Word Meaning: Rungaayay = imbued. Subaayay = all. Durgeh = Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Court. Deen = humble. Duyaal = kind. Sachay = with Waheguru's Naam; with pure heart. Putiaavniya = is pleased. 1. Vaari = sacrifice. Soohaavniya = become pretty (with virtuous qualities). Sookhdaata = source of comfort. Vusaavniya = stay in memory. Pause. Tirbhuvun = in the three-layered universe. Ghunayri = many, many. Uvgoon = vices; ignoble qualities. Puchhotaavniya = repents. 2. Puchhaanay = recognizes. Vukhaanay = utters; explains. Nishaanaiy = gets recognition. Laykha = account (good and bad deeds). Chhootus(i) = gets freedom from the bonds of Maya; finds salvation.
Soohaavniya = pretty; providing comfort. 3. Bhoola = lost (from the true path). Tthaur = shelter; peace. Jum dur(i) = at the door of the angel of death. Choataan = gets beaten up; suffers. Bin(u) = without. Sung = company. Mooktay = free from the bonds of Maya. 4. Saakut = worshipper of Maya; money-minded. Koorray = who indulges in mundane things. Doobidha = caught between Naam and Maya. Aavaiy jaavaiy = is born again and again. Likhiya laykh(u) = pre-written destiny. Maytay = erase. 5. Payiurraiy = in paternal house (this life). Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Jhootth(i) = engaged in worldly attractions. Vichhoonni = disconnected (from Waheguru). Dhaheen = wail. Mootthi = deceived. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's residence. 6. Boojhaiy = understands. Tut(u) = reality; essence. Beechaara = by pondering on. Tthaak(i) = stop; put an end to. Smaavniya = can merge. 7. Akuth = indescribable (Waheguru). Kuhaavaiy = makes others recite. Bhaavaiy = likes. Baynti = request. Sach(u) = Waheguru. 8.

MEANING: By obeying Waheguru's Huqam, those who have imbued their minds in the love of Waheguru are called to the Residence of Waheguru (are connected with Him). My Lord, Waheguru, is always kind to the humble, and His eternal Naam instils faith among the devotees (whose thinking turns from Maya to Waheguru). 1.

I will gladly offer my life for the blissful Shabad in Waheguru's praise. Waheguru's immortalizing Naam is always a source of comfort, but can be embedded in the mind only by the advice of the Guru. Pause. Nobody is mine, and I belong to nobody but Waheguru, which is pervading the whole universe. (Only Waheguru is the real companion of man; all other relations are short-lived). Countless people leave this world after performing deeds of haumein, and then repent for their ignoble deeds. 2.

An individual who recognizes Waheguru's Huqam recites His virtues (Naam), and he is recognized (in Waheguru's Court) for having the Guru's Shabad at heart. Everybody's account of his deeds is maintained in Waheguru's Court; only those who have Waheguru's Naam at heart go unchecked (become "one" with God). 3.

The follower of his mind is misled and can find no shelter; he is punished in the prison of the Angel of Death. Without Waheguru's Naam, there is no friend or companion; only those are above all misdeeds who recite Waheguru's Naam. 4.

A money-minded person deals in perishable goods and does not like the Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Caught between Waheguru's Naam and Maya, he is born again, and again. The prewritten destiny (based on his deeds in previous lives) cannot be erased by anyone (he continues to commit evil deeds); only by acting on the advice of the Guru can a person be set free from the bonds of Maya. 5.

An individual who does not recognize Waheguru (makes no connection with Him) in this life, and is disconnected with Him because of his dealings in mundane things, wails profusely (suffers badly). Having been cheated by vices, he cannot access Waheguru's Residence (make a connection with Him). Vices can be forgiven only by acquiring virtues (by reciting Waheguru's Naam). 6.

Those who realize dear Waheguru in this life by pondering on Guru's Shabad in His shelter are not subjected to rebirth; they become "one" with Waheguru. 7.

Taking Guru's shelter, the individual who realizes the indescribable Waheguru, makes others recite His Naam too. The eternal Lord likes Truth (recitation of His Naam). I make an honest submission that Waheguru can be realized only by singing His virtues, oh Nanak! 8.1.

Word Meaning: Kerm(u) = benevolence. Sayva = service; obeying His Will. Soort(i) = concentration. Chit(u) = mind. Chookaavniya = is ended. 1.
Vaari = Bulihaarniya = offer self for sacrifice. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Pause. Khojay = search. Dhaavut = fast wandering (mind). Tthaak(i) = control. Undin(u) = day and night. Sehjay = peaceful mind; mental state above the effects of Maya. 2.
Kaayaan = body; mind. Vust Asunkha = The source of countless virtues (Waheguru). Naun Dervaajay = nine doors (the nine openings of the body). Dusvaiyn = tenth door (higher state of mind where you can “see” Waheguru). Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya. Unhud Shabad = Auto-playing Divine Music that is supposed to be heard when fully connected with God. 3. Naayee = (niyayay) justice; greatness. Vusaayee = stored in memory. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love (for God). Dur(i) Sachaiy = at the door of Waheguru. Sojhi = enlightenment; realization. 4.

Poonn = virtuous deeds. Saar = understanding; seek information. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Bherm(u) = doubts; confusion. Ugiyani = ignorant. Mug(u) = (real) path. Aavun Jaavuniya = is reborn. 5. Sayva = service (obey Him). Haumein = selfishness and ego. Tthaak = stop or control (mind). Saakhi = advice. Undhiaara = darkness; ignorance. Bujjur = stone. Kpaat = doors. 6.
Gur Churni = Guru's feet (Shabad). Nirmul = clean (without prejudice). 7.
Toodhaiy Taayeen = to You. Bukhshyay = forgive; approve. Vudiyayee = honour. Svaarniya = is adorned; made perfect. 8.
MEANING: A devotee gets connected with Satguru with the benevolence of Waheguru, as a result of which, the devotee focuses his mind on Guru's Shabad, and serves Him (obeys His Will). By overcoming his haumein, the devotee leads a comfortable (blissful) life, and all his attachments with Maya are terminated. 1.
I offer myself as a sacrifice to the Guru. My mind has been enlightened by Guru's advice, and now I sing the virtues of Waheguru day and night. Pause.
One acquires Waheguru's Naam by searching (analyzing) his body and mind. He controls his fast-wandering mind and recites Guru's Bani (Shabad) day and night, thereby achieving the spiritual state beyond the effects of Maya and worshipping Waheguru in that state. 2. The human body is a dwelling for the limitless Waheguru; however, one "sees" Him only when he takes Guru's shelter (acts on His advice) and realizes Him. Even though the human body has nine doors (openings), Waheguru cannot be heard, seen, smelled, tasted, or felt through any of them. He can be realized only in the higher mental (spiritual) state, called the Tenth door, in which the devotee is believed to hear an auto-playing Divine Music, and finds salvation. 3.
Waheguru is eternal, and so is His magnanimity; His Naam is enshrined in one's mind only by the grace of the Guru, when the lucky individual is always imbued in His love, and is enlightened at His (Waheguru's) Door (by Him). 4.
The world has no knowledge of sinful and virtuous deeds, and being engrossed in Maya, is misled by its captivation. The ignorant and blind (of reality) do not follow the path of righteousness, as a result of which, they continue to take rebirths. 5.
Service to the Guru (obeying Him) is always blissful because one is able to control one's selfishness and ego. The Teachings of the Guru open the stone-like (impenetrable) doors of his mind to enlighten him and dispel all the darkness of his mind. 6. If one applies his mind to the Feet of the Guru (His Shabad), his haumein is eradicated, and his heart becomes a home of Waheguru. By the grace of Guru, he recites Pure Waheguru's Naam, and his body and mind also become pure. 7. (When someone is born or dies), It is Your birth and death (because You are present in every living body), oh Waheguru! The individual whom You approve is honoured everywhere. Recite Waheguru's Naam to make your birth and death worthwhile (perfect), oh, Nanak! 8.1.2.

Word Meaning: Nimul = pure (without prejudice). Agumm = inaccessible. Apaara = which has no end (limitless). Tukkrri = weighing scale. Toalaiy = weighs; assesses. Boojhaiy = realizes. Gooni = the source of virtues (God). 1.
Vaari = offer self for sacrifice (or services). Vusaavniya = make to reside in the heart; store in memory; connect with Him. Undin(u) = day and night. Jaagay = stay alert; watchful. Dur Sachay = at the door of Waheguru. Sobha = praise. Pause.
Nudr(i) = kind sight. Laykhaiy = is approved (declared successful). Kmaavniya = earn Truth (connect with God). 2. Bhoolaayay = misguides. Huth(u) Paayay = lay hand; seek support. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written (fortune) based on the deeds of previous lives. Maytna = erase. Vudbhaagi = very lucky. Kurm(u) = kindness. 3. Payiurraiy = parents' house (this life). Dhun = woman (human being). Sooti = unaware (about Waheguru). Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Vissari = forgotten; ignored. Mooti = deceived (robbed of good qualities). Bil-laandi = wail; complain; never content. Pir = husband (Waheguru). 4. Jaata = Puchhaata = recognized (connected with). Sayj = bed. Soohaavi = comforting. Raavay = enjoys. Seegaar(u) = adornment. 5. Lukh Chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms (A Hindu belief). Oopaayay = created. Kilvikh = sins. Dur Sachaiy = at Waheguru's door. 6. Laykha = account of good or bad deeds. Phoon(i) = again; also. Dooyaiy Teeyaiy = the other, (involving) Maya. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. 7.
Kur(i)rayay = makes others do. Vudiyaayee = respect. 8.

MEANING: My Waheguru is pure (without prejudice), inaccessible and limitless. He weighs (evaluates) the world without using any scale. But only that individual realizes this fact who has surrendered to the Guru, and is able (is qualified) to merge with the source of virtues (Waheguru) by singing His praise. 1. I will sacrifice my life for those individuals who have made their hearts a place for Waheguru to reside (those who are connected with God). Those who are connected with God are alert (against the attacks of evil desires) day and night, and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. Pause. He Himself listens to and looks after the needs of His creation, but only that individual is successful on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. Only those individuals who put in effort to connect with Him are prompted by Waheguru Himself to do so. Those who follow Guru's advice earn (acquire) Waheguru's Naam. 2. What support (or shelter) can one have if he is misled by Waheguru Himself? Pre-written destiny (based on the deeds of previous lives) cannot be erased (by the individual with his own efforts). However, those are very fortunate who get connected with the Guru by the kindness of Waheguru. 3. A woman (human bride), who is always unaware of Waheguru in her present life, is robbed (of her spirituality) by her ignoble qualities (due to worldly attractions) and ignores Waheguru. She cannot enjoy a peaceful sleep (life) and wails (complains and suffers) all the time. 4. (On the other hand), a woman (human being) who recognizes (make connection with) the source of all comfort, Waheguru, in this life, overcomes her haumein by acting on the Shabad of the Guru. She adorns herself with virtues to be connected with Waheguru, and the bed of her heart becomes a source of bliss all the time, as she enjoys her husband's (Waheguru's) company. 5. Waheguru has created 8.4 million life forms, but He connects only that individual with the Guru, on whom He casts His kind sight. Such an individual gets rid of all his sins; becomes completely pure, and with Waheguru's Naam at heart, he looks exalted (honourable) in Waheguru's Court. 6. Humans indulge in sensual pleasures, but there is no joy in such deeds (as they are not approved by Waheguru). So, who can (no one can) pass Waheguru's test for His approval when the account of one's deeds is examined? But the eternal Waheguru forgives some of us (who deserve it), and absorbs them into Him (connects them with Him). 7. Waheguru Himself does, and makes His creation do, whatever He wishes it to do, and connects some with Him by making them act on the Guru's advice. Waheguru Himself connects individuals with Him by first connecting them with the Guru, who implants Waheguru's Naam in them, thereby honouring them in His Court, oh Nanak! 8.2.3.

MEANING: It is only Waheguru which operates hidden in the world. My mind gets imbued in His love when I “see” Him in the shelter of the Guru. One can realize Waheguru in his heart (which becomes Waheguru’s residence) by getting rid of all his desires, and attain the bliss of the higher spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). 1.

I wish to sacrifice my life for those who have only the “One” Waheguru in their mind. When one obeys the Guru’s advice, his mind comes to rest in itself (quits wandering) and he gets imbued in Waheguru’s love. Pause.

This world has been misled by You (for being engrossed in Maya), oh Waheguru! It has forgotten You, and has been captivated by Maya. It is lost in misbeliefs day and night, and suffers as a result. 2. Those who are imbued with the love of the creator of our fortunes (Waheguru) come to be recognized all over the world due to their serving (obeying) the Guru. Those who are honoured by Waheguru become “one” with Him. 3.

In the love for Maya, those who do not remember Waheguru suffer in the court of the Angel of justice. They are blind and deaf as far as the worship of Waheguru is concerned, and cannot see the reality; such followers of their mind suffer because of their sins. 4. Some, who are prompted by You, are imbued in Your love; and You like Your worship which is performed with love, oh Waheguru! Those who serve Satguru, which is the source of all comfort, have all their wishes fulfilled by You, oh Waheguru! 5. You forgive and honour (Your devotees), oh Waheguru! I am always in Your shelter. The Angel of death does not come even close to those who recite Your Naam. 6. Those who are liked by Waheguru are always imbued with His love. Waheguru connects them with Him through the Guru. I am always in Your shelter; You, Yourself, enlighten Your devotees, oh Waheguru! 7. Those who recognize (get connected with) Waheguru become “one” with Him. They discuss Waheguru’s virtues and recite His Naam. Those who are imbued in Waheguru’s Naam are the real renouncers of Maya, and they meditate on Waheguru with full concentration in their own mind, oh Nanak. 8.3.4.

Word Meaning: Murraiy = (desires) die. Jaapaiy = is recognized. Kaal(u) = death. Chaapay = affect; hit. Suntaapaiy = causes suffering. Joti = light (soul). Jot(i) = Waheguru's own light. Smaani = merges. 1. Sobha = respect; fame. Sach(i) = (in) Waheguru. Chit(u) = mind. Sehj(i) = in a higher spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Pause. Kaayaan = body. Kuchi = perishable. Cheer Hundhaayay = wears clothes (deals in perishable things to enjoy life). Mehl(u) = (God's) Residence. Juldi phiraiy = burns (suffers badly and finds no peace). Pir = husband (God). 2. Dayhi = body. Jaat(i) = caste. Aagaiy = next world (Waheguru's Court). Laykha = account (of deeds done). Tithaiy = there. Chhoottaiy = gets freedom (from the angel of justice). Dhunvauntay = wealthy (spiritually). AIthaiy = this world. 3. Bhaayay = (with) love. Seegaar = adornment. Ruvaiy = enjoys (Waheguru). Mujeetthaiy = Mujeetth (madder) is a dye plant which produces a dark red colour which never fades. So, Mujeetth rung means deep love for Waheguru. 4. Nudr(i) nihaalay (nihaaray) = sees with eyes. Ut(i) = extreme. Oocho Oocha =higher than the highest; above the effects of Maya; unreachable. 5. Moh(i) = attachment. Soota = asleep. Visaar(i) = forgetting. Unt(i) = at the end. Vigoota = suffers. Sojhi = enlightenment. 6.
Apiou = Amrit. Bherm = doubts; misbeliefs. Mookt(i) = freedom from Maya. Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Bairaagi = who has broken connections with the world. 7. Dhundhaiy = (in worldly) business. Rijuk(u) = food and other needs. Uprraayay = delivers. Su = that. Kaar = deeds. 8.

