Gur(u) saagur(u) Ruttanee bhurpooray. Amrit(u) sunt chugeh(i), nuhee dooray. Hur(i) rus(u) choag(u) choogeh(i) Prubh bhaavaiy. Survur meh(i) huns(u) Praanput(i) paavaiy. 1. Mookt(i) pdaaruth(u), Hur(i) rus chaakhay. Aavun, jaan ruhhay, Gur(i) raakhay. 2. Survur, hunsa chhoad(i) na jaayay. Praym bhugut(i) kur(i) sehj(i) smaayay. Survur meh huns(u), huns meh(i) Saagur(u). Akuth Kutha, Gur Buchunee aadur(u). 3. Soonn mundul ikk(u) yogi baiysay. Naar(i), na purakh, kuhou koyoo kaiysay. Tirbhuvun Jot(i) ruhhay liv laayee. Soor, nur, Naath, Sachay shernaayee. 4.

Word Meaning: Saagur(u) = sea; source. Rutaanee = with jewels (of virtues; words of praise). Amrit(u) = Guru's Words (noble qualities). Choogaiy = picks (with mind). Choag(i) = food. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. Survur = (Guru as the) ocean. Huns = swan (Guru's Sikh). Praanput(i) = the Lord of our life (God). 1. Bug = heron (an imposter of a swan); opposite of Gur Sikh (a Maya-engrossed man). Buppurra = poor; ignorant. Chuupprri = a pond with muddy water (antonym of Guru-Ocean); a deceitful posing as a holy saint. Keechurr = mud. Doobay = drown; take a dip. Maiyl(u) = filth (of evil thoughts). Pause. Churn Dhuray = takes steps. Veechaari = a thoughtful person. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Nirunkaari = a devotee of God. Mookt(i) Pdaaruth = the virtuous thing that leads to emancipation. Aavun Jaan = birth and death. Ruhhay = end. 2. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state. Akuth Kutha = the indescribable story (of virtues) of God. Gur Buchunee = Guru's Words. Aadur(u) = respect. 3. Soonn Mundul = in the state above the effects of Maya. Yogi = (God). Naar = female. Purakh = male. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered God. Liv Laayee = in meditative state. Soor = gods. Naath = accomplished yogis. 4.

MEANING: The Guru is such an ocean, which is full of noble qualities and of noble words of praise for Waheguru. The holy saints pick up those virtues, because of which Waheguru is not far from them. They pick the sweet (Amrit-like) food of Waheguru's praise (from the Guru-sea), and are liked (loved) by Waheguru. The Sikhs of the Guru find the Lord of our lives (Waheguru) in the Guru-ocean. 1.

What does a Maya-engrossed person gain by taking a dip in a muddy pond (listening to the words of advice of some self-proclaimed guru who has no noble qualities), because one cannot wash away his dirt by drowning (taking a dip) in a muddy pond. Pause. On the other hand, a thoughtful person takes every step in life very carefully and becomes a devotee of Waheguru by overcoming his indecisiveness (and his discrimination against others). The Guru protects him from the attacks of Maya, and he tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, which leads to his salvation and to the termination of his birth-death-birth cycle. 2. The Sikh of the Guru never leaves His shelter and gets absorbed in the high spiritual state by worshipping Waheguru with love and dedication. The Sikh stays absorbed in the Guru's Shabad while His Shabad gets embedded in the Sikh's mind. The devotee is accorded respect when he sings Waheguru's praise with the Guru's Shabad. 3. Like a yogi, Waheguru also meditates on Himself; so how can one say whether Waheguru is a female or a male in that state? But, even in His meditative state, His Light (Soul) pervades the whole universe and provides shelter to all the gods, the men, and the accomplished yogis. 4.

---------- Aanund-Mool(u), anaath adhaari. Gurmukh(i) bhugut(i), sehj(i) beechaari. Bhugut(i) – Vuchhul, bhaiy kaatunhaaray. Haumein maar(i), milaiy Pug(u) dhaaray. 5. Anik jutun kur(i) kaal(u) suntaayay. Murn(u) likhaayay, mundul meh(i) aayay.

Jut(u), sut(u) sunjum(u), ridaiy smaayay. Chauthaiy Pud kuou jay mun putiyaayay. 7. Sachay nirmul, maiyl(u) na laagaiy. Gur kaiy Shabad(i) bherm bhuou bhaagaiy. Soorut(i), moorut(i), aad(i), Anoop. Nanak(u) jaachaiy Saach(u) suroop. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Aanund-Mool = the source of bliss. Anaath = an orphan. Adhaari = the basis; support. Beechaari = pondered on. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover (admirer) of His worship. Bhaiy = fears. Pug(u) = feet (of God); Waheguru's Naam. 5.

Anik Jutun = countless efforts. Kaal(u) = (the fear of) death. Suntaayay = tortures. Mundul = in the world. Junum Pdaatuth = the precious human life. Doobidha = indecisiveness; discrimination. Cheenus(i) = analyzes. Bherm(i) = in doubt. 6.

Dheeruj = patience. Dherm = religiosity; moral obligations. Dhurneedhur = the support (Lord) of the earth (God). Tayk = shelter. Jut(u) = self-control. Sut(u) = high moral character. Sunjum(u) = efforts to control senses. Chautha Pud = the fourth state (above the three effects of Maya). Putiyaayay = convinced. 7.

Saachay = those who are connected with the eternal Waheguru. Bherm = misgivings. Bhaagaiy = run away; disappear. Soorut(i) = (with beautiful) looks. Moorut(i) = existence. Anoop = unmatched (virtues). Jaachay = begs for. Saach(u) = the eternal God. Sroop = the beautiful (handsome). 8.

MEANING: Waheguru is the source of all bliss, has no parents (is self-illuminating), and provides support to everyone. But, with His worship in the shelter of the Guru, the devotee becomes thoughtful and achieves the state of blissfulness. When one kills his haumein and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he gets connected with Waheguru, who loves His worship and is the destroyer of all fears. 5. The man is born with death predetermined for him; the fear of death always tortures him, no matter how many different means he tries to avoid it. He loses the golden opportunity of human life (to connect with Waheguru) in his indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya, which seems more attractive). He does not analyze himself and is misled by his misgivings; he cries (suffers) in life. 6. When the man is convinced to attain the spiritual level above the three effects of Maya, he takes Waheguru's shelter, and recites, reads, and listens to only

His Naam; he acquires patience and religiosity (moral obligations). At the same time, self-control, high moral character, and efforts to control senses naturally become part of his character. 7. Those devotees who have purified their minds with the Guru's Shabad do not get any filth of immoral thoughts or deeds, and all their misgivings and fears disappear. I, also beg for the eternal Waheguru, which is the embodiment of beauty and unmatched virtues, and which has no beginning, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Praym bhugut(i) Prubh(i) mun(i) putiyaaya. 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Pervaan(u) = approved. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Daas = slave; devotee. Soyay = the same (God). 1.

Sehj Ghur(u) = the high spiritual state. Bhaytay = connected with. Pause.

Saach(u) = Waheguru (His Naam). Drirraavaiy = reinforces. Akuth = indescribable Kuthaiy = sing praise. Loag = people; devotees. Kaara = business. 2.

Munooaa = mind. Saacha = eternal (Waheguru). Saacha = pure, one who has overcome the attractions of Maya. Raacha = fully absorbed. Paayay = feet (shelter). 3.

Dikhaayay = shows. Hutth = persistence of mind (without real feelings). Puteejaiy = is pleased. Buhou = many. Bhaykhaiy = religious garbs (symbols). Ghurr(i) = having designed (created). Bhaanday = vessels; human bodies. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam (virtues). Putiyaaya = pleased. 4.

MEANING: The devotee, who gets connected with Waheguru in the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, is the one who is approved by Waheguru, and the cycle of his rebirths comes to an end. At that point, the devotee and Waheguru become "one," and the devotee sees only God everywhere, and no one else. 1. With Waheguru's worship in the shelter of the Guru, the devotee attains a high spiritual state; whereas a follower of his mind keeps taking rebirths without connecting with the Guru. Pause. I will take the shelter of that Guru who reiterates Waheguru's Naam only, and makes one recite only the Naam of the indescribable Waheguru, and connects the devotee with God with His Shabad. Those who become Waheguru's devotees do not get engrossed in any other business (attractions of Maya) than Waheguru's Naam (they do earn their living by honest means but keep Waheguru in mind all the time). The eternal Lord alone is the one they love. 2. The man does have his mind in the body, but has only the eternal Waheguru in his mind. The true devotee is the one who has overcome the attractions of Maya and who is fully absorbed in the eternal Waheguru. The devotees take Waheguru's shelter and connect with the Guru only through Waheguru's Will (remember, only the Guru can connect the devotees with Waheguru). 3. Waheguru knows the feelings of everybody (who really loves, and who just pretends to love Him). He Himself shows the path to connect His devotee with the Guru. He cannot be pleased by one's simple persistence of mind (if he has no real love for Him), nor does Waheguru get pleased with different religious garbs and symbols. Every human being is created by Waheguru, but the individual, in whose heart He puts in Amrit (instills love for Him), worships Him with deep love, because of which Waheguru gets pleased with him. 4.

