NOTE: This holy Shabad is in Persian.

Word Meaning: Yuk = one. Urj = request. Gooftum = I make. Paysh(i) = before. Goash = ear. Koon = in. Kartar = the Creator (Waheguru). Hukka = Truthful; eternal. Kabir = great. MEANING: (The Basic Mantra): There is only one Living Supreme Being which has eternal existence, is omnipresent and is the creator of the universe, is fearless (because He has no rival), bears no enmity with anyone (is forgiving), is unaffected by time (is timeless), does not take any living form, and is self-illuminated, and can be realized only with the grace of the Guru.

Shabad: You are everlasting, great, benevolent, perfectly pure, and the provider, oh Waheguru. I have made a request to You, please listen to my situation carefully (Waheguru is the only power to whom we should pray). 1. The world is perishable, but my mind believes it to be true (everlasting). My mind does not realize that my hair is in the grip of Israel, the Angel of Death. Pause. (When death comes), There will be no one, including my wife, sons, father, and brothers, to hold my hand (to save me from death). When I fall to my death, nobody will be there to keep (save) me, and the final prayer of burial will be offered. 2.

With evil thoughts in my mind, I have been wandering day and night to satisfy my appetite for lust and greed. I have never performed a noble act; this is my situation, oh Waheguru. 3.
I am unfortunate, and there is no one else like me who is a back-biter, negligent, shameless, and fearless. Nanak is Your slave, and begs for the dust of the feet of Your devotees (an opportunity to serve them and recite Your Naam in their company), oh Waheguru. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Bhuou = fear. Bhaang = cannabis. Khullrree = the bag to store cannabis. Cheet(u) = mind. Dayvaana = crazy. Bhuyya = became. Teet(u) = Ateet(u) = detached from worldly affairs. Ker = hands. Kaasa = a bowl to collect alms. Bhookh = appetite. Dur(i) = Waheguru's Court. Neeta Neet = always. 1. Smaayay = prayer. Maangut(u) = beggar. Bheekhiya = alms. Pause. Kaysur(i) = saffron. Koosm = flowers. Mirgmaiy = musk. Herna = gold. Chundun = sandalwood. Jot(i) = light; soul, nature. Inayhi = like this. Permul = fragrance. 2. Putt = silk. Bhaanda = container. Kuhhaiy = questions. Aiysa = such. Vern = any caste. Liv Laayay = stay focused on. 3.

MEANING: (The yogis who claim to be detached from the world in Your search, use cannabis with the belief that it enhances their concentration during meditation, and carry a bowl to collect alms when they go door to door). People, like the yogis, may call me insane, but I am also detached from the world. However, respectful fear for You is the cannabis for me, and my mind is the bag in which I store my cannabis of Your fear, oh my Waheguru. (Rather than hunger of the stomach), I am hungry for Your holy sight, and my hands joined (clasped) together serve as the bowl to collect alms (of Your sight) which I beg for all the time at Your Door. 1. I pray for Your holy sight; please grant this donation I beg for at Your Door. Pause. Saffron, flowers, musk, and gold do not discriminate between people; they adorn everybody the same way. Similarly, Waheguru's devotees are like the sandalwood extract, which gives its fragrance (noble advice) to everybody without any discrimination. 2. Good things, like ghee and silk, can be stored in containers of any shape or type (their worth does not change with the shape or type of the container), and nobody cares about the shape of the vessel. Similarly, the worth (greatness) of Waheguru's bhagats (devotees) is not affected by the caste in which they are born. Their teachings are equally valuable. 3.

Please, put me in the shelter (company) of Your devotees who stay absorbed in Your Naam all the time so that I may get connected with You, and receive the donation of Your holy sight, oh Waheguru. 4.2.

Tilung Mehla 1, Ghuru) 3: Ek Onkar, Satgur Persad(i). Eh(u) tun Maya paahiya piyaaray, leetrra lub(i) rungaayay.