MEANING: An individual who kills his desires by the Guru's Shabad is recognized (honoured) in the world. The fear of death does not affect him, and no discomfort causes him any suffering (his mind becomes so strong that he does not feel any discomfort). Reciting Waheguru's Naam, his soul merges with Waheguru's Light (Soul), oh my mind. 1. I wish to sacrifice my life for those who earn praise by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Whoever serves Satguru and focuses his mind on Waheguru attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause.
The human body is perishable, and deals in perishable things involving Maya. Because of one's indulgence in the other (Maya), he cannot reach Waheguru's Residence. Without the Waheguru-husband, such human brides suffer greatly and find no peace, day and night. 2. The body, and one's caste (status in society), do not go to the next world (before Waheguru, where one's account of deeds is examined); he is set free (from rebirths) there, if he has Waheguru's Naam in his account (enshrined in his heart). Those who serve the Guru are spiritually wealthy in this world and the next and are always connected with Waheguru. 3.
Those who adorn their bodies with the fear of, and love for God, reach Waheguru's Residence, and their minds are coloured deep, like the deep red colour of madder (which never fades) with Waheguru's love, and enjoy Him, day and night. 4.
The husband, Waheguru, always resides hidden in everybody's mind, but some rare person "sees" Him with Guru's grace. My Waheguru is higher and higher (unreachable), but when He is kind, He connects His devotees with Him. 5.

The world is in slumber in the love for Maya. Forgetting Waheguru, it ultimately suffers. But Waheguru Himself awakens it and enlightens it through the Guru. 6.
One can dispel his misbeliefs by drinking the Amrit (of Waheguru's Naam). With Guru's grace, he can achieve the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. A person who is imbued in Waheguru's worship is a true renouncer of Maya and becomes "one" with Waheguru by killing his desires. 7.
Waheguru creates the world, and then puts it into the business involving Maya. He delivers food and fulfills the needs of all living beings, including 8.4 million life forms. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's love recite His Naam; Waheguru makes individuals do whatever He wants them to do, oh Nanak! 8.4.5.

Jayvud = as great. Sirjee = created. Goyee = destroyed. Ghurr(i) = build artfully. Bhunn(i) = break. Svaareh(i) = refine. Soohaavniya = is adorned. 8.
NOTE: Maya's effects are compared to the black colour of kohl because attraction for Maya creates darkness in the minds, as far as awareness about God is concerned. Nirunjun = without (above) the effects of Maya = Waheguru.
MEANING: Those who obey the Guru's Shabad are able to assess (appreciate the worth of) the noble qualities, which connect them with Waheguru in the company of the devotees (holy saints). As a result, they enshrine Waheguru's Naam, which is highly valuable like a diamond or a ruby, in their mind. Those who possess (have acquired) Waheguru's Naam in their heart after testing it in the company of the devotees as the touchstone, discuss Waheguru's virtues all the time. 1.
I am a sacrifice for those who harbour Waheguru's Naam in their mind. While living in the world of Maya, they acquire the Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and become "one" with Him. Pause. Because of the presence of the inaccessible and limitless Waheguru in the human mind, the human body is also a home for Waheguru's vast expansion, but only those who take the Guru's shelter when the forgiving Waheguru connects them with Him. 2. My Lord reinforces Truth (His Naam), and the devotee applies his mind to Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Guru. It is only Waheguru who operates everywhere; one can become "one" with Him by reciting His Naam. 3. My dear Waheguru is carefree and is the destroyer of all sins and vices. One should always recite His Naam with love and respect, because this is what the Guru preaches: worship Waheguru with love and some fear. 4. Waheguru's worship is true (successful) only if it is approved by Waheguru. He Himself gifts such worship (to the deserving, and never has to repent (that He made a wrong choice). There is only one Lord of all the living beings, and He grants the high spiritual life to His devotees by enabling them to kill the worldly desires by the Guru's Shabad. 5. I have none other than You (as my support), oh Waheguru! I serve only You, and sing only Your praise. Waheguru, Himself, connects His devotees with Him with His own benevolence. 6.
There is none like You for me. Your kind sight makes my body (life) successful. Waheguru always protects His devotees by being aware of their needs and looking after them. The devotees take shelter of the Guru and attain a spiritual state beyond the effects of Maya. 7. There is none other, as magnanimous as You are, oh Waheguru! You create the world, and then destroy it Yourself. You beautify the lives of Your devotees by destroying their vices and adorning them with virtues. Waheguru's Naam beautifies the life, oh Nanak! 8.5.6.

Vusaavniya = make heart a residence for Waheguru; is embedded (in mind). Soojhaiy = understands (is connected with). Siyoun = with. Loojhaiy = fights. Munsa = desires. Pause. Punch doot = five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and conceit). Moheh(i) = are deceiving (robbing people of spiritual qualities). Soodh(i) = wisdom. Saara = knowledge. Ghur = (good qualities of) heart. Raakhaiy = protects. 2. Ikk(i) = many. Raatay = imbued. Maatay = intoxicated; imbued; focused. 3. Aikum = firstly. Aikaiy = only Him. Oopaaya

= created. Doobidha = difficulty in making a decision. Tribidh(i) = having three effects (Maya). Chauthi Paurri = fourth (spiritual) level, where Maya has no effect = Sehj. 4. Bhaavaiy = likes; approves. Jaata = recognized (made a connection). Kerni = performance of (worthy) deeds. 5. Baajhoun = without. Uver(u) = other. Doojaiy = (in) Maya. Khup(i) Khup(i) = try hard (suffer) without any success. Sayv(i) = serve. 6. Shern(i) = shelter (dependence on). Saari = pawns in the game of dice. Kaar = deeds. 7. Vakheh(i) = sees; looks after. Hudoor(i) = in the presence. Bhurpoor = filling completely; omnipresent. Vertaiy = operates. 8

MEANING: The inconceivable, the inaccessible, and the limitless Waheguru operates everywhere and enjoys every heart. Waheguru is worshipped with Guru's Shabad when one attains a higher spiritual state above the effects of Maya; he then becomes "one" with Waheguru. 1. I offer my life for sacrifice for all those who make their hearts a place for Waheguru (His Naam) to reside. An individual who recognizes the value of the Guru's Shabad (makes a connection with Him), fights with his mind (evil desires), and becomes "one" with Waheguru after killing (overcoming) his desires. Pause. The five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego) are cheating the world (robbing it of spiritual wealth). The followers of their mind are blind (ignorant) and do not have any wisdom or knowledge to realize this. However, those who obey and act on the Guru's Shabad are able to overpower the demons and thus protect their house (wealth of virtues). 2. Some devotees of the Guru are always imbued in Waheguru's love, and serve Waheguru (recite His Naam) in a high spiritual state, and are always intoxicated with His Naam. They sing the virtues of Waheguru in the company of their dear (Guru), and as a result are honoured in Waheguru's Court. 3. First of all, Waheguru created Himself, and then He created the second (Maya) with three (accepted) effects, which result in dichotomy and cause difficulty for people in choosing between the captivating Maya and Waheguru's Naam. Above the three effects of Maya is the highest spiritual state, which is called the Fourth Level (state). Waheguru's devotees deal in pure Truth (Waheguru's Naam) and attain the Fourth Level. 4. Anything is true (everlasting) if it is liked (or approved) by Waheguru. Those who recognize the real Truth (Waheguru) merge into Him in the Fourth State. The real deed worthy of performing for the devotees is to serve Waheguru so as to become "one" with Him. 5. There is none other than Waheguru (worthy of worship). People indulge in Maya, and are suffering badly (spiritually) because they do not gain any spirituality (and no peace of mind). A devotee recognizes only one Waheguru, serves only Him, and enjoys all the comforts. 6.
All living beings are in Your shelter (depend on You), oh Waheguru! You alone examine each of them like the pawns in a game of dice, and decide which pawn (human being) will succeed (in merging with You), and which will not – at least not just yet. Waheguru always makes them perform the deeds He wishes them to perform, and connects them with Him through the Guru. 7. Waheguru is present everywhere (is omnipresent), and He observes the living beings for their deeds in His own presence (under His supervision) and connects the deserving with Him. He operates alone, and one is enlightened by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.6.7.

Word Meaning: Virlaiy = some rare. Chukh(i) = by tasting. Deetthi = saw; observed. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Maha Rus(u) = great essence (taste). Dur(i) = door. Shabad(u) Vujaavniya = (music) of Shabad plays (captivates). 1. Amritsar = pool (source) of Amrit. Mayl(u) = filth of evil thoughts. Chookaavniya = is removed; washed away. Pause. Unt(u) = limit. Rujjaan = (I am) fully satisfied. Na Kubhoon = never. Bhookh = appetite. 2. Uver(u) = other. Beeya = second. Tikha = thirst. Nivaari = removed. 3. Ruttan(u) Pdaruth(u) = highly valuable article like precious stones = Waheguru's Naam. Tiyaagaiy = give up; let go; trade in. Pullar(i) = crushed dried stems of certain crops like canola (a worthless thing). Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Beejaiy = sows. Ful(u) = result. 4. Soyee Jun(u) = that devotee. Bhaiy = fear. Bherm(u) = misbelief. 5. Perm Pud = the supreme (spiritual) level. Nirmul(u) = pure; clean. 6. Simrit Shast = Hindu holy books. Bayd = the Vedas. Vukhaanaiy = utter; discuss. Tut(u) = reality. Dookho Dookh(u) = suffering, and suffering only. 7. Kis(u) = to whom. Kuraayay = makes others do. Naamay = by Naam. Naam(i) = in Naam (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: The Amit (immortalizing) Bani of the Guru (in Waheguru's praise) is very sweet. But some rare devotee of the Guru tastes it. Whoever drinks the great essence of Bani (gets imbued in it) is enlightened, and the Divine music of Guru's Shabad seems to play continuously in his mind at the Door of Waheguru (Waheguru's Naam is always fresh in his mind). 1. I am a sacrifice to those who focus their mind with full devotion with Guru's Feet (Shabad). Satguru is the eternal pool of Amrit; if the mind takes a dip in the pool (recites Waheguru's Naam), all its filth (of evil thoughts) is washed away. Pause. Some rare individual applies his mind to Your Feet (makes connection with You) by the grace of the Guru; but nobody has ever been able to find Your limits, oh Waheguru! I pray to You that I may always have an appetite for Your Naam, and should never be tired of singing Your praise, oh Waheguru. 2.
By the Guru's grace, I have tasted the Amrit of Your Naam, and now I "see" only You everywhere, and nobody else, oh Waheguru. I have killed my thirst for worldly desires, and now I am enjoying blissfulness without any special effort. 3.
(On the other hand), a follower of his mind is blind (of wisdom about Waheguru) and indulges in Maya; he trades the precious Waheguru's Naam for worthless short-lived things involving Maya, which are like the crushed stems of dried crops. He reaps what he sows, and does not get mental peace even in his dreams. 4.
Only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam, and enshrines Guru's Shabad in his mind to whom He is kind. Such an individual always fears God, but gets rid of all other worldly fears and also his misbeliefs. 5. An individual who has all his misbeliefs cleared is always blissful and attains the higher spiritual state (above Maya) with the Guru's grace. With the Pure (Holy) Bani (of the Guru), his mind is also purified, and he always sings praise of Waheguru in the high spiritual state. 6.
Those who explain the Hindu holy Granths, such as the Shastras, the Vedas, and the Upanishads, to these people are lost in misbelief; they do not know the truth. They enjoy no comfort without serving the Guru, and suffer in discomfort. 7.
Waheguru Himself makes the living beings do whatever they are doing (Waheguru guides or misguides them based on their deeds of previous lives). So, nobody can be fully blamed for doing immoral things. Waheguru Himself does as He pleases and makes others act on His Will. However, one becomes "one" with Waheguru only by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.7.8.

Word Meaning: Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = higher spiritual state and love. Rung churraayay = dyes. Rutta = imbued. Rusna = tongue. Chlooli = thickly dyed. Bhaayay = (with) love. 1. Nirbhuou = fearless (Waheguru). Vusaavniya = is secured (stored) in memory. Bikh(u) = poisonous. Bhuoujul(u) = the world sea (of Maya). Traavniya = ferry across. Pause.

Munmukh = follower of his own mind. Moogdh = foolish. Naata Dhota = bathed and dressed (religious rituals to show off). Thaayayn Na Paayee = does not get any (respectable) place in Waheguru's Court; is not considered worthy. Jayha = as. Tahya = the same. Uvgun = evil deeds. Puchhotaavniya = repents. 2.

Soojhaiy = think of. Likhayay Aayay = born with pre-destiny. Boojhaiy = understand. Kerm = deeds. Nuhee Paayay = gains nothing (spiritually). 3.

Sach Kerni = performance of True (noble) deeds. Saar(u) = supreme. Mokh = freedom from Maya. Raatay = imbued. Rung(i) = (in) love. 4.

Rung Laayay = is dyed. Mohiya = captivated. Sehj Soobhaayay = higher spiritual state and love. Sehjay = easily; without any special effort. 5.

Bulihaari = sacrifice life. Vitoun = upon; for. Chit(u) = mind. 6.

Sacho Sach(i) = pure Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Pteejaiy = is pleased; brings faith. Undar(u) = inside; mind. Bheejaiy = is imbued. Baiys = sit (in meditation). Soothaan = a clean, attractive place; a pure mind. Aapay = Waheguru Himself. Sat(i) = True; right. Munaavniya = convinces; inspires. 7.

Nudr(i) = kind sight. Paayay = receives; acquires (Naam). Vusaiy = makes home; stored in memory. Sobha = praise. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself dyes the hearts of His devotees with love for Him by the Guru's Shabad. The devotee's mind, body, and tongue are deeply imbued (in His love) because of his fear and love for Waheguru. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who make their hearts a place for the fearless Waheguru to reside (enlighten their mind). The fearless Waheguru is worshipped by the grace of the Guru, and the Guru's Shabad ferries the devotee across the sea of poisonous Maya. Pause.

The foolish follower of his mind considers him very clever. (In trying to fool others) He adorns himself with ritualistic symbols and pretends to be religious, but such acts do not earn him recognition from Waheguru. He leaves this world with the same bad qualities with which he was born, and repents at the end. 2.
The blind (ignorant) follower of his mind cannot think of anything right in the realm of spirituality, and does not understand that a man is born to die eventually. He performs only the rituals which cannot connect him with God, and wastes his precious human life without Waheguru's Naam in mind. 3. The real, and the supreme thing for a man to do, is to act on the Guru's Shabad. The freedom from the bonds of Maya can be achieved only by taking shelter of the Perfect Guru. The Perfect Guru preaches the Shabad of Waheguru's praise day and night, by which the devotees get imbued in His love (and are salvaged). 4. The tongue, imbued in Waheguru's Naam, also dyes one's mind with Waheguru's love; as a result, his peaceful mind and the body are captivated by Waheguru's love. The dear Waheguru is acquired (realized) in the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), and the devotee always stays connected with Waheguru. 5. The individual, who has love for Waheguru at heart, sings His praise by Guru's Shabad, and enjoys the bliss of a high spiritual state. I offer my life to those who apply their mind to the service of the Guru (recite and obey His Shabad). 6. Waheguru is pleased only by the true devotees (who obey His Will), and whose mind has been imbued with His love by the Guru's grace. Such devotees sing Waheguru's praise with a pure and focused mind. Waheguru Himself inspires and guides them that (obeying His Huqam) is the right approach for union with Him. 7. Only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam, to whom He is kind. With Guru's grace, he overcomes his haumein, and Waheguru comes to reside in his heart (his heart is enlightened) and such a devotee is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 8.8.9.

