I am a sacrifice for the devotee who tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints. 1.

Waheguru is supreme as He provides shelter even to sinners like me. Waheguru is great, and destroys the troubles of the poor (humble); He gives His Naam to His devotees to recite (the gift of Naam is due to His benevolence). 1.

I am ignoble, whereas Waheguru is very high (transcendent) because of His countless virtues; but I sing His praise in the shelter of the Satguru, who is my real friend. (An ignoble person can acquire noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru) just as a bitter neem tree near a sandal tree acquires its fragrance. 2. We have many, many bad qualities due to our attraction for poisonous Maya, and we make mistakes again and again every moment. Because of our ignoble qualities, we have become heavy like a rock due to the burden of our misdeeds, but Waheguru salvages us in the company of His devotees. 3.

NOTE: Bhagat Nam Dev Ji was a low-caste washerman. He once visited a temple to worship Waheguru. The high-caste Brahmans insulted him and kicked him out of the temple. Nam Dev Ji went to the back of the Temple while the Brahmans were watching him outside the Temple. It is believed that as Nam Dev Ji sang Waheguru's praise, the temple rotated to face Nam Dev Ji, with its back towards the Brahmans.
MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam with love, oh my mind. With the grace of the Lord, Waheguru, I recite His Naam in the shelter (with the support) of His devotees. Pause.
Having made many mistakes in my previous lives, I have now come to Waheguru's shelter. I am a great sinner, but You raise and protect us, oh Lord. I have come to Your shelter, kindly protect me. 1. Who has not been salvaged (everybody has been salvaged) in Your company (shelter), oh Waheguru? You purify even the immoral. When Nam Dev Ji was humiliated while singing Your praise in the temple, You saved (enhanced) his dignity, oh Waheguru. 2. I am again, and again a sacrifice for those who sing Your praise, oh Lord. All those houses (places) are purified where the dust of the feet of Your devotees falls (where they sing Your praise). 3. You are greater and greater (high in transcendence), so much so that I cannot sing all Your virtues. Please, be kind to Nanak so that I may wash the feet of Your devotees (serve them humbly). 4.4.

Mudhsoodun, Jugjeevun, Madho, Dumodar(u) = all are names for the Lord. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaaray = limitless. Binou = Bayntee = request. Pukhaaray = wash (feet). 2. Sehs = thousands. Purakh = Supreme Being. Niraaray = fully detached. Moorut(i) = visible forms. Gurmut(i) = Guru's Advice. Taaray = salvages.3.

I cannot survive even for a short moment without serving the Guru (reciting Waheguru's Naam), which I recite with the Guru's advice. Pause.

Waheguru's Naam is very dear to me, and we should recite it all the time. When the Lord, Waheguru, becomes kind to the humble, He grooms them with Guru's Shabad (and salvages them). 1. My Lord, Waheguru, is inaccessible and limitless; I have one request to make to Him that He grants me an opportunity to wash Guru's Feet (serve Him). 2. (Being present in everybody) Waheguru has thousands (countless) eyes, but the Supreme Being is detached from worldly affairs. Waheguru has countless forms, but He alone is like Himself (Nobody else is like Him). He salvages us only with the Guru's Shabad. 3. Waheguru's Naam is realized and enshrined in the heart only with the Guru's advice. Like a mute who enjoys the sweet taste of a drink, but cannot describe that, Waheguru's praise is very sweet, but its taste cannot be described. 4.

Word Meaning: Rusna = tongue. Saad = taste. Chukhaiy = tastes (v). Bhaayay Doojay = other (rooted in Maya). Ut(i) = extreme. Pheekay = tasteless. Lobh = greed. Bikaaray = worthless; immoral. Un = others. Bisaaray = forgotten. 5.
Dhun(u) = wealth. Kehtiyaan = reciting. Nivaaray = removed. Dherm Raayay = the mythical Angel of justice. Nayrr(i) = near. 6. Birtha = empty; waste. 7.
Daasun(i) Daas(u) = slave of slaves. Puniharay = water server. 8.
MEANING: All tastes other than Waheguru's Naam that the tongue enjoys are (spiritually) extremely tasteless as they are rooted in Maya, and lead to greed and sensual pleasures. But the devotees of the Guru, who enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam, forget all other tastes. 5. The wealth of Waheguru's Naam is acquired with the Guru's advice; all one's sins are eradicated by listening to, or by reciting, Waheguru's Naam. The Angel of justice, or of death, does not go even near the devotee who is dear to God. 6.