Word Meaning: Paahiya = has a primer of; has a coating of. Leetrra Rungaayay = got dyed. Lub = greed to eat; gluttony. Kunt = (Waheguru) husband. Choalrra = robe; cloak (such a greedy body). Kiyoun = how? Dhun = the human bride. Sayjay = on the bed. Huoun = I. Koorbaanaiy = sacrifice life. Mehrvaana = oh, kind and generous Lord. Tinha Kay = of (for) those. Sud = always. Pause. Kaayaan = body. Rungun(i) = the vessel to dye clothes in. Theeyay = becomes. Naaoun Mujeetth = madder colour (deep red), the never-fading colour of Waheguru's Naam. Rungunvaala = the dyer (Waheguru). Deetth = to be seen. 2. Rutrray = deep red (imbued in Waheguru's love). Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet. 3. Saajay = creates. Nedr(i) = kind sight. Kaamun(i) = woman; bride. Bhaavaiy = is liked (loved). Raavay = enjoys. 4.
MEANING: (The raw fabric is given a coat of some suitable chemical – usually alum – called paah (or primer) before it is dyed to give it the desired colour); the human mind normally has the primer of Maya and is finally dyed with the colour of gluttony. My Lord does not like this kind of body (mind)-robe at all. So, how can the human bride go to the Lord's bed (get connected with Him) with such a greedy mind? 1. I am all sacrifice for those who recite Your Naam, oh, the benevolent Waheguru. Pause. If the human body becomes the vessel for the fabric (mind) to be dyed, then add the deep red, never-fading (madder colour) of Waheguru's Naam. If the dyer, Waheguru, gives that colour to the human mind, then that human mind will become so unique that it will be like none other. 2.
Waheguru is with (loves) those devotees (appears in those hearts) whose mind-cloaks are dyed deep red in His love. I pray for the dust of their feet, oh Nanak. 3.
Waheguru Himself creates human beings, dyes their minds with His love, and casts His kind sight. Such a lucky human bride is loved by the Lord, who enjoys her union with Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Word Meaning: Iyaanurriyay = oh, ignorant soul. Maanurra = conceit. Kaahay = what for? Ghur(i) = in own heart. Rungo = love. Kee = why? Maaneh(i) = enjoy. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Nayrraiy = close by. Dhun Kumleeyay = oh, foolish bride (soul). Dhoondheh(i) = searching for. Bhaiy = respectful fear. Sulaayiyaan = needles to put kohl in the eyes. Bhaav = love; affection. Sheegaaro = adornment. Sohaagun(i) = married (loved by Waheguru). Laagi = connected. 1. Baali = young bride (inexperienced new devotee). Kern-Plah = implore; supplicate. Mehl = Waheguru's Residence. Vin Kerma = without good fortune. Jay = even if. Dhaavaiy = tries hard; actively pursues. Lub = gluttony. Loabh = greed. Maati = intoxicated. Smaani = fully absorbed. Innhi Baateen = with such qualities. 2. Vaahaiy = those. Bhulaa Kur(i) Maaniyaiy = accept to be good for you. Hikmut = cleverness. Huqam = claim; reasoning. Chookaayiyaiy = give up. Pudaaruth = the invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam). Churnee Chit(u) Laayiyaiy = focus mind on His feet (obey His Will). Permul = scent; perfume. Aiv = this is what. 3. Aap(u) Guvaayiyaiy = give up (get rid of) selfishness and ego. Aur Kaiysi = what else. Chutraayee = cleverness. Nedr(i) = kind sight. Laykhaiy = worthwhile. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine treasures of the world. Subhraayee = respectable. Raati = imbued. Sehj = the blissful state of mind. Maati = intoxicated. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Bhaayay = in love. Saayay = that. Sroop = pretty; sweet-mannered. Bichukhun(i) = with a sharp mind. Siyaani = wise. 4.