Word Meaning: Savyiyaiy = serving (obeying His Huqam). Achint(u) = without any special effort. Sufliyo = laden with fruit (noble qualities). Birkh(u) = tree. Tikha = thirst (desires). Luhaavniya = quench; remove. 1. Vaari = offer to sacrifice. Mayl(i) = by connecting. Pause. Soohaaya = pleasant; comforting. Nirmal(u) = pure (without any flaws). 2.
Bin(u) = without. Sidh = accomplished yogis. Sadhik = who purify their bodies to achieve the level of a Sidh yogi. Bil=laayay = (trying hard to achieve success but badly frustrated to the extent of) crying. Pooraiy bhaag(u) = with full luck. 3.
Aarsi = mirror. Morcha = rust (filth of evil desires). Sokhaiy = absorb to dry up (remove). Unhut Bani = Guru's Shabad that leads to a higher mental state where it is believed that auto-playing Divine music is heard. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. 4.
Kihou Na = from none else. Aapay Aap(i) = Waheguru Himself. Sehjay Sehj(i) = higher spiritual state where mind is at peace and quits wandering after Maya. 5.
Ikkus(u) = with One (God). Liv Laayay = focuses the mind. Bherm(u) = misbelief. Kaayaan = body (mind). Vunuj = Vaapar = deal in. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. 6.
Kerni = deed (worth performing). Keerut = singing praise. Saar(u) = supreme. Mokh = salvation (freedom from desires). Rung(i) Rutta = imbued in love. 7.
Milaaya = connected (by Waheguru's grace). Vudiyayee = respect. 8.9.10.

MEANING: The great recognition (reward) of serving Satguru (acting on His Shabad) is that, Waheguru makes one's heart a place for Him to reside (enlightens his mind and stays in his memory) without any special effort on the devotee's part. Waheguru is like a fruit tree which is laden with (Amrit-like) virtues. Whosoever drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit has his thirst for all worldly desires quenched (is left with no desires). 1.
I wish to gladly sacrifice my life for Waheguru, which connects us with Him by first connecting us with the holy congregation. He Himself connects with the holy congregation where His praise is sung with the Guru's Shabad. Pause.
We serve (worship) Satguru when we act on His blissful Shabad (Advice), which pleases Waheguru, who then comes to reside in our heart. The Pure Waheguru (without any feelings) destroys the haumein of the devotee, as a result of which, the devotee is honoured in His Court. 2. One cannot acquire the Naam (connect with Waheguru) without the Guru; that's why the accomplished Sidh yogis and the yogis suffer frustration to the point of crying, because their efforts are not succeeding. There is no comfort (mental peace) without the Guru, and one connects with the Guru only if one has great fortune (based on one's deeds in previous lives). 3.

By taking Guru's shelter, some rare devotee realizes that the human mind is like a mirror in which he can see his good or bad intentions (the external physical appearances can be seen with the eyes in the mirror, but you need to analyze your mind to see your interior qualities). When one's haumein is controlled, his mind does not get the filth of evil thoughts (and deeds). Guru's holy Bani leads to the high spiritual state where the auto-playing Divine music is believed to be heard, and one merges into Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. 4 Without the Guru, one cannot "see" Waheguru; the Guru Himself kindly "showed" me Waheguru in my heart when I realized that He is actually hiding (present imperceptibly) in everyone's heart, and one connects with Him in the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). 5.
When one comes to Guru's shelter, he concentrates his mind only on Waheguru, and burns away (gets rid of) his misbeliefs about the other (Maya). He deals only in (thinks about) activities that are related to Waheguru in his body and mind, and acquires the eternal treasure of Waheguru's Naam. 6. A devotee's supreme task is to sing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru, whereby he reaches the door to freedom from the bonds of Maya. Imbued with Waheguru's love, he sings His praise day and night when he is called into His Residence (permanently connected with Him). 7. The provider Waheguru first connects the devotee with the Guru before the devotee gets connected with Him. With perfect fortune, the devotee gets the Guru's Shabad embedded in his heart. One is respected if he has Waheguru's Naam at heart, and sings His praise, oh Nanak! 8.9.10.

Word Meaning: Aap(u) = selfishness. Vunjaayay = get rid of. Vunjeh(i) = Vapaar = (do business (deal in). Sungreh(i) = gather; accumulate; acquire. 1. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Vudiyayee = respect. Pause. Vayla Vukht(u) = time. Soohaava = pleasant; comforting. Jit(u) = at which. Bhaaya = liked. Sayviyaiyn = (by) serving. 2. Bhaaou = respectful love. Bhojun = food. Tootthaiy = (when) pleased. Un = other. Rus = enjoyable tasty essences. Chookaiy = ended. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Sehj Sookh = bliss of high spiritual state. 3. Undh = blind; ignorant. Guvaara = unrefined. Phir(i) = then. Kithoun = from where. Jum Dur(i) = at the door (in the Court) of the angel of death. Choataan = beatings; punished. 4. Saad(u) = taste. Puchhaaneh(i) = recognize. Vukhaneh(i) = utter; explain to others. Nau Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. 5. Thaan(u) = heart. Soohaaya = became pretty. Naad(u) = Shabad. 6. Khoti = fake; unworthy. Raas(i) = investment (deeds). Pasaara = expanse. Koorr(u) = perishable; worthless. Bhaara = heavy; huge. Bhermaiy = in misbeliefs. Bhoolay = lost. Junum(u) = (precious human) life. 7. Sahib(u) = Lord; God. Ut(i) = extremely. Adhaara = support; dependence. Sum = the same; equal. 8.

MEANING: One can achieve something worthwhile (Waheguru's Naam) only when he gets rid of his selfishness and focuses his mind on Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. He then deals in Truth (Waheguru's Naam) and accumulates the wealth of His eternal Naam as his main business (daily routine). 1. I am a sacrifice for those who sing Waheguru's virtues day and night. You are my Lord, and I am Your servant, oh Waheguru. You honour those who recite and act on the Guru's Shabad. Pause. All those times or occasions were pleasant (auspicious) when I began to like Waheguru. One gets true respect when he serves the eternal Waheguru. However, one gets connected with Waheguru only by the grace of the Guru. 2. One acquires the food (for the mind) of love for Waheguru only when the Guru is pleased to be kind. At that time, all worldly tastes (enjoyments) become meaningless, and the bliss of Waheguru's Naam settles down in the devotee's heart. Guru's eternal Bani is the source of contentment and is the bliss of a high spiritual state, but can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru. 3. The foolish, unrefined, and the blind (ignorant follower of his mind) do not serve the Guru; so, how can he find the door to salvation? Such people take birth, and die again, and again, and are punished in the prison of the Angel of death. 4. An individual who enjoys (obeys) the Guru's Shabad is able to recognize (analyze) himself. He sings Waheguru's virtues by discussing the holy Bani and Guru's Shabad. He makes his heart a place for Waheguru's Naam to reside, which is like having the nine mythical treasures, and he stores Waheguru's Naam in his mind and stays blissful all the time. 5.

That heart becomes pretty (with good qualities), which pleases Waheguru. Such a heart (the individual) sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the holy devotees. He praises the eternal Waheguru day and night, as a result of which, he enjoys the blissful melody of the holy Shabad all the time. 6.
(On the other hand), The follower of his mind makes investments in fake (perishable) goods (unworthy in the realm of spirituality), and his huge wealth expansions are also false (short-lived). He earns only short-lived comforts, but suffers greatly in the future (the next world). The money-minded people are lost in misdirected investments, waste away their precious human life, and are reborn again and again. 7.
The True Lord (Waheguru) is very dear to me, and I have earned His support by acting on the Guru's Shabad. One earns respect if he is imbued in the Naam, and accepts comfort and discomfort the same way, oh Nanak! 8.10.11.

Word Meaning: Khaani = sources of reproduction for all sorts of life. Bani = creation. Bherm(i) Bhoolaani = lost in misbeliefs. 1. Hindu granths believe that there are four sources of reproduction – live births, eggs, vegetation, and conducive conditions for certain kinds of bacteria and small creatures to grow and flourish. But Guru Nanak Sahib professes that there are many more ways for reproduction. Sayti = with. Sehjay = in a higher spiritual state. Pause. Munsa = wish; desire. Laagaiy = engage; get connected. Vutthoo = things. 2. Ikk(u) = one Waheguru. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Tut(u) = banks of a (holy) river. Teeruth = holy places. Disuntar(i) = foreign countries. Mul(u) = filth (of evils). 3. Jeevut(u) Muraiy = kill desires (when alive). Siyoun = with. Nirmul = pure; clean. 4. Baajh(u) = without. Undh Goobaara = complete darkness. Ugiyani = ignorant. Bishta = feces. Keerray = worms. Puchaavniya = burn; suffer. 5. Mooktay = one who is free from Maya (emancipated). Mumta = love for the family (and the mundane). Khovaiy = loses; gets rid of. Undin(u) = day and night. 6. Bukhshay = forgives. Nidh(i) = treasure. 7. Huzoor(i) = present close by. Puchhaanhou = recognize. Vudiyayee = respect. 8.

MEANING: All the sources of reproduction of life, and everything else, have been created by You, oh Waheguru! Those who do not realize this (and think that many things have been created by them, and not by God) suffer from misbeliefs. Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by serving the Guru; no one has ever realized Naam without the shelter of the Guru. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who focus their mind on Waheguru's Naam. The eternal Waheguru can be realized by worshipping the Guru who enables the devotee to attain the highest spiritual state when Waheguru becomes a permanent resident in his heart. Pause. If one serves the Satguru, he can acquire whatever he chooses. Satgur is the provider (source of everything), but one can connect with Him only if one has perfect fortune (based on the deeds of one's previous life). 2. The human mind is filthy (with evil thoughts), and (for lack of faith), does not worship a single power (Waheguru). In love with the other (Maya), his mind is very filthy (wishes to enjoy sensual pleasures). He is full of conceit, and (in search for the fulfilment of his desires) he visits holy river banks, holy places, and even foreign countries, which, rather than doing any good to him spiritually, further boost his ego, and he gets more filth on his mind. 3.

The filth of one's mind can be washed away only by serving the Guru, whereby his mind gets connected with Waheguru, and he overcomes his evil desires. Waheguru is pure Truth, and is perfectly clean because Truth is never filthy; so, one can also wash away his filth by connecting with the Pure Waheguru. 4.

It is complete darkness without the guidance of the Guru. The ignorant (follower of his mind) is blind to Truth and is in complete darkness. The followers of their mind are like the worms in feces, which live in filth, enjoy filth, and earn filth (bad qualities) and suffer there. 5. (It is believed that a devotee becomes just like his deity), So if one serves (Waheguru), which is above the effects of Maya, the devotee will also achieve that spiritual level (above the effects of Maya) where he will get rid of his selfishness, ego, and his affection for the family. A perfectly lucky person comes to the shelter of the Guru and serves Waheguru day and night. 6.

Waheguru, Himself, forgives his devotees and connects them to the Guru to be connected with Him. The devotees acquire Waheguru's Naam, which is like acquiring all the nine mythical treasures, by the grace of the Perfect Guru. A devotee, who acquires the eternal Naam, has the eternal Waheguru in his mind all the time, whom he serves, and thus gets rid of his misery. 7.
Waheguru is always with you (in your heart); do not think that He is far away from you, oh my friend. The only thing you need to do is to recognize Him inside you by acting on the Guru's Shabad. A man gets resect if he has Waheguru's Naam in his heart; but Waheguru can be acquired only by the grace of the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 8.11.12

Word Meaning: Aithaiy = here (in this world). Sachay = pure; detached from Maya. Aagaiy = there (in the next world). Raachay = absorbed. Kmaaveh(i) = earn; acquire. 1. Munn(i) Vusaavniya = make mind the home (for Waheguru). Smaaveh(i) = merge with; become "one" with. Pause. Saad(u) = (enjoy) taste. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Bhermaveh(i) = captivates. Moh(i)= in attachment. Soodh(u) = awareness; wisdom. Uvgun = ignoble deeds. Puchhotaavniya = repent. 2. Tut(u) = reality (Waheguru's Naam). Muraiy = die (as far as Maya is concerned); kill desires. 3. Kilvikh = sins. Krodh = rage. Nivaaray = get rid of. Oordhaaray = bear in heart. Ruttay = imbued. Bairaagi = detached from Maya. 4. Ruttan = precious stone (Waheguru's Naam). Tribhidh(i) = having three qualities. Munsa = desires. Moani = ascetics who stay quiet for long periods of time. Chautha Pud = the fourth (spiritual) state above Maya, which has three effects. Saar = knowledge; value. 5. Rungay = dyed. Say Jun = those devotees. Raatay = imbued. Ut(i) Apaara = extremely dark (fast). Rus(i) = while relishing. 6. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Sunjum = efforts to control desires. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Kaar = business; deeds. 7. Thaapay = creates. Oothaapay = destroys. Put(i) = respect; dignity. 8.

MEANING: Those whose minds have been purified (detached from Maya) in this world are also pure in the next world. They are imbued with the love for Guru's Shabad, and have the eternal Waheguru in their heart. They serve Waheguru, acquire His Naam, and stay connected with Him by singing His praise. 1.

I am a sacrifice for those who keep Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time. They serve the eternal Waheguru, merge in Him (get fully connected), and sing His virtues. Pause.

The pundits do read (their religious books), but find no taste for Waheguru because Maya, which they love, captivates them. With attachment to Maya, they lose all their wisdom and awareness (of Waheguru) and repent for their unholy deeds. 2.

One realizes truth (becomes pure) only if he is connected with the Guru, who enables him to have Waheguru appear in his heart (mind). One overcomes his worldly desires by following the Guru's Shabad and controls his mind, whereby he finds the door to emancipation. 3. An individual who bears the Guru's Shabad in mind washes away his sins and gets rid of his rage. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's love are always detached from Maya and merge in Waheguru by overpowering their haumein. 4. Waheguru's highly valuable Naam is always there in the human mind, but one can access it only by connecting with Him. The human mind always craves the pleasures of Maya, which has three effects. The Pundits and the sages exhaust themselves by reading their holy books, but do not enjoy them because their minds are always wandering around the three effects of Maya; so, they have no knowledge of the Fourth spiritual state, which is above the three effects of Maya. 5.

Waheguru Himself colours His devotees' minds with His love. Following Guru's Shabad, they get imbued in Waheguru's love. The colour of Waheguru's love on their mind is so strong that they sing His praise, enjoying its full taste. 6.

A devotee, who takes the Guru's shelter, realizes that Waheguru is everything for him, including the supernatural powers, truthfulness, and control over sensual pleasures. Such a devotee realizes that it is the Divine Knowledge acquired through Waheguru's Naam that results in his freedom from Maya. So, the devotee's routine is to stay connected with Waheguru to become "one" with Him. 7.

Such a devotee realizes that it is Waheguru who creates, and then destroys (the world). For the devotee, Waheguru is his caste (status in society), his dignity, and everything else. The devotee recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, whereby he is completely absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 8.12.13

Word Meaning: Ootput(i) = Oput(i) = production; creation. Perlou = destruction. Shabaday = Waheguru's Huqam. Vertaiy = operates. Smaavniya = merge into. 1. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. Gooni = the source of virtues (Waheguru). Pause. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Khalaiy Vidaani = does amazing things. Nigura = without Guru. Aavun Jaavniya = comes and goes (takes birth and dies). 2.
Tin(i) = that. Kertaiy = creator. Khayl(u) Ruchaaya = Created world like a play (amazing thing). Kaayaan = body. Bhayd(i) = piercing of the mind so as to unlock secrets. Mehlay = the Lord of the mansion. Mehl(I) = in the mansion (of Waheguru). 3. Shah(u) = money lender; ruler (Waheguru). Vunjaaray = traders. Vunjeh(i) = (deal in). Hayt(i) = for. Kmaaveh(i) = do business. Sacho Sach(u) = pure Truth. 4. Raas(een) = capital; investment; hard work (of singing Waheguru's praise). Ko = anyone. Vuth = (precious) article (Waheguru's Naam). Kiyoun = why; how. Khaali = empty (handed). 5. Ikk(u) = some. Vunjeh(i) = deal in. Tureh(i) = swim across (the sea of Maya). Kool = clan (associates). Say = those. Pervaan = approved; honoured. 6.