Word Meaning: Paathur = Paahun = stone; heavy (loaded) with sins. Nirgoonyaaray = having no noble qualities. Pause.

Drirraya = reinforced. Maiylagur = sandal tree (which grows on the Mullya mountain). Mulgaaray = better than sandal. Naamaiy = with Naam(u). Soort(i) = concentration; ability to perceive or feel. Vujji Haiy = has spread. Mooshk = the fragrance of musk. Gundhaaray = fragrance. 1. Nirgoon = above the effects of Maya. Neekay = beautiful; valuable. Smaaray = can be enshrined. Nistaaray = salvages. 2.

Bibayk(u) = ability to distinguish between good and bad. Sumsershi = impartial. Shunk = misgivings. Ootaaray = remove. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Huoun = I. 3.

Paakhund = hypocrisy; show off. Bhermay = misled. Lobh(u) = greed. Booriyaaray = very bad. Hult(i) = this world. Pult = next world. Dookhdaayee = troublesome. 4.

MEANING: We are loaded with ignoble qualities and with sins, oh Waheguru. Kindly connect us with the Guru so that He emancipates us with His Shabad. Pause.

Satguru reinforces the sweet Naam of Waheguru, which is far superior to the fragrance of the sandal tree. With Waheguru's Naam, which has the sweet fragrance of musk and which spreads in every direction over faraway places, our ability to perceive Waheguru's presence flourishes. 1 You are above the effects of Maya, and it is very sweet to sing Your praise with the beautiful Shabad of the Guru, oh Waheguru. When one sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad all the time, Satguru salvages him (and connects with Waheguru). 2. The Guru has the Divine Wisdom to tell the good from the bad, but He is impartial, and one can have all his doubts cleared on meeting with Him. I am all sacrifice for the Guru meeting with whom (in whose shelter), I have attained the highest spiritual state. 3.

To earn money, people use different approaches, including religious hypocrisy. They are misled and suffer because of their hypocrisy; hypocrisy and greed are very, very bad in the world. They make both the worlds discomfortable (troublesome) for them as the Angel of (spiritual) death is watching them over their heads, and punishes them. 4.

Word Meaning: Oogvaiy = appears. Dinus = day. Aal(u) Jaal(u) = worldly affairs. Smaalaiy = looks after. Bikh(u) = poisonous (causing spiritual death). Bisthaaray = expansions; related to. Soopnuntar(u) = dreams. 5. Kullur(u) = saltpeter. Khayt(u) = field. Koorr(u) = falsehood; perishables. Jumaaya = seeded. Khulvaaray = stook or rick of bales of grain crops. Shaakut Nur = a worshipper of Maya. Bhookh Bhookhaanay = always hungry (dissatisfied). Tthaanday = standing; waiting. Jum Jundaaray = tough (killer) Angel of death. 6. Kurj Bikh(u) = debt of poisonous Maya (sensual enjoyments). Bhaari = huge. Ootraiy = comes off. Mungiyaiy = acquire. Vaaray = stopped; prevented. 7. Jugunath = the Lord of the world; Waheguru. Juntar = living beings. Oopaayay = created. Nuck(i) Kheeni = pierced noses. Nuth-haaray = stringed noses. Khinchaiy = controls with nose string like a domesticated animal. 8.

MEANING: The man rises at daybreak and gets busy with his routine (spiritually worthless) worldly affairs, which are rooted in poisonous Maya, and which become the cause of his spiritual death. As night falls, he goes to sleep and dreams of the same spiritually fatal things that he had been doing during the day and suffers. 5.