MEANING: (People who renounce the world and go to forests in search of Waheguru become conceited of their "sacrifice". Guru Sahib questions the conceit and approach of such people and asks them): What are you conceited about, oh, the ignorant human bride? (Rather than leaving the house and getting conceited about it) Why don't you enjoy the love of Waheguru in your own heart? Waheguru is very close to you (in your heart), so what are you looking for in the wilderness, oh, the foolish human being? If you want to get connected with Waheguru, then put the kohl of Waheguru's respectful fear in the eyes of your mind, and adorn your body with the love for Him. A human bride can be considered married to (connected with) Waheguru only if she is loved by Him. 1. What can the ignorant and inexperienced devotee do if she is not liked by the Lord-Husband? Even though she begs and supplicates to win His love, she cannot reach His Residence (get connected with Him) like that. One cannot achieve anything without good fortune, no matter how hard one tries. Intoxicated (engrossed) in gluttony, greed, conceit, and Maya, the human bride is ignorant if she thinks that she can earn the love of her husband (Waheguru) with such qualities. 2. The right thing for her to do is to approach the devotees who are already married (connected with Waheguru), and ask them about the qualities that one needs to connect with Him. (They will tell the new devotee that) She should gladly accept the Will of Waheguru that whatever He does is good for her; she should also give up her cleverness and reasoning. She should foster love for the Feet of Waheguru (accept His Will), with whose love one acquires the desired invaluable product (of His Naam). (Women use some perfume to attract their husbands and offer their bodies to them), The devotees of Waheguru-Husband should wear the perfume, which will make them do exactly what they are told to do by Waheguru (listen to Guru's Advice) and put their body and mind in Waheguru's service (in the service of humanity) to please Him. These are the qualities by which one can connect with Waheguru, advise the married devotees. 3. There is no other cleverness than to get rid of one's selfishness and ego to please the Waheguru-Husband. The day (time) on which Waheguru casts a kind sight on the devotee is the worthwhile day when the human bride feels that she has acquired all the nine treasures of the world. Only that human bride is considered married, and is respected, who is loved by the Waheguru-Husband. Imbued in such love of Waheguru, she enjoys the bliss of high spiritual state, and stays fully absorbed in Waheguru's love day and night. She is pretty, sweet-mannered, wise, and intelligent, oh, Nanak. 4.2.4.

Sach kee Bani Nanak aakhaiy, Sach(u) soonaayaysi, Sach kee bayla.

Word Meaning: Khusm Kee Bani = Divine Message. Taiysrra = the same. Giyan(u) = knowledge; information. Laalo = an honest and humble man living in Emnabad (the city which was later attacked by Babar. Paap kee = to commit sins. Junj = marriage party. Dhaaya = rushes (will rush to attack). Joareen = forcibly. Daan(u) = donation of land and wealth. Sherm = shame; morality. Dherm = righteousness; justice. Chhup(i) khuloyay = vanished (will vanish). Koorr(u) = injustice; cruelty. Perdhaan = in the leading role; will prevail. Gull Thukki = let alone those (will play no role). Agud = marriage. Shaitaan = Satan. Kutaybaan = Western religious texts, such as the Quran. Kusht meh(i) = in suffering. Jaat(i) = high caste. Sunaati = of low caste. Eh(i) Bhee Laykhay = in the same boat. Sohilay = songs of happiness. Rut = blood. Koongoo = saffron. 1.
Maaspuri = in the city of flesh (murdered). Musoala = subject; issue. Rung(i) Ruvaayee = engrossed in the love of Maya. Vukh(i) Akayla = alone separately. Tupaavus(u) = decision. Niyaaoun = justice. Kurayg(u) = will deliver. Kaayaan Kuppurr (u) = the fabric of human body. Took, Took = will be cut into pieces. Smaalsi Boala = remember these words (of true happening). Aavun = will come. Utthutraiy = in 1578 of Indian calendar (1521 A.D.). Sutaanvaiy = 1597 (1540 A.D.). Hoar(u) = some other. Ootthsi = will rise. Merd Ka Chayla = some great warrior. Bani = words; Huqam. Sach Kee Bayla = time to remember Waheguru. 2.

MEANING: I am going to share the Divine Knowledge that I received from the Lord, oh Lalo. (Babar, the Iranian emperor) will launch an attack from Kabul on Eminabad with a marriage party (army) to commit brutal sins here. He will forcibly ask for donations (of wealth, land, and girls). All shame and justice will disappear, and falseness (cruelty and injustice) will prevail. Pushing the Qazis and the Brahmans aside, the Satan will perform the marriage ceremony (between the Army forces of Babar and the local wealth and beauty). Amid the enjoyment of the luxuries of life, the Muslim women, who had forgotten worshipping Allah, will now read their holy books at the time of a huge disaster. The other Indian women of high and low castes will be in the same boat. Rather than the happy songs that are sung at weddings, songs of scattered blood will be sung at this tragic wedding, and rather than saffron, which is sprayed at weddings, blood will be scattered all around. 1.
While describing the events of the future, I, Nanak, am singing praise of the Lord (which is warning us about the tragic events that will take place) in the future city of flesh and blood. Waheguru, which created the whole world, and thrust it to be engrossed in Maya, is watching it from a distance (does not get involved). The Lord is perfectly just, and so are His decisions. He will deliver perfect justice. The body-fabric of humans will be cut into pieces, and India will remember these words. The Mughals will come (attack) in 1521 and will leave (be dethroned) in 1540 when some other great warrior will rise. These are the words (Message) of the Lord which Nanak is sharing with you. I will tell (advise) you the right thing to do, and that it is the time to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Lalo. 2.3.5.