---------- Purr(i), purr(i), bhooleh(i) choataan khaayay. Buhout siyaanup, aaveh(i), jaah(i). Naam(u) jupaiy, bhuou bhojun(u) khaah(i). Gurmukh(i) sayvuk ruhhay smaayay. 5. Jiyoun bhaavaiy, tiyoun raakh(u) rujaayay. Nanak sehj(i) bhaayay goon gaayay. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Choataan = beatings, punishments. Siyaanup(i) = cleverness; cunningness. 5. Silaa = idol. Bhermut = misled in misgivings. Doalut = weakening of the mind. Oodasa = renouncer. Soocha = clean; pure. Kiyoun = how? Put(i) = respect. 6. Aachaaraan = high morality. Aad(i) Joogaad(i) = the omnipresent Waheguru has been there ever since the creation of the universe. Dheer = patience. Pul Punkuj = in a short moment. Oodhaaray = salvages. 7. Jiyoun Bhaavaiy = as You please. Rujaayay = in Your will. Sehj(i) Bhaayay = with love for You. 8.

MEANING: The individual, who does read religious books, but still commits immoral activities, gets beatings (is punished) in Waheguru's Court. He thinks he is very wise, but continues to suffer rebirths because of his (misjudged) wisdom. But the Sikhs of the Guru recite Waheguru's Naam and live in His fear, which serves as their spiritual food. Such devotees stay absorbed in Waheguru's love. 5. Those who worship idols, undertake pilgrimage, or live in forests, may think that they are detached from Maya, but they are actually misled in their misgivings, and their minds keep wandering all the time. How can they be pure when they have filth in their minds? Only those who get connected with Waheguru get respect. 6. Kindly connect me with the Guru who emancipates countless people in a moment, oh Waheguru. With the Naam of the eternal Waheguru in mind, the devotee acquires the high spiritual state and patience of mind, and he always has high moral thoughts in his body (mind). 7. Who should I sing Your praise before, because I do not recognize anyone other than You, oh Waheguru? Please keep me in Your Huqam in whatever way You please. I, Nanak, simply wish to sing Your praise with deep love. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Jo, Jo = whosoever. Tih = that. Oorjhaayo = got engrossed in. Sunjoag(i) = prearranged connection; with good fortune. Taaki Haiy = sought; wished for. Oat = shelter. Sadh = Guru. Hur(i) Raaya = the royal Waheguru. 1. Anik = countless. Bherm(i) = going through. Thit(i) = stability; peace. Laagoun Churn = drop on feet; surrender my wisdom. Maarug(u) = path. Pause. Oopaav = measures. Buchit(i) = firmly in mind. Vihaavaiy = is spent. Laahaiy = remove. Chint = worries. Rung(u) = affection; love. 2. Bayd = the Vedas. Chookaiy = is removed. Bhayd = doubts Khin = moment. Dheereh(i) = find patience; rest. Puncha = the five demons. Reht(u) = detached. Sincha = irrigate; implant. 3. Ahunboodh(i) = the wisdom (thoughts) of conceit. Tthaakur(u) = lord; mind. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed; minuscule. Kud(i) = when. Aanund = blissfulness. Unjun = kohl (a medication for the eyes); to enlighten. Ishnaanaiy = take bath. 4.

MEANING: It is with predetermined great fortune that one gets the human form. But whosoever has been born in this world, regardless of the life form it has taken, gets engrossed in its environment (in Maya). (Now that I have been born as a human being), I have taken shelter of the Guru, and pray to Him that He connects me with God. 1.

I have been through countless life forms, but have not found stability (have been unable to break my cycle of rebirths). Now, I have surrendered myself to the Guru, and wish to serve Him, and beg Him to show me the path of union with Waheguru. Pause.
I have firmly entrenched Maya in my heart and use countless means to accumulate it. The whole life is spent with the man claiming, "This is mine, that is mine." Now I wish I could connect with a holy saint who would remove all my worries and instill love for Waheguru in my mind. 2. I have read all the Vedas, but my doubts (about Maya and Waheguru) remain, and the five demons in my mind do not rest for even a moment. I am looking for a devotee of Waheguru who is fully detached from Maya, and who can irrigate my barren heart with Waheguru's Naam Amrit. 3. The more the dips a man takes in different holy places, the more the filth of conceit he gathers, and his mind does not listen to him even to a small extent. When will I get to join the company of the Guru so as to get the medication of Divine Knowledge for my mind to get all the filth of my mind washed away, and for me to enjoy blissfulness? 4.

Kerm Dherm = (the believed) religious deeds; rituals. Joogta = connected with; attached to; have full faith. Hayt(u) = love (for Waheguru). Gerb(i) = conceit. Na Laykhaiy = of no credit. Suful = fully capable. Mooru(i) = manifestation of Waheguru; the Guru. Nayturhoun = with the eyes. Paykhaiy = sees. 6. Mun Hutth(i) = with the persistence of mind (without true love). Bug Jiyoun = like a heron (which looks innocent while focusing its sight to catch fish). Maya Dhaari = lover of wealth. Sookhehdaayee = source of comforts. Gut = high spiritual state. 7. Supersunn = overly generous. Aanund = blissfulness. Nirbhaiy = fearless. Laadhay = found; acquired. Churn Praata = Took shelter; surrendered to. 8. Suful = successful. Jaatra = journey of life. Second Pause.

MEANING: The yogis use many different positions to meditate, and countless ignorant people wash their bodies (take dips at holy places) to cleanse their minds, but the mind is not convinced (it stays impure). I wish I could connect with a holy saint who has godly qualities, is fully detached from Maya, is imbued with Waheguru's love, and can remove the filth of my ignoble thinking. 5. Countless people have full faith in the prevalent religious rituals (that they will be connected to Waheguru), but do not have even a small amount of love for Him, and yet they are highly conceited about their approach. They get absolutely no credit for such efforts. But, if some rare devotee gets connected with the Perfect Guru who is fully capable of connecting him with Waheguru, and sings God's praise in the Guru's shelter all the time, he can "see" Waheguru with his own eyes by the grace of the Guru. 6.

An individual (who has no real love for Waheguru), but tries to acquire Him only with the persistence of his mind, is actually a worshipper of wealth, and is a hypocrite like a heron, which looks perfectly innocent (harmless) when it focuses its sight on the fish to catch them. Such an individual gets no credit for his efforts. I am looking for a holy saint who describes Waheguru's virtues (sing His praise) to the devotees, and is a source of all comforts (bliss). I can attain a high spiritual state in His shelter. 7. When the Royal Waheguru becomes overly generous to someone, He severs all his bonds with Maya. With the kindness of Waheguru, my mind has been imbued with Guru's Shabad, and I have been connected with the fearless Waheguru, because of which I am enjoying an eternal bliss. I acquired all comforts ever since I surrendered to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.
When a devotee comes to the Guru's shelter, the journey of his life becomes successful, and the cycle of his rebirths comes to an end. Second Pause. 1.3.

Word Meaning: Teeruth = holy place; pilgrimage. Saacha Thaan = eternal holy place. Dus Poorub = the ten holy days of the Hindus (new moon, full moon, two days – one each following the new and the full moon, two days – one each before the new and the full moon, full moon on a Sunday, the solar and the lunar eclipses, and the first day of the month). Dusaahra = the destroyer of ten sins; also, the birthday of the River Ganga, which is a very joyous occasion for the Hindus. Jaachoun = beg (long) for. Dhernidhuraa = supporter of the earth (God). Roagi= sick. Daaroo = medication. Vaak = Words. Chaanun = enlightening. Mujnaa = bathing. 1.

