Hur(i) haar(u), Hur(i) oor(i) dhaariyo, jun Nanak Naam(i) samaya. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Unt(u) = end; limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Agaadh(i) = unfathomable. Bodh(i) = understanding. Adays(u) = bowing to; salute. Raaya = Royal. Pause.

Jhugurtay = fight; attack. Jhugraaya = caused to fight. Deen = helpless. 1.

Shernaagti = seeking shelter. Vuchhul = lover of. Naaya = Naam. Hernaakh(i) = by Hernakhsh (father of Prehlaad) (see “Introduction”). Traaya = salvaged. 2.

Chayt(i) = keep in mind. Mehl(u) = Waheguru’s Residence. Paavun = to acquire. Dookh-Bhunjun = destroyer of all troubles. Bhuou = fear. Nivaar(i) = remove. 3.

Putit Paavun = purifier of the immoral. Haar(u) = necklace. Oor(i) Dhaariyo = enshrined in heart. 4.

MEANING: Countless people have tried, but no one has ever found the limits of Waheguru. Waheguru is physically inaccessible and unfathomable beyond our understanding; I can only bow to (salute) His Royalty (Majesty). Pause.

Inspired by sensual pleasures, lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, the man (attack his good thinking) fights all the time. I am helpless (unable to protect myself), and have come to Your shelter. Kindly protect me (from their attacks), oh, Waheguru. 1.

Waheguru loves the devotees who recite His Naam and nurtures the individuals who come to His shelter. Remember that not only did He protect His devotee, Prahalad, who was in the fatal grip of his father, Harnakash, but He also rescued him. 2.

Waheguru is the destroyer of all troubles, so always remember Him so as to reach His highly transcendent Residence, oh my mind. The Lord, who removes (destroys) the fear of reincarnation, is realized by the Teachings of the Guru. 3.

Waheguru’s Naam purifies even the immoral; so, I sing Waheguru’s praise, which destroys all fears. I am a slave of Waheguru, and have worn the necklace of His Naam in my heart as a result of which, I am absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Tin kee punk paayiyaiy vudbhaageen, jun(u) Nanak(u) Churn(i) puraata. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sookh-Daata = Provider (source) of all comforts. Saad(u) = (enjoyed the sweet) taste. Puchhaata = Jaata = recognized (made a connection with). Pause.
Doormut(i) Maiyl(u) = the filth of evil thoughts. Neekur(i) = washed out. Amrit Sur(i) = the pool of Naam-Amrit. 1. Bataa = information. Jooduriya = humble request; supplication. Kerm Bidhaata = the carver of our fates (Waheguru). 2.
Lilaat Likahy = prewritten on the forehead. Raata = imbued. Kilvikh = sins. Guvaata = lost; got rid of. 3. Rusaayin(u) = source of all sweetness. Ootum = superior. Baata = lifestyle. Punk = dust (of feet). Puraata = drops on; surrenders. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, oh my mind. One enjoys the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints and makes a connection with Him in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.
The fortunate people have the sight of the Guru (connect with Him) in whose shelter they take a dip in the Naam-Amrit Pool (Waheguru's Naam), and wash away the filth of their evil thinking, and realize (make connection with) Waheguru. 1.
Those holy saints are worthy of worship who make a connection with Waheguru (embed Him in their minds), and I will seek information from them about how to connect with Him. I will drop on their feet anytime and humbly request that they connect me with Waheguru, who is the carver of our fates. 2. With the prewritten fortune on my forehead, I got connected with the Guru, and my body and my mind are now imbued with the love for His Words (Shabad). With the grace of the Guru, I have been connected with Waheguru, with the result that all my sins have been destroyed, and I feel blissful now. 3.
Those devotees who have realized the source of all sweet tastes, Waheguru, with the advice of the Guru, have a noble lifestyle. Only the highly fortunate get the dust of their feet (the opportunity to serve them). I am their slave, and would love to drop on their feet, oh Nanak.4.

Word Meaning: Sidh = an accomplished yogi. Saadhik = those, who purify their bodies. Moon(i) = a hermit; sage. Mun Bhaavni = in their own way. Uprumpro = limitless. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhaayo = showed; gave understanding. Pause.
Neech = ignoble. Mudhim = low-level. Kerm = deeds. Chaytiyo = remembers; thought of. Khin(u) = in a moment. Bundh = trapped. Mookut)I = free. 1.
Mustukay = on the forehead. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Liv Laayo = meditated on. Punch Shabad = five kinds of music. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. Mungul = song of joy. 2. Nurhur(i) = of Waheguru. Mund – Bhagiyaan = unlucky. Bhaayo = liked. Tay = those. Gerbh Joani = life forms through the womb; reincarnations. Gaaliyeh(i) = destroyed; punished. Loan(u) = salt. 3. Mut(i) = wisdom. Smaayo = absorbed. 4.