TIMING OF THE SHABAD: Before leaving on His long journeys, Guru Nanak Sahib first went to Eminabad (known as Saidpur Sundiyali at that time), and stayed with Bhai Lalo, who was a low-caste carpenter but a very honest and God-fearing man. It was during Guru Sahib's stay with Bhai Lalo when He (Guru Nanak Sahib) was invited to a rich community meal by Malik Bhago, who was a high official with the local Nawab. The rich community meal by Bhago was just a show off his misleading philanthropy. His assistants forced people, particularly the poor, to donate for this "noble" cause. They robbed the people of all their monies and valuables, and collected many times more funds than the Malik spent on the community meals. The helpless people had no one to appeal to because Malik's boss, the Nawab, was equally cruel and unjust. This was annual happening, and the poor always dreaded the upcoming event and were always living in fear. When Guru Sahib saw this injustice done to the helpless, he felt a severe mental agony. The first thing He did was to decline Malik's invitation.

During one of His meditation practices, He must have seen the future attack on Eminabad by Babar as Waheguru's way to punish the corrupt and cruel rulers. But, at the same time, some serious loss of innocent lives was bound to happen. This was a worrisome situation which Guru Sahib thought as important to share with people. That is why Guru Sahib addresses Bhai Lalo in this holy Shabad. Among many other things which support the assertion that the Shabad was written long before the actual attack, and makes predictions for future happenings, are the last two lines, which confirm the assertion in which Guru Sahib predicts that the Mughals will come in 1521 and will be dethroned in 1540.

However, some people assert that this holy Shabad was articulated by Guru Sahib after the attack by Babar, and is not a future prediction. There is no concrete evidence about the timing of the Shabad one way or the other. In the book "Guru Nanak Chamatkaar" authored by Bhai Veer Singh Ji, Bhai Sahib claims that the Shabad was indeed spoken long before the attack of Babar, and was a prediction of the tragic events to come. The following points support Bhai Sahib's assertion.

(1). Guru Nanak Sahib has 950 stanzas in Shabads, Ashtpudiyaan, Chhunts, Paurris, Sloaks, etc. enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib, but no other Shabad starts with "Jaiysi mein aavaiy Khusm kee Bani" (meaning that I am going to share exactly the Divine Knowledge (information) which I received from the Lord), or anything similar to it. So, why would Guru Sahib use such wording, particularly when everybody had suffered the attack and knew about it first hand? The only reason to use such wording could be that it was a Divine Message about some future event.

(2). Guru Sahib has written three more Shabads on the subject in Raag Assa. One of those Shabads is reproduced below. As you can see, there is a big difference in emotions between the two. The Shabad above does express a worrisome and tragic situation, but there is no mental agony reflected in here. On the other hand, the Shabad below is reflective of a serious mental pain of Guru Sahib. His pain is so severe that He complains even to His dear Waheguru that why He (Waheguru) did not feel any pain when there was so much wailing and crying in the city due to the barbaric killing of the innocent by Babar's soldiers. Because of His mental pain, Guru Sahib calls the soldiers "dogs". One can clearly see that the following Shabad was written after the attack when Guru Sahib saw the tragedy with His own eyes as opposed to the Shabad under discussion where there is no indication of any such pain. Clearly the Shabad under discussion was written before the attack.

(3). In the above Shabad Guru Sahib writes that the Just Lord will deliver His unbiased justice when Babar attacks, as opposed to calling His Just Lord, merciless, albeit indirectly. Why such a big change in His emotions if both the Shabads were written after the attack? This big shift in emotions strongly supports the conclusion that the above Shabad was written before the actual happening.