Saach(i) = with Waheguru's Naam in mind. Gooneh(i) = of noble qualities. Haar(u) = necklace. Puroyay = to string. Kis Kuou Royiyaiy = what to cry for? No need to complain. Maaraiy = kill (desires). Oolt(i) = again. Joan(i) = in a new life form; take rebirth. Paarus = the elixir stone. Perm Dhiyaani = the supreme meditator. Saach(u) = truthfulness; high moral living; spirituality. Herkh = joyfulness. Kilvikh = sins. Purhuray = are destroyed. 2.

MEANING: (Countless people go to holy places to take dips with the belief that such dips wash away their sins, and cleanse their mind), I also take holy dips, but the holy place for me is Waheguru's Naam, contemplating on Guru's Shabad, and acquiring Divine Knowledge in mind. The real holy place is the Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) imparted by the Guru, which is the source of all joys, and is like the ten holy (auspicious) days for the Hindus. I always beg for Waheguru's Naam, and pray to the supporter of the earth, Waheguru, to kindly implant the Naam in my mind. The world is sick (suffering from the fire of its desires), whereas Waheguru's Naam is the medication for it. The human mind becomes dirty without Waheguru's Naam. Guru's Shabad is the purifier for the mind as it enlightens the latter (mind), and is an eternal holy place for the mind to take dips in. 1.
The mind of the man, which has Waheguru's Naam in it, never becomes filthy, so, what filth is left to wash away (there is no need to take dips in holy places). When one strings the necklace of virtues (acquires virtues), he no longer cries (wishes for) worldly attractions. He kills all his desires by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, as a result of which he gets salvation, not just for himself, but also for his associates too; and he never takes births again. With his deep meditation on Guru's Shabad, he becomes like an elixir stone that converts Maya lovers into Sikhs of Guru, and with Waheguru's Naam at heart, he is loved by Him. All his sins and his irritants are eradicated, and he enjoys true happiness and blissfulness day and night. Under the guidance of the Guru, one acquires Waheguru's eternal Naam, and one's mind never gets filthy again. 2.

Word Meaning: Poora Naavno = perfect bath. Gaavunhaar(u) = worthy of praise (God). Soohaavno = which adorns. Salaah(i) = sing praise. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Daan = donations. Duyya Mutay = wisdom with compassion. Pir = dear; husband (God). Bhaavaiy = is liked. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Bayni Ta Sungum = the confluence of three rivers – Gunga, Yamuna, and Sersvati (which is hidden); a very holy place for the Hindus in Allahabad. Sat Satay = most purifying. Aaraadh(i) = worship. Ekunkaar = only one God. Suvaaya = increases in multiples. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Meeta = friend (Guru). Nudr(i) = kind sight. 3. Kehn(u) = to say. Kayvud = how large? Neech(u) = ignoble. Ajaan(u) = ignorant. Saakhiyaiy = with Your Teachings. Amrit = life-sustaining. Bhaakhi = uttered; orated. Maaniya = convinced. Kooch Kuray = leave. Bikh(u) Laaday = loaded with immorality. Aakhun(i) = simply by reciting. Toat(i) = shortage. Bhugut(i) Bhundaareen = treasures of worship. Bhurpoor(i) Ruhhiya = is omnipresent. Maanjaiy = cleanses well. Sach(u) = truthful. 4.

MEANING: The gathering of holy saints where Waheguru's praise is sung with Guru's life-adorning Shabad is the perfect holy place where one gets connected with the Waheguru-friend. One gets full credit for all noble deeds and all donations, and also becomes compassionate when using Satguru's Shabad; he sings Waheguru's praise with a clean (pure mind). He attains the high spiritual state, is loved by Waheguru, and wins His company (gets connected with Him). This is the most purifying holy place, even though Hindus believe the confluence of the three rivers at Allahabad is the most holy. Worship the eternal and the only Waheguru, who gives you all the gifts to fulfill your daily needs, which keep growing. One attains the high spiritual state, and union with Waheguru in the company of the Guru with whom He connects him (the devotee) with His kind sight. The Guru then connects the devotee with Waheguru. 3.

Everybody says that Waheguru is enormous, but what can we say about His expanse? I am foolish, ignoble, and ignorant (to say anything about Waheguru); kindly give me the wisdom (to sing His praise), oh my Satguru. Guru's Advice is eternal, like Amrit, giving us new spiritual life. My mind has been convinced and fully absorbed in His Shabad. The man comes to this world and leaves it with a heavy load of immoral activities. My Guru's Shabad is everlasting, and the only real thing to take with when one leaves this world. Waheguru has countless virtues; no matter how many virtues one sings, there is never a shortage of them, and the treasures of Waheguru's worship (His Naam) stay full and are present everywhere. I have this truth to share that the filth of one's mind can be washed away only with Waheguru's Naam (and not by taking any dips at the holy places), oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Naayay = Naam(u). Saacho = of the eternal (God). Govind(u) = a name for God. Apaara = limitless. Sirjunhaara = the Creator. Goyee = destroyed. Pervaana = letter. Putthaaya = sent. Phayr(i) = return; change. Sir(i) Laykhaiy = prewritten for everybody. Soort(i) = consciousness. Boojhaayee = gives the understanding. Agumm = beyond reach. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. 1. Sur(i) = like. Aaya Jaayaysi = came and went. Nibayrr(u) = final decision. Bherm = misgivings. Chookaayaysi = will remove; clear. Akuth = the indescribable (God). Kuhaayay = makes you recite. Saach(u) = truthful like Him. Oopaayay = creates. Smaayay = absorbs. Puchhaana = recognize; comprehend. Unt(i) = in the end. Sukhaayee = real friend. Vudiyaayee = honour. 2. Alukh = invisible. Sirundiya = creator. Dooyay Raah = two paths – Maya-engrossed and Waheguru's devotee. Vaad = destructive discussions. Vudhundiya = escalation. Bayli = friend; supporter. Bikh(u) = poison of immoralities. Laadi = loaded self. Suvaarunhaara = adorns; making successful. Sinyaapaiy = recognized; make connection with. 3.

MEANING: I survive spiritually with Your Naam, and feel highly blissful, oh Waheguru. Waheguru, and His Naam are eternal, and singing His virtues immortalize one. The Guru delivers us the Divine Knowledge about the limitless and the creator, Waheguru: that He is both the creator and the destroyer, and that when a letter (an order) comes from Him calling someone back, nobody can change or refuse it. He follows His own written accounts of everybody and gives understanding of them (reveals through the Guru). The Lord is inaccessible and incomprehensible; I survive by His Naam only, oh Nanak. 1.

There has been none like You in the past, and no one will ever be, oh Waheguru. (The people are caught in many misbeliefs) With Your Will, the Guru dispels people's misbeliefs and makes them sing Your praise; You are otherwise indescribable, oh Waheguru. The Guru also delivers Your final decision that only the truthful (who have purified their minds with Your Naam), will merge with You, oh Waheguru. Waheguru creates the world and destroys it on His own; one recognizes His Huqam (in the shelter of the Guru). The Guru reveals Your everlasting magnanimity that it is You who is one's true friend at the end. There is no other Lord than You, and one earns respect only by reciting Your Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

You are the invisible, eternal creator, oh Waheguru. You are the only Lord of the world, but you have put people on two paths – one of righteousness, which connects people with You, and the other of captivating Maya, which takes people away from You – oh Waheguru. People follow one path or the other as per Your Huqam, and those who follow the second path (of Maya) keep taking births and dying. Such people carry a heavy load of sins and immoralities, and have no friend other than Waheguru (whom they forget) at the end. The man comes into this world with Waheguru's Huqam, but does not recognize it; however, one also adorns his soul with His Huqam. The True Lord and the Creator can be realized with the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Soheh(i) = look majestic (are respected). Soohaaviya = adorned. Amrit Baan(i) = Guru's Amrit-like Shabad. Rusn = tongue. Rusaaya = with sweetness. Tisaayay = thirsty of. Vikaanay = sold (willing to pay any price). Paarus = elixir stone (Guru). Pursiyaan = by touching (taking shelter). Bhaanay = liked. Amrapud = the state of immortality (of high spirituality). Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Virla = rare. Veechaari = thoughtful. Vaapaari = dealers in. 4. Piyaaso = thirsty. Aath(i) = money; wealth. Kiyoun = how? Saach(u) = Waheguru's praise. Chuvaayeen = utter; say. Deena Nath = Lord of the weak (humble). Kerni Kaar = the things to do. Dhooroun Foormaayee = ordered by Waheguru. Maari = kill desires. Trishna = fire of desires. Nivaari = removed; got rid of. 5.