Vust = Vuth= (precious) article (Waheguru's Naam). Moorra = foolish. Bhaalay = searches for. Baytaalay = out of step (lost). Tithoun = from there. 7.
Boolaayay = calls in (connects with). Mehli = the Lord of the residence (Waheguru). Sehj Sookh(u) = the bliss of the higher spiritual state. Vudiyaayee = respect. 8.
MEANING: Waheguru creates and destroys the universe with His Huqam (Laws) and recreates it with His Huqam again. A true devotee of the Guru believes that Waheguru is everywhere and present in His creation. 1.
I am a sacrifice for all those who make their hearts a place for the Perfect Guru to reside in (are connected with Him). They acquire mental bliss in the Guru's shelter, and worship Waheguru day and night. One merges with Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, only by singing the praise of His virtues. Pause.
The devotee of the Guru has the firm belief that the earth, the water, the air, and the fire are under the control of Waheguru, which enables them to perform amazing feats. (In addition to doing all the favourable things for life, they also do some unusual things. For example, the Earth experiences earthquakes and undergoes major changes; water causes floods and huge waves in the oceans, etc. A non-believer in the Guru and in the amazing feats of Waheguru is born again, and again, and will continue to do so. 2. The creator has done an amazing thing: he has put everything in the human body (the ability to know the secrets of the universe). Someone who is able to unlock these secrets by deeply pondering on Guru's Shabad gets access to Waheguru's Mansion (gets connected with Him) when the Lord Himself calls him inside His Mansion 3. The eternal Waheguru is like a banker (owner of a business), and all the human beings are like traders who trade in His eternal Naam. They do so with love for the Guru (in His shelter). They do business in the eternal Truth (Waheguru's Naam), and eventually, merge in Him. 4. How can anyone acquire the precious thing (Waheguru's Naam) without the right investment (reciting Waheguru's Naam and obeying His Will)? All the followers of their minds are completely misguided. Without the right investment (recitation of Waheguru's Naam), everybody leaves this world empty-handed (without any spirituality) and suffers as a result. 5.
Some deal in Waheguru's Naam by following the Shabad of the dear Guru. They swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation), and also ferry all their associates across. They are approved by Waheguru and enjoy bliss in their union with their Dear (Lord). 6. Waheguru is present in one's mind, but the foolish looks for Him outside (in isolated places). The followers of their mind are blind (completely ignorant), and spend their lives like a singer who is completely out of tune. The follower of his mind is lost in misbeliefs, and does not look for the desired thing (Waheguru's Naam) where it is present (inside his mind). 7. Waheguru Himself invites (inspires) the individuals of His choice, and bestows His Naam in the form of Guru's Shabad. They enjoy the bliss of the high spiritual state in their union with Waheguru. Waheguru Himself listens (pays attention) to His devotees when they sing His Naam, and honours them, oh Nanak! 8.13.14.

Word Meaning: Saachi = eternal. Sikh = advice (teaching). Chaytoh = remember (keep in mind). Sukhaayee = friend; supporter. Agumm = beyond (physical) reach. Agoachar(u) = incomprehensible. Anaath = orphan (because nobody creates Him). Ajoni = who does not take any life form. Bhaayay = love for. 1.
Aap(u) = self; selfishness. Nivaarniya = get rid of. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above Maya. Pause. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written destiny (based on the deeds of previous lives). Kerm = deeds. Shabadaiy Maiyl(i) = by connecting with the Guru's Shabad. 2. Aliput(u) = disconnected (with Maya). Tukiyaiy = Adhaaray = with the support of (on the basis of). Zoar(u) = (external) force or pressure. Khup(i) = much effort without any gain; meet frustration; feel humiliation. 3.

Soodh(i) = awareness; knowledge. Atumghaati = suicidal. Ksaayee = butcher. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Mujoori = fare charges. 4.
Vaarri = garden. Maali = gardener. Smaalay = looks after. Vaasna = desire. Vertaiy = operates. Vaasoo = the outcome of the desired deeds. 5.
Visriya = is forgotten. Apaara = limitless. Bil-laanday = crying (complaining) because of unfulfilled desires. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. 6.
Keetay = created. Bidh(i) = situation; condition. Aap(i) Kuray = (when) Waheguru Himself guides. Baahur(i) = outside world (world of Maya). 7.
Baajhoun = without. Nirmul(u) = pure. Ghut = heart. 8.

MEANING: Satguru has delivered the eternal Advice (Teaching) that remember Waheguru all the time, which will be your friend (supporter) in the end, oh my friends! Waheguru is physically unreachable, incomprehensible, an orphan (because nobody creates Him), and never takes any life form. Such a Waheguru can be realized only with love for Satgur(u). 1. I offer my life to those who get rid of their selfishness. One can realize Waheguru only by getting rid of one's selfishness and becoming “one” with Waheguru in the high spiritual state (above Maya). Pause.
One performs only those deeds for which his character has been prewritten (based on the deeds of his previous lives) by Waheguru. Those who serve (obey) Satguru are always blissful. However, one can connect with the Guru only with great fortune. One achieves union with God only by obeying the Shabad of the Guru. 2.
With the support of the Guru and Waheguru’s Naam, the devotee of the Guru remains disconnected from Maya in the world. Nobody can force the devotee of the Guru to yield to his wishes (make him do something that the devotee does not like); on the contrary, the aggressor suffers humiliation (as a result of his failure). 3.
The blind follower of his mind has no awareness; actually, he is a butcher who commits (spiritual) suicide. With malicious criticism of others, he adds to his own burden; he is like a labourer who carries the burden of others for free and gets no payment. 4.
This world is like a garden, with God as the gardener who always looks after every plant (human being), and none is left without His care. However, like every plant is different in character (different flowers, different vegetables, fruits, and so on), He puts in different characters in each human being. Human beings do things according to their individual character, and are recognized as such by their deeds. 5.
Because he has forgotten the inaccessible and the limitless source of comforts, Waheguru, the follower of his mind in the world is (mentally) sick. He finds no peace of mind without the Guru, and roams around (spends his life) complaining and crying in suffering. 6. Waheguru, who has created the world, knows the mental state of the people (and knows how to deal with that). The individual, guided by Waheguru, realizes His Huqam (and connects with Him). However, individuals are guided by their behaviour and traits as designed by Waheguru, who Himself has created an attraction for Maya among living beings. 7.
I do not believe in anybody else, oh Waheguru! An individual, whom You motivate to recite Your Naam, gets purified, and Your Naam stays in his mind. But only those do so whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak! 8.14.15.

Word Meaning: Munn(i) Vusaayay = embed (enshrine) in heart. Mayra = mine. Amrit Bani = the immortalizing (eternal) Shabad (in God's praise). Amrit(i) = through Amrit (Gurbani). 1. Amrit Naam(u) dhiyaavniya = recite Waheguru's Naam which makes one immortal. Vainy = Bani. Purkhaiy = tests. Naiyni = with eyes. Kutha = story (Waheguru's virtues). Uveraan = others. 2. Rung(i) Rutta = imbued in love. Live Laayay = meditates with full concentration. Rusna = tongue. 3. So Kichh(u) = that. Chit(i) = (in) mind. Mayt(i) = erase; remove. Vertaiy = operates. 4. Ujab = strange; unbelievable. Kertay Kayray = of the Creator. Pharay = turns around. Siyoun = with. Vujaavniya = has a big impact. 5. Khotay = fake; impure. Khuray = pure. Perkhay = tested. Khuzanay = in the treasure (Waheguru Himself). Bherm(i) = in doubt (inability to choose). 6. Kiyoun = why; how? Bhaanay = Will. Vusaiy = resides; is controlled. 7. Sayviyaiyn = by serving. Riday = (in the) heart. Bhookh = appetite (desires). 8.

MEANING: All the discomforts due to haumein and selfishness disappear when one enshrines Waheguru's immortal Naam in the heart. Waheguru's immortal Naam is acquired by singing the Guru's immortalizing Bani (Shabad) with dedication. 1.

I am a sacrifice to all those who enshrine Waheguru's immortal Bani in their heart. They enshrine the immortal Bani in their minds and recite His Amrit Naam all the time. Pause. They sing Waheguru's praise all the time, see Waheguru in everything, and assess His worth (admire Him) in them. They discuss Waheguru's immortal virtues day and night, and share them with others. 2.
The individual, who is imbued in Waheguru's immortal Naam, focuses his attention on His Naam, which he acquires with Guru's grace. His tongue utters His immortal Naam day and night, and he drinks the Naam Amrit with his body and mind. 3.
Waheguru does things which a man can never even think about, and nobody can erase His Will. His immortal Shabad (Huqam) is prevailing everywhere, and He implants His Amrit-Naam in His devotees' hearts by His own sweet Will. 4.
Waheguru's deeds are amazing. He turns around the misguided minds of some so that they apply their minds to Waheguru's immortal Bani, and the immortal Shabad has a deep impact on them. 5. You, Yourself, have created the pure and the impure minds of people, and Yourself test (evaluate) them, oh Waheguru! The pure are deposited in Your treasure (are approved by You and merge in You), while the impure stay misguided in doubts (and are subjected to reincarnation). 6.
How can I "see" You and how can I appreciate You, oh Waheguru? (The answer is):
One can appreciate Him and "see" Him by singing His praise with the Guru's Shabad. Your Naam–Amrit is in Your control, and You can serve it to anybody by Your Will, oh Waheguru! 7. Waheguru's Shabad (Huqam) and His Bani are immortal. His Naam can be enshrined in the mind by serving (obeying) Satguru. Waheguru's immortal Naam is the source of all bliss, and all one's appetite (wishes and desires for Maya) is satisfied by drinking the Amrit of His Naam, oh Nanak! 8.15.16.

Word Meaning: Amrit = (Waheguru's) eternal (Naam). Versaiy = rains (is available). Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love (for the Guru) and in high spiritual state; naturally. Virla = rare. Jun = devotee. Triptaasay = is contented. Trishna = (sensual) desires; hunger for Maya. Boojhaavniya = is quenched. 1. Rusna = tongue. Chaakh(i) = by tasting. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Pause. Doobidha = indecisiveness because one is caught between two options. Ikkus(u) Siyoun = with One (Waheguru). 2. Ghunayri = very much. Sojhi = understanding; awareness. 3. Tut(u) = reality. Beechaara = pondered on. Bhundaara = treasures. 4. Sohaiy = looks impressive (honourable); shiny. Smaavniya = merges in. 5. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love for Maya. Khooyayay = suffers without any gain. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Vishta = feces (evil deeds and thoughts). 6. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Liv Laayay = concentrate on (Waheguru's Naam). Poorun = perfect. Poor(i) = is filling completely. Nudri Aavniya = is "seen". 7. Nirunjun = unaffected by Maya (God). Sirjee = created. Goyee = destroyed. 8.

MEANING: When an individual meditates on Waheguru with pure love and in a high spiritual state, His Amrit-Naam rains on his mind (his mind gets fully imbued with love for Waheguru). However, some rare devotees attain this state in the shelter of the Guru. Such devotees are fully contented, and all their desires for Maya are satisfied (go away) with the grace of the Guru. 1. I am a sacrifice for all those devotees who drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in the shelter of the Guru. By tasting the Naam-Amrit, their tongue is always imbued with Waheguru's love, and they sing His praise with a peaceful mind. Pause. A rare person attains a high spiritual state with the grace of the Guru. His indecisiveness goes away, and he concentrates his mind only on Waheguru. With Waheguru's benevolence, he sings His praise and merges into Him. 2. Waheguru casts His kind sight on everyone; it is a different matter that the degree is low for some and very high for some others. A devotee realizes this fact in the shelter of the Guru that nothing happens without the Will of Waheguru. 3. A devotee realizes the fact that Waheguru's treasures are full of His Naam-Amrit, but nobody has access to them without serving the Guru, and one can access them only with His grace. 4. Those devotees who serve Satguru shine (look dignified) everywhere; the Amrit-Naam inside them captivates people. Their mind and body are imbued with the Guru's Shabad, and they recite it to others with a blissful mind. 5. The follower of his mind is lost in the love for Maya, and suffers (has no peace of mind). He does not recite Waheguru's Naam and deals in activities involving the poisonous

Maya. He lives in the filth of Maya (leads a lustful life) day and night, and wastes away his precious human life without serving the Guru. 6.
Only those who drink the Naam-Amrit (are imbued with Naam) who are motivated by Waheguru Himself. With the Guru's grace, they attain the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. The Perfect Waheguru is pervading everywhere, but can be "seen" only in the shelter of the Guru (obeying Him). 7.
Waheguru alone is operating everywhere. He creates the universe, and then destroys it (at His own Will). You'd better take care of Waheguru's Naam (always remember Him) to attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak! 8.16.17.

Word Meaning: Say = those. Sach(i) Laagaiy = deal in Waheguru's Naam. Bhaayay = liked. Sehj Soobhaayay = with love and a peaceful mind; without any special effort. Salaaheen = sing praise. 1. Sach(u) = the eternal Truth (Waheguru). Sach(i) = with Waheguru's Naam. Vusaayeen = embed in mind. 2. Munsa = wishes and desires. Deetthi = saw; observed. Aavun Jaani = born and dying. Nihchul = stable; non-wandering. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. 3. Ridaiy = in the heart. Moh(i) = attachment. Julaaya = burned away. 4. Raatay = imbued. Liv Laagi = full concentration; got connected. Smaaleh(i) = take care; keep in mind. 5. Laykha = description (of His magnanimity. Agumm(u) = physically unreachable. Agoachar(u) =incomprehensible. Soodh(i) = awareness; knowledge. 6. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. Trishna = burning desires. Jaalay = burned by. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Bihaajhay = deal in. Moh(i) Piyaasay = thirsty of attachment. Koorr(u) = lies. 7. Aiko = only One God. Jaana = recognize. Dooja Maar(i) = by killing (desire for) Maya. Vertaiy = operates. 8.

MEANING: Only those start dealing in Your Naam whom You like, oh Waheguru! They serve You with love and with a peaceful mind. Waheguru is praised by the eternal Shabad of the Guru, which leads to union with Him. 1.

I offer my life for sacrifice to those who sing Waheguru's praise. They recite His Naam, are imbued in His love, and merge with Him by acquiring virtues like His own. Pause.

I find Waheguru present everywhere I look. His Naam can be embedded in the mind with the benevolence of the Guru. (With Waheguru in mind), one's tongue and body are imbued with His Naam, and his body becomes truthful (pure). He "listens" to Him and explains (His virtues) to others. 2. The devotee overcomes his wishes and becomes "one" with Waheguru. He realizes that everything comes into being, and then dies away; and the permanent stability of mind (and hence union with God) can be achieved only by serving Satguru when his mind quits wandering and stays in its own home (in itself). 3. I "saw" Waheguru in my own heart by Guru's Shabad when I was able to burn my attachment with Maya. When one realizes Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, he "sees" Him everywhere and sings His praise. 4. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's love are pure of mind (selfless) and focus on Waheguru's Naam (without expecting any reward). They are highly fortunate who always keep Waheguru in mind. Waheguru Himself connects those individuals with Him who recite Guru's eternal Shabad, and sing His virtues in the company of holy saints. 5. We can read (or hear) about Waheguru's magnanimity only if that can be described, but He is incomprehensible and physically unreachable (so nobody can know His grandeur). Any knowledge about Him can be had only by connecting with Him through the Guru's Shabad. One can sing His praise day and night only by the Guru's Shabad, but there is no way that He can be evaluated. 6. Some people do read about Him; they may exhaust themselves trying to find His limits, but find no peace of mind (because they cannot find them). Burned by the fire of their appetite for Maya, they have no knowledge about Waheguru, and deal only in poisonous Maya. Because of their attachment to Maya, they are always thirsty for that, always tell lies (to acquire it), and consume the poison (deal in Maya, which has ill after-effects). 7. With the grace of the Guru, I recognize only the "One" (Waheguru), and by killing my desire for Maya, I stay connected with Him. Only the Naam of Waheguru operates in my mind, which can be realized only by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.17.18.