(4) The most convincing proof that the Shabad was written as a future prediction comes from the dates given by Guru Sahib about the arrival and departure of the Mughals. He says that the Mughals (Babar was a Mughal) will come in 1521 (the year of actual attack by Babar on Eminabad) and will leave (be dethroned) in 1540 when some other great warrior will rise. (1540 was the year when Sher Shah Suri defeated Humanyoun – the eldest son of Babar). Even if this holy Shabad was written in 1521 after the attack of Babar, 1540 was certainly a prediction of an important event. (Remember, Guru Sahib had left this mortal world in 1539). So, the whole Shabad was written long before the attack.
(5). In the last lines, Guru Sahib says that India will remember the words of His Shabad. If the Shabad was written after the attack, what was there to remember in His words? Of course, the people would remember the attack as they would any other important event.
(6). If this Shabad was written after the attack, why would Guru Sahib address it particularly to Bhai Laalo while the whole city was suffering?
The other Shabad follows.

NOTE: This holy Shabad has special historical importance and describes the tragic loss of life and property when Babar attacked Eminabad (Saidpur Sundiyali at that time). The kind-hearted Guru Nanak was moved so much that He even complained to His dear Waheguru for the suffering caused by the barbaric killing of its citizens by the army of Babar, and He expressed His grief by writing 4 Shabads on the subject.
MEANING: After taking control of Khorasan, Babar threatened (attacked fiercely) India. So as not to take any blame (for the destructive attack by Babar), the Creator sent the angel of death in the form of Babar. He (Babar) created such a destruction of human life that the people wailed with pain; why were You not moved at the suffering of humanity, oh my Waheguru!! 1. If one powerful individual attacks another powerful individual, and each beats the other up, nobody complains or shows any resentment. But You are the creator of the whole humanity (so the weak should be protected). Pause.
If a powerful lion attacks a herd of cattle and kills some cattle, the owner is held accountable; (so, being the Lord of the world, You are responsible for the killing of all those armless and weak unarmed people who have been killed mercilessly). The dog-like soldiers of Babar's army mutilated and insulted the jewel-like, precious human lives, and there was no one to look after the dead. But it is only Your ability to connect and then disconnect the relatives. 2.
If someone establishes himself in a commanding position, and enjoys the tastes of his choice, he is still considered to be a worm in the eyes of God which picks up food (from dirt). He gets some respect only if he kills his mind as far as attractions of Maya are concerned, and then leads a life of contentment while reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.5.39.

Word Meaning: Khusmaah(u) = of the Lord. Vertnee = is operating. Sach(u) = Eternal. Khayl(u) = drama of the universe. Dhunee = Lord. 1.
Salaaheh(u) = (sing) praise. Oopur(i) = above. Sreek(u) = rival. Kis Laykhaiy = what status; what significance? Gunee = considered. Pause. Mundar = palace. Hur(i) Bunee = created for Him. Aap(i) = Him (Lord). Jhootth(i) = false; fake. 2.

MEANING: Everybody comes to this world with the Will (Laws) of Waheguru, and His Will operates everywhere. Waheguru is everlasting, and so is the drama of His creation (the operation of the universe is also everlasting); He is the Lord of everything. 1.
Sing praise of the Waheguru, who is the Lord of everybody. What significance do I have (I am insignificant) before Waheguru, which has no rival? Pause.
Waheguru has created the air, the water, the earth, the sky, and the big houses for Him to live in (He is present in all of them). He is operating in all of them, so which of them can be called false (short-living), oh Nanak? 2.1.

Word Meaning: Nit = everyday; always. Nihful = worthless. Kerm = deeds. Kmaayay = commits. Buffavaiy = boasts of. Doormutia = ill-advised; evil thinking. Aanaiy = brings. Vulvunch = deceitfulness. Jittiya = conquered. 1.
Baaji = drama. Chaytaiy = remembers. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment. Binsaiy = gets destroyed. Jhootth(i) = falsehood; short-lived. Pause.
Sa Vayla = that time. Kuntuk = thorny; painful. Kaal = death. Grussaiy = grabs. Chhudaayay = frees; emancipates. 2.