The money-worshippers are always hungry for money and never get satisfied, while the killer Angel of spiritual death is always waiting at their door. Their heart is like a field covered with saltpetre in which Waheguru's Naam cannot take root. They plant the seeds of falsehood (deceitfulness and lies) in their heart-field, and stack the bales of deceitfulness in a stook (harvests the crops of deceitfulness and lies). 6.

The follower of his mind (disconnected with Waheguru) accumulates a huge debt of sensual enjoyments, which can be paid off by pondering (and reflecting) on the Guru's Shabad. All those debts of immoral deeds that we acquire can be prevented (paid off) by serving the Feet of the Guru like a servant (reciting His Shabad with full dedication). 7.

(But the man cannot change his nature on his own) because Waheguru, which has created all living beings, has put a string through their noses and controls their actions just as domesticated animals are controlled with a string through their noses. So, the man has to follow Dear Waheguru's Command, and follow the directions in which He pulls his strings, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Navaaray = bathes. Amritsar(i) = the pool of Naam-water. Mujun = bath. Neeko = beautiful; purifying. Kulmul = Paap = sins. Pause. Goon = quality; influence. Adhikaayee = much. Sooa = parrot. Gunuk = a prostitute (See the story in "INTRODUCTION"). Persun Pers = beautiful touch (of Krishna's feet). A beautiful but hump-backed young girl who was sent by Kans to kill Krishana. Baiykoonth(i) = in paradise. Sidhaaray = reach. Ajamul = a Brahman who married a prostitute (see "INTRODUCTION"). Bhaayay = liked. Bhaavni = good intention; respect. Jum Kunkur = the assistants of the Angel of death. Bidaaray = destroyed. 2. Dirrta = reinforcement (in faith). Nistaaray = salvages. 3. Saabut(u) = complete; healthy. Mundur(i) = house; heart. Kuddh(i) = dig. Koop(u) = well. Punihaari = water server. 4.
Shaakut = worshipper of wealth; disconnected with Waheguru. Bisaaray = forgotten. Buchan = words. Bichhooaa = scorpion. Dussiyaiy = bites; stings. Tuj(i) = ignore; avoid. Puraiy Puraaray = farther away. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru makes his devotees who take Satguru's advice, to take a bath in the holy water of His Naam (to cleanse their minds). Taking a dip in Satguru's Divine Knowledge (His Shabad) purifies the mind, and all the sins of the devotees are washed away. Pause. The influence of the holy gathering is highly influential; recall the story of the prostitute who, at the advice of a sage, began to teach a parrot to say "Ram" (Waheguru), and thus worshipped Waheguru without realizing it in the parrot's company, and was salvaged. Likewise, the hump-backed young girl who was sent by Kans, the maternal uncle of Krishna, to poison the young Krishna to death, was not only cured of her humped back, but was taken to paradise when she touched Krishna (remembered the Lord). 1.
Similarly, Ajamul, whom people considered a great sinner because he married a prostitute, was liked by my dear Lord because of his good intentions when he named his son "Narayan"- a name for Waheguru - and called him affectionately by that name. Waheguru killed all the agents of the Angel of Death to protect him. 2.
To give the impression of their religiosity, money-loving individuals praise God to make people listen, but do not ponder (or act on) what they say. However, if they join some holy gathering, they acquire firm faith in Waheguru and can find salvation with His Naam. 3.
As long as body and mind are healthy, the man does not think anything about Waheguru, but when his body is about to be set on fire (he is close to death), he begins to think about Him, which is like digging a new well to get water to put out the fire which is devouring his burning house. 4. Do not become friends with a money-lover who has forgotten Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. The words of a money-lover are like the sting of a scorpion, which causes unbearable mental agony; so, stay far, far away from them. 5.

Word Meaning: Lug(i), Lug(i) = dropping on the feet of the Guru (taking His shelter). Suvaaray = adorn (groom) with noble qualities. 6. Poorub(i) Junum(i) = in previous lives. Perchoon = recitation of Waheguru's Naam for short times. Rus(u) = sweetness (of Waheguru's Naam). 7. Roop Rung = forms and colours. Laalun = extremely dear. Laal Goolaaray = dear like red flower (rose). Junt Vichaaray = helpless humans. 8.

