed the Guru's Advice, oh man? Pause. Ignoring Waheguru, you have attached your mind to the short-lived enjoyments of Maya and have wasted your life in vain. You nourished your stomach by deceitful means, and slept away your life unmindful like an animal. 1.

You did not realize the high spiritual state of Waheguru's worship, and you sold yourself to Maya. You remained fully absorbed in immoral activities and forgot the jewel-like Naam of Waheguru, oh, my foolish mind. 2.

You remained unaware (about the importance of Waheguru's Naam), and did not remember Him, and spent your life in worthless affairs, oh my mind. Now I pray to Waheguru to exercise His innate virtue of kindness and love, because the man is always fallible, oh Nanak. 3.10.

Word Meaning: Nur(u) = man. Maanaiy = accepts; feels. Sunayh(u) = affection. Ur(u) = and. Kunchun = gold. Maati = earth; dust. Pause. Nindiya = unfair negative criticism. Oostut = undeserving praise of others (for selfish reasons). Abhimaana = conceit. Herkh = joyfulness. Soag = grief; anguish. Niyaarou = unaffected. Upmaana = disrespect. 1. Munsa = wishes. Tiyaagaiy = renounce. Niraasa = detached. Persaiy = touch. 2. Joogut(i) = technique; approach. Leen = absorbed. Bhuyyo = becomes. 3.

MEANING: A man, who is stoic, does not feel any discomfort during difficult times; he also stays unaffected by any comfort, love for others, and by any fear. For him, gold and dust are the same. Pause. He does not unfairly criticize others, nor does he praise others for selfish reasons. He does not feel any greed, attachment to anything, or conceit about anything. He also stays detached from (unaffected by) any joyfulness, anguish, respect, or disrespect. 1. He renounces all hopes and wishes and stays detached from the world. No lust and rage touch him (even come near him); Waheguru makes his heart a dwelling for Him (appears in his heart). 2. The man, whom Satguru becomes benevolent toward, realizes the approach to (connect with God) and becomes fully absorbed in Waheguru, like water mixes with other water and becomes indistinguishable, oh Nanak. 3.11.

Word Meaning: Preetum = dear. Phaandhiyo = trapped; engrossed. Pause. Reht = keep, stay. Chuhoon Dis(i) = all four directions. Ghayraiy = surround. Biput(i) = trouble; hard time. Puree = befalls. Sung(u) = company. 1. Naar(i) = woman; wife. Hit(u) = love. Huns = soul. Tujee = left; gave up. Kaaya = body. Prayt = ghost. 2. Bidh(i) = way. Biyohaar(u) = business. Kaam(i) Na Aayo = does not help. 3.

MEANING: Realize this hard truth firmly in your mind that the whole world is engrossed in their own comforts, and no one is concerned about others, oh my dears. Pause.
When a man is enjoying a comfortable life, many people come to him, and surround him from every direction (to share his comforts); but when troubles befall him, everybody leaves his company, and nobody goes near him. 1.
His own wife, whom he loves very much, and who clings to him all the time, begins to call him a ghost and runs away as soon as his soul leaves his body. 2.

This is the way the business of the world runs, and with which the man gets attached. But one must realize that nobody other than Waheguru comes to help him at the time of his death, oh Nanak. 3.12.139.