MEANING: All the Sidhs, the yogis, and the hermits, worship Waheguru in their own way (whether they realize Him or not). But it is the Guru who "shows" the limitless and the incomprehensible Waheguru to all. Pause.
I have done ignoble and low-level deeds, and never remembered the Royal Waheguru, but when He connected me with Satguru, He emancipated me from all worldly bonds in a moment. 1. With the prewritten fate on my forehead by Waheguru, I was able to meditate on His Naam in Guru's shelter. I felt as if the five kinds of musical instruments from Waheguru's Court were playing in my mind, and it began to sing Waheguru's praise, which brings (is the source of) bliss. 2.
Waheguru's Naam purifies even the immoral, but the unfortunate do not like (enjoy) it. They are punished with reincarnations in a mother's womb (and lose their originality – are reborn in other life forms), like salt loses its originality when it is dissolved in water. 3.
Kindly advise me so that my mind may be attached to Guru's Feet (His Shabad), oh, the inaccessible Lord. I wish to continue reciting Waheguru's Naam so as to get absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Jun Nanak(u) tin kay churn pukhaaray, jo Hur(i) churnee jun(u) laaga. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Rus(i) = in the sweetness of. Kumul = lotus-like heart. Bherm = misgivings. Bhuou = Bhaiy = fear. Bhaaga = disappeared. Pause. Bhaayay = in the spirit of. Heeura = heart. Soyo = asleep = unaware. Jaaga = awoke. Kilvikh = sins. Kheen Bhuyya = became weak (destroyed). Shaant(i) = peacefulness. Oor-dhariyo = enshrined in heart. 1. Koosumbh = a pretty flower which dies quickly; Maya. Kuchooa = which fades away fast. Koosm = flower. Chaar(i) Din = a few days. Chaanga = good; pretty. Pertaapaiy = suffers. Dund(u) = punishment. Dherm-Raayay = the Angel of justice (Waheguru Himself). 2. Goohrri = strong. Mujeetth = madder (its colour never fades). Kaaya = body. Kaapur, Cheer = clothes. Phaaray = worn out (become old and weak). 3. Sobha = praise. Chuloolaiy = deep. Raanga = dyed. Pukhaaray = washes. Churnee = feet. 4.

MEANING: My mind has been attached to Waheguru's Naam, and is enjoying its sweetness. I have been connected to the Guru as a result of which the lotus of my heart has bloomed (is enlightened), and all my misgivings and worldly fears have disappeared by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Pause. With love for, and fear of Waheguru in my heart, I am worshipping Him, and my unaware (dark) mind has awakened (been enlightened) with Guru's advice. I am very fortunate that I have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart, as a result of which all my sins have been eradicated, and I have acquired peacefulness. 1.

Like the short-lived beauty of the koosumbh flower, the glamour of Maya is short-lived to which the follower-of-his-mind is attracted. Like the beauty of flowers, which lasts only for a few days, the glamour of Maya loses its shine in a moment, and the Maya-worshipping individual suffers as he is punished by the Angel of Justice. 2.

On the other hand, the love for the Guru and for His holy devotees is very deep, like the permanent colour of madder, which does not fade away even if the clothes wear off. Like the colour of madder, the colour of love for the Guru (with which the mind of the lucky devotee is dyed) is so enduring that it does not fade even if the devotee becomes old and weak. 3.

When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru, his mind is dyed with love for Waheguru, which has a very deep colour. I would love to wash the feet of those devotees (serve them) whose mind has been attached to Waheguru's Feet (His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Bhuj = recite. Leen(u) = fully absorbed. Rusaala = source of all tastes and sweetness. Pause.

Jupmaala = rosary; a must do act. Mustuk(i) Leekhiya = prewritten on the forehead (in fortune). Bunmaala = wearing a long garland of wild flowers (Waheguru). 1.

Chookay = ended. Junjaala = worldly attachments (bonds). 2. Baarik = children. Pritpaala = raises and nurtures. Kur(u) = hand. Maya Ugun(i) = fire-like Maya. Nit = always. Mayltay = combine; put together (in). Deen Duyyala = kind to the helpless. 3.