MEANING: There are countless living beings of different colours and different looks (physical features) in the world, oh Waheguru! But, in reality, they are all Your colours and features because You are present in each one of them, oh Waheguru. All these living beings have fixed life spans – they are born, and they die as their turn comes, and the cycle continues indefinitely. On the other hand, You are immortal, physically inaccessible, and limitless, oh Waheguru. (Not everybody understands this fact. You enlighten people through the Guru's Teachings. 1. I offer my life to those who make their hearts home for Waheguru (and embed His Naam in their hearts). You have no physical features or looks, but You use Guru's Shabad to enlighten people, oh Waheguru. Pause. It becomes evident to the devotees who serve the Guru that it is Waheguru's Light that is operating, hidden and visible, everywhere. His Light is present in every living being. 2. The whole world is burning (suffering) in the desire for Maya, and yet it has greed, conceit, and too much ego. The man loses his respect by being caught in the birth-death cycle, and is wasting away the precious human life (which is an opportunity to unite with God). 3.
A rare individual, who is able to overcome his selfishness, gets enlightened by the Guru's Shabad and can unlock the secrets of the universe. Then he does not die to be reborn; he merges with Waheguru in a higher spiritual state (above Maya). 4.
He loses all interest in Maya and stays absorbed in Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. He sings praise of Waheguru, which is present in every heart, and looks adorable by becoming like Waheguru (by acquiring virtues like Him). 5.
I sing Waheguru's praise with the firm belief that He is around. When one concentrates on Guru's Shabad, he can "see" that Waheguru is filling the whole space. With Guru's grace, one can "see" Waheguru and enjoy the bliss when connected with Him. 6.
Waheguru is present in our body; He is immortal, and neither comes nor goes (is not born, nor does He die). Those who work hard to connect with Waheguru are absorbed in Him through the Guru's advice. 7. I praise Waheguru and nobody else, because one gets the eternal bliss by serving Him alone. The thoughtful people are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and deal only in His Naam, oh Nanak! 8.18.19.

Word Meaning: Nirmul = pure; purifying. Jot(i) = God's Light (Soul). Smaani = mixed with; present. Salaaheen = (I) sing praise. Jup(i) = by reciting (Naam). Nirmul(u) = pure; holy (Waheguru). 1. Tisa = thirst (for Maya). Mitaavniya = is eradicated. Pause. Vusiya = takes residence; embeds. Moh(u) = attachment. Nit(u) = every day. Naad = auto-playing music which the yogis believe is heard in a higher spiritual state. 2. Aap(u) = selfishness. Tithaiy = there. Dhiyan(u) = concentration. Ut(i) = extreme. 3. Nirmul(u) = Pure (Waheguru). Unhud Dhoon(i) = Divine Shabad (Music). Dur Sachaiy = in the Court of Waheguru. Sobha = praise. 4. Munooa = mind. Provaiy = stitch together. Soohaavniya = look dignified. 5. Mohaiy = captivates. Mul(u) = filth (of evil desires). Oojul(u) = clean; pure. 6. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for Maya (sensual desires). Chaunka = kitchen; mind (where thoughts are cooked). Maiyla = filthy (cooked with dishonest means). 7. Huqam = Waheguru's Will. Chookaavniya = removes. 8.

MEANING: Guru's Shabad and His Bani are pure (holy), and they purify the mind. Waheguru's holy Light is present in everybody. I sing praise of Waheguru by reciting the holy Bani, and thus washing away the filth of my mind (purifying it). 1.

I offer my life to those who embed the source of all comfort, Waheguru's Naam, in their mind. I sing praise of the holy Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, and listening to Guru's Shabad quenches all my thirst (desires) for Maya. Pause.

The mind-purifying Naam has made my heart its dwelling, as a result of which, my attachment for Maya has been killed, and my mind and body have been purified now. My mind now sings the virtues of the holy Waheguru, and it feels as if I am listening to the auto-playing Divine music which the yogis believe in. 2.

I have acquired the holy Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) by the grace of the Guru; now my selfishness is gone, and I have no attachment to Maya. Ever since Waheguru's holy Naam has been embedded in my mind, I have acquired the holy Divine Knowledge, and the concentration of my mind has been purified. 3. Whoever serves the Holy (Waheguru) becomes holy too, as he washes away the filth of his mind by the Guru's Shabad. The so-believed, auto-playing Divine music is produced by the holy Bani, and the devotee listening to it is respected in Waheguru's Court. 4.

Anybody who gets connected with the Holy (Waheguru) becomes holy too. The purified mind stitches itself with Waheguru's Shabad (connects his mind with Waheguru). Those connected with the holy Naam are lucky and look respectful everywhere. 5. An individual adorned with the Guru's Shabad leads a holy life. His body and his mind are captivated by the purifying Naam (are fully imbued in Naam). With the eternal Naam in mind, the individual's mind never catches the filth of sensual desires, and the eternal Waheguru makes his face shiny (pure; holy). 6. The human mind is filthy because of its love for Maya. His kitchen (mind where evil ideas are cooked) is filthy, and so is his whole body (thaayayn). He feeds on filthy ideas, which add more filth to his character. The followers of their filthy minds suffer badly. 7. Whether one is filthy or pure, it is all by the Huqam of Waheguru. Only those are pure who are liked by Waheguru. The devotees of the Guru wash away their filth, and Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in their mind, oh Nanak! 8.19.20.

Word Meaning: Govind(u) = the provider for the earth (Waheguru). Oojul(u) = clean; pure. Hunsa = human soul (mind). Nirmul = clean; pure. Munsa = wishes. Soheh(i) = dignified; respectful. Ut(i) = extreme. 1. Vaari = sacrifice. Gobind = Waheguru. Pause. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = (in) higher spiritual state and with love. Anund(i) = in bliss. 2. Munooa = mind. Naachay = dances (in high spirits). Drirraayay = reinforce. Saacha = True. Taal pooray = move steps synchronously. Nirt(i) = dance. 3. Oocha Kookay = make a high-pitched sound. Tuneh(i) = (with, to) body. Puchhaarray = hit against; push back. Johiya = watched closely. Jum Kaalay = angel of death. Muneh(i) = mind. Kupt = deceit. 4. Vujaiy = plays Thaayayn paavniya = gets full value; is rewarded. 5. Vaajay vujaayay = plays musical instruments. Pirr Bundh = build a (dancing) ring. Doojaiy Bhaayay = for the love of the other (Maya). 6. Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya (is salvaged). Inderi = senses. Vus(i) = to control. Sunjum(i) = efforts to control senses. Joogta = technique. Bhaavniya = is liked. 7. Joog Charay = the four accepted eons (Hindu belief). Horut(u) = somewhere else. Gur Churni = Guru's feet (His Shabad). 8.

MEANING: Since God is pure, the individuals who serve Him (recite His Naam and obey Him) also become pure-minded (no evil thoughts originate there). With the recitation of holy Bani, my mind has also been purified of its desires. Those. Those who recite the Naam have extremely pure minds, and they look exalted everywhere. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who sing the virtues of Waheguru. They recite His Naam day and night, and look dignified by singing Waheguru's praise by Guru's Shabad. Pause. They recite Waheguru's Naam with love and in a high spiritual state; with a love-filled fear of Waheguru, they rid themselves of their haumein and become pure in mind. They worship Waheguru day and night, and sing and listen to His praise, and stay blissful. 2. They reinforce Waheguru's worship to the extent that their mind begins to dance (in bliss), and with Guru's Shabad, they keep their mind under control so that it does not wander. Just like a professional dancer who synchronizes her moves, the devotee synchronizes his mind with the Naam, and his mind dances with the Shabad, whereby it overcomes his attraction for Maya. 3. The hypocritical devotees of gods worship them publicly by dancing, just to impress people. They actually are strongly attached to Maya, and the Angel of Death watches them closely. They dance just for the love of Maya, recite mantras loudly, and fall to the ground (as if kneeling before the deity), all as a show-off to receive money. But, because of deceit in their mind, they suffer badly at the end of the day. 4. On the other hand, the devotees of Waheguru worship Him when He inspires them. Their body and mind are imbued with His love, and their mind feels blissful. Guru's Shabad, Guru's Bani, produce heavenly music in their mind (they attain the state of blissfulness), as such worship of Waheguru in Guru's shelter is appropriately rewarded by Waheguru. 5. The hypocrites dance in synchronicity with music to please some gods, but nobody honestly listens to them or gives room to their mantras in their hearts. For the love of money, the fake devotees dance among people who form a circle around them just to enjoy their dances, which they perform for the sake of money. Such fake devotees suffer deeply because of their love for money. 6.

But a devotee, who fosters love for God, finds salvation. He controls his sensual desires, and rather than putting in efforts to control sensual pleasures by mind's sheer stubbornness, his efforts are directed to worship Waheguru. He always recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and this is the kind of worship which Waheguru likes (and approves). 7. (Hindu Granths espouse that the worship of gods takes different forms in different eons) (But Guru Sahiban preach) that it does not matter what eon it is – the only kind of worship that Waheguru likes, is to recite Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter; and no other kind is acceptable. Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by taking Guru's shelter and worshipping Him, oh Nanak! 8.20.21.
NOTE: Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru; so, Waheguru's worship is the same as Guru's worship.

MEANING: I serve (obey His Huqam), and sing praise of the eternal Waheguru. One never suffers if he keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind. Those who serve Waheguru, which is the source of all comfort, and embed His Naam in their mind by Guru's grace, enjoy comfort. 1. I offer my life (services) to those who concentrate on Waheguru's Naam and attain the blissful state of mind in which Maya has no effect. Those who serve Waheguru with full dedication are respected and praised. Pause. Everybody calls himself Your devotee, but only those are the real devotees who accept Your Will, oh Waheguru! They sing Your praise by the eternal Bani, and imbued in Your love, recite Your Naam. 2. Everybody is Yours (has been created by You), but they merge into You only by the grace of the Guru; at which time, their reincarnation comes to an end. You inspire some select people whom You like to recite Your Naam. 3. They embed Your Naam in their mind by the advice of the Guru, and get rid of their overjoy, sadness, and worldly attachments. With only Your Naam enshrined in their minds, they always remain focused on Your Naam (connected to You), oh Waheguru. 4. Imbued in Your love, Your devotees are always zestful. Your Naam, which is like acquiring all the nine mythical treasures, gets enshrined in their heart. Only the highly fortunate get connected with the Guru, and then get connected with You by the Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 5.
You are always very kind, and a source of all comforts, and connect some fortunate individuals with the Guru so that they may recognize You (connect with You). You, Yourself, honour people for reciting Your Naam, and those who are imbued in Your Naam, enjoy blissfulness, oh Waheguru! 6. I wish I could sing Your praise all the time. By Guru's grace, I have realized that there is none other like You. When one's mind is focused only on Waheguru, he is convinced about Him being the Supreme power, and his soul gets united with Him. 7.
One sings praise of Waheguru, who is otherwise carefree (indifferent). only in the shelter of the Guru. With Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in one's mind, and he becomes "one" with Him, oh Nanak. 8.21.22

MEANING: Adorned with Your Naam by Guru's Shabad, Your devotees look exalted in Your Court, oh Waheguru. They merge into You by singing Your virtues, and stay blissful day and night. 1. I offer my life to those who listen to Your Naam and embed it in their mind. Eternal Waheguru is very, very high (way above the effects of Maya), and can be reached only by those who have gotten rid of their haumein. Pause. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His magnanimity. A rare person connects with Him by the Guru's grace. Those who connect with Him through the Guru's Shabad never get separated from Him again and merge with Him by attaining the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 2. Nothing happens outside Your Huqam; You create bodies, and know what You do about them, oh Waheguru! You do things Yourself, and make living beings do (whatever You wish), and connect with some of them by making them act on Guru's advice. 3. The virtuous woman (human being) gets connected with Waheguru. She adorns her mind with the noble qualities of fear and love for Waheguru, and by serving the Guru, she always stays married (loved by Waheguru – husband). She merges with Waheguru by acting on Guru's eternal Teachings. 4. Those who ignore Waheguru find no shelter and no support in the spiritual world. They are misled by misbeliefs, and, like a crow that goes to an uninhabited house (and finds nothing to eat), they do not achieve anything spiritually. They waste away (spiritually ruin) both the worlds – the present and the next – and their life is spent in deep suffering. 5. The money-minded people may write something in praise of Waheguru, but do not gain anything spiritually blissful just by writing, even if they write so much that they run out of paper and ink, because all their writings are rooted in Maya, and they look for) material things in their writings. They write about material things, deal in them, and eventually get heart- burning (suffer gravely) because their mind always thinks only about money. 6.
(On the other hand), A devotee writes only those thoughts that relate to Waheguru. Such pure-minded devotees find the door of salvation. Their paper, their pen, and their ink pot are all about Waheguru, and they merge with Him by writing His praise. 7. Sitting in every heart, my God is watching everything that people do. Only that individual's account (balance sheet of good and bad deeds) is approved (rewarded) who gets connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru. And, only those people are honoured who have Waheguru's Naam at heart, which is acquired only through the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 8.22.23.

Word Meaning: Atum Ram= Lord of soul (Waheguru). Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Haumein maiyl(u) = filth of selfishness and ego. Khovaiy = lose; get rid of. Nirmul = clean; pure. Bhugti Raata = imbued in worship. 1. Uveraan = others. Tinah = them; those. Numskaar = bow to. Pause. Kerta = Creator. Kaarun(u) = creation. Jit(u) = whomever. Kaaraiy = in the task (of worship of Waheguru). Pooraiy Bhaag(i) = complete luck. 2. Mur(i) Jeevaiy = live after killing sensual desires. Kichh(u) = something (Naam). Mookt(u) = free from the bonds of Maya. Sehj(i) = in the higher spiritual state. 3. Kerm = rituals. Daysuntar(i) Bhuvaiy = wander around in foreign countries. Khooaayay = suffers without any achievement. Kupti = deceitful. 4. Dhaavut = running (wandering) fast. Raakhaiy = control (mind). Tthaak(i) = restraint; stop. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Preetum = beloved. 5. Koor(i) = in false (perishable) stuff. Ful = result. Suglay Kool = all clans (associates). Bikh(u) = poison (anything involving Maya). 6. Ko = some rare. Bhaayay Bhagat(i) = in the love for worship. Sokhaiy = absorb; destroy. Sadhik = those who purify their body by yogic exercises. Maondhaari = hermits (who stay quiet for a very, very long time); sages. Liv laayay = meditate. 7. Naamo = from Naam. 8.

MEANING: The enlightenment About Waheguru is achieved by the grace of the Guru, as the filth of haumein is washed away by Guru's Shabad. Imbued with the spirit of worship day and night, one's mind is purified, and he internalizes Waheguru. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who worship God themselves and cause others to do the same. Those devotees who sing the virtues of Waheguru day and night deserve to be bowed to (respected). Pause. The Creator creates everything Himself and puts the individuals He likes to work (to recite His Naam). One serves the Guru only with perfect fortune, and enjoys all sorts of comfort as a result. 2.