MEANING: Adorned (purified) with Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's devotees look majestic (are honoured) in Waheguru's Court. Fully enjoying their sweetness, they sing Satguru's Amrit-like Shabads with their tongue. Thirsty for Waheguru's Naam, they enjoy the sweetness of Guru's Shabads for which they are willing to sacrifice their life. When you like a devotee, You connect him with the elixir stone-like Guru, who transforms him to become another elixir stone like Him, oh Waheguru. But some rare devotees ponder the Divine Knowledge imparted by the Guru and rid themselves of selfishness and ego to achieve a high spiritual state. Such devotees, who deal in Waheguru's Naam to become like Him, are honoured in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.

How can a man, who is hungry and thirsty of wealth, reach Waheguru's Door? I will seek Satguru's advice on this subject, and recite Waheguru's Naam in His shelter (which satisfies one's thirst for Maya). I will recite Waheguru's Naam, sing His praise, and will make connection with Him in the shelter of the Guru. Day and night, I will recite the Naam of Waheguru who is the Lord of the helpless, kind, and is above the effects of Maya. (As advised by the Guru), I will perform noble deeds which Waheguru wishes us to do (to merge into Him), and which will kill my selfishness, ego, and desires of my mind. Waheguru's Naam is extremely sweet and eradicates all your thirst for worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Pir(u) = Husband; Waheguru. Sung(i) = with. Mootthrreeyay = oh, cheated soul. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Laykh(u) = written fate. Poorb(i) Kmaayay = the deeds done in previous lives. Na Mityee = cannot be erased. Goonee Aachaar(i) = high character with noble virtues. Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Beh(i), Beh(i) Rosi = cry again, and again in repentance. Aak Kee Chhaaya = a short plant with scanty leaves, with almost no shade. Birdh(i) = old age. Din Poonniya = days of life drawing to an end. Dohaagun(i) = a wife rejected by her husband; an unfortunate. Jhootth(i) = in falsehood. Vichhoonniya = separated. 1. Boodi = drowned; failed. Ghaaliyo = ruined. Bhaayay = in love; as per the Will. Sookh(i) = in comfort; with a blissful mind. Mehlo = Waheguru's residence. Payeeurraiy = parents' home = this world. Din Chaaray = limited life. Nij = own; personal. Sach(u) = the eternal (Waheguru). Vaas(u) = dwelling. Sursi = blooming of heart (with Waheguru's Naam in it). Raati = imbued. Naayay = Naam. 2.
Dhun = woman; soul. = Naari. Veechaari = thoughtful. Nah = Master; Lord. Niv(i) Niv(i) = by bowing down; with deep love and reverence. Rus Meh(i) = with full enjoyment. Rung = affection. Saytee = with. Laal = pure like ruby. Maari = by killing. 3.

MEANING: Robbed by the captivating Maya, you do not realize that the Dear (Waheguru) is always with you, oh foolish young bride (human soul). But you cannot be fully blamed because you are doing just that which your prewritten fortune, based on the deeds committed by you in your previous lives, and written on your forehead, guides you to do. The prewritten fortune cannot be erased, and I do not know what will happen to me in the future. I have no virtue and no high moral character; nor am I imbued with Waheguru's love. Because of my ignoble qualities, I will have to cry very frequently in repentance. One's wealth and youth are like the undependable shade of a small plant which has very few leaves, particularly when one gets old and the days of his life are nearing their end. Without Waheguru's Naam, a man deals in falsehood (the short-lived comforts of Maya) and is ignored by Waheguru like a wife who is ditched by her husband for her bad behaviour, oh Nanak. 1.

You have ruined your life in deeds of falsehood, and are drowning in the world-sea; it is the time for you to follow the Guru's Will (Advice), oh man. Recite Waheguru Naam, and get connected with Waheguru in the blissful state. Life in this world is very short; you will have the real (everlasting) comfort only if you recite Waheguru's Naam (entrench it in your heart), whereby you will realize Him, and reach your real home (achieve union with Waheguru), and be with Him day and night. I want everyone to listen carefully that you cannot have union with Waheguru without worshipping Him. Only that human bride can connect with God who is imbued in Waheguru's Naam with her heart blooming blissfully, oh Nanak. 2.
If a human bride loves God, then God loves her, and by pondering on Guru's Shabad, she gets imbued in her Dear's (Waheguru's) love. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, she worships God with deep love and reverence, and wins Waheguru's love. Dear Waheguru burns (eradicates) her attachment with Maya, and the devotee enjoys the sweetness of union with Him. Imbued in the love of Waheguru, the devotee kills his worldly desires and becomes pure at heart like a ruby. With love for Waheguru, the devotee merges into Him, and is loved by Him like a good wife is loved by her husband, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Sohaiy = earns respect. Vaiyn = words. Chuvaiy = utter, speak. Kaam Na Aavaiy = of no use; do not work. Alaavaiy = speak. Naiyni = with eyes. Kunt(i) = husband. Visaari = ignored. Vidhun = like a widow. Raiynee = night of life. Maanaiy = obeys. Phaahi Phaathi = trapped in (Maya). Sa Dhun = that woman (soul). Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = analyzes self. Sehj(i) = blissful state. 4.
Dhunn = worthy of respect; fortunate. Sohaagun(i) = loved by husband. Koorriyaar(i) = maya-engrossed. Sohaavi = attractive. Bhaayay = with love. Ruliyaala = source of bliss. Jobun(i) Baala = always young; fresh. Raavay = enjoys. Vigaasi = with blooming heart. Shuhou = husband. Goonkaari = source of virtues. 5.
MEANING: A wife (devotee) earns respect at her in-laws' house (Waheguru's Residence) if she is liked by her husband (Waheguru). Words of praise without love for Waheguru are fake (not honest) and of no use. The fake words (of praise) do not work, and the Husband (Waheguru) does not even cast a simple sight on the fake devotee. Because of her ignoble qualities, the Waheguru-husband ignores such a hypocritical devotee, and the night of life of such an individual is spent in discomfort like that of a widow. Trapped in the strong bonds of Maya, such an individual does not recognize Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, he cannot have access to Waheguru's Residence (cannot connect with Him). However, if he analyzes himself in the shelter of the Guru (surrenders to Him), he can attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4. The devotee, who makes a connection with Waheguru, is fortunate and worthy of praise. Without Waheguru's Naam, one loves falsehood (the short-lived worldly attractions), and continues to deal in them. Through the worship of Waheguru with love and reverence, a devotee becomes imbued with His love, becomes attractive, and is loved by Him. Waheguru-Husband is the source of bliss, and always young; imbued in His love, the human bride enjoys union with Him. With her heart blooming with Guru's Shabad, she realizes Waheguru, which is the source of virtues, and enjoys union with Him. Such a human bride looks attractive at the house of her Husband (Waheguru), and earns respect everywhere, oh Nanak. 5.3.

Saacha Nah(u) = pure (selfless) love. Veesraiy = forgotten. Smaareen = I remember. Servnee = with ears. Triptaiy = is contented. Bibayk Boodh(i) = wisdom to tell the good from the bad. Bichraiy = operates; comes into play. 2.

MEANING: One recites Waheguru's Naam with His benevolence only. One connects with Satguru through one's love and reverence for Him when he sings Waheguru's praise in a peaceful state of mind (without any thought of Maya). One sings Waheguru's praise only when Waheguru likes, whereby his heart begins to bloom day and night. (By singing Waheguru's praise), One is able to get rid of his conceit, his selfishness, his ego, and his love for Maya, and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam with a peaceful mind. The Creator, Waheguru, creates all such favourable conditions for His devotees, and they get to recite His Naam only when He prompts them. We recite His Naam only when Waheguru is kind to us.
1. I wish to have true love in my heart for the Perfect Satguru (Waheguru) and wish to serve Him day and night, and never to forget Him. I survive only by reciting His Naam; so, I do not wish to ever forget Him, and wish to remember Him day and night. I wish to listen to His praise in the shelter of the Guru, and drink His Naam-Amrit (recite His Naam with my tongue), whereby my mind gets fully contented. Waheguru connects His devotees with Satguru when He casts His kind sight on them, as a result of which, they acquire the wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad, and have true love for Satguru day and night.
2. One gets the company of the holy saints only with great fortune, where he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. He attains the high spiritual state of blissfulness whereby his mind stays focused on the Naam day and night. One becomes absorbed in a blissful state of mind when he likes (loves) Waheguru; he then remains fully detached from worldly attractions. When one's mind stays focused on Waheguru, he earns respect in this world, as well as in the next. He remains unaffected by happy or sad occasions, and likes whatever Waheguru does. One enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam when he gets connected with the company of the holy saints. 3.

close eye on him. Trapped in the problems of Maya, the suffering man cries and sighs day and night; he also fumes over everything because of his hurt ego, and spends his life laying claim on everything. He does not remember Waheguru, who gives him everything, and leaves this world in repentance. Bikhrra = difficult. Pul = a moment. Turaaya = salvaged. Naytreen = in the eyes. Unjuno = kohl. 2.