MEANING: When a devotee drops on Guru's Feet again, and again with love (takes His shelter), he develops deep love for Waheguru, Who grooms him with noble qualities in Guru's shelter. A devotee, who obeys the Guru's Will as Divine Message, is loved dearly by Waheguru. 6. An individual who remembered Waheguru faithfully many times, even if it was for short periods in his previous life, will still love Him in this life, and with Guru's grace, he acquires the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam, which he recites and ponders on with love. The whole world is Your forms, and Your colours, oh my extremely dear Waheguru. You are as attractive as a red rose. Nanak submits humbly that the living beings acquire only that colour (nature and qualities) that You give them; they are helpless before You, and have to obey Your Command, oh Waheguru. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Rukhvaaray = guard; protector. Kooncur(u) = the elephant that was trapped in the tentacles of a octopus (see "INTRODUCTION"). Tundooaa = octopus. Pukur(i) Chulaayo = trapped and pulled. Ker(i) = hand. Pause. Neekay = beautiful; noble. Sherdha = reverence. Dhaaray = acquire; enshrine. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. Paiyj = dignity. Suvaaray = enhances. Braham Pusaaray = expansion (creation) of Waheguru. Aik Puralh = only "one" Waheguru. Nihaaray = sees. 2. Ruvviya = present. Chayri = disciples. Smaaray = looks after. Daan(u) = donations (fulfills needs). Keeray = worms; microbes. Kaaray = creates. 3. Vaas(u) = fragrance. Mooskaayee = of musk. Bherm Bhoola = misled by misbelief. Mirg = (musk) deer. Singhaaray = hits bushes with horns to search for the fragrance. Dhoondh(i) = searching for. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Nistaaray = connected with Waheguru. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru is our guard, and His shelter is most protective. (For example), He extended His hand to free and save the elephant that was trapped by a powerful octopus, and which was being pulled under water. Pause.

Waheguru's devotees are extremely noble (holy), who enshrine Waheguru in their hearts with great reverence. My Waheguru loves His worship with reverence, and exalts the dignity of His devotees. 1. Waheguru's devotees serve Him (recite His Naam, and welcome His Will), and realize that the entire world is the creation of Waheguru. They realize that Waheguru is the only Supreme Power in the universe, see Him everywhere, and find that He looks at everyone the same way (without bias). 2.
The Lord, Waheguru, is present everywhere, and the whole world is His disciple, and He looks after each of the living beings. He provides food (meets their needs) to everybody with His own kindness – even to the microbes in the rocks which He has created there. 3.
The musk deer has the great fragrance of musk in its body, but does not realize that, and searches for it in the bushes by hitting them with its horns. Just as the musk deer, I was ignorant of the presence of Waheguru in my own heart, and grew exhausted wandering in the jungles looking for Him; but the perfect Guru showed Him to me in my own heart, and saved me (connected me with Him). 4.