A person achieves something (spiritually) only if he kills his sensual desires and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart by the grace of the Guru. When he gets Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, he becomes permanently free from the bonds of Maya, and easily attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya. 3.
(A money-minded) A person performs rituals (to give the impression of being religious), but never achieves emancipation. He wanders through foreign lands (for wealth), but suffers greatly without achieving anything spiritually. The deceitful wastes away his precious human life and suffers without the Guru's Shabad. 4.
(On the other hand), A devotee controls his fast-wandering mind, restrains it, and attains the highest spiritual state by the grace of the Guru. Satguru Himself connects the devotee with Him, and then with Waheguru; at that spiritual state, he enjoys the bliss of union with his beloved Waheguru. 5. Some are engaged in material things and reap the false (short-lived) material rewards. With love for Maya, they waste away their human life. They consume poison (of worldly attractions) by telling lies (and by deceit), and as a result, drown in the sea of Maya, taking down their associates with them as well. 6. Some rare devotee of the Guru gets rid of his haumein by worshipping Waheguru with devotion, and is able to "see" (analyze) his mind in the body. Accomplished Sidh yogis, sages, yogis, do meditate, but they too are unable to "see" their mind in the body. 7.
The Creator Himself prompts His devotees (to sing His praise), and nobody else can do that. Only those individuals acquire Waheguru's Naam in their mind who are prompted to do so by Waheguru Himself, Oh Nanak! 8.23.24.

Word Meaning: Goofa = cave; human body. Akhoot = inexhaustible. Bhundaara = treasures. Tis(u) = that. Vusaiy = resides. Alukh = inconceivable. Apaara = limitless. Goopt(u) = hidden. Pergut(u) = become visible. Aap(u) = selfishness. Vunjaavniya = to destroy. 1. Munn(i) Vusaavniya = embed in mind. Maha Rus(u) = great juice (essence). Pause. Bujjar = stone-like. Kpaat = doors. Amoluk = priceless. 2. Unjun(u) = kohl (mascara). Naytreen = in eyes. Joti = light (human soul). Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Sobha = praise; respect. 3. Bhaalun = search. Luhaiy = acquire. Vaygaar(i) = to perform somebody else's task without any compensation. Soojhaiy = cannot think of. Phir(i) Ghir(i) = return (after getting tired). Vuth = valuable article (Waheguru's Naam). 4. Vaykhaiy = examine. Haumein Maiyl(u) = filth of selfishness and ego. Baiys = sit down (meditate). Soothaan(i) = clean place (with pure mind). 5. Nau dur = nine doors of the human body (sensual pleasures). Tthaakay = restrain. Dhaavut = running uncontrolled (mind). Dusvaiy = the tenth door (spiritual state of high awareness). Nij ghur(i) = own mind. Unhud Shabad = auto-playing Divine music that the yogis believe they hear in a higher mental state. Vujeh(i) = plays. 6. Aanayra = hunayra = darkness. Vust = invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam). Chookay = ends. Fayra = revisit (in the world); rebirth. Koonji = key. Hoarut = some other. 7. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. 8.

MEANING: The inconceivable and the limitless Waheguru, which is the source of inexhaustible treasures, resides in everybody's heart. Waheguru is present, hidden as well as visible (in nature), but can be realized only when one kills (overcomes) his selfishness by obeying the Guru's Shabad. 1. I offer myself for sacrifice to those who embed the immortalizing (Amrit)-Naam of Waheguru in their heart. The Naam-Amrit is very, very sweet, but can be tasted (realized) only by the Advice of the Guru. Pause. When one overcomes his haumein (selfishness and ego), he gets his stone-like hard door of a higher spiritual state (called the Tenth Door, where one merges with Waheguru) opened, and realizes Waheguru's invaluable Naam by the grace of the Guru. Nobody can realize Waheguru's Naam without Guru's Shabad; it is only by the grace of the Guru that one can enshrine the Naam in his heart. 2. When one applies the kohl of the Guru's Divine knowledge to his mental eyes, his mind is enlightened, and the darkness of his ignorance is gone. He is convinced of Waheguru's existence, and his soul merges with Waheguru, and he is honoured in His Court. 3. (Note: women apply kohl to their eyes not only to beautify them, but also because they believe that it enhances their eyesight. Similarly, Guru's Advice enhances devotees' spiritual awareness.

If an ignorant person searches for Waheguru (which resides in the body) outside (in the wilderness), not only will he not realize the Naam, but he will also suffer like a person who suffers for doing a fag task (somebody else's task without any compensation). The ignorant fool does not realize what he is doing, but after getting exhausted, returns to the shelter of the Guru, where he can realize Naam. 4.
One can realize Waheguru only by the Guru's grace when he examines his body and mind (what kind of deeds does the body do and what the mind thinks), and gets the filth of haumein washed away. Then, with a clean mind, he sings praise of Waheguru with full concentration and stays connected with Him by the Guru's eternal Shabad. 5. When one controls all the nine doors of the body (sensual pleasures), he attains the spiritual level where his mind stays in itself. With Guru's advice, at that level, he feels as if the auto-playing Divine music is playing in his mind day and night. 6. Without the Guru's Shabad, the mind is in complete darkness. Such an individual neither connects with the Guru's Shabad nor has his cycle of rebirths broken. Only Satguru has the key to the door of Waheguru's Naam, and there is no other way to open the door. Also, one gets connected with the Guru only if one has great fortune. 7. You are everywhere – hidden or visible – oh Waheguru! But one realizes You only by Guru's grace. Sing Waheguru's praise, and have His Naam embedded in your mind in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak! 8.24.25.

Nanak Naam(u) milaiy vudiyaayee, Pooray Gur tay paavniya. 8.25.26.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru; a Sikh (spiritually connected with the Guru). Kaal(u) = death. Johaiy = warns. Suntaapy = cause suffering. Bundhan = bonds. Soohaavniya = is decorated (with virtues). 1. Sayti = with. Chit(u) = mind. Pause. Muraiy = kills mind (turns away from Maya). Arja = (the effect of) age. Chheejaiy = weakens (spirituality). 2. Sobha = praise; respect. Aap(u) = selfishness. Turaiy = swims (across the sea of Maya). Suglay = all. Kool = clans (associates). 3. Chookaiy = is lifted (gone); is eradicated. Sehj(i) smaavniya = attains the spiritual state above Maya. 4. Vudiyaayee = respect; praise. Anund(i) = (in) bliss. 5. Raata = imbued. Joog Chaaray = (in) all the four (believed) eons – Satyug, Trayta, Doaapar, and Kulyug. Jaata = recognized; honoured. Nirmul(u) = pure. 6. Baajh(u) = without. Jumkaal(u) = angel of death. Grutthay = gripped. Pookaara = cries for help. Bishta = feces; Maya (ignoble deeds). Keerray = worms. 7. Aapay = (Waheguru) Himself. Hirdaiy Voottha = takes residence in heart. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru can be realized only by the grace of the Guru, but one is connected with the Guru only by the Will of Waheguru, oh my friends. When one connects with the Guru, fear of death and discomfort can no longer affect them. His life is adorned (with noble qualities) with Guru's Shabad, and by controlling his haumein, he breaks all the bonds of Maya. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who adorn their life with Waheguru's Naam. The mind of the individual, who applies his mind to Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, sings His praise, and (his mind) dances in high spirits. Pause. An individual, who kills his mind (controls it) from worldly attractions, and leads a life of purity, is approved by Waheguru. He recognizes (evaluates) himself with Guru's Shabad, and advancing age does not weaken his spirituality. In the shelter of the Guru, the devotee becomes "one" with Waheguru, and he never dies or becomes a victim of death. 2.

A devotee of the Guru overcomes his selfishness and ego, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. He adorns his life with virtues, and not only does he swim across the sea of Maya himself, but he also ferries his associates across the sea. 3.

A devotee's suffering of haumein is eradicated, and he never suffers any mental ailment. His pure mind never catches filth (of sensual pleasures), and he stays absorbed in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.

A devotee of the Guru is honoured because of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and he is respected for singing praise of Waheguru's virtues. (While working for an honest living), A devotee's only task is to sing Waheguru's praise day and night, as a result of which he stays blissful. 5. A devotee is imbued in the Guru's Shabad day and night, and no matter what the eon, he is always recognized (respected). The devotee is always pure because of his singing of Waheguru's praise, which he does by Guru's Shabad. 6. It is complete darkness (no awareness of Waheguru) without the Guru. Gripped by the Angel of death (the fear of death), the world cries for help. The people are (mentally) sick, and like the worms in feces, they suffer day and night due to the problems caused by Maya. 7.

Waheguru Himself comes to reside in the heart of the Guru's devotee, who realizes that it is Waheguru Himself who does everything, and makes the people do (whatever they do). Respect is accorded to Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized only by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.25.26.

Word Meaning: Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Keeton(u) = (He has) done. Ghut = hearts. Bunut = creation; design. 1. Baajh = without. Sehj(u) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause. Soheh(i) = look impressive (majestic). Moheh(i) = captivate. Proveh(i) = string together (like beads in a necklace). 2. Kerta = Creator. Munn(i) Vusaayay = embeds in mind. Bani = words in praise of Waheguru. 3. Bhoogta = the one who enjoys; receive the rewards or punishment. Bundhan = bonds. Mookta = free from bonds. Alukh(u) = inconceivable. Likhaavniya = shows; enlightens. 4. Chhaaya = shadow (effect on living beings); darkness (ignorance). Jugat(u) = world. Oopaaya = created. Goondaata = source of all virtues (Waheguru). 5. Thaap(i) = (having) created. Oothaapay = destroy. Kaaray = (put to) work. 6. Sayva = service (obey Huqam). Sehj(i) = (in) higher spiritual state. 7. Oocha Oocho = higher and higher (above Maya). Ghut = heart.8.

MEANING: Only Waheguru's Light is the light (soul) in everybody; the Perfect Guru shows this Light with His Shabad. (Even though, it is the same Light in everybody, yet everybody has his different characteristics). Waheguru Himself has created such differences among human beings. 1. I am a sacrifice for all those who sing praise of Waheguru. Nobody can attain the spiritual state above the effects of Maya without the Guru; only those devotees attain such a state who take shelter of the Guru. Pause. You look very majestic and captivate the whole world, oh Waheguru! Like the beads of a necklace that stay attached to a common string, You keep the world under Your control with the single thread of Your Huqam. You, Yourself, cause comforts and discomforts for the living beings, and "show" Yourself to the devotees who take the Guru's shelter. 2. The Creator Himself does everything and makes the living beings do whatever He wishes. He implants Guru's Shabad Himself in devotees' minds. Guru's Shabad is the word of praise of Waheguru, which the devotee recites and shares with others. 3. You, Yourself, are the creator of the universe, and Yourself enjoys it (by being present in them). At the same time, You are always free from all the bonds because You are above the effects of Maya, and have no bonds to break. As you are always above the effects of Maya, it is impossible to discern You, but You reveal Yourself (to the devotees through the Guru), oh eternal Waheguru! 4. Waheguru, Himself is Maya, and Himself its effect on living beings. He, Himself, has implanted feelings of attachment in the world. He is the source of all virtues, and (being present in living beings), Himself sings His praise and recites to the people. 5. He does everything himself and makes the living beings do whatever He wishes them to do. He creates the universe Himself, and destroys it too. There is nothing that happens outside Him (which He is not in His control), and He Himself puts the world to business (worldly chores). 6. Waheguru Himself gives and takes away life. He Himself connects individuals to the Guru and then to Himself. A true devotee of the Guru always enjoys comfort by serving Him and Waheguru, and attains the state of blissfulness. 7. Waheguru is higher and higher (above the effects of Maya), so it is impossible to "see" Him; some rare person "sees" Him to whom He "shows" Himself. He, Himself, implants His Naam in the heart of His devotees and "shows" Himself for them to see, oh Nanak! 8.26.27.

Word Meaning: Bhurpoor(i) = omnipresent. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Srayveen = serve with devotion. Ikk mun(i) = with full concentration. Sach(i) = in God. 1. Jugjeevun(u) = life of the world (Waheguru). Nirbhou = fearless; perfectly Just. Sehj(i) = in a mental state above the effects of Maya. Pause. Dhaul(u) = the mythical ox which supports the earth. Ptaala = the underworld. Baala = child–like; pure–minded. Anund(i) = in bliss. 2. Kaayaan = body. Mayra = mine (ego). Na Chookay Fayra = the rebirth cycle is not broken. Sacho Sach(u) = pure Truth (Waheguru only). 3. Poonn(u) = virtuous deeds. Srisht(i) = world. Ikutt(u) = One (Waheguru). Ghur(i) = in the heart. 4. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Anayraa = Hunayra = darkness. Chaanun = light. Chhodaiy = quit. Mayra = mine (selfishness). Pergut = visible. 5. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Paasaara = expanse. Saakhi = Teaching. Kumal = lotus flower; heart. Bigaas(i) = blooming. Joti = light (soul). 6. Mehl = mansion; heart. Ruttani Bhuray = full of precious virtues (Guru's Shabad). Bhundaara = treasures. Apaara = limitless (Waheguru). Vunjay = deals in. Laaha = profit; benefit. Sud = always. 7. Vuth = desired precious item (Waheguru's Naam). Raakhaiy = retains; does not share. Kayee Kay = only a few. Nudr(i) = kind sight. 8.

MEANING: (Even though) Waheguru is omnipresent, He can be realized only by the grace of the Guru. Taking Guru's shelter, one should serve Waheguru (sing His praise) all the time with full devotion, as a result of which, he will merge into Him. 1.
I offer my life to those who make their heart home for Waheguru to reside there (embed Him in mind). One can unite with Waheguru, which is the life of the whole world, is fearless, and is the provider for the whole world, in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya (with a peaceful mind). Pause.
Once an individual has Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he comes to know the secrets of the earth, the mythical ox that supports it (a Hindu belief), and the underworld (which they believe is controlled by Waheguru). The devotee attains the spiritual state above Maya through the Guru's advice and always remains in a blissful state. 2.
The man also has big haumein and ego in his mind because of which his reincarnation cycle never breaks. A devotee overcomes his haumein in Guru's shelter, and recites the Naam of Waheguru only. 3. The mind also contemplates virtuous and ignoble deeds, which are like brothers (living in the same house – human mind), and both are the cause of reproduction (reincarnation) of the whole world. A true devotee overcomes both of them with the grace of the Guru, and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.
Because of the love for Maya, there is complete darkness in the human mind; but once the mind is enlightened (by the Guru), it gets rid of all its selfishness and ego. With the enlightenment by Guru's Shabad, which is the source of all comfort, the individual recites Waheguru's Naam day and night. 5. With Guru's Teachings, the human mind is enlightened, whereby all its darkness is dispelled, and the individual can "see" the whole expanse of the universe. His mind blooms like a lotus flower and merges into Waheguru to stay blissful all the time. 6.
There are invaluable hidden treasures of virtues (seeds of Waheguru's Naam) in the human mind, but Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by the Guru's grace. A devotee of the Guru always deals in the virtuous qualities and realizes Waheguru's Naam as the benefit (spiritual wealth). 7.
Waheguru keeps the invaluable thing (His Naam) away from some, and gives it to others (as per His Will). But only a few devotees, who have the kind sight of Waheguru, deal in His Naam, and get it enshrined in their mind by His grace, oh Nanak! 8.27.28.