MEANING: Satguru, in whose company we sing Waheguru's praise, is kind to the helpless (humble). Waheguru's Naam is Amrit (immortalizing), and should be recited in the shelter of the Guru. When one recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, his suffering of rebirths is eradicated. As per his prewritten fortune, a devotee listens to the eternal Teachings of the Guru, as a result of which, the noose of the Angel of death is severed for him. With recitation of Waheguru's Naam, our strong bond with Maya is broken, and all our fears and misgivings disappear, and we certainly do not follow the path of life which leads to the Angel of (spiritual) death. I make a humble request to Waheguru that He be kind to us so that we may sing His praise at all times, oh Nanak. 1.

The Naam of the "only" Waheguru is the support for those who have no support at all. Waheguru is the provider of all the necessities of life and the destroyer of all suffering. I have come to the shelter of the Guru who will connect me with Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all our problems, and is the source of all comforts. The world sea is extremely difficult to swim across, but Waheguru can ferry us across it in a short moment. Guru's Divine Knowledge acts as kohl (medicine) for our (mental) eyes with which we see Waheguru to be present everywhere. Dhoor(i) Sadhu = dust of Guru's feet; His Words. 4.

MEANING: With his benevolence, the inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru provides His shelter to this virtue less and ignoble slave (His devotee) who has no spiritual guide. The kind Lord is always compassionate and raises the (spiritual) status of the low-caste (ignoble). All the living beings are under Your control, and You look after all of them, oh Waheguru. Waheguru is the creator (and being present in everybody), is also the one who enjoys all the luxuries; He also thinks of (looks after) His creation. I make a humble request that Waheguru give me the gift of His Naam so that I may always recite it and sing His praise for my spiritual survival. 3.

Your holy sight is beyond our reach (You are invisible and cannot be seen with the eyes), and Your Naam is priceless (cannot be bought by any amount of wealth); the only thing Your devotees can do is to sing Your praise, oh the immeasurable Waheguru. When You are pleased to be kind, You give Your Naam to your holy devotees who recite it with their tongue and stay intoxicated with its sweetness. The highly fortunate devotees drop at the feet of the Guru (surrender to Him) and stay alert (against the attacks of Maya) all the time. They remember Waheguru, which is worthy of being remembered, and sing His praise with every breath. I beg for the dust of the Feet of the Guru (His Words) and for the Naam of the immeasurable Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sunuk, Sunund = sons of Brahma. Mahesh = Shiva. Smaana = the like. Shesh Naag(i) = a mythical snake with thousands of heads, and which serves as bed for Vishnu. Merm(u) = secret. 1. Hunuman = a monkey warrior and devotee of Rama Ji. Sur(i) = like. Guroorr = a mythical bird used by Vishnu to ride on. Soorput(i) = the king of gods – Indra. Nurput(i) = rajahs. 2. Kumlaput(i) = husband of Maya (Laxmi) – Vishnu. Kuvlaa = Laxmi. 3. Pug = feet. Pug Lug = in the shelter = Shernaahi. 4.

MEANING: Even the well-known sages and gods like Sunuk, Snund, Shiva and Shesh Naag, do not know Your secrets (the way You govern the universe), oh God. 1.

(The best thing for the man to do) is to embed God's Naam in his heart in the company of the holy saints. Pause. Not even Hanuman, Guroorr, god Indra, or the worldly rajahs know Your great virtues. 2. (You are so unfathomable) that not even the four Vedas, the Simritis, the Puranas, Vishnu, or Laxmi know any of Your secrets. 3.

Kabir submits humbly that the devotee, who surrenders himself to God, and serves Him (sings His praise and obeys His Will), is never misled in misgivings. 4.1.

soojhaiy. 2. Keht Kabir, soonhou ray praani, chhoad-hou mun kay bherma. Kayvul Naam(u) jup-hou ray praani, purhou Aik kee sherna. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Pehr = three hours. Ghuree = 24 minutes. Aav = life span. Tun(u) = body. Chheejaiy = weakens. Kaal(u) = death. Ahayri = Budhik = hunter. Kuvun = what; which. Bidh(i) = means; measures. 1. So Din = death day. Pause.
Jot(i) = God's Light. Bertaiy = operates. Aapa = self. Pusoo = animal; foolish. Jeevun Pud Kaarun = for a longer life. Loachun = eyes; wisdom. 2.
Praani = oh, man. Bherma = doubts; misgivings. Aik = the one and only (God). 3.

MEANING: That day (of man's death) approaches near, but no one, including his mother, father, brothers, sons, or his wife, can be any help to him (cannot save him, or take responsibility for his sins). Pause. Man's life decreases by the hours and the minutes, and his body weakens. Death follows him like a hunter, so what means can a man use (to avoid death and the consequences of deeds done by him)? 1.
As long as God's Light (Soul) operates in him, the animal-like foolish man does not recognize himself (in terms of what the objective of life is, and what kind of deeds he is performing). He becomes greedy (wishful) to enhance his life span, and cannot see any farther (in terms of spirituality) with his eyes. 2. Kabir has only one suggestion to make to the man, that he should quit (get rid of) all his misgivings, take the shelter of God only, and recite His Naam. 3.2.

ਜੋ ਜਨ ਭਾਉ ਭਗਤਿ ਕਛੁ ਜਾਨੈ ਤਾ ਕਉ ਅਚਰਜੁ ਕਾਹੋ॥ ਜਿਉ ਜਲੁ ਜਲ ਮਹਿ ਪੈਸਿ ਨ ਨਿਕਸੈ ਤਿਉ ਢੁਰਿ ਮਿਲਿਓ ਜਲਾਹੋ॥ 1॥ ਹਰਿ ਕੇ ਲੋਗਾ ਮੈ ਤਉ ਮਤਿ ਕਾ ਭੋਰਾ॥ ਜਉ ਤਨੁ ਕਾਸੀ ਤਜਹਿ ਕਬੀਰਾ ਰਮਈਐ ਕਹਾ ਨਿਹੋਰਾ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਕਹਤੁ ਕਬੀਰੁ ਸੁਨਹੁ ਰੇ ਲੋਈ ਭਰਮਿ ਨ ਭੂਲਹੁ ਕੋਈ॥ ਕਿਆ ਕਾਸੀ ਕਿਆ ਊਖਰ ਮਗਹਰੁ ਰਾਮੁ ਰਿਦੈ ਜਉ ਹੋਈ॥ 2॥3॥

Juou tun Kashi tujeh(i) Kabira, Rumuyyiyaiy kuha nihora. 1. Ruhaou. Keht Kabir(u) soonhou ray loyee, bherm(i) na bhoolhou koyee. Kiya Kashi, kiya ookhur Mug-hur(u), Ram(u) ridaiy juou hoyee. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Bhaaou Bhugut(i) = worship with love and devotion. Achurj = amazement. Dhoor(i) = with a melted (soft) heart. Julaaho = weaver (Kabir Sahib). 1.
Bhora = very low. Kashi = Banaras (Varanasi) – the city of Shiva (It is believed that whosoever dies in Kashi goes to paradise after death). Nihora = favour. Pause.
Ookhur = barren land covered with saltpetre (potassium nitrate). Mug-hur(u) = a town of Ganesh. It is believed that whoever dies in Mughur is reincarnated as a donkey. 2.

MEANING: Nothing comes as a surprise (amazement) in life to the man who knows (practises) worship of God with love and devotion. I am a low-caste weaver (who enjoys no respect in society), yet God has been kind to me in such a way that my mind became so soft to merge into Him, to become "one" with Him, just like water - when two different bodies of water mix with each other, they become inseparable. 1. (According to the world), I have very low wisdom (to leave Banaras and to settle in Mug-hur to take the risk of being reborn as a donkey); but if one goes to paradise simply because he dies in Banaras, then what is the favour of God in that? Pause. I want to make one thing very clear to the people, that they should not be misled by any misgiving; if one has God enshrined in his heart, then it makes no difference whether one dies in Banaras, or in the barren Mug-hur (he will merge into God in either case), oh Kabir. 2.3.