Maiylay = filthy. Nirmul = pure. Jus(i) = praise. Jaala = burned away; destroyed. Anund = blissfulness. Nihaala = blissful. 4.

MEANING: By reciting Waheguru's Naam with the advice of the Guru, my mind and my body have been fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all tastes and sweetness. Pause. Making Waheguru's Naam our rosary (a must-do act), we should recite His Naam all the time with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), but only those fortunate people get to recite His Naam who have it prewritten on their foreheads. 1.

All the worldly attachments of those who recite Waheguru's Naam get broken, and the Angel of (spiritual) death does not even go near them as the Guru, Waheguru, becomes their guard. 2. We are ignorant children of Waheguru who protects us like our mother and our father. Just like an ignorant child, who finds fire attractive and puts his hand in it to play, we are also ignorant and put our hand in the fire of Maya, but with His kindness, the Guru protects us, the humble, from this fire. 3.

My mind was very filthy with evil thoughts, but with singing praise of Waheguru, my mind has been purified, and all my sins have been destroyed. My mind feels blissful upon connecting with the Guru, and I feel blessed by His Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Mukur Praag(i) Daan(u) = donations at the holy place of Allahabad on the first day of the month of Maagh (mid Feb). Udh Kaat(i) = cut in half. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Kunchun = gold. 2. Keerut(i) = Jus(u) = praise. Ooghray = opened. Kuput = deceitful. Kpaat = doors. Tirkooti = the three effects of Maya (see “INTRODUCTION”). Phoar(i) = break open. Luj = the rope to draw water from an open well. Bhaani = broke. Mutukee Maat = the vessel to draw water. 3. Kulyug(i) = in the present era; world. Mustuk(i) = Lilaat = on the forehead. Dhoor(i) = from the source (Waheguru). Laathi = ended; satisfied. Bhookh = appetite. Tikhaat = thirst. 4. Chhukka = set of six (Shabads).

MEANING: Recite Waheguru Naam, and get all your sins destroyed. The Guru has implanted Waheguru’s Naam in my heart; (I have so much reverence for Him that) I wish to place my head on the Guru's (feet). Pause.

If someone sings Waheguru’s praise to me, I will feel like offering the pieces of my mind to him. The Perfect Guru has connected me with my friend, Waheguru, and now I am sold for the Words of the Guru at Waheguru’s shop (I have offered my mind and my body to Waheguru). 1. With the (false) belief that making donations at the holy confluence of Ganga and Yamuna at Allahabad on the first day of the month of Maagh (mid Feb), is an act of great good (high spirituality), some people make huge donations, and even cut their bodies into half. But the fact is that nobody can attain emancipation without Waheguru’s Naam, even if one donates lots of gold in small pieces. 2.

When one sings Waheguru’s praise with the advice of the Guru, the doors of deceitfulness (illusions of Maya) which had coated his mind open widely, and he is able to smash its three effects whereby all his misgivings and worldly fears run away. Not only that, the rope with which he used to draw the water of sensual pleasures from the well of vices gets severed, and the vessel containing the water of sensual pleasures is shattered. 3.

But only those devotees who have it written in their fortune on their foreheads get connected with the Perfect Guru in this world. I am a slave of Waheguru; I drank the sweet Amrit of Waheguru’s Naam, because of which, all my appetite and my thirst for worldly attractions have been satisfied, oh Nanak. 4.6. Word Meaning: Tehl = serving. Saar = supreme. Uver = others. Jhootthiyaan = spiritually worthless. Maar = punishes. Pause. Sungaar = with (Waheguru). Bhuoujul = the world-sea (of Maya). Sunt = source of peacefulness. Apaar = endless. 1. Nit = everyday; always. Tuj = giving up. Bikaar = vices. Aasrri = hope; dependence. 2. Ikk(i) = many.