MEANING: The ill-advised man always commits worthless deeds and boasts about them. When he brings home (short-lived) wealth by deceitful means, he thinks as if he has conquered the whole world. 1. The world is such that it is like a drama (short-lived), yet the evil-thinking man does not remember Waheguru's Naam. Everything in this world is short-lived and perishable in a moment; so, recite Waheguru's everlasting Naam, oh, my mind. The ignorant man does not think of the moment when he will be clutched by the painful jaws of death. But the devotee, who has Waheguru embedded in his heart, is protected by Him from any suffering (as he merges into Waheguru), oh Nanak. 2.2.

All sins and crimes of Your devotees who get to see Your holy sight are forgiven. 3. The world is a temporary place for (home of) the man, but Waheguru's Naam is the eternal source of all comforts. I realized this truth in the shelter of the Guru, and now I sing praise of the one and only Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

He is perfectly pure; is the raiser and nourisher of all living beings; is the sole Lord of the universe; and is immeasurable. 1. Word Meaning: Keeya = created. Daykhiya = looks after. Vaarri = garden (of the world). 1. Raayaysa = life-history; praise. Piyaray Ka = of the Dear. Jit(u) = by which. Pause. Rung(i) = with love. Kunt(u) = (Waheguru) husband. Raaviya = recited Naam. Puchhotaani = Haath Puchhoarraiy (rubs hands); repents. Sir Dhoonaiy (nods head) = feels regretful; repents. Raiyn(i) Vihaani = the night of life is over. 2. Chookaiy Gee = will end. Saari = the whole (life). Vaari = turn (in human form). 3. Sohaagni = who are loved by. Vudhvee = better. Say = those. Doash = blame. 4. Sukheen = friends. Shuhou = husband (God). Raaviya = enjoyed. Paayay Lugoun = drop on the feet (show respect). Punth Butaayay = ask about the path. 5. Puchhaanaiy = recognize. Bhuou = fear. Chundun = sandalwood extract. Kaamun = acts to bewitch (to captivate). Kaamun(i) = human bride. Tuou = then. 6. Loachiyaiy = yearn for. Baateen = (only) with talks. 7. Dhaat(u) = metal. Phoon(i) = turning around. Liv = meditation. Dhaavaiy = rushes; is attracted. Unbhuou = the fearless (God). Paavaiy = realizes; acquires. 8. Paana Vaarri = a patch of betel leaves. Khur(u) = donkey. Saar(u) = essence; worth. Russiya = lover. Mooshk = musk; fragrance. Tub = then. 9. Apiyo = Amrit (Waheguru's Naam-water). Bherm(u) = misgiving. Bherm(i) = in misgiving. Smaavaiy = is absorbed. Sehjay = slowly; in a blissful spiritual state. Amrapud = the everlasting spiritual state. 10.

MEANING: Waheguru, which has created the world, looks after it. What can we say about Him? (We have no ability to make any contribution). He knows everything about (all the needs of) the world-garden (in which the living beings are the flowers) that He has planted. 1. The man can only sing praise of the dear Waheguru, who is the source of all comforts forever. Pause. Those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam with love have to repent. They badly regret their mistake (of not reciting His Naam) when their night of life is over. 2. But Waheguru cannot be realized by repentance when life is over. One can recite His Naam only after one is reborn as a human again. 3. Only those human brides who are loved by Him realize Waheguru. They are much better than I; I do not have good qualities as they do; so, whom can I blame? 4. I will approach my friends who have enjoyed union with Waheguru and ask for their guidance. I will drop on their feet (show humility) and candidly pray to them, asking for the path to reach Waheguru. 5. (They told me) that like a good wife who obeys her husband, and wears a perfume to win his love, I will have to recognize (obey) the Will of the Waheguru-husband, and wear the perfume of His fear (show Him respectful fear). The human bride needs to have noble qualities with which she can bewitch (charm) the Dear Waheguru. Only then can she enjoy union with Him. 6. Only that devotee can be considered as connected with God, who connects with Him by the mind. One cannot get connected with Him by talking about union only, even if he has a great desire to connect with Him. 7. Just like a metal mixes with its own kind (when melted together), mediation with full devotion (love) wins the love of Waheguru to mix (merge) with Him. When one makes a bond with Waheguru with the grace of the Guru, he realizes the fearless Waheguru. 8.