Word Meaning: Bhaao Dooja = love for Maya. Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Goondaata = source of virtues. Smaavniya = is mixed with (present). 1.
Hirdaiy = in the heart. Munn(i) Visaavniya = is embedded in mind. Pause.
Kerm Bidhaara = writer of fate. Jaata = recognized; connected with. Jun = devotees. Soheh(i) = look dignified; are adorned. Rus(u) = taste; essence. 2.
Goofa = cave (heart). Thaan(u) = place (heart). Bherm = misbeliefs. 3.
Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (unjun); Waheguru. Mooraray = God. 4.
Jum = angel of death. Jagaati = the tax collector (punishes). Kur(u) = tax (punishment for bad deeds). Ghurri Moohut = every moment. Laykha = account. Rutti Maasa = very small units of weight for precious metals. Toal =weight. 5.
Payiurraiy = parents' home (this life). Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Chaytay = remember. Mootthi = deceived. Rovaiy Dhaahi = wail; cry aloud. Khuri = much. Kooaaliyo = of bad clan. Kuroop(i) = ugly. Koolukhni = having bad qualities (vices). Soopnay = (in) dreams. 6. Hudoor(i) = right in front. Kuntth Laayay = hold tightly to the neck (remember always). Raavaiy = enjoys. Sayj = bed (of heart). 7.
Sud Boolaayay = call in. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, connects some devotees with Him and makes them serve Him (recite His Naam). Such devotees lose their love for Maya with the Guru's Shabad. God is always pure (Perfect), and is the source of all virtues – actually, He is present in virtues (where there is virtue, there is God). 1.
I am a sacrifice for all those who have embedded His eternal Naam in their heart. Waheguru's eternal Naam is always pure and is embedded in the mind by the Guru's Shabad. Pause. Waheguru, Himself is the Guru, and the writer of the fate of living beings. The devotees serve the Guru and come to recognize Waheguru (get connected with Him). The devotees always look dignified with Waheguru's Naam at heart, and enjoy the essence of His Naam in the shelter of the Guru (with His guidance). 2. The human mind in the body is adorned when the Guru dispels the doubts and misbeliefs of the individual. Imbued in the love of Waheguru, such devotees sing His praise day and night with the grace of the Guru. 3. One analyzes his mind with Guru's Shabad, when Waheguru's Naam comes to dwell in his mind. With the pleasing (comforting) Shabad of the Guru, he sings Waheguru's virtues and feels blissful to connect with God. 4. The individuals who love Maya and have forgotten Waheguru's Naam are heavily taxed (given punishment) by the tax collector, the Angel of justice. He strictly demands the account of every moment like a goldsmith who weighs gold to the last rutti. 5. A human bride, who does not remember her husband (Waheguru) in the present life, cries loudly as she is robbed of good qualities by her love for Maya. In the judgment of Waheguru, as husband, she is like a wife of a very low class, ugly, and with bad qualities, and who can never enjoy the company of her husband, even in her dreams. 6.

The Guru "shows" the presence of Waheguru clearly to the devotee who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart. With Guru's Shabad, such a human bride keeps Waheguru close to her heart all the time, and enjoys the company of the husband (Waheguru) on the bed of her mind which is adorned by virtues now. 7.
Waheguru calls such a devotee in and gives His Naam for the devotee to embed in his mind. Waheguru's Naam wins respect when a devotee sings His virtues day and night, oh Nanak! 8.28.29.

Word Meaning: Ootum = superior. Soothaan(i) = beautiful place; clean (pure) heart. Ghur Maah(i) = in the house (heart). Oodaasa = detachment from Maya. Rung(i) = in love. Raatay = imbued. Triptaavniya = is contented. 1.
Boojh(i) = understand; unlock secrets. Munn(i) Vusaavniya = embed in mind. Dur(i) Sachay = in Waheguru's Court. Pause. Alukh = inconceivable. Abhayo = whose secrets cannot be known. Opaayay = means. Na Kiti = not by any. Bhaytaiy = connect with. 2. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for Maya. Tribidh(i) = having three (effects). Kaarun(i) = because of. Loojhaiy = struggles. Bundhun = bonds. Tootaiy = are broken. Mookt(i) = free (from Maya). 3. Chunchul = fickle; unsettling; wandering. Vus = control. Doobidha = caught between two choices (spiritual and Maya); indecisiveness. Dehdis = in ten (every) directions. Dhaavaiy = runs fast. Bikh = poison (Maya). Keerra = worm. Raata = imbued. Puchaavniya = suffer. 4.
Houn Houn = I am, I am (self-praise); egoist. Junaayay = shows off. Kerm = rituals. Thaayayn Na Paayay = finds no support; is not approved; not even acknowledged. 5. Oopjaiy = is born. Puchaiy = suffers; dies. Birtha = empty. Unt(i) = in the end. 6. Pir(u) = husband. Perdays = in other country; far away. Sigaar = adorn. Kerm = deeds. Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = the next world. MEANING: A devotee, who serves (obeys) the Guru, becomes detached from Maya. His heart becomes a beautiful (virtuous) place, and his life becomes much superior. Such devotees are always imbued in Waheguru's love, and are contented enjoying the taste of Waheguru's Naam. 1. I offer my life to those who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart by reading about Him, and getting enlightened. A devotee of the Guru, who reads about Waheguru and sings His praise, finds respect in His Court. Pause. The inconceivable Waheguru, whose secrets cannot be known, is omnipresent, but cannot be realized by any means at the personal level. The only way to realize Him is by taking the Guru's shelter, that too, if Waheguru casts a kind sight on an individual, and kindly connects him with the Guru, who then connects the individual with Him. 2. If a money-minded individual does read about Waheguru, he cannot realize Him (because his mind is not pure), and he still struggles against his love for Maya. The bonds of the Maya, which have three effects, are broken only with the Guru's Shabad. 3. The human mind is highly fickle and difficult to control. It wanders very fast in every possible direction. Imbued in the love of poisonous Maya, the individual suffers like a worm in poison, which jumps in pain. 4.

A money-minded person shows himself off everywhere, and the egoist indulges in self-praise. He does many deeds to show off, but finds no recognition. Nothing happens outside of Waheguru, who forgives and refines His devotees with Guru's Shabad. 5.
A Maya-engrossed individual is born and dies without recognizing (making a connection with) Waheguru; he wanders day and night in the love for Maya. The spiritual life of the money-minded person goes to waste, and he leaves this world repenting. 6.
The follower of his mind is ignorant and performs some worthless rituals. His efforts are like those of a married woman who beautifies herself when her husband is far away (for whom does she beautify herself?) Such a person gets no praise in this world, and no shelter (support) in the next; his life goes completely to waste. 7.
A rare person makes a connection with Waheguru's Naam by the Guru's Shabad. He worships Waheguru day and night, and enjoys bliss without any extra effort. 8.
Taking Guru's shelter, some rare devotee realizes that it is Waheguru alone which operates everywhere. The devotees imbued in Waheguru Naam find respect, and Waheguru Himself connects them with Him by His Grace. 9.29.30.

Word Meaning: Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). Maatay = intoxicated; state of rapture; delight. Soojhaiy = think of. Jooni = different life forms. 1. Mun(i) Vusiya = embeds in mind; appears; enlightens mind. Sehj(i) = (in) the state of peaceful mind. Pause.

Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Tut(u) = reality. Moolhoun = (from the) base; source. Bhoollay = lost; misled. Biyaapay = affects. 6.
Vayd(u) = Vedas. Tribidh(i) = (having) three affects. Boojhaiy = know the truth. 7.
Thaap(i) = create; adorn with virtues. Sehsa = doubts; misbeliefs. Chookaayay = remove; get rid of. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. 8.

MEANING: The Brahman reads religious books to people and calls himself a pundit (a highly learned man), But in reality, he is no religious man; all his acts are just a show off, and he is a lover of Maya. As a result of his ritualistic acts, he suffers a lot. Intoxicated in the thoughts of Maya, he cannot think of anything worthy and is reborn again, and again. 1. I offer my life to those who overcome their haumein, and become "one" with God. By serving the Guru (obeying Him), Waheguru appears in their heart, and they enjoy the taste of union with Waheguru in the high spiritual state, above Maya. Pause. A money-minded individual (Brahman) does read the Vedas, but never enjoys the taste of Waheguru's union because his reading is just for the sake of discussions, prompted by his love for Maya, which robs him of his good qualities. The mind of such an ignorant person is always dark; on the other hand, the mind of a devotee is enlightened, and he sings Waheguru's praise. 2.
With the mind-enlightening Shabad of the Guru, we can discuss the traits (virtues) of the otherwise indescribable Waheguru. With Guru's Teaching, one develops love for Waheguru. He recites Waheguru's Naam day and night, and his mind is imbued with Waheguru's love. 3. Of course, those who are imbued with Waheguru's love, like Him. Waheguru Himself gives His Naam to His favourites, and never repents. One comes to recognize Waheguru (connects with Him) by the Guru's Shabad, and experiences real comfort. 4. Such devotees never catch the filth of attraction for the perishables and of falsehood. They are watchful day and night with Guru's Shabad. The pure (holy) Naam stays in their mind, and their souls merge with Waheguru. 5. Those who read religious books but love Maya, which has three qualities, do not realize the reality of Waheguru. They are misled from the beginning and do not understand the importance of the Guru's Shabad. Worldly attachments overwhelm them, as a result of which, they cannot think that Waheguru can be realized with the Guru's Shabad only. 6. The Vedas also discuss the three effects of Maya, but the Maya-loving individual does not realize this. He still reads the Vedas, but only for the love of Maya. But, without realizing the reality of the "One" (Waheguru), he suffers a lot. 7. When Waheguru likes, He, Himself, connects individuals with Him, and dispels their discomfort due to their misbeliefs, with Guru's Shabad. The real respect is earned by Waheguru's Naam, and the comfort of mind also comes from the Naam, oh Nanak! 8.30.31

Word Meaning: Nirgoon = formless (no visible traits); above the three effects of Maya. Surgoon = manifesting (hidden) in nature, with the three effects of Maya. Tut(u) = reality. Puchhaanay = recognize; have a deep understanding. Pundit = knowledgeable. Turaiy = find salvation. Kool = clan (associates). 1.

Rus(u) = essence; taste. Chukh(i) = to taste. Saad(u) = taste. Jun= devotee. Pause. Nihkermi = one who does not indulge (unaffected). Giyaan(i) = having Divine Knowledge. Pdaruth = highly valuable article (Waheguru's Naam). Nau Nidh(i) = the nine mystical treasures. Mayt(i) = erase. 2. Bibayk(u) = knowledge; ability to tell right from wrong. Aap(u) veechaaray = self-analysis. 3.
Sur(i) = body of water. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Sunt = devotee. Choogeh(i) = pick up food (for soul). Ishnaan = bathe (cleanse mind in Naam-water). Haumein Maiyl(u) = filth of selfishness and ego). 4. Hunsa = swan-like (clean soul). (The swan is considered to be a clean animal in the Hindu Granths). Vusaiy = reside. Ehinis(i) = day and night. 5. Bug(u) = bugula = heron (imposter). Bugula is considered a mean imposter because he looks like a swan but catches fish or toads, giving the impression of a swan which does not eat fish. Jeevut Muraiy = lives in the world but kills his worldly desires. 6. Ruttan Pdaruth = invaluable article like precious stones (Waheguru's Naam). Undhiyara = darkness (ignorance). Ghut = heart. Chaanun = light (enlightenment). Aap(u) = self. 7.
Oopaayay = created. Vakhaiy = looks after. Lakhaiy = in the record (of successful people); approved (by Waheguru). 8.
MEANING: Waheguru manifests Himself in two forms – (Nirgoon) (above the effects of Maya), and (Surgoon) in nature with the effects of Maya. Only that individual deserves to be called a pundit who understands (internalizes) this reality. By embedding Waheguru's Naam in mind, not only does such an individual find salvation for himself, but he also gets salvation for his clan (associates). 1.
I offer my life to all those who enjoy (union with) Waheguru by tasting His Naam. Those who taste Waheguru's Naam have a pure mind as they recite Waheguru's pure Naam. Pause. Only that individual is considered not to indulge in Maya (is above its effects) who ponders on the Guru's Shabad, and overcomes his selfishness and ego with the enlightenment of his mind. He acquires the invaluable Naam, which is like having all the nine treasures, and merges with Waheguru by overcoming the effects of Maya. 2. A man, who is gripped by haumein, cannot be above the effects of Maya. He has to get rid of his haumein by the grace of the Guru. A man who analyzes his mind all the time acquires the wisdom to tell the right from the wrong and sings Waheguru's praise by Guru's Shabad. 3. Waheguru is pure and is like the sea of all virtues; the holy devotees of the Guru feed on these virtues all the time. They take a dip in Naam-Amrit day and night, and thereby wash away the filth of their haumein. 4. With dedicated love for God, man's soul is purified. Such an individual gets rid of his haumein, and always resides in the ocean of Waheguru (stays absorbed in Him). With day and night love for Waheguru's Shabad; he resides in Waheguru-sea (stays connected with Him). 5. The follower of his mind is an imposter, like a heron who is very different inside from his (innocent) looks, and always carries the filth of haumein. He may take dips in the waters of holy places, but the filth of haumein never goes away. Of course, if he kills his sensual desires and leads his life as per the Guru's Shabad, his filth of haumein is washed away. 6.

If one “listens” to Guru’s Shabad with dedication, he can acquire invaluable Waheguru’s Naam in his mind. With Guru’s grace, the darkness of his mind disappears, and he recognizes himself with the enlightened mind. 7.
Waheguru creates the world Himself, and looks after it too. A person who serves Waheguru gets the account of his bad deeds obliterated, and is honoured because Waheguru’s Naam enlightens his mind by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak! 8.31.32.

Chauthaiy Pud(i) = the fourth (highest) level of spirituality above the effects of Maya. Liv = focus; concentration; connecting with Waheguru. 1. Julaavniya = is burnt. Siyoun = with. Chit(u) = mind. Dur(i) = door (court). Pause. Mool(u) = basis. Simrit Shast = Hindu Granths. Kaam(u) = lust. Pusriya = is spread (has gripped). Aavay Jaayay = takes birth and dies (rebirths). 2.

Tis(u) Vich(i) = in that (heart). Ruttan = precious like a precious stone. Jut(u) = celibacy. Sat(u) = service to man kind. Sunjum(u) = contro on sensual desires. Sach(u) = truthfulness. Kmaavaiy = works for. Pooraiy = perfect. 3.
Payiurraiy = in paternal house (this world). Dhun = woman (human being). Bherm(i) Bhoolaani = lost in doubts. Hult(u) = this world. Pult(u) = the next world. 4.
Kunt(u) = husband (Waheguru). Smaalay = look after; remember. Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state where Maya has no effect (mind quits wandering). Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Shingaar(u) = adornment. 5. Sufl(u) = successful. Dooja Bhaao = love for the other (Maya). Aiko = only God. Ruv(i) Ruhiya = is present. Ghut = heart. 6. Kaahay = what for? Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Birtha = empty; uselessly. 7. Sisht = Srishti = world. Saaji = created. Puchhaanaiy = recognize (get connected with). Dhoor(i) = from the root (source). Mustuk = forehead. Laykh(u) = destiny. 8.

MEANING: The whole world is in the grip of mind-captivating Maya. All the living beings are affected by the three qualities of Maya, and are captivated by it. A rare person realizes this when he attains the fourth level of spiritual awareness (above the effects of Maya) by the grace of the Guru. 1. I am a sacrifice for all those who burn down (overcome) their attachment to Maya by the Guru's Shabad. An individual who overcomes his attachment to Maya applies his mind to Waheguru (gets connected with Him) and wins the praise of Waheguru at His door, in His court, and in His mansion (they all mean the same). Pause. The basis of all the gods and goddesses is Maya, as discussed in the Hindu Granths, the Simritis, and the Shastras. Lust and rage are rampant in the world, and as a result of that, living beings take birth, die, and are born again. 2. Waheguru has placed a precious thing - Divine knowledge (His Naam) - in the human mind, but it lies dormant. It appears in the mind of the devotee only with the grace of the Guru. Some people try to observe celibacy, to have their sensual desires under control, and to have high moral character by the stubbornness of their mind, but fail to make any connection with God, even if they are able to control their desires. On the other hand, a devotee of Waheguru does not need to put in any special efforts to control his desires because they are controlled automatically when he recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 3.
In love with Maya, a human bride is misled by her misbeliefs, and forgets her husband, Waheguru, and has to repent at the end. She wastes away both the worlds – the present, and the next – and gets no comfort even in her dreams. 4.
If a human bride remembers her husband (Waheguru) in the present life, and "sees" him around by the grace of the Guru, she adorns her life (with virtues), and stays always imbued in the love of her husband – Waheguru. 5.
Those who have made a connection with Satguru and burn down their love for Maya with Guru's Shabad make their life a success. Waheguru alone is present in their heart, and they sing His praise in the company of the holy congregation. 6.
What is the use of taking birth as a human if one does not serve Satguru? His life is condemnable because he wastes away his precious human life. The follower of his mind does not remember Waheguru's Naam, and suffers big time without it. 7.
Only Waheguru, who has created the world, knows all this (how to connect people with Him). He connects them with Him by making them recognize (love) the Guru's Shabad. However, only that individual gets to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart who has had this (union with Waheguru) prewritten on his forehead, right from the beginning, oh Nanak. 1.32.33.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) = the original source; root of all. Purakh(u) = living power. Uprumpur(u) = limitless; who does not need any help from anybody. Thaap = to create. Oothaap = to destroy. Vertaiy = operates. Sobha = praise. 1. Nirunkaar = formless; without any shape. Raykhiya = physical features. Ghut(i) = heart. Alukh = invisible; indescribable. Likhaavniya = to show; describe. Pause. Duyaal(u) = Kirpal(u) = kind. Uver(u) = other; else. Naamay = with Naam. 2. Sirjunhaara = Creator. Bhundaara = treasures. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. Sehj(i) = (in) spiritual state above Maya. Smaadh(i) = to be fully connected. 3.