Shaakta = Maya-worshippers. Undh Undhaar = deep darkness. Dhoor(i) = from the Source (Lord). Maytunhaar = erase; undo. 3.
Agumm = inaccessible. Roop(u) = physical looks. Anik = countless. Oor-dhaar(i) = embedded in heart. 4.
MEANING: Service to Waheguru is rewarded with the supreme comfort, oh my mind. Serving anybody else is spiritually worthless, and one gets punishment from the Angel of (spiritual) death all the time. Pause.
But only those people get connected with Waheguru (get to serve Him) who have it prewritten on their foreheads (in fate). The limitless Supreme Being Waheguru is the source of peacefulness, and ferries us across the world sea (salvages us). 1.
Giving up all your greed, worldly attachments, and vices, serve the Feet of the Guru (obey His Advice), oh my friends. Forgetting (giving up) dependence on all others, have faith in the dependence upon Waheguru alone. 2. Misled by their misgivings, many people worship Maya and are in complete darkness spiritually. But they cannot be entirely blamed because they pursue only those interests for which they are preprogrammed by Waheguru, and which nobody can erase (change on their own). 3.
Even though He has many names, the limitless Waheguru has no physical form and is inaccessible. Those devotees are worthy of respect who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Recitation of Waheguru's Naam mentally disconnects the devotee from the (spiritually worthless) daily tasks and frees him from all worldly bonds. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam makes a foolish (ignorant) person wise, and he helps all his associates to be salvaged. 1. With recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the suffering of worldly fears is eradicated, and any calamity is prevented. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam eradicates all sins and all sufferings. 2. One's heart blooms with recitation of Waheguru's Naam, and Maya becomes his slave (he gets full control of it). Buhout(u) oopma, thor kuhhi. Hur(i) agumm, agumm, agaadh(i) Toohi. Ooch, moochou buhou apaar. Simrut Nanak, turay saar. 4.3.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such a strong support that if one recites it in the company of the Guru, all his objectives are achieved successfully. Pause.
The Naam's support is like the boat that a drowning man gets, or like the oil that a dying oil-lamp gets, or like the water that a man burning in fire receives, or like the hungry child that gets milk in his mouth. 1. Waheguru's Naam is such a huge support that it is like the moral and physical support that a man gets from a close friend or from a brother in the battlefield, or like a starving person getting food, even if it is very little. The Naam is such a huge support that it is like rain for a drying crop, or like the protection that a defenceless infant gets from an intrepid (a brave person). 2. Waheguru's Naam is like having the mantra on the tongue that makes a snake poison ineffective, and makes the man fearless of snakes, or is like the protection of the cage to the parrot which cannot be pried upon by a cat; or it is like a bird's belly for the eggs in there which are safe; or like the grains near the axil of the stones of a quern which are not grinded. 3.

Waheguru's Naam deserves much more praise, but I have described only a little because Waheguru is inaccessible and unfathomable (and His full praise cannot be sung or described). Waheguru is highly transcendent and endless; reciting His Naam salvages even the iron-like people who are heavily loaded with sins, oh Nanak. 4. 3.

I wish to put my head on the feet of the holy saints (to serve them) so as to have Your holy sight day and night, oh Waheguru. I wish to serve them with my hands and offer them my life, mind, and wealth. 1. I love Waheguru's saints with my mind (from the core of my heart), and I keep their noble qualities in mind all the time. I find their orders (advice) to be sweet, and my mind blooms like a flower when I see them. 2.

I pray to Waheguru to show me the path of emancipation (union with Him with Guru's Advice), and that is my real wealth. I pray to Waheguru to be kind to me so that I may enshrine Guru's Shabad in my heart (mind), oh Nanak. 4.4.

NOTE : It seems in this Shabad that Nam Dev ji is showing deep reverence for Ram Chander Ji and Krishan Ji, but this is not the case because there are a few hymns of Nam Dev Ji in Guru Granth Sahib in which he shows no faith, in any if them, and even ridicules them, and says that he will gladly trade all the popular gods for God. See, for example, His Shabads (# 6 and #7) in Raag Goand on page 874 of SGGS. He worships only the "One" God whom he sees in everyone and everything. So, the meanings of this Shabad will be given in that light. Also Ram Ji is not known to play the flute. Moreover, the Shabad is written in the present tense rather than the past, implying that these things are happening continuously and are related to God.
MEANING: You are great, oh Lord. The Divine and the sweet musical sound of Your flute is thundering in the environment. Pause. [This is the central idea of the Shabad. So, the whole Shabad is in praise of Waheguru (God), expressed through the popular gods worshipped at the time.
Even the wool of the sheep from which the blanket was made, which You wear as Krishna, is fortunate. 1. [Krishan Ji has never been shown wearing a blanket. He spent most of His life in Dwarka, a town in south-western India on the sea shore, where the climate was always warm. Mother Devki was also lucky, who is believed to have given birth to Krishna, in whom I see You, oh Lord. 2.

That piece of the forest is also lucky where you play as Lord Vishnu (Krishna). 3.
The cows are grazing (the whole world is enjoying your gifts) while the Lord of Nama, God, plays on His flute care-freely, and enjoys blissfully. 4.1.