Jun Nanak Aapay Aap(i) subh(u) vertaiy, kur(i) kirpa Aap(i) nistaaray. 8.4.
Word Meaning: Pertukh = clearly; visibly. 5. Pusriya = spread out. Beejiya = seeded. Khaavaary = feeds. Chundar Haans ---- Dhrisht Boodhi = Chundar Haas was a young prince of a state in southern India whose parents died when he was still a minor. Dhrist Boodhi was the prime minister who controlled the state and tried many times to get the young prince killed, but was unsuccessful. Finally, he ordered his private guards to kill Chundar Haas, but by Providence, the guards killed Dhrist Boodhi's son, Madan, who was the same age as Chundar Haas and who happened to be there earlier, where Chundar Haas was supposed to be present. Dookhiya = caused grief for. Looki = flame. 6.
Jun(u) = devotee. Rid = heart. Loachaiy = longs for. Saas Nihaaray = watches (guards) with every breath. Peechhaiy = because of. 7.
Srisht(i) = world. Suvaaray = adorns (grooms) with noble qualities. 8.
MEANING: Guru's Shabad is our Guru, and the Guru is the Shabad (they are the same); and all other amrits are included in Guru's Shabad. If a devotee listens to (and acts on) the Guru's Shabad when He recites it, the Guru salvages him for everybody to know. 5.
Waheguru is present everywhere, and He has created everything. God feeds one whom he had sown in the field of his heart, just like Dhrisht Boodhi, who was grieved by Chunder Haans, as the former put his own house on fire (got his son killed by mistake). 6.
When a devotee longs deeply for Waheguru, He protects the devotee with his every breath. With His benevolence, Waheguru reinforces His worship in the devotee's heart and salvages the world through the devotee. 7.
Waheguru Himself is the Lord, and He grooms the world with noble qualities (to salvage it). He operates everywhere and salvages with His kindness, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Oobaaray = salvage. Duroputi = wife of the five Pandavas. Doostaan = the wicked people. Aani = brought. Laaj = dignity. Nivaaray = protects. Pause.
Jaachuk = beggars. Sherdha = reverence; yearning. Suvaaray = adorn; salvage. 1.
Shaakut = money-worshipper (disconnected with Waheguru). Kerm = deeds. Muthiyaiy = churn. Jhoal Jhoolaaray = churns repeatedly. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Maakhun = butter. Gutkaaray = eats while enjoying. 2. Kaaya = Dayh = body. Mujun = bathing. Bhaayay = liked. Phokut = wasteful. Chaar = beautiful. 3.
Mutik = walk with confidence. Sukhee = Suhayli = female friends of women. Saaray = retain carefully. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhaaray = show; connect with. 4.

MEANING: Kindly protect my dignity against the attacks of Maya and salvage me, just the way you protected the honour of Dropati, the wife of the Pandav-brothers, when the wicked Kauravas tried to shame her by de-robing her, oh Waheguru (see the story in "INTRODUCTION"). Pause.
Please be kind to Your devotee beggar, and donate Your Naam (implant in my heart), and fulfil my wish, oh dear Waheguru. I have a strong yearning to see the Guru, kindly connect me with Him so that my soul may be groomed with noble qualities, oh Lord. 1.
The deeds of a money-lover are spiritually as worthless as the churning of water which he performs again and again. On the other hand, a devotee attains the highest spiritual level in the company of the holy saints (the Guru) and enjoys the bliss of that state, like a lover of butter who extracts it from yogurt and eats it while enjoying. 2.
The hypocrite follower of his mind bathes every day, cleanses his body by rubbing well, and adorns himself with religious symbols (to show off), but he does not like the Guru's Words; therefore, all his hypocritical acts of decorating his body go to waste. 3.
The devotees of Waheguru carefully acquire the noble qualities of Waheguru and walk with confidence among their friends. Waheguru liked my service to my Guru because of which my Guru showed the incomprehensible Waheguru in my heart. 4

Word Meaning: Naari = female. Purakh(u) = male. living power. Mooraaray = a name for Waheguru. Rayn(u) = dust of feet (service to). Bhaayee = liked; 5.

Graam = village. Nugur = town. Rid Untar(i) = in the heart. Bhaaray = Bhaalay = search for; find. Sherdha = love (yearning) for. Oopaayay = generate. 6.

Puvun = air; breaths. Soot = thread. Neeka = beautiful; pure. Nij Ghur(i) = in own heart. Bin(u) Naiyna = without eyes. Nihaaray = see (through the lens of mind). 7.

Eesh = God. Bern(i) = describe. Mundar = a big mansion. Nick = small. Keeray = ants. Dheeray = find peace. 8.

MEANING: Even though Waheguru is equally present in every male and female, He salvages only those who like the dust of the feet of His holy saints (serve them selflessly). 5.

People wander from village to village, and from town to town searching for Waheguru, but His devotees search for and find Him in their own hearts. I also beg my Waheguru to generate love for Him in my heart and connect me with the Guru, because it is through the Guru that Waheguru saves His devotees. 6.