If there is a patch of betel leaves in a house, the donkey does not know its worth; on the other hand, a lover of fragrances can recognize a flower from its fragrance. 9.
Similarly, a devotee, who drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam-water, gets his misgiving absorbed in itself (the misgiving disappears). Slowly, he gets connected with Waheguru in high spiritual state, and attains the everlasting highest state of spirituality, oh Nanak. 10.1.

Those who enjoy such luxuries of life as chewing betel leaves and areca nuts, and smoking bidis (a crude type of cigarette) (such acts were signs of the rich people who did not do much manual work), never remember Waheguru, are tied up by the Angel of death, and are taken away. 13. On the other hand, the Angel of death never goes even near those dear Sikhs of the Guru who embed (enshrine) Waheguru's Naam in their heart, and recite it all the time (and merge into Waheguru). 14. Pause. Lost in the false greed of worldly comforts, you have even forgotten death. Why don't you sing Waheguru's praise, oh, the foolish and ignorant man? 1. You still have not lost much (have time) to sing Waheguru's praise. One achieves the spiritual state of fearlessness (becomes "one" with Waheguru) by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 2.1.

ਤਿਲੰਗ ਮਹਲਾ 9॥ ਜਾਗ ਲੇਹੁ ਰੇ ਮਨਾ ਜਾਗ ਲੇਹੁ ਕਹਾ ਗਾਫਲ ਸੋਇਆ॥ ਜੋ ਤਨੁ ਉਪਜਿਆ ਸੰਗ ਹੀ ਸੋ ਭੀ ਸੰਗਿ ਨ ਹੋਇਆ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਮਾਤ ਪਿਤਾ ਸੁਤ ਬੰਧ ਜਨ ਹਿਤੁ ਜਾ ਸਿਉ ਕੀਨਾ॥ ਜੀਉ ਛੂਟਿਓ ਜਬ ਦੇਹ ਤੇ ਡਾਰਿ ਅਗਨਿ ਮਹਿ ਦੀਨਾ॥ 1॥

MEANING: Wake up (be aware of the reality), oh my mind (soul); why are you lost, unaware in deep sleep? Don't you realize that even the body, which was born with you (your soul), will not accompany you at the end? Pause. The same mother, the father, the sons, and the relatives, whom you loved deeply, will throw you in fire when your soul leaves the body. 1. Recognize the fact that the world is just like a dream, which deals only with the living. So, sing Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 2.2.

ਤਿਲੰਗ ਮਹਲਾ 9॥ ਹਰਿ ਜਸੁ ਰੇ ਮਨਾ ਗਾਇ ਲੈ ਜੋ ਸੰਗੀ ਹੈ ਤੇਰੋ॥ ਅਉਸਰੁ ਬੀਤਿਓ ਜਾਤੁ ਹੈ ਕਹਿਓ ਮਾਨਿ ਲੈ ਮੇਰੋ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਸੰਪਤਿ ਰਥ ਧਨ ਰਾਜ ਸਿਉ ਅਤਿ ਨੇਹੁ ਲਗਾਇਓ॥ ਕਾਲ ਫਾਸ ਜਬ ਗਲਿ ਪਰੀ ਸਭ ਭਇਓ ਪਰਾਇਓ॥ 1॥ ਜਾਨਿ ਬੂਝਿ ਕੈ ਬਾਵਰੇ ਤੈ ਕਾਜੁ ਬਿਗਾਰਿਓ॥ ਪਾਪ ਕਰਤ ਸੁਕਚਿਓ ਨਹੀ ਨਹ ਗਰਬੁ ਨਿਵਾਰਿਓ॥ 2॥ ਜਿਹ ਬਿਧਿ ਗੁਰਿ ਉਪਦੇਸਿਆ ਸੋ ਸੁਨੁ ਰੇ ਭਾਈ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਕਹਤ ਪੁਕਾਰਿ ਕੈ ਗਹੁ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਸਰਨਾਈ॥ 3॥3॥

MEANING: Life is slipping away fast, so listen to me, and sing Waheguru's praise, which is always with you, oh my mind. Pause. The wealth, the chariots, the cash, and the power, which you love so deeply, will become suddenly foreign (properties of others) when the noose of death is put around your neck, oh my mind. 1. Knowing full well (the falsehood of Maya), you yourself have spoiled (lost) your real objective of life (union with Waheguru), oh foolish man. You never hesitated to commit sins, nor did you get rid of your ego. 2. Listen to how the Guru advises you (to achieve your objective), oh my friend. I pray (strongly suggest) to you aloud to take Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 3.3.