Indar loak, Shiv lokeh(i) jaibo. Oachhaiy tup kur(i) baahur(i) aiybo. 1. Kiya maangoun, kichh(u) thir naahi. Ram Naam rukh(u) mun maahi. 1. Ruhaou. Sobha, raj, bibhaiy, vudiyaayee. Unt(i) na kaahoo sung suhaayee. 2. Poottar, kluttar, Lachhmi, Maya. Inn tay kuhou, kuvnaiy sookh(u) paaya. 3. Keht Kabir, uver nuhee kaama. Humray mun, dhun Ram ko Naama. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Loak = world; kingdom. Jaiybo = goes. Oachhay = of low level. 1. Sobha = fame; praise. Bibhaiy = wealth; luxuries. Vudiyaayee = respect. 2. Kluttar = wife. Luchhmi (Luxmi) = Maya = wealth. Kuvnaiy = who. Uver = other. 3 & 4.

MEANING: (As per the common belief) if, after death, one goes to the kingdom of Indra (because he worshipped him) or to Shiva's kingdom, he will come out of those kingdoms quickly because such worship is of a very low level. 1. So, what should I wish for, because everything (including the kingdoms of various gods) is short-lived? The only thing which is permanent is the Naam of God, so keep that in mind all the time, oh Kabir. Pause. Be it one's praise among the people, kingship, wealth, or other luxuries of life, none of them accompanies him at the time of death. 2. Tell me, who has ever enjoyed permanent comfort (or happiness) from his sons, wife, wealth, or other luxuries? 3. I have the wealth of God's Naam in my mind, and nothing else is of any use to me, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Ram simer(i), Ram simer(i), Ram simer(i), bhaayee. Ram Naam simrun bin(u) boodtay adhikaayee. 1. Ruhaou. Bunita, soot, dayh, grayh, sumput(i) sookhdaayee. Innh maiyn kuchh(u) naahi tayro, kaal uvudh aayee. 1. Ajamull, guj, Gunika, putit kerm keenay. Tayoo oottar paar(i) puray, Ram Naam leenay. 2. Sookur, kookur, joan(i) bhermay, tuou laaj na aayee. Ram Naam chhaadi) Amrit, kaahay bikh(u) khaayee. 3. Tuj(i) bherm, kerm bidh(i) nikhaydh, Ram Naam(u) layhi. Gur persad(i) jun Kabir Ram(u) kur(i) sunayhi. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Boodtay = drown. Adhikaayee = many; countless. Pause. Bunita = wife. Grayh = household. Sumput(i) = wealth. Uvudh = fixed time. 1.

Ajamul = a Brahman of Kanauj who is considered to be a sinner because he married a prostitute. Guj = an elephant – a musician of the gods who was transformed into an elephant by the curse of a sage. He went to drink water in the pool of the god Varun, but was caught in the tentacles of an octopus, who began to pull him into deep water. When the elephant was about to drown, he took a lotus flower in his trunk and prayed to God for his release. His prayer was answered, and he was saved. Gunika = a prostitute who was given a parrot by a sage to be trained to say Ram (God). When Gunika was teaching the parrot to say God, she became a devotee herself. Putit Kerm = immoral deeds. Tayoo = those. Oottar Puraiy = salvaged. 2. Sookur = pig. Kookur = dog. Laaj = shame. Bikh(u) = poison of immoral deeds. 3. Tuj(i) = abandon. Bidh(i) = customs; rituals. Nikhaydh = unacceptable. Sunayhi = endear. 4.

MEANING: Recite God's Naam, oh my friends. Countless people drown in the world-sea (fail to connect with God and go through various life forms). Pause.
One may find his wife, sons, household facilities, and his wealth to be enjoyable to him bodily, but none of them is really his when he reaches the end of his life. 1.
Ajamul, the elephant, and Gunika are known to have done ignoble deeds, but even they were salvaged when they remembered God. 2. Didn't you feel ashamed when you went through the life forms of a pig, or a dog, etc.? So, ignoring the Amrit of the Naam of God, why are you still engrossed in the poisonous sensual pleasures? 3. Get rid of all your misbeliefs about the prevalent religious rituals, as well as the other non-permitted (unacceptable) sinful deeds, and recite God's Naam only. With Guru's grace, make God your dear friend, oh Kabir. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Gehri = deep. Neev = foundation. Khoodaayee = dug out. Mundup = decorations. Chhaayay = covered with. Markunday = a sage with a very long life, and who spent his whole life in a hut made of leaves and tree branches only. Ko = who? Adhikaayee = with longer life. Trin = leaves. Moond = head. Bulaayay = pass time. 1.
Kerta = creator. Sunayhi = dear. Gerb(u) = conceit. Binus Jaayay = will be destroyed. Jhootthee = false; short-lived. Dayhi = body. Pause. Kairou = Kaurvaas, the portrayed villains in the Mahabharat. Durjodhun = the eldest of the Kairou brothers. Say = like. Baareh Jojun = about 70 miles. Chuutur = canopies, spread of armies. Girjhun = vultures. 2.
Serb Soyin = all gold. Adhikaayee = very powerful. Kuhaa Bhuyyiou = what happened? So what? Khin = moment. Puraayee = blonged to others. 3.
Doobaasha = an ill-tempered sage. Tthugauri = a deceitful act (once a group of young men, led by Krishna, wanted to fool the sage). They dressed a young boy as a woman, adorned her to look pregnant, took her to the sage, and asked him to predict whether she would bear a boy or a girl. The sage saw through the trick and angrily cursed that she would bear a child (or something) who would destroy the whole Yadav clan, of which Krishna was a member. The group got very scared to hear that, and quickly searched for the stuff which they had used to make the boy look like a pregnant woman. They were stunned to find a large piece of iron there. Scared to death, the group decided to destroy the piece. They took that to the nearby Arabian Sea and tried to rub it away on a rock. The particles of iron fell into the sea, which were spread over a large area along the shore by the huge water waves. A small piece of that iron chunk fell into the sea and was swallowed by a fish. The fish was caught and by a fisherman who opened its stomach to clean the fish when he found that small piece. It is believed that a piece of iron that is found in a fish makes great arrows. The piece was bought by a hunter who had an arrow made from it.

After a few years, bamboo-like plants flourished along the seashore where the particles of the iron piece had deposited. The Yadavs held a fair where the youngsters drank so much alcohol that they fought among themselves and uprooted the bamboo-like plants to hit one another until all of them were killed. The prediction by Doorbaasha proved true.
Krishna became very sad and lay under a tree, in a pensive mood, on a starry night, with one leg resting on the other, which he had bent to raise the other so that the sole of his foot was vertical and clearly visible. The gods are believed to have a shiny spot on their soles, which could be mistaken for the eye of a deer. The hunter, who had that special arrow, happened to be somewhere near the tree where Krishna was lying. The hunter mistook the light in Krishan's sole for an eye of some deer and shot an arrow, aiming at it. The arrow pierced the foot of Krishna, who died right there. Thus, even the last member of the Yadav clan was finished. Ful = reward. 4.
MEANING: The man lays down deep foundations, and constructs highly decorated buildings on them; but he does not realize that nobody has out-lived the sage Markanday, who lived a very long life, which he all spent in a hut of leaves and tree branches over his head (everybody has to die so why build such big mansions). 1. Our creator is the dear God (so, remember Him). What are you conceited about, oh man? Your body is short-lived and will eventually be destroyed. Pause. The Kauravas were highly conceited about their vast kingdom, had a brave brother like Duryodhana, and claimed everything as theirs. When they fought against the Pandavas, their armies were spread over about 70 miles in the battlefield. (But, look, what happened to them). Their dead bodies suffered such disgrace that they were eaten by vultures. 2. Similarly, the villain in the epic of Ramayana, Ravana, was a powerful and rich ruler, and it is believed that his Lanka was all built of gold. His wealth and the elephants tied at his door could not save him, and they became the belongings of others in a moment. 3. The Yadavas reaped the (painful) reward when they played a cheap trick on the ill-tempered sage, Doorbaasha. (So, one should not commit any ignoble deed and should not be conceited). God is very kind to His devotee, Nam Dev, that is why I sing His praise. 4.1.

Keht Nam Dayo, baahur(i) kiya bhermou, eh sunjum Hur(i) paayiyaiy. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Baiyraagun(i) = pacified human senses (which lead to detachment from the world). Punchoun = of the five demons. Suttar(i) Doyay = 72 (the big veins in the body). Amrit Sur(i) = pool of virtues. Bikh(u) = poisonous desires. 1.
Paachhaiy = after that. Bani = words in praise of God. Ghut =heart. Pause.
Bujjur Kootthar = ax of stone (sharp and strong); rage. Chheena = snatched. There is a story in the Ramayana that when Rama broke the bow belonging to Shiva, god Paras Ram, a devotee of Shiva, became enraged and wanted to kill Rama with his signature axe. But Rama dropped on his feet and pulled out his rage. Minnut(i) Lug Paaoun = with all humbleness. Ooltay = contrary to (normal practice). 2.
Luptaavoun = cling to; too much love. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Dershun = sight. 3.
Itt(u) Kur(i) = like this. Chookaayiyaiy = removed. Bhermou = wander around. Sunjum = means. 4.2.