The devotee, who ponders, and reflects on Guru's Shabad, and purifies the string of his breaths (by reciting His Shabad in Waheguru's praise with every breath), enjoys the sweetness of the Naam in his stable mind, and sees the reality of the whole world (the poisonous effects of Maya on the world) without the eyes (in the high spiritual state). 7.

I cannot describe all Your virtues, oh Waheguru, because I am like a tiny worm, whereas You are like a huge palace which I cannot explore at all. Kindly connect me, Nanak, with the Guru so that I may recite Your Naam in His shelter to have contentment of mind, oh Lord. 8.5.

Sadhu Purakh(u) = God-like Guru. Binou = request. Dhun = wealth. Poonji = capital; wealth. Tishna Bhookh = appetite of worldly desires. 1.

Puchaiy = burn; suffer. Putung = moth. Mirg = deer. Bhring = wasp; bumblebee. Koonchur = elephant. Meen = fish. Indri = sense; vice. Pukur(i) = trap. Sunghaaray = destroyed. Punch Bhoot = five demons. Sbul = powerful. Nivaaray = removes. 2.

Soadh(i), Soadh(i) = examine carefully. Moon(i) Nard = a son of Brahma who was born out of his thigh. Pookaaray = said forcefully. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. 3.

Kayri = of; for. Nihaaray = sees. Mayr Soomayr = tall mountains. Moar = peacock. Naachaiy = dances. Oonvaiy Ghun = very low. Ghunhaaray = clouds. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of the inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru, and pray to Him that He salvage me, who has no virtue, and is a big sinner, through the Guru, oh my mind. Pause. Through the company of some holy saints, I got connected with the Guru, and I have a request: that He grant me the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, whereby all my appetite for worldly desires should be eradicated. 1.

The moth, the deer, the bumblebee, the elephant, and the fish, all suffer, and get killed only for their single vice each (greed, or love for music, or lust), but the human beings have not just one, but five powerful vices (like lust, rage, greed etc.); and only Satguru can destroy the sins that the man commits under their influence. 2.

We have examined carefully the Hindu holy books like the Shastras, the Vedas, and the forcefully uttered words by Nard and other sages, and have found that one can attain a high spiritual state only by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the holy gathering when the Guru salvages you. 3. I have fostered a deep love for my dear Waheguru, and my mind blooms just the way the lotus flower blooms in water or the peacocks dance with joy when they see very low clouds coming down from the tall mountains. 4.

Word Meaning: Buhou = much. Sinchou = irrigate (the mind-field); feed. Daal = branches. Bisukaaray = poisonous. Jiyoun Jyoun = the more. Niveh(i) = bow down; show humility. Sayti = for. Chhayrr(i) Chaayrr(i) = by hurting behaviour. Bikh(u) = poison. Khaaray = bitter. 5. Per-oopkaaray = favour to others. Bigsaiy = blooms. Jul = water. Kumul = lotus. Suvaaray = blooms; thrives 6.

Loabh = greed. Lehr(i) = wave; impulse. Sooaan(u) = dog. Hulk(i) = madness. Bigaarray = causes madness. Deebaan(i) = in the Court. Khurrg = sword. 7.

Dhur = support; shelter. Uver = other. Nistaaray = salvages. 8. Chhukka = set of six.

MEANING: A man, disconnected with Waheguru, is like a poisonous tree which you may irrigate with sweet amrit, but will still have poison in its branches and flowers. The more humility (nice treatment) you show towards him, the more he hurts you with his bitter and poisonous words. 5.

One should stay in the company of the holy saints who have the virtues to say kind words and perform deeds to favour others. When a saintly person meets another saint, their minds bloom like a lotus flower which thrives in water. 6.
The impulse of greed in a man is like the madness of a dog, which causes the same disease among others (makes them greedy too). But, the prayer of the devotees reaches the Court of Waheguru, which kills such impulses with the sword of Guru's Knowledge. 7.
I pray to You to protect me from such vices with Your benevolence, oh Waheguru. I have no other support than that of the Guru, and Waheguru, who salvage me, oh Nanak. 8.6. Set of Six Ashtpudies.