Undin(u) = day and night. Jaachaan = wish. 4. Agumm(u) = (physically) inaccessible. Agoachar(u) = inconceivable. Mit(i) = measurement; limit. 5. Rusna = tongue. Goonvunti = virtuous. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Rung(i) Raati = imbued with (Waheguru's) love. Sobha = praise. 6.
Kerm = deeds; rituals. Ahunkaari = full of conceit; egoistic. Joovaiy = in gamble. Baaji = game. Maha Goobaara = extreme darkness (ignorance). 7.
Kerta = Creator. Vudiyaayee = honour; respect. Likhut(u) Dhoor(i) = pre-written from the Source. Bhuou = fear; worries. Bhunjun = destroyer. 8.
MEANING: Living Power Waheguru, which is the origin (source) of the universe, and which does not need anybody's help, creates the universe all by Himself, and then Himself destroys it. He operates in everybody's heart, but only those who take the Guru's shelter are honoured (by Waheguru for realizing Him). 1. I am a sacrifice for all those who recite the Naam of the formless Waheguru. Even though Waheguru has no physical features, He is present in everybody's heart; but the invisible Waheguru can be "seen" (understood or realized) only by taking the Guru's shelter. Pause.
You are very kind and compassionate, and there is nobody other than You (like You) in this universe, oh Waheguru. If the Guru is kind and gives Your Naam to someone (connects with You), the recipient can merge into You by reciting Your Naam. 2.
You are eternal, and the creator of the universe, oh Waheguru. Your treasures are always full of worship (there is never a shortage, no matter how many people receive Your Naam). One's mind is imbued with Your Love if the Guru kindly gives Your Naam to him; he meditates on Your Naam and attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 3. I wish to sing Your praise day and night, oh Waheguru! I wish to sing Your virtues only, my dear Waheguru, and do not wish for anyone else. (I also realize that) One can connect with You only by the grace of the Guru. 4.
Waheguru is physically inaccessible and incomprehensible, and nobody has ever found his measurements. One can only connect with You with Your kindness, (but will still never know Your limits). You are worshipped by Guru's Shabad, and one attains blissfulness when he serves You with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 5.
The tongue, which sings His virtues, itself acquires those virtues, and those who recite His Naam, are liked by the eternal Waheguru. The devotees of the Guru are always imbued with Waheguru's love and earn praise by connecting with Him. 6.
The followers of their mind perform deeds only to boost their ego (which is a gamble, as they hope to win Waheguru's favour by doing a few perceived good deeds of their vested interests), and thus lose the game of their precious life. Because of greed, their minds are in deep darkness (ignorance), and they continue to stay in the cycle of birth and death. 7.
Waheguru Himself bestows honour on some individuals for whom He had preordained it from the beginning. By Guru's Shabad, such individuals acquire the Naam, which is the destroyer of all fears (worries), and they enjoy blissfulness, oh Nanak. 8.1.34.

Bayunt(u) = without limits. Moocha = large. Vunjaan = (i) go; I do. Daas Dusaavniya = slave of slaves. 8.

MEANING: The invisible God in the form of His Naam, resides hidden in every heart, but cannot be seen with our eyes. The physically inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru is the highest of all (much above the effects of Maya) but can be "seen" or realized only with the Guru's Shabad. 1.

I offer my life to all those who recite Waheguru's Naam in this world. The supreme devotees are dear to God, and are supported by Him; but only the highly lucky people get to see them (make a connection with them). Pause.

Waheguru, which is being searched for by the accomplished Sidh yogis and the yogis and whom gods like Brahma and Indra worship, and the 330 million other gods search for Him, can be worshiped only by connecting with the Guru (in His shelter). 2.

The air worships Waheguru (is at His Command) all the twenty-four hours, and the earth is a slave at His feet. Waheguru resides in the hearts of, and is liked by, all the living beings of the four sources of reproduction, and by those which have different ways to communicate. 3. The True Lord is revealed in the shelter of the Guru, and can be recognized (can be accessed) by the Shabad of the Perfect Guru. Whoever tastes Waheguru's Naam-Amrit becomes fully content and can achieve complete satisfaction by being "one" with Him. 4.

An individual who attains the state of high spirituality above the effects of Maya enjoys all comforts. (Even while living in the family) He stays detached from worldly attractions, is always zestful and blissful. That individual is rich in the real sense, and is a huge banker (mine of virtues), who stitches his mind to the Feet (Shabad) of the Guru. 5.

Waheguru makes arrangements for the food for each kind of living being before He creates them. Nobody else is as great as the Lord Waheguru, and no one can equal Him. 6. Only those individuals worship You whom You are pleased to be kind to, and they act on the Shabad of the Guru, oh Waheguru! They swim across the sea of Maya (get emancipated), and find salvation for their associates as well, and there is no restriction for them in Waheguru's Court. 7. You are huge, and higher and higher; You are limitless and larger and larger, oh Waheguru. I offer my life to (serve) You, and I (Nanak) am a slave of Your slaves, oh Waheguru! 8.1.35

MEANING: Q: Who is free (from the bonds of Maya), and who is connected (with Waheguru)? Who has Divine Knowledge (connected to Waheguru) and who is a good orator (to describe Waheguru's virtues)? Who is a real family man, and who is detached from Maya? Who can evaluate Waheguru (know His magnanimity)? 1.

Q: How does a man get bonded to Maya, and how can one get freedom from it? How can a man break the cycle of reincarnation? What are the noble deeds, and who is detached from Maya (while living in the family)? Who sings the praise of Waheguru and makes others do the same? 2. Q: Who enjoys comfort (bliss), and who is in discomfort (is worrisome)? Who keeps his face towards the Guru (eager to obey Him), and who faces away from the Guru (disregards Him)? How can I connect with Waheguru, and how can one get disconnected from Him? Who can explain such means (or causes)? 3. Q: What mantra is effective to restrain the fast-wandering mind, and what is the advice by which one can accept comfort and discomfort the same way (be a stoic)? What lifestyle is most effective to remember Waheguru, and to sing His praise? 4.

Answers to these questions:

It is the supreme devotee of the Guru (a Gurmukh) who is free from the bonds of Maya, and he is the one who is connected with Waheguru. The Gurmukh is the bearer of the Divine Knowledge, and he is the perfect orator to describe Waheguru's virtues. A Gurmukh is worthy of respect whether he is a family man or lives alone. A Gurmukh knows the virtues (magnanimity) of Waheguru. 5.

Man's haumein is the cause of his bonds with Maya, whereas the Gurmukh is free from all such bonds. The reincarnation cycle is broken for the Gurmukh. The deeds of a Gurmukh are noble because all his deeds are selfless, and whatever he does is with love and respect for the Guru. 6. The Gurmukh is blissful, while the follower of his mind is worrisome. The Gurmukh faces towards the Guru (obeys His Command), while the follower of his mind faces away from the Guru. The Gurmukh is connected with Waheguru, while the follower of his mind is disconnected. Gurmukh's lifestyle illustrates the path (to connect with God). 7.

Obeying the Guru is the mantra by which one controls one's fickle mind, and one accepts comforts and discomforts the same way, by the advice of the Guru. The lifestyle of the Gurmukh is the one to copy to remember Waheguru and to sing His praise. 8. The whole creation is carried out by Waheguru Himself. He alone does everything, makes the humans do whatever He wishes, and establishes them (in their lifestyles). From being One, Waheguru transforms Himself into countless, and everything eventually merges into Him, oh Nanak! 9.2.36.

MEANING: (If you have faith in) the eternal Waheguru, then why would you have any worries? A devotee, who has faith in Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, enjoys bliss. You are my life, my soul, my pride, and you are the source of all my comforts; everything You do for me is a source of bliss for me, oh Waheguru! 1.
I offer my life to all those who like You in their mind and body in the shelter of the Guru. You are the mountain of shelter for me, and are my support; nobody can rival You, oh Waheguru! Pause. A supreme devotee, who finds Your Will to be sweet, sees You in every heart (human being). You are omnipresent, and You alone operate everywhere. 2. You fulfill the objectives (needs) of all. The treasures of Your worship and of Your love are always full. Individuals who stay connected with You are protected kindly by You (from the attacks of Maya). 3.
You cast kind sight on Your devotees, and pull them to the top from the dark well of Maya. They sing praise of the Perfect and eternal Waheguru. (They can only sing the virtues), But there are so many virtues in Waheguru; no matter how long they sing and narrate to the people, there is never an end to His virtues. 4.
You are my guard in this world and the next. You also protect and nourish (the fetus) in the mother's womb. The burning desires of Maya do not even come near the devotees who sing Your praise imbued in Your Love. 5. What virtue of Yours must I recite so as to "see" you in my body and my mind? You are my friend, my pal, and my Lord; I do not acknowledge anybody else, other than You, oh Waheguru. 6. A devotee, whom You support (protect), never suffers even from a minor discomfort. You are the Lord, provider of shelter, and source of all comforts, oh Waheguru. You become "visible" when worshipped in the company of the holy congregation. 7. You are very high (transcendental), unfathomable, limitless, and invaluable (no one can find Your true worth). You are the True Lord, and I am Your slave (personal attendant). You are the real King, and Your Kingship is eternal. I (Nanak) offer my life to You, oh Waheguru. 8.3.37

Word Meaning: Nit, Nit = every day; always. Duyyou = (loving) God. Smaaliyaiy = remember. Mool Na = absolutely not; never. Visaariyaiy = forget. Pause.
Jum = angel of death. Punth = path. Toasa = journey expenses (to the next world). Kooleh(i) = (to the) clan. Gaal(i) = get blamed; discredited. 1.
Simrunday = worship. Saayee = Lord. Tutti Vaao = hot air; discomfort. Voottha = make home; come to live; appear. 2. Behnaiy = keep company; socialize with. Dhun(u) = wealth. Sunjiya = accumulated; earned. Gumbheer = very patient. Apaar = limitless. 3. Amiyo Rusaayin = Naam-Amrit, which is the source of all enjoyable tastes. Ditthaiy = by seeing. Jun = supreme devotee. Kaaruj = tastes.

Svaar(i) = adorn; complete successfully. Poojhou = worship. Paanv = feet (Shabad). 4. Gosaayeen = provider for the earth (God). Soora = valiant. Perdhaan = leader. Mustik = forehead. Bhaag = good fortune. 5.
Mundhay = in. Uvgaahiya = looked for carefully. Bhogun = enjoy. Munda = bad. Oopjiyo = sprouts. Sachi Kaaraiy = the true business (Waheguru's Naam). 6.
Kerta = the Creator (Waheguru). Ful = result; achieve success. Bhaavunda = as wished. Kunt(u) = husband (Waheguru). Thir = stable; long-lasting. Sohaag = married life. 7. Atull Pdaruth = eternal article (Waheguru's Naam). Bhaiy Bhunjun = fear destroyer. Laayay Unchal = by providing support. Jitta = won (achieved success). 8.
MEANING: Loving Waheguru must be remembered all the time, and should never be forgotten. Pause. To avoid the path to the Angel of death (to avoid deeds that make us sinners), one should connect with the Guru to realize Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam is like journey expenses (a ticket for the next world), meaning no one can question one on the way to unite with Waheguru. Also, the clan of such a devotee cannot be discredited for ignoring Waheguru. 1.
Those who recite Waheguru's Naam will never be sent to hell. Those whose hearts become home for Waheguru to reside never suffer even a slight discomfort. 2.
Those people are pretty and attractive to Waheguru who stay in the shelter of the Guru. Those who accumulate the wealth of the Naam merge with Waheguru, which is highly patient (unchanging in situations) and limitless. 3. Having the sight of the Guru (obeying Him) injects spiritual life in the devotee when he drinks the Naam-Amrit, which is the source of all enjoyable tastes. We should serve Guru's Feet (obey Him) at all times to successfully complete our tasks (of uniting with Waheguru). 4.
Those who are connected with Him recite His Naam. Such devotees have good fortune written on their foreheads, and they are the real valiant and leaders. 5.
Those who searched (and found) Waheguru in their mind enjoy the real kingship in that spiritual state. No immoral thought ever crosses their mind, and they swim across the sea of Maya by performing deeds which are approved by the Guru. 6.
Those who embed the Creator (His Naam) in their mind achieve the objective of human life (union with God). Such human brides get the husband of their choice (Waheguru) and live an eternal married life. 7.
When one takes shelter of the fear-destroying Waheguru, he acquires the eternal Naam. Waheguru salvages the devotee by taking him in His embrace, and the individual wins the toughest game of life (becomes "one" with Him), oh Nanak. 8.

Word Meaning: Mun Dheeray = mind becomes calm and patient. Pause.
Gurdayo = (source of enlightenment) Guru. Bhaiy = all fears. 1.
Ta Phir(i) = then. Kaahay = what for; why. Jhooray = repent for failure. 2.
Sunt Sadh = Guru. Munoruth = objectives. Pooray = achieved. 3.
Ghut = heart. Vertda = operates. Muhiul = sky. 4. Paap Binaasun = destroyer of sins. Puvitar = holy; pious. Dhooray = dust of feet. 5.
Subh = the whole humanity. Chhudaayee = freed. Tthurooray = cool; calm. 6.
Tupaavso = justice. Doosht = cruel; sinners. Mooray = taxidermy (stuffed hide) of a young one of a cow so that it appears to be alive; visibly alive but actually dead. 7.
Rutta = imbued. Naayay = Naam. Hujooray = right in front. 8.

MEANING: There is only one Waheguru, which can be realized by the grace of the Guru. One gets calmness of mind by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
By reciting the Naam of the source of enlightenment, Guru, all the fears (worries) are dispelled. 1. Why would one need to feel repentant for his failures when he comes to the shelter of Waheguru? 2. All the objectives of life are achieved by serving the Guru's Feet (obeying Him). 3. Waheguru is present in all the living beings, whether they are on the land, in water, or in the sky; and He operates alone. 4. The destroyer of all sins, Waheguru, is worshipped by taking the holy dust of the Feet of the Guru (obeying Him). 5.
The whole world is set free from the bonds of Maya by Waheguru Himself, and its mind (of the world) becomes peaceful by worshipping Waheguru. 6.
The Creator delivers perfect justice, and the sinners and the cruel die of spiritual death. Like a stuffed hide (taxidermy), they are alive on the surface, but dead spiritually. 7.
I am imbued in Waheguru's love and see Him around me all the time, oh Nanak. 8.5.39.