MEANING: I enlightened my soul with the holy Bani in praise of God, which immortalizes you (connects you with Him), and which I recite with my tongue from the core of my heart, as a result of which, I will never take rebirths. Pause. (With the holy Bani in my mind), I have been able to control all my ten senses, and the five demons have been completely annihilated. All the 72 big veins in my body are full of Amrit (God's Naam), whereby all my poisonous vices (sensual pleasures) have been killed, and have disappeared from my thoughts. 1. (With God's Naam in my mind), I have acquired humility and humbleness, and my rage has been uprooted from within me like Rama pulled out the rage of Paras Ram, who was going to kill him with his strong and sharp ax, by his (Rama's) humility when he touched Paras Ram's feet. Contrary to my treatment of my vices (which I have destroyed), I am a servant of the holy saints and have respectful fear for the devotees of God. 2.
I will be free from the worldly bonds only when I do not cling to (do not show any attachment for) Maya, which is another name for rebirths (love for Maya keeps one in the birth-death cycle). I can have a holy sight of God only if I abandon my love for Maya. 3.
If someone worships God like this, all his worldly fears are eradicated, and he can realize God inside him. He does not need to search for Him outside, oh Naam Dev. 4.2.

(Musk deer is known to love a particular music which leads him to his death by the hunters). Ramuyya = God. 1. Roorro = beautiful. Roop = physical features. Pause. Dherni = earth. Indra(u) = (god of) rain. Koosum Baas(u) = fragrance of flowers. Bhuvurla = bumble bee. Kokil = a migratory singing bird (like cuckoo). 2. Cuckvee = Greek partridge; a female bird which gets separated from her male companion at night and gets united with him at sunrise. So, she waits for and loves the sun. Soor(u) = sun. Mansurovar = a lake in the Indian high mountains, which is known for its swans. Tarunee = a young bride. Kunt(u) = husband. 3. Kheer = milk. Chaatrik = rainbird, a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Juldhura = clouds; rain. 4. Sadhik = those who purify their bodies with yogic exercises. Sugul = all. Moon(i) = a hermit. Birlay = rare. Deetthla = sees. Bhuvun = universe. Beetthla = God. 5.

MEANING: Just like water is very dear to (is badly needed by) the people in a desert, and a vine is dear to a camel; and just like special music is very dear (attractive) to a musk-deer at night, God is very dear to my mind. 1. Everything of Yours, including Your Naam, Your physical features, and Your colour, is very pretty (dear to me), oh my God. Pause. Just like the (dry) earth loves rain, and the bumblebees love the fragrance of flowers, and just like the cuckoo loves a mango tree, I love my God. 2. Just like a Greek partridge loves the sun, and the swans love Lake Mansarovar, and just like a new bride loves her husband, I love my God. 3. Just like a child loves milk, and the rainbird loves (the first drop of) rain; and just like the fish love water, I love my God. 4.
Even though all the Sadhiks, the accomplished Sidh yogis, and the hermits (sages) wish for God, some rare individual is able to see Him (connect with Him). Just like the whole world loves to acquire Your Naam, so does Nam Dev, oh God. 5.3.

Word Meaning: Pehl = at first; in the beginning. Pooriyay = the city (the world). Poondruk = lotus flowers. Vunaa = forest. Ta Chay = in that. Hunsa = swans (virtuous people). Krishna = Maya. Hur(i) Naachna = God's dancing creation. Naachuntee = is dancing (at the hands of Maya). 1. Purshabira = God appeared. Uthoan = after that. Purshaadmuraa = Pushaat Amra = Maya from God. Us ga = of this (God). Us = and. Oosga = of that (Maya). Baagra = lovely garden. Pindhi = the containers to carry water in a Persian Wheel. Saagra = sea water. Pause. Gopi Junna = women and men. Nuyya = the Lord. Baiyray = without. Kunna = none. Terk(u) Na Cha = do not question it. Bermiya Cha = remove your misgiving. Kashvaa = God's. Buchauni = words. Ayyiyay = women. Muyyiyay = men. Aik Ann = of the same kind. 2. Pindhi = the people. Oobhkulay = submerge in and out (trying to escape from drowning). Bherm(i), Bherm(i) = wander aimlessly. Koon = who. Aaala = worldly webs (affairs). Nivaarna = save; keep away. Jum Kaarna = the fear of death. 3.

MEANING: First of all, God created Himself, and then He created Maya. From the union of the two, the word came into being as a pretty garden of living beings. Pause.

At the beginning, when Maya had not yet influenced the living beings, the world was like a pretty field of lotus flowers (which normally grow in mud, but Maya's mud had not yet formed). Human beings were also pure and innocent, like swans. But, when the effects of Maya took effect, the world began to dance at the hands of Maya like water dances in the containers of the Persian wheel. 1. The men and the women alike are dancing now like puppets of Maya, but God is present in every heart, and no one is without Him (the effects of Maya are effective at the Will of God). There should be no question about this fact (that God is present in every heart and Maya is under His control); the man should have no doubt about it. The words (Huqam/ Will) of God apply to all humans – men and women alike. 2. Like the water containers in the Persian wheel, which go under water to be filled and then come out, the humans are now struggling to stay afloat as they drown in the world-sea (sea of Maya). Having wandered around aimlessly, now I have come to Your shelter, oh God. If you ask me who I am, then my answer is that I am Nam Dev, Your humble devotee. I am afraid of the Angel of death, kindly protect me from the bonds of the world (which lead one to the Angel), oh God. 3.4.

Word Meaning: Putit = immoral. Paavun = purify. Bird(u) = the innate virtue. 1. Maathaiy ----Dhoor(i) = dust of Waheguru's feet on the forehead. Pause. Gerb = conceit. Purhaari = remover; destroyer. Bul(i) Tihaari = sacrifice for you. 2.

MEANING: To purify and to salvage the immoral is Your innate virtue, oh my Lord. Highly fortunate are the individuals who worship my Lord. 1. I am lucky that I got to put the dust of Lord's feet on my forehead (I got connected with His Shabad), of which the gods, humans, and the sages stay devoid. Pause. My lord is kind to the poor (weak), and is the destroyer of the conceit of the powerful. I am a sacrifice for my Lord, and have come to His shelter, oh Nama. 2.5.

Kaarnay = for. Kaarun = reason. Aboal = quiet; not talking to me. Pause.
Bichhuray = separated. Madho = oh, God. Laykhay = dedicated. 2.

MEANING: There is no one poor (helpless) like me, and there is no one compassionate like You; so, what test is needed to prove my faith in You, oh my Lord? I am fully sold on (fully convinced with) Your Words, kindly grant me the perfect spiritual state, oh my Lord. 1.

Word Meaning: Simrun(u) = remember. Aviloakno = to see. Servun = to listen. Soojus(u) = beautiful praise. Poor(i) Raakhoun = I keep filled with. Mudhukur(u) = bumblebee. Rusn = tongue. Bhaakhoun = I recite. 1. Jin(i) = lest. Mehungi Luyyee = paid a high price. Jea Sutaiy = in exchange for my soul (mind). Pause.
Bhaaou = Bhaav = love; affection. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Paiyj = dignity. 2.

MEANING: I am worried lest my love for the Lord may lessen. I had acquired it by paying a very high price of surrendering my mind in exchange for it (you lose all rights to your mind; you cannot have any worldly desire, which is a high price). Pause.
So, I remember Him in my mind, see Him everywhere with my eyes, and listen to His praise to the fullest with my ears. My mind has become like a bumblebee to enjoy the sweetness of the Lord's Naam. I keep praise of the Lord in my heart, and recite the Amrit-like Naam of the Lord with my tongue. 1. Love for the Lord does not sprout in one's mind without being in the company of the holy saints, and one cannot worship Him without love for Him in the heart. I, Ravidass, make only one request to the Royalty of the Lord that He protect me (against the attacks of Maya) and save my dignity. 2.2.