Bayd, Kutayb, iftra bhaayee, dil ka fiqer na jaayay. Took(u) dumm(u) kraari juou kurou, haajir hujoor(i) Khoodaayay. 1. Bunday, khoaj(u) dil hur roaj, na phir(u) prayshaani maah(i). Eh ju dooniya sehr(u) mayla, dustgeeri naah(i). 1. Ruhaou. Droag(u) purrh(i) purrh(i) khooshi hoyay, baykhubur, baad(u) bukaah(i). Hukk(u), Sach(u) Khaaluk khulk miyaanay, Shiyaam moorut(i) naah(i). 2. Usmaan mihaanay lahung duriya, goosul kerdun bood. Kur(i) fukur(u) daayim laayay chushmay. Jeh tuhaa muoujood(u). 3. Pause. Droag(u) = lies. Baykhubur = ignorant. Baad(u) = useless debate. Bukaah(i) = talk. Hukk(u) Sach(u) = eternal. Khaaluk = the Lord. Khulk = world; creation. Miyaanay = in. Shiyaam Moorut(i) = Krishna's idol. 2. Usmaan = sky; mind. Miyaanay = inside. Lahung = flows. Duriya = river of Waheguru's Naam – Amrit. Goosul = to bathe. Kerdun Bood = you should have. Shuck = doubt. Doosur = other. Kerm(u) = munificence. Kreem = benevolent. 4.

MEANING: One does not get rid of his fear or worries (does not get peace of mind) by finding faults in the religious books of the other religions; oh man. But if you concentrate on God (with full faith) even for a short moment, you will find Him present everywhere. 1. If you search for God in your mind all the time, you will never suffer from anxiety, oh man. The world, which looks very magical (captivating), is not meant to be possessed forever. Pause. The unaware (ignorant) man gets enjoyment in worthless discussions when he talks about lies in other religions. The eternal God resides in His creation; He is not present in Krishna's idol or in some other place of belief. 2. The river of Waheguru's Naam-water flows through your mind; you should have bathed in that. If you adopt the life of a detached ascetic and see the world through the glasses of faith in God all the time, you will find Him present everywhere. 3. God is purer than the purest; I can doubt about Him only if there is someone else like Him (and there is none). God is always benevolent, and He knows what He needs to do, oh Kabir. 4.1.

You are benevolent, fulfiller of needs, and wealthy (Your treasures are always full), oh Lord. You are omnipresent and are there right in front of me. 1. You are the river (source of everything), the provider, and hugely rich (generous). You are the only one who gives (life) and takes it back; there is no one else like You. 2. You know everything and are far-sighted; what can a poor (of wisdom) person like me do (say anything in Your praise)? You are the provider of all gifts, oh the Lord of Nama (Nam Dev)! 3.1.

Aalay = a small box to store things; brain; mind. Pause. Kooja = where from. Aamud = (You) came. Ruftee = (You) went. May Ruvee = (You) are going. MEANING: Any news about You is always very comforting, oh my Lord friend. I am always a sacrifice for You. With Your Naam in my mind (and unlike the worldly errands which are done as an obligation without any compensation), any service to You is highly blissful for me, oh my Lord. Pause. Where did You come from? Where did you go? And where are we going? (You never go and come; You are everywhere). (Because You are present in everybody), It was You who performed the dance and sang songs with cowgirls in Dwarika.
1. You look amazing in a turban (as a Muslim) and Your language is very sweet (when You are present in Your devotees who sing Your praise). Why do people say You are present only in Dwarika or (in the holy city, Mecca) of Mughals? 2.
There are several thousand worlds, and You alone are the Lord of all. The dark coloured Krishna is also like You (You are present in him too). 3.
There are many gods, like the sun, Indra, Brahma, Vishnu, and Krishna, but the real King (Emperor of all) is my Lord. 4.2.3.