ਮੇਰੇ ਬਾਪੁ ਮਾਧਉ ਤੂ ਧਨੁ ਕੇਸੌ ਸਾਵਲੀਓ ਬੀਠੁਲਾਇ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਕਰ ਧਰ ਚਕ੍ਰ ਬੈਕੁੰਠ ਤੇ ਆਏ ਗਜ ਹਸਤੀ ਕੇ ਪ੍ਰਾਨ ਉਧਾਰੀਅਲੇ॥ ਦੁਹਸਾਸਨ ਕੀ ਸਭਾ ਦ੍ਰੋਪਤੀ ਅੰਬਰ ਲੇਤ ਉਬਾਰੀਅਲੇ॥ 1॥ ਗੋਤਮ ਨਾਰਿ ਅਹਲਿਆ ਤਾਰੀ ਪਾਵਨ ਕੇਤਕ ਤਾਰੀਅਲੇ॥ ਐਸਾ ਅਧਮੁ ਅਜਾਤਿ ਨਾਮਦੇਉ ਤਉ ਸਰਨਾਗਤਿ ਆਈਅਲੇ॥ 2॥2॥

You came from the Paradise with the chukkur in your hand, and saved the elephant's life from the octopus's clutches; you also saved the dignity of Duroputi, who was being shamed by being undressed in the court of Doohshaasun. (see the “Introduction” for both stories). 1, In addition, not only did You salvage Ahilliya, the wife of sage Gautum, who was deceitfully raped by god Indra, and whom the sage had cursed to be a stone, but You also purified countless other people to salvage them, oh Lord. I, Nam Dev, am ignoble and low-caste, have come to Your shelter, won’t You be kind to me, oh Lord? 2.2.

ਸਭੈ ਘਟ ਰਾਮੁ ਬੋਲੈ ਰਾਮਾ ਬੋਲੈ॥ ਰਾਮ ਬਿਨਾ ਕੋ ਬੋਲੈ ਰੇ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਏਕਲ ਮਾਟੀ ਕੁੰਜਰ ਚੀਟੀ ਭਾਜਨ ਹੈ ਬਹੁ ਨਾਨ੍ਹਾ ਰੇ॥ ਅਸਥਾਵਰ ਜੰਗਮ ਕੀਟ ਪਤੰਗਮ ਘਟਿ ਘਟਿ ਰਾਮੁ ਸਮਾਨਾ ਰੇ॥ 1॥ ਏਕਲ ਚਿੰਤਾ ਰਾਖੁ ਅਨੰਤਾ ਅਉਰ ਤਜਹੁ ਸਭ ਆਸਾ ਰੇ॥ ਪ੍ਰਣਵੈ ਨਾਮਾ ਭਏ ਨਿਹਕਾਮਾ ਕੋ ਠਾਕੁਰੁ ਕੋ ਦਾਸਾ ਰੇ॥ 2॥3॥

Subhaiy ghut Ram(u) boalaiy, Rama boalaiy. Ram bina ko boalaiy ray. 1. Ruhaou. Aikul maati koonjur, cheenti, bhaajun haiy buou naana ray. Usthaavur, jungum, keet ptungum, ghut(i), ghut(i) Ram(u) smaana ray. 1. Aikul chinta raakh(u) Ununta, aur tujhou subh aasa ray. Pernvaiy Nama, bhuyyay nihkaama, ko Thhaakur(u)), ko daasa ray. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Ghut = heart; mind. Boaliy = talks; powers. Ko = who? Pause.
Aikul = one (God). Maati = earth. Koonjur = elephant. Cheenti = ant. Bhaajun = vessels. Naana = different kinds. Usthaavur = non-moving (trees etc.). Jungum = moving. Keet = worms. Putungum = flying. 1.
Chinta = focus of mind. Ununta = limitless (God). Aur = others. Tujhou = give up. Pernvaiy = prays. Nihkaama = fully detached from worldly affairs. Ko = who. 2.

MEANING: It is God who powers every heart; who else can have that power? Pause. God has created many different vessels (living bodies), but every body is made from the same ingredients - be it an ant or an elephant. God is present in every heart, from the non-moving vegetation to the animals that move around, and from the worms to the flying birds. 1. So, giving up dependence on all other powers, keep only the single and limitless God in mind, oh my friends. If you do that with full faith, you will be detached from the worldly bonds, and will become like the Supreme Being and merge into Him, and nobody will tell you apart from Him – the slave and the Lord will become indistinguishable, states Nama humbly. 2.3.