Kuhaiy Ravidass(u) Naam(u) Tayro aarti, Sat(i) Naam(u) haiy Hu(i) bhoag Toohaaray. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Aarti = a ritual to show reverence, mostly for an idol (or some other individual). Some flowers, incense, saffron, etc., and a lamp are placed in a platter which is rotated in a vertical circle in front of the idol. Mujun = bathing (the idol). Mooraaray = oh Lord. Jhootthay Pasaaray = are all acts of show off. Pause. Aasno = a small rug to sit on. Oorsa = a stone to graze sandalwood on. Kaysro = saffron. Chhitkaaray = to spray. Umbhula = water. Chundno = sandalwood. Ghus(i) = graze. Chaahray = offer. 1. Deeva = lamp. Baati = wick. Pusaaray = spread (add). Jot(i) = light; lamp. Oojiyaaro = brightness. Buvun = universe. 2. Taaga = thread to make a garland. Phool Maala = garland of flowers. Bhaar Atthaarah = all vegetation. Jhootthaaray = impure. Urpoun = offer. Toohi = only You. Chuvur Dhoolaaray = fan with a whisk (a sign of royalty). 3. Dus Atthaa = 18 Puranas. Utth-sutthay = the 68 holy places of the Hindus. Chaaray Khaani = the four sources of reproduction. Vertun(i) = normal practice. Bhoog = some sweet offering to the idol. 4.3.

MEANING: Your Naam is my “aarti”, including a bath, for You, oh, my Lord. Without His Naam, all other offerings to the Lord are just a ritual of show. Pause.
People sit on a special rug to worship you, but Your Naam is that rug for me, and Your Naam is the stone to graze sandalwood for You, as also saffron to offer to You in the form of a spray. Your Naam is the water (to bathe You), and also the sandalwood which people grind on a stone as an offering to You. My recitation of Your Naam includes all such ritualistic offerings to You. 1. Your Naam is the lamp, the wick, and the oil for the lamp (which people use during aarti). Your Naam serves as the lamp which brightens the whole universe. 2. For me, Your Naam is the thread, and the whole vegetation – even though it has been rendered impure by the animals who smell and eat it – serves as the flowers to make a garland which people use during aarti. Whatever people offer to You, has been created by You, so what can I offer You? I offer You only Your Naam as the royal whisk to fan on You, oh Lord. 3. The reading of the 18 Puranas and taking dips in the 68 holy places, has become the normal practice (the common belief) among the people to please You, as a result of which they are going through all the life forms of the four sources of reproduction (because such rituals fail to please You). Ravidass submits that Lord's Naam is the real "aarti", and the sweet dishes which please Him. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Nindus(i) = curse; blame. Guvaari = foolish. Dookirt = ignoble deeds. Sookirt = noble deeds. Thaaro = yours. Kerm = deeds; performance. Pause.

Shankra = Shiva. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Soorsuri = River Ganga. Ishnaan = bath; dip. Kool = clan. Milihou = born. Saarungpaan = Vishnu; Krishna. Klunk = (the scar of) stigma. Mupheetus(i) = not erased. 1. Bishuv = the world. Deepuk(u) = lamp. Ta = his. Chay = of. Sooaarthi = charioteer. Pukhee Raayay = the king of birds (Groorr, which is used as the ride by Vishnu). Baandhwa = relative. Arun = a mythical lame man who is believed to pull the chariot of the Sun. Pingula = lame. 2. Paatik = sins. Herta = remover; destroyer. Tirbhuvun = the universe. Nath(u) = Lord (Shiva). Luhhaiy Na Paar(u) = could not reach the other end; could not succeed. Kupaal(u) = skull (severed head). 3. Susee = moon. Dhayn = the Kaamdhayn cow. Luchhmi = goddess who was married to Vishnu. Kulptur = the Kulp Tree (which is in the paradise now). Sikhur(i) = the long-eared and seven-headed horse. Soonaagur = the wise physician, Dhunvuntri. Khaar(u) = the salty tasting. 4. Daadhilay = burned down. Gurrh = fort. Opaarrilay = uprooted. Bun(i) = forest; garden. Sul(i) = severe pain. Bisul(i) = the eradicator. Aan(i) = by fetching. Toakheelay = pleased. Hurie = Rama. Kachhauti = tight small shorts.

5. Poorblay = of previous lives. Kirt Kerm = performed deeds. Mitaiy = erased. Ghur(i) Gayhun(i) = the owner of the heart; soul. Ta Chay = therefore. Jaapiulay = recite. Chay = of. Budut(i) = says. 6.

MEANING: What do you blame the Lord for, oh foolish, misled human bride!! (Your suffering) is the result of your own ignoble deeds. (The consequences of the deeds done by a man cannot be erased or removed). Pause.
(As per your own belief), The moon resides on the forehead of Shiva and takes dips in the holy Ganga (because it too is caught in the hair of Shiva), and Krishna was born in its clan. Despite all these good things going for the moon, it has not been able to get rid of its scars of stigma – the dark spots on it caused by the wet towel of the Sage Gautama when he hit the Moon-turned-rooster with the towel for cheating the Sage – because of his evil deeds. (See the full story in "Introduction"). 1. You also believe that Arun, the charioteer of the Sun, which is the lamp for the whole world, is the older brother of Groorr, the king of all the birds, and the ride of Vishnu. Yet Arun is lame (because of the deeds he committed previously). 2. You say that when Brahma, the creator of the universe, became lustful about his own daughter, and would add a head to cast his evil eye on her in whichever direction she moved, Shiva got so mad to see such shameless behaviour of Brahma that he severed the top head of Brahma with his sharp disc-like weapon. However, being a Brahman, the skull of Brahma got stuck to the palm of Shiva and would not come off, no matter what he did or how many holy places he visited. Shiva could not succeed in getting his hand free despite the fact that (according to your belief) he is the Lord of the whole universe, and the destroyer of countless sins. This was because of the deeds done by him (see "Introduction" for the full story). 3. Because of some deeds done in the past, the ocean has not been able to get rid of its saltiness despite the fact that it is the master of all the rivers, and as per your beliefs, it housed the 14 priceless jewels including the Amrit, the moon, the Kamdhenu Cow, goddess Lakshmi (who later got married to Vishnu), the Kulp tree (now in paradise ruled by Indra), the long-eared and seven-headed horse, and the highly capable physician, Dhunvuntri. These jewels were retrieved from the ocean when the gods and demons jointly churned it. 4.
For the same reason, Hanuman, the monkey warrior, and the staunch devotee of Rama, could not get rid of his small short-pants despite the fact that he burned down the fort of Lanka, uprooted the garden of Ravana, and brought the healing-plant from the Himalayas to kill the pain of (to treat the wounded Laxman – the younger brother of Rama) to please his Lord, Rama. 5. The consequences of the deeds performed previously cannot be erased, oh my soul. That is why I am reciting Lord's Naam so that I do not commit any immoral deeds, oh my God, submits Tirlochun. 6. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhoop = incense. Ghirt = ghee. Kumlaputi = husband of Maya (God). Saaj(i) = decorating. 1. Mungla = happiness; blissfulness. Nit = always. Pause. Ootum = superior. Deeura = attractive lamp. Nirmul = pure. Baati = wick. 2. Ramanund = (Ram + Anund) = the bliss of union with God. Permanund = Perm + Anund = the source of supreme bliss (God). Bukhaanaiy = describes; sings praise. 3. Mudun Moorut(i) = the persona of captivating beauty. Bhaiy = frightening world-sea. Taar(i) = ferry across (the world-sea). Bhunaiy = says. Bhuj(u) = remember. 4.
MEANING: I wish to sacrifice my life for my Lord (God), who is the husband of Maya, and this is my "aarti" for Him, which the people perform ritualistically by decorating a platter with incense, lamps, and ghee, etc. 1. Because of my devotion to the Royal Lord, and because of His benevolence, my mind feels blissful all the time. Pause. For me, You are the superior most lamp and its wick (which people use for aarti), oh my Lord – the husband of Maya. 2. Only the worshipper of the Lord realizes the supreme bliss when he sings praise of the source of permanent bliss – God. 3.
I advise all of you to worship the Lord, who is the persona of captivating beauty, and who ferries us across the frightening world-sea, oh Saiyn(u). 4.

Everybody can find him in his own body, and there is no need to become a member of any special sect or a pilgrim. When you search for Him in your body, there is no need left to perform His "aarti" with incense, lamps, flowers, and any sweets. 1. God, which is present in the universe, is also present in the human body, and whosoever searches for Him can realize Him. God is the ultimate Truth, but can be "shown" by Satguru only, humbly submits Peepa. 2.3.
